OBITUARY

JAMES McDONOUGH

The hand of death this morning at 1.30 o'clock claimed another well known Peterborough citizen in the person of Mr. James McDonough at his residence 295 Park street. The deceased was 61 years of age. He was born in County Galway, Ireland, and came to Canada 25 years ago. He has lived in Peterborough ever since that time and has always been esteemed by those who knew him. His wife predeceased him 18 years ago but he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Martin Neary, Lake street; Mrs. O'Malley, who lived with him, and Mrs. Bernier, of Spokane, Wash. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Peter's Cemetery.

ROBERT BOWES

The death occurred this morning of Robert Bowes of lot 1, con. 13, North Monaghan, at the age of 57. The deceased was predeceased five years ago by his wife, whose maiden name was Sarah Anne Madill. Three daughters and two sons remain to mourn his demise.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to Little Lake cemetery.

Deceased was a member of Springville Presbyterian church.

TRUSTEE BOARD HELD A MEETING

At the trustees' meeting of the Church Board of Mark Street Methodist church last night, Mr. M. Carton was appointed treasurer. It was also decided to secure new books to be used by the choir.

Labour Deputation Waited On Mr. Howson Wanting Work

Could Not Think of Working For Ten Dollars a Month—Are Also Averse to Waking With the Larks

A SATURDAY EXAMPLE

Not only had Mayor Rush a delegation of unemployed wait on him on Wednesday, but the same morning Mr. Geo. Howson was called upon to receive probably the same body of men. With the best of intentions Mayor Rush called upon Mr. Howson, inquiring if there were still any demands for farm help. He was told that there was and left the Immigration Office. About five minutes later a party of about twenty men filed into the office and circled about Mr. Howson's desk. One man, who appeared as spokesman, said without any perfunctory introduction, "Boss, we've heard that you've got some jobs here for farmers and we've come tok find out about them. We've got our wives and families to keep and we've got to get some work." Mr. Howson replied that he had a number of applications for farm help and asked them what they would like to do.

No $10 a Month

One of the men continued: "We are willing to do anything, but we won't stand for $10 a month. You can't keep your wife and family on that but and there's no use of us going for that." A tall man spoke up from the rear of the crowd, "and we won't stand for getting up at four or five o'clock in the morning." Mr. Howson explained the duties on the farm, and what was required of helpers. He asked them what experience the men had at farm work, and some were inexperienced. They acknowledged that it was not fair to the farmer that he should have to pay a man more than he earned. After some discussion it was arranged that the men should call in the afternoon and talk the matter over.

Mr. Howson states that the man who called out about getting up early in the morning had called at his office three times this spring, but did not take the work he was offered. In the afternoon he was called by 'phone to Keene, and he left a card on the door stating that he would return that evening. Several of the men came to him but they had secured work out of town. The rest remained away.

Last Saturday two men called for work. They had walked from Kingston. Work was offered them at Norwood or Westwood, but this was refused, as they said it was too far to walk. Mr. Howson thought of a farmer near Cavanville and Mr. Fisher, who had been in that day with cheese, was driving close to the house. Arrangements were made for the applicant to go with Mr. Fisher at three o'clock, but he did not appear. That is one kind of men who apply. Other young fellows are engaged and start to work in earnest and good reports are sent in about how they are getting along. They really want work and they intend to do what the farmers reasonably ask them.

MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR T. A. S. PICNIC

To-morrow afternoon another party of the T.A.S. members will go down to the park to complete the preparations for the picnic. All those who desire to lend a hand should be at the street railway wharf as soon as possible after one o'clock, as they will be conveyed down the river from there.

WEDDING BELLS.

GILMAN—FLOOD

The wedding of Miss Katherine Flood, daughter of Mr. F Flood, Waterford street, to Mr. Robert J. Gilman, East City, was solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral on Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock by Rev. Father Galvin.

The bride wore a handsome suit of gray colienne and was attended by her sister, who was similarly attired. Mr. Harry Gilman, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the mass at the Cathedral the bridal party returned to the home of the bride, where a dainty dejeuner was served. The young couple were handsomely remembered by their friends, among the presents being a chair from the packing department of the Quaker Oats Company and a centre from the Maple Leaf Club. At a reception held on Wednesday evening at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. Gilman received the congratulations and the best wishes of their many friends.

They will reside in East City.

IRRIGATION IN THE WORLD'S PANTRY; A GIGANTIC SCHEME FOR SUPPLYING WATER TO WESTERN GROWING CROPS

Wonderful Possibilities For Southern Alberta Under Irrigation—3,000,0000 Acres Which Will Produce 60,000,000 Bushels of Wheat

BY MR. M. J. HUTCHINSON

The following article on "Irrigation in the Canadian West" appeared in the last issue of the Busy Man's Magazine, and was written by Mr. M. J. Hutchinson, formerly on the Examiner reportorial staff:

Despatches in the daily papers of Eastern Canada on June 1, gave the information that fall wheat in Alberta was then two feet high, in certain sections of the Province.

A few years ago such a statement would have been laughed at, and the man who had the "nerve" to assert that fall wheat would ever grow in Alberta would have been looked upon as a fit subject for the nearest insane asylum.

Now it not only grows this grain, but it gives promise of being a better fall wheat country than Ontario ever was. "Alberta Red" in official tests has demonstrated its superiority over every other grade of wheat with which it has been compared.

When it is remembered that this identical world-beating "Alberta Red" is being grown on land which a few years ago was considered worthless, except for grazing purposes, some conception of the amazing changes which this fact portends may be gained.

One might naturally ask what has made this condition possible. There is one answer: Irrigation.

For its practical operation on a commercial basis, Canada has to thank the citizens of a foreign country, and to the adherents of a religious faith which has but few sympathizers in this country.

While the initial irrigation enterprise in Southern Alberta was financed by Canadians, the Mormons from Idaho and Utah were the men who first demonstrated to Canadians the practicability of its operation.

An irrigation canal sixty miles long, having its head near Cardston, in Southern Alberta, and its outlet at Lethbridge, has transformed the area lying between those towns from a practically uninhabited parairie—except for its habitation by countless bands of cattle and horses, for whose subsistence it was considered only ordained—into a section, at once fertile and flowering, with a number of prosperous towns, hundreds of productive farms, a mammoth sugar beet industry, and a woodless tract into ten thousand lusty young timbers, their branches proudly baring themselves to the "Chinook" winds, and their roots drinking in the artificial moisture from the irrigation canal, which has made their existence on the prairie possible.

The conspicuous feature to Lethbridge up to the introduction of irrigation was its "square," a bare fenced-in area in the centre of the town surrounding which were the stores and other business places which supplied its material wants. To-day "The Square" is a beautiful park which would do credit to any Eastern city, and a remarkable tribute to the transformation powers of irrigation.

What has been accomplished on a comparatively small scale in the Lethbridge district will be repeated in the more northerly section surrounding Calgary, where an irrigation project, designed to furnish for an area of 3,000,000 acres, the same transfroming elements which have proved so successful in the southern portion of the Province.

Though but little has been said publically about this enterprise, the undertaking is on a scale not easily comprehended, and even the statement that it is the largest irrigation scheme ever attempted on earth, does not convey an adequate idea of its gigantic proportions.

The fact that in New Mexico an army of engineers with the resources of the United States Government behind them, are constructing irrigation works to serve an area of 250,000 acres, has been made the basis of voluminous Government reports, magazine articles, etc., but here is one right at our doors which plans to irrigate an area twelve times that of the New Mexico scheme, and with vastly greater proportionate possibilities, and little or nothing is said of it.

Figures are tiresome, but think of these, and then ask yourself if they do not force upon you the importance of an enterprise with such possibilities: three million acres, practically every square foot of which will be made productive by irrigation, will yield at least 20 bushels of wheat per acre, or a total of 60,000,000 bushels, two thirds of the crop in the entire West last year. Without irrigation, except in the small district already referred to, the average yield of winter wheat for the last four years has been 21 bushels per acre, so that the 20 bushels average is less than might reasonably be expected under the conditions which will be created by irrigation. One might safely make it 25 bushels, and still be within the mark.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway was built, a bonus of twenty five million acres of land was given to aid in its construction. This land was granted on the usual checkerboard system of the odd sections in a belt twenty-four miles wide on each side of the line from Winnipeg to the Rocky Mountains. But the company had the privilege of rejecting the land in any district which was not considered "fairly fit for settlement." Taking advantage of this provision, the company refused to accept much of the land between Calgary and Moose Jaw because the indications were that without irrigation this district did not offer opportunities for successful settlement. Finally when a settlement of land grant matters was effected between the Government and the company there was a balance of some three million acres due the company, and they agreed to accept the irrigation block to cover this balance, provided it was given in a block to include the even and school sections as well as the odd sections. The Government had completed the necessary survey to prove that water could be obtained from the Bow River for the irrigation of this block, and the company signified their willingness to undertake the construction of the irrigation works, if the block were granted them. This arrangement was finally consummated, and the company are now engaged in building the canals.

The block is an open prairie plateau with a general elevation at its western boundary of 3,400 feet above sea level, and slopes rapidly to the east until an elevation of 2,300 feet is reached at the eastern boundary. The surface throughout is more or less rolling until the eastern section is reached, where large areas of almost level plains are found.

In developing the scheme this block has been divided into three sections, western, central and eastern of about one million acres each, and the work is being carried on along the lines of development of sections in the order named.

In the western section about 350,000 acres are to be brought under irrigation, and the following brief description of the works to supply water for this area will indicate the character and magnitude of the work.

The water for the irrigation of the western section is diverted from the Bow River about two miles below Calgary. From there it is carried south and east through a main canal seventeen miles in length which is sixty feet wide at the bottom, one hundred and twenty feet in width at the water line, and carries water to a depth of ten feet.

This main canal delivers water to a reservoir, for which a natural depression has been utilized, and where, by the erection of a dam, a body of water three miles long, half a mile wide and forty feet deep has been created.

From this reservoir the water is taken out in three secondary canals, and carried to the different districts which are to be irrigated. These secondary canals are about thirty feet in width on the bottom at their western end, and carry water to a depth of eight feet; their combined length being one hundred and fifty miles.

From these secondary canals the water is again taken out and distributed in each irrigation district through a comprehensive system of distributing ditches that bring the water to each 160 acres, or quarter section of land to be irrigated. The combined length of these distributing ditches is about 800 miles.

In the western section of the irrigation block, there will, therefore, be the following mileage of waterways constructed and maintained:

	Miles
Main canal	17
Secondary canals, A., B. and C.	150
Distributing ditches	800
	967

In addition there will be several hundred miles of the small distributing ditches constructed by the farmers to distribute the water over their farms in the process of irrigating.

The structures consisting of headgates, spillways, drops, flumes measuring weirs, highway bridges, which are constructed on the main and secondary canals and distributing ditches, run into the thousands.

In completing the work in the western section of the block, the following amount of earth will be removed:

	Cubic yards
Main canal	2,500,000
Secondary canals, A., B. and C.	5,000,000
Distributing ditches	750,000
	8,250,000

The preliminary surveys proved that about the same percentage of waterway and excavation will apply to the Central and Eastern Sections, and the completed project will therefore stand about as follows:

	Miles
Main and secondary canals and distributing ditches	2,900
	Cubic yards
Amount of material moved in completing the project	24,750,000

The first intention was to divert the water for the irrigation of the central and eastern sections from the Bow River by a second main canal heading in the river some sixty miles east of Calgary, but subsequent surveys have indicated that it may be found better to enlarge the present main canal and secondary canal in western section, take out the water for the central and eastern sections at the present intake near Calgary, and transport it through these enlarged channels to the districts mentioned. Detailed surveys are now being completed to indicate which is the better system to adopt so that a decision may be arrived at by the time construction work in the western district is completed.

The ultimate expenditure on this great undertaking is estimated at about $5,000,000, which taken in conjunction with the area of land in the block that is proposed to irrigate, justifies the title given this scheme, "America's Greatest Irrigation Project."

All this expenditure, however, would be wasted, were it not that the soil is of such a nature that it will respond to the artificially applied moisture. On this score, though there is nothing to fear. Wheat crops, which justify the belief that Western Canada is to become the "pantry of the world," have furnished practical demonstrations of the fertility of the soil, and as if to make assurance doubly sure, and to settle any unspoken fears as to the ability of the land to continue to respond to the efforts of the farmer, comes this impartial testimony offered by Prof. Shaw, who, as editor of the Orange Judd Farmer, is recognized as one of the foremost of American agricultural experts. He says:

"The first foot of soil in Western Canada is its greatest natural heritage. It is worth all the mines in the mountains from Alaska to Mexico and more than all the forests from the United States boundary to the Arctic Sea, vast as these are.

"And next in value to its heritage is the three feet of soil which lies underneath the first. The sub-soil is only secondary in value to the soil, for without a good sub-soil the value of a good surface soil is neutralized in proportion as the sub-soil is inferior. The worth of a soil and subsoil cannot be measured in acres. The measure of its value is the amount of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash which it contains; in other words its producing power. Viewed from this standpoint, these lands are a heritage of untold value. One acre of average soil in the Northwest is worth more than twenty acres of average soil along the Atlantic seaboard. The man who tills the former can grow twenty successive crops without much diminution in the yields, whereas the person who tills the latter must pay the vendor of fertilizers half as much for materials to fertilize an acre as would buy the same in the Canadian Northwest, in order to grow a single remunerative crop."

SHOULD NOT BE TURNED TO GRASS

Calves Must be Stabled During the Early Summer to Get Results

From the Canadian Dairyman

If we would have cows that will produce large yields of milk and return the profits which are so much desired we must invariably raise that cow from calfhood. The practice in handling calves during the summer months usually is to turn them to grass as soon as possible and let them take their chances from that time forward. Where this practice prevails, is it any wonder that we hear so much of cows being kept at a loss, and cows that return but a meagre profit? How could it be otherwise? If we would have the cow, we must take care of the calf.

Our most successful dairymen are all agreed that the best results cannot be obtained from calves that are turned to grass during the first summer. Calves that are turned out to grass and allowed to shift for themselves are continually plagued by flies and other insects, besides suffering from the heat, and in some instances enough pasture for a bare sustenance is hard to obtain.

To rear the best calves, one must stable them during the first summer. A clean, airy box stall should be provided for them and they should be fed and watered regularly. If they are still receiving milk, great care should be exercised to keep the vessels in which they are fed, absolutely clean, for in hot weather, they will soon become filthy if not carefully attended to in this respect. Freshly cut grass or a good quality of clover hay should be supplied them in quantities that they will eat up clean. A little grain, such as oats and bran, fed the youngsters along with their other feed at this time will not be wasted. Any care and feed which this method of handling the calves throughout the summer may entail will be more than paid in the future when the calf becomes a mature cow and yields her product at the pail.

PRESENT SYSTEM OF TAXING

Many Farmers Think That It Is Unfair and Unwise

From the Canadian Dairyman

The feeling that exists among many farmers that the present system of taxing farm property is unfair, and that it is not a wise one, was voiced recently by Mr. J. A. Rutherford, of Fowler's Corners, while chatting in the office of The Dairyman and Farming World. Mr. Rutherford is doing considerable work improving his farm. He pointed out that the more work of this kind he does the more his taxes will be increased, and stated that there were farmers in his section who had refused to paint their farm buildings because they knew that their taxes would be increased out of all proportion to the improvements made.

Mr. Rutherford feels that a system which increases the taxes of those men who have enough enterprise to improve their farm buildings and farm lands and yet does not affect men who allow their farms to go unimproved is neither fair nor in the best interests of the country. A good many readers of The Dairyman and Farming World feel the same way. Some of our readers are in favor of a straight land tax which would not take into consideration the buildings on the land. What do our readers think about this?

THROW AWAY LINIMENTS

Here's the Prescription to Cure Rheumatism.

Liniments only reach the skin and the muscles directly under the skin. Now, liniments can't cure Rheumatism. They simply deaden the nerves for a time. When the effect wears away, the pain returns worse than ever.

If the bowels do not move regularly—if the kidneys are strained or weak—if the skin is dry or harsh—the blood is sure to be filled with impurities or urea. This urea is changed into uric acid which is the poison that causes rheumatism.

Now, the only possible way to cure Rheumatism is to prevent uric acid from being formed. Logically, the only way to do this is to keep kidneys, bowels and skin in good working order, and prevent the stomach from being too acid. And the only way to do this is to take "Fruit-a-tives."

These marvelous tablets of fruit juices and tonics act directly on the three great eliminating organs—bowels, kidneys and skin—and put them in perfect condition. That is the only secret of their great success in curing rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

The old man in the grudge which Glenister in the last few days forgotten in this commo misfortune.

"Yes, by heaven, they've swiped our money, our tents, tools, teams, books, hose and all of our personal property—everything! They threw Johnson off and took the whole works. I never heard of such a thing. I went out to the claim, and they wouldn't let me go near the workings. They've got every mine on Anvil creek guarded the same way, and they aren't going to let us come around even when they clean up. They told me so this morning."

"But, look here," demanded Dextry sharply, "the money in that safe belongs to us. That's money we brought in from the States. The court ain't got no right to it. What kind of a damn law is that?"

"Oh, as to law, they don't pay any attention to it any more," said Glenister bitterly. "I made a mistake in not killing the first man that set foot on the claim. I was a sucker, and now we're up against a stiff game. The Swedes are in the same fix, too. This last order has left them groggy."

"I don't understand it yet," said Dextry.

"Why, it's this way: The judge has issued what he calls an order enlarging the powers of the receiver, and it authorizes McNamara to take possession of everything on the claims—tents, tools, stores and personal property of all kinds. It was issued last night without notice to our side, so Wheaton says, and they served it this morning early. I went out to see McNamara, and when I got there I found him in our private tent with the safe broken open."

"'What does this mean?' I said. And then he showed me the new order.

"'I'm responsible to the court for every penny of this money,' said he, 'and for every tool on the claim. In view of that I can't allow you to go near the workings.'

"'Not go near the workings?' said I. 'Do you mean you won't let us see the cleanups from our own mine? How do we know we're getting a square deal if we don't see the gold weighed?'

"'I'm an officer of the court and under bond,' said he, and the smiling triumph in his eyes made me crazy.

"'You're a lying thief,' I said, looking at him square. 'And you're going too far. You played me for a fool once and made it stick, but it won't work twice.'

"He looked injured and aggrieved and called in Voorhees, the marshal. I can't grasp the thing at all. Everybody seems to be against us—the judge, the marshal, the prosecuting attorney, everybody. Yet they've done it all according to law, they claim, and have the soldiers to back them up."

"It's just as Mexico Mullins said," Dextry stormed. "There's a deal on of some kind. I'm goin' up to the hotel an' call on the judge myself. I ain't never seen him nor this McNamara either. I allus want to look a man straight in the eyes once, then I know what course to foller in my dealin's."

"You'll find them both," said Glenister, "for McNamara rode into town behind me."

The old prospector proceeded to the Golden Gate hotel and inquired for Judge Stillman's room. A boy attempted to take his name, but he seized him by the scruff of the neck and sat him in his seat, proceeding unannounced to the suit to which he had been directed. Hearing voices, he knocked and then, without awaiting a summons, walked in.

The room was fitted like an office, with desk, table, typewriter and law books. Other rooms opened from it on both sides. Two men were talking earnestly—one gray haired, smooth shaven and clerical, the other tall, picturesque and masterful. With his first glance the miner knew that before him were the two he had come to see and that in reality he had to deal with but one, the big man who shot at him the level glances.

"We are engaged," said the judge; "very busily engaged, sir. Will you call again in half an hour?"

Dextry looked him over carefully from head to foot, then turned his back on him and regarded the other. Neither he nor McNamara spoke, but their eyes were busy, and each instinctively knew that here was a foe.

"What do you want?" McNamara inquired finally.

"I just dropped in to get acquainted. My name is Dextry—Joe Dextry—from everywhere west of the Missouri. Am' your name is McNamara, ain't it? This here, I reckon, is your little French poodle—eh?" indicating Stillman.

"What do you mean?" said McNamara, while the judge murmured indignantly.

"Just what I say. However, that ain't what I want to talk about. I don't take no stock in such fruck as judges an' lawyers an' orders of court. They ain't intended to be took serious. They're all right for children an' easterners an' non compos mentis people, I s'pose, but I've always been my own judge, jury an' hangman, an' I aim to continue workin' my 'legislatif, executif an' judicial duties to the end of the string. You look out! My partner is young an' seems to like the idee of lettin' somebody else run this business, so I'm goin' to give him rein and let him amuse himself for awhile with your dinky little writs an' receiverships. But don't go too far. You can rob the Swedes, 'cause Swedes ain't entitled to have no money, an' some other crook would get it if you didn't, but don't play me an' Glenister fer Scandinavians. It's a mistake. We're white men, an' I'm apt to come romancin' up here with one of these an' bust you so you won't hold together durin' the ceremonies."

With his last words he made the slightest shifting movement, only a lifting shrug of the shoulder, yet in his palm lay a six shooter. He had slipped it from his trousers band with the ease of long practice and absolute surety. Judge Stillman gasped and backed against the desk, but McNamara idly swung his leg as he sat sidewise on the table. His only sign of interest was a quickening of the eyes, a fact of which Dextry made mental note.

"Yes," said the miner, disregarding the alarm of the lawyer, "you can wear this court in your vest pocket like a Waterbury, if you want to, but if you don't let me alone, I'll uncoil its mainspring. That's all."

He replaced his weapon and, turning, walked out the door.

CHAPTER IX.

"WE must have money," said Glenister a few days later. "When McNamara jumped our safe, he put us down and out. There's no use fighting in this court any longer, for the judge won't let us work the ground ourselves, even if we give bond, and he won't grant an appeal. He says his orders aren't appealable. We ought to send Wheaton out to 'Frisco and have him take the case to the higher courts. Maybe he can get a writ of supersedeas."

"I don't rec'nize the name, but if it's as bad as it sounds it's sure horrible. Ain't there no cure for it?"

"It simply means that the upper court would take the case away from this one."

"Well, let's send him out quick. Every day means $10,000 to us. It'll take him a month to make the round trip, so I s'pose he ought to leave tomorrow on the Roanoke."

"Yes, but where's the money to do it with? McNamara has ours. My God! What a mess we're in! What fools we've been, Dex! There's a conspiracy here. I'm beginning to see it now that it's too late. This man is looting our country under color of law and figures on gutting all the mines before we can throw him off. That's his game. He'll work them as hard and as long as he can, and heaven only knows what will become of the money. He must have big men behind him in order to fix a United States judge this way. Maybe he has the 'Frisco courts corrupted, too."

"If he has, I'm goin' to kill him," said Dextry. "I've worked like a dog all my life, and now that I've struck pay I don't aim to lose it. If Bill Wheaton can't win out accordin' to law, I'm goin' to proceed accordin' to justice."

During the past two days the partners had haunted the courtroom where their lawyer, together with the counsel for the Scandinavians, had argued and pleaded, trying every possible professional and unprofessional artifice in search of relief from the arbitrary rulings of the court, while hourly they had become more strongly suspicious of some sinister plot, some hidden, powerful understanding back of the judge and the entire mechanism of justice. They had fought with the fury of men who battle for life and had grown to hate the lines of Stillman's vacillating face, the bluster of the district attorney and the smirking confidence of the clerks, for it seemed that they all worked mechanically, like toys, at the dictates of Alec McNamara. At last when they had ceased, beaten and exhausted, they were too confused with technical phrases to grasp anything except the fact that relief was denied them, that their claims were to be worked by the receiver and, as a crowning defeat, they learned that the judge would move his court to St. Michael's and hear no cases until he returned, a month later.

Meanwhile, McNamara hired every idle man he could lay hand upon and ripped the placers open with double shifts. Every day a stream of yellow dust poured into the bank and was locked in his vaults, while those mine owners who attempted to witness the cleanups were ejected from their claims. The politician had worked with incredible swiftness and system, and a fortnight after landing he had made good his boast to Struve and was in charge of every good claim in the district, the owners were ousted, their appeals argued and denied and the court gone for thirty days, leaving him a clear field for his operations. He felt a contempt for most of his victims, who were slow witted Swedes, grasping neither the purport nor the magnitude of his operation, and to those litigants who were discerning enough to see its enormity he trusted to his organization to thwart them.

The two partners had come to feel that they were beating against a wall and had also come squarely to face the proposition that they were without funds wherewith to continue their battle. It was maddening for them to think of the daily robbery that they suffered, for the Midas turned out many ounces of gold at every shift, and more maddening to realize the severe nakedness in crippling them by his theft of the gold in their safe. That had been his crowning stroke.

"We must get money quick," said Glenister. "Do you think we can borrow?"

"Borrow?" sniffed Dextry. "Folks don't lend money in Alaska."

They relapsed into a moody silence.

"I met a feller this mornin' that's workin' on the Midas," the old man resumed. "He came in town fer a pair of gum boots, an' he says they've run into awful rich ground—so rich that they have to clean up every mornin' when the night shift goes off cause the riffles clog with gold."

"Think of it!" Glenister growled. "If we had even a part of one of those cleanups we could send Wheaton outside."

In the midst of his bitterness a thought struck him. He made as though to speak, then closed his mouth. But his partner's eyes were on him, filled with a suppressed but growing fire. Dextry lowered his voice cautiously:

"There'll be $20,000 in them sluices tonight at midnight."

Glenister stared back, while his pulse pounded at something that lay in the other's words.

"It belongs to us," the young man said. "There wouldn't be anything wrong about it, would there?"

Dextry sneered. "Wrong! Right! Them is fine an' soundin' titles in a mess like this. What do they mean? I tell you at midnight tonight Alec McNamara will have $20,000 of our money"—

"God! What would happen if they caught us?" whispered the younger, following out his thought. "They'd never let us get off the claim alive. He couldn't find a better excuse to shoot us down and get rid of us. If we came up before this judge for trial, we'd go to Sitka for twenty years."

"Sure! But it's our only chance. I'd ruther die on the Midas in a fair fight than set here bitin' my hangnails. I'm growin' old, an' I won't never make another strike. As to bein' caught—them's our chances. I won't be took alive, I promise you that, and before I go I'll get my satisfy. Castin' things up, that's about all a man gets in this vale of tears, jest satisfaction of one kind or another. It'll be a fight in the open, under the stars, with the clean, wet moss to lie down on, and not a scrappin' match of freak phrases and law books inside of a stinkin' courtroom. The cards is shuffled and in the box, pardner, and the game is started. If we're due to win, we'll win. If we're due to lose, we'll lose. These things is all figgered out a thousand years back. Come on, boy! Are you game?"

"Am I game?" Glenister's nostrils dilated, and his voice rose a tone. "Am I game? I'm with you till the big cash in, and Lord have mercy on any man that blocks our game tonight."

"We'll need another hand to help us," said Dextry. "Who can we get?"

At that moment, as though in answer, the door opened with the scant ceremony that friends of the frontier are wont to observe, admitting the attenuated, flapping, dome crowned figure of Slapjack Simms, and Dextry fell upon him with the hunger of a wolf.

* * * * * * *

It was midnight, and over the dark walls of the valley peered a multitude of stars, while away ou the southern horizon there glowed a subdued effulgence as though from hidden fires beneath the Gold God's caldron or as though the phosphorescence of Bering had spread upward into the skies. Although each night grew longer, it was not yet necessary to light the men at work in the cuts. There were perhaps two hours in which it was difficult to see at a distance, but the dawn came early; hence no provision had been made for torches.

Five minutes before the hour the night shift boss lowered the gates in the dam, and as the rush from the sluices subsided his men quit work and climbed the bluff to the mess tent. The dwellings of the Midas, as has already been explained, sat back from the creek at a distance of a city block, the workings being thus partially hidden under the brow of the steep bank.

It is customary to leave a watchman in the pit during the noon and midnight hours, not only to see that strangers preserve a neutral attitude, but also to watch the waste gates and water supply. The night man of the Midas had been warned of his responsibility and, knowing that much gold lay in his keeping, was disposed to gaze on the curious minded with the sourness of suspicion. Therefore, as a man leading a packhorse approached out of the gloom of the creek trail, his eyes were on him from the moment he appeared. The road wound along the gravel of the bars and passed in proximity to the flumes. However, the wayfarer paid no attention to them, and the watchman detected an explanatory weariness in his slow gait.

"Some prospector getting in from a trip," he thought.

The stranger stopped, scratched a match, and as he undertook to light his pipe, the observer caught the mahogany shine of a negro's face. The smoke sputtered out and then came impatient blasphemy as he searched for another.

"Evenin', sah! You-all oblige me with a match?" He addressed the watcher on the bank above and, without waiting a reply, began to climb upward.

No smoker on the trail will deny the luxury of a light to the most humble, so as the negro gained his level the man reached forth to accommodate him. Without warning the black man leaped forward with the ferocity of an animal and struck the other a fearful blow. The watchman sank with a faint, startled cry, and the African dragged him out of sight over the brow of the bank, where he rapidly tied him hand and foot, stuffing a gag into his mouth. At the same moment two other figures rounded the bend below and approached. They were mounted and leading a third saddle horse as well as other pack animals. Reaching the workings, they dismounted. Then began a strange procedure, for one man clambered upon the sluices and, with a pick, ripped out the riffles. This was a matter of only a few seconds; then, seizing a shovel, he transferred the concentrates which lay in the bottom of the boxes into canvas sacks which his companion held. As each bag was filled it was tied and dumped into the cut. They treated but four boxes in this way, leaving the lower two-thirds of the flume untouched, for Anvil creek gold is coarse and the heart of the cleanup lies where it is thrown in. Gathering the sacks together, they lashed them upon the pack animals, then mounted the second string of sluices and began as before. Throughout it all they worked with feverish haste and in unbroken silence, every moment flashing quick glances at the figure of the lookout who stood on the crest above, half dimmed in the shadow of a willow clump. Judging by their rapidity and sureness, they were expert miners.

From the tent came the voices of the night shift at table and the faint rattle of dishes, while the canvas walls glowed from the lights within like great fireflies hidden in the grass. The foreman, finishing his meal, appeared at the door of the mess tent and, pausing to accustom his eyes to the gloom, peered perfunctorily toward the creek. The watchman detached himself from the shadow, moving out into plain sight, and the boss turned back. The two men below were now working on the sluices which lay close under the bank and were thus hidden from the tent.

* * * * * * *

McNamara's description of Anvil creek's riches had fired Helen Chester with the desire to witness a cleanup, so they had ridden out from town in time for supper at the claim. She had not known whither he led her, only understanding that provision for her entertainment would be made with the superintendent's wife. Upon recognizing the Midas she had endeavored to question him as to why her friends had been dispossessed, and he had answered, as it seemed, straight and true.

The ground was in dispute, he said—another man claimed it—and while the litigation pended he was in charge for the court, to see that neither party received injury. He spoke adroitly, and it satisfied her to have the proposition resolved into such simplicity.

She had come prepared to spend the night and witness the early morning operation, so the receiver made the most of his opportunity. He showed her over the workings, explaining the many things that were strange to her. Not only was he in himself a fascinating figure to any woman, but wherever he went men regarded him deferentially, and nothing affects a woman's judgment more promptly than this obvious sign of power. He spent the evening with her, talking of his early days and the things he had done in the west, his story matching the picturesqueness of her canvas walled quarters with their rough furnishings of skins and blankets. Being a keen observer as well as a finished raconteur, he had woven a spell of words about the girl, leaving her in a state of tumult and indecision when at last, toward midnight, he retired to his own tent. She knew to what end all this was working and yet knew not what her answer would be when the question came which lay behind it all. At moments she felt the wonderful attraction of the man, and still there was some distrust of him which she could not fathom. Again her thoughts reverted to Glenister, the impetuous, and she compared the two, so similar in some ways, so utterly opposed in others.

It was when she heard the night shift at their meal that she threw a silken shawl about her head, stepped into the cool night and picked her way down toward the roar of the creek. "A breath of air and then to bed," she thought. She saw the tall figure of the watchman and made for him. He seemed oddly interested in her approach, watching her very closely, almost as though alarmed. It was doubtless because there were so few women out here, or possibly on account of the lateness of the hour. Away with conventions! This was the land of instinct and impulse. She would talk to him. The man drew his hat more closely about his face and moved off as she came up. Glenister had been in her thoughts a moment since, and she now noted that here was another with the same great, square shoulders and erect head. Then she saw with a start that this one was a negro. He carried a Winchester and seemed to watch her carefully, yet with indecision.

To express her interest and to break the silence, she questioned him, but at the sound of her voice he stepped toward her and spoke roughly:

"What?"

Then he paused and stammered in a strangely altered and unnatural voice:

"Yass'm. I'm the watchman."

Heading off a Risk

Gas is liable to puff out of the front door of any furnace unprovided for gas escape.

"Sunshine" Furnace has Automatic Gas Damper directly connected with smoke-pipe. Gas pressure aways damper sufficiently for it to escape up chimney (see illustration), but heat doesn't escape.

What does "Sunshine" Gas Damper mean to "Sunshine" Furnace? Means protection to the furnace parts against evil effects of gas.

What does "Sunshine" Gas Damper mean to "Sunshine" householder? Means furnace can be operated without fear as to "puffing" gas; furnace can be left without doubt as to whereabouts of gas.

What does "Sunshine" Gas Damper mean to "Sunshine" coal account? It means, instead of owner with "ordinary furnace" fear having to keep check-draft indefinitely closed to "let off" gas—when there's two-thirds parts of heat-energy to one part of gas passing up chimney—draft can with all safety be opened, and coal saved for another day's duty.

VARICOCELE CURED

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

GLASGOW AS A MARKET FOR THE CANADA APPLE TRADE

From the Canadian Dairyman

Next in importance to Liverpool as a market for Ontario apples is Glasgow. There the apples are sold in a wide and roomy building called the Bazaar. The salesmen of the Bazaar have no exchange, but on stated days each holds his own auction, several sales going on at the same time. They have their private warehouses near by to which the apples are carted from the dock. The Glasgow salesmen spare no pains to obtain the highest prices possible for shipments consigned to them; and sometimes prices are realized that are truly surprising. But the Glasgow trade suffers from a dear and inferior freight service. The salesmen are on that account compelled to buy large supplies in America; and in their eagerness to secure business they sometimes find their markets glutted with their own purchases. A better organization, and less jealousy would bring about a great improvement. But so long as the freight rate to Glasgow remains higher than to Liverpool the Glasgow market will be seriously handicapped.

In London there is a Fruit Exchange modelled after that of Liverpool; but most of the foreign fruit that enters London is sold by auction in the Covent Garden market building under conditions similar to those that prevail in the Glasgow Bazaar.

Other market centres are inconsiderable from the point of view of our apple trade; and shippers would do well to use great caution in patronizing them. Apples are so apt to arrive at their destination in a damaged condition after a long passage. Other things equal, the quickest service is the best. Occasionally one hears from a commercial agent in some inland city that Canadian apples are badly packed, that shippers should consign to jobbers there rather than to brokers in Liverpool, and that boxes should be used as packages, rather than barrels. The information is trite and the advice misleading. If relations of intimate friendship and mutual interest exist between a Canadian shipper and an inland jobber, the experiment might be successful; but it is hazardous to leave the regular channels of trade with so perishable a commodity. A limited trade in boxes might well be developed, but the conditions under which apples are grown and harvested in Ontario involve the experiment in many difficulties.

Dishonesty in apple packing is quickly recognized by English jobbers. The comparative merits of each brand are among them subjects of constant discussion. Our Fruit Marks Act has undoubtedly had an excellent effect on the apple trade. Its principles should, in fact, be extended so as to cover all articles of food and clothing. But its consequences are of greater importance to the home than to the foreign market. The change of mark from "XXX" to "No. 1" and from "XX" to "No. 2" was unnecessary and confusing. If, as was alleged, a dishonest jobber could in his private warehouse, add another X to a mark, he can now almost as easily substitute "No. 1" for "No. 2." The trade had become accustomed to the crosses. There is nothing more patent in the apple trade to packers and jobbers alike than the wisdom of common honesty. Dishonesty brings about its own punishment, just like its kindred evils, calumny and cruelty. As the physicians say of certain diseases, they generate their own toxin. A buyer of apples in England is fully prepared for all possibilities. Even when "falsely marked" comes on a consignment, it adds but little to the influences that direct his purchases.

The definition of a No. 2 barrel as laid down in the Act has fortunately been ignored by the trade. It is absurd to expect a packer to put a bushel and a half of "No. 1" apples in a barrel along with inferior fruit, and brand the whole barrel "No. 2." Besides, the temptation presented to the dishonest jobber to change the mark would prove irresistible. It is sufficient, in dealing with apples that cannot be classed as No. 1, to require of them that the barrel should be branded No. 2, and that the top layer should be branded No. 2, and that the top represent fairly what is hidden below. But the shipment of No. 2 apples should not be encouraged at all.

Some further suggestions of minor importance may be offered. In unloading cars the freight handlers frequently make use of hooks fastened to their wrists, by means of which they pull out the lower barrel of a tier and thus dislodge and bring tumbling down the upper row. This is injurious both to the barrels and to the fruit. The freight value of a consignment is depreciated to the railway company. Shippers would put more barrels in a car if they had confidence that the upper row would receive fair treatment. No space should be wasted at a time when cars are so difficult to procure. Again, the trucks in the sheds are not all of the proper kind. Some are so ill balanced that when the barrel is discharged it drops nearly a foot. It cannot be too strongly impressed on all who have to do with the transportation of apples that no rough handling should be tolerated at any point of transfer. Occasionally, some barrels are landed from the steamer very slack, but with no evidence of decay inside. Some of the contents have been removed. The steamship and railway authorities do their best to prevent pilfering, but some of it seems to escape their vigilance.

Notwithstanding the losses and disasters of last season's business there is no just cause for discouragement. The future of the trade is bright. No Ontario farmer having a favorable location for apples need hesitate to set out an orchard of well chosen varieties. In a few years the orchard will be the most valuable part of his farm. And no dealer need hesitate to forward any well-packed consignment of good fruit, obtained at a reasonable price.

KEENE GUN CLUB MET DEFEAT AT HIAWATHA

Village Improvement Society to Hold a Picnic

Examiner Special

Keene, June 24.—Captain N. G. Smalley, Boston, U.S.A., has arrived in Keene to spend a few weeks' fishing in Rice Lake.

Mrs. Aikens, Bethany, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. S. Skinner.

Mr. J. C. Reid spent last week in Bobcaygeon.

Mrs. William Mathers left Saturday for a visit to friends in Rochester, N. Y.

The gun club team were defeated by Hiawatha Gun Club in a pigeon shooting contest at Hiawatha last week by a score of twenty. A very pleasant time was spent by the club members, who, in addition to the match, enjoyed a sail on the lake in Mr. James Wedlock's yacht, "The Mermaid." The club were entertained after the match at a supper at Idyl Wyld Hotel.

The Village Improvement Society intend running an excursion to Healy Falls on June 24th. Only a limited number of tickets will be sold as the committee do not wish to have too large a crowd on such a long trip. Tickets are for sale by the members of the committee and by Mr. W. Campbell.

Miss Eva Carey, Peterborough, spent Sunday in Lang, the guest of the Misses Hope.

Mr. Dan McFarlane, Klondike, was the guest of his brother, Mr. Colin McFarlane, last week.

Mr. Adam Starke, Hastings, visited in Keene last week.

Mr. J. M. Drummond spent Wednesday in Asphodel.

The Hiawatha Indians have arranged for a monster Dominion Day celebration this year with a good programme of sports and games.

The Methodist Epworth League purpose holding a strawberry social in the skating rink of June 30th. A good programme is assured.

Mr. Andrew Lumsden, Lindsay, is the guest of his sisters, the Misses Lumsden.

Probably the oldest voter who registered his vote at the recent elections in the province was Mr. Robt. Hope, of Villiers. At any rate we do not believe that there is another voter in the province of Mr. Hope's age, who is as active as he is. Although ninety years of age Mr. Hope has still all of his faculties unimpaired and walked some distance to the polling booth, registering the first vote at No. 1 polling booth on Monday. Mr. Hope was born in Scotland, but emigrated to Canada at an early age and has spent most of his life in Otonabee, being one of the earliest settlers in the township.

OUR NATIONAL DANGER

Time to Cry a Halt Before Complete Wreck Results.

There are thousands, both men and women, who do not take time to eat properly. They rush through life, and as a result we have an age of indigestion, nervousness, irritability, sleepless nights, and morose disposition. Our national danger is stomach weakness, due to the strenuous life.

Mi-o-na tablets, strengthen the walls of the stomach and stimulate secretion of the digestive juices. They make the stomach comfortable and cure indigestion.

Sick headaches, palpitation, yellow skin and coated tongue are a few of the many distressing results of indigestion that Mi-o-na never fails to cure.

Wm. Madill, corner of George and Hunter streets, sells Mi-o-na at 50 cent boxes and guarantees to refund the money if it does not give complete satisfaction.

TELEPHONE COMING TO FARMHOUSE

It will Revolutionize Farm Life and will Change its Character Altogether

From the Canadian Dairyman

The telephone is coming to the farmhouse, says the Toronto Saturday Night, in a recent editorial, and in ten years they will be numbered in thousands. They will revolutionize farm life, change its character altogether. People will be brought together, as never before, and the isolation of the family, so trying to womankind, and from which young people so eagerly escape, will be at an end.

The lonesome farmhouse will no longer be shut off from the world, but will be linked up with the rest of the nation. The news will scatter across country, while yet it is news. The housewife can be in instant connection with her neighbor, or with her sister, five miles away. The husband, before driving to town, can ascertain what produce he can sell, and at what price, if he takes it with him. The doctor, in case of accident, can be summoned in time to save life. In short, the whole black grudge of the sociable human family against the lonely country life, will be dispelled for they will always be within hail of their friends far and near. It will cost some money, but it will, from the first, earn more than it will cost, and be worth a hundred-fold more.

STORM WAS GOOD FOR OTONABEE CROPS

Changes in the G. T. R. Time Table in Keene—Some Good Catches

Examiner Special.

Keene, June 25. — Mrs. William Mathers is visiting friends in Rochester, N.Y.

Beginning this week the morning and afternoon mail trains are fifteen minutes earlier and the mail now leaves the post office at 7 a.m. and 1.50 p.m., instead of 7.15 a.m. and 1.45 p.m. as formerly. The morning train leaves Keene at 7.37 for Peterborough, and the afternoon train from Peterborough arrives at 2.07. The night train to Peterborough, however is fifteen minutes later, leaving at 8.25 instead of 8.10. The 'bus now leaves for Keene station at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Dr. V H McWilliams returned Tuesday after a week's visit in Toronto.

Last Sunday was children's day in the Presbyterian church and Rev. Mr. McDonald preached a sermon on Patriotism to the Sunday School children.

Anniversary services will be held in the Presbyterian church Sunday, July 5th. Rev. Robt. Pogue, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Peterborough, will conduct services.

School closed Tuesday in Keene school, closing a few days earlier than other schools on account of the Entrance Examinations to be held there Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Mr. Priddle, Havelock, will be presiding examiner, and Mr. Smithson has gone to Buckhorn where he will act in a similar capacity. Seven pupils from Keene school will try the Entrance Examinations.

The heavy rain storm Tuesday afternoon and evening did a great deal of good and was just what everyone was praying for. This locality seems to have been missed by the rains lately, several heavy rainstorms going either to the north or south and the ground was getting badly baked. As it is the crop of hay will not be nearly as good as was expected earlier in the season and some farmers complain that their hay is very little better than last year.

The Improvement Society will run an excursion to Healey Falls Wednesday. Already all the tickets have been sold, the committee having very wisely decided to sell only a hundred tickets to avoid overcrowding on the boat.

Arrangements are being made by the Hiawatha Indians for an old time Dominion Day Celebration at the Indian Village. A programme of sports will be run off and a good picnic is assured.

Mr. James Wedlock's yacht was into Keene Saturday to take a private excursion party up the lake for the afternoon.

As the Salvation Army Band would be unable to come to Keene on Tuesday, June 30th, the Methodist Strawberry Festival in the town hall will be held on Monday, June 29th, instead of the 30th as before stated.

Mr. Wallace Wood returned to Peterborough Monday after a week's visit with friends in the village.

Although the fishing was not very good the first couple of days of open season, it is much better now, and some excellent catches are reported.

Miss Susie Campbell, Peterborough, spent Monday in Keene.

MANY ORANGEMEN FROM OMEMEE

Will Take Part in the Big 12th of July Demonstration

Examiner Special.

Omemee, June 24.—The rain on Friday last had a very beneficial effect upon the crops in this vicinity.

Mr. J. W. Spence has erected a fine frame barn, 45 feet by 95 feet.

Garden parties and picnics are the order of the day just now.

The visit of part of the Salvation Army Band, of Peterborough, was much appreciated. Their music was the subject of much favourable comment.

Three or four hundred Orangemen from here will take part in the demonstration at Peterborough on July 12th.

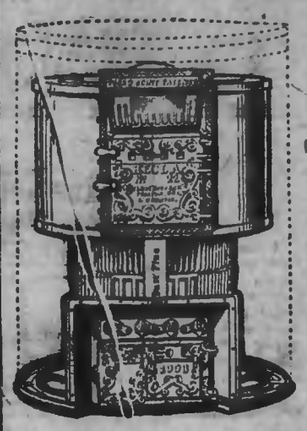
The "Hecla" Furnace

is the only one with Fused Joints



The only way to insure against the escape of gas, dust or smoke from a furnace is to buy a furnace that is and will remain airtight. This requires airtight joints. All furnace joints except fused joints are made with bolts and cement. They may be airtight at first, but in time the cement dries out and the bolts work loose, making the joints leaky.

Fused Joints (Patented) are made by fusing iron and steel together at a white heat. They are absolutely airtight and remain so. They can never work loose or leak. In twenty years not a fused joint has ever leaked. This feature makes the "Hecla" the safest and most sanitary furnace on the market.

Fused Joints keep the house free of Gas, Dust and Smoke

Our catalogue tells about other exclusive features such as the Steel Ribbed (Patented) Fire Pot, the Individual Grate Bars, and the Cast Iron Combustion Chamber. 57

Warsaw Foresters Hold A Very Delightful Excursion

HOME FROM THE HOSPITAL

Examiner Special

Warsaw, June 24.—Mrs. Thos. Eckart of Unionville is visiting Mrs. Allan L. Payne.

Mr. A. Maguire of Peterborough is spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. J. B. Forster.

Mr. D. S. Calder was in the city on Tuesday.

The many friends of Mr. John R. Payne will be pleased to learn that he has returned from the Nicholls Hospital, and is able to be about.

Mr. David Madill left on Monday on a two months' trip to Western Canada.

Mrs. Albert Batten left on Monday for Kenora where she will visit her daughter.

Mr. Kenneth Kidd was in the city on Friday evening last refereeing the Havelock Quaker football game.

The entrance class of Warsaw school, among whom are Misses Olga Miller, Bella Nickle, Marjorie Choate and Master John Clements, left on Tuesday for Norwood where they will write on the examinations.

With the jolliest of parties on board and delightful boating weather, the Canadian Order of Foresters' excursion held on Monday of this week was a much enjoyed event. The route taken from Lakefield through the section of the Kawartha chain, including Katchewanooka, Clear, Stony, Lovesick, and Pigeon Lakes to Bobcaygeon, is one of the finest of the many with which this county is naturally provided. It is to be regretted that more people did not take advantage of the inexpensive trip and have a change, even for one day, from the daily grind, which is to come in the next two months on the farm.

Judging from the preparations going on in this vicinity, a repetition of last year's crop failure is not anticipated. Among those who are building greater barns are Messrs. Jas. Dewart, Wm. Miller, T. H. Crowe, John Deen, Arthur Edwards, and Uriah Payne.

Arrangements are being made by the Peterborough Conservatory of Music to continue their Warsaw branch during the holidays. This will be an advantage to both the school children, who will then be free to give attention to the study, and to those who in the winter months find it difficult to drive to the village owing to the bad roads. It is understood that Miss McCaw of the staff will come each week and will be prepared to instruct in piano, organ, vocal, and harmony.

The Farmer Should Take His Vacation Every Year

From the Canadian Dairyman

Should a farmer take a vacation? Certainly. If all men who work hard need a rest, then the farmer is entitled to a vacation. While a farmer's occupation is as varied as most other callings in life, yet there is a monotony of locality and association, which needs to be broken in upon. He who stays for years within the boundaries of his own farm or neighborhood, is likely to become real in his ideas, methods and prejudices. He needs the contact of other minds and scenes. Farming demands the highest and clearest thinking. The farmer needs the stimulus which change and travel can bring. A well selected vacation will help the man to a deeper, richer and happier life.

When should he take his vacation? I would divide it up into two sections, taking two weeks in June, and another fortnight in September. By June his seeding is over. There is a lull in the rush of farm life. By the tenth of September harvest is in, and the fall wheat sown. After the excessive labor of harvest, the farmer needs rest.

Where, or how, shall he spend his vacation? That depends largely upon the locality and the financial ability of the man. If practical, he should in June travel as far from home as possible, going to some other province, a few hundred miles away. Travel in June is delightful. The rural world is at its best. Nature is enthroned, and in royal robes. If he can spend a few days where the conditions of farm life are quite different to his own, he will come home full of new ideas. Some of these he may be able to adopt, and so increase his wealth. The change of air and scene will prove a rest. Body and mind will be full of snap and go. He will resume his work with enthusiasm. In September he could take two weeks in some town or city, where an extensive industrial exhibition is being held. There he will come in contact with the manufacturing world. He will see machines of every description, for every purpose. Every trade and industry will be represented. Floral, dairy, horticultural and agriculeural produce will be exhibited. Then he can visit the city proper—its churches, schools, colleges, hospitals, museums, observatories, factories and fine buildings. The city streets, their electric conveyances; the stores, the ebb and flow of life; the great variety of social couditions will prove interesting. If he keeps himself awake, he will come home with broader views of life, and a deeper interest in all things. He should take his wife, or some of his children with him each year, so that they may share in the benefits.

THE ALARMING DEFICIENCY OF ENGLISH HORSES TO BE CHECKED

From the Canadian Dairyman

At last the alarming deficiency of English horses is to be checked through the enterprise of the Board of Agriculture. A momentous decision both to the war office and the farmers of Britain was arrived at recently.

After negotiations opened in 1906, when the War Office first awoke to the national danger, the Board of Agriculture, with the support of the Treasury, agreed to take over the business of building up a national reserve of horses; and their acceptance of the work constitutes the most considerable endeavor made for centuries to foster the breeding of cobs and hunters in Britain.

British farms are to be the breeding ground, and British farmers are to receive a bonus for colts of a certain age and quality. This bonus will come chiefly from a yearly contribution, "not exceeding £35,000," which the Treasury have suggested that they may be willing to supply.

According to one of the chief authorities on horse breeding, the deficiency, now amounting to about 14,000 in the year's supply of horses is due to the outbidding of the Remount Department of the War Office by foreign buyers. The war exhausted the supply of mares in Britain, and since then the bulk of the likely colts have been snapped up by the huge company of French, German, Belgian, and even Spanish and Italian agents, who now get their supplies from England.

The Board of Agriculture pledged themselves to stop this drain and yet keep for the farmer the benefit accruing from an export trade; and they will do it by giving farmers a bonus for likely colts up to a certain age. No definite mode of operation can be fixed till the new staff is in working order and until the Treasury has finally pledged itself to the grant; but it is on the method outlined above that the board intends to work.

This vital change in the policy will in all probability put an end to the King's premiums. These amount to an annual contribution of £4,200, which is all the money, barring a bonus to registered hunters and to omnibus companies, now spent by the nation for this purpose. The premiums are given to selected thoroughbred sires, allocated to groups of districts; but the system fails because a large percentage of their progeny are carried off for foreign armies.

When you realize that ninety-nine hair preparations out of a hundred depend almost entirely upon Tincture of Cantharides for any good they may do, is it any wonder that people fail to get beneficial results from them.

Tincture of Cantharides is made by soaking foul smelling green bugs or flies—that have first been dried and powdered—in alcohol and filtering out the sediment. The practice of using Cantharides began centuries ago, when it was thought that a diseased scalp required an irritant. The utter uselessness of continuing to put these dead bugs into hair remedies became apparent when the European Dermatologist, Dr. Unna (ask your Doctor about him) discovered that dandruff is caused by a germ or microbe; in reality an invisible vegetable growth, that can be passed from one head to another.

An authority says, "Any successful scalp treatment must be based on the recognition of the microbe theory," and further, "What on earth gave Cantharides its reputation in hair remedies, is more than I know. It is a tradition of a century and it is all nonsense. Cantharides cuts into the scarf skin and causes inflammation. It is made of dead bugs, and it furnishes exactly the element of decomposition that scalp microbes thrive upon."

Newbro's Herpicide, the ORIGINAL Remedy that "kills the dandruff germ," contains no Cantharides in any form whatsoever. It is made upon the known principle that dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, as well as dull, brittle and lusterless hair, are caused by a germ or microbe that finds lodgment in the sebaceous glands of the hair follicles in the scalp.

It should be understood that Newbro's Herpicide does not instantly destroy all of the thousands of colonies of microbes in a diseased scalp, as a live electric wire might be expected to destroy its victims. The microbic growth occurs just beneath the surface of the scalp, therefore patience and reasonable intelligence are required, but under such conditions Newbro's Herpicide gives results that are often almost marvelous. Even in ordinary use it gives more actual and positive benefit than do all other hair remedies combined. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Dr. V. T. McGillycuddy, Medical Inspector Mutual Life Ins. Co., N.Y., of Denver, Colo., writes as follows:

"Knowing the composition of Herpicide I can state that it contains nothing injurious. Its use will cure and prevent a recurrence of dandruff. It is an elegant and ideal hair dressing."

See Window Display

DURING THIS HOT WEATHER people who take pride in extreme cleanliness will find Newbro's Herpicide a positive delight. It cools and comforts the skin and scalp, and at the same time is highly detergent and sanitary. It is indispensable to sufferers from excessive perspiration or prickly heat. Newbro's Herpicide contains no oil or grease. It will not stain or dye.

On Friday, the students of the High School assembled in the principal's room, to show their esteem for Miss Archer and Miss Dell, who had both handed in their resignations at the last meeting of the School Board. Miss Archer who has been a faithful and earnest teacher here for nearly five years was presented with a pair of cut glass vases and a cut glass bon-bon dish, while Miss Dell was the recipient of a very pretty clock. The following address was read by Master Will Spellman, the presentation being made to Miss Archer by Misses J Buck and V Fry, and to Miss Dell, by Miss M Kniewasser:

We, your friends and pupils of Norwood High School desire on the eve of your going away from us, to express to you our appreciation of your labours during the time that you have been assistant teacher in this school, and at the same time to signify our regret at your departure. We feel that you will for a long time be missed both as a kind friend and a helpful teacher. But we earnestly hope that in the home to which you are going, you will have every kind of happiness you can wish for. We ask you to accept this gift from us as a memento of your connection with the High School and as a token of our love and best wishes.

Signed on behalf of the pupils of the Norwood High School

IN THE HOMES OF FAIR CANADA

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are Bringing Health to Weak, Despondent People

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, towns, villages and farms where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the county to the other they have brought back to breadwinners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and new strength. You have only to ask your neighbours and they can tell you of some nerve-shattered man, suffering woman, ailing youth or unhappy, anaemic girl who owe present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Their wonderful success is due to the fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go right to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich and red, strengthen every organ and every nerve, thus driving out disease and pain.

Mr. Joseph Lacombe, Quebec City, says:—"To-day I weigh about forty pounds more than I did a year ago, and am in every way in much sounder health. For upwards of two years I had been studying hard to pass my examination and my health had completely given way under the strain. I lost flesh rapidly, my appetite was gone and my nerves were greatly weakened. I was obliged to abandon my studies and was in a state of complete exhaustion. I consulted a physician, but as I was daily growing weaker I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I had often heard very highly spoken. The beneficial effects were indeed remarkable for I had not used more than a couple of boxes when I could feel an improvement, and hope returned. I continued using the pills for some weeks longer, with the result that my strength increased daily and I was soon able to take over my studies and work with as much energy as I had ever done. To-day I am in perfect health and I attribute my recovery solely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Boudin was largely attended on Sunday.

The basket social at Ewan proved a great success, as there was a large number of the young people of Mount Irwin in attendance.

Mrs. Thos. Clark has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Doherty, of Kinmount, for the past week.

Miss B. Dolan was the guest of Mrs. Jas. Brandon last Sunday.

The C. M. B. A. held an "At Home" on Friday night and it proved to be a great success.

Mrs. Petrie, of Peterborough, has been visiting her father and mother at Kinmount for the past two weeks.

SOMETHING ABOUT BEST APPLES

Difficult to Get Apples that will compare in Quality to Northern Spies

From the Canadian Dairyman

We are anxious to get apples that will compare in quality with the Northern Spy, King, Greening and other varieties. The difficulty is that these apples succeed only in a comparatively limited area in Canada. In Ontario they succeed, say from Kingston West and South to the Great Lakes and to Georgian Bay. But taking the great central part of Ontario from 20 or 30 miles north of Kingston, all of the Province of Quebec, the Province of New Brunswick, and certain parts of the Provinces of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, we have not a really hardy winter apple that will compare with these varieties in quality. But there is no reason, in my judgment, why we should not have them and we are working with that end in view.

To show you how parentage influences offspring, I might say that about 1890 we got a lot of seed from the northern part of Russia, thinking that it would be good stock for us to work upon in getting hardy trees. We grew 3,000 seedlings of apples alone from that stock and out of that number we have only about four that would compare favourably with our best named summer and winter apples in this country, the reason being that the majority of the Russian apples are either summer kinds or else kinds that would be quite inferior to Canadian. The offspring of these Russian apples has, therefore, on the whole, not proved to be fruits which were fit for Canada.

So in 1908 we started sowing the seed of our best apples which fruited at Ottawa, mostly of the hardier kinds, including Northern Spy, because we have had fruit here, the McIntosh Red, the Fameuse, the Wealthy, the Golden Russet and a number of other kinds. We sowed the seed of these and have got some very good seedlings. We expect many more promising ones in the future. We have about 2,000 of these seedlings of apples alone and about 200 of them have fruited. Of this number, fully 25 per cent. have been apples that we could not discard because we thought they were so promising that they would probably till some want in apple culture in some parts of the country. For instance, we have seedlings of the McIntosh, seedlings of the Wealthy, seedlings of the Scott's Winter, which is one of the hardiest winter apples we have and seedlings of the Northern Spy, which, I think, in time will take a place with our best apples and will also mature at a season when we have not got good kinds. In addition to these, we have seedlings of crossed apples. For instance, we crossed the McIntosh, which is one of our best early winter apples, with the Northern Spy, which is another good winter apple, with the idea of getting a hardy, later-keeping apple and the results will soon be known. Crosses between other varieties have already fruited and there are some promising apples among them.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble, Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 61, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her to-day if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

OLD COUNTRY MANUFACTURER WANTS CANADIAN SITE FOR ESTABLISHMENT

For Manufacture of Brick-Making and Grinding Machinery — It Would Employ About 275 Men

THE LOCAL ADVANTAGES

Something Worth City Council's Trouble To Investigate—Such An Industry Needed.

A well-known Yorkshire manufacturer contemplates the erection of a plant in Canada, giving employment to probably 250 or 300 hands, for the manufacture of brick-making and grinding machinery. Correspondence is invited from municipalities enumerating the concessions they could offer for location.

The above appeared in the "Trade and Commerce" report of June 22, and provides a good opportunity for Peterborough to secure a works which would be very acceptable to labourers. There is no doubt about Peterborough not being a suitable place of location. Its situation on the Trent Canal and on the C. P. R. and G. T. R. lines, and with water power and electrical energy in abundance, makes it a site excelled by none for the manufacture of any such material.

The Manufactures Committee of the City Council should be able to offer something to induce such an industry to locate in Peterborough. This city is surrounded by brick clay in abundance, as is evidenced by the fact that at present there are three brick manufacturing establishments within one mile of the corporation limits.

With a progressive and growing population, the material provided is one that should be in very great demand. Not only residential buildings, but manufacturing establishments as well, will continue to rise on city property.

These advantages for such an institutions should have some weight if presented to the proper parties. An establishment employing 275 men is one worth while looking after by the City Council, and steps should be taken to communicate with headquarters.

Presbyterian Church Has Advanced With The General Progress In Canada's West

Rev. J. G. Potter Returns Home From Presbyterian Congress and Later a Trip Through the West—Condition of the Crops

RESULT OF MISSION WORK

Rev. J G Potter, pastor of St. Andrews's church, returned to the city last night after a visit, extending over four weeks, to Winnipeg and other western cities and towns. He left Peterborough at the end of May to attend the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. It was a large and important gathering of Presbyterian clergymen and representative laymen and many subjects of current interest were discussed and disposed of. It was in session until the 12th of June, the meetings being held in Knox church, Winnipeg and were presided over by the pastor of that church, Rev. Dr. Duval.

One of the questions was the dispensing of the memorial from the professors of Queen's University, regarding the modifications of the terms of the charter, so as to enable them to secure the Carnegie Pension Fund. An animated discussion was aroused extending over parts of 3 or 4 days. It was finally decided that the connections which have heretofore existed between the University and the church be maintained. At the same time the trustees of the University were asked to consider the arranging of a retiring allowance for aged professors, as needed.

Social and Moral Reform

There was also a discussion of the report of the committee that had to deal with Social and Moral Reform work in Canada. This is a new department of the church's work and as the assembly desired to be cautious in committing the church to any definite policy the discussion of the lines of operating occupied some time. The work of this committee will embrace definite action along lines of social and moral progress throughout the Dominion.

Other subjects were the work of evangelisation and the Brotherhood or men's missionary movement.

Rev. Mr. Potter states that there has been a great expansion of the Home Missionary movement in the West. The appointment of Rev. Stephen Childerhose, B.A., as superintendent of Missions in New Ontario, succeeding Rev. Dr. Findlay seems to be a happy one. The Presbyterian church has made wonderful progress in the West and provision has been made for this growth in the cities and small towns. There are many students for the ministry scattered in the West, the colleges of Montreal, Queen's, Knox and Manitoba being well represented. The people seem to be strongly moral and a noticeable fact is the large number of men who attend church. Rev. Mr. Potter was heartily welcomed at one of the churches where he officiated on one occasion.

Farmers are Jubilant

Rev. Mr. Potter's objective point in his trip after the congress in Winnipeg was Battleford, where Mr. L. A. Thornton, B.S.C., his brother-in-law, was Government Engineer, in charge of the general traffic bridge over the Saskatchewan River. The bridge was opened in the Autumn of 1907 and is a fine structure. Mr. Potter states that the people in the east have no idea of the extent of the public works which are finished, are in course of construction or are being planned.

The farmers are happy in the bright prospects for a splendid harvest and the crops are well advanced, according to general report being ahead of last year.

Helping Labouring Class

The councils of Brantion and Regina are endeavouring to relieve their unemployed by extensive local operations. Rev. Mr. Potter visited the Experimental Farm at Brantion and also the Industrial school. At the latter institution many of the young Indian boys are giving promise of becoming finished agriculturalists.

On his way home the whole country seemed to be well advanced and at one place in Western Ontario he saw th grain standing in sheaves in the field.

CHIEF OF POLICE WANTS TO FIND MR. J. D. SANDS

If there is a person in Peterborough by the name of J. D. Sands, Chief Rossel would like to come into contact with him. It will be considerably to the advantage of Mr. Sands to call at the police station to see the chief as soon as possible. What the nature of the advantages are the chief will not divulge, but Mr. Sands would do well to see him as soon as possible.

A BIG EXCURSION FROM WHITBY TO BE HERE JULY 7TH

The big excursion from Whitby which is billed for Peterborough has been settled for July 7, when about four hundred of the Whitbyites will visit this city. It is under the auspices of several societies, including the Sons of England, and the local lodge is helping to make preparations for a gala day. The Otonabee Navigation Company will make two trips over the lift lock, and a good time will be provided for the visitors.

PETERBORO' BOY STANDS HIGH IN CLASS OF NINETY

Peterborough boys are successful everywhere. At St. Andrew's College, Toronto, over which Mr. D. Bruce Macdonald is the principal, Harold Meldrum, son of Mr. W. H. Meldrum, city, has achieved a very creditable standing. He has only been there one year, yet during that time he has been promoted twice, and is now in Form V. A, the graduation class. The report of his standing shows that in a class of ninety, he came well up among the leaders, being second in chemistry, and fifth seventh, eighth, etc., in other subjects. His general standing was marked "very good."

HOW TO SEE THE PARTIAL ECLIPSE OF SUN TO-MORROW

An annular eclipse of the sun will occur to-morrow morning, June 28th, Dr. Marsh has informed the Examiner that except in the extreme northwest portion the eclipse will be visible in Canada, but only as a partial eclipse. The path of the central eclipse will cross Mexico, Florida and end in Western Africa.

The eclipse will take place for Peterborough as follows: Begins Sunday, June 28 at 9 hrs. 43 min. 54 sec. a. m.; greatest phase 11 hrs. 08 min. 30 sec. a. m.; ends 12 hrs. 49 min. p. m. The use of a smoked glass will enable the citizens to enjoy the sight in comfort.

TWO WEST WARD SCHOOL TEACHERS ARE REMEMBERED

On the closing day of the term Mr. McCreary, retiring principal of West Ward School, was presented by the pupils and teachers with a pair of gold cuff links engraved with his monogram.

Miss Hall, who is also severing her connection with the school, was given a lace pin set with amethysts and pearls.

The most pleasant relationship has always existed in the school, and best wishes are extended to both teachers.

THIS YACHT RACE TOOK PLACE AROUND HANLAN'S ISLAND, TORONTO, LOWER CANADA

Certainly the geographical knowledge of a member of the Buffalo Courier staff is sadly defective, and Toronto, the great and the good, is not known very far beyond the bounds of its magnificence. In the June 21st issue of the periodical mentioned, a photogravure is entitled, "Yacht race around Hanlan's Island, Toronto, Lower Canada." This is pretty nearly on a par with saying "Strawberry festival at McKinley's monument, Buffalo, Mexico." One would be looked upon with as much favour as the other, so far, as geographical knowledge is concerned.

NINE YEAR OLD BOY NEARLY LOST HIS LIFE WHILE BATHING IN RIVER; PLUCKY RESCUE BY A YOUNGSTER

The Otonabee River came near to claiming another victim yesterday afternoon when Carl Noftall, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Noftall, corner of Aylmer and Murray streets, had a very narrow escape from drowning, while bathing in the river at the foot of Dublin street. A large number of boys were, as usual, swimming there and the little fellow went in with the others. He was splashing around in the shallow water near the shore suddenly found himself out of his depth. His predicament was not noticed by the other boys in the water and he was going down for the third time when Newton Thompson the young son of Sanitary Inspector Thompson, who was on the pier near by, saw that he was drowning. Throwing off his coat, the plucky youngster plunged from the pier and and seizing the drowning boy by the hair as he was disappearing for the the third time, he succeeded in making his way to shore with Noftall, and the latter was soon revived.

Only the prompt action of his rescuer saved his life as the boy's who were swimming with him did not notice his danger or else were not eager to come to the rescue.

The Output From Cobalt District Will Be Doubled This Season

The Cobalt region was never more flourishing than it is at the present time, remarked Mr. R. G. Williamson, a former resident of Peterborough, to the Examiner last night. Mr. Williamson, who was here on a short visit, is president of the Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining and Developing Company, Limited, of Toronto, and is therefore well qualified to speak of Cobalt and the conditions existing there.

While the first mad rush in the Cobalt town is over, the same conditions do not apply to the surrounding country. Strikes are being made almost every day, 25 or 30 miles from Cobalt. Recently the Casey Mountain Company made a great strike on their property, a solid metal cobalt vein two feet wide being encountered. From the Casey Cobalt mine, a near neighbour to the Casey Mountain mine, 20 tons of ore were sent out recently, representing an income to the company of $100,000.

Mr. Williamson looks to see the output of Cobalt this year double that of last season, and when one is told that the output last year was 14,000 tons, valued at $10,000,000, he realizes the immense richness of the Cobalt region. The president of the Casey Mountain Company is of the opinion that the riches there have hardly been tapped, and that there are vast opportunities still offering.

The prices of living at Cobalt just now are not any higher than they are in Toronto, the Klondyke figures which prevailed earlier in the rush having subsided by reason of the competition which naturally has arisen.

Mr. Williamson is a firm believer in the possibilities of Cobalt.

The Village Of Springville Will Now Have A Mail Every Day

Mr. R R Hall, M.P., has been advised by the Deputy Post Master General, that the Department has authorized that the Springville P. O. be served with mails daily except Sunday, via Kendry Station on the Canadian Pacific Railway to supercede the present service via Fraserville Station on the Grand Trunk Railway. This change will be put into operation at once and will no doubt prove more satisfactory to the patrons of the Springville, P.O.

Contributions To Furniture Funds Are Not Required

In yesterday's Examiner it was announced that contributions would be received towards a fund to replace the household furniture of Mr. J. H. Pierce, Wescott street, destroyed by lightning a few days ago. Two contributions were acknowledged and several more were sent in to-day. But this afternoon a letter was received from Mr. Pierce, stating that he was surprised to see the announcement in the Examiner. While appreciating "the generous spirit that prevails among the people of Peterborough," he "does not wish to ask for more than friendly sympathy" since, "owing to the generosity of the firm in which he is employed and the open-handedness of his immediate friends" his loss has been amply provided for.

It is to be stated that the fund was originated by the Examiner on the suggestion of a gentleman, who gave the assurance that the help offered would be accepted.

Those who have made contributions will have the amount returned.

However, the mistaken kindness of the gentleman referred to, which was supplemented by substantial evidences of his bona fides, shows that any appeal on legitimate grounds to the kindness and liberality of the citizens will not be made in vain.

COMMERCIAL PROMOTION EXAMINATION RESULTS

It is the aim of the Collegiate to give in the Commercial Department, in addition to the commercial subjects, a thorough grounding in the English branches and arithmetic. For this reason the students of this department are required to take a higher percentage to pass than the pupils in the other forms. The complete course can be done in two years. The students take typewirting when they reach the senior form. After a student has completed the full course and passed successfully the examination of the different parts, he or she is awarded a commercial diploma.

Commercial 2

The results of this year's examinations are as follows:

PART I.—This part comprises reading, spelling, grammar, composition literature, history, geography and arithmetic. To pass, 35 per cent in each subject, and 55 per cent. of the total, is required. Honours, 75 per cent. Names are in order of merit:

Honours—Irene Spicer.

Pass—Mabel Russell, Ethel Pethick, Mina Waldie, Estella Collinson, Grace Evans, Maud Lindsay, Emily Horsfield.

PART II. — Comprises bookkeeping theory, bookkeeping practice, single and double entry, business forms and law, penmanship, business correspondence. To pass in this part, 50 per cent. of the total is required.

Honours—Irene Spicer.

Pass—E. Collinson, E. Pethick, M. Waldie, G. Evans, M. Curtis, M. Russell, M. McIntosh, L. Haskill and E. Horsefield (equal), L. Stillman, H. Baptie.

PART III.—Stenography. To pass in this subject the student must pass in two five-minute tests. At least 80 words per minute must be attained, with less than two per cent. mistakes (the Pitmanic test).

Those who attained 100 words per minute are: I. Spicer, and E. Pethick; 80 words per minute, H. Baptie, E. Horsfield, G. Evans, M. Russell.

PART IV.—Typewriting. The students, after taking a course in general work, tabulating and mimeographing, must pass with an average speed of 30 words per minute in copy and dictation tests.

I. Spicer averaged 43 words per minute; E. Pethick and M Curtis, 35; G. Evans, 34; E. Horsfield and M. Russell, 33; H. Baptie and L. Stillman, 31; M. McIntosh and L. Haskill, 30.

Commercial Diplomas are granted to I. Spicer, E. Pethick, G. Evans, E. Horsfield and M. Russell.

Irene Spicer is the best student that has ever passed through the Commercial Department since it was organized.

Promoted from Commercial I. to Commercial II.—To pass, 35 per cent in each subject, and 55 of the total, is required.

Elsie Kirk, E. Brand, May Rose Audrey Bennett, B. Heenan, Myra White, Cecilia Shelvin, Birdie McDonald, Pearl Haskill, Muriel Caldwell, Ruby Derry, W. Tully, O. Girvin, Lillian Harris, H. Blanchard, P. Morgan, W. Scotte, E. Stewart.

"Boys Of The Old Brigade" Turn Out To Midnight Fire In Their Old Time Form

At about half-past twelve last night a fire was discovered in the weigh scales shed at the Quaker Oats Company's mill, but fortunately it was nipped in the bud and practically no damage was sustained.

The cause of the blaze is unknown and while it was stated that it was probably due to a cigar stub carelessly thrown to one side, this does not seem feasible. The scales platform is beside the elevator and is open at either end, but is boarded on the west side and is roofed. The fire started apparently among some loose straw beside the wooden wall and a nice little blaze had started before the alarm was sent in. It was discovered by the night electrician at the power house north of the mill. Many of those who hurried to the spot expressed the opinion that it looked like the work of an incendiary.

The Boys of the Old Brigade turned out in a commendable manner. Both waggons and most of the men were quickly at the fire and the promptitude and efficiency of their work were acknowledged by Mr. Denham, who was himself among the first there. Water was turned on by the firemen and one of the company's chemical apparatus finished the work.

Young Homesteaders Lose Their Mental Balance By Solitude

It is a well known fact that loneliness develops insanity. The sheep-herders' life is especially conductive to it, and the press has cited many instances where in their long separation from human beings the sheep-herders lose their mental balance and become hopelessly insane. Another example of the effect of unbroken solitude on the equilibrium of the mind is among the single homesteaders in the west. Rev. Mr. Potter, who returned last night from a month's trip in the west, informed a reporter that he had seen three young men whose minds had become unhinged, brought to several stations by the Mounted Police. It was stated that they had gone into the country to make a living, had broken the land but were living alone and were miles distant from their nearest neighbours. The loneliness of their life has affected their mental state. These are only three cases, but this pathetic side of life in the west has had too many such examples.

Gasoline Launch Race At T.A.S. Picnic The Centre Of Interest

The aquatic sports and especially the yacht race in connection with the sporting events at the T. A. S. picnic on July 1st, are attracting a great deal of attention, and considerable interest is being taken in them on every hand. A glance at the list will show that this section of the sports is one of the best that has been arranged in the vicinity of the city in many years. The prizes offered are valuable, and it remains with the contestants to make these the success they promise. The skiff and canoe races should prove interesting as there are many splendid canoists on the river and quite a few have spoken of entering.

The gasoline launch race is under the direction of Mr. R. M. Roy. It will be over a course of five miles, one and a quarter down the river and back, then one and a quarter miles up and return to the starting point, completing five miles. Besides the prizes there is a handsome flag for the winner. The launches will be fairly handicapped, if necessary, by Mr. Roy, who will have the launch at the grounds in order to manage this race.

Chemong Yacht Club Prepare For Another Pleasant Season

The annual meeting of the Chemong Yacht Club was held last evening at the office of Hall, Medd and Davidson. The financial condition of the Club was reported in first-class condition and the Commodore, T F Matthews, reported on the success of last year's regattas and also on the fact that the Kawartha Lakes Challenge Cup was won again last year, for the 4th time, by a member of the Chemong Yacht Club.

The prospects for the coming season are very bright for an increased membership. The secretary was instructed to communicate with the secretaries at Stony Lake and Sturgeon Point for the various regattas so that the dates of the various aquatic events at these places would not come too closely together.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

Hon. Commodore—T F Matthews.
Commodore—A A Rollingshead.
Vice-Commodore—Howard Hopwood.
Sec.-Treas.—W S Davidson.
Committee—Alex Elliott, F H Dobbin, W R Hartshorn and Dr. Young.

The Club has one of the prettiest spots on the Kawartha Lakes for their summer home—Chemong Park—and with a club house of a modern character, with sleeping rooms which may be secured by any desiring to spend the nights there, they have a pleasant summer before them.

Weekly Concert By 57th Band Was Much Enjoyed Last Night

The biggest crowd of the season was present at Victoria Park last night for the weekly concert by the 57th Band, and the programme rendered was thoroughly appreciated, although the numbers were of a heavier nature than usual. The evening was a delightful one and several thousand people gathered in the pretty park.

Sergt. Hughes' cornet solo, "Columbia Polka," was cleverly rendered and well received, and other popular numbers were Godfrey's "Reminiscences of Ireland," and the overture, "Nabucodonosor." The band was especially successful in its rendition of a sacred number, giving the presentation of the hymn an effect that closely resembled a huge pipe organ. Following was the programme:

March—Gilmore's Triumphal.
Overture—Nabucodonosor
Cornet Solo—Columbia Polka—Sgt. Hughes.
Transcription—In the Deep Cellar.
Cakewalk—King of Rags.
Reminiscences of Ireland.
Hymn—Selected.
God Save the King.

Owing to a mistake in bringing the music from the band hall, the sextette from Lucia de Lammermoor and the nautical fantasy, Voyage on a Troopship were not played, a lively march being substituted for the latter number.

Will Have To Pay $2.00 Per Week To Maintain His Two Children

At the police court this morning Joseph Scott was charged with not supporting his children. Mrs. Hobbs, Scott's mother-in-law, testified that the children, who were six and two years of age had been left with her on the understanding that Scott was to provide them with proper clothes. Since last September all she had received from him was seventy-five cents, while he had given her husband seventy cents on another occasion. She had been quite willing to keep them if Scott undertook to provide their clothes.

The case was settled by Scott agreeing to pay Mrs. Hobbs $2 per week for the care of the children.

Three young men who had pleaded guilty to riding bicycles on the sidewalk were fined $2.

SIR WILLIAM FALCONBRIDGE.

Titular honours, are to many minds something of an empty boast, if not an embarrassment in worthily maintaining, but distinctions of this kind based on the merit of the recepient, are to be highly prized as honourable marks of recognition of learning, ability or worth of character. In these latter regards, the King's birthday honours whose distribution included Chief Justice Falconbridge, of the King's Bench, fell upon a man in every way worthy of the distinction of knighthood, which has been conferred upon him. He represents the type of model chevalier of the days "When Knighthood was in Flower—sans peur et sans reproche. As a judge he has shown a fearless, irreproachable and able administration of this high office; as a jurist the distinction he has gained, comes naturally upon the distinction attached to his legal, college and school career. In Sir William Falconbridge's case, the man whom the King delights to honour, is in every way worthy as citizen, scholar and jurist—it is a recognition of honourable qualities honourably exercised, of brains, ability and high character. Sir William's many friends and admirers give him cordial congratulations, joined with the wish that he may long live to wear the honour conferred upon him by Edward the Peacemaker.

BRITAIN'S LEAD.

A certain class of shallow thinkers are fond of referring to Great Britain as an "effete monarchy," and in the last stages of senile decay. But there's life in the old lion yet. His trade is increasing; Great Britain is still the greatest political, moral, intellectual and commercial force in the world. Though but a speck upon the map it wields a predominating influence in the world—with a total area of only 120,000 square miles, and a population of only forty-two millions, the British Isles dominate in the British Empire an area of eleven and a half millions of square miles, with a population of nearly four hundred millions. At the Pan-Anglican Conference in London recently the enormous sum of five million dollars was reported as contributed for the work of the church. This does not look much like decay. Great Britain has held the supremacy of the seas for two and a half centuries and still continues to lead in the domain of peaceful commerce, as well as in the matter of marine fighting equipment; still continues to set a pace in naval construction which no two of the greatest powers can follow, even at a respectful distance. The nations are vainly spending millions a year in the effort to gain a little on Britain's big lead. When Britain built the Dreadnought all the other naval powers set themselves to building ships of the same class. Now, before these nations have launched or given a trial trip to these imitations, Great Britain has taken a "spurt," which literally takes "the wind out of the sails" of her feeble imitators She has laid the keel of an entirely new type of battleship, which is as far a step in advance of the Dreadnought as that was of its most formidable predecessors. The new battleship will carry heavier armour and guns of greater range than those of any ship now afloat, or under construction. Its fuel will be gas or rarified petroleum, instead of coal, thus adding immensely to its mobility, doing away with the most cumbersome problem of a warship, the coal bunkers, and simplifying to a wonderful degree, the whole problem of propelling power. This fuel is to the warship what smokeless powder is to the rifle and artillery; so that a battleship thus propelled can easily come within striking distance without betraying its presence by the black trail of coal smoke from the furnace funnels. The new battleship will have all the advantages of the old sailing ship in cleanliness, with the additional charm of invisibility, for it will have no top hamper of spreading sails. One such ship will have an immense superiority over all other battleships. Practically it will be better than three or four of them in actual warfare, and, if successful, as the admiralty is sure it will be, it must work a new revolution in naval armaments. To keep even within sight of Great Britain in the matter of naval construction, competing nations will have to adopt the new style of battleship, and the imitation Dreadnoughts they may have on the stocks become, as far as completion is concerned, mere masses of scrap iron, even before they are launched; Germany and other countries, if they continue in the race, must at once revise their naval plans and incur treble cost, for the new type of British battleship will cost $25,000,000. The competing warship-building nations seem to be completely distanced in the race of naval construction. The popular jingo jingle of thirty years ago was no idle boast —"We've got the ships, we've got the men, we've got the money too." Britain not only beats the world in the game of battleship-building, but as well does the lions share of such work for other nations. To-day's despatches state that Brazil has placed orders with British ship yards for twenty-seven war ships, including three battleships of the Dreadnought type—a condition of the contract being that they must all be delivered by September, 1909.

HOW TO ENJOY HOLIDAYS.

The summer holiday season though hardly opened, has to its debit an already formidable record of drown-fatalities. These are all the sadder because in the majority of cases they are avoidable, by the use of proper precautions. The death roll of the coming season would be reduced to almost zero it all who frequent the water would observe a few simple precautions —involved in the possession of a practical knowledge of the art of swimming, a practical knowledge of handling a canoe, conjoined with a common sense prudence and carefulness, the proper behaviour of other occupants of a canoe besides the paddler and the elimination of the "fool who rocks the boat." As to this last class of fiend his or her proper treatment would consist of confinement in an insane asylum or a cemetery.

It stands to reason and is justified by observation and experience that no person who does not understand the proper handling of a canoe should have charge of one, especially when other occupants are especially women and children or, especially flighty girls. An observance of a rule something like this would very largely eliminate canoe accidents resulting in drownings.

Care should be exercised in bathing, even good swimmers should not take risks when alone, with no assistance promptly available in case of cramps or collapse from any cause. A person who cannot swim should not venture into water of drowning depth without some artifical support that makes sinking impossible. Every opportunity should be used to learn the life-saving art of swimming. With the precautions thus generally indicated, effectively taken, the deaths from drowning would practically disappear. Those who frequent water-side resorts should remember that any water pleasure accompanied by conditions that make probable, or even possible, a drowning is a criminal indulgence. The exercise by each one of a little common sense, a little reasonable precaution, a little good judgment and a little self denial in the face of possible danger will largely remove the peril of fata. drownign accidents—so called, but in many cases not accidents but the deliberate or thoughtless results of culpable if not criminal folly and senseless risk.

With the conditions present that may easily be created, or avoided, a holiday in the neighbourhood of water might be made a delight without the dread of being darkened by a drowning death; the holiday made a pleasure instead of a tragedy. While speaking of the causes that destroy or lessen the pleasure of a holiday, another hint may be timely. Reports from Ottawa state that the spread of poison ivy in Rockcliffe Park is a menace to the safe enjoyment of this resort. Some persons are extremely susceptible to poisoning by contact with this vine, and the best way is to avoid contact with it and in order to do this its ready identification is necessary. Everybody is familiar with the common or domestic ivy, "the Virginia Creeper." Note that its leaves are borne on the stem in clusters of FIVE. The leaves of the poison ivy—the rhus toxicodendron of the botanist—are borne upon the stem in clusters of THREE. This distinction, which should be impressed especially upon children, makes identification of poison ivy easy, and avoidance of the danger of painful poisoning equally easy.

The precautions suggested, it observed would tend to promote the pleasure of the holiday. These with the precaution of carrying upon the holiday a clear conscience, being at peace with all one leaves behind in town, paying one's tradesmen—"the butcher, the baker and the candlestick-maker"—so that one's enjoyment will not be spoiled by thoughts of the inconvenience of others—all combined create conditions for the ideal enjoyment of the ideal holiday.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Globe thinks that three deaths in a day from contact with wires carrying electric current, should impress the warning against touching and approaching any wire, and prints a serious article on the subject, under the heading, "Keep away from the wires." A simpler way and a safer way would be to keep the wires away from the public—by carrying them in underground conduits.

Toronto presents a poor field for local option. One can't expect the people to vote for water when the water isn't fit to drink, without boiling. One can't expect a citizen, every time he develops a thirst, to take the trouble to make a brew of sewer soup. A costly filter plant is the only remedy apparent, and the city will vote on the question next Saturday. Typhoid germs, tangled in the arenaceous meshes of a filtering plant come to grief, but operating in the recesses of a citizen's anatomy bring joy to the grim monster.

The Weekly Sun regards Mr. Fisher's civil service reform bill as a practical admission of the partial failure of popular government and of ministerial responsibility. This is an extreme view. Academically viewed, there may be some force in this contention, but, practically, the objectionable features are overborne by beneficial practical results. The party patronage system is virtually a modified form of the spoils system, the most baneful element in our later most baneful element in our latter day politics. A government may represent a party, but it also represents the whole people, and its duty is to the whole people. In the hands of the Dominion Government, civil service reform aims to be real reform. A Civil Service Commission promises equal usefulness with the Railway Commission.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE

Biology has Proved That Dandruff is Caused by a Germ

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff, or scurf, by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff, hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c and $1. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

A FOOTBALL BOOK GIVEN TO THE QUAKERS

Mr. C. R. Banks, of the Banks' Sporting Goods Company, has on hand a large supply of the Ontario Association Football League Annuals which usually retail at 15 cents, but which he proposes to distribute free of charge to any member of last year's Quaker team. RETURNS WEST AFTER VACATION

Mr. V. Ferguson, Manager of the Union Bank in Western Town

Mr. V. Ferguson, manager of the Union Bank at Lumberg, Sask., returns this evening to resume his duties after a vacation extending over two weeks spent with his mother, Mrs. Bruce Ferguson. He is being accompanied by Messrs. Llewellyn Hall and Chas. Butcher. The former will go as far as Vancouver, while Mr. Butcher's destination is Edmonton.

Mr. Ferguson states that a heavy harvest will relieve the financial stringency, and everything is pointing that way. The prospects have already influenced the market.

Dear Sir,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque for $2,500.00 in settlement of fire loss, Policy 8,645,879, Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.

We note in connection with this settlement a most unusual feature. They are legally entitled to 1% of stated sum for payment prior to due date. No business man would for one moment question their right to this amount. But they do not take it. Instead they have purposely waived their priveleges and presented us with this additional amount.

We are gratified to note this remarkable action. To adjust and settle a loss within twelve days is noteworthy, but to add to this magnanimity in refusing to take advantage of their discount privileges places this company in a most favorable position.

We congratulate you upon representing a company of such superior standing.

Yours very truly,

SHOULD BE WATCHED IN SUMMER

Some Good Advice to Poultry Owners in Regard to Care of Stock

WHAT SHOULD BE FED

From the Canadian Dairyman

There comes a time during midsummer when the chicks have got past the newly hatched stage, and are putting on the feathers nicely, when the strain of watchfulness seems to relax, and the poultryman appears to feel that the need of special care is over. At this time the birds are allowed to look after themselves, and several evils are often the result before the effect is very noticeable. This is more especially found where the chicks are being confined to their own runways. It is also apparent where the freedom is given to all, and the large and small are permitted to run together. The consequence is that the big ones overrun the late hatched, eating all the feed, as well as usurping all the favorable spots generally.

This practice of running all tends to stunt the growth of the little fellows. It is a hard matter to get them to recover from such a set back, and attain the size and development they would, had no check been received. This, of course, applies more to poultry in a confined space than to the flock that has the run of the farm. On the farm, the hen can take her brood to new territory every day. The farther afield she goes the better for her brood.

Pointing out the consequences should put the unwary on their guard, and they should see to it that advice is not needed, nor unheeded in their case.

Then another thing that is often overlooked, is the fact that the chicks are rapidly getting larger, and the coop that was roomy for them a month ago is now badly crowded.

A peep into the overcrowded coops on a warm night will show the chicks with outstretched necks, and wide awake eyes, grasping for air. The weaker ones are crowded down to the floor in a reeking atmosphere. Such crowding soon puts the weaker chicks in such a state that they look a month younger than their fellows of the same age. Some morning these stunted ones will be found trampled into a shapeless mass, a victim of overcrowding.

These chicks were all right, and if given roomy night-quarters, would in all probability have reached a healthy maturity. Carelessness in attending to feed, pure water supply, shade, grit, etc., are other things that are often neglected in the midsummer season and the effect quickly seen in the flock. Don't relax your vigilance now it is too costly, neglecting the half.

In our last week's issue, this subject was dealt with as regards wheat, oats barley and rice. The following is a brief review of the value of some of the other feeds most commonly used in feeding poultry:

Corn: This grain is fed in many ways as whole, cracked, corn chop and in the mash as corn meal. Cracked can be fed to advantage in the litter where confined stock require exercise. Corn chop which is much the same, only perhaps coarser and does not need to be sifted in order to prevent waste as the cracked corn is also fed in the litter. Little chicks relish the cracked corn and are well pleased to scratch and hunt for it. Corn is essentially a heating grain and should not be much used in hot weather, but is a splendid evening feed in the cold nights of winter. It is a fattening, not a fleshing grain, and will heighten the color of yellow fleshed birds. It is therefore valuable wher the market demands a yellow tinted flesh. Be careful of this grain re well combined with it. There is o doubt that if it were a common rain it would be more frequently ound on the chickens' bill of fare.

Rye: Not often used but a grain ich in fats and fair in albumen properties, is well combined with oats.

While the grains form a necessarily arge part of the rations there also ppear such other foods as clover, green bone, etc.

Grass: Needs but little comment. Everyone is familiar with the attiude the fowls take to it in the spring nd summer months and they have lmost the same inclination for the ried grass in winter. It is highly itrogenous and hence highly valuable.

Clover: Is now a much used green food. It is rich in salts and mineral and makes a good showing in albuminoids. It gives a change and relish to the other foods and is much appreciated by confined stock.

Cabbage: As a green food one that gives a good supply of water and in comparison with other green foods is high in protein.

Green Bone: High in protein, rich in fats and well supplied with mineral salts. Small quantities of this is equal to large quantities at first but latter may be fed by hoppers. Meat meal is richer still and has three times the amount of albuminoids of that of bone, but much lower in mineral and fats. Dried fish tests high in albuminoids, fats and mineral salts, and is therefore a good food but its scarcity in most localities makes it prohibitive

Milk: Spreads itself over all the good feeding qualities but has a large percentage of water, and also is almost entirely digestible, which cannot be said of other foods. Skim milk lacks about one per cent. of the albumen found in the whole milk. also some of the fats but is a profitable form of food where it is cheap.

In conclusion, let us say, the stock requires a large amount of protein, fats and some mineral salts, etc., to keep up the repair of the body, all the remaining digested food goes either to make eggs or to be stored up in the form of fat for future emergencies, therefore if the food tends to supply albumens (the chief element of the egg) abundantly, should we not expect eggs, other things being equal, or if it be rich in fats should we not expect fat fowls?

Each of these coops contain a hen with a flock of chicks. The chicks run free, the hen is confined. The enclosed end of coop has a floor and the slatted end is on the ground. Photographed at Model Farm. The White Wyandotte plant of Wright Brothers, Brockville.

Buckwheat: This grain, if of first quality is a better grain than wheat but must be good to be of real value, and like wheat, requires only a little corn in either mash or whole form to make a satisfactory food.

Linseed: In the meal form, generally, is fed to exhibition birds and imports a gloss to the feathers and a vigor to the birds. It is a splendid conditioning food but its value for other purposes puts the price at such a figure that it is not profitable to feed generally.

Peas and Beans: When fed in the mash are very rich, valuable grains, high in albuminoids, but they tend to make the meat firm and perhaps stringy, hence seldom used. But with other grains they are both good and valuable.

Sunflower seeds: Is highly valuable, but its scarcity makes it uncommon in the feed bill. It is a rich, oily, heavy food and needs but little caution in feeding. Oats as a mash with two year old hens and particularly so if they be Plymouth Rock.

THE BAZAAR WAS A SUCCESS

Held by the Women's Institute at Mount Julian—Was An Enjoyable Entertainment

MEETINGS FOR FARMERS

Examiner Special:

Mount Julian, June 24.—A bazaar and literary entertainment in connection with the Women's Institute of South Burleigh was held in the schoolhouse on June 12, and the proceeds amounted to $16.65. The building was tastefully decorated with flags and maple leaves, and a number of pretty and useful articles were offered for sale. After all had been disposed of, Mr. Israel Church took the chair, and the rest of the evening was pleasantly spent in listening to the number of amusing recitations and songs constituting the programme, which was as follows:

Choir—"The Maple Leaf Forever"—Emma Reid, Millie Reid, Mrs. A Reid, Addie Wigg, Florence Sanderson.

Recitation—"The Pappy Land Express"—Julia Wilson.

Recitation—"Where the Spank Weed Grows"—Verna McCauley.

Recitation—"The Stolen Custard" — Gladys Shewen.

Reading—"June"—Willie Matthews.

Duet—"The Cobbler" — Addie McCauley and Gladys Shewen.

Recitation — "Young America in Pinafore"—Laura Windover.

Recitation—"Johnnie's Soliloquy" — Bessie Thompson.

Choir—"Bluebell."

Recitation — "Deceiving" — May Reid.

Recitation—"Little Paul's Thanksgiving"—Emily Church.

Recitation—"Little Mousie"— Alice Reid.

Solo—"The Ship that Never Returned"—Victor Shewen.

Recital—"The Unmarried Female"—Mrs. Chas. Lauder.

Duet—"The Gates Ajar" — The Misses Shewen.

Recitation — "Caleb's Courtship"—Mrs. Israel Church.

Recitation—"When Hannah Struck"—Alice Booth.

Recitation—"Hello"—Percy Thompson.

Recitation—"The Woodbox"—Frank Booth.

Dialogue—"Swinging on the Gate"—F Sanderson, L Northey, R Sanderson, S. McCauley, V. Shewen.

Choir—"Old Black Joe."

Recitation—"My Father's Pipe" — Miss Anderson.

Duet—"The Letter Edged with Black"—Misses Shewen.

Inst. Duet—Millie Reid and Addie Wigg, on mouth organs.

Recitation—"When Brother Cooked the Dinner"—Oscar Church.

Choir—"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching."

Dialogue—"Advertising for a Companion"—Jessie Reid, L. Windover, A. Wigg, Miss Anderson.

Recitation—"The First Glass"—Mrs. Northey.

Ghost Drill—Four young ladies.

Solo—"Pull for the Shore"; in the Norwegian language—Israel Church.

Recitation—"Mother's Hymn"—Willie Church.

Choir—"Peace, Be Still."

"God Save the King."

The Provincial Department of Agriculture having made arrangements for holding meetings in the township, two were held in the South Burleigh schoolhouse on June 16 by Mr. Glendenning of Manila and Miss Shuttleworth of Guelph, which were very well attended and appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Garbutt is to be pastor of the Methodist churches on the Apsley circuit for another year.

Mrs. Chas. Hales, a former resident, and Miss M A Hales of North Burleigh, attended the bazaar.

SCOTLAND

At Mr. A J Balfour's East Lothian seat at Whittingehame, close to the mansion, is the historic Whittingehame tower, an ancient keep closely connected with Earl Morton and the tragic years of Queen Mary's residence in Scotland. A wood now grows above the ancient burial-place of the Douglases, who owned the Tower, and here, in the course of some digging, workmen came upon a fairly well preserved tombstone bearing the following inscription: "Heir lies Master, thone Maxwel, minister of Whittingham, who died the (figure not plain) day of October, the yer of God 1611." The stone lay eight inches below the ground. It is of red sandstone, the inscription running roun the four sides. It is interesting to note that the kirk-session records of Whittingehame go back to 1671, while the parochial registers of births and marriages exist from 1627. It may be noted that the spelling of Whittingehame is minus the vowel "e," now regularly used in the body of the word. The spelling now used was specially devised by Mr. Balfour a number of years ago for the purpose of preserving the soft sound of the "g" in pronounciation.

An Injunction to Stop Foresters' Increase at Rochester

A despatch from Rochester says: "A temporary injunction was granted by Justice G. A. Benton restraining the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters afrom increasing its insurance rates, pending the action brought on that point by Mr. Henry J. Simmelink of this city. The matter of increasing the rates for insurance in this fraternal order was taken up at the convention in Toronto last week. Under the present order, it will be impossible for the order to put the increase into effect."

The Tented City for Visitors' Accommodation Overlooks the Naval Review

Quebec, June 27.—From all parts of Canada and the United States applications are coming in for hotel accommodation from July 20 to July 31, for the Tercentenary festivities, which will afford one of the grandest spectacles ever seen in America. The Tented City has aroused great interest. This will furnish excellent hotel accommodation at prices ranging from $1.50 to $2.00 per day for separate beds, to $60 for tents holding two or three, $75 for tents holding four or five, to $150 for tents holding twelve. Parties taking accommodation for the whole time of celebration may have their tents for two days before and two days after without additional charge. Baggage can be checked to the tents allotted, special tags being furnished on application. Separate tents are provided for single ladies and for single gentlemen. Every convenience and service common to first-class hotels will be found at the Tented City. Meals will be supplied in three great dining tents at 50 cents, and elsewhere at 25 cents, the caterer having a continental reputation. As time is short and applications coming in rapidly, visitors are advised to apply immediately, stating class of accommodation required, enclosing cheque for one third of amount as a guarantee. Letters should be addressed to Mr. W. J. Wiggs, vice president, Tented City Company, Quebec.

WEDDING BELLS.

DOUGLAS—COLLINS

On Wednesday, June 24th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at "Maple Springs," the residence of Mr. Hugh Collins, near Hastings, when his daughter, Janet Ida, was united in marriage to Mr. George H. Douglas, son of Mr. W. J. Douglas, of Burleith. Promptly at 5.30 o'clock to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Ethel Collins, sister of the bride, the wedding party proceeded to the lawn where, under a beautiful arch of ferns, decorated with flags and cut flowers, the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Elliott, pastor of the Methodist Church, Hastings.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a beautiful gown of white silk trimmed with medallions and baby Irish lace and bridal veil with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by her little cousin, Miss Mabel Hoare, who made a very dainty flower girl, dressed in white Swiss muslin with Valenciennes lace and insertion, and carried a basket of pale pink roses and carnations.

The groom's present to the bride was a handsome check for $25, to the little flower girl a beautiful gold brooch. After the congratulations were over the guests, numbering about eighty, adjourned to the dining room, where a sumptuous dejeuner was partaken of. The rest of the evening was spent in games, music and social intercourse. The numerous and costly presents testified to the high esteem in which the young couple are held. Among those present from a distance were, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Collins, of Merrill, Wis. The happy couple will reside in Hastings. The bride's going away gown was a castor brown armure suit with cream silk waist and hat to match.

WILL DECORATE MANY TOWNS

Many Contracts for J. J. Turner & Sons —Flags for Quebec

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, Canada's biggest decorators, have received within the past few days the contracts for decorating Port Hope, Dunville, Chatham, Oshawa, Arthur, Petrolia and Collingwood.

This firm also received orders yesterday from Quebec for 200 large bunting flags for the great Tercentenary celebration at Quebec next month. Their fame has certainly spread to all parts of Canada as decorators with a splendid reputation.

DR. BARNADO'S HOMES CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Their Forty-Third Year Has Passed—Night and Day Magazine

This month Dr. Barnardo's Homes are celebrating their forty-third anniversary, and the June issue of their well-illustrated magazine "Night and Day," gives many details of the function. It took place at the Girls' Garden City, Barkingside, on Saturday, 20th June. On the preceding day Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Albany unveiled a memorial to the late Dr. Barnardo, situated in the centre of the village. As a supplement to the annual report, to be presented on the occasion of thise fete, a "Barnardo map" or "chart of child rescue," was issued and this will show, marked by ap red dot, every city, town and village throughout England and Wales from which the Homes have admitted a child or children since 1884. The wonderful story of rescue with which the name of Dr. Barnardo will always be associated seems to grow in interest in each successive chapter. Eight thousand boys and girls are now under the wing of the Homes, and not far short of three thousand admissions took place last year alone. Their coast of emigrants is over a thousand annually. A gratis copy of this magazine will be sent to any address on application to the head offices, 18 to 26 Stepney Causeway, London, E. Mr. Owen Seaman, Editor of Punch, discourses in its pages on "The Social Aspects of Child Saving," and urges strongly the claims of the Homes upon his fellow citizens, and there are many other interesting features. To feed the children alone costs £240 a day, and this is the "dead season" for the Homes.

The business of the "Salada" Tea Co. goes on increasing in the most wonderful way. A year never passes but at least 135,000 people are added to the consumers of that delicious tea. 60

Peterborough Volunteer Fire Brigade Passes Into History At Midnight On Tuesday Next

Was Organized In 1881 With a Membership of Sixty—Has Been Cut Down Considerably Since Then.

IT HAS DONE GOOD WORK

On Tuesday night next the Peterborough Volunteer Fire Brigade will have passed into history, after a long and glorious career of many years' service on behalf of the city. It is not likely that any of the brigade will join the re-organized fire forces and fight the flames as a profession rather than as a duty. Most of the members have been engaged in the warfare for a goodly number of years, and are ready to drop out, although they would have remained had it not been for the change in the brigade.

The brigade as it is now was organized in 1881 with a membership of about thirty with Chief Rutherford, who had been a fireman for many years before, as chief. He was called upon by the council to reorganize the brigade from the two companies which had previously existed, and decided to out down the strength to thirty. Since that time the vacancies which have occurred have not been filled, and the present strength is seventeen men.

The brigade has done great work in fighting the flames. They have been called upon to do battle with many bad-looking fires and have generally proved themselves to be masters of the situation.

The volunteers give up their duties at midnight on Tuesday night, and will celebrate the end of the organization with a picnic at Idyl Wyld on the following Monday.

The White Rose And The Red Abloom On The Same Stem

"A rose by any other name will smell as sweet" is an old adage oft repeated, and with a great deal of truth. But when the statement is made that white and red roses grow on the same bush and almost from the same stem, most people will begin to doubt. They come from Missouri and have to be shown.

Nevertheless, yesterday afternoon a branch of rose bush containing three roses—one white and the others red—was shown to the Examiner. They were plucked from a bush on the grave of the late Mr. Goodfellow, in Little Lake Cemetery, and are a curiosity in the botanical world.

A companion freak of nature consists of a twin flower of the oxeye daisy, plucked the other day by another flower, a charming young Gilmour street lady. Two half segments of the flower are united in one in the middle, forming two in one.

ENJOYABLE OUTING UP THE LAKES

Murray Street Baptist Sunday School Had Pleasant Day

The Murray street Baptist Sunday school excursion was held yesterday and the large crowd that enjoyed the trip was favoured with ideal weather. The steamer Stoney Lake took the party from Lakefield to Sandy Point for dinner, to Eel's creek and Burley for tea. Capt. Scollard and his crew won the respect of the passengers by their very obliging efforts to please. The return trip was made in good time and everybody was pleased.

REGIMENTAL PARADES DISCONTINUED

Organization and Efficiency of Companies to be Maintained

The following orders have been issued from headquarters of the 57th Regiment, by the O. C.:

1. The regular Tuesday night regimental parades are discontinued until further orders, but officers commanding companies will arrange such parades of their respective companies as will maintain their organization and efficiency until after the annual trip.

2. The ranges in the drill hall will be kept open so as to give those members of the regiment who have not as yet done so, an opportunity to qualify for efficiency pay.

3. Company pay sheets, efficiency pay sheets, service rolls and target returns must be completed and handed in to the Regimental Paymaster on or before July 11th next.

By order,
G. W. Bennett, Major,
Acting Adjutant.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON QUESTIONS

The suggestive questions on the Sunday School lesson for Sunday, June 28th, 1908, by Rev. Dr. Linscott, are as follows :—

Temperance Lesson, —Eph. v 1 6-20.

Golden Text—Be not drunk with wine wherein is excess: but be filled with the Spirit. Eph. v 18,

Verse 6—What is it that has stamped some things as always and necessarily evul, and other things as good?

Read the five preceding verses and say why thee things mentioned are vices and are always condemned in the Bible.

Why, for example, are lying, stealing, covetousness, evil speaking, laziness, drunkenness, gluttony, and kindred things always wrong?

In what way does "the wrath of God" come upon immoral persons?

Verses 7-10—Is it wise or right for any person to experiment with, or try to prove for himself by experience, what the results are of the actions which the Bible and the wisdo mof the ages have declared to be harmful?

Are there some things which we have to experiment with in order to learn their effects; that is "proving what is acceptable to the Lord?"

Is every act that wroks out "goodness and righteousness and truth," a fruit of the Spirit, whether ornot it is in harmony with the strict letter of the law?

Can a person retain the favour of God, if he cnotinues to do do that which either hurts himself or his neighbour, whether it is within the letter of the law, or not?

Verses 11-12—What should be the attitude of every good man to the liquor traffic and kindred evils? This question is to be anaswered in writing by members of the club.

What are the effects, upon the mind and life, of thinking, reading, or talking about impure or revolting actions?

Verse 13—What is the light which makes manifest the secret bad deeds of men?

Is it possible for men to pose as good men, while they are secretly bad, and not be finally found out?

What is the "light" which makes manifest the evils of the liquor habit?

Verse 14—In what respect may evil doing be compared to sleeping?

Will a wide-awake wise man do wrong, that is, that which he knows necessarily injures himself?

What is the nature of the light which Christ gives all true Christians, and all penitent sinners?

Verses 15-17—Does sin differ from insanity, and if so, in what respect?

Are the days more evil now than they ever have been in the past?

By what method may we always know what "the will of the Lord" is?

Verse 18—What comparison is there between being "drunk with wine" and being "filled with the spirit"?

An inebriate craves the drink and is under its control; may, and should every Christian crave God, and be under his control?

Verses 19-20 — Can a person be a Christian who is not glad and rejoicing?

What are the benefits to ourselves, and others of showing our joy by cheerful words and song?

Is there any event in the life of a Christian for which he ought not to be thankful?

Lesson for Sunday, July 5th, 1908, Israel Asks for a King, 1 Samuel viii : 1-22.

Correspondent Reports Labour Conditions Dull

Inactivity During May---Eight Hour Day of Bricklayers and Masons---Cheese Factory Operations ---Railroad Construction

The Labour Gazette in its last issue contains the following report of labour in Peterborough during the month of May by the Government corresponding Ald. W J Johnston.

Labour conditions were very dull for the season. While there was some outside work being done on large public buildings unfinished last year and a few residences, there were a number who were unable to secure work of any kind. The municipality commenced improvement work and gave employment to a number of men. The condition of affairs in a number of factories, especially in the iron trades is not encouraging. Moulders and pattern makers with a few exceptions were idle, something that has not happened here for years. Seventy-two building permits have been issued this year to date, amounting to the value of $55,140. The number of building permits taken out to the 31st of May last year were 137, of value $533,460. The painters are the busiest of the tradesmen just now. Some masons and carpenters were actively employed for a short time. Activity in outside work will depend very much upon the extent of building undertaken, which is not very promising at present. A few stonecutters are employed at the armouries and the new Catholic church Tourist traffic is becoming busy and considerable freight is being hauled by boats. The large lift lock here is now open and already a number of vessels have passed through. The several canoe companies were active shipping a number of boats to outside points. Hicks and Company have received a contract to supply 5,000 barrels of cement and all the sewer pipe the city may require. Brick-yards were active and brick will be ready in two or three weeks. The price of milk has been reduced from 7 to 6 cents a quart for the summer months. During the summer season 18,000 rat skins were purchased from trappers by Messrs. Lech and Sons; their value was estimated at $7,200. Wholesale and retail trade was very good. Wages were on the decline in some works. Lathers' wages decreased 20 per cent.; labours 10 per cent. The labour market on the whole was generally dull, but with no signs of industrial trouble. The bricklayers and masons adopted the 8-hour system on May 1st, at the same rate of wages as last year, viz., 40 cents per hour. This was in accordance with the law of the International Union. The difference it makes is that all men working journey-work will receive 40 cents per day less. This is the first 8-hour day adopted by any trade in Peterborough.

Local Industries

Agriculture—Seeding was very active throughout the district, but was hampered by excessive rains. Low lands were so covered by water that it was impossible to work them.

Fishing and mining— Dullness was the rule.

Railroad construction and employment—Activity prevails, getting the roadbed in good order for the summer traffic. Painters were employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company painting stations and buildings throughout the district.

Other industries — The Peterborough marchants have decided to adopt the half-day holiday per week during the summer months.

Particular Trades

Inactivity was the rule in the building trades with the exception of painters who were busy and stonecutters who were active. Active conditions prevailed in the metal, engineering, woodworking and furnishing trades, excepting moulders and boilermakers in the former, and wood workers, patternmakers and coopers in the latter who found employment dull. In the printing, clothing, food and tobacco preparation trades, activity generally prevailed, with boot and shoe workers, and ice handlers busy. While the printing trades were fairly active, the tendency was towards slackness. The leather trades were slightly more active in several branches, and the miscellaneous trades and transportation, were fairly actice, with the exception of furriers and theatre employees, who found conditions somewhat dull.

Dullness was general with unskilled labour.

Work Accomplished By Rev. G. W. Henderson In Port Hope

The Port Hope Guide has the following appreciative reference to the work in that town of Rev. G. W. Henderson, the new pastor of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church :

Rev. Geo. W. Henderson, who has been pastor of the Methodist Church here for the past three years, left Thursday to take charge of the Charlotte Street Church, Peterborough.

During his ministry in Port Hope he has been ever faithful in the discharge of every duty, and he has the satisfaction of leaving the church in a most flourishing condition. The pastoral work of the church is particularly heavy. Besides the regular Sunday services there are 516 families to look after, together with the sick and infirm ones, and then our pretty town with its hills and dales is not the easiest to navigate. During Mr. Henderson's pastorate he made somewhere in the neighbourhood of 2,500 pastoral visits, besides giving 525 sermons and addresses. He performed 51 marriages, baptized 68 infants and 59 adults—toital 127, and has laid away in the silent city 91, fifty-four of whom were over 60 years of age, and the average of the ninety-one was 71 years, a great record, and speaks well for the longevity of our citizens and the healthy condition of our town.

The funds of the church have also made a great advance. Three years ago the annual contribution to the Eucational Fund was $65, this year $74.36; the Missionary Fund three years ago was $622, now $801.44; and the Women's Missionary Society this year made the largest contribution in its history. For all purposes during the past three years there was raised in round numbers $18,454.

The membership reported to Conference three years ago was 573, this year 795. During thatt ime 29 members died, 71 removed by letter and 79 ceased their membership, making a total of 179; yet under the blessing of God and the faithful work of pastor and people a net increase of 222 is reported.

The Socialists Have Decided To Hold Open Air Meetings

As an outcome of Mr. Kingsley's visit on Thursday evening, it is stated by Mr. J. Kennedy that a large number of socialists has been unearthed and some propaganda work will be commenced right away. In the course of the next few days open-air meetings will be held on the street corners and good speakers will be here to address them. Mr. Kingsley has promised to pay Peterborough a visit very shortly again. It was impossible for him to hold a meeting at such a late hour, but the organization, through his visit, has now something to work on.

Lightning Kills Three Horses In A Farm Barnyard Recently

Lightning on Wednesday night, during the severe storm, visited the farm of Mr. Robert Shaw, of Cavan, near Millbrook. A man named Gibson is the present tenant and three of his horses were destroyed by an electric shock. Two of them were killed outright and the third died shortly after. They were valuable horseflesh, and a severe loss to their owner, Mr. Gibson. They were standing in the yard during the storm but were the only objects struck.

THE LARGEST TIMEPIECE KNOWN IN THE WORLD

Jersey City, N. J., now has the largest clock in the world, not even excepting the huge clock at Westminster, which sets Big Ben booming and the celebrated great dial in Philadelphia. This time-piece has been construced for the factory of Messrs. Colgate, and was made by Seth Thomas, in Thomaston, Conn. So large is it that it was virtually constructed out of doors. A few facts will perhaps give some idea of this horological monster.

In area it is over 1,134 square feet, as compared with the area of 490 square feet of the Philadelphia clock The dial is 33 feet in diameter, and the minute hand over 13 feet long, weighs a third of a ton. When recently it was transhipped from the clock works it was found necessary to have a special flat car for it. Every minute this hand will travel 23 inches or over a half a mile every day. The weight which moves the hands weighs 2,000 pounds, and the total weight of the monster clock is six tons. Some idea of its size will be gained from the statement that twenty men of average size could stand side by side across the dial.

At night the time is shown by an ingenious method of lighting. Instead of the usual interior illumination, the hands are surrounded with incandescent lamps. A brilliant red light marks each numeral, and an incandescent lamp each minute mark, which are 24 inches apart. By these means the time on the dial can be read night or day from a distance of several miles.

The clock crowns the new soap factory which has recently been completed for Messrs. Colgate on Hudson steet, facing the river and the new harbour, [illegible] building one of the most noted industrial buildings in the world, covering an entire square block. This well known firm has already taken a foregront place in the great business concerns of America. It is now being operated by the five grandsons of the founder. At the recent centenary celebration each person of the large staff received a $5 gold piece for every year of his employment, with the result that the sum thus given amounted to over $50,000.

CHOSEN FRIENDS HOLD ENTERTAINMENT

Pleasant Evening Spent Last Night in S. O. E. Hall

A lyceum entertainment was given by the Chosen Friends last night and was greeted by a good audience in the S. O. E. Hall. The curtains were drawn on the stage about 8.30 o'clock, when music, mirth and song prevailed. The following literary programme was rendered :

Salutatory address by A. Hanna, proving the word "welcome" was superior to the word "critic."

Piano solo—Miss Ada Kemp.

Gramophone selections—Mr. Conway, jr.

Dialogue, "Cold in the Head," in two scenes—Six characters, represented by Misses. E. Marshall, E. Smith, M. Anderson, East City; E. Argue, and Messrs. Pickering and J. Brownlee. This showed some of the captivating secrets of matrimony.

Piano solo—Miss Byers.

Song—Mr. Gordon Wright, with Miss M. Edwards, pianiste, as accompaniste.

Violin and piano duet — Mr. W. Lesder and Miss Alice Elliott.

God Save the King.

THE WESTERN LAND BILL DISCUSSED

House Spends Almost All Day on the Measure.

NEW AND OLD SETTLERS

Opposition Claim Pioneers Are Discriminated Against—In Former Bill They Objected That New Settlers Were Getting Worst of It—Areas For Pre-emption May Be Enlarged — School Lands.

Ottawa, June 27.—The attention of the House was almost exclusively devoted yesterday to consideration in committee of the western land bill, which embodies 102 clauses. It was tedious work, and the attendance of members was small. One feature which served to throw an amusing sidelight on the methods of the Opposition during the past few years, were the suggestions from gentlemen to the left of the Speaker that the bill was a discrimination in favor of new as against old settlers. Last year's bill, which was more favorable to the old settlers than the present measure, was opposed because of that.

Mr. Jackson (Selkirk) suggested that the area available for pre-emption should be enlarged, so as to include part of Manitoba between Lake Manitoba and Lake Winnipeg, and as far north as Saskatchewan river.

Mr. Roche (Marquette) thought that if the area was to be enlarged it should include Keewatin.

Hon. Frank Oliver said he was strongly in favor of including the territories suggested, and was willing that the clauses delimiting the boundaries of the pre-emption area should stand for further consideration.

After the evening recess discussion of the Dominion lands bill was resumed.

Mr. Herron complained that the terms offered to the old settlers, the pioneers, were not so favorable as those given to the purchaser of a pre-emption.

Hon. Mr. Foster earlier in the day had taken the same grounds.

Hon. Frank Oliver pointed out that when last year's bill was under consideration members on the Opposition side objected because they thought the old settlers were getting an undue advantage.

Mr. Fowler raised the question of school lands, the proceeds of which, he contended, should not be retained by the Dominion Government.

Mr. Borden thought the school lands should be handed over to the control of the Provincial Governments.

Mr. Jackson (Selkirk) expressed himself as in accordance with the view of the leader of the Opposition, but pointed out that the policy of retaining school lands was a legacy of the Conservative Government.

Hon. Mr. Oliver presented an amendment, which will be considered when the bill is again taken up on Monday, and which extends the pre-emption area east, west and north to an estimated extent of between three and four million acres.

The House adjourned at 11.25

SITUATION IN TEHERAN.

Special Measures Taken to Ensure Safety of Europeans.

Paris, June 27.—A special despatch received from Teheran states that in the two days' fighting in that city 154 soldiers and 300 Nationalists were killed and wounded.

In an interview the Shah's private secretary stated that the Shah regretted the trouble and blamed the populace who threw bombs and fired upon the soldiers. He will take special measures to stop the plundering.

A proclamation has been issued arranging for the elections to be held within three months, and urging the people to choose capable deputies. Meanwhile the Shah guarantees the safety of the property of all peaceful residents, even that of those persons now under arrest. The anjumans—the political clubs—are forbidden to meet.

The Cossacks continue to hold the city, but the other troops are encamped outside.

Tally-Ho Capsized.

Newport, R.I., June 27.—Two women delegates to the Federation of Woman's Clubs convention in Boston, were dangerously hurt and ten others more or less seriously injured here yesterday when a tally-ho coach in which they were riding capsized yesterday on a steep hill on Bath road

THREE YOUNG GIRLS DROWN

Thrown Out of Scow at Head of Golden Lake.

HEAVY LIST OF FATALITIES

Man Meets Death In Two Inches of Water at Lincoln Paper Mill—Accidents at Fort William, Pierson, Man., and Pearce, Alberta—Boy Dies Trying to Save His Comrade From a Watery Grave.

Eganville, June 27.—One of the most melancholy tragedies in the history of Bonnechere occurred about a mile above the head of Golden Lake, when three daughters of John Jeffrey lost their lives by drowning while crossing the stream. The girls were Effie, aged 17; Jessie, aged 9, and Mary, aged 7. They had spent the afternoon visiting Mrs. Jeffrey's mother, Mrs. William Thomas, and were returning home in the evening. Mrs. John Thomas had taken the mother and little son across and was making the second trip when the fatality occurred. She used an old scow about five feet wide, which they kept for the purpose, and when about midstream one of the sides gave way, letting in the water, and the craft went down at one side, precipitating all four into the river. Mrs. Thomas managed to cling to the scow.

Sad Drowning Fatality.

St. Catharines, June 27.—A drowning accident occurred at Upper Lincoln Paper Mill, Merriton, at noon, when Darby Dockery, one of the village's oldest men, supposed to have had a weak spell while at work and to have fallen on his face in about two inches of water, which was on the floor. He was discovered by some employes of the mill who sent for Dr. Vanderburg, but life was extinct.

Coroner Jory was called, but held that an inquest was unnecessary, as the man evidently died of heart failure. Mr. Dockery was an employe of the mill for many years.

Two Boys Drown.

Montreal, June 27.—In 15 feet of water and not 20 feet from the shore, two youths were last evening drowned opposite Maisonneuve. The victims were Albert Trudeau of 928 St. Catherine street and Paul Drolet of 58 Lateurneux avenue, both 17 years of age. With a third boy they had been playing in an old boat, which suddenly upset. Trudeau lost his life trying to save Drolet, who could not swim.

Bridge Worker Drowns.

Fort William, June 27.—William McRae, who was working on the Grand Trunk Pacific bridge at West Fort William, fell off the bridge yesterday and was drowned. He was unmarried.

Farmer Found Drowned.

Pierson, Man., June 27.—Thomas Bright, a bachelor farmer, who has lived here for twenty-five years, was found drowned in a pond near his home Thursday night.

Brakeman Saved Train.

Paris, Ill., June 27.—Mangled beneath the wheels of the Knickerbocker Special, Lawence Friend, aged 23 years, a brakeman, gave his life in preventing the fast Big Four passenger train from crashing into a row of freight cars head-on and the loss of scores of lives that might have followed the collision.

Friend was working on a freight train which was blocking the line when the passenger train came along at 40 miles an hour. The brakeman ran to a switch and turned it just in time to throw the passenger train on a side track, but not quickly enough to avoid being struck down.

Train Smash In India.

Bombay, India, June 27.—In a collision between an express and freight train on the Bombay & Baroda Railway, near Baroda, yesterday, a number of persons were killed.

It will be impossible to estimate the loss of life until the wreckage has been cleared away.

Four passenger coaches and four mail cars of the express train, and four cars of the freight, were burned.

Hurled From Train.

Chatham, June 27. Hurled from the top of a freight train going forty miles an hour, Brakeman L. P. Davis of St. Thomas was seriously, and perhaps fatally injured at Stephenson, a little place on the Pere Marquette Railway, a short distance from here yesterday morning.

Dies of His Injuries.

Winnipeg, June 27.—After suffering intense pain from a broken arm and collarbone and severe internal injuries, John Peissner died at the General Hospital yesterday. He was knocked down and run over by a heavily laden wagon Thursday.

Boy Swallows Hook and Dies.

St. John, N. B., June 27.—The little son of Hugh B. Pike, St. Stephen, swallowed a small metal hook used by his mother in fastening her dress. He died in great agony, the hook having caught in glands at the base of the throat.

Government Pensions.

London, June 27.—The list of pensions granted by the Government in the past year for services to science and literature includes $1,250 yearly to Prof. Edwin Ray Lankester, director of the Natural History Museum, and $250 yearly to Paul Fountain, an American traveler and writer, the latter "in consideration of his contributions to literature and his strained circumstances."

New Diamond Field.

Berlin, June 27.—A despatch received here from Windhoek, Damaraland, German Southwest Africa, says that a diamond field, the extent of which is nearly ten square miles, had been discovered at Luderitz Bay.

Muzzles For Dogs.

Paris, Ont., June 27.—Owing to a "mad-dog" scare, Mayor Patterson has issued a proclamation calling for all dogs to be muzzled or chained for two months.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

AUTO ACCIDENTLY RUNS INTO RIVER

Plunges Over Bank Sixty Feet Deep at Niagara.

CHAUFFEUR HAD CLOSE CALL

Ladies Also Narrowly Escaped—Dragoon Victim of Accidental Shooting—Blows Hole In Leg With Blank Cartridge — Instruction Camp Closes—Troops Are Leaving—Review Was Huge Success.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 27.—Just as the party of ladies were about to get into it the motor car of Parks Commissioner W. L. Doran of Niagara Falls, Ont., shot ahead through a stout railing over the escarpment in front of the Queen's Royal Hotel yesterday afternoon and plunged into Niagara river with the chauffeur in it.

By miracle, Driver Thomas Small came out of the water unhurt and the only damage done the machine was a break in the front axle. The bank is 60 feet deep.

The party were going to see the military review and Mr. Doran ordered his man to move ahead about six feet. Something went wrong.

A message was sent to the camp and a company of army engineers were ordered from the review to haul out the wreck. A second message to the effect that the local life-saving crew had hauled the car ashore stopped them. Last evening the army engineers went down and hauled it to the top of the bank. It can be easily repaired and will be running Monday.

Niagara Camp, June 27.—A trooper of the 2nd Dragoons shot a hole almost through his right leg just above the knee with a blank cartridge yesterday morning, and lies in No. 11 field ambulance hospital. Some fear that tetanus may result has been expressed. The whole charge of powder and wads was driven into his limb in dangerous proximity to the femoral artery, and a hole was made about an inch in diameter. The surgeon's probe located the wads just under the skin on the outside of the leg. It penetrated from the inside. He had been handling his rifle with the chamber open and thrust the bolt home rather sharply exploding the shell.

C. Co. of the 12th York Rangers lead the whole camp in the active service challenge cup competition for high scores at the butts. This competition extends over the four military districts of Ontario. Last year this company won the trophy.

The next in order of merit at this camp are A., B., and H. companies of the 35th Regiment.

The 23rd Parry Sound Regiment, two companies of the 31st Grey and sections of the Field Ambulance Corps, the Army Service Corps and the Royal Canadian Dragoons have already left camp for home.

Things that looked impossible two weeks ago have been accomplished in Niagara during the ten days' drill, which was brought to a brilliant conclusion with a review of all corps by Gen. Cotton yesterday afternoon.

Butcher Fights Bull.

Chatham, June 27.—W. J. Easton, a local butcher, had a thrilling experience with an enraged bull on the farm of Mr. Rush, Chatham Township. While driving up the lane, the bull, which never before showed any signs of viciousness, charged him, goring his horse and demolishing his buggy. Easton was thrown to the ground, but he quickly got to his feet, and grasping a fence rail in both hands belabored the bull about the head till he drove it away.

Revolution In Mexico?

Laredo, Texas, June 27.—Two hundred armed mounted men yesterday attacked and captured the town of Viesca, State of Coahuila, Mexico. Three persons were killed and several wounded in the fighting.

Telegraph wires were cut and the railroad lines torn up and a bridge burned.

Three train loads of troops left the City of Mexico last night for the scene.

One-Armed Man Swims Rapids.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., June 27.—With nothing to protect him but a cork life preserver, George Powell, a one-armed Buffalo man, yesterday afternoon swam through the Devil's Hole Rapids, and on to Lewiston. He covered the two and one-half miles in thirty-five minutes.

This is a feat which has been performed only twice before.

Aged Lady Injured.

Chatham, June 27.—Mrs. Thomas Somerville, aged 80 years, and a resident of Chatham nearly all her life, was probably fatally injured at her home Thursday night. She was standing looking out through a screen door, when the door gave way and she fell down the steps of her residence. Her hip was badly fractured and she was injured internally.

"Bobs" Coming to Quebec.

Quebec, June 27.—Lord Roberts, the hero of the Boer War, is coming to Quebec for the tercentenary festivities. A cable to this effect has been received.

Col. Sherwood, chief of the Dominion Police, with a staff, will occupy quarters on the citadel during the tercentenary celebration.

Prefers Death to Prison.

Winnipeg, June 27.—Wesyl Andrecsuk, a Galician, was this morning sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment for manslaughter. He made a dramatic appeal to the court to order his hanging, saying he preferred it to imprisonment.

Hearst Recount Ends.

New York, June 27.—W. R. Hearst made a net gain of six votes in the recent recount of the ballots cast in Richmond County, according to a return made to the court in the mayoralty contest yesterday. Mayor McClellan's plurality with the recount practically complete is 2,965. The count of the election inspectors gave him 3,334.

Caught After Two Years.

Belleville, June 27.—Two years ago a warrant was issued for the arrest of Frank Lapalm of this city, charged with stealing $10 from David Gerow. Before he could be arrested he skipped to Rochester. He returned and the police nabbed him. He was remanded for a week.

Smallpox In Kent.

Chatham, June 27.—A slight outbreak of smallpox has occurred in Harwich Township a few miles from the town of Blenheim. A number of families have been affected for some time, and the fact has at last been drawn to the attention of the authorities.

Eleven Mexicans Arrested.

El Paso, Texas, June 27.—Eleven Mexicans were arrested here, charged with fomenting a revolution against a friendly power on American soil.

A search of the building revealed two cases containing rifles and revolvers, and also 1,000 rounds of ammunition.

$750,000 Fire For Duluth.

Duluth, Minn., June 27.—Property loss of $750,000 may be entailed by fire which is raging among the Consolidated Elevator Co.'s group of four elevators along the waterfront.

UNITED STATES PULP WOOD REPORT

Rapid Growth of Paper Making in Last Decade—Nearly 4,000,000 Cords of Wood Used

BIG QUANTITY OF SPRUCE

Washington, June 27.—A preliminary report of the consumption of pulpwood and the amount of pulp manufactured last year has just been issued by the United States Bureau of the Census. The advance statement is made from the statistics collected by the Census Bureau in cooperation with the United States Forest Service.

Many of the figures bring out interesting facts which show the rapid growth of the paper-making and allied industries during the last decade. Nearly four million cords of wood, in exact numbers, 3,962,660 cords, were used in the United States in the manufacture of paper pulp last year, just twice as much as was used in 1899, the first year for which detailed figures were available. More than two and one-half million tons of pulp were produced. The pulp mills used 300,000 more cords of wood in 1907 than in the previous year.

The amount of spruce used was 68 per cent. of the total consumption of pulpwood, or 2,700,000 cords. The increased price of spruce has turned the attention of paper manufacturers to a number of other woods, hemlock ranking next, with 570,000 cords, or 14 per cent. of the total consumption. More than nine per cent. was poplar, and the remainder consisted of relatively small amounts of pine, cottonwood, balsam and other woods.

There was a marked increase last year in the importation of spruce, which has always been the most popular wood for pulp. For a number of years pulp manufacturers of this country have been heavily importing spruce from Canada, since the available supply of this wood in the north-central and New England States, where most of the pulp mills are located, is not equal to the demand. Figures show that the amount of this valuable pulpwood brought into this country was more than two and one-half times as great in 1907 as in 1899. In 1907 the importations were larger than ever before, being 25 per cent. greater than in 1906. The spruce imports last year amounted to more than one-third of the consumption of spruce pulpwood. Only a slightly greater amount of domestic spruce was used than in 1906.

Large quantities of hemlock were used by the Wisconsin pulp mills, and the report shows that the Beaver State now ranks third in pulp production, New York and Maine ranking first and second, respectively. Poplar has been used for a long time in the manufacture of high grade paper, but the supply of this wood is limited and the consumption of it has not increased rapidly.

Wood pulp is usually made by either one of two general processes, mechanical or chemical. In the mechanical process, the wood, after being cut into suitable sizes and barked, is held against revolving grindstones in a stream of water, and thus reduced to pulp. In the chemical process the barked wood is reduced to chips and cooked in large digesters with chemicals which destroy the cementing material of the fibres and leave practically pure cellulose. This is then washed and screened to render it suitable for paper-making. The chemicals ordinarily used are either bi-sulphite of lime or caustic soda. A little over half of the pulp manufactured last year was made by the mechanical process, the remainder being produced by the soda process. Much of the mechanical pulp, or ground wood, as it is commonly called, is used in the making of newspaper. It is never used alone in making white paper, but always mixed with some sulphite fibre to give the paper strength. A cord of wood ordinarily yields about one ton of mechanical pulp, or about one-half ton of chemical pulp.

WEAK MEN AND WOMEN

The Most Perfect Restorative Known and Invigorating Tonic Vitalizer —Greatest Health-Renewer

Nature's greatest cure for weak, pale men and women is Ferrozone. It is invaluable for run-down, overworked, delicate people, and will restore them to robust health more quickly, at smaller expense, than any other tonic you can select.

We quote the following cases to show what Ferrozone has done for others. In your case it will act just as efficiently:—

FOR BUSINESS MEN
The Experience of a Well-known Lawyer Proves Ferrozone an Ideal Tonic.

Mr. N. W. Burke, a well known lawyer in Meriden, says:—"When I first took Ferrozone I was in a nervous run-down condition, almost sick enough to give up work. I lacked strength, and felt as if I could not get down to work. Ferrozone at once gave me a good appetite, and drove away the nervous, apprehensive feelings that formerly made my life miserable. As I continued the use of Ferrozone I grew stronger, and am glad to say it has brought me back to perfect health. I know that Ferrozone is an excellent tonic for business men and people inclined to a sedentary life. I can recommend it to such."

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN
Nothing Compares With the Nerve-Strengthening Power of Ferrozone.

Mrs E. D. Emmerson, of Contreville, says:—"I am glad to think that there is at least one honest remedy for nervous people. No one can imagine what I suffered with my nerves, and I sometimes wonder at the number of useless prescriptions and medicines I took. But Ferrozone acted differently from all the rest. It built up my system, and gradually the irritability left my nerves, and I got well. Ferrozone cured me by removing the cause of my trouble, and by giving me enough additional strength to overthrow the attack of nervousness. I can recommend Ferrozone strongly."

THOUSANDS ANNUALLY CURED BY FERROZONE

If you want to get well and keep well, by all means use Ferrozone. If you suffer from insomnia, nervousness, debility, loss of appetite, poor digestion, or any other symptom of disordered blood, nothing will tone up and vitalize your system like Ferrozone. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all druggists, or sent safely by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

PASS MARKS' ACT.

Senate Discusses Trade With France and Germany.

Ottawa, June 27.—The Senate passed the Gold and Silver Marks' Act yesterday with amendment allowing in addition to the authorized marks on gold and silver articles "any other mark not calculated to mislead or deceive and not incorporated in any quality mark."

Several other bills were also passed, and the Senate adjourned till next Thursday.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell called the attention of Sir Richard Cartwright in the Senate yesterday to the fact that in answer to a question in the British House the Colonial Secretary said there had been some communications from a foreign country as to the effect of the Franco-Canadian treaty upon trade and one of these communications contained representations as to the prejudicial effect of the Franco-Canadian convention on trade. This had been forwarded to the Canadian Government.

Sir Richard Cartwright said Canada had not yet received any assurance as to the passage of the treaty by the French Senate, and it would be premature to discuss a treaty which might not come into effect.

"I believe there have been some communications received by the Imperial authorities from Germany, and these matters are under consideration at this moment, but I am not in a position to state what action, if any, the Canadian Government may see fit to take about it. The German trade with Canada is afflicted, not merely with a general tariff, but with the special surtax. The Germans have it in their power to get rid of that surtax if they place Canada in position, as to their tariff, which she occupied before they quarreled with us for giving Great Britain a preference."

Sir Mackenzie asked why the French Senate had not passed the treaty. Sir Richard said he feared the French Senate had been afflicted somewhat with the heresy of protection. This might have something to do with it. Sir Mackenzie said the present Government did not appear to have spoken of. He asked if the Government would lay the correspondence on the table. Sir Richard said that there would probably be negotiations with Germany and it would hardly do to make public correspondence during "pour parlers."

Cornwall Canal Disaster.

Ottawa, June 27.—The break in the canal at Cornwall, according to the Minister's statement yesterday morning, is very serious. Not only was the bank washed away, but the basin of the canal is washed out in the shape of a large horseshoe, near the southern bank. Just near this horseshoe was a pier of the Ottawa and New York bridge. It was necessary to build a big dam around this horseshoe. In order to hasten the reopening of navigation, it will be necessary also to remove this pier, or excavate around the north side. This latter course has been adopted. He was afraid to promise when the canal would be open, but two hundred men were now at work, in three shifts of eight hours.

House to Take Holiday.

Ottawa, June 27.—The House will observe Dominion Day, but will make up for that observance by working on the 4th of July. That is the effect of a motion which Sir Wilfrid Laurier has given notice.

Gladstone's Eccentric Attire.

Mr. Gladstone cared little about personal appearance, and had it not been for the loving care of Mrs. Gladstone his dress at times would scarcely have been in keeping with the dignity of his position.

"During one of the Midlothian campaigns," Mr. Lucy in "Memories of Eight Parliaments" informs us, "when he was a guest of Dalmeny he daily wore an ancient, short cut, much frayed cape of the kind Shem, Ham and Japheth might have worn when they took their walks abroad before the flood necessitated the ark. It was compact, of a cheap, shoddy material called, I believe, vicuna. It was in vogue, among other monstrosities of fashion, in early Victorian days. This was probably the only specimen left in the last quarter of the nineteenth century. Even it could not debase or disguise the native majesty of Gladstone's presence."

His Sufferings.

"Your debts don't seem to worry you much."

"That's where you wrong me," answered the genial but impecunious person. "I have a highly sympathetic nature, and I can't begin to tell you how it disturbs me to see my creditors so worried. Sometimes I almost wish they'd keep away!"

Making Trouble Pay.

"What does you do when de wolf howl at de do'?"

"Well, suh," replied Brother Williams, "I mos' ingenrully sets a trap fer de wolf an' sells him ter a circus."

Chambermaid Arrested.

Kingston, June 27.—Mrs. Ellen Perrin, aged 26, was committed for trial for stealing $95 from Herbert Thompson of Arden. Thompson spent the night at the Iroquois Hotel, where Mrs. Perrin is chambermaid. He left his wad in a purse under his pillow and it was stolen. Mrs. Perrin when arrested gave up $103, but denied stealing this amount.

HARRY BURRIDGE GETTING TO BE YOUNGSTOWN'S PINCH HITTER

Harry Burridge, catcher for the Peterborough Midland League team last year, is making good with a vengeance with the Youngstown team of the Ohio and Pennsylvania League. In a recent game he was sent in to bat for another player in the ninth innings, and with a single started a rally which resulted in three runs and a victory for Youngstown. The Vindicator says: "Capt. McAleese chased Geo. Mach from the plate at the start of the ninth. Harry Burridge was called upon to show his stuff in the time of trouble. He responded nobly, taking a hard one to short and digging for first for all he was worth. Harry started the rally with a single."

The Vindicator also says: "Harry Burridge is getting to be the prize pinch hitter and was one of the biggest factors."

MANY PETERBORO' MEN ARE TO TAKE PART IN LINDSAY WALK

Mr. Geo. Stevens, of Peterborough, who is engineering the big walk in the skating rink here on July 1, is in town to-day in connection with the event. He is accompanied by Mr Jas. Stacey, of the I.C.A.C., Toronto, who has decided to enter the contest, and will do his training here.

Mr. Stevens says that the contest is arousing deep interest among the walkers of the Province, and prospects are good for a large entry list. Following are the names of outsiders who have already entered: Tom Slater, Jas. Stacey, Chas. Ashland Stevens (the boy wonder), W. Spencely, J. Spencely, Jas. Guerin, P. G. Towns, P. G. Walker. Slater is looked upon as a "comer" in walking circles; he is of the right build and was in second place in the Peterborough contest when he had to drop out owing to illness. When examined by a physician it was found that the poor fellow was on the brink of utter collapse owing to a severe attack of pneumonia.

Young Stevens and young Guerin will leave Peterborough at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday afternoon next for Lindsay with the intention of establishing a record between the two places. They will be given a start from the Oriental Hotel by representatives of the local papers. They will be met some miles outside of Lindsay by Mr. Stacey, who will pace them over the last stretch of the long journey.—Lindsay Free Press.

THE Y.M.C.A. WON FROM WELLINGTONS

Increased Their Lead Last Night and Won Out by Score of 13-6

The Y.M.C.A. and Wellingtons played the remaining four innings of Monday night's game at the Oval last night. The "Y's" increased their score of 9 by 4 runs, while the Wellington's could add but 1 to theirs, thus making the total score 13 to 6 for the Y.M.C.A. Both teams were greatly weakened by the absence of players and the game was slow and devoid of any features.

The Wellington's score came in the seventh. With one out, Dickie hit for three bases over first and breezed home on Clitheroe's double to left, but the next two were easy outs. The Y.M.C.A. came back in the eighth with 4 runs; 4 errors, a base on balls, a single and a triple being responsible for the damage.

FAILED TO PERFORM THE FEAT

Billy Grant, the Toronto Walker, Broke Down on His Way Back

Billy Grant, the Toronto man who yesterday endeavoured to lower Reynolds' record on the Toronto-Port Hope walk, and return, quit this morning about a mile west of Newcastle. Grant left Toronto on Thursday morning, at 8 o'clock, arriving here at 11.30, and went direct to the Ontario House. He was attired in a light undershirt and bathing trunks, and immediately upon his arrival here his trainers gave him a cold bath. He remained about an hour, and his gait up the Walton street hill was sufficient proof that he would never finish the undertaking. Port Hope's 57-year-old barber is too much for most of them, and his time of 36 hours and 18 minutes will hold good for many a day.—Port Hope Guide.

STEVENS STARTS ON LONG TRAMP TO-DAY

Charlie Stevens hiked away from the Oriental at 2.30 this afternoon on a long tramp to Lindsay. He was togged in a light walking suit and looked fit and well. He expects to do the trip in 5 1-2 hours. A large crowd saw him leave.

Miss M. King Gives Graphic Account of Missionary Work in China—Address at Knox Church Last Night—A Large Congregation

THE CITY OF YANG CHOW

The great need of increased activity in the foreign mission field and particularly in China has probably never been more strongly advocated in this city than by the simple facts as cited by Miss Marguerite King at Knox church last night. There was a large congregation present and the interesting account of Chinese life and the difficulties of the missionary work proved all too brief. Miss King spent eleven years in China and the fact she emphasizes most is that more helpers are required to do the work. The country is open to the missionaries, there is in fact an open door to them but the work is so vast, there are so many heathens in the countless cities, towns and country places that to prove successful there should be more missionaries sent into the country and the assistance from home should be more generous.

Condition of Yang Chow

The first reason Miss King advanced for giving the Gospel of Christ to the Chinese is because of their great need of it. In the city of Yang Chow she said there are 600,000 persons. There is no doctor in this large city; no one even to extract a tooth. The insane, the deaf and dumb, the blind among the poor are uncared for and may be seen wandering around the narrow streets, a most pitiful sight. Outside the walls of this city there are villages and market towns to the number of fifty in that province and when Miss King first went there, not one witness for Christ was found. It is impossible to get into the homes of the rich but a slight knowledge of medicine on one occasion secured for Miss King the longed for open sesame. One night, after being there about 10 months a woman in one of officials' houses had attempted suicide by cutting her throat. Now, it is contrary to the national custom of the Chinese to mutilate their bodies, and even a person condemned to be beheaded, will, if he has the means, employ some one to sew his head on after death, and the head is literally sewed on to the body. Accordingly there was great excitement in the city when this woman had gashed her throat. Miss King was the only one who knew anything of medicine and she was called to the official's house. She did not explain in her address how she performed the operation, but suffice to say the woman lived. This was God's answer, Miss King said, to her prayers for she received many invitations into the homes of the rich and thus could communicate to them the message of God.

Many Women in Homes

In many houses there are from 60 to 70 women and thus the extent of the work to be done may be partially imagined. One has to be invited before going to one of the homes of the rich. If they want to visit them they will send their sedan chair. Miss King described how she was treated in these homes. The women had never seen a foreigner before. She was of course dressed in Chinese garments and after having tea, and answering many questions personal and otherwise, the women began to feel that the visitor was not "so much a foreign devil after all." Finally they would ask her reason of going to China and Miss King would then get all the women of the house around her and tell them of God. The idea of God loving them is foreign to the Chinese as their deities are looked upon in a very different manner. Thus she would try to teach them to say the name of Jesus and taught them calculations. Miss King says that it is one of the greatest feelings to hear a heathen repeating the name of Jesus for the first time.

Chased by Dogs

Outside the cities there are countless graves, the Chinese placing the coffin on the ground and putting the earth over it, resulting in the mounds being plain visible on all sides. In some villages where Miss King and her party visited the people would go in doors and lock the houses refusing to see them; at the next they would probably be treated differently and would be set upon by the dogs of the place. At the next village, however, they would be treated with kindness and at these places they would stop to teach the people.

Miss King said that the Chinese have a fear of foreigners and mothers would hide their children behind them so that the shadows of the strangers would not fall on them.

Many Suicides

Concluding her address, Miss King said there were many suicides in China. During her stay there were on an average two a week. She always slept with stomach pump and appliances on a table by her bed for emergency calls. She spoke of the opium evil and related an instance where through the opium habit a wealthy husband had sank into abject poverty and as a last resource sold his wife to prepare herself and child for the slave market. That night both took opium and later died, but the mother, before her death told Miss King the reason of the double suicide.

Before closing her address the speaker asked the congregation to think carefully of the call from China and to remember the duty we have in extending to the heathen the same advantages—the Gospel of Christ—which we enjoy.

COMPOSITE COMPANY FROM 57th REGIMENT IS TO GO TO QUEBEC

One composite company from the 57th Regiment will take part in the Tercentenary celebration at Quebec, and will stand from five to eight days in the east. The local company will be forty-three strong and will be composed of four men from each company, with one captain, two subalterns, four sergeants, one man from the stretcher bearers' corps and from the signal corps, and two men from the Bugle Band. The following regimental orders have been issued to-day:

Headquarters, Peterborough, June 29th, 1908.

Regimental orders by the Officer Commanding the 57th Regiment Peterborough Rangers.

1. Extract from "Militia Order," No. 134, of June 12th, 1908:

"Provisional Lieutenant J. H. Eastwood, 57th Regiment, is detailed to attend a medical course of instruction at Kingston Camp," which commences Aug. 31st prox.

2. "Quebec Tercentenary Celebration." Extract from "Command order E. O. C., No. 43, of June 15th, 1908. "One company of forty-three, all ranks, is detailed from the 57th Regiment to attend the above celebration. The date of arrival in Quebec will be July 20th prox., and the troops may be required to remain there for a period ranging from five to eight days. Transport, rations and quarters (tents and blankets) only will be provided.

3. In accordance with the above command order one composite company from the 57th Regiment will attend the Quebec Tercentenary celebration and is detailed as follows:

Captain	1
Subalterns	2
Sergeants (to be selected later)	4
Signal Corps	1
Stretcher Bearer section	1
Bugle Band	2
Each company 4	32
Total	43

The officer to command the company will be the captain available, according to the regimental seniority list. The subalterns (2) will be selected in like manner.

4. Officers commanding companies will parade their respective companies three times during the months of July and August for the purpose of performing company drill.

5. The composite company will parade on Friday, the third inst., at 8 p. m. sharp in the Armouries.

G. W. Bennett, Major,
Acting Adjutant.

HE MAY LOSE BOTH HIS LEGS

One Already Amputated in Accident in Midland Yards

Mr. Frank King, G. T. R. brakeman, of Lindsay, but formerly messenger boy on the Peterborough-Belleville line, met with an accident in the Midland yards on Friday, resulting in the loss of one leg. He was at work at the time and was riding on a car, clinging to one of the bars and with his foot on the brake beam.

The wheels passed over both legs, one having to be amputated and the other may be saved. Had the accident occurred a week later Mr. King would have received $1,350, it is said, as he was about to be received into a protective society.

REGIMENT MAY GO TO KINGSTON

Officers Are Discussing Such a Trip For First Week in September

There is a possibility that the 57th Regiment will go into camp at Kingston Labour Day of this year. The officers have been discussing such a trip and it is altogether likely that it will be undertaken. The whole regiment will go to Kingston if the plan is carried out and the outing will no doubt prove a most enjoyable one.

WORK FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

Many of the streets of the city and nearly every vacant lot are overrun with noxious weeds. The spread of weeds, such as burdock, thistle, dandelion, oxeye daisy, wild oats, etc., became so alarming some years ago that the Provincial Legislature enacted a law in the endeavour to remove or minimize the evil, and it as provided that municipalities may appoint inspectors to see that the law is enforced. That it is not enforced is evident to anyone moving about the city or driving along the roads in the country districts. If systematic and business-like means were employed to destroy and check the growth of noxious weeds in the townships, better crops could be obtained. Sending out a man with a scythe once or twice a month in the season does not meet the case, nor fulfil the requirements of the law. If this work were being competently looked after in Peterborough, something worth while might be accomplished—the owners of vacant property would find a field for the employment of some of those out of work. Drastic legislation for securing the destruction of noxious weeds has been placed on the statute books of Manitoba. If the Ontario law were properly observed and enforced, much land that is now practically useless might be made to produce valuable crops, and those whose premises adjoin vacant lots would not have their property injured by those who ignore the requirements of the law in respect of their own property. The Mayor and Council have a duty to perform in connection with noxious weeds growing upon many lands and on the streets, and they should perform that duty.

GREEN CHEESE.

The sharp demand in the market, tempts the cheese producers to sell cheese on the green side. This is simply killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. Britain is our chief cheese market. It knows what it wants and it must get it, it not in one quarter then in another. Canadian cheese has a good name and in the interests of the industry that name must be lived up to. This will not be done by shipping green cheese. With the facilities for curing and cold storage that all well equipped factories now possess, it seems strange that producers or their salesmen will continue to ship curd or green cheese and this too in the face of the repeated warnings fo our Dairy Commissioners. At the present stage of the market this year, it is now known to be a fact that the salesmen who have allowed their cheese to be shipped in a green state have been the losers. Ten days, the time asked for maturing of cheese before shipment, is not a long time to wait, and when this wait might result in a profit of 10 or 15 per cent. to the producers, surely the time is not lost. And this gain is not all; there is the further advantage of our cheese reaching the British market in a first class condition, and thus increasing the demand and maintaining the reputation—and the price.

TAKE IT MANFULLY.

According to an Ottawa dispatch there is a "human desire" on both sides of the House to bring the session to a close in order to relieve members from attending during the hot weather. Why, if their duty calls for the presence of the people's representatives at Ottawa, should they be made the subjects of special sympathy? The people they represent, in the mass, have to do their work in hot weather and under far more uncomfortable surroundings than the members of parliament. If they assume to represent the people, they should not, if circumstances demand it, shirk the discomforts attendant upon the discharge of their duty in a representative capacity. If a member of parliament cannot stand staying in a spacious chamber, cooled with electric fans, with daintily upholstered seats to sleep in —this applies to the bulk of the members—how can he expect the the people he represents to toil in the fields under the broiling sun, in stuffy offices in hot buildings and under a thousand other uncomfortable conditions? He should be patriotic enough to take the bitter with the sweet.

Boy's Sentence Is Suspended.

Belleville, June 29.—John Hamilton, the boy who was charged with attempting to set fire to the separate school in this city, was found guilty, and the magistrate remanded him in the custody of his parents, they to produce him inside of a year if called on for sentence.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Mr. Armstrong, M. P., of Lambton, says the Hamilton Times, one of the leaders of the hoodlumism of the Parliamentary session, declared from his seat among the back-benchers the other day that "as the Opposition intended to keep Parliament sitting all summer, the time might as well be occupied talking about Indians as anything else." And so he went on to talk for three hours on matters as relevant to the business of Parliament as the canals in Paris. "Indians" — parliamentary Indians like Armstrong—have cost Canada a pretty penny this session.

The Victoria Colonist, which was forced to denounce Major Hodgins as guilty of stating to it his charges and subsequently accusing it of misrepresenting him in giving them to the public, still shows an eagerness to make party capital out of them. Its bias is shown by its declaration that the collapse of Hodgins' charges should not have ended the inquiry. Notwithstanding this, it has no good word for Hodgins, but declares: "So far as Major Hodgins is concerned, he drops out of the transaction without anything that can be called laurels coming to him." But when a dog is as dead as the Major's charges, isn't it well to bury it?

A peculiar case, involving the rights and duties of public carriers and the bearing of prohibition upon them, has arisen in Virginia lately, owing to the refusal of the Southern Express Company to handle liquor consigned to parties in "dry" towns on the line of the Norfolk & Western Railway. On appeal to the State Corporation Commission, it was held that the ordinances of the local option localities could not bind the public carriers, and that the express company, under the general law, is required to transport liquor legally sold to customers in such towns. The express company is commanded to accept from licensed retail dealers all intoxicating liquors lawfully sold and to transport them to "dry" towns and deliver them to the consignees.

And now, remarks the Hamilton Review, those Yankee papers that should not come into Canada, but do, will inundate us with pictures of Taft, Taft, Taft, Taft. What do we care about Taft, be he the big Taft or the little Taft, or what Taft said when he was a little boy, or who Taft married, or how many children he had by his first wife, or what his unmarried old maid sister looks like? Canadians should have enough spirit to cut out this lace worship of Americans. One thing about Bryan, he does not bother us much. How much has the fool "Teddy Bear" craze cost this country—in money we mean, not in the idea that it conveys to the baby mind? The Daughters of the Empire should see that this thing is cut out, or we will have in a few weeks the little Daughters of the Empire playing with baby elephants instead of with wholesome dolls. The elephant is the Republican emblem we believe, and what more eloquent and appropriate to represent the elephantine Taft? Mothers should not bring their children up as worshippers of wild beasts.

FUNERAL OF MR. JAS. M'DONOUGH YESTERDAY

T.A.S. March in a Body—Remains Laid to Rest

The funeral of Mr. James McDonough was held yesterday afternoon from his late residence at 215 Park street to St. Peter's Church and St. Peter's Cemetery. The T. A. S., of which Mr. McDonough was a member, marched in a body to pay a last tribute to the memory of the deceased. Rev. Father Kelly officiated. The pall bearers were, Messrs. John Callahan, John Murry, John Kelly, Patrick Lavery, Michael Nearey, Patrick Gorham.

SEVERAL CORDS OF WOOD ON FIRE

Above the Warsaw Road Bridge Over Canal—Saved in Time

Mr. Samuel Edwards, caretaker of the canal bridge on the Warsaw road, was responsible for the saving from fire of some twelve or fifteen cords of wood belonging to the Curtis Bros. this afternoon about 12.30 o'clock. Sparks from the steamer "Dawn" as it was passing down the canal are said to have been the cause of the blaze. Mr. Edwards, with some assistance, secured pails and soon extinguished it.

ADDRESS ON THE HOLY CITY

Mr. T. F. Matthews Spoke at Murray Street Sunday School Yesterday

At the Murray street Baptist Sunday school yesterday afternoon Mr. T. F. Matthews gave a most interesting address on Jerusalem and its environments, his remarks being listened to with close attention by the school. Mr. Matthews has recently returned from a trip, the itinerary of which included a sojourn in the Holy Land, and he is therefore able to speak with authority on the subject. The address was profitable and instructive.

DARING PRISONER ESCAPES.

Coolly Walks Out of Brampton Jail In Striped Suit.

Brampton, June 29.—Low Lawrence has escaped from the Peel County jail, and he only had a few days to remain until his six months' term would have expired. He was locked up for burglaring the railway station at East Caledon last fall. It is believed the man ran away to evade another prosecution in West Toronto for theft of a $180 seal coat.

Lawrence has an interesting record. He is the same man who escaped from Kingston penitentiary a few years ago by scaling the high wall and swimming the bay in cold November weather. On that occasion he led the detectives a merry chase across the continent, getting as far as the Vancouver coast and back to Ontario.

After breaking into the East Caledon depot last fall, he was arrested by Detective John Miller, then of the Hamilton Police Department and a G.T.R. detective.

At that time Detective Miller recovered the seal coat at Bronte, which was stolen from West Toronto.

Lawrence simply walked away from the Brampton jail with his striped clothes on him. He had been set to sprinkling the lawn. The jailer was wont to allow him considerable latitude on account of his good behavior. He had appeared to be sincere in his declarations that he was going to turn over a new leaf and exercise his abilities, of which he is well stocked, toward making an honest livelihood. While in the jail he busied himself carving ornaments out of bone, wood, fruit stones, etc., and displayed an abundance of skill. It was he who taught John David Tearse, murderer, the art of making watch chains and necklaces from horse-hair.

The escaped man is about 40 years of age, stout, and wears a black moustache. He has spent 20 years of his life in prison.

Killed on Track.

Quebec, June 29.—A man named Malouin, a resident of Chaudiere Curve, met his death Saturday morning at that place by being run over by an intercolonial train. From what could be gathered at present the man was walking along the track and did not heed an approaching train. His body was cut in two.

Pleasure Craft Burned.

Smith's Falls, June 29.—In a fire among the boathouses here Saturday night seven buildings and a large number of canoes and row boats were destroyed. Apprehension for the safety of forty launches stored nearby was for a time intense. There was little or no insurance.

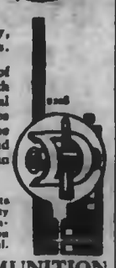
Only the Best

We are our own severest critics. Our experts test every batch of ammunition for accuracy, velocity, penetration and cleanliness.

We test with all makes of arms in competition with ammunition of every rival make. If our tested samples fail to measure up to the others under good and bad conditions, the whole run goes to the scrap heap.



For all makes of arms. Costs only third to one-fifth less than duty paying ammunition. Our guarantee pays all risk on the Dominion Cartridge Co., Ltd., Montreal.

PREACHED FAREWELL SERMON

Rev. H. M. Manning Now Assumes the Pastorship of the New Methodist District in South End

REV. HENDERSON COMING

"And now brethren., I recommend you to God, and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up an inheritance among all them which are sacrificed."

The above words are found in the 32nd verse of the 20th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles and were the words on which Rev. H. M. Manning bore his farewell message to the congregation of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church last evening. Large congregations were present at both, in the morning and evening yesterday, it being the last Sabbath on which Rev. Mr. Manning preached, as pastor of the church. Next Sunday Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Port Hope, the new pastor, will preach for the first time. He will arrive here on Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Manning is to be the first minister in charge of the new Methodist Church, to be built shortly at the corner of Romaine and Aylmer streets, and to be known as St. James' Church. Services will be held there next Sunday, and until the building is finished will be held in a tent. There will be morning and evening services and Sunday School in the afternoon.

The reverend speaker in commencing his sermon stated that there was a spiritual career brofe every child of God. In that career there were many tests, and it was a matter of supreme moment how one could stand them. St. Paul in speaking the words of the text to his brethren knew that there were many oostacles in their way and that they would have to fight against much temptation. So the preacher, in delivering his farewell address, pursued the same course as the Apostle. To those who had Sunday after Sunday listened to the ord of God, as taught by him, he commended them to God and His word of grace.

"With all the faith and fervour of my soul I commend you to God," said the reverend gentleman, "and in His keeping you can never be lonely." He said that God was not far off, and if one would wait until he heard the divine voice he would realize how near God was to him. In the perplexities and difficulties of life there was no safety like being under the care of God.

The Christian's first responsibility was to God.

The life of the soald should come before the life of the body. Man's obligation was first to God and then to his fellow being. The true nourishment of the sould was in the word of God. The word of God would build up a strong character.

In conclusion the pastor urged his hearers to stand fast upon the word of God and to give themselves to Christ.

HE CONCLUDES HIS PASTORSHIP

Large Congregations at Bethany Tabernacle Yesterday to Hear Rev. E. A. Steurnagel

HE EXPRESSES HIS THANKS

Large attendances were present at Bethany Tabernacle yesterday to listen to Pastor Steuernigel's farewell addresses. The morning text was taken from Heb. 6.1, "Let us go on unto perfection." In the evening the text was taken from Phil. 3; 13-14, "Forgetting the things that are behind, let us press toward the work for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Earnest and encouraging words were spoken to the church to press on, have a definite aim, seek a high ideal, and thus gain the prize at the end of race. In concluding the pastor very feelingly thanked the city for her many kindnesses, the members of the church for their sympathy and loyalty, and the press for many courtesies shown during the past five years.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

But Find the Way to Digest What You Do Eat.

The first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal. This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, then the food digests readily and you begin to get the full benefit from what you eat.

Use Mi-o-na whenever you have sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion.

Wm. Madill gives with every 50 cent box of Mi-o-na a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy cures.

LABOR PARTY INDIGNANT.

Prominent Members Snubbed by Royalty—Were Not Invited.

London, June 29.—Feeling is running high among the Liberal Labor members of the House of Commons over the exclusion of Keir Hardie, Victor Grayson and Arthur Ponsonby from the invitation list to the recent Windsor garden party. Mr. Ponsonby was the private secretary of the late Premier Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman. He and the two others voted with the minority in a protest against the King's visit to Reval, where he met the Czar, and this is assumed to be the only reason why he did not receive an invitation, though the 56 other members in the Parliamentary minority on that vote received invitations.

Keir Hardie was invited last year but did not go, and it was well-known that he would not have gone this year if he had received an invitation. Nevertheless the Laborites resent the discrimination, and it was discussed at a party meeting, which addressed a letter to Lord Knollys, the King's secretary, asking for an explanation. The Liberal talk of signing an address to Mr. Ponsonby, who is in receipts of letters from his constituents expressing regret and indignation at his treatment.

It should be noted that the Irish members did not receive invitations, but Mr. Redmond and his colleagues long ago announced that they would not attend any court functions, and, consequently, they have never been invited.

Too Much Lovemaking.

Fredericton, N.B., June 29—Citizens have complained to City Marshal Roberts of the conduct of young men and women who frequent the benches along Fenety avenue in the evenings and on Sundays. It is said that there is altogether too much lovemaking going on in public, and the city marshal will undertake to put a stop to it.

E. W. Davis, the New York millionaire, who lately shot himself on the Cascapedia, had a large tract of land leased at Clarendon Station, Queen's County, and usually spent the autumn months there hunting woodcock.

At the Douglas boom last week 2,166 joints of logs were rafted by a crew of 180 men. Rafting at the Mitchell boom commenced Wednesday, and in three days 120 men rafted 986 joints.

Probing Theft of Mica.

Kingston, June 29.—Mr. Harding, a Brockville lawyer, is in the city in connection with the recent theft of a large quantity of mica from a factory there. He secured a search warrant, and, with County Constable Smith, left for Sydenham. Some time ago a man named Truesdale was arrested here on the charge of stealing mica from the company. At the trial he was allowed to go on suspended sentence. It is understood that there is yet missing mica valued at a few thousand dollars, and there may be some new developments in the case shortly.

Superintendent Hewitt says typhoid fever in Kingston is not due to the water supply. The water is pure, the numerous tests proving this.

Crowd Watch Disaster.

Montreal, June 29.—Two people were drowned at Bout d'Ile, near here, yesterday afternoon, after clinging desperately to an overturned boat within sight of hundreds of Sunday school picnickers, on the shore.

The victims were Frank Reno, colored, cigar maker, of St. Dominique square, and his sister, Carmen Reno. Six people, in all, four men and two women, had gone out for a row in the boat, which ran against a sunken log and upset.

Two of the men righted the boat and helped the women into it, but the young girl, Carmen Reno, in her excitement, again upset it and sank just as a boat sent out to rescue the party was rowed up. The brother had in the meantime drifted down the river and disappeared below the surface.

Deputy Commissioner Dead.

Creelman, Sask., June 29.—Sudden death came Friday night to A. P. Ketcham, deputy commissioner of agriculture, due to sunstroke, which brought on apoplexy.

A plowing match was held on the farm of W. Black, southeast of here, at which Mr. Ketcham acted as judge, with the thermometer registering 83 in the shade. He went round the field from 9.30 in the morning till 5 o'clock in the afternoon, wearing a hard felt hat, when he awarded the prises. He collapsed early in the evening, and though kept alive by Dr. Mahon by artificial respiration, died at 10.40.

Car Hangs Over Street.

New York, June 29.—A score of passengers were injured, one of them possibly fatally, in a rear-end collision on the Third avenue elevated road. The rear car of the forward train was jammed to the edge of the "L" structure. As it hung there, apparently likely at any moment to topple to the street, the panic-stricken passengers struggled with each other to get clear of the wreck, many leaping from the car windows and sustaining injuries.

Firemen raised ladders and carried the injured, with several women who had fainted, to the street.

Unknown Kills Himself.

Detroit, June 29.—Two women while berry picking on the Indian reservation stumbled across the dead form of a man, who is supposed to be Alex. McAust, but whose place of residence is unknown. A bottle at his side, half-filled with laudanum, told the story. The body was removed to the morgue to await identification.

He was a man about 65 years old and six feet tall.

Black Hand In Fernie.

Fernie, B.C., June 29.—An arrest of eleven Italians was made yesterday morning, who are supposed to be trying to organize a Black Hand society here. It appears the secret was given away by one who had been approached to join the society. More arrests are likely to follow.

Throws Up Sponge at 104.

Lexington, Ky., June 29.—Henry Miller, aged 104 years, grew tired of life at Harrodsburg in Mercer County and committed suicide yesterday by taking paris green.

SOME PICKPOCKETS AT LINDSAY TOO

Are Supposed to be Discharged Employes of Cole Bros.' Circus

A South Ops young lady was on Wednesday last relieved of her purse at the C.P.R. station by one of the light-fingered gentry. She was assisting a relative in her preparation to board the train, when she suddenly missed her pocket-book which she had in her possession a few seconds before. A thorough investigation was made, but the search proved fruitless.

A number of suspicious characters have been noticed hovering about the railway stations the past week, supposed to be discharged employees of Cole Bros.' circus, and in all probability one of them relieved the young lady of her purse.—Lindsay Post.

CHURCH LIGHTED WITH ELECTRICITY

New Lights Used for the First Time at George Street Methodist Church

For the first time last evening the George street Methodist church was lighted by electricity. The fixtures are fine and the church was well illuminated. The installation was made by Messrs. Alexander & Miller Next week the interior will be in the hands of the decorators, P. C. Brown & Company, of Toronto.

AN INVITATION TO BE PRESENT AT CENTENARY

On Aug. 28th the celebration of the Centenary of the High School of Niagara-on-the-Lake will be held and a large number of invitations have been issued to ex-pupils, ex-teachers and ex-trustees. Mr. N. A. Howard Moore, who is an ex-pupil, has received an invitation from Miss Janet Carnochan, a former teacher and a well known poetess. Mr. Moore was in the class of '75 and has ever since kept up his connection with the school by corresponding with the teacher mentioned.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Paris is Full of Them and Nearly All Use Parisian Sage

In the beauty show at the metropolis two years ago gold medals were awarded to five different women.

To the most beautiful woman between 20 and 25; between 25 and 30; between 30 and 35; between 35 and 40 and between 40 and 45.

A society reporter who interviewed all five women in the interest of his papers, reported that all of them had beautiful hair, and that each of the five enthusiastically attributed her luxuriant hair to Parisian Sage.

Wm. Madill, corner of George and Hunter streets, sells Parisian Sage for 50 cents a bottle. He guarantees it to cure dandruff in two weeks; to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It makes any woman's hair beautiful, soft and luxuriant.

Don't fail to make arrangements to take in the Grand Excursion of Court Little John C. O.F. No. 92 to Toronto and Niagara Falls, leaving C P.R. Station Thursday, July 9th. See large Bills for further particulars. 1 W.

ANNULAR ECLIPSE WAS WITNESSED

Crossed the Sun Diagonally According to Time Stated

A partial eclipse of the sun occurred yesterday morning and was a matter of interest to all those in any way interested in astronomy. Through the kindness of Mr. H. B. Collier, an Examiner representative enjoyed the privilege of witnessing the eclipse through the large telescope which is used by members of the Peterborough Astronomical Association.

The moon's diagonal path across the sun began at 9 hrs. 43 min. 54 sec. a.m., ended at 12 hrs, 49 min. p.m. Between eleven and twelve o'clock a pronounced haze was noticed instead of the usual brilliance of the sun's light.

Two sun spots could also be seen. One was considerably larger than the other but neither were as dark as the moon. The day was an excellent one for securing photographs of the eclipse. Many citizens by the use of smoked glass were able to see the eclipse.

Committed For Trial On Two Charges Of Picking Pockets

Four Men Held on Charge of Picking Pockets Appeared Again on Saturday Before the Magistrate

THE TRIAL WILL BE SOON

Charged with relieving Ebenezer McTaggart, Brockville, of $26, and James Groves, Bethany, of $2, Geo. Williams, Henry Hamilton, James Graney and Jos. Adams, the circus day quartette, who were arrested by P. C.'s Newhall and Meharry at the exhibition grounds on June 17, were committed to trial on both charges by Magistrate Dumble at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing on Saturday afternoon. Crown Attorney R. E. Wood continued the prosecution, and Mr. G. N. Gordon represented the four prisoners.

The court was opened at 2 o'clock and continued until 5.30, when all the evidence had been received, and on the strength of it they were committed to trial. To an Examiner reporter Mr. Gordon stated that he was anxious to have the men appear before Judge Weller as soon as possible, and the trial will likely be begun this week.

McTaggart Case

P. C. Newhall was called, and cross-examined by Mr. Gordon regarding what he had seen the prisoners doing before their arrest. This evidence has already been published. Witness said he first saw Williams near the C.P.R. station at 11 o'clock on circus day morning. At the G.T.R. Station at 11.45 a.m. when the Toronto train arrived he again saw this prisoner. He was at the end of the platform. There was a large crowd at the station. Among those who were getting off the train, witness saw Hamilton, Graney and Adams on the platforms of the second and third coaches. Mr. McTaggart was boarding the train at the rear of the second coach. Adams got slightly behind him on his left. Hamilton was in front of him on the steps, and Graney was on his right-hand side, standing on the station platform. Explaining the combined action, P. C. Newhall said: "Adams' right hand went into McTaggart's left hand trousers' pocket, and reappeared with what looked to be a pocket-book. Hamilton and Graney both pushed against McTaggart, almost knocking him down." The men went down Charlotte street, and at the G.T.R. freight sheds witness said Adams handed Hamilton several bank bills.

Under the Canvas

P. C. Newhall continued his evidence of the whole proceedings and emphasized his statement that the four prisoners were permitted by the employees of the circus to lift the canvas at will and go into the big tent. No notice was taken of them whatever by the men who were appointed to watch the tent. When any of the general public even went inside the ropes they were immediately told to move on, and in no mild terms.

"These fellows (pointing to the prisoners) could go wherever they wished," Mr. Newhall said.

"Maybe they owned the circus,' Mr. Gordon retorted.

The rest of P. C. Newhall's evidence concerned the money found on the men, and subsequent details which did not relate to the McTaggart case. Mr. Gordon did not offer any defence and his clients were committed to trial.

The Groves Case

The second charge was that of having stolen $2.00 from James Groves of Bethany. The accused pleaded not guilty and did not elect. The plaintiff was the first witness. He stated to Mr. Wood that Cole Bros' circus was the first he had ever seen. He came into the city alone and went down to the grounds. He had his money in his right hand trousers pockets. He had it all right about half an hour before he missed it. He wanted to buy some lemonade and when he put his hand in his pocket he found the money gone. It was then about 3.30 o'clock.

Saw Others Robbed

Witness made several general statements about seeing other people robbed while watching the performance. He was sitting on the 5th or 6th tier from the front. He stated that he saw Hamilton and Graney beneath the seats walking around and he also saw them picking men's pockets. Asked whether he could identify the men he replied "I could pick them from a thousand."

To Mr. Gordon he said he started out with $5.00. His railway fare was $1.00; he spent 50 cents at the Cavanagh House where he had dinner. He purchased a tie at 25 cents and shirt for 75 cents. His ticket for the big tent cost him 65 cents. In a manner that suggested he would not be guilty of such a thing he said that he was not accompanied by a young lady. Witness stated that he saw two pockets picked but did not know the men who were touched. When he found his money gone he took it for granted that it had disappeared in the same manner, although he did not know who took it.

Friend Saw Them

Witness stated that a friend, Mr. Harold Walker of Millbrook saw the same things as he. He further stated that Walker was sure of the identity of the men and would know them, as he had told witness that he would. Witness said he had seen all four men under the seats. Some of the seats were filled, others were empty. He was sitting in the "full" section. He had told "head chief" (Chief Rossel) that he had lost his money and at 7 o'clock that evening went into the police station to have a look at the men who had been arrested. He identified two of them, Adams and Graney.

Was "Broke" Going Home

Witness said he went home by way of Omemee. He borrowed 45 cents for his fare to that station and walked 8 miles to his home. "I just paid it back to-day" he said.

Chief Rossel was called to the stand and said that Groves had identified Adams and Graney. When passing Hamilton's cell the latter said to Groves, "Hello there Johnny; I saw you down there with your girl."

P. C. Meharry said that he had assisted P. C Newhall in arresting the men. They were both in plain clothes. He saw Graney jostling in the crowd and he was the only one he saw. He did not see any of them picking pockets.

This concluded the evidence and as in the other case the men were committed, although Mr. Gordon made a plea for Williams whom he said had not been implicated, according to the testimony, in this case.

Resume Of Business At Deaf Association Meeting

Convention Held in Toronto Concluded on Friday—Dr. Coughlin Elected Honourary President

A WELCOME FROM MAYOR

The following report of the annual meeting of the Deaf Association of Ontario is contributed by Mr. W. O'Rourke, city:

The Deaf Association of Ontario convened in Toronto from June 20 to June 25 in the Convocation Hall of the University of Toronto, surrounded by the Queen's Park. It was the largest assembly in the history of the association, there being three hundred delegates present from Canada and the United States. The hall was gaily decorated for the occasion in honour of the convention. During the opening of the meeting, the president introduced Mayor Oliver, who delivered an address. He ascended the platform before a large audience. In speaking of his great pleasure in meeting so many delegates coming to the Queen City from far and near, he said in his speech, "A cordial welcome to Toronto," and at the conclusion of the address said he was highly pleased to have present Mr R. Mathison, formerly superintendent of the Belleville School, now the Supreme Treasurer of the I. O. F., who acted as interpreter for the Mayor. Mr. Mathison listened to the Mayor's address, and signed in the deaf language. All the delegates were exceedingly pleased with the kind hospitality of Mayor Oliver. The president then asked the Supreme Treasurer to speak a few words, which were received with loud applause and cheers. In his brief address, he spoke of the great improvement of Belleville School under Dr. C. B. Coughlin's capable and skilful superintendency, and the rapid movement of the association. He also felt very proud to see such a pleasant gathering, and enjoyed a warm handshake with his old friends after a long absence, and wished all success and prosperity in their Association. Afterwards the proceedings of the meeting were taken up.

The principal subject of the open-day's programme was a memorial remembrance to the late Mr. McCann, who was the first teacher to the Deaf and He explained that the object of the Association was to bring together all deaf citizens of suitable age and intelligence to discuss serious matters pertaining to their mutual welfare as law-abiding citizens. The moral and intellectual side were also a prominent importance. The president recommended that the name of the Ontario Institution for the Deaf and Dumb in Belleville, be changed to that of the "Ontario School for the Deaf." The worthy president also pointed out the employment of deaf people in the busy world to use the privilege under the Dominion Government Post Office Department and it was favourably commented upon, since it opened up a new avenue of employment for those whose means of supporting themselves are necessarily limited.

The inaugural meeting was adjourned, then the delegates were entertained by the Toronto City Council, who, by their kind generosity, and at a considerable expense, provided a long ride on a special street car around the city routes, and stopped at the beautiful and picturesque High Park, where a sumptuous luncheon was served in a fashionable style.

After this the election for the next biennial convention took place. The president proposed Dr. C B Coughlin, formerly a Peterborough surgeon, to be elected Honourary President of the Association. This was voted by acclamation. Then the Honourary President ascended the platform (the delegates throwing thunderbolts of cheers) and thanked the delegates for appointing him to the high office of honour. In his own heart, (large enough to speak) he said he would be very glad to extend an invitation for the next twelfth biennial convention to be held at Belleville, which is one of the best Institutions in Ontario. All accepted his kindness with hearty thanks. Then the following time he talked on some new methods of important changes at the school. Prof. Stewart acted as interpreter.

Prof. Bell, the famous inventor of the Bell Telephone and new invention of the airship possibilities now in operation at Nova Scotia, was amongst the the visitors. He was delighted to talk in deaf language with the president and the treasurer. In conversation the distinguished visitor, said, he much regretted it was impossible for him to give a talk on his wonderful invention, and expressed a hearty greeting to all. He then left for Washington, D.C.

The special feature of the day was the athletic field day. The Peterborough deaf boys carried off nearly all first prizes in grand style, namely: Running, hop, step and jump, standing broad jump, running jump, vaulting with pole, high jump, one mile walking race, putting 16lb. shot, 100 yds. dash, 100 yds. hurdle race and, lastly, 5 mile Marathon race. The long list of various sports was carried off on the 'Varsity Campus, one of the best athletic grounds in Canada. The physical director of the 'Varsity gymnasium spoke highly of Peterborough athletes.

FLOWER SUNDAY CELEBRATED AT GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH

Yesterday was Flower Sunday at the George Street Methodist Church. The school began to assemble in the basement at 10.30. At 11 o'clock 500 scholars marched into the church with the order of a regiment of soldiers, and marshalled by the superintendent, S. R. Armstrong. The feature of the gathering (was the Men's Social Adult Bible Class, about 100 strong—there being now 200 men on the roll of this great class—and, carrying at their head a huge bouquet of American roses. Nearly all the scholars carried bouquets of flowers, and passing in front of the platform these were handed to a committee of ladies and gentlemen, and placed in a large circle and then banked around on the floor. The Sunday School orchestra added interest to the proceedings. The church was packed in every corner. The sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. Edwin A. Pearson, on lessons from the Dandelion.

In the evening the church was again filled. The wheel of flowers was illuminated with electric lights. A special musical service was rendered by the choir. The pastor preached on the Friendship of Christ. After the service a committee looked after the distribution of the flowers among the sick ones.

Highest Court Rules That All Relatives Must Be Notified

The Buffalo Express has the following to say of the contest over the will of the late Dr. Campbell, in which local people are interested:

The Court of Appeals has granted the application of the Reverend James Campbell of California to be appointed administrator of the estate of his brother, the late Dr. Robert E. Campbell, and to have Dr. Edward N. Pfohl ousted from the position of administrator. Dr. Campbell died at the Park Hotel in May, 1907. During the last few years of his life Dr. Campbell had lived almost as a hermit, in striking contrast to the gay life he led when he was one of Buffalo's most successful physicians, with a handsome house on North street.

He left no will. His fortune has been placed at $100,000 and upwards. Dr. Pfohl was appointed administrator shortly after Dr. Campbell's death. The Reverend James Campbell hurried from California as soon as he heard of his brother's death and sought to have Dr. Pfohl's appointment set aside. Surrogate Hart refused to grant his application. The matter was then carried to the Appellate Division, where Mr. Campbell won. Dr. Pfohl then took the case to the Court of Appeals, which sustained Mr. Campbell's position. He will take charge of the estate as soon as Dr. Pfohl winds up his accounts.

Kellogg & Baker represented the Rev. Mr. Campbell. Geo. F. Schultz and Judge Kenefick appeared for Dr. Pfohl. The question at issue was whether the Surrogate is required to notify relatives and next of kin to appear in court in administration matters when the relatives live outside the state. The decision of the highest court is that the relatives must all be notified.

ENGAGEMENTS OF S. A. BAND

Have a Busy Week Ahead of Them in Festivals and Picnics

The Salvation Army Band enters upon a very busy week, having engagements for nearly every day. Tonight about fifteen or sixteen members will go to Keene to play at a strawberry festival which is being held in the skating rink under the auspices of the Methodist church. To-morrow night the regular band concert will be given in Victoria Park. On Wednesday a dozen members will go with the Auburn Sunday school picnic. On Thursday they will play at a strawberry festival at the Gilmour Memorial church, and on July 8 the band will go to Fraserville.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THAT?

How An American Angler Landed 'Lunge In A Dream; The Latest Stony Lake News

Large Crowd Up on Saturday Evening—Good Fishing at the Lakes —Large Number of Excursions

PERSONALS OF INTEREST

Examiner Special.

Stony Lake, June 29.—An indescribable feeling grasps the early summer visitor to beautiful Kawarthadom, the same this year as in summers gone by, and wants to keep him here. This feeling is one that pervades the whole lake. One hears it expressed, and in a mournful tone too, by the Sunday guest who has to go back to his books or business for another week; it is either uttered, or unexpressed except by look, by the transient tourist or eager excursionist as he makes a single journey among the idyllic islands between the rising and the setting of the sun. They all become immortalized, and often unconsciously, with the beauty and magnetism of the place and want to stay. And stay they do—at least a great many of them—and now Stony Lake has a population of no mean proportion, who are enjoying the complacent environments to the fullest extent.

The influx to the lake has begun in earnest and the boats are being kept busily engaged in transporting their human freight. The usual daily social functions have not yet begun but in a week or two Stony Lake will be a city of lively and pleasure seeking inhabitants.

The steamer Stoney Lake met the Saturday evening train at Lakefield and brought the largest evening crowd to the lake of the season. She stopped at all the principal points as well as at several islands.

Fishing and Fish Stories

Disciples of Izaak Walton announce with broad smiles that the fishing is great. One guide stated that he was out with two parties on Saturday and secured 38 bass, as well as four lunge. Similar reports come from all parts of the lake and everywhere you go, is found fishing tackle, minnow cans, dip nets, steel rods, double stars, Delaney's, etc., in abundance.

Fish stories, of course, are prevalent at the lake and one often hears of the "whales" that just get away as there are being elevated from their native element into the boat. An American fisherman at the Victoria House, McCracken's landing, tells of the following experience in melancholy phraseology: "I got a fish on which I thought at the time would weigh 25 or 30 pounds. It was too many for me to handle in the canoe, and rather than let it carry the line, boat and myself away I decided to jump out as the shore was near and the water shallow. I began walking through the slimy weeds, dragging along the fish, when all of a sudden he jumped out of the water to the full length of the line and killed himself by striking on the shore."

But he qualified his "yarn" by reminding the boys that this feat was performed while gentle sleep exerted its somniferous influence over him and while he reclined in comfort and ease on his downy couch at night.

The Stony Lake Navigation Company had an extremely busy season last night with seven excursions in addition to their regular trips. This week they have five booked and next week three or four more.

A new post office, called "Woodside," has been opened at Miss Brown's cottage, Kawartha Park, Clear Lake, for the accommodation of the many cottagers in that district.

Mr. Alfred Thomas is having a new boat house erected on his island.

The steamer Majestic will run the regular round trip on Dominion Day.

A strong west wind blew across the lake this morning and made landings difficult, except where they were sheltered. A number of persons met the steamer in the channel and made matters much more easy for the crew.

Several workmen at Mr. R. Sheehy's quarry are busily engaged taking out stone. The work is an interesting one and many lake visitors call every day to look on.

The huckleberry crop promises to to be a good one this year. The last few rainstorms seemed to add new vigour to the plants. The wild strawberry crop has never been better, judging from the pails of the ruddy fruit which are seen leaving the Burleigh shore.

Most passengers on board the steamer still seem to think there should be some place to put these who change their seats 125 times in a single voyage. But we shall have the ever restless with us until the end of time, who always want to walk over some one's toes.

The steamer Empress beat her shaft on Saturday and yesterday while in dry dock at Burleigh Falls, the water became too low and she listed on her side. For this reason she was not able to take her morning trip down the lake to-day.

Circus Hand Is In Hospital With His Left Eye Injured

Ray Shiffler, one of the employees of the Cole Bros.' circus, is confined to the Nicholls Hospital with an injury to his left eye. The exact manner in which the injury was received is not very clear, but it is reported that it was the result of an uncalled for attack on the part of one of the employees of the circus. It was at first thought that the young man would lose the use of the eye, but it has since improved and will likely be saved for him.

Dr. Marsh Secures Photos Of The Sun When Eclipsed

In speaking to the Rev. Dr. Marsh concerning the nature of the sun yesterday, he stated that the eclipse came on exactly as was tabulated and passed off according to astronomical tabulation.

Dr. Marsh and his son James secured some fine photographs with a 5 inch Brashear astronomical telescope making an image of the sun 5 1-2 inches in diameter which is equal to a camera 45 feet in length. They exposed 6 plates, 5 of which are excellent negatives, showing the sun spots, calcium clouds and faculae. The lunar shadow is clearly cut, lunar umbra, caused by the mountains showing the corrugated edge of the on the moon. Two photographs were also secured when the luna shadow cut a sun spot off about 25,000 miles in diameter which is very unique and seldom obtained in eclipses. This occurred about the church hour and hundreds of people observed the eclipse.

Dr. H R Collier and Mr. Fisk observed the eclipse with some friends through three telescopes and made drawings which will be of scientific value. They observed carefully for the slightest trace of penumbra which they report was invisible, demonstrating that the moon has no atmosphere. It has been reported by some that where the lunar and solar limbs meet, at times glimpses of the chromosphere have been seen. Mr. Collier and Mr. Fisk noticed carefully this and found nothing visible, bearing testimony to the fact that the chromosphere of the sun cannot be seen except during a total eclipse or when a spectroscope is applied.

The figures in the Examiner on Saturday were roughly given. The exact time calculated for Springville was 9.46.35 and the solar occultation lasted until 12.41.23. Peterborough time is not much different from this.

IS THE SEWER IN STATE OF CHRONIC ERUPTION?

The Romaine street sewer seems to be in a state of chronic eruption. Is the big hole retained on the school grounds as an object lesson in the engineering department of the school's curriculum? The grounds too are "beautifully" modelled. Here and there are found patches of sod but they are surrounded by the beautiful flower commonly known as the wild mustard.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

Christopher D. Graham is a well known citizen of Ottawa—formerly in the City Hall and largely instrumental in forming the Ottawa Hunt Club. Mr. Graham's voluntary testimonial as to the great benefit he received from taking "Fruit-a-tives" will carry conviction.

Ottawa, Ont. Nov. 26th, 1907.

Dear Sirs:—

I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for a long time — pains in my shoulder and joints practically all the time. I tried various treatments without benefit and then I was recommended by a friend to try "Fruit-a-tives." I took several boxes of the tablets and now, for a long time, I have been entirely free from all rheumatism and rheumatic pains.

I wish to state, also, that I suffered from haemorrhoids, or piles, for years, I used all kinds of ointments and treatment and nothing did me any good, but after taking "Fruit-a-tives" for my rheumatism I was entirely cured of these dreadful [illegible] (Sgd) C. D. GRAHAM. 149

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

150 Passengers in Midnight Wreck on C. P. R.

AT LEAST FORTY INJURED

Accident Occurred at Tottenham—Five Coaches Derailed and Toppled Over 15-Foot Embankment — No One Fatally Hurt—Cause of the Wreck is a Mystery—Wounded Taken to Toronto Hospital.

Tottenham, June 29.—A most miraculous escape from what would appear at first to have been a terrible disaster occurred Saturday night about 11.30 o'clock, 1 1-2 miles north of Tottenham.

The westbound Winnipeg train, leaving Toronto at 9.30, left the rails, and six coaches, including tourists and sleepers, were precipitated down an embankment of over 20 feet, turning completely upside down, one car going to the east side of the track and the other five to the west.

The engine, baggage car and the last of the train remained on the track.

Almost all the passengers, numbering about 200, had retired, which made the work of extricating more difficult.

It was half an hour before all had been taken from the wreck. Luckily, there was no fire in the coaches, else there would assuredly have been lives lost.

There are a number with broken limbs, and bad scalp wounds numbering probably 15, of a serious nature, with a total of at least 40 injured. The railway officials place the number very much less than this, but it is not above the number.

Fifty of the passengers, who were in the train were a part of an excursion party who had been to the Guelph Model Farm, and were returning to Toronto. With a very few exceptions they were all in one car, and this coach had the greater number of victims.

A miraculous escape was that of a six-weeks'-old baby which was being taken home by its mother, Mrs. Morris, wife of the city editor of The Brandon Sun. The little one was thrown from its berth and could not be found by its mother for some 25 minutes. The whereabouts was at last discovered by the infant's crying, and it was taken out none the worse of the mix-up.

The passengers were conveyed by busses here, where they were cared for by local doctors and volunteer nurses. Sunday morning an auxiliary from Toronto, which brought up three hospital cars as well as two nurses and as many physicians, had all the badly hurt removed to this train, where every comfort and attention was given. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon those passengers who desired to proceed were taken by special train from here to the scene of the wreck, where a train had arrived from Bala, and where they were transferred, with their baggage.

A train was also made up for Toronto and a number returned on this to the city. Amongst those of the passengers who escaped unhurt was R. R. Gamey, M.P.P., of Manitoulin.

The officials of the C.P.R. were most courteous to those of the wrecked train, and everything in their power was done for the comfort of the passengers.

What caused the accident is a mystery here. The rolling stock was in first-class shape, and the part of the road adjacent to Tottenham was always considered the best part of the roadbed between Toronto and Bala. This roadbed has been in use since 1906. The ties and rails were completely torn up for a distance of about 600 feet, but will be all in running order to-day.

A rumor that the track had spread and another that the roadbed had been not correct, and the train, while running fast, was not going the speed of other heavy trains that have been running over this part of the road. Trains have been passed through here at 60 miles an hour.

Old trainmen state that in their long experience they have never seen as bad a wreck with as little injuries to passengers.

The coaches, which are still untouched in the ditch, are badly broken up, and two at least are past repair.

Auto In Canal.

St. Catharines, June 29.—Frank Benson, chauffeur, in the employ of William Chaplin & Co., with two ladies, had an exciting auto ride. While descending lock two hill the steering gear became unmanageable, and when the auto reached the bottom instead of making the bend in the road it plunged through a fence and over an incline towards the old canal. The predicament of the ladies in the car was noticed in the Welland Vale office across the canal, and a number of men hurried to the rescue.

Killed In Auto Wreck.

Troy, N.Y., June 29.—W. Sidney Nicholson, plant superintendent of the Hudson River Telephone Co., and a prominent resident of Albany, was killed in an automobile accident on the Willow Glen road, about eight miles north of this city, and his wife, her mother and a young Albany woman, Miss Brown by name, were injured.

Francis Joseph Is Not Dead.

Vienna, June 29.—An official denial was made here last night of the report of the death of Emperor Francis Joseph. The Emperor arrived at Ischl, in Upper Austria, Saturday evening in good health. He expects to spend the summer there.

Pope May Go to Nauheim.

Nauheim, June 29.—The report is current here to the effect that his Holiness the Pope has been advised to go to Nauheim in July and that already one of the leading physicians has been approached in view of the coming visit, and has said there are formidable difficulties in the way of finding a secluded residence.

BUILDINGS SWEPT BY A TORNADO

Great Damage Done by Fierce Wind in Saskatchewan.

MANY BUILDINGS WRECKED

Anglican Church Moved Off Its Foundations—Several Farm Houses Demolished — Occupants Have Narrow Escape—Warehouse Building Blown 200 Yards—Cyclone Spouts In Several Places.

Winnipeg, June 29.—Very violent storms are reported from many points in the middle west, accompanied by considerable damage to property and crops. Around Fillmore and Warman the wind swept the country with tornado force. Many buildings in the towns and surrounding country were either demolished, or badly wrecked, and numerous narrow escapes from death or injury are reported. At Warman the Anglican church was picked up and moved six feet off its foundation, and the Saskatchewan Trading Co.'s warehouse was wrecked, part of the building being blown three hundred yards. Ninga, Dunrea and Waskada, Man., are other places reporting terrific spouts.

How Fillmore escaped as luckily as it did from Friday night's storm is a mystery, for, judging by reports which come in from the country, the storm was the worst that ever passed through this section. The storm seemed to lift here when it struck the town, and the force of the wind passed over. The worst damage in town was the breaking in of the front of D. Curtus' feed store and demolishing the front of Cook's drug store. The wind lifted a chicken shed about 40 rods away and smashed it into the plate-glass window of the drug store.

At C. E. Veak's, three and a half miles north, the family barely escaped with their lives. They were in bed at the time, but, becoming alarmed, sought refuge in the cellar, and had no more than reached their before the whole upstairs was carried away.

The home of Mr. Barrett, five miles north, was completely demolished. Had the family gone to bed when they intended there is no doubt but that they would all have been killed, but they stayed up to enjoy some music, and when the storm struck they barely had time to get into a cellar just across the road before the house collapsed.

Another farmer had a close call. D. Frederickson had just arrived home when the storm struck, and, unhitching his horses and turning them loose in the barn, got out of the building in time to see it land with a crash against the waggon from which he had unhitched the horses. The exact damage cannot be as yet determined, but it will amount to many thousands of dollars.

Ex-Convict Arrested.

Victoria, B.C., June 29.—Frank Nicolas, a Greek fisherman, was arrested at Oak Bay by provincial police last night, charged with assaulting Olive Murray, a 11-year-old child. The child was one of a Sunday school picnic at the Beach, and, with her brother came near the Greek, who was mending his nets. The Greek sent the brother to a near-by store to purchase candy, and when, 14 is claimed, beguiled the child away in his boat.

Nicolas is an ex-convict, having served five years' imprisonment for the murder of Tony Constantine, a fellow countryman, five years ago.

English Editor Arrested.

London, June 29.—A great sensation has been caused throughout England by the arrest Saturday of Robert Sievier, editor of The Winning Post, and one of the best known sportsmen in this country, on the charge of attempting to blackmail Jack Joel, a nephew of the late Barney Barnato, the "Diamond King."

Sievier was arrested at the Sandown track and brought to Bow street in a motor car, where he was remanded to prison for a hearing on Monday.

He is charged with having threatened to publish a defamatory article about Joel unless the latter paid to him $25,000.

Wants One Man Power.

Washington, June 29.—President Roosevelt believes the time has come when the interests of the District of Columbia demands a better form of government, and he wishes to have a one-man head of affairs for the national capital in place of the organization headed by three commissioners, which has prevailed since 1874.

It is stated that he will make this recommendation to Congress next winter, asking to have the power of appointment, as in the case of the commissioners, as well as the power of removal placed in the hands of the President.

Recount In London.

London, June 29.—The recount of the ballots cast in the recent Beck-McEvoy election will commence at 10 a.m. before Judge Elliott.

"Reports came to me from several polling sub-divisions that something was wrong," said Mr. McEvoy, "and I, in the interests of clean elections, determined to find out the truth."

WOMEN SHOT DURING THE RIOTS

Peasants Killed by Soldiers in Calabrian Village.

MANY WOMEN ARE INJURED

People Left Houseless After Earthquake Protest Against Delay In Rebuilding—Troops Used Revolvers With Deadly Effect—Situation Becoming Alarming—Strikers Make War Against Soldiers.

London, June 29.—The following Rome despatch was stopped by the censor:

The Calabrian village of Olivadi, which was almost completely destroyed by an earthquake in 1905, is still almost completely houseless in spite of the Parliament's special law ordering the rebuilding of the place. On June 22 there was a demonstration of protest against the negligence of the authorities in this matter. A crowd, of about seven hundred persons, mostly women and children, assembled before the municipal offices, shouting, "Death to the Government!"

A squad of the Carabinieri was summoned and the men fired their revolvers into the air. The demonstration immediately began to throw stones, and two of the soldiers fell, badly injured. The other six were on the point of being overpowered and fired a volley into the crowd. The crowd fled, leaving fifteen of their number on the ground. Three were dead, a man, a woman, and a boy. The remaining twelve are all seriously injured, most of them being women.

The village is now occupied by troops.

The strike at Parma has assumed alarming proportions. Fifty thousand peasants refuse all terms unless the farmers offer better wages. The farmers have armed themselves for the purpose of protecting the "blacklegs" who are working in the fields. The strikers have occupied their old position in the city beyond the River Parma, barricaded the streets and destroyed the lamps so that the town is in darkness.

They have also organized a regular war against the troops. Skirmishes occur daily, the strikers using stones and the troops their rifles. In the meantime, owing to the general strike, food is becoming scarce, and the situation daily grows more alarming. Details as to the fatalities are unavailable, the censor stopping all telegrams.

Balloonists Have Close Call.

Philadelphia, June 29.—Two women and two men who ascended in a balloon from this city had a narrow escape from death, when the envelope containing the gas split, causing the balloon to rapidly descend to earth and land on the muddy banks of the Schuylkill river. The passengers were Mrs. Carrie Burcham Kilgore, who is a practicing lawyer of this city; Mrs. M. Eleanor Lockington, secretary of the society; Dr Thomas E. Eldridge, Dr. George H. Zimmerman and Prof. Samuel King, the aeronaut whose ascents are numbered by the hundred.

Beck Likes Horse Show.

London, June 29.—(C. A. P.)—Hon. Adam Beck was much impressed by the riding of the foreign and British army officers at the International Horse Show. He declares, however, that Canada could creditably compete both in the matter of animals and horsemanship. Negotiations will probably be opened with the Canadian Government in order to secure a contingent of officers and horses for the exhibition in 1909.

Cutting Judgment Reserved.

Vancouver, June 29.—Judgment has been reserved in the case of the Cutting, the American steamer seized by the Kestrell on the ground that she was within the three mile limit fishing north of Vancouver Island.

Fifteen Killed.

Bombay, June 29.—Fifteen persons were killed and 270 injured in the collision between an express and a freight train on the Bombay & Baroda Railway, near Barods.

Farmer Found Dead.

Morrisville, June 29.—A farmer named John Sufferon of the Township of Montague, while on his way home Saturday evening, fell or was thrown from his buggy. His lifeless body was found on the roadside.

Steamer Caspian Damaged.

Kingston, June 29.—The steamer Caspian was badly damaged in a collision with the steel yacht Magi Dorio of Brockville on Saturday night. As a result forty feet of the upper gangway was broken off, two state rooms and the purser's office destroyed. The total damage amounts to $1,000.

The Caspian was clearing for Rochester, and the Magi Dorio left at about the same time. The stem of the yacht bumped the steamer's side.

Purser Muir of the Caspian had a narrow escape from death when the boats struck.

Jap Immigration Checked.

Vancouver, B.C., June 29.—The Tokio Emigration Co. of Yokohama recently received an order from the Canadian Nippon Supply Co. of Vancouver for 3,000 Japanese laborers to be sent to Canada. The Tokio Co. applied to the Japanese Department of foreign affairs for the necessary permits, but the Department replied that under the Lemieux agreement no more laborers were to be permitted to sail for Canada without the express consent of the Canadian Government, and the permission was therefore refused.

Italian Charged With Arson.

Watford, June 29.—An Italian tramp who passes among his friends by the name of "Italy" was arrested yesterday on a charge of arson in connection with the fire which destroyed the rear of the Taylor House yesterday morning.

The fire alarm was given by a passing freight train and the fire brigade assisted by bucketmen soon stamped out the flames, but not before they had destroyed a small blacksmith shop and some minor outbuildings.

Abuses Reform Mayor.

Victoria, B.C., June 29.—A sensation was caused Saturday by the statement of Lawyer Aikman in the Police Court that Stella Carroll, charged with operating a house of ill-fame, had been given permission by ex-Mayor Morley, when he was in office to locate on Herald street.

Morley was the moral reform mayor of Victoria. He was defeated in January. The Carroll woman was fined $200 and costs, but her counsel declares she will appeal the case.

Died of Heat Prostration.

St. Catharines, June 29.—Thomas Herbert, a farmer employed in the grapery of M. Cole, Louth Township, was found by the proprietor in an exhausted condition, and was taken to the house and medical aid summoned.

Dr. Ratcliffe arrived just in time to see Herbert die, and pronounced death due to prostration from heat.

PETES WERE DEFEATED FOR FIRST TIME THIS SEASON BY ATHLETICS ON SATURDAY IN A GREAT GAME

Manager Lynch's Team Won Out By a Batting Rally in the Ninth In Which Five Hits Gave Them Three Runs and the Game

WAS SNAPPY AND EXCITING

The unexpected happened in the Midland League game at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon when Manager Lynch's Athletics trimmed the Petes by 5 to 3, giving the latter their first defeat of the season, after a record of thirteen straight wins. The Athletics turned the trick by a batting rally in the ninth when, after one man was down, they hammered out four singles and a double, netting three runs. Up to that stage the Petes were holding on to the big end of a 3 to 2 score, and looked to have the game put away when the ninth was reached.

Quinlan's great pitching for the Athletics was the main factor in the defeat of the Johnstouites. He was there with bells and spangles on, and apparently had everything, especially speed and control. Only three hits were made off his delivery throughout the game, Burns getting one in the first and another in the third, and Clements making the third safety in the fifth. With perfect support he would have scored a shutout, the Athletics' errors being responsible for the three runs. Clements was on the rubber for the Petes, and up to the eighth had as much of the argument as his opponent. Only three hits had been made off him, and he looked about due for another victory, but he weakened on end and the Athletics got to him hard in the last chapter, winning out in a sensational manner.

It was by long odds the fastest, most exciting and enjoyable game of the season. There was any amount of pretty and sensational fielding, both teams pulling off a number of nice plays. The Petes had the better of the argument so far as fielding was concerned, only one error being registered against them, while the Athletics were guilty of five misplays, four of them being decidedly costly.

The Petes did not have their regular line-up in the game. Maddock, the fast-fielding shortstop, was out of the game with a sprained ankle, while Cheetham had his thumb smashed last week and was unable to play. Hawkins, one of the Petes' twirlers, was at short, and "Friz" O'Brien moved in to third, his place in centre being taken by Craig of the Strathcona City League team. The Athletics, however, won the game on its merits because they hit Clements hard at the finish, while the Petes were at Quinlan's mercy all the time. It was a fast, snappy exhibition of ball and the crowd enjoyed every moment of it.

The Athletics played fine ball all the way, and what errors they made were atoned for by their work with the stick. Rattray distinguished himself by several pretty catches of high fouls, and further made himself famous by banging out three hits. The infield played a gingerly game, Andrews at second accepting six out of seven chances cleverly.

Murphy did some stellar work in left field for the Petes, making several spectacular catches of long flies. Burns performed the unusual feat of throwing a man out at first on what appeared to be an easy single.

There was no scoring until the third and the Athletics were first to get into the run column, a base on balls, a stolen base and a single giving Quinlan a chance to score. The Petes got it back in their half on Burns' single, a stolen base and Rattray's wild heave to third. In the fifth the Petes took the lead, Lawson and Craig scoring on errors by Connors, Shea and Andrews, and Clements' single. The Athletics tallied in the eighth on two singles, a stolen base and a sacrifice, and broke up the game in the ninth with singles by Rattray, Mackrell, Callaghan and Quinlan, and a double by Heaslip.

"Jack" Rosevear of Port Hope was umpire, and as usual the Port Hope man gave the best of satisfaction. Jack couldn't be straighter or more impartial if he lived in Peterborough and it is hoped he may be called upon to do duty whenever the two teams meet.

Following is the story of the strife statistically set forth:

The summary—

Two-base hit—Heaslip. First base on balls—Off Clements, 2. Struck out—By Quinlan, 8 (Edmunds 2, Clements 2, Murphy, O'Brien, Lawson, Craig); by Clements, 8 (Graham 2, Callaghan 2, Quinlan 2, Heaslip, Connors). Double play—Craig to Lawson. First on errors—Petes 4, Ath 1. Sacrifice hit, Graham. Umpire — Rosevear.

First innings—Connors went out on a grounder to Clements, Graham fanned and Lawson made a nice catch of Shea's fly to first. No runs.

For the Petes—Burns singled nicely over short and stole second and third. Murphy had grounded to short in the meantime. O'Brien fanned and McDermott popped up a foul which Rattray captured neatly. No runs.

Second innings—Andrews was hit by pitcher and Rattray singled, leaving two on the bases, with none out. Murphy made a pretty catch of Mackrell's fly after a long run, and Heaslip and Callaghan fanned. No runs.

Edmunds flew out to Mackrell, Lawson to Callaghan in left and Hawkins to Mackrell. No runs.

Third innings—The ice was broken in the third chapter, Quinlan was walked and stole second. Connors grounded to short and Graham struck out but Shea singled to right bringing Quinlan home. Andrews flew out to O'Brien. No runs.

Craig flew out to Andrews and Clements fanned. Burns singled through short, stealing second and scoring when Rattray threw wide to third to stop him purloining the peg nearest home. Murphy went out, Shea to Graham. One run.

Fourth innings—Rattray led off with a single. Mackrell lined one to right that looked like an easy safety, but Burns fielded the ball fast and made a beautiful throw to first, getting the runner. Rattray made second on the play but was caught napping off the bag by Murphy, who who stole in from left and covered the bag. Heaslip hit to left and Murphy made a pretty running catch, getting the ball off his boot tops. No runs.

O'Brien flew out to Graham, McDermott put up a fly to Rattray, and Edmunds struck out. No runs.

Fifth innings—Callaghan went out on a bunt to Clements, Quinlan struck out and Connors flew out to Murphy. No runs.

Lawson was safe when Connors dropped his easy fly to centre, and stole second, scoring when Shea threw wide to first on Hawkins' grounder. Hawkins was out stealing second but Craig hit to Andrews, who threw wide to first, the runner reaching third and scoring on Clements' single through short. Clements was forced at second on Burns' grounder to the pitcher and Murphy struck out. Two runs.

Sixth innings—Graham was given a complimentary. Shea lined one out to centre to Craig, and Graham was doubled on the play. Andrews died on a grounder to third. No runs.

O'Brien flew out to Connors and McDermott and Edmunds were killed on grounders to Quinlan. No runs.

Seventh innings—Rattray was safe on O'Brien's low throw to first. Mackrell flew out to Craig. Heaslip to O'Brien and Callaghan struck out. No runs.

Lawson grounded to Andrews, Hawkins was out on a fly to Mackrell and Craig mused three. No runs.

Eighth innings—Quinlan fanned, Connors singled over second and stole the middle station, going to third on Graham's sacrifice and scoring on Shea's single to left. Shea was out stealing second. One run.

Clements fanned but Burns was safe on Mackrell's error and stole second and third. Murphy went out on a high fly to Rattray and O'Brien's beat was a grounder to second. No runs.

Ninth innings—Andrews flew out to Hawkins. Rattray lifted one to left, which Murphy and Hawkins let drop between them, owing to a misunderstanding as to who was to take the ball. "Rats" went to second when Lawson tossed one over Clements' head. Mackrell singled to right and stole second. With two on the bases and two strikes on him Heaslip parted the sphere to the fence corner in left field for two bases, scoring Rattray and Mackrell. Murphy made a great stab but couldn't reach the ball. Callaghan singled to left centre and Heaslip, who tried to score from second on the play, was nipped at the plate on a throw from Craig, Quinlan bit safely, bringing Callaghan home. Connors struck out. Three runs.

The Petes could do nothing in their half. McDermott flew out to Andrews, Edmunds and Lawson fanned and the best game of the season was over.

Notes of the Fray

Had for the heart those ninth innings' victories.

With one gone in the ninth and one run in the lead the Petes looked to have the game packed on ice. Heaslip's two bagger opened the refrigerator door, however.

Rattray's single in the ninth, which started the fire works was a plucky one. The ball went right into the air and either Hawkins or Murphy could have got it easily, but there was a misunderstanding as to who was to take it and the ball dropped between them.

Quinlan pitched one of the best games of his career. His control was perfect.

Murphy covers acres of ground in left field. He came in from the outside edge of the sawdust for one Saturday.

Burns, Shea and Rattray got seven of the thirteen hits made between them.

Mackrell hit the ball on the nose every time up, but the outfield disposed of three of his drives.

Heaslip's drive could not have been every time up, but the outfield disjust inside the left field fence and Murphy could not reach it. He got the ball into the diamond in plenty of time to stop one of the runs, but Clements failed to cover the plate and Mackrell counted.

The league standing is now as follows:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Peterboroughs	4	1	.800
Athletics	2	3	.400
Cobourg	2	3	.400
Port Hope	2	3	.400

Fast Cobourg Team Will Play Athletics Here On The Holiday

The only attraction for the "stay-at-homes" on Dominion Day will be the ball game between the Athletics and Cobourg in the Midland League series, which will be played at Riverside park at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. It should be one of the best games of the season. Port Hope, Cobourg and the Athletics are all tied with two victories and three losses, and the locals will make a big effort to put a crimp in "Slick" Mulhall's Cobourgites. Manager Lynch's team are playing great ball as shown by their clean-cut victory over the Peterboroughs on Saturday, and they hope to score another win on the holiday, which will boost their standing considerably. They will have on their strongest line-up, and although Cobourg will likely have a number of imports on hand, the Athletics, with Quinlan on the firing line, are not worrying much. A big crowd should be on hand for the game.

FREE PRESS KNOCKS 4 DAY WALK

Says They Will Not Stand for Any Hippodrome Performance

The Lindsay Free Press is knocking the walking race to be held there this week, principally because a number of Peterborough walkers are to take part in the contest. It seems to be the policy in Lindsay of knocking anyone in Peterborough who does anything, whether he be a walker, a Marathon runner, or a baseball or hockey player, apparently forgetting that Peterborough turns out more athletes, in proportion to its size, than any city in Canada. Only six placed in Canada are represented on the Olympic team, and Peterborough is one of those.

The Peterborough boys who are to take part in the Lindsay race will give the people their money's worth, and it looks like a short-sighted policy on the part of the Free Press to run down the only live sporting event the Scugog town is ever likely to have.

HARRISON, THE WALKER, IN FINE SHAPE

Trainer Predicts That He Will Surprise Hoagland and Slater

Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Just a line to let you know that our man Jimmy Harrison is in the pink of condition for his contest with the American cracks that he will meet in Port Hope. He is very anxious to have a battle royal with Hoagland and Slater and feels that he is in much better condition to make a creditable showing for himself and Peterborough than he did in his previous contest with the same men. In regard to Mr. Slater's challenge of some time ago of being able to out walk five of Canada's best pedestrains, I think we are able to get two or three right here that will give him all the walk he needs for 25 miles, if a match could be so arranged. Jimmy has gone to Port Hope to-day and his trainer will follow him on Tuesday, and both feel confident of being up with the leaders at the close of the race, and to show them that Canada is still around on the walking game.

I remain,

Yours truly,
J. MURPHY,
Trainer,
Smith street.

Peterborough, June 29, 1908.

LAWN BOWLING

The following games were played Saturday evening:

Mr. Thompson	Mr. Adams.
H Maynard	W Robinson
R Cotterell	D Bellegham
W L Talbot, sk.19	R M Waddell, sk 11
T E Pratt	G Giroux
Mr. Adams	A R Kidd
D Bellegham	Mr. McKone
F H Dixon, sk...20	Dr. Greer, sk...14

The following is the draw for to-night's play:

J B McIntyre vs. D Bellegham.
R M Waddell vs. Dr. Marshall.
W E Talbot vs. E A Rannells.

Len Dobson is playing a fine game at short stop for the Lindsay Bankers. The Free Press says: Dobson's stealing was one of the features of the game that delighted the hearts of the fans and made even the gentler sex hold their breath as this daring thief of the bags made off with them one after another.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

The Lindsay Free Press says that it will not stand for anything in the way of a hippodrome performance in sport. And yet City Editor Hogan, of that enterprising sheet, has been known to turn out to lacrosse practise and to fancy himself as a long distance walker and runner. But he's probably more in the nature of a burlecque than a hippodrome attraction.

The Lindsay Free Press has the following rather dubious comment on the walking race, which commences there on Wednesday. The Free Press evidently is afraid that some of the Lindsay people will lose a little money. The paper has not been in existence long enough to know that they make money very easily in Lindsay. But here is the knock.

According to the Peterborough papers, the Lindsay walking match, which is being advertised around, is not going to have a look-in for walkers of any reputation—all the good ones are piking for Port Hope. Hoagland and Slater and Jim Harrison, who were among the shining lights at the Peterborough walk some months ago, are going to "hoof" it at the Lakeside City, where prospects of a splendid financial showing exist owing to the Old Boys' Re-union which is about to be held. This gives Lindsay a very poor show, and if the Examiner is correct—and it should know—the great Napoleon of walking contests, George Stevens, should give up the idea of trying to palm off an amateur exhibition on the citizens of Lindsay and using some Peterborough boys as professional walkers. Joe Guerin, Peterborough, accompanied by Charlie Stevens, son of the promoter of the walk, will leave the Porridge City this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, and will attempt to cover the ground from there to Lindsay in seven hours.

Lindsay may or may not take to walking contests, but the people should at least be furnished with a decent exhibition upon which to base their opinion. The Free Press will not stand for anything in the way of a hippodrome performace in sport.

The only time they have any excitement over sport in Lindsay is when a traction engine from the surrounding country challenges the town road roller to a race on Kent street. The walking race will wake things up a bit and the Scugogites will get their money's worth all right.

HOW YOU GET CONSUMPTION.

Most "lungers" allowed their power of resistance to fall very low. Favorable conditions were provided for the development of the baccilli. Consumption was the result.

But in a healthy body Consumption can't take root. The most potent health-maker is Ferrozone. Take it regularly and you needn't fear tuberculosis.

FERROZONE

Supplies exactly what the man verging on Consumption needs. It forms rich, nutritious blood, strengthens the nerves, puts vim and endurance into every organ of the body.

For the tired, weak—anyone in poor health—Ferrozone is worth its weight in gold. Avoid substitutes!

Band Practice

—There will be a practice of the Peterborough City Band on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock sharp. All members are urged to attend, by request of R. Common, conductor.

Important Meeting

—An important meeting of the N. C. O.'s of the 57th Regiment will be held in their mess rooms, over Alex. Elliott's liquor store, on Simcoe street, on Tuesday, June 30, at 8 o'clock p.m.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

—The change of season affects pianos as well as everything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano-maker and tuner, with 28 years' experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H S Macdonald's drug store.

Union Meeting

—A union meeting of the three temperance organizations of the city will be held to-night in the Y. M. C. A., to discuss plans for a series of Gospel Temperance meetings in the autumn. All members of the above societies are invited to attend.

Handy writing pads in pictorial covers including our own illustrated writing pads, with souvenir views of Peterborough. Also pretty boxes of stationery, containing writing paper and envelopes to match. Just the thing for tourists. For sale at the Peterborough Bookstore, A. H. Stratton & Co.

Market Washed

—Mirable dictu! The market clerk's office was washed out today. Clerk Ball thereby deserves a record in the pages of history. For Clerk Lee was never known to have applied anything but firecrackers to make the place look like new, and Clerk McIlmoyle's cigars were the only renovators the office ever knew under his regime. But now the windows and everything else are beginning to look bright and new.

NEW PASTOR COMING TO CHARLOTTE ST.

Rev. Mr. Henderson Will Preach There Next Sunday

In the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, during the morning service, Rev. Mr. Manning referred to the fact of the present being his last Sunday as pastor of the Charlotte Street Church. His successor, Rev. G. W. Henderson, would preach his first sermon as pastor, on next Sunday. He was a man of robust physique, a strong man spiritually, and intellectually brilliant. He was an all-round good man, and he predicted for him a most successful pastorate. No one knew, said the speaker, his own weaknesses better than he did himself, and he fully appreciated the conditions of the past two years. He had canvassed some members of the congregation during the past week in connection with the new church, and hoped to conclude the canvass this week. On Friday evening they would have prayer meeting in a tent on the new church grounds at the usual hour, and services on Sunday next would be held at 11 o'clock in the morning and at 7 in the evening, with Sunday school at 2.30 p.m.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE AT KNOX CHURCH

Was Held Yesterday Morning—Children Took Part

At the Knox church yesterday morning the service took the form of a patriotic service and was carried out in an excellent manner. About 150 scholars of the Sunday school took part in it occupying the front seats. They sang a number of hymns, the first being the National Anthem and the last was also patriotic. Miss Clara Bartley and Jessie Miller sang "More Like Jesus Would I Be" and Harold Hatcher sang "Jesus, and Shall it Ever Be."

The pastor, Rev. H J Keith, delivered a patriotic address, taking the three crosses which constitute the Union Jack and drawing a lesson from each and from the whole flag. The cross of St. Andrew representing the martyr reminds us of the need of citizens of a similar type in this country to-day. The cross of St. George the Knight suggests the need of true soldiers to meet and attack the evils of to-day. The cross of St. Patrick, the missionary reminds us of the duty we owe in this regard. These three are suggested by the cross of Christ and must be supreme. We must be loyal standard bearers in Christ's Army and then be the best citizens in every day life.

TWO PICNICS ON THE G. T. R.

One From Fenelon Falls, the Other From Lindsay

About 400 visitors are in town today comprising two excursions one from Fenelon Falls, the other from Lindsay. Both are under the auspices of the Methodist Sunday School of each town. The Fenelon Falls excursionists spent the day about the city. Conductor Gassein had charge of the train. Conductor O'Neill had the other party, most of whom got off at Jackson Park. The Fenelon Falls people left at 5 o'clock and the Lindsay party at 7 o'clock.

WEDDING BELLS.

FALLIS—MORRISON

On Thursday afternoon, June 25th, a very pleasing event took place at 5.30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. David H. Morrison, of Bonafort, the occasion being the marriage of his only daughter, Miss Frances Verna Morrison, to Mr. John Howard Fallis. About forty guests were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. D. A. McKenzie, B.A., of Centreville Presbyterian Church.

The bride looked charming in a beautiful dress of white crepe de Chene. She was given away by her father. Miss Annie Morrison, cousin of the bride performed the duties of bridesmaid and Mr. Austin Fallis acted as groomsman. Miss Amy Wood played the wedding march. The marriage took place on the spacious lawn under an arch of evergreens.

After congratulations the guests partook of an excellent supper, served in the dining room, which was artistically decorated with evergreens, carnations and asparagus ferns. The many beautiful and costly presents received by the happy couple were a testimony to the high esteem in which they are held by their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Fallis will reside in South Monaghan.

ALL SAINTS' FOOTBALL TEAM HERE JULY 1ST

They Meet the Quakers at the Oval—A Great Game Expected

The crack All Saints' Football team of Toronto will be here on July 1st; to meet the Quakers. The game will be played about 1.30 o'clock at Nicholls Oval, and it will be one of the best ever seen on local grounds. The Quakers will select their team at to-night's practice.

CHURCH SERVICES AND NOTICES

St. Luke's Church

The annual Bible Class excursion takes place on Wednesday, July 1.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock the Junior Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will meet.

St. John's

Monday—Boys' choir practice, 7.30.

Girls' Guild picnic.

Thursday—8 p.m., choir practice.

Saturday—9 a.m., Boys' Training Class.

Sunday — Holy Communion at 8.30 and 11 a.m. Sunday school at 3 p.m. Scholars receive their tickets for the annual excursion to Clear Lake on Wednesday, July 8, from their respective teachers next Sunday at school.

At the morning service at St. John's yesterday the choir and congregation sang the great thanksgiving hymn, "Now Thank We All Our God," as a special act of thanksgiving for the success of the Pan-Anglican Congress, just over. The Evensong (which was the festal Evensong of the Festival of St. Peter, Apostle and Martyr) was fully choral, response, Psalm and hymn all well sung by the large, well-trained choir. Miss Ruth Dawson sang "Abide with Me" during the offertory exceedingly well.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

Editor Post-card Column.

Dear Sir.—It is a wonder the proper authorities do not get after the boys and young men who congregate around the lake and river and make things decidedly disagreeable for canoeists by using disgraceful language. Their profanity and obscene language make it almost impossible for ladies to go out on the river at all, and it is time a stop was put to it.

Yours, etc.,

JUDGMENT IS RESERVED IN APPEAL

Judge Weller Heard Arguments Against Magistrate Dumble's Decision

The appeal made by a local hotelkeeper against the decision of Magistrate Dumble, by which he was fined fifty dollars and costs on a charge of selling liquor to a minor, was argued before Judge Weller. Mr. Jas. Haverson of Toronto appeared on behalf of the appellant, and argued that the decision was not based on good law, and asked that if His Honour found that the judgment was sound that the fine be reduced. Judge Weller reserved judgment.

NEW BRIGADE READY TO MOVE IN

Chief Howard Has His Men Ready to Take Possession of the Hall

Chief Howard and the new permanent fire brigade will take charge of the firehall at midnight to-night when the old brigade will vacate the premises. The matter of selecting the personnel of the new brigade was left in the hands of Chief Howard and he informed the Examiner to-day that he has selected his brigade and is all ready to move in to-night. The names of the new firemen will be published on Thursday.

WILL FORM FIREMEN'S CLUB NOW

Volunteer Brigade Have Decided Not to Disband The Organization

The members of the volunteer fire brigade have decided not to disband and have formed what will be known as the Old Fire Brigade Club, with the purpose of cementing the ties which have held the members together for so long. The club will have a membership of seventy-five, at least, as not only the members of the brigade, who give up office to-night, but also anyone who has been connected with the brigade, will be eligible for membership. The idea is a good one and the new club should flourish. Club rooms have been secured on Simcoe street.

THOS. DEAKIN SUPPOSED TO BE DEAD CIRCUS MAN LIVING HERE

Left the Circus at Napanee So That the News of the Man Identified as Deakin is Still a Mystery—Has Been Here Since June 19th

IDENTIFIED BY THE PHOTO

The circus man who was found near Haileybury last week and who has been positively identified by his landlady and other people as Thomas Deakin of Toronto is not Deakin at all, for that gentleman is in Peterborough and has been here since June 19, two days after Cole Bros.' circus visited the city. Mr. Deakin called on the Examiner to-day to notify the public through the medium of this paper that he is still alive and well, despite the people who identified the dead body as his.

It will be remembered that the body of an unknown man was picked up near Haileybury and it was supposed he had either been thrown from or had fallen off the circus train. There was an investigation and circus employees gave some startling information. A few days afterwards by means of a photograph the body was identified as that of Thos. Deakin of Toronto.

The latter was with the circus until they reached Napanee, the day after they had given two shows here. At Napanee he left Cole Bros. and returned to Peterborough next day, remaining here ever since. Since he has learned of the mistake from the Toronto papers he has been busily engaged in letting his friends know that he is still alive. His home is at Providence, R.I.

LABOURER ALMOST ENTOMBED BY CAVE-IN ON SEWER TO-DAY

Alex Walker, one of the city labourers, who is engaged in locating the sewer on Hunter street in order to make a connection with the Times building, had a narrrow escape from being killed by a cave-in at 9 o'clock this morning. The plan of the sewer was not on file at the City Engineer's office and it was necessary to dig at random in an effort to locate it. An excavation to the depths of six feet was made, but it was found that it was north of the sewer which was located by means of rods shoved through from the man hole at George street. Walker was lying on the ground at the bottom of the excavation, listening for the rods, when his fellow workmen above noticed that the ground had started to cave in and shouted a warning to him. Walker quickly sprang to his feet, but before he could get out of the way he was buried up to his shoulders in the downpour of gravel. He was, as quickly as possible, dug out of his predicament and was found to be unhurt.

His escape was a narrow one. Had he not been able to stand erect before the cave-in, he would undoubtedly been smothered before he could be rescued.

Rather Serious Runaway In A Smith Farmers' Hay Field

Word was received from Smith this morning of an accident to Mr. Wm. Pethick on Saturday at his farm on the seventh concession, lot 7. He was engaged in drawing in hay, and was driving the heavy waggon used for that purpose. A young man was driving a hay rake in the same field, gathering the hay in cocks.

The rake drove close to the team on the waggon and it is believed that this frightened them, for they started to run around the field. Mr. Pethick, it is reported, was injured in several places about the head, although not seriously. The horses damaged the waggon considerably before they were stopped.

Arrangements For A Large Crowd At The T.A.S. Picnic

The annual excursion of the St. Peter's T.A.S. will be held to-morrow to the T.A.S. Park. The committees have arranged everything, which should work like a clock. The steamers Beaver and Rainbow with pleasure barge will make regular trips all day from the street railway wharf. The first trip will be from the Wolfe street wharf. A grand list of sports will be run off, provision for meals has been carefully arranged for, and booths will also be handy. An orchestra will supply the music for dancing on the open pavilion. The tickets for the trip include street railway coupons.

The Tooth Brush Question

It is very annoying to pay a good price for a Tooth Brush and then have the bristles loosen up and stick in your mouth. We guard you against this very unfortunate occurrence.

Any Brush you pay 25c or over for at our stores, we guarantee to give satisfaction or a new Tooth Brush.

We have them at 10 and 15c, but then your mouth deserves a better Brush.

HOAGLAND IS REVISITING PETERBOROUGH

Crack Yankee Walker Was in the City This Morning

W. A. Hoagland, of Auburn, N.Y., the world's champion walker, who won the big six-day walking race here in April, and who likewise won the hearts of the citizens of Peterborough by his clever walking and sportsmanlike conduct, was in the city this morning for a few hours renewing acquaintances. Mr. Hoagland will be a starter in Jimmy Reynolds' four day race at Port Hope which opens in the skating rink at 9 o'clock to-morrow and in which Tom Slater, the Oswego crack, and Jim Harrison, our own speedy "ped." are entered. The big Yankee as he was familiarly called during the walk here, has been in Port Hope for a couple of days and took a run up to Peterborough this morning in company with his little daughter, Bernice, who is the guest of the Misses Graham.

To the Examiner the champion stated that he has not had a walking shoe on his feet since he left here but is in good condition and confident of giving the Port Hopers a satisfactory exhibition. The walk there will be a success as there are ten entries and as the people seem to be generally interested in the affair.

Hoagland has been umpiring ball games in the Empire State League every day since the middle of May until Sunday when he obtained a week's leave to come over to Port Hope for the race.

He was given a warm welcome to Peterborough by those who made his acquaintance during the walk here.

CONFEDERATION DAY.

To-morrow is the fifty-first anniversary of Canadian Confederation. While the day itself has a particular interest to us all it gains an important significance because the year is that of the tercentenary of the founding of Canada by Champlain, which naturally suggests other turning points in the way of progress in the history of the country. The year 1908 is also the 134th anniversary of the Quebec Act, which may be called the political founding of Canada, since it conferred upon our French fellow subjects the full measure of constitutional privilege, in accordance with British freedom, for this made them our fellow subjects on equal terms with the race that finally won in the see-saw game of conquest on the Plains of Abraham, on Sept. 13th, 1759. This year is also the 67th anniversary of the establishment of responsible government, the beginning of the national progress, the true foundation of the progress which has advanced to the gratifying stage which exists to-day. This is also the year of the "national foundation" of the Quebec Battlefields Park at Quebec, an elaborate ceremonial, which will place the copestone upon the work of unifying the two races which contended on the Plains of Abraham for supremacy of the northern half of this continent, and in which contest "destiny," as the inscription over the grave of Montcalm, the companion hero of Wolfe, says, "robbed him of victory and recompensed him with a glorious death." The unity of the races which has been progressing for the past one hundred and fifty years, will be marked anew by the events of next month at historic old Quebec. The significant importance of the occasion in its aim and probable outcome, cannot be too much emphasised.

"High above all, on a calm, central summit of that field of double victory and four-fold glory (Montcalm, Wolfe, Levis, Murray) the angel of peace will stand in benediction of the scene. In her blest presence the heirs of a fame, cold round the world in French and English speech, can dwell upon a bounteous view, that has long forgotten the grim face of war. But remember . . . the statue of peace rests on ancestral prowess. The very ground reminds them of supreme ordeals. And, though in mere size it is no more to the great bulk of Canada than the flag is to a man of war, yet like the flag it is the sign and symbol of a people's soul."

The tercentenary year will be marked with a white stone in the annals of the Empire. Another circumstance which gives emphasis to the significance of the peace-making, race-welding character of the tercentenary celebration is that it is complementary to the entente cordiale established this year, the seventh year of the Seventh Edward—the Peace-maker—between historic foes. The tercentenary is a function of peace and it is hoped that any possible remnants of the old enmity will be buried beyond hope of resurrection on the Plains of Abraham, in which lies the dust of the heroes of the final struggle—Wolfe and Montcalm—par nobile fratrum, equal in heroism and glory, noble types of two great races. We began with conciliation one hundred and fifty years ago, with concord the ripened fruit. We enter upon a new era of progress as on this forty-first anniversary of Confederation. With our great resources, our illimitable area, with a united and harmonious people we enter upon a new stage of advancement. Nothing but discord can stay our growth. With warring elements at rest, with patriotism of the broadest as our inspiration, with mutual toleration, with a faithful discharge of the duties of citizenship, under the benediction of Divine Providence the Canada of to-day, proud boast as she is of her children, will grow as a tree and shine as a lamp among the nations of the earth.

The opening of the Kirkella extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway and its entrance into Saskatoon, which half a dozen years ago had a population of 200 souls, and to-day is a city of 6,000 people, is a striking illustration of what western progress means. This prairie town is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, whose system from there to Winnipeg is expected to be ready to participate in moving what all expect will be the largest crop of the Canadian West. When Saskatoon was able to do so much before it had direct railway connection, what may Canada not expect of it when it has two systems passing through it.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Laurier Administration, says the London Advertiser, has shown its good faith by amending its civil service reform bill, so as to make the civil service commissioners independent of the Government.

Here is an administrative puzzle. The Ontario Gazette solemnly announces that "upon the recommendation of the Hon. the Minister of Public Works, the Committee of Council advise that under section 26 (d) of 'The Ontario Game and Fisheries Act' no frogs shall be taken or destroyed from the 30th day of April to the 16th day of July, in each year in the county of Lanark, Province of Ontario." Why is the batrachian population of the county of Lanark specially set apart as the objects of administrative immunity? Perhaps the special protection of Provincial Treasurer Matheson is aimed at. He has made such a magnificent financial muddle since he became Finance Minister, that provision is made for immunity from attack. For about a dozen years as financial critic of the Conservative party, he became the champion croaker, and thus was considered qualified to come under the frog amnesty, specially and solely extended to Lanark, which he represents in the Legislature.

STORY OF THE BYE-ELECTIONS

(Brantford Expositor.)

In order to curb, just a little bit, the undue exultation of the Ontario Conservatives over the results of the recent Provincial elections, we will be pardoned if we recall the results of the Federal bye-elections; and these, it may be noted, are the most reliable barometer of popular sentiment, so far as the Dominion Parliament is concerned.

A return of the bye-elections for 1907 issued recently shows that out of fourteen contests held during the year there were five elections by acclamation, the members elected being all Liberals. In the nine contested constituencies, Liberals were elected in six and Conservatives in only three. The aggregate Liberal majorities were 5,318 and the aggregate Conservative majorities, 1,500, to which the Conservative candidate's majority in London, Ont., against the Labour candidate, contributed 1,035.

The following is the record of the bye-elections since 1904:

	Lib.	Con.	Lab.
New Brunswick	2
Nova Scotia	3	1
Quebec	14	1	1
Ontario	10	7
Saskatchewan	2
Alberta	2
British Columbia	1

If from such figures the Conservatives are able to derive any comfort they are easily satisfied.

A SUCCESSFUL PIANO RECITAL

Given by Pupils of Miss Addie Dorris—Pleasant Evening Spent at Her Home

PUPILS' EXCELLENT WORK

A very pleasing and highly successful piano recital was the one given last evening by some twenty-five of the pupils of Miss Addie Dorris at her home on Cedar street. About fifty of the parents and friends of the pupils were in attendance and thoroughly enjoyed each number, as all the pupils acquitted themselves nobly, reflecting credit not only upon themselves, but also upon their teacher. It would be hard to give special mention to any of the performers, as each and every one, beginners and those more advanced, acquitted themselves in a manner greatly appreciated by all, and in a way that certainly left nothing to be expected of them. But variation was given the programme by a sweetly-sung solo "Won't You Come Over to My House" by a little tot of five years. Miss Florence Gardiner; a recitation by Miss Carrie White in her own capable manner, and a violin solo by Miss Evelyn Dorris, a pupil at the Conservatory. Following is the programme:

THE DIAMOND CALK HORSESHOE

Meeting of the Directors of Company at Peterborough

The Diamond Calk Horseshoe Company, Limited, whose head office is in Toronto, held a meeting in Peterborough last Friday. The President, Mr. H P Kennedy, when asked about the nature of the business transacted, said: "The Company decided to proceed with the manufacture of their patent horseshoes in Peterborough, and are now maturing plans for increasing their facilities for manufacturing their patent calks, screws, calk holders and retaining plates. Upwards of $20,000 worth of new stock has been taken up during the past month, and the Company hopes soon to be in a position to meet the demand which has sprung up for their new shoes, now so strongly endorsed by horsemen in Canada and the United States.

2 in 1 SHOE POLISH

"I tell you, Boss, people are so particular about the Shoe Polish they use that they ask me each night to be sure and use "2 in 1."

It's easier for me, too, and you should see the smile I get in the morning."

A Story In Chapters

I.

Furnace properly and carefully installed.

II.

With great ease water is placed in waterpan, drafts opened and coal fire started. Fire soon burns up brightly, drafts are closed and check-draft opened. Immediately heat-power begins to penetrate dome and radiator surrounding dome. The incoming cold air immediately receives the energy of this heat-power, and by natural law ascends up the hot-air pipes, thence to rooms. No gas escapes into cellar or rooms because there is an automatic gas damper providing for its escape up the chimney.

III.

In the morning a gentle rocking of the lever removes all ashes from grates. No dust in operator's face, for he first opened damper into dust-pipe leading from ash-pit, then direct draft at smoke-pipe entrance, and all dust passed up dust-pipe to dome, then out chimney.

IV.

No need to shovel any ashes away. All nicely settled in ash-pan ready to be quickly and easily removed from pit. On coming upstairs operator finds that he requires no whisking off, and his wife don't scold him for "making everything white."

Operator is delighted. When asked the name of his furnace, he proudly said,

Some Changeable Weather Is Predicted For The Month Of July By Professor Irl Hicks

Twelfth of July May be Cool—Thunder Storms Coming—Rainfall Not Great

THE ENTIRE PREDICTIONS

To-morrow is the first day of July and many will be interested in Prof. Irl Hicks' weather predictions for the month. He believes that about the 5th or 6th of the month the earth will be visited by a great electrical storm. There will also be a number of other electrical storms, but the rainfall will not be in proportion to their threatening appearances. The Twelfth of July will probably be cool. Following are the complete weather predictions as stated in "Word and Works":

A reactionary storm period is central on the 4th, 5th and 6th. The storm period central on June 29 will last into the 1st and 2nd of July. storms of that period, however, will have worked past the central parts of the country by July 1, followed from the west by rising barometer and change to somewhat cooler. On and touching the 4th, 5th and 6th look for reaction to falling barometer and change to much warmer. Cloudiness, rain and thunderstorms will visit many localities on and next to the 5th and 6th, as low barometric areas pass eastwardly over the country. The crisis of electrical excitation will fall on and touching the 6th. As these storms pass off to the east, rising barometer and change to cooler will follow closely from the west. A somewhat remarkable conjunction of astronomic phenomena falls within this period, namely, the inferior conjunctions of both Venus and Mercury—Mercury on the 4th and Venus on the 5th. Added to these, Earth is in conjunction with Neptune and the Sun on the 6th, and within a few hours falls the opposition of Uranus—or the passing of Earth between Uranus and the Sun. We believe that phenomenal barometric fluctuations, with great magnetic and electric unrest, will result at this period. If Jupiter Moon were in either conjunction or opposition, earthquakes would be a certainty on and about the 6th.

A regular storm period reaches from the 9th to the 13th, embracing the full moon at greatest south declination on the 13th. By the 10th a decided fall of barometer will be noted in western sections, attended by a warm wave of marked intensity. From about Friday the 10th to Monday the 13th, coming to a crisis on and touching the 13th, look for black, threatening storm clouds, with rain, thunder and high winds. We fear that the rainfall at this and other July periods will not be in proportion to the severity and threatening appearances of the storms. "Waterspouts and cloudbursts" will visit some localities, but other and much wider sections will suffer for want of rain. We believe that the world-wide predisposition to earthquakes will have greatly subsided by the summer of 1908, but such things must occasionally happen during any and all years. Taking a period of five to six days, with July the 13th as the centre, seismic disturbances are more than probable in many quarters of the globe, especially in regions on and south of the equator. Brief change to somewhat cooler will be natural from about the 13th to 15th.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 16th and 17th. This period is also within the brace of the Mercury period, shown in the engraved storm chart for July. During this period look for a reaction to much warmer, with falling barometer and return to cloudiness and scattering, light rains.

A regular storm period is central, coincident with the centre of the Mercury period, the regular storm period extending from the 19th to the 24th, and the Mercury period from the 18th to the 25th. About the 20th the barometer will fall in western parts of the country, with rapidly rising temperature, followed by general cloudiness. During the 21st to 24th threatening storm clouds and much severe thunder will be natural. This period is also one of the most favourable times for rain during this month. As a rule the Mercury periods bring much continued cloudiness, with drizzling rain, but some of the heaviest storms and rainfalls frequently occur at the blending of regular storm periods directly with the Mercury periods. Such results are possible at this period, but we fear that rains will not be generally diffused and copious. Narrow localities may have deluging downpours, but the grain belts, and other wide areas of the country, while they may have ugly storm clouds, thunder and high winds, will most likely suffer a shortage in rainfall. A change to cooler, more pleasant conditions may reasonably be expected from about the 24th to the 27th.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 27th, 28th and 29th. The moon is at extreme north declination on the 26th, in apogee on the 29th, and in conjunction with earth and sun, or at new moon, on the 28th. It is possible that change to cooler may not appear generally from the 25th to 27th, following the previous period, in which event the temperature will continue to increase, culminating in one of the most intense "hot waves" of the summer, counting three days before and after Tuesday the 28th. A seismic period of five to seven days is also central on July 28th. The indications are that a "heated term" will break down, letting in a respite of some days of more pleasant weather, as we pass from July into August.

Close students will observe that we indicate the end of Jupiter period in the diagram for June. In the nature of the case, the exact beginning and ending of these great perturbations are only approximated. Like all the other periods, they may be precipitated or prolonged by other astronomic causes. We believe that the strong characteristics of the Jupiter disturbance will practically subside with the June, 1908, solstice, and yet they may continue in force until after the autumnal equinox. The Saturn period still being in force may prolong the Jupiter period. Drought in the summer of 1908 will be in proportion as Jupiter's influence continues.

In closing our forecasts in June Word and Works, we gave telegraphic dispatches from different parts of the earth, showing that our forecasts of seismic shakes for the opening days of May were verified. For many years we have constantly urged all whom we could reach to keep a complete record of all the earthquake reports—no matter where or when they might occur. We shall continue to urge the same thing, and we just as earnestly insist that all these reports be compared with our seismic forecasts. By so doing any one may soon prove to himself that there are regular seismic cycles, outside of which such phenomena rarely occur. There were two other seismic periods in our May forecasts, one central on the 15th, and extending from the 13th to 17th.

NICE HAIR FOR ALL

Once Destroy the Dandruff Germ, and Hair Grows Luxuriantly

Anyone can have nice hair if he or she has not dandruff, which causes brittle, dry hair, falling hair and baldness. To cure dandruff it is necessary to kill the germ that causes it, and that is just what Newbro's Herpicide does.

Cornelius Grew, Colfax, Wash., says: "One bottle of Newbro's Herpicide completely cured me of dandruff, which was very thick; and it has stopped my hair from falling out." It makes hair soft and glossy as silk; delightful odor, and refreshing hair dressing. It permits the hair to grow abundantly, and kills the dandruff germ.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c and $1. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

REFERENCE TO MR. JAS. STEVENSON

Attended the Funeral in Lindsay of Mrs. Flavelle

An interesting feature of the funeral of the late Mrs. John Flavelle was that of Mr. James Stevenson, ex-M.P., of Peterborough. Mr. Stevenson was in the hardware business in Peterborough sixty-two years ago, when Mrs. Flavelle came out from Ireland with her husband and he was one of the first friends of the newly arrived family—a relationship which was maintained throughout all the intervening years and only terminated on Tuesday last when Mrs. Flavelle passed away. Mr. Stevenson was one of the first mayors of Peterborough, and his business-like grasp of affairs won for him the hearty good will and support of many a political opponent. After that for many years he represented West Peterborough in the House of Commons, though of recent years he has ceased to take any active part in politics, his years, now reaching 86, rendering him less active than formerly.—Lindsay Free Press.

DOMINION DAY AT HASTINGS

The Hastings fire brigade and citizens have completed full arrangements for their celebration on Dominion Day, Wednesday next, and all who visit that town on that day are guaranteed a good time from 10 a.m. until the close of the sports in the evening.

There will be canoe races, both single and double, in the morning, and waiking the greasy pole, as well as running the log slide over the dam.

After dinner there will start the calethumpian procession at 1 o'clock sharp, headed by the famous 57th Regiment Band of Peterborough. After the procession has circled the main streets it will cross the bridge to the athletic grounds, where the sports will take place. Baseball, Strathconas of Peterborough vs. Hastings, football, Keene vs. Campbellford, tug of war; five-mile road race; three-mile walking race; putting the shot, and other events.

During the afternoon the 57th Band will render a complete programme in the grounds. There has also been erected a grand pavilion for dancing, and the best of music will be provided. Admission—25 cents; children, 15 cents.

Dear Sir,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque for $2,500.00 in settlement of fire loss, Policy 8,645,879, Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.

We note in connection with this settlement a most unusual feature. They are legally entitled to 1% of stated sum for payment prior to due date. No business man would for one moment question their right to this amount. But they do not take it. Instead they have purposely waived their privileges and presented us with this additional amount.

We are gratified to note this remarkable action. To adjust and settle a loss within twelve days is noteworthy, but to add to this magnanimity in refusing to take advantage of their discount privileges places this company in a most favorable position.

We congratulate you upon representing a company of such superior standing.

Yours very truly,

INCIDENTS OF A TOUR OF PALESTINE AS SEEN BY A PETERBOROUGH VISITOR

Mr. T. F. Matthews' Interesting Address at the Murray Street Baptist Sunday School — The Holy Land, Its Places and Its People

A PROFITABLE ADDRESS

The Examiner is pleased to be able to present to its readers the address given by Mr. T. F. Matthews at the Murray Street Sunday School on Sunday afternoon, which, no doubt, will be found decidedly interesting and enjoyable. It deals with the Holy Land especially and sets forth some of the places visited by Mr. Matthews during his recent trip to the Orient. The address was as follows:

Before telling you of my impressions of Jerusalem and Palestine I have thought it might be interesting to give a very brief account of the trip I was fortunate enough to be able to take early this year, during which we touched at some very pretty and historic spots of the old world.

Leaving Peterborough early in February, when it was extremely cold and the ground completely covered with snow, we sailed two days afterwards from New York, and had very disagreeable weather for the first few days, but as we neared the other side of the Atlantic Ocean it became much warmer. On the morning of the eighth day we approached the Madeira Islands, and during the early morning sailed alongside of the largest island, and could see from the ship the sides of the hills studded with pretty white cottages, around which were clustered vineyards and fields of sugar cane, while at the back, the hills developed into mountains, many of them snow-capped. We reached Funchal, the capital, about ten o'clock in the morning, and we all were most anxious to get on shore. We were surprised and delighted with what we saw. The city is built on the steep side of a hill, making it almost impossible to use horses on the streets, which are all paved with cobble stones. The cabs are large sleds with wooden runners drawn by oxen, and the driver carries an oil soaked cloth which he throws down and allows the runners to pass over it, when in his opinion the conveyance is "drawing hard." The weather was just such as we have here in June. We saw all varieties of semi-tropical flowers and fruits, pickled oranges and bananas, drove around in the bullock-drawn cabs, and as we passed along the bright-faced, happy-looking children threw flowers at us, hoping that we would throw out pennies in return.

Cadiz was Visited

After a two days stay here we left for Spain, landing at Cadiz. I had expected to see the usual dirty seaport city, but on going ashore was immediately struck with the cleanliness of the streets and the smart appearance of the Spanish women. Instead of hats each wore a mantilla. One of the historic spots in the city is Los Capuchinos, formerly a convent, now a church. It was here that the great painter Murillo met his death by falling from the scaffold while finishing his famous painting, the "Marriage of St. Catherine." We had a short though interesting trip through Spain, going to Seville, a very fascinating city noted even now for the cruel sport of bull fighting. It is a very celebrated residential city, even in Germany the saying is current, "God gives his favourites a house in Seville." Next to Granada and the Alhambra, the European strongholds of the ancient Moorish kings, it was surrendered to King Ferdinand of Spain, in January, 1492. The legend goes that on this withdrawal from Gladada Boabdil, the defeated Moorish king, turned to take a last look at the beautiful city he had lost and his eyes were filled with tears. His unflinching mother, Aisha, rebuked him with the words, "Weep not like a woman for what you could not defend like a man." We found this place very interesting. (We stood on the spot where Queen Isabella received Christopher Columbis on his return after discovering America.

On to Gibralter

Next on to Gibraltar. Our first view of the rock was from the train, it looked to be a huge lion in a crouching attitude, and our view of it here and again as we sailed out of the harbour, by the light of a full moon at midnight, was such that we were constrained to express more than once, that we were proud of the fact that we belonged to an Empire which held this key to the Mediterranean, and which commanded the respect of all other nations.

The one day spent at Algiers was full of interest. This city for centuries was the headquarters of the pirates of the North African coast. They claimed "They were friends to the sea and enemies to all those who sail upon it." One hundred years ago the pirates held the whole civilized world in terror and exacted tribute from every nation. It is estimated that over 600,000 Christian people have suffered the nameless horrors and atrocities of Algerian bondage, of whom a very small proportion ever escaped or were ransomed.

Malta the Naval Base

Two days afterwards we reached Malta. The captain blew his whistle as the ship passed the bay where St. Paul was shipwrecked,, when on his way as a captive for trial at Rome. As a fortress Malta is nearly as formidable as Gibraltar and much more useful as a coaling station and naval base.

We next sailed through the Aegean Sea, and landed at Piraeus, the port of Athens. Almost immediately we hastened to the Acropolis, from which we had a splendid view of Athens and the surrounding country. Our stay in and around the Parthenon was most interesting and we were so fascinated with it that we returned the following day in order to again be at the very centre of the Athens of art, of literature, of history, of statecraft and philosophy. We approached Mars hill by probably the same way as was traversed by St. Paul, and while standing on the top of it we heard from one of the ministers who was with us, St. Paul's words, as contained in Acts 17, verses 22-31.

Constantinople Visited

Going to Constantinople, which as we approached it, seemed to be a beautiful city, its countless domes and minarets shining in the sunlight, but on landing we were disappointed at the condition of the streets, which are infested with dogs, who are the city scavengers. They lie about the streets all day, and it is considered to be a crime to kick or disturb them. At night they do their best to clean up the refuse thrown into the streets by the householders. It is said that there are more than 30,000 dogs in the city.

On Sunday, March 1, we sailed through the Bosphorus to the Black Sea. We had a grand view of the summer palaces of the Sultan and various members of his family, also the summer homes of the various foreign ambassadors and wealthy residents of Constantinople. The steamer turned around in the Black Sea, re-passed the city and steamed away for Smyrna, where we arrived the following day. This is the chief city of Asia Minor. It was most interesting to watch the arrival of camel trains from the interior laden with bales of rugs, fruits and spices. From here quite a party went for a day's trip to Ephesus, and stood where Paul stood for two hours trying to make himself heard against the furious and howling mob which was at the last appeased only by the authority of the town clerk. (Acts 19)

Here was the place on Mount Pagus of the martyrdom of St. Polycarp, the second bishop of Smyrna, whose last words, when pressed to recant his faith in Christ, have become famous: "Eighty and six years have I served Him, and He has never done me wrong; how then, can I blaspheme my King. That saved me!" Our first view of Palestine was on the morning of March 3, as we approached Caifa, the Haifa of olden times. Here we landed in small boats manned by excitable Arabs, and after walking through the market place of the old town, procured a carriage and ascended Mount Carmel to the cave where Elijah rested during his stay in that vicinity. It was on this mountain that Elijah built his altar and received the sign from God in the burning of the sacrifice and slew the 450 prophets of Baal. (I. Kings 18.)

Jaffa, or Joppa. Here we took our suit cases ashore withus for a stay of five days. Here Hiram, King of Tyre, brought the cedars of Lebanon for the building of the temple. Here Jonah came to find a ship in his attempt to flee from the presence of God. Here is the house of Simon the tanner (Acts 9, 34.) from the roof of which Peter saw a vision, and the home of Dorcas, and by the look of the people and children I would say there is plenty of room for Dorcas societies there at present.

The Rose of Sharon

Leaving Joppa by train, we passed through orange groves laden with that fruit for which the place in famous, on to the Plains of Sharon, which when we passed along were covered with the flower, "Rose of Sharon." We passed Lydda, then Ramleh with its historic tower. It was here that Samuel judged the people and the children of Israel asked for a king. Next through Ekron, the northern boundry of Philistia, and Zorah, the birthplace of Samson, and through the country over which the foxes ran after Samson had tied the firebrands to their tails, then through the valley of Sorek, where Samson met Delilah.

A stop at a station called Bettir, known as Bether in ancient times, famous as the scene of the last catastrophe of the Jews in their war against Hadrian—A.D. 135. Leaving here the line runs beside Ain Hamieh, or Philip's Fountain, the traditional scene of the baptism of the Ethiopian eunuch.

At Jerusalem

We reached Jerusalem railway station, about a mile outside the walls, and drove over a very dusty road to our hotel. Our hotel experience was not what might be called a satisfactory one. They are all cold and cheerless, built of stone, with flag stone or marble stairways and floors, and although the evenings and nights in the winter season are quite cold, they are not heated, with the exception of a saloon or sitting-room. After seeing to our baggage, we started out to get our first impressions of the most famous city of the world.

Jerusalem proper is surrounded by a wall, in places seventy feet high, two and a half miles in circumference, and has thirty-four towers and seven gates. The gates are all in use excepting the Golden Gate, and it is said the Moslems believe that at some future time on a Friday a Christian conqueror will enter the Golden Gate and take Jerusalem from them.

The streets at first seemed intricate, but we soon learned to find our way about. It is not possible to drive within the walls as every street has more or less steps, and most of them are so narrow that a carriage could not pass along. From what I had read, I expected to find a dirty city, and was agreeably surprised to find it clean, considering the congested state of the population. We entered first through the Joppa Gate, past the ancient Tower of Hippicus, and immediately came into contact with a mixture of population such as we had not seen before—Jews, Greeks, Armenians, Kopts, Turks, and representatives of every eastern country. It was the month before Easter and pilgrims were arriving daily from all points.

The Via Dolorosa

We passed along the Via Dolorosa from the Chapel of Scourging, underneath the Ecce Homo Arch, where, it is stated, Pilate placed our Saviour, exclaiming, "Behold the Man." Along this road it is said Christ carried the cross, and several stations along it are marked with small chapels or shrines, at every one of which the pilgrims worship, prostrating themselves and kissing the stones on which they believe Jesus Christ once trod. The Via Dolorosa ends in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. This is, in fact, a cluster of churches, chapels and shrines built at different periods, but now covered by one roof. It is the belief of millions that on this spot was Mount Calvary of old, where the three crosse arose and where the tomb of Jesus was hollowed out of the rock. St. Helena, the mother of Constantine the Great, it is said, discovered the true cross, and on the site built a memorial church of Byzantine splendour. All the religious bodies except the Protestants have their own portion or chapel and worship under one roof, but the Holy Sepulchre itself belongs to them jointly. Each sect has its own lamps here, and services are held at different times by arrangement. Turkish soldiers are always on guard inside and outside to keep order. Riots have occurred at different times, principally among the pilgrims.

The Haren

Perhaps the principal sights in Jerusalem is the enclosure, called by the Muslims, the Haram containing the Mosque of Omar, and the Mosque El-Aksa. The Temple area consists of an enclosure of thirty-six acres or about one-sixth of the entire space within the city walls. Here is the site of Solomon's Temple and Palace and here on Mount Moriah is the stone on which Abraham attempted to offer up Isaac as a sacrifice; here Elijah and David, Jesus and Mahomet have prayed, it has been a chosen spot for the worship of God under the or other of His numberless names from the earliest of antiquity. The Dome of the Rock is principally constructed of materials that had been used in older edifices and portions of it are pointed out as having belonged to the first temple. The Ark of the Covenant is supposed to be buried in the enclosure, on which account no Jew would venture to cross the threshold of the Mosque of Omar, lest he should unwittingly profane the Holy of Holies by his tread.

The Moslems believe that Mohammed made his last prayer on this Rock and that when he went up to Heaven the stone attempted to follow him, but it was kept thck by the Angel Gabriel whose finger marks are pointed out.

Around the Walls of the City

We went around the walls of Jerusalem on donkeys; this was our first experience with this patient animal. We passed out of the Jaffa gate, down through the valley, past the hill of Evil Counsel, past Absolem's Tomb, at which pious Jews to this day throw stones as they pass, because he attempted to overthrow his father's (David) rule. Through the Valley of Jehashaphat, over which the Moslems believe a wire will be stretched on the day of judgment from the wall around the Mosque of Omar to the Mount of Olives; on this slender bridge the souls of the good will safely pass over and enter Paradise while the bad will fall midway into the valley where the mouth of hell will gape wide for them.

Outside of the Damascus gate is a hill on one side of which there are openings in the rock which give it the appearance of "the place of the skull." This is called by the Jews "The place of stoning," and here is what many modern scholars believe the site of the true Calvary; here is also the supposed tomb of Joseph of Arimæthea, in which our Saviour was laid. (We stood in the garden outside of the tomb where Mary stood and when she asked of Him, thinking He was the gardener, "Tell me where you have laid Him." We stood inside of the Tomb and mingled feelings of awe and reverence came came over us that were not experienced at any other portion of the Holy City. The summit of the hill is used now as a Moslem burying ground and no Christian is allowed upon it.

The Trip to Jericho

Our trip to Jerjeho was most interesting and exciting. Leaving the hotel at an early hour in a carriage drawn by three Arab horses, we started out on the identical way by which "a certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho," and while we were not set upon by thieves we had experiences in the breaking down of our carriage and harness that were interesting and exciting. One of these stoppages occurred on the hill as we were about opposite St. Stephen's Gate and approaching the Garden of Gethsemane, and while our driver returned to the city for repairs to the harness, we had an opportunity of watching the arrival of a number of Russian pilgrims who were returning from the Jordan, and who on reaching the spot where Stephen was stoned, knelt down and kissed the stones many times and then passed in through the gate.

While it is only about thirteen miles in a straight line from Jerusalem to Jericho, the distance by road is twenty-three miles. After passing Gethsemane and the Mount of Olives the country is extremely hilly and barren. Some grain is grown in spots, but there are no trees whatever. We stopped to rest the horses at the Good Samaritan's Inn. It was to this spot the traveller was brought after his wounds had been bound up. As we approached the plains of the Jordan the road became very rough and steep and it was necessary for us to get out and walk for about half a mile, while the drivers skidded the two third wheels of the carriages as the brakes were not sufficient and the horses could not hold them back. We reached Jericho shortly after midday; had lunch at the Hotel Bell-view.

The Dead Sea

Early in the afternoon we started across the plains for the Dead Sea. It was now very hot. The level of the Plains of the Jordan is 1,300 ft. below the Mediterranean and 4,000 ft. lower than Jerusalem; at present they are practically a barren waste, but could be made fertile by irrigation. For half a mile or more around the Dead Sea there is absolutely barrenness, nothing but sand dunes. It is hardly possible to conceive of such a scene of desolation. After a short stay on the shores we drove to the Jordan, to the spot where the Israelites crossed and where Christ was baptised. I do not wonder that Naaman objected to washing in the Jordan when there were rivers in his own country, the water is turbid and the current is very swift. The distance across was about one hundred yards and the banks were lined with trees of various kinds. To this spot thousands of pilgrims come annually, bringing a white garment with them in which they are immersed in the river after which it is carefully dried and put away to be used again at burial.

Israel's First Camp

Returning to Jericho we passed Gilgal, Israel's first camp in the land of Promise, and where the first Passover was kept. Samuel anointed Saul King here. Then passing many camps of Bedouins we entered the so called City of Palm trees, where the spies were sent to and from which Rahab helped them to escape. The site of Jericho at the time of our Lord is on the banks of the brook Cherith at the foot of the Mountains of Judea and the Valley of Achor. We drove over to the old site and to Elisah's Fountain, where the waters were healed by Elisah (II. Kings, 2; 21.) and where recent excavations made by a Dutch Society have revealed what is believed to be a portion of the original wall that fell down when the priests blew the ram horn trumpets.

The waters from Elisah's spring are carried down through modern Jericho and is used to irrigate a small portion of land on which is grown bananas, oranges and palms.

The Return Journey

Our experience over night in the hotel was not satisfactory; the "enemies of repose" made themselves felt. So after an uncomfortable night and without breakfast, for it was impossible to eat what was put before us, we started off at daylight on our return journey. At the foot hills we had to get out and walk for all that portion of the road which we had the day before also walked over, passing in full view of the Mount of Temptation, "Jebel Karantel" where it is said Christ fasted 40 days and 40 nights, and where it is said He was tempted by the devil. And while we turned here we turned and saw the sun rise on the other side of the Dead Sea, apparently coming up from behind Mount Nebo, and we could imagine the feeling of Moses as he stood there and saw the land of Promise before him, beautiful as it must have been at that time, with well cultivated plains and prosperous cities. We then passed along beside the Brook Cherith where Elijah was fed by the ravens. A monastery and church are built on the spot by the Greek Orthodox Church.

Passing again the Good Samaritan's Inn we reached the Apostles' Fountain at the south-eastern slope of Mount Olivet on the boundary between Benjamin and Judah. It is said that Christ came here to instruct the Apostles, and they drank of the water, hence the name. Before reaching Bethany on the top of the hill, is another Greek Church to mark the spot where Martha met Jesus.

Bethany is in Ruins

Bethany at the present time is a ruined and repulsive place. Whether it is the site of the town of Martha and Mary, and where Christ raised Lazarus to life, it is hard to say; but certainly along the slope of Mount Olivet our Saviour dwelt and from here the colt was taken on which Christ made his triumphal entry into Jerusalem. The supposed site of the Garden of Gethsemane is on the west side at the foot of the Mount of Olives; a small plot is enclose by an iron fence. This contains several very old olive trees and beds of flowers. The rock where the disciples slept during Christ's agony is close to the entrance.

A trip to Bethlehem from Jerusalem is one that every traveller takes. The road is good and passes the reputed Tomb of Rachel, much visited by pilgrims and reverenced by Christians, Moslems and Jews alike.

At Bethlehem Christ was born and in Bible history it is associated with the romance of Ruth and the youthful home life of David. Here the people seem happier, and the children certainly cleaner than any other part of Palestine we had visited. There is little doubt that the Church of the Nativity stands on the spot where Christ was born. The exact spot is marked by a star in the crypt, where thousands prostrate themselves and kiss the sacred spot. The church was first built A. D., 330. Jerome fully believed that this spot was authentic and the cave where he spent so many happy and useful hours well repays a visit. We walked through the small town and out to the fields where Ruth gleaned and where David sang inspired songs among his sheep. The inhabitants are employed chiefly in preparing articles of olive wood and mother of pearl for sale to visitors.

The Mount of Olives

We went out to the Mount of Olives and here witnessed a service in a Greek church at its summit. We saw the Lord's prayer painted on the walls of a building in 32 languages. We looked down the hillside over the way by which Christ travelled mounted on the colt obtained at Bethany, and just while here the sun was setting on the farther side of Jerusalem, we could vividly imagine Christ weeping as he came in sight of the Holy City. (St. Luke 19; 41). We lingered here for quite a time and as we were quietly driving back to Jerusalem, each one filled with his or her own thoughts, we beheld the shepherds, in their picturesque garments which have not altered in all these years, bringing their little flocks of sheep to the fold, each walking ahead of the sheep and with a little tired lamb in his strong arms.

Mr. Matthews, in concluding, dealt with incidents of the return journey.

With these experiences our visit to Palestine and Jerusalem is practically ended. We returned by rail to Joppa and then embarked for Egypt. We had some discomforts and saw many sights that were not pleasing; the persistency of the beggars and the awful wretchedness of the lepers will not soon be forgotten. Personally, I was pleased, indeed, at having the opportunity of visiting these lands, and the pleasure was very considerably enhanced by having my wife and three other charming young ladies, all from Peterborough, along with me.

Showing Patent Tab

The back collar stud in our shirt is inserted in the tab, shewn in cut.

In this way the stud is easily inserted and it never touches the neck of the wearer.

When the collar is on, the tab cannot move.

But there is sufficient room left in the button-hole for the collar to move slightly from one side to the other, so that the collar may be easily adjusted in the front.

Only on Tooke Shirts can this tab be found.

FOURTH ANNUAL CLOSING OF THE CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

The fourth annual closing of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music was featured this year by two concerts, both of which were held yesterday in the Conservatory Music Hall, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. On each occasion there was a large attendance, a tribute to the excellent work of the pupils, who reflected credit not only upon themselves, but also upon the capable staff, and the Conservatory as an institution. The success that this "hub" of music is attaining is in no small measure due to the thoroughness of instruction which the pupils receive. The latter in their different numbers last night displayed a musical temperament and talent which needs but careful training to bring out the desired results. The artistic abilities of the members of the staff were displayed in their contributions, and the teachers' methods were noticeable in the work of the pupils.

One feature of the recital was the orchestra, which has improved wonderfully since last year. Its rendition of Verdi's "Anvil Chorus" was doubly encored, and the extra number, "Under the Double Eagle," was also encored. The orchestra next autumn will receive increased attention, and the public will be pleased to learn that it will be heard more frequently in concert. Mr. Gliddon as conductor imparts the true musical spirit, and he has plenty of material to draw from.

The programmes yesterday were as follows:

Afternoon

A HORSE DEAL SHOWING WHAT GOOD HORSES BRING

Mr. H. P. Kennedy was commissioned by the T. Eaton Company, of Toronto, to purchase the best pair of draft horses he could find in his travels. The other day he secured the prize pair of heavy Percherons at the price of $600. The horses are intended for dray work, and were highly appreciated by the company's superintendent.

ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE FOR SPECIAL TRAINS ON JULY 13th

Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong, representing the local district or Orangemen, under whose auspices a monster celebration will be held in Peterborough on Monday, July 13th, returned yesterday from Allendale, where he was in conference with the G. T. R. officials regarding the passenger service to the city. Arrangements were made by Mr. Armstrong (with Mr. W. R. Tiffin and Mr. Macdonald, district passenger agent, and provision has been made to accommodate 15,000 visitors. Special trains will be run from Port Hope, Cobourg, Lindsay, Lakefield and Belleville, and in some cases the regular train will have to be used.

On the C. P. R. a special train will be run from Blairton, and will stop at Havelock, Norwood and Indian River. The trains on the G. T. R. will, of course, stop at all intermediate points. The regular train from Toronto will bring a large number, and altogether there will be one of the largest crowds of visitors in Peterborough that the city has ever seen, and as an Orange demonstration it is expected that all past celebrations in this district will be surpassed. The visit of so many persons will mean much to the city and it is desirable that a good impression be made.

Fire Brigade Is To Disband With Proper Ceremony This Evening

The old volunteer fire brigade passes out of existence as a fire-fighting force at 12 o'clock to-night and the passing away will not be observed in any funereal spirit by the firemen, either. Arrangements have been made to celebrate the occasion to-night, and at 12 o'clock the 57th Band, which was formerly the Fire Brigade Band, will meet in front of the firehall and will play the firemen around the streets to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne" and the "Boys of the Old Brigade." Afterwards the band and fire laddies will gather in the band hall on Simcoe street, over what was the old firehall, and an enjoyable programme of speeches and music will be rendered.

BASKET STOPPED PROGRESS OF THE LINDSAY LAUNCH

Mr. W. Carley has a very fast launch. So has Mr. Sam Britton, and there is great rivalry between the two as to the speed of the respective yachts. The other day they were up the river, and as they were about to start for home, Mr. Carley suggested a little trial of speed, "I'll tell them that you are on the way when I get to town," Mr. Carley taunted.

His rival was foxy, however, and unnoticed he secured a large Indian basket he had found on the shore to the end of the Carley launch, previously having put a stone of some dimensions in the basket. When the race started, Mr. Carley's launch commenced to fall behind, and its owner originated a hunt to locate the cause of the trouble. The search was fruitless, as the engine was working perfectly, but the yacht continued to drag. Finally when the British yacht was disappearing on the horizon, the basket dragging behind was discovered. Words fail utterly to describe the feelings of the owner of the yacht that lost the race.—Lindsay Free Press.

HAND PAINTED CHINA

Two Days' Exhibit From the Pickard Studios of Chicago

Mr. Alex. Gibson, jeweler, has made arrangements with the Pickard Studios, of Chicago, to send a representative to Peterborough, with the entire studio ins, which embraces thousands of dollars worth of the most beautiful specimens of the art of painting china by hand, to give an exhibit in his store.

All the artists in the Pickard Studios have had many years of training in the finest art schools of Europe and America, and you see the results of this thorough training in their work. Pickard China possesses a harmonious, satisfying richness that has never been successfully imitated.

This exhibit embraces many hundreds of pieces, ranging in price from $1.50 to $75.00 each.

There is nothing in this exhibit for sale. But if you wish to place an order now for fall or Christmas shipment, you can have any piece you wish painted to order.

Mr. Gibson will pay the duty and the freight on all orders placed while this exhibit is on, and deliver the goods to you at the American price. A small deposit required when the order is given.

This Exhibit is for two days only, Friday and Saturday, July 3rd and 4th. Store will be open Friday night for Exhibit only.

GOT FOUR 'LUNGE NEAR JUBILEE

Mr. Jack Gilman Brought One of Them Up Last Night to A Friend

Mr. "Jack" Gilman of Jubilee Point was in the city last night and brought with him a present for one of his friends. It was a 9-lb. lunge and he caught it and three others yesterday morning a short distance from the hotel. All four averaged about eight pounds and were real beauties. The lunge were biting hungrily yesterday, "Jack" said, and his guests at the hotel are having good luck.

COBALT, SILVER TOWN, IN FLAMES

Terrible Bush Fires Sweep the Mining Town.

PEOPLE PRAY FOR RAIN

Many Homes Wiped Out In Haileybury — Fighting the Flames All Night Long—Men Worked Heroically at Risk of Their Lives—Many Mines Lose Their Whole Plant— Shacks Burned, Too.

Cobalt, June 30.—Bush fires in this section on Saturday and Sunday have caused a great deal of damage at several of the mine properties.

The Teutiskaming lost their powder house and the fire reached their main building. The Columbus Cobalt mine lost everything. The Coleman Development Co. lost all their buildings, and the men barely escaped with their lives.

At the Shamrock mine the diamond drill and a boiler was all that was saved. The Lumsden, Duchess, Patterson, Progress, Cochrane and Fisher Eppiett lost all their buildings and machinery.

The Davis Cobalt Silver Mines lost all mine buildings and machinery, and the fire was still raging in the vicinity of Cress Lake. At the Beaver, the fire burned up to the office, but the men worked heroically and managed to save their buildings. At the Badger mine the hoist house and one shaft house were burned. Robert Bryce of the Silver Queen mine sent a large gang out to the Badger property to help in the work. The Rochester, next to the Badger, was saved.

A report from Haileybury states that 14 families were made homeless there by the fire. On Saturday New Liskeard was appealed to for help and sent a dozen men with a quantity of hose, who worked until yesterday morning. Prayers for rain were offered in all the churches on Sunday.

Among the sufferers are: Waugh Bros.' sawmill, loss $7,000; W. McLaughlin, house and partial contents; J. W. Thompson, shack; J. Watson, house and all contents; Campbell, log house and all contents; Campbell, log cabin; C. Smith, lost everything; J. Moore, lost everything; E. Baker, stable and outhouse, saved dwelling; J. Cole, lost everything; W. Hickley, shack and contents; S. Reneau, shack; Fournier, shack and quantity of lumber; L. Black, house; McCaffery and Portsmouth, lost buildings and contents.

Jury Trial For Thaw.

White Plain, N.Y., June 30.—Harry Thaw's chances for a jury trial as to his sanity, appears to be very bright. At the conclusion of argument before Justice Mills yesterday, the justice said:

"I believe it should be only a matter of time when this man ought to have a jury trial. I am not prepared to say whether it should be now or later."

The judge then ordered that Thaw should be detained in the Matteawan hospital and adjourned the case to July 13, when new arguments and affidavits will be submitted.

Who Is This Man?

Sarnia, June 30.—The police of Port Huron and Sarnia are anxious to learn the identity of a man who committed suicide Saturday night by jumping into the St. Clair river from the deck of the ferry boat Conger, on the last trip from Sarnia.

The unknown man was about 40 years of age, wore a dark brown suit and wore a cap. The man left the chair where he was seated and leaped over the rail. The Conger was stopped and a boat lowered, but no trace of the man could be found. No missing persons have been reported from either city so far.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Holds to Principle of Civil Service Bill.

COMMISSION WITH POWER

Opposition Now Wants Both Houses to Retain Control of Their Own Servants—Premier Holds to Competitive Examinations — Hansard Men Want to Be Excluded From Bill—A Brief Session.

Ottawa, June 30.—The Opposition members argued unsuccessfully for both Houses of Parliament retaining control of their own servants in the discussion on Fisher's Civil Service Bill.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier held fast to this feature. He said the new principle was being introduced in regard to the civil service. Up to the present time every person who had power to make an appointment had acted on his own judgment, but it had been decided that a commission should be appointed to select the men.

What difference, he asked, could there be between officials of Departments and officials of the House. There was just as much reason why competitive examinations should be held in one case as in the other. The Prime Minister claimed that the debates committee would have the same power of maintaining discipline as at present, though they would not have the same power of selection.

"If they will not have the same power to dismiss, how will they have power to maintain discipline," asked Mr. Fowler.

Sir Wilfrid replied that the House would retain the power to dismiss. The Civil Service Commission would simply make selections.

Regarding the commission Mr. Foster suggested that not more than one member should be an adherent of one political party. He argued that this would recommend the commission to the confidence of the people as a whole. This provision was made in regard to the United States Civil Service Commission and those of some of the states. The working out of the bi-partisan commission had shown beneficial results.

Mr. Fisher did not think the model of the United States was a very safe one. The civil service of that country was permeated with partisanship. He agreed that members of the Canadian system ought not to be appointed because of partisanship.

Mr. Monk regretted that the outside service, the most important part, had not been included. In Quebec the outside service was filled with incompetents, men who had been appointed solely for political purposes. If remedy were not applied in this part of the service at once evil would become intensified.

Mr. Gervais read a letter signed by the Hansard reporters, objecting to being included under the Civil Service Act.

Mr. Gervais said the bill would mean the death of the debates committee, and would be unfair, injurious and detrimental to the best interests of Parliament.

"But," he said, "if we are to be condemned to death I die like a man."

"With your face to the foe," suggested Mr. Borden.

Mr. Fisher would not insist on curtailing the power of both Houses. The Government would be guided by the judgment of the members. He had understood that the proposal was satisfactory to the House, but it was not intended to trench upon the privilege of members.

The Oliver land bill was got through yesterday. But at the suggestion of R. L. Borden it stands for a third reading, when some amendments will be discussed.

Mr. Jackson (Selkirk) gave notice of amendment to bring all of that portion of Manitoba east of Lake Winnipeg and north of township 10, under the pre-emption clauses.

Mr. Borden suggested that the clause prohibiting employes of the Department of the Interior from purchasing Dominion lands, be amended to prevent its evasion by the organization of a company. This was agreed to. Mr. Oliver put through the amendment extending the pre-emption area westward to the line of the Calgary and Edmonton Railway.

He also proposed to protect the owners of timber limits from the inroads of trespassers or illegal cutting in general. Dr. Schaffner claimed that settlers living in the vicinity of the timber limits had experienced difficulty in getting their wood supply owing to the arbitrary action of timber limit owners.

When the civil service bill was taken up in committee, Mr. Speaker Sutherland made a statement regarding the attitude of the House of Commons and Senate employes in respect to that bill, and proposed in amendment that so much of the act as relates to appointments, classification, and salaries shall apply to the permanent employes of both Houses and library.

Murder at Montreal.

Montreal, June 30. The president of the Black Hand Society is dead. Shot by a countryman, Vincenzo Marino, is believed by the Italian interpreter and by the police to have been the local head of the society for some time, and they have tried to trap him, but without success. Sunday night there was a fight in a yard off Mountain street, and Marino came rushing to the street gleaming with blood. The ambulance was called, but he died at 2 a.m. No arrest has been made.

Hespeler Bridge Collapses.

Hespeler, June 30.—The bridge between the two mills of the Canada Woollen Mills gave way yesterday afternoon and now lies a heap of ruins in the river.

Explosion Kills Four.

San Francisco, June 30.—Four persons are dead and three others are severely injured as a result of an explosion followed by a fire yesterday in the grocery store of John Sweeney.

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

A GOOD NAME

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

Price, 25c. Large size, 50c.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Brave Engineer Saves Life.

Welland, June 30.—The heroic action of F. P. Johnston, C.E., was the means of saving the life of Godfrey Studson, a Toronto lad of 10 years, yesterday. Studson was walking on the stringers on the west wall at the harbor and stumbled into the water. Mr. Johnston went to the bottom twice and the second time brought the boy up with him.

Santa Fe Train Wrecked.

Williams, Ariz., June 30.—Just after rounding a curve east of Gallup yesterday, train No. 8 (the overland limited), on the Santa Fe dashed on to a burning bridge. The engineer and fireman and four other trainmen were instantly killed. Fifteen passengers were injured.

Four Perish In Flood.

Wellington, Kas., June 30.—Four persons are known to have been drowned and a number are missing as a result of the over-flowing of Hargis Creek, east of this place, which was caused by a cloudburst north of here about 10 o'clock Sunday night.

TO-MORROW'S BALL GAME WILL BE CHIEF HOLIDAY ATTRACTION

To-morrow's game at Riverside Park between Cobourg and the Athletics, promises to be one of the most exciting and best contests of the season. It will be the final game in the first round and as both teams are anxious to get an even break on the first series, they will put up the fastest kind of a fight for the honours. The teams are tied and a win for the Athletics is important, especially if the Petes are trimmed in Port Hope in which case Manager Lynch's team will be on the heels of the league leaders. The game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp and as there is nothing else doing on the Holiday a big crowd will likely wend its way to the pretty ball grounds across the river. It is likely that Jack Rosevear, of Port Hope, will umpire the contest.

The teams will line up as follows:

Cobourg.	Athletics.
Wineberg, 3b	Connors, cf.
Bulger 1f.	Graham 1f.
McKinnon ss.	Rhea ss.
Floyd c.	Heaslip 2b.
Turpin 1b.	Rattray c.
King 2b.	Mackrell 3b.
Burge cf.	Pilling rf.
Harcourt rf.	Callaghan 1f.
Turner or Farnum p.	Quinlan p.

FOOTBALL MATCH WILL BE A FEATURE OF SPORT TO-MORROW

One of the best football games ever seen in Peterborough will be played to-morrow afternoon at Riverside Park at 1 o'clock sharp, the contesting teams being the fast All Saints' of Toronto and the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Quakers. All Saints' have the reputation of putting up fast ball and as the Quakers have seldom been defeated with their regular line-up there should be an exciting time. The admission will be 10 cents. The Quakers will be chosen from the following who are asked to be at the grounds in uniform not later than 12.50, as the game must be concluded before the baseball fans begin to arrive: McFadden, Doris, Evans, Archibald, Scrimshaw, Hitchins, Donaldson, Roe, Best, Huson, Cannif, Crough, Parnell, Barrie, Deforge

CHARLIE STEVENS' WALK TO LINDSAY

What the Warder Says of It—He Arrived There in Good Trim

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder has the following to say of Charlie Stevens' Peterborough to Lindsay walk:

Charlie Stevens walked from Peterborough to Lindsay, 28 miles, on Saturday afternoon last, in 5 hours and 3 minutes.

This creates a record for the distance that will be hard to beat. About 5 3-5 miles was the average distance covered every hour and in the intense heat of Saturday afternoon last.

Stevens was in great fettle when he reached Lindsay, and finished like a whirlwind, passed by Stacey. It was twenty-seven minutes to eight when he reached the Benson House.

A crowd had gathered to witness the youthful walker finish, and cheered him lustily, Stevens is but a lad, eighteen years of age, but has the "makin's" of a walker of re-ute. Chatting with the Warder after the walk, he said that the heat bothered him to some extent, and sand and small stones which got in his boots also annoyed him.

"I couldn't run the distance in eight hours," he declared, "and I used the square 'heel and toe' walk all the way."

A conductor on the train saw him go through Omemee and stated that he was travelling "like a house on fire." The hill the other side of Omemee bothered Stevens a good deal. Men on wheels followed him for miles out of Peterborough.

The first six miles, he said, was walked in fifty-five minutes, and then he settled down to a steady, ground-covering stride. Stevens walks in the three-day event which commences at the rink, and it is a sure thing that he will be strictly in the race.

PARK OWNERS STATE POSITION

Why a Charge is Made for Admission to Riverside Park Grandstand

Grand stand 5 cents, ladies free. This motto or hold up, as it has been termed by some, at last Saturday's game, has occasioned the Peterborough baseball team to some severe and undeserved remarks.

This charge of five cents to gentlemen for the covered stand was not made by the ball team, but by the owners of the grounds, who believed it tobe a fair and reasonable charge for the accommodation it affords, when other stands with similar accommodations are receiving 10 to 15 cents extra.

The Riverside Park, so far as a business proposition is concerned, has been a losing venture to those interested, ever since it was taken hold of by them, and they surely cannot be criticized very severely if they deem it necessary to place a small charge on the grand stand to assist in endeavouring to have the receipts come a little closer to balancing the expenses than in the past. The park owners are not raising any squeal, after investing a large amount of money in the park, now find a yearly deficit of several hundred dollars without adding anything for interest on the amount invested, and feel that an explanation only is necessary to place both the ball teams and themselves in the proper light before the athletics public. In any event the park owners assume any and all responsibility in connection with the matter of the charge that has been made.

Baseball

The West Ends' team for the game with the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock will be as follows: Butcher p, McNiru c, Vannetto 1b, Hulpin 2b, Long ss, Malzie 3b, Rose lf, Richardson cf, Dunnett or Kane rf. All players are asked to be on hand early.

LAWN TENNIS.

The draw for the first round of the tournament in connection with St. John's A.Y.P.A. Tennis Club is as follows:

Ladies' Singles—
Mrs. Frederick v Mrs. Barber.
Miss Whitcroft v Miss R Dawson.
Miss P Smith v Mrs. Fraser.
Mrs. Devey v Miss Bell.
Miss Layfield v Miss Drury.
Miss Dawson v Miss R Morris.
Miss Morse v Miss Hawkins.
Miss H Whitcroft v Miss A Horsfield.

SPORTING NEWS AND VIEWS.....

It is rumoured in London that the King will be present at the Marathon race, and that he will signal the start. Mr. Crocker has received numerous invitations for the Canadians to compete at games throughout the country. The presence of Bobbie Kerr, the fast Canadian sprinter, is particularly desired. All the invitations have been declined. McCarthy on Saturday had his machine geared up to 104, and the high gearing is blamed for his poor showing. The Canadians are entered for some events at the championship games at the stadium on the fourth.

BOMBS CARRY DEATH WITH THEM

Another Outbreak of Anarchy Chronicled in Spain.

OUTRAGE AT PUBLIC FETE

Madrid and Barcelona Thrown Into a State of Terror—Prominent Citizens of Barcelona Offer Large Reward For Capture—One Man Nearly Lynched — No Trace of the Criminals Is Yet Secured.

Madrid, June 30.—In addition to a bomb exploded Sunday at Barcelona, a second outrage was perpetrated on Monday evening when another bomb exploded on the Rambla. Upward of a hundred thousand persons were assembled watching the march past of a historical cavalcade when the bomb exploded, causing great alarm and serious wounding a number of people.

Among the wounded three are in an alarming condition. One young man was literally riddled with fragments. He died yesterday.

A man named Grau, a native of Valencia, was supposed by the crowd to have placed the bomb in the convenience, and he was nearly lynched by the people. The police had to draw their revolvers to protect him.

The outrage does not seem to have caused undue harm, though the recurrence of such acts will no doubt have a disturbing effect, especially as notwithstanding the efforts of both the Government police and a special detective service, under Inspector Arrow, no traces of the authors of the outrages have been discovered.

A group of prominent citizens in Barcelona met yesterday to give effect to a proposal for a reward of 100,000 pesetas, offering for the discovery of the criminals.

ALIEN WOMEN TRAFFIC.

Charge That They Are Smuggled Into the States From Canada.

Chicago, June 30.—In United States District Attorney Edward Sims' crusade against the traffic in alien women, an "underground" railroad similar to that used before the civil war in smuggling negroes from the south into northern states has been unearthed by immigration inspectors and secret service men.

The system of bringing alien women into the United States by way of Canada in spite of the vigilance of the immigration officials is said to have been divulged by one of the girls examined by one of the board of enquiry.

According to her story girls are brought from France, Russia and other foreign countries to St. John's, Nfld., and to Anticosti Island, near the mouth of the St. Lawrence river. From these places they are taken to Montreal in private yachts and up the Richelieu river to Rouse's Point, New York.

Both Attorney Sims and Dr. D. D. Davies, inspector in charge of the immigration bureau, acknowledged that they had learned of this underground railroad and that steps had been taken to break it up.

LIPTON TO CHALLENGE.

Proposes to Build Boat for America's Cup Under Conditions.

London, June 30.—The Field, a weekly publication, announces that Sir Thomas Lipton is prepared to challenge again for the America's Cup, under the following conditions:

First, the new yacht shall be cutter-rigged and built under the present universal rule of the New York Yacht Club.

Second, the New York Yacht Club shall designate the size of the yacht it considers most suitable for the race.

Sir Thomas, when interviewed, said The Field's statement was correct. He added:

"I hope my American friends will see their way clear to meet my wishes, in the interests of sport."

It is understood that the intention of Sir Thomas is to build two yachts of a class designated by that club, after designs by Fife and select the better to compete for the cup.

To Import Beet Sugar.

Berlin, June 30.—Operations are about to be resumed at the Berlin sugar factory. A new concern, known as the Berlin Sugar Refining Co., was organized yesterday, subsidiary to the Ontario Sugar Co., and out of its profits the liabilities of the old concern will be met.

In accordance with the preference granted by the Government, the company has a right to import 29,000,000 pounds of raw beet sugar, that quantity being twice the amount of raw sugar made in the Berlin factory in the last two years.

That will be done, and, besides this, contracts will be made with farmers again next year for growing beets.

The directors of the new company are: W. H. Breithaupt, Berlin; James Fowler, managing director; C. K. Hagedorn, R. Smyth, Casper Braun, Berlin; W. B. Rouse, Bay City, Mich., and E. W. B. Snider, St. Jacob's.

Cashier Kills Himself.

North Bay, Ont., June 30.—Victor T. Denison, cashier of the Imperial Bank here, shot himself through the head with a revolver yesterday and died about an hour afterwards. A shot was heard from Denison's room above the bank and upon investigation the unfortunate man was found in a dying condition. The cause of the suicide is unknown. Denison had been in poor health for some time. His accounts are reported to be in good shape.

Brockville to Buy Park.

Brockville, June 30.—After several days' lively public discussion, the ratepayers of Brockville yesterday passed a bylaw authorising the Town Council to raise $8,000 for the purchase of a public park of about nine acres, on the river front, adjoining the town. The west, centre and south wards went solidly for the bylaw, while the east and north gave adverse majorities.

The vote stood 450 for, 374 against the meth.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. N. Barber.)

New York, June 30.—The market opened irregular and dull. There was no business from the other side, but professionals were early trying to bring about an extension of yesterday's rally. They were only moderately successful in this, however, and a point from yesterday's closing was sufficient to cover any further advance, while later the market fell back to around opening figures.

The market throughout has been characterized by midsummer dullness, and the trading has not been of any important character. Foreign houses sold a few stocks, disposing of perhaps 10,000 shares of the Harriman Steel and Copper issues, but otherwise did nothing. Regular dividends were declared to-day by the Anaconda and the Burlington Companies. The splendid cotton condition made something of by those interested in Southern railways, while the re-opening of manufacturing plants to-morrow and the re-employment of perhaps 8,000 to 10,000 men in the railway repair shops of the country were regarded as indications that business is picking up.

The banks continue to gain in their sub-treasury operations, and it would seem as if we were about to pile up the record surplus in our history. We hardly expect to see the market show much change during the next few days, but in the event of any break in prices we advise taking the long side of leading active stocks. The closing was inactive.

WEDDING BELLS.

O'NEIL—GOSELIN

At St. Peter's Cathedral at 8 o'clock this morning the marriage was celebrated of Miss Louise Goselin, eldest daughter of Mr. Jos. Goselin, Crescent street, to Mr. James O'Neil, of Hastings. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Galvin. The bridesmaid was Miss Annie Goselin, sister of the bride, and the groomsman Mr. Thos. O'Neil. The wedding march was played by Miss Doherty. Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil were the recipients of many handsome presents, showing their popularity among their many friends. They will reside in Peterborough.

LEFEVRE—KNAPP

Rev. Father Galvin officiated at a pretty wedding this morning at St. Peter's Cathedral at 7 o'clock, it being the occasion of the marriage of Miss Mabel Knapp of Peterborough to Mr. Frank Lefevre, also of this city. The groomsman was Mr. Harry Lefevre, brother of the groom, and the bride's sister, Miss Florence Knapp, attended the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Lefevre will reside in Peterborough.

The bride was dressed in sulk mohair with sateen folds and applique trimmings. She also wore a hat to match. The bridesmaid wore cream organdie with lace insertion. Many beautiful presents were received from friends of the young couple. They will reside on 247 Wolfe street.

STORTZ—McCANN

In St. Joseph's Church, Douro, a pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at nine o'clock, the principals being Miss Laura McCann, daughter of Michael McCann, Douro, to Mr. Raymond Stortz, of North Bay and formerly of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Keilty in the presence of a large number of friends.

The bridesmaid was Miss Minnie McCann, a sister of the bride, and the groomsman, Mr. Fred Whaley. After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents where also a handsome array of presents was displayed. Mr. and Mrs. Stortz will reside in North Bay.

OBITUARY

MRS. MARGARET HOPKINS

After an illness of about nine months' duration, from which, until recently there were signs of recovery, Mrs. Margaret Hopkins, passed away at her residence, 795 George street, this morning at 2.40 o'clock. It was thought by her friends and family that she was recovering a few weeks ago, but on Sunday last her illness became more acute resulting in her death this morning. She was a lady widely and most favourably known in Peterborough and she had many friends. She was the widow of the late William J Hopkins, who predeceased her over 22 years ago. Mrs. Hopkins was born in Detroit 57 years ago, her maiden name being Margaret Martin. Most of her life, however, was spent in Peterborough. Her only daughter is Mrs. T J Arbugh, of Toronto, whose husband is well known there in the sporting circles. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J F Delaney, of New Denver, B.C., and Miss M J Martin, city, and also five brothers, Donald, of Peterborough; Charles at Joliette, Idaho; Robert, in Michigan; Hugh, in Minnesota; and John in California.

The funeral will be held on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Peter's Cemetery.

Sent Back to Canada.

Windsor, June 30.—Mary Ellen Warnock, wife of Patrick Warnock of Antlers, Sask., who followed Samuel Scott to this country and admitted that she had "harbored" him when Scott was tried before a federal jury, charged with maintaining an alien woman in Detroit, will be deported to Canada on Friday by the immigration authorities. She was arrested several months ago and has spent the time since in the county jail.

A letter has been received by the immigration officers from Patrick Warnock, who simply says, "Please send my wife home to me." Scott was acquitted and is now working in Detroit. Mrs. Warnock declares she is overjoyed at the opportunity of returning home.

Condemned to Death.

Cettinje, June 30.—The trial of 36 prisoners charged with revolutionary activity in connection with the discovery of a score of bombs here last year, and at which sensational testimony was induced, involving Crown Prince George of Servia, in a conspiracy against Montenegro, has resulted in six of the accused being condemned to death, three to life imprisonment and 27, including five former cabinet ministers, to terms of imprisonment ranging from six to twenty years.

Ottawa's First Jap Baby.

Ottawa, June 30—The first Japanese child born in Ottawa arrived on Sunday, when a daughter was born to the new Japanese consul-general, Mr. Shimisu.

NO SPEAKERS FOR SPECIAL MEETINGS IN HARVEY

Were Advertised by Provincial Department of Agriculture.

Posters have been issued for special meetings for farmers and farmers' wives by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, and arrangements for holding these meetings have been announced for Hall's Bridge schoolhouse at 2 and 7 o'clock p.m. on June 27, but no one was present to address these meetings, and many were disappointed. Meetings were also advertised to be held at the town hall, Lakehurst, at 2 and 7 p.m. on June 29, and no person was present to address the evening meeting at Lakehurst, much to the disappointment of forty or fifty people, who had gathered together to hear the addresses announced to take place. This should not be. The Government should see that the meetings advertised are held. Farmers and farmers' wives have usually plenty to engage their attention without driving miles to meetings that never take place. The Minister should apologize to the people of Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst for the disappointment.

SALESMEN WANTED HIGHER PRICES AND CHEESE BOARD MEETING WAS ADJOURNED

Buyers Offer 11½c.—4854 Cheese Boarded—A New Arrangement Regarding Sales

THE BOARD OFFERS PRIZE

The offer of 11 1-2 cents per pound for cheese at the Peterborough Cheese Board meeting yesterday morning was rejected by the salesman and the sale was, on motion, adjourned for a week. The salesmen maintained that other boards were paying better prices and they wanted something higher. The buyers stated that the cheese could not be shipepd for ten days and they were simply taking a chance on the market going up if they offered a better price. Therefore, at the next sale the June cheese will be sold, and shipped a day or two after the sale, so that the buyers will know at the time of sale almost how the market will stand when they ship. This will enable them to buy without taking any chances on a drop in the market before the cheese has passed from their hands.

This will also hold good at the coming meetings of the Board. No cheese made within the week previous to each board meeting will be sold at that meeting. The cheese will then be ready for shipping a day or two after the sale, and the shipments will include no green cheese either.

To Give a Prize

The buyers present were Messrs Fitzgerald, Gillespie, Kerr Cook, Weir, Morton, Gunn and Langlois.

Before the bidding began Mr. G. A. Gillespie suggested that a prize of $15 be given by the Cheese Board for the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, on condition that the Exhibition puts up the same amount to be given for the best cheese. On motion of Mr. Wm. Switzer, this was decided upon.

The cheese were then boarded to the number of 4,854, but as they were not sold, the list of factories and the number boarded is unnecessary, as they will be published next week.

The bidding was opened by Mr. Gillespie at 11 cents. It was raised in quick order to 11 1-2 cents in several bids, but as above mentioned, the salesmen considered the price too low and the sale was adjourned for a week.

"If we could only look into the future," remarked one salesman, after the meeting was over. "I would have been at a picnic to-day."

A CELEBRATION IN HAVELOCK

Masonic Service on Sunday—A Presentation to School Principal

PERSONAL HAPPENINGS

Examiner Special

Havelock, June 30th—Messrs. Linton and Dingman of Campbellford were in town on Sunday.

Miss Marie Overend of Barrie is the guest of her parents Mr and Mrs Jno. Overend. Miss Overend will remain in Havelock during the summer.

Mr P Wright returned home on Thursday after two weeks vacation, the guest of his parents, 84 Czar street, Toronto.

A Masonic service was held in St. John's church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A large body of the brethren were present including members from Campbellford, Norwood and Hastings. Rev. H Caplan delivered a most interesting sermon, which was much appreciated by the members of the order. Special music was rendered by the choir. An anthem entitled "Our waiting eyes" was sung during the offertory. The duet was taken by Misses Lancaster and Bryans.

The Trent Bridge Minstrel Show which was held in the Opera house on Friday evening was fairly well attended and the programme presented was much appreciated by those present. The Trent Bridge amateurs are to be congratulated on their success.

The members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church gave a lawn social on the church grounds on Friday evening last, which was well attended and enjoyed by all. The Havelock Orchestra was in attendance.

A large number of town's people took in the Farmers' excursion to Idle Wyld on Thursday last. The weather was perfect and a delightful trip was enjoyed by all.

Mr and Mrs Jones and little daughter Pearl, spent a couple of days at Niagara Falls last week.

Mr and Mrs A Brinkman left on Monday morning for an extended trip to the coast.

Miss Curry of Peterborough is the guest of her cousin Miss Daisy Curry of town.

Miss Lillie Walton of Toronto, is the guest of her mother Mrs S Walton.

Dr Watson of Campbellford was in town on Sunday.

Mrs S J Cross and her mother Mrs Davenport spent last week the guests of friends in Toronto.

Miss Georgina Falkner left on Monday morning for a two weeks' vacation. She will spend the first week with her brotherr at Porton, the last at Orangeville. Her brother will accompany her home where he will spend the Summer months.

Mr Hans of Campbellford spent Sunday with friends in town.

A number from town intend taking in the Foresters' excursion to Niagara Falls on July 9th.

Great preparations are being made by the committees in charge for the 1st of July celebration, which is hoped, will be a grand success. Men have been busily engaged at work at the park preparing the race course for the horse races on that day. The Norwood and Havelock football match, being a league game, will be found interesting.

Miss Vivian Donoghue who has spent the last week the guest of Miss Laura Kelly, returned to Peterborough on Monday morning.

Mr A E McGuire of Sudbury spent Sunday at his home in Town.

Miss Seabrooks of Victoria visited her cousins the Misses Scott on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr Priddle the principal of the school was presented on Friday evening with a handsome chair by the pupils of his room on the eve of his departure form town. A most suitable address was read by Miss Lettie Herrington and the presentation was made by Willie Holdcroft. Mr Priddle was greatly taken by surprise but thanked the scholars one and all for the beautiful gift and told them that they would always be a warm spot in his heart for his Havelock boys and girls. After refreshments had been served they left each all for their homes.

Mr Frank Voyer and Miss Stella Voyer were in Peterborough on Monday.

The Latest Bridgenorth News — Park Cottages Filling Up

Examiner Special

Bridgenorth, June 29.—Mr. Patrick Sullivan, the stage driver, left his horses standing at the hotel door while he was handing in some parcels. A dog scared them and they ran across Chemong Bridge before they were caught. Fortunately the horses and the stage were very little the worse.

Mr. Jobe, the delegate to the High Court of Canadian Order of Foresters, has arrived home looking a good deal better. He says he had a good time and feels that he is better.

The park is filling up fast, most of the cottages being occupied. The hotel is doing a good business and when the summer school arrives, the park will be filled as there is quite a number billed to arrive in July.

A fine rain fell last night and it was much needed, as the crops were suffering for want of it.

INDIAN RIVER BOYS ARE HOME

Returned from College—Barns Narrowly Escaped Destruction

Examiner Special.

Indian River, June 29.—Mr. Rodger Devlin, who has been attending school at Berlin College, is home for his vacation.

Mr. John Garvey and Mr. John O'Leary, who are attending Norwood High School, are home for the holidays.

Miss Cassidy, of Pembroke, spent a few days here last week.

Mr. O'Toole, of Peterborough, and Miss Doris, of Keene, visited friends here on Sunday last.

Mrs. Stratton, of Rochester, N. Y., is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guerin.

The barns of Mrs. John O'Leary, Otonabee, narrowly escaped being burned during the electric storm of Monday night. The lightning struck one outbuilding, 30 x 30, and completely destroying it, which contained a quantity of hay. The carpenters, Messrs. Gaines and Shearer, who happened to be working there at the time and neighbours who noticed it saved the frame and log barns and horse problem not twenty-five yards distant. If the wind had been blowing from the south nothing would have been left of the barn but ashes.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed, "Tenders for Cobourg Harbour Breakwaters," will be received at this office until 4.30 p.m., on Monday, June 29th, 1908, for the construction of two breakwaters at Cobourg, Northumberland County, Ontario, according to plans and specifications to be seen at the offices of H. J. Lamb, Esq., Resident Engineer, London, Ont.; J. G. Sing, Esq., Resident Engineer, Confederation Life Building Toronto, on application to the Postmaster at Cobourg, Ont., and at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for thirteen thousand dollars, ($13,000.00) must accompany each tender. This cheque will be forfeited if the party tendering declines the contract or fails to complete the work contracted for, and will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, May 27th, 1908.

Newspapers will not be paid for this advertisement if they insert it without authority from the Department.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-West Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, the the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situated.

Homestead Duties—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans.—

1—At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2— If the father, (or mother, if the father is deceased,) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such persons as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3—If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent, or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

A FAMOUS OLD MART

Christie's of London, Most Noted of All Sales Rooms.

KNOWN ALL OVER THE WORLD

A Place Rich in Memories of Reynolds, Garrick, Gainsborough and Lord Chesterfield — Fake Art Treasures. Romances of the Auction Room.

Since James Christie and his friends Sir Joshua Reynolds, David Garrick and Thomas Gainsborough received Lord Chesterfield in Pall Mall as he descended from his coach and six the most precious things that money can buy have changed hands in the famous rooms that bear Christie's name.

In those days Christie took great pains to attract only the "elect," and the cards of visitors were carefully scrutinized by liveried flunkies at the door, for here was an exclusive club where men of rank and fashion often gathered to exchange courtesies and the gossip of court and camp, quite apart from mere bidding for great estates and palaces of many nations, jewels of princes and plate of great families, pictures and porcelain, statuary and curios. Who does not remember the sale of Gainsborough's "Duchess of Devonshire" when Lord Dudley wired a bid of $50,000 from Paris, but was beaten by Agnew, the dealer? And then came the dramatic theft and the equally dramatic recovery of the portrait years afterward in this country.

It is a place of beautiful things, of discreet hush, of subdued mystery. Almost every great work of art in the world that comes into the market finds its way there. Long before 1766 Christie's was a going concern, none too flourishing, be it said, for has not James Christie himself left it on record that his good friend David Garrick tided him over a bankruptcy with a loan of $50,000?

The priced catalogues of the house have been and are the standard record of values in works of art for the last 200 years. They show extraordinary fluctuations. Thus in 1755 a copy of the Rembrandt etching "Christ Healing the Sick" sold for only $35, whereas in 1887, at the Duke of Buccleuch's sale, an inferior example brought no less than $6,500. Art collections worth $10,000,000 and upward have frequently been offered for sale in these classic rooms. On such occasions emperors and kings, with men of wealth from every nation, commission the greatest of experts to go to criticise and bid for treasures which may not come under the hammer again in generations.

The value of property knocked down under the old cracked ivory hammer that Dr. Johnson and Goldsmith must have handled baffles all calculation. A curious record was the $75,000 paid in 1885 for the Dudley Raphael "The Three Graces," which measures only seven inches square. Of course this was extraordinary, yet enormous prices have been paid at Christie's for pictures, as everybody knows.

Another record in its day was the $73,760 paid for Hoppner's three-quarter length portrait of Louisa, Lady Manners, afterward Countess of Dysart. And then there was the famous jeweled cup of rock crystal, which brought the enormous sum of $81,375 at the Gabbitas sale. Amazing prices have also been recorded for porcelain. In a recent season the art worlds of London and Paris were startled by a Sevres vase bringing $21,000—proof positive that the pate tendre, the plaything of Louis the Well Beloved, the Pompadour and Du Barry, retains all its fascination for the collector.

Rarely indeed have fakes been offered at Christie's, yet a few classic cases are on record. Some years ago art loving capitals were startled by the announcement that four superb gallery pictures by Constable and two by Turner were to be offered for sale in Christie's rooms, "the property of a private gentleman and never before exhibited." It was certainly an event. The vendor's name was withheld, but this is a common occurrence, seeing that very exalted personages, indeed, not to say the occupants of thrones, frequently send works of art to these famous galleries. Pressed on the subject, however, Christie's gave out that the seller was a "well known connoisseur of high social rank." On the day of the sale all the art critics, collectors and dealers of note from London to Moscow and from Stockholm to Madrid assembled before the pictures, chattering excitedly in many tongues.

Truly they were imposing, these gorgeous canvases, five feet wide and high in proportion. The four Constables formed a series of superb English landscapes, while the two Turners were classical subjects, said to be of the "middle period" of the master. But about them all there was a certain "I know not what," as the French say, that baffled the keen critics. Round all six appeared to hover a curious kinship, certain peculiarities of touch and coloring, "as if," in the words of a Paris dealer, "Turner had worked on Constable's pictures and Constable on Turner's."

The faces of the experts were a droll study as their first admiration gave place to helpless bewilderment. One or two they might have swallowed, but six! Before long a Viennese artist made himself heard above the hubbub by pointing out that the pictures were largely painted with very modern pigments — fashionable, newly invented colors unknown in the days of Turner and Constable. The excitement grew greater. This was surely an unlucky slip if the collection were forgeries.

There was yet another test, however. A cunning Venetian dealer years previously had given the art world a hint in testing an authentic example of Guardi. He would take a pin and try to stick it into the fattest and most unctuously pasted part of the picture. "If it sticks in," the dealer said, "it is new paint, but try it on a real Guardi, and you might as well try to force a pin into a china plate." The moment that hint was remembered it was acted upon. One of the Constables was tested and proved to be a veritable pincushion.

The authorities of Christie's at once closed their doors and posted a notice abandoning the sale.

The history of the forgeries leaked out afterward. They had belonged to a rich and eccentric collector, Joseph Gillott, a millionaire manufacturer of steel pens of Birmingham, who afterward left the London National gallery a magnificent series of real treasures. In his latter years, however, the old man had fallen into the clutches of an unscrupulous dealer whose exploits had long been notorious. Both the Turners and the Constables had been manufactured under this man's direction by a needy but exceedingly clever artist and then sold to the aged and credulous amateur for $500,000. When later some doubts were cast upon their genuineness Gillott was greatly troubled and resolved to give them the public test of auction at Christie's. After the dramatic fiasco their owner contemptuously packed them off into a warehouse, which three months later was burned to the ground, and then, strangely enough, it turned out that Gillott had insured his "masterpieces" for the entire sum he had paid for them, so by a curious turn of the wheel of fortune he was not a penny the loser.

But there have not been half a dozen such cases at Christie's during a century of sales.

And, by the way, just inside the superb pillared portico on King street, St. James', one will see a picture of the courtly old dandy, Christie himself, tall and distinguished, in silk knee breeches, with low shoes and buckles, blue silk coat and delicate lace ruffles, with full wig and horn spectacles, as befitted his association with aristocratic cognoscenti.

Chesterfield was his patron then, as he had been Dr. Johnson's. The great arbiter of elegance, although retired from public life, was renowned all over Europe as a connoisseur, and when old Christie pleaded with him to lend his aegis to a great sale the stately coach and six emblazoned with the Chesterfield arms would soon be at the door. The rooms were then in Pall Mall. Liveried servants cleared a way for Chesterfield and escorted him to a throne like seat on a dais, where a nod of commendation might be seen of all and have its due effect on the bids.

The French revolution was the lit wind that blew fortune toward Christie's. In 1792 many fugitives from France, Italy and Holland made their way to London and on arrival found their flight had been so precipitate that they were actually embarrassed for ready money. And that meant a sale of pictures and curios, furniture, jewels and plate. It was in this way that the British aristocracy became possessed of some of the loveliest works of art the world holds.

During the London season, from April to the end of June, Christie's palatial staircase and salons are thronged with men and women of rank and fashion from half a dozen nations. In 1893 the old place was practically rebuilt both inside and out. The principal sales room, a lofty and elegant octagonal apartment, is a copy of one built in the Adelphi by Adam. And the auctioneer's rostrum is one he used over a century and a half ago in the old rooms. In itself a work of art of great value, it is a superb specimen of Chippendale's own work.

The old Christie family has quite died out of the house, which at present is run by men of high social rank and vast experience. Sales are held three or four times a week. From the earliest days Saturday has been reserved for great pictures. Viewing the galleries before a sale begins one will see leading men in statecraft and society, princes and princesses of royal blood, merchants of great wealth and influence and visiting Americans as well as agents acting for cultured countrymen.

Each sale furnishes some little romance of the art world. Every picture seems to have a history. Here, hung in a grand light in the big salon, is the "Family of Darius," which Paul Veronese painted during his convalescence from an illness in an Italian villa and left behind as a graceful token of favors and kindnesses received from his host. More than $68,000 was paid for this picture in Christie's rooms one Saturday afternoon as it hung in the midst of other paintings from ancient country houses and faded palaces of many lands.

Journey's End

By Forbes Dwight.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

The mad gallop up the bridle path ended at the bridge across the little pond. The girl drew rein close to the stone parapet and, calming her restive steed, whose every nerve seemed a-quiver with the excitement of the wild dash, sat quietly on the saddle staring with pensive eyes at the unruffled water below.

Dean ranged his own horse beside the girl's, smiling as he watched the glowing color in her cheeks. All about them the trees flaunted the gorgeous tints of late autumn—scarlet, ocher and more subdued shades blending into a splendid, farreaching vista. The crisp, clear air stirred the blood like wine.

The girl laughed, a trifle uneasily.

"We shouldn't be doing such things," she said severely.

"Of course not," said Dean, with a chuckle. "We should have maintained a staid pace. We should have contented ourselves at the most with a measured trot. It's tremendously wicked the way we smash all the conventions of this park. We'll have a mounted officer on our trail yet. Pleasant prospect that. A glorious gallop, all the same, wasn't it, and well worth the risk of incurring the displeasure of the law?"

"Yes; it was glorious," the girl admitted. "Still, we shouldn't do it."

"That's where half the fun comes in," said he. "Hang their old park and its rules! Do they think we'll limit

"TAKE ME TO YOUR GENTLE OLD CLERGYMAN."

ourselves to a funereal pace such a day as this and with such a pair of steppers?"

"We really ought to," said she.

Dean laughed. It was a pleasant, almost boyish laugh. His big shoulders were squared defiantly.

"The things one ought to do are generally unpleasant," he observed. "Come on. We'll let them out once more."

The girl shook her head.

"No! Oh, no!" she demurred.

"Afraid?" he questioned.

She nodded.

"Of the rules they are pleased to hamper us with in this 2 by 4 plot of grass?"

"No; not of that," she replied. "Afraid of you, I think."

"Of me? Oh, pshaw!"

Again his laugh rang out, but the girl turned to him with a sudden seriousness.

"You make me rather afraid of you at times," she said. "You tempt me to do reckless things. I don't know why it should be so, but it is. I would never in the world have thought of riding here with any one else as I have with you just now, and the strange part of it all is that I enjoy it so immensely."

"Enjoy what?"

"Doing the reckless things you inspire."

Dean leaned toward her quickly.

"I wish it were so," he declared. "I wish I really might inspire you to reckless deeds. I wish I might"—

"Now, please," the girl begged, with heightening color.

"Oh, all right!" said he good naturedly. "I know the subject is tabooed. I'll observe the conventions you've imposed upon me and keep my tongue to the funereal pace."

He sat for a time staring silently into the water. At last he straightened himself in the saddle.

"I'd like another gallop," he remarked, "a wilder one, a madder one. I'd like to get out of this little old park and go somewhere where there's a level stretch of road and no hampering rules of pace."

A light came into the girl's eyes. She threw back her head and gathered up the reins.

"So would I," she declared, a trifle breathlessly.

Dean swung about to face her. There was a quiet smile on his lips.

"Come, then," he said simply.

—we really shouldn't," she objected.

"Come," he repeated.

"I'm afraid when you speak in that fashion."

"Come."

He turned the horse from the bridge and headed for the gate at the farther side of the park. The girl followed silently.

"Where are you going?" she asked as he turned through the gate and made for the road that led into the country.

"To a place where we can let them out to our hearts' content," said he.

Up the road through the afternoon sunshine they went at a sober pace, but once the city was fairly behind them Dean quickened the pace. Faster they went and faster until they were teaming along at a mad gait. Across level stretches and over the low hills they sped. The two horses had caught the spirit of the gallop and tore along at their best pace. The girl's cheeks were glowing; Dean's eyes sparkled with the excitement of it.

They paused finally on the crest of a hill. Far behind them lay the city, its position outlined against the sky by a smudge of blue smoke. Ahead of them lay a ragged line of hills, behind which glowed a sky red with the embers of the sunset.

"Well, that was a ride," said Dean, turning to the girl.

"Wasn't it?" she cried. "But we must be starting back. See, the sun has set. It will be quite dark if we don't hurry."

"I wish I might inspire you with a thorough recklessness," he said.

"You have," she said breathlessly.

"Then let's go just one more mile," he urged.

She hesitated.

"Come," she cried at last.

Down the hill they thundered, across a bridge that spanned a little brook and up the rise on the other side. Again they drew rein. The gorgeous twilight colors were fading. Below them lay a little village, its lights already beginning to twinkle in the gloom.

"Enough recklessness?" said he.

"Never! This is just the beginning."

"Now I'm afraid of you again," said she.

"Oh, no, you're not afraid of me," he said, with a strange gentleness. "You're afraid of a few old, time worn conventions. You're afraid of all those plans that have been made for your future—afraid to answer your own heart and go against them. You are afraid of yourself—that you may some time do as you want and thwart your mother's scheming for you. But you're not afraid of me."

She began to tremble.

"We must go back," she cried.

"Look," said he. "Do you see that spire with the cross on it? Well, beside that spire is a little rectory, and in the rectory is a gentle old clergyman. He's watching this road down hill even now. Dorothy, he's expecting us."

"Oh!" she cried, turning her face away.

"Shall we disappoint him?" he asked.

There was a long pause; then without looking at him the girl started her horse down the hill. At the foot of it she stopped and resolutely faced Dean. Her cheeks were burning, but her eyes never faltered.

"I am afraid of you," she said, "because you will always have your way with me. You will rule me as you like, do with me as you please, even as you have done this afternoon. Yes, I am very much afraid of you—but—but—take me to your gentle old clergyman. I am very happy even in my fear."

Maryland Superstitions.

There are superstitions throughout all the counties of Maryland concerning crossroads and running water. Witches are supposed to make their home at the crossing of two roads and to appear there at midnight. One peculiar thing about witches is that they cannot get across running water, and a stream of any sort always acts as a protection to the nightly prowler, who will follow along the bank of a stream in preference to the road. These are some of the things which are more generally believed in the country around Washington and along the Eastern Shore. Some of the articles of the creed of the superstitious in that neighborhood are:

If you sweep your room at night you sweep away your wealth.

Never shake crumbs out of a window after dark. They are supposed to fall into the eyes of the Lord and to disturb the spirits of the dead who wander abroad at night.

Don't wash your hands in water in which eggs have been boiled. You are liable to become covered with warts.—Baltimore Sun.

Precocity and Degeneracy.

Precocity is not always a thing to be desired. Indeed, it may, just as surely as a prematurely ripened fruit indicates decay and early death, mean an early degeneration and loss of mental faculties. By many biologists it is considered an expression of premature senility. As Lombroso has indicated, many of the men of genius were subjects of degeneracy. There is a period of antenatal growth known to scientists as the senile period, embracing the fourth and fifth months of prenatal existence. It has been found that a slight arrest of development at this period is characteristic of the class of beings known as degenerates, and precocity is recognized as one of the expressions of this development defect. Relief de la Bretonne, who composed at fourteen a poem on his first twelve loves, is a remarkable precocity. "A wit of five is a fool of twenty," is an adage founded upon the popular appreciation of this unpleasant truth.—W. A. Newman Dorland in Century.

Dear Sir,---We beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque for $2,500.00 in settlement of fire loss, Policy 8,645,879, Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.

We note in connection with this settlement a most unusual feature. They are legally entitled to 1% of stated sum for payment prior to due date. No business man would for one moment question their right to this amount. But they do not take it. Instead they have purposely waived their privileges and presented us with this additional amount.

We are gratified to note this remarkable action. To adjust and settle a loss within twelve days is noteworthy, but to add to this magnanimity in refusing to take advantage of their discount privileges places this company in a most favorable position.

We congratulate you upon representing a company of such superior standing.

Yours very truly,

ACCIDENTS IN ART.

The Ruin of a Burne-Jones and the Mending of a Turner.

A very curious history is that of Burne-Jones' favorite picture, "Love Among the Ruins," writes M. H. Spielmann in the London Graphic. The original picture was in water color and was sent to Paris by a firm of art publishers for reproduction and in that city forwarded to their photographic studios in the suburbs. The picture unhappily preceded the letter of instructions regarding it warning the photographer of the medium in which it was painted, so that immediately on its arrival it was brushed over with white of egg to bring out the colors for photographing—an excellent procedure in the case of oil pictures, harmless and very efficacious. But as to the Burne-Jones picture, Love was very soon among his own ruins, for every swish of the brush brought off the final touches and left a mere smeared ground. Sir Edward Burne-Jones was heartbroken at the loss of a work on which his reputation, he considered, would in great measure rest and on which he had spent many months of patient toil and the very perfection of his execution in the realization of one of the most poetic conceptions that had sprung from his fanciful imagination.

"Love Among the Ruins" was painted during the years 1870-3. In October, 1893, it was destroyed, and by the following year the oil version was finished, but was scarcely a consolation to the artist for the loss of his first and more spontaneous work.

Incidents of this sort are happily not of frequent occurrence, but one case has come within my knowledge which has never, I believe, been recorded. A wealthy connoisseur, with a roomful of beautiful Turner drawings, was in the habit of instructing a firm well-known as honorable picture dealers to overhaul his drawings, but his Turners had not for some time been touched, and the glasses had become much darkened with dust. On his leaving town the senior member of the firm went to his house and brought away the precious drawings and, carrying them into the room behind the shop, took the first drawing out of its frame and mount preparatory to dusting it and laid it on the table. Being suddenly called into the shop by a customer, he covered it with a sheet of Whatman paper and left it. His brother entered from the street and passed into the private room. A moment later the other followed and found him, knife in hand, cutting a mount on the top of the Turner. With a cry, he rushed to the paper and lifted it, and there the horrified brothers found the 2,000 guinea drawing cut into two pieces. What was to be done? To make a clean breast of it was apparently out of the question, so it was determined to call in the clever artist and repairer attached to the firm, and he joined the pieces and remounted the drawing, and down where the vertical cut was he boldly painted in a tree. The picture was in due course taken back and hung in time for the owner's return. A couple of days later came an urgent letter calling the dealer to the house. "Look at this drawing," said the collector. "What does it mean? There's a tree here. I never saw that tree before!" "No more did I," quietly replied the dealer. "I told you that you would hardly recognize the drawings when the glasses had been cleaned inside and out. Why, you could hardly see them!" The owner, though still astonished, accepted the explanation and to this day has probably never guessed the truth. The dealer told the story himself shortly before his death. Will it meet the eye of the hoaxed proprietor, I wonder?

A Marvel of the East.

Among other feats in the east the learning by heart of the Koran is very widespread. Not only men, but women and children, can be found who can repeat the holy book from beginning to end without a mistake. Taking it in round numbers, the Koran contains, together with the additions, which are included in the recitation, some 60,000 words. This is about the length of an average up to date novel, but, unlike the novel, there are no connecting links—the whole book being a confused and much mutilated jumble—to enable the reciter to remember. To make the least error would be a deadly sin, yet even children can go through it. But this is not all. For an Arabic child to recite the Koran is wonderful enough, no doubt, but he understands what he is saying—it is not to him an unknown language—but for a child of another nation to recite it from beginning to end, without understanding the words he is saying, is a much more wonderful feat of memory, and very few of those outside Arabia who can recite the Koran know more than a few of the simplest words, if they know those.

England's Lion.

The British lion means so much to us all that it seems almost treason to suggest that he is after all not the terrible wild fowl (to quote Bottom) that foreigners think him, but, sad to say, this is so. For in the older armorial bearing of England our lion is a leopard. It was all the fault of the early heralds of France, from whom our arms seem to have been derived. According to them, the lions passant and gardant of the arms of the kings of England were either lions leoparded or lions maned. The omission of the mane, in rude tricking, would reduce them to leopards, and this our lions originally were. The Emperor Frederick, in choosing his presents to our Henry III., so construed, according to Mathew Paris, our royal shield, "In quo tres leopardi tranenuntes figurantur"—that is, in which three leopards, stalking, are figured. Thus Henry seems to have had no reason to be annoyed when the emperor sent him the wrong emblematic beasts.—Pearson's Weekly.

WHEN FASTING IS FATAL.

Loss of Weight Below a Certain Point Brings Death.

During a long fast the daily loss of weight becomes gradually less and less. Death comes when the total loss has reached a certain percentage, which percentage varies with the original weight. Fat animals may lose half their weight, thinner ones perhaps two-fifths.

A man or woman of rather spare habit, weighing 143 pounds, could, therefore, lose about fifty-five pounds before succumbing. Heart action, respiration and blood pressure remain unaltered during starvation, but the temperature of the body falls nearly a degree in most cases. The secretion of gastric juice ceases, but saliva and bile are still formed. The duration of life depends upon the extent and activity of the physiological processes.

Children die after a fast of from three to five days, during which they have lost a quarter of their weight. Healthy adults, however, have fasted sixty days when water has been taken.

A German physician notes the case of a woman, aged forty-seven, who died after a fast of forty-three days, during which she drank water freely. Her weight, which was 143 pounds a year before her death, was reduced to ninety-nine pounds. It was a case of suicidal melancholia, and the woman patiently carried out her horrible undertaking so quietly as to scarcely attract the notice of her family and died at last calmly and peacefully without complaint or apparent evidence of suffering.

BROKE UP THE ARMY.

A Mean Trick That Demoralized the Haitian Troops.

When not fighting or drinking the Haitian negro spends his time lying in the sun smoking innumerable cigarettes. All over the island the roads made originally by the Spanish and French have fallen into ruin, and the thick forests in the interior are peopled by depraved savages.

A story told by Mr. Sandham, the well known American artist, illustrates the then state of discipline which prevailed among the 8,000 ruffians who bore the courtesy title of "the army."

Mr. Sandham and an Irish friend who resided in the island were one day watching the commandants of the Haitian army reviewing his troops.

"Would you like to see me break up the whole lot?" asked the Irishman.

"Of course," replied the artist.

The Irishman then took five silver coins from his pocket and, with a loud shout, threw them up in the air. Instantly the whole army leaped forward and scrambled for the money, the commandants himself securing the first three pieces. After pocketing them with dignity and restoring order among his men he ordered the Irishman to be arrested for bringing discredit on the army. The Irishman was sentenced to three weeks' imprisonment, but five pieces of silver and a bottle of rum secured his instant release.

BLACK FOREST CUSTOMS.

Youngest Son Inherits Property and Cares For the Old Folks.

The peasant farms of the Black forest are handed down from father to son in a direct line, often dating back 400 years, says Antiquary.

There is no division as in France. All falls to the heir, only here it is not the eldest, but the youngest son, who inherits. It is rare that a bur (peasant) dies as reigning head. When he gets on in years he abdicates in order to end his days in the leibgedinghaus (dower house), which stands beside each hof (steading).

That he does so in favor of his youngest son is very sensible. Were it the elder he would have no peace, for as soon as he married he would try to induce his parents to retire just at an age when power is sweetest and best exercised. For this reason the practical farmers of bygone generations decided to hand over the succession to the youngest, since when Benjamin is a full grown man father Jacob is old and glad to rest.

This law of inheritance goes by the name of vorjel. Should the heir of his own free will desire to resign in favor of his elder brother the latter must buy the property from him. In such a case the younger may be termed a kind of Esau.

SHIPS OF CONCRETE.

Cost Half as Much as Iron Vessels and Are Fireproof.

Re-enforced concrete has actually been employed in shipbuilding. In the first Paris exposition in 1855 a small boat made of re-enforced concrete was exhibited by Lambot. This vessel, which was constructed of wire netting covered with cement, is still afloat and will soon be installed in a technical museum. It was regarded as a mere curiosity and led to no practical result. In 1896 Gabellini of Rome built an experimental vessel of re-enforced concrete, which is still in service on the Tiber and in excellent condition. The same firm has since constructed a large number of concrete vessels designed chiefly for stationary service as bridge pontoons, for which purpose they are eminently well fitted owing to their small cost of maintenance, as they need not even be painted.

It is possible to build vessels of re-enforced concrete of any desired form and dimensions. The frames and longitudinal beams are made of concrete re-enforced with round bars of iron, and the skin consists of a single or double layer of concrete stiffened with wire netting and made perfectly smooth and water tight by an external coat of pure cement. The boats cost almost nothing for maintenance, are fireproof and can be constructed almost anywhere. They cost about half as much as iron vessels of the same capacity. Their independence of regular shipyards makes them especially suitable for colonies and isolated inland waters.

Re-enforced concrete armor on warships has recently been suggested. An Italian engineer has been led by the success of concrete land fortifications, as revealed in the Russian-Japanese war, to construct armor plates of re-enforced concrete, covered with thin plates of steel, as a protection against the immediate effects of the impact of shells. The substitution of re-enforced concrete for steel armor on a first class battleship would effect a considerable saving. The practicability of the substitution will be decided by the result of experiments soon to be made on the effect of shots on the re-enforced concrete plate.—Chicago News.

The Manufactured Diamond.

According to an English scientist, Europe is making a great fuss about manufactured diamonds. "They seem to forget that the moment a real diamond is manufactured the goose that laid the golden egg is killed," says the scientist. "When diamond dog collars become so numerous that any one can wear them diamonds will no longer be valued. If it were possible to manufacture diamonds it would pay the mine owners to buy up the formula, no matter what it cost, and it would pay the men engaged in such experiments much more if they would turn their energies to discovering a means by which rubber could be manufactured instead. If we could make a rubber as good as the product of Africa we would benefit the whole world. Regardless of every effort, the supply has failed to keep up with the demand."

Speed of the Gulf Stream.

The report that the gulf stream now runs with greater speed than formerly and its influence on the time required for the crossing of the Atlantic furnishes the theme for an article by Dr. Brennecke in the German magazine Umshau. Dr. Brennecke analyzes the climatic and geographical reasons for the existence and continuance of the gulf stream and points out how the change in the wind currents and the density of the atmosphere all affect the life and power of the famous current. This is chiefly dependent, he points out, on the location and areas of high and low pressure over the sea. A series of carefully made reports over a long period of time by the German marine observatorium seems to indicate that the gulf stream now moves more rapidly than formerly.

Farmhouse Antiques.

A highly ingenious device for putting on the market "old" furniture, the faking of which is quite a considerable industry in the western midlands, has been told by a dealer. He had eighty Welsh farmhouses on his books, in each of which he had deposited for the use of the tenant, but also in the hope that holiday people might desire to buy them, "old" dressers and cupboards and tables. The inexperienced hunter for old furniture invariably looks for worm holes. They are provided for him by a judicious peppering with small shot, and lest he should be suspicious and probe for worm dust they are carefully "salted" with fine sand.—Manchester Guardian.

Himself.

A new kink in addressing envelopes has been noticed recently by some of the postoffice clerks. Instead of the word "personal" on these envelopes, to indicate that the letter is intended only for the eye of the person addressed, has been written "himself." In each case these letters had been sent from England. In some parts of Ireland the head of the household is always referred to by the members of the family as "himself," and the influence of that custom may have had its effect on the English writers, or possibly the writers were Irishmen living in England.—New York Sun.

After Effects of the Grip.

Dr. Clouston of Edinburgh said it seemed as if no disease of whose effects there was any correct record had such farreaching evil effects as this one, and among its sequelae he enumerated a depressing influence on the whole nervous energy, melancholia, neurasthenic conditions, premature senility, various forms of paralysis, neuralgic affections and a general incapacity for work.—Dundee Advertiser.

The Man That Made Niagara.

When the first suspension bridge was thrown over Niagara there was a great and tumultuous opening ceremony, such as the Americans love, and many of the great ones of the United States assembled to do honor to the occasion, and among them was Roscoe Conkling. Conkling was one of the most brilliant public men whom America has produced—a man of commanding, even beautiful, presence and of perhaps unparalleled vanity. He had been called (by an opponent) a human peacock. After the ceremonies attending the opening of the bridge had been concluded Conkling, with many others, was at the railway station waiting to depart; but, though others were there, he did not mingle with them, but strutted and plumed himself for their benefit, posing that they might get the full effect of all his majesty.

One of the station porters was so impressed that, stepping up to another who was hurrying by trundling a load of luggage, he jerked his thumb in Conkling's direction and—

"Who's that feller?" he asked. "Is he the man as built the bridge?"

The other studied the great man a moment.

"Thunder! No," said he. "He's the man as made the falls."—H. Perry Robinson in Putnam's Magazine.

Had a Treat For His Wife.

Dr. George Harvey, a local veterinary physician, was called to a stable not long ago to minister to a horse that was down with colic. It was a serious case, and the doctor saw that the only way to save the horse would be to insert a tube in its side and allow the gas on its stomach to escape. Just because he thought it would startle the owner of his horse Harvey struck a match and lighted the gas at the end of the tube. The man didn't say much at the time, but he was properly impressed. He had never heard of using a horse for an illuminating plant. The next day when Dr. Harvey came around to see how the horse was getting along—it was all over the colic then—the owner tapped him on the shoulder.

"My wife was away yesterday," he said, "but she's home now. Just light up the horse again, will you? I want her to see it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Chinese Sun and Moon.

In China the sun and moon are brother and sister. The moon is the elder brother, who looks after his rather silly sister, the sun. This is exactly the reverse of our legends, which make the sun the day king and the gentle moon lady of the night. One day in China, so the legend runs, the sun asked the moon if she couldn't go out at night. The moon answered very sternly: "No. You are a young lady, and it would be improper for you to go out after dark." Then the sun said, "But the people keep looking at me when I go out in the daytime." So the moon told her to take the golden needles that she wore in her hair and stick them into the eyes of people when they stared at her. This is the reason why no one can look at the sun without pain.

Sothern and Laura Keene.

While in New York and before he had made any hit, the elder Sothern had a dispute with Laura Keene concerning some trivial affair at a rehearsal, and Miss Keene went into one of her tantrums. After the quarrel on the stage she retired to her dressing room and, still angry, sent for Sothern and began to rate him fiercely.

"Stop, Laura—stop just a minute!" interrupted the comedian, and, advancing to the light, he deliberately turned it down.

"What do you mean by that, sir?" she demanded, in a rage.

"Oh, nothing," replied Sothern, "but you have always been so lovely to me that I can't bear to look upon your beautiful face when you are in a passion. Now go on!"

Spanish Emeralds.

"Fine old Spanish emeralds" is a phrase which means something quite different from what it seems to imply. There never was an emerald mined in Spain, but after the conquest of Peru the conquerors brought home great quantities of loot, of which emeralds formed an important part. In this way the finest emeralds came into possession of the old Spanish families, and as very few had been seen in Europe previous to that time all the best stones soon became classed as fine old Spanish emeralds. Today the expression still applies to the best emeralds of any source.—New York Sun.

Double Proof.

"Do you believe in heredity, Mrs. Simpson?"

"Indeed I do. Every mean trait Bobby has I can trace right back to his father."

"Does his father believe in heredity too?"

"Yes. He traces Bobby's faults all back to me."

Experience.

"Experience," said the wise person, "is the best teacher."

"Yes," answered Mrs. Torkins sadly, "but when it comes to horse races some people go on taking postgraduate courses all their lives."—Washington Star.

Chinese Monasteries.

Many Chinese monasteries are endowed with land or a tribute of rice, but seldom so as to be self supporting, and the monks, armed with gongs, go down into the cities to beg for sustenance, and most of them have become very capable beggars.

There is a large demand for pens in Italy. The most popular style is long and pointed, pierced three times above the crack. An Italian educational rule says that this form must be used in all schools, which thus creates a large demand.

HOW TO BE WELL

Healthfulness of Oranges.

The one lesson which most people never seem to learn is, how to guard their health.

We have been eating oranges since time immemorial, yet how many of us know that orange juice contains a medicinal principle which has a marked action on the stomach, bowels, kidneys and skin. Some physicians go so far as to say that they can cure the average case of Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness and Dry Skin with orange juice and proper diet.

This can be easily proved to the satisfaction of any sufferer. Take the juice of one or two oranges every morning before breakfast, take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night at bed-time, exercise a reasonable care in diet, and the proof will be found in health.

The cure will be greatly assisted and hastened by taking "Fruit-a-tives" in conjunction with the orange juice. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in which the medicinal principle of oranges, apples, figs and prunes are many times increased by the special way in which they are combined. Then tonics are added and the whole made into tablets. "Fruit-a-tives" may be obtained at all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price—50c a box—6 for $2.50. ENGLISH SUFFRAGETTES

TREATED WITH SCANT COURTESY BY LONDON AUTHORITIES.

Racy Account of Prison Experience—In Charge of an Irish Female Officer—What Prison Garb and Prison Fare Is Like—Cannot Receive or Send Letters—Was Sentenced For Disturbing the Peace.

One of the suffragettes recently arrested in London and sentenced to prison on a charge of disturbing the peace has written an account of her prison experience for one of the London papers. The letter follows:

As the constable who rides behind "Black Maria" unbolts, one by one, the hutches in which its occupants during the drive are penned, each prisoner on arrival at Holloway is locked into a cubicle cell, the furniture of which is a seat. The partitions of these cells do not reach to the top of the corridor, so as one sits in the dark and cold one hears the receiving officer open one cubicle after another and go through the form of interrogation which is the nation's welcome to those seeking temporarily its hospitality.

The receiving officer, when I visited "Holloway House," was a good-natured but ignorant Irish woman, and when I shut my eyes I can still hear the voice in which she repeated mechanically, as she opened each door: "Well, gurrl! Fwhat's your name? How old are you? How do you get your livin'? Have you been here before? Fwhat's your religion?"

We were then let out in threes into a sort of passage, where we were told to take off all our clothes and to choose from a heap of coarse prison chemises, plentifully marked with the broad arrow, an elementary garment in which to clothe ourselves. We then stood for twenty minutes barefooted and in this one garment, while lists were made of all the clothes, jewelry, money, etc., found upon us.

We were weighed and measured, our hair was taken down and examined, and we then passed on to the bath, which, fortunately for us, was a perfunctory affair, as we just stood in warm water for a few minutes.

We then put on the rest of the prison clothing, consisting of a much worn coarse flannel jersey, flannel petticoat to match, a linsey petticoat, a green shapeless bodice and skirt, a check apron, a white cap, a yellow badge bearing our number, and a duster for a pocket handkerchief; no pocket being allowed, this beautiful object is tucked into the string of the apron, and as it has to last a week before it gets washed, it will be understood that no provisions for influenza colds are made for those who are the guests of the nation.

The stockings provided are of the quality of cycling stockings, and in my case reached barely to the knee; as no garters are allowed, the effect, when one has to walk briskly round and round the prison yard for half an hour, does not make for neatness. The shoes are of the hardest and coarsest leather, and have been cobbled again and again till their weight is enormous, and the number of nails sticking up in the soles soon reduce one's stockings and one's feet to a state of holes.

When on the third day I complained, the wardress produced a heap of old old shoes, telling me to choose some that had fewer nails. On this evening of reception, after being marshalled in one of the upper corridors, we were each given a brown roll, and were locked for the night into our cells, where we took down our plank beds, laid them flat on the cement floor, unrolled the cocoa-nut fiber mattresses, covered ourselves with the two thin blankets, and lay down—but not to sleep!

At six the bell clangs for us to get up, and in the dark of a winter morning I got into my outer prison garments (I suffered so from cold in the night that I had to keep on all my underclothes), washed in the tin basin, fastened up my hair as well as I could without a looking-glass, and was just ready by the time the cell doors were thrown open and we were told to go and fill our water cans.

After a breakfast of cocoa (which I never ventured on, so I cannot speak for its quality) and a roll of brown bread came the cleaning of the cells, which "cleaning," being among the most obtusely stupid traditions of prison discipline, deserves to be described in detail.

The cell violates all laws of hygiene, in that the barred window is not made to open to admit the outer air, and is of corrugated glass so that no sunshine can penetrate into the cell. A strip of the cement floor at the further end of the cell has to be whitewashed every morning, and on this whitewashed strip are arranged the tin utensils used by the prisoner. These tin utensils are a dust-pan, a sanitary bucket, a washing basin, a water can with a cover, and a tin mug. These utensils can be rinsed out at the sink in the morning, but their cleaning and polishing must be accomplished in the cell, where one piece of rag, one cloth and brickdust are provided.

The prisoner is sometimes changed from one cell to another, and finds on her arrival in the new cell that she has to use the still wet and soiled rag of the woman who has just vacated the cell.

When the cell and tins have been cleaned, the unsanitary wooden spoon and the "books of devotion" arranged at their proper angle on the shelf, the prisoner makes canvas postoffice bags till summoned to chapel. Half an hour is spent in chapel, where a wardress sits facing every group of thirty or forty women, to see that no one talks.

Then comes the half hour of exercise in the yard, after which the prisoners are all locked up for the day, and have to do the task of hard labor allotted to them in their cells. With a clash and jangling of keys and bolts, dinner is thrust in at noon. It is sometimes a chunk of what is called suet pudding, sometimes soup, and sometimes meat preserved by heat, which, being interpreted, is Chicago tinned meat. There are generally potatoes, which is the only part of the menu I ever tried.

The evening meal is tea or cocoa and brown bread, after which the scissors used in cutting the coarse threads with which the mail bags are sewn are removed, presumably because the temptations to commit suicide become more acute as the evening chill and darkness set in. It was explained to me that the lack of garters was caused by the same solicitude on the part of the authorities that there should be no extra temptation for prisoners to commit suicide.

No letters are allowed to be received or sent by prisoners serving short sentences. Any letter sent to the prisoner is opened and returned at once to the sender with a printed form stating that the prisoner has no right to receive a letter.

SEA SNAKES.

Eastern Seas Infested With Serpents, All of Which Are Dangerous.

While the sea monster myth has been decidedly overworked, it is interesting to note that real sea serpents do exist and to the number of over fifty species or kinds. Some of the species swim the seas in schools of countless thousands and all are highly dangerous. The actual sea serpents are never seen in any but tropical waters. None grows to a length of over eight feet. One species only occurs in the waters of the new world, and this is found off the western coast of southern Mexico, Central America, and northern South America.

It is in the Indian ocean and the island region of the tropical Pacific that the waters are infested with bright hued snakes, some striped, others ringed with green and black, all with a laterally compressed body and a paddlelike tail. They are greatly dreaded by the East Indian fishermen, and are actually most nearly related to that family of snakes containing the deadly cobras and their allies.

Scientific men describe the sea serpents as recent specialized types of snakes that have wearied of a terrestrial existence and taken to the sea, where evolution at once took them in hand and changed their structure to suit their surroundings. Thus from a technical point of view they are splendid examples of adaptation in the display of the flattened body and the remarkable tail. If placed on land, a sea serpent is awkward and unable to make definite progress.

Collecting sea snakes for the scientific institutions is a difficult process. If the collector is to obtain anything like a fair proportion of the fifty-odd species, he must cruise through Malayan seas in a small boat and be ever on the watch.

The only way to obtain a series of the species is to shoot them. Sea snakes come regularly to the surface for air, but the collector is lucky if he gets one out of every 10 snakes he sees.

The reptiles approach the surface like an arrow, elevate the head a few inches for possibly two seconds, then dart below. It gets a man almost hysterical holding a gun ready, and not knowing whether the prize will come up at the extreme right or left, immediately under his nose, or in the far distance.

Then there is also the chance that the reptile may float when shot or sink like a stone. Those species that swim in schools are, of course, well represented in the museums and are not sought by the collector.

While comparatively safe from the relentless heel of humanity and apparently destined to survive their terrestrial relations, the sea snakes have many enemies in the shape of the big carnivorous fishes and the larger sea birds.

A sea bird will handle a snake in gingerly fashion, beating it with its wings and sometimes will continue the combat on the yards of a passing vessel. Hence it is not uncommon in the East Indies for a wriggling snake to drop upon the deck, an occurrence, though, that always throws a Lascar crew into a condition of chattering awe.

Experiences of the Gilded Chamber.

Mr. Hedley, the attendant in the Press Gallery of the House of Lords, has "looked down" on the peers for 29 years. Now he has descended, on promotion as Third Principal Attendant, to the brass gates before the entrance to the Upper House. He has seen nine Ministries come and go. During his tenure nearly every present occupant of the House has been introduced and made his bow to the Lord Chancellor. Now the kindly, grey-haired attendant, whom reporters have looked upon as their guide, philosopher, and friend, has passed from his accustomed haunts. "I came to the gallery," said Mr. Hedley, "in the latter days of Disraeli's second administration. They were exciting times. I think the House, if anything, is more subdued than then.

"One thing strikes me especially. Thirty years ago a few peers stood out in bold relief from the rest on both sides of the House. To-day there is a more general level, as it seems to me, both in debating and speaking. I have watched the set oration gradually die, and the rise and development of crisper and quicker methods of business. Of the famous men who have left their mark on my memory—and I think I have been present at every great debate and every great function since 1879—there has been no greater debater than Lord Cairns. Lord Herschell was, perhaps, the greatest and most dignified, Lord Selborne the most learned, Lord Halsbury the most genial, and Lord Loreburn the most accessible and sympathetic of the occupants of the Woolsack."

Taking No Chances.

"Yes, he has proposed by letter," she explained. "Now, do you think I ought to mail my answer immediately or keep him in suspense for awhile?"

"Mail it!" exclaimed her dearest friend in a tone that had a trace of spitefulness in it. "If I were you, I'd telegraph it." And there was an emphasis put on "if I were you" that came near breaking a friendship that had extended over several years.

THOUGHT READING.

How to Show on a Watch Dial the Hour Secretly Chosen.

The thought reader, taking a watch in one hand and a pencil in the other, proposes to give an exposition of his powers of divination.

He demands that some one present in the audience should privately think of some given hour.

This being arranged, he starts tapping different hours on the dial of the watch, without asking any questions, simply directing his unknown accomplice to count twenty taps from the hour he has fixed.

For instance, if the hour be 6 he must count the first tap as seven, the next as eight, etc. When, according to this mode of counting, he has reached twenty he must cry out "Stop," when the pencil of the thought reader will be seen resting on the original flour he has mentally fixed on.

This trick is based on a simple arithmetical principle, but this fact is very rarely discovered by the audience. There is, of course, no real thought reading at all. All the performer has to do is to count his taps himself, beginning at number one. The first seven taps he can give anywhere he likes on the dial face—it matters not a jot, but the eighth tap must always be given on the figure 12, and then the performer must count back from that number in order—eleven, ten, nine, etc., until his victim has counted up to twenty and cries out "Stop!" as arranged.

By following this process you will find that at the tap which, counting from the number the spectator thought of will make twenty, the pencil will have traveled back to that very number.

Try it and see. You will find it always works out right.

Take twelve, for instance, the simplest number for illustration.

In this case the victim will count the first half as thirteen, the second as fourteen, the third as fifteen, etc., till he reaches twenty, which is the eighth tap of the pencil, which you remember must always fall on twelve, and there you are. Twelve was the hour privately fixed on.

Try it on any hour you like. It will always work out right, and your reputation as a conjurer will be firmly established, and all at so very little trouble.

A Foster Mother.

An owl and a cat are queer companions, but a story vouched for as strictly true is of a baby owl—a gray, fluffy little fellow—which fell into the hands of a kindly plumber and was turned over by its captor to the care of a cat. This cat the year before had accepted a young squirrel in the place of her dead kitten. She stroked the forlorn owlet with her tongue after considering him awhile, and he, being frightened, flattened his feathers close to his body so that he covered up his eyes and beak and took on a semblance to a gray kitten, at the same time uttering a strange sound, which the cat perhaps misconstrued into a pur. At any rate she took him to her heart, adopted him, encouraged him to eat and brought him mice and ground moles, for which he had as great a fancy as if he had been a cat. When last heard from, the pair were living together in happy fellowship.

Caring For Goldfish.

Do not put any coral or seashells in the globe, since it may injure the fish. Ants' eggs may be fed to fish. When the fish are seen coming to the top for air, it is a sure sign that the water needs changing. If there are plants in the globe, a few pond snails will eat the decaying plants. How They Greet Us.

"Comment vous portes-vous, chere madame?"
Says, curtseying, gay Louise
And carries herself with a conscious air,
Polite and pretty and debonair,
Remembers her manners everywhere,
And always is quite at her ease.

"Come sta!" cries Filippo's musical voice
And he laughs with his lips and eyes,
Lithe and sturdy and brown of face,
He walks and stands with a careless grace
And the vigorous ease of his southern race.
"Come sta, signor!" he cries.

"Wie befinden sie sich, mein herr?"
The grave words soberly fall,
And, lost in the labyrinthine ways
Of a vague, metaphysical misty gaze,
I wonder, Hans of the wide eyed gaze,
You can "find yourself" at all.

Alive and alert from their heads to their heels,
Come Tommy and Johnny and
And each energetic American
Who is up and a-doing from morning till night,
Cries out, and no wonder, in greeting polite,
"How are you?" or "How do you do?"

CANADA'S NORTHLAND.

Some Natural Beauties of This Little Known District.

Mr. J. K. Cornwall of Lesser Slave Lake, Alberta, recently wrote this compact and incisive article on some little known features of Canada's big northland:

In latitude 53 north, longitude 119 west, nature has cut through the very heart of the Rockies a gash 9,000 feet deep. This cut is known as the "Yellow Head." In this Pass, high up in perpetual snow, the Athabasca, the most southerly of the rivers that go to make up the Mackenzie Basin, the second largest watershed in North America, has its source. From its head it flows easterly and northerly, collecting in its course the waters of the Baptiste, Macleod, Freeman, Pembina, Lesser Slave, The Twatpau, Calling, LaBiche, Pelican, Buffalo, Clearwater and Red Deer. Where it empties itself into the Athabasca (or Lake of the Hills), it is one mile wide and eleven hundred miles from the trickling streams high up above the timber line of the Rockies, its source.

Out of Athabasca lake, the reservoir of "the Southern North," the Rock river takes its source. Forty miles on its way it is joined by that famed river of the north, the Peace, an immense river formed by the junction of the Findlay and Parsnip, in the very centre of northern British Columbia, 1,000 miles to the west. This splendid stream has drained that immense region served by the Halfway, the North and South Pine, Clear Sky, Cut Bank, the Bear and Montana, the two Burnts (the North and South), the Big Smoky, with its hundreds of tributaries, the White Mud, Cadott, the Battle, Carajou, the Keg and Paddle, the Owl and Elk rivers.

A tremendous volume of water, in conjunction with the Athabasca brought down by the Rock river, form the Great Slave river, three hundred miles in length, flowing into the Great Slave lake, an immense inland sea in the centre of the north that washes the shores of the "Barren Land," so called because of the fact that although it has as good soil as the western prairies, it is barren of trees.

Then on, still further north, at the western end of the lake, the mighty Mackenzie has its starting point. This is one of the eight largest rivers in the known world. In its course to its mouth in the Arctic ocean in latitude 70, it is joined by the Liard river, that has flown from beyond the Rockies, collecting the waters of the North Cassiar and Caribou and southern Yukon countries.

Then on, by the forts of the Hudson Bay Co. and Free Traders, missions, and Indian camps that occur at intervals of hundreds of miles, joined on its way at a point about latitude 65 by the Great Bear river, that brings down the waters from the lake of the same name, is found one of the largest fresh water lakes in the world. This lake has on its easterly and southerly boundary the edge of the barren ground, with its bands of musk ox, and millions of northern caribou, the land that is the source of the Copper Mine and the Great Fish rivers; the country of the roving Esquimos and the land of copper, the largest tract of unexplored land on this continent.

Then on, passing through a spur of the Rockies at the Ramparts, one of the beauty spots of the world, a day's drift or so further, and within two hours' paddle of the Arctic Circle, Fort Good Hope is reached, where the traveler can go ashore and get potatoes and vegetables. Further on the Gravel, the Arctic, Red and Peel rivers join their forces. At the junction of the Peel the river widens and is divided by numerous islands, two of which—in fact, either one of them—is as large as the province of Prince Edward Island. Its delta finally makes the Arctic shore in Mackenzie Bay, 2,400 miles from the basin source in Central Alberta, draining one million one hundred thousand more square miles than are drained by the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence river.

This is the northland!

A "Find" Indeed!

Many are the stories of precious English first editions found among rubbish heaps, and if you will face the fatigue of back and forearm and will turn the ear marked contents of the portfolios of prints and drawings your luck may be as brilliant on occasion as it is generally dull. It is not so long since an Englishman lighted upon an original Rembrandt drawing on a stall under the very windows of the Louvre. With a rather guilty feeling that it might be and should be hanging with its fellows in a gilded gallery on the other side of those windows, he somewhat hurriedly thrust it into his overcoat pocket, and a certain crease shows on it to this day as witness to the sense of shame which befalls the man who purchases for a franc what is worth a thousand.—London Sketch.

Study at Home.

"Maud graduated from your cooking school last spring, didn't she?"

"Yes, but she's going to take a post-graduate course next fall."

"Going back to the same school again?"

"Oh, no; she's to be married to a poor young man."—St. Louis Republic.

An Insinuation.

A Natural Laxative

Inward cleansing is as necessary as outward bathing. To keep the bowels free and regular is of even greater importance than to keep the skin-pores from becoming clogged. The neglect of either invites disease. Everyone needs a natural laxative occasionally, to free the bowels of accumulated impurities. For this purpose take the greatest boon ever offered to those who suffer from the ills that follow constipation. For over fifty years Beecham's Pills have been famous as a Stomach corrective, Liver Stimulant and Bowel laxative. They never gripe nor cause pain, as powerful purgatives are dangerous. Avoid them. Use Beecham's Pills. They give relief without doing violence to any organ. Their action is in harmony with physical laws. Take them regularly and the necessity for their use becomes less frequent. They are a natural laxative and a positive cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

COLOR LINE IN INDIA

WHIPPED FOR NOT MAKING PROPER OBEISANCE TO WHITES.

Keir Hardie Tells of Experiences In the East—Father and Son Grossly Insulted — Estrangement Between Natives and Europeans Is Growing —But Education Is Fast Spreading —Feasted by Princes.

"I attended a King's Birthday party at Tanjore Castle," writes Mr. Keir Hardie, M.P., describing his visit to India in The Labor Leader, London. "The party, be it remembered, was a King's Birthday party, was given by the Ranee, widow of the late ruling chief, and attended by the two young princes. Apart from these latter and the servants, I saw no natives present, and was subsequently told that the King's Birthday party for the natives would be given next day.

"When I entered the train at Madras there were two native gentlemen in the compartment. One of them rose as I entered, and said, 'Shall we move to another compartment, sir?' I stared at the man, and asked whether he had paid his fare. 'Oh, yes,' he replied; 'but English gentlemen don't as a rule, like to travel with natives.' Now I knew that in America the color line was strictly drawn, but I was not prepared for this kind of thing in India. Here, be it remembered, is a people who have inherited a civilization which was old ere the west had begun to emerge from savagery. Those who travel first or second-class are mostly men with a university education, and speak English fluently. Some of them are wealthy, and many of them are of ancient lineage and noble descent. And yet, traveling on a Government railway in their own country, they are treated much as they themselves treat the poor outcast pariahs.

"I breakfasted one morning with a young Mohammedan gentleman, of handsome, refined appearance, whose forbears had built at least one of the mighty mausoleums which travelers to India make a point of seeing. He had been educated at Cambridge, eaten dinners and taken silk in London, and is now practicing as a barrister. On his return from England he entered a first-class railway carriage in which were two Englishmen, and was at once ordered out — the compartment was not reserved—and in the end, for his own comfort, was forced to go out to escape the studied insults of his traveling companions.

"A native gentleman, lately knighted a Christian, and an active supporter of missionary work, happened to be traveling, and was joined at a certain station by his son—who, by the way, is married to an English lady of good position. The son is darker in complexion than his father, and when he entered the carriage where his father was one of the other passengers objected. The father pointed out that there was plenty of room, and that he desired that his son should be beside him. This was the response: 'Look here, we tolerate you because you don't look so bad, but I'll be damned if we allow that black log in beside us.' Father and son went out, and one can imagine their feelings.

"It is not only in trains and clubs where this spirit is shown; it manifests itself everywhere and in every direction. There are cases in plenty of men and boys being whipped on the highway and otherwise punished for not making proper obeisance when some petty Government official passed. In one case in the northwest a native gentleman of good position, an income-tax payer, had a case in the local court. During a pause in the business he approached the magistrate to ask what place his occupied in the list, and for this offence was ordered to stand in the corner of the court with his face to the wall for three hours. In the same district where this took place natives must take off their shoes when entering a Government office, and are not allowed the use of a chair unless they can show a special authorization entitling them thereto.

"We hear a great deal about the abuse which a section of the native press pours out upon the English—and some of it, in all conscience, is in very bad taste, and should be discontinued; but we hear nothing about the insult, abuse, and contumely poured out day after day by a large section of the Anglo-Indian press upon the educated native. When men are being reviled, insulted, mocked, jeered at, and misrepresented day after day, it is not to be wondered at that some of them seek to pay out their tormentors in their own coin.

"Everyone admits that the estrangement between native and European is growing, and many and varied are the explanations put forward to account for the undoubted fact. In the days when railway and other communication was less complete than it now is, the officials were perforce more in touch with the people among whom they lived all the time. Now an official looks to going home every few years, and so does not feel the same need for companionship. Formerly, also, it was customary for a man to remain for years at a stretch in one district. Then, also, the work was not so specialized as it has since become, and the district collector was more in touch with all that went on. Nowadays it is a rare thing for a collector to remain longer than two years in a district which may be as large as Scotland or Wales, and then he is moved on to another where he is a total stranger. The result is that he never gets in touch with the people or their needs.

"Add to all this the fact that education is spreading; that business is developing, and that the educated Indian feels his position more keenly than he did a generation ago, that he is still, for all practical purposes, shut out from the higher and better paid positions, has no effective voice of any kind in shaping the destinies of his country, and is treated as a pestilent fellow if he suggests that he should have a voice, and one sees grounds enough for the growing unrest in India.

"For let it not be forgotten that the Indian people are of the same Aryan stock as ourselves. Take a gathering of Indians. Remove their graceful picturesque costumes, and clothe them in coat and trousers, wash the sun out of their skins, and then a stranger suddenly let down into the midst of them would have difficulty in saying whether he was in Manchester or Madras. This fact has a very important bearing upon the question of how far the Indian people can be trusted with the right of self-government.

"For the moment the gulf between the British official and the Indian people is widening. I have fared sumptuously with princes, sat at the table and broken the bread of the educated middle-class, and munched grain with the ryots, and the uniform unvarying testimony has been the same in every case. Nor can I discern any signs of an immediate change for the better."

SKIPPERS AS WATCHDOGS.

Important Service Required From Mercantile Officers.

When the captain of a merchant steamer sights a warship he usually takes but little notice of her, unless she happens to come pretty close to him, or threatens to hamper his navigation. In truth, the shipmaster recognizes that he has got his own business to attend to, and that the warship, whatever her nationality, has her own special mission. Therefore, unless she is under the white ensign, and the merchant skipper, following Lord Charles Beresford's advice, exchanges signals with her, he takes no particular cognizance of any vessels of war he meets. It has, however, occurred to the Admiralty that it might be advantageous if the powers of observation possessed by British shipmasters were applied a little more carefully in this regard, and that in times of peace they might usefully practice themselves in the recognition of warships, in order to report them wherever possible to the naval authorities, and that the knowledge thus acquired might some day prove extremely valuable in enabling the identity of enemy ships to be more clearly established. To this end the Admiralty is inviting the assistance of shipowners, who are being asked to instruct their captains to report as far as possible the movements of any warships observed during their voyages. To facilitate the work, the Admiralty has prepared a book containing block sketches of war vessels, whose obvious purpose is to present in outline the principal types of war vessels, and in this way to assist identification. It is thought that, in case of uncertainty as to the character or flag of the warships encountered, a reference to this book will remove it. Moreover, a study of the sketches will, it is held, enable the identification of a ship to be arrived at, after some experience, without reference to the block sketches at all. It is contemplated that shipmasters shall communicate the movements of war vessels by signal to any of His Majesty's ships which they may pass on the high sea. In many cases, of course, there will be no opportunity for doing this, and in that case the proposal is that the information shall be given to the naval intelligence officers at various foreign ports, or to the boarding naval officers at ports, where vessels are boarded by British officers. Should a report not be transmitted through any of these channels, then it is to be sent to the commander-in-chief or senior naval officer of the station in which the terminal port is situated. Shipowners, it may be assumed, will give careful attention to this request for co-operation with the Admiralty, and doubtless before very long every British shipmaster will be furnished with a book of block sketches of war vessels for use as indicated. The new duty placed upon the shipmaster will not be a very onerous one, for the reason that in many cases there will be no warships to report. On the other hand, there is good reason to believe that merchant captains will cheerfully enter into the spirit of the new requirement, and endeavor, as far as possible, to perfect themselves in a knowledge which, while involving no serious demand upon their time, would in certain eventualities be of the greatest value. This new departure on the part of the Admiralty should serve as one more link between the military and merchant shipping of the country.

Attacked by Bees.

Rarely has a human being been in a more painful predicament than that in which a young Australian named Trunkett found himself recently. While robbing a bee hive which was built in the fork of a tree forty feet from the ground in Wangaretta, Trunkett who was without his hat, coat and boots, was completely smothered by the enraged insects. For ten minutes he remained thus, unable to help himself, until some friends saw his plight and by means of a rope hoisted up to him a bag. With this the unhappy victim beat some of the insects off, and then wrapping it round his head slid down the rope to the ground, where he fainted. For half an hour he remained unconscious, during which time his friends by vigorously rubbing whisky into his skin succeeded in drawing most of the poison from the stings, which amounted to several hundreds.

A Trick of East Indian Thieves.

In some of the thieves' schools in India a regular course of training is gone through in the art of "pouching," or concealing articles of value in the throat. The Englishman, a newspaper published in Calcutta, thus describes the process:

"At first a small piece of lead attached to a thread is swallowed and guided by the action of the tongue to the orifice of the sac in the throat. As soon as this has been thoroughly learned the lead is coated with lime. This eats into the sac and enlarges it. The size of the article to be pouched is gradually increased until it is said that many of the Indian thieves can pouch 8 or 10 rupees at once."

Alphabetical.

Two commercial travelers in a railway carriage entered into conversation.

One of them tried hard to make the other understand something, but he was either very hard of hearing or slow in believing.

At last his friend lost his temper and exclaimed: "Why, don't you see? It's as plain as A B C!"

"That may be," said the other; "but, you see, I am D E F."

QUEBEC TERCENTENARY.

Will Be a Valuable Object Lesson In History.

The pageant, which will be a feature of the Quebec tercentenary, will be the first celebration of the sort on the North American continent. From time to time single scenes of past history have been represented; an instance of this was the appearance at the Chicago World's Fair of 1893 of vessels which were an attempt to reproduce the flotilla with which Columbus sailed to discover the new world. A pageant, however, in the sense in which the word recently has come to be used, is the representation of a series of scenes connected with the history of the actual spot where the performance takes place. For a pageant of this sort indispensable requirements are age and a history, and few places in the new world either have any considerable history, or have been the scene of successive events of importance. Quebec in these respects offers advantages possessed by scarcely any other place on the continent.

The pageant has sprung into popularity in England, and the last two or three years have seen a series of remarkable shows of this sort. Oxford has celebrated the history of a university whose origin is shrouded in uncertainty, a history which ranges from the scientific speculations of Roger Bacon to the campaigns of King Charles I., and the origin of Methodism. Liverpool has set forth her past, from the grant of her charter by King John to the commercial triumphs of the nineteenth century. Coventry had a pageant in which Lady Godiva duly figured. London is preparing for a pageant which will adequately honor her story from the time when London Bridge was of importance as a fortification which kept the sea-rovers from ascending the river and penetrating the interior. Something like a rage for this form of combined amusement and instruction has seized the nation.

The Quebec pageant will be a wonderful spectacular event and a valuable object lesson in early Canadian history.

BISHOP OF WASHINGTON.

High Honor Comes to a Canadian Ecclesiastic.

Right Rev. Charles Henry Brent, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the Philippines, who has just been offered the see of Washington, one of the chief posts in the church in the United States, by the Synod of the Diocese, is a Canadian, and was born at Newcastle, Ontario, April 9, 1862. He is the son of Rev. Canon Henry Brent and Sophia Frances (Cummings) Brent. He was educated at Newcastle and Toronto and graduated from Trinity University with honors in classics in 1884. He received the degree of M.A. in 1889. He was ordained deacon in 1886 and priest in the following year. He was at first curate of St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo; curate at St. John the Evangelist, Boston, and associate rector of St. Stephen's, Boston. Dr. Brent is unmarried.

He was elected Bishop of the Philippines by the General Convention in the autumn of 1901 and consecrated Bishop in December of that year. At that time he was made a Doctor of Divinity by his Alma Mater, the occasion being marked with great rejoicing at Trinity. Many Torontonians will recall the stately functions on this occasion.

Bishop Brent is an author of considerable note. He was one of the editorial staff of the New York Churchman from 1879 to 1900. He was the W. B. Noble lecturer at Harvard for 1907 and the author of "With God in the World," "The Consolation of the Cross," "The Splendor of the Human Body," "Adventure for God," "With God in Prayer," and he was the Paddock lecturer at the General Theological Seminary, New York City, 1904.

Bishop Brent has a number of relatives in Toronto including Mr. T. H. Brent, a brother; Miss Brent, superintendent of the Sick Children's Hospital, and Mr. W. C. Brent, cousins, and Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, who is his aunt.

Ten Million Bushel Elevator.

In connection with the proposal of the Canadian Pacific Railway to make Victoria Harbor its chief grain port on the Georgian Bay, it is understood that the Government will dredge the channel and build a wharf capable of accommodating three large steamers, and as there is no rock, the dredging part of the contract will not be by any means difficult. Then at Victoria Harbor the shore plans of the C.P.R. are of great magnitude, as the intentions of the company at that point provide for an elevator of a capacity of 10,000,000 bushels, the same to be constructed in five units of 2,000,000 bushels per unit. The handling capacity of the projected plant will be about 60,000 bushels per hour, or the exact amount of one train load over the new railway, which the company will have completed to the waters of the Georgian Bay.

The President's Revelation.

While President Roosevelt was holding an open air reception at Syracuse a tall negro pushed his way forward through the crowd and eagerly grasped his hand.

"Yo' an' me war bo'n on the same day, Mistah Roosevelt!" the darky enthusiastically said, his shining black face almost cleft from ear to ear by a grin.

"De-lighted indeed to hear it!" warmly responded the president, taking a fresh grip on the black hand and laughing heartily. "So you and I were born on the same day? Well, well!"

"Yo' am fo'ty-seven yeahs old, suh?"

"I am," was the quick answer.

"An' yo' war bo'n on Octobah 17, 1858?"

"Yes."

"Ya-as, suh," then exclaimed the darky, shaking all over with rapture, "ya-as, suh, Mr. Roosevelt, yo' an' me is bofe twins!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Love's Lesson.

Said the pretty teacher to the scholar grown,
"I would make figures to you known,
So learn to cipher true."
The pupil said, with bronzed cheek flushed,
The while the pretty teacher blushed,
"I do—I sigh for you!"

SHE SAID SHE WOULD THROW BOMBS,

Terrible Threat of Woman in British Suffrage Campaign.

POLICE COURT STATEMENT

Officers Will Now Proceed Against Agitators—Mary Leigh Sentenced to Three Month For Breaking the Windows of Premier Asquith's Home — A Number of Other Women Are Also Sentenced.

London, July 2.—The extraordinary demonstration Tuesday night before the House of Parliament made by the women suffragists in their effort to secure votes for themselves had a rather startling sequel yesterday when one of the women, Mary Leigh, arrested for breaking windows in the house of Premier Asquith, declared in the Bow street police court that "The next time we come out you can expect bombs."

This radical statement has had the effect of drawing a greater degree of attention to the suffragist movement in England, and as a result the police will henceforth have to handle the women demonstrators with less of good humored tolerance and more severity.

This threat by Mary Leigh, which was a repetition of what she said at the time she was taken into custody, is really the sensation of the last demonstration, for the much heralded attack on the House of Commons on Tuesday night was a comparative failure.

Mary Leigh and her companion were sentenced to serve three months at hard labor without the option of a fine.

Twenty-seven out of the twenty-nine who were arrested were charged with obstructing the police.

Those against whom previous convictions had been entered were ordered to pay a fine or spend three months in prison. First offenders were required to give security not to repeat the offence, in default of which they were sentenced to one month imprisonment. A majority of the women elected to go to jail and serve time.

The suffragist demonstration for today has been postponed, as the annual outing of the London police is fixed for that date.

Hearst Satisfied.

New York, July 2.—The following cablegram was received yesterday from William Randolph Hearst, in regard to the result of the New York mayoralty recount:

"London, July 1.—The result is more than satisfactory to me, and I hope it will sufficiently satisfy the citizens for whom this long and arduous struggle has been carried on. I have said from the beginning that the fight was not to make me mayor, but to secure an honest count of the vote cast by the citizens. In the face of enormous and unnecessary difficulties, that count has been secured, and hereafter it will not be possible for election thieves to commit frauds in secrecy and security, behind the barrier of the law. Whatever election crime is committed, be it great or small, must be publicly accounted for. That has been accomplished and it means much for the safety of the republic.—(Signed) William Randolph Hearst."

Big Factory Burned.

Hamburg, July 2.—An enormous fire Tuesday night destroyed the factory and offices of Schatz & Hubenner, in the Jemischstrasse, manufacturers of roofing felt and other tar products. Within two hours the massive brick building was burned from basement to roof and turned into a mass of ruins.

The united efforts of the Hamburg fire brigades, with all the engines and men available, succeeded in saving the adjoining buildings, among which were large coal and kindling-wood depots. The damage, which is estimated approximately at a million marks, is mostly covered by insurance.

This is the third large fire in Hammersbrooks district inside of a fortnight. The cause is not ascertainable yet.

DOMINION OF CANADA IN NEXT DECADE

Lord Strathcona Predicts Great Strides For Canada.

OLD LONDON PAYS TRIBUTE

Distinguished Men Attend Brilliant Function to Celebrate Dominion Day —Canada Will Astonish Us All, Said the Duke of Argyll— Other Optimistic Addresses by Splendid Speakers.

London, July 2.—(C. A. P.)—The Dominion Day dinner held at the Franco-British Exhibition was a brilliant function. The guests included the Duke of Argyll, Lord Dudley, Lord Alverstone, Lord Balfour of Burleigh, Lord Blyth, Lord Lichfield, Lord Fitzmaurice, Lord Aldenham and the Lord Advocate of Scotland.

The Palace of Music, where the banquet was held, was crowded with an enthusiastic and loyal gathering of Canadians and friends of Canada. Lord Strathcona's happy speech included a reference to the tercentenary, he remarking that Canada was permanent.

The Franco-British Exhibition was of a peculiarly happy character. It was an object lesson to South Africa, he observed, and he hinted at a possible closer relationship between the West Indies and Canada.

He pointed out that the influx of United States spoke very well for the Dominion, and paid tributes to the late Lord Derby, to Earl Grey, and to the Duke of Argyll, which were loudly cheered.

In conclusion he expressed the belief that Canada's development in the next decade would be far beyond all present hopes.

The Duke of Argyll, in responding, anticipated Lord Strathcona's acceptance of the presidency of the exhibition, vice Lord Derby, and paid Lord Strathcona a high compliment as representing the Dominion on the Canadian section of the exhibition. With happy allusion he pointed out Canada's spaciousness and its cereal-producing capacity, which would astonish those present before their hair grew grey.

In response to the toast of "The Guests," proposed by Hon. T. C. Casgrain, K.C., Lord Dudley made a genial speech. Lord Alverstone remarked that England could learn a lesson in loyalty from Canada, while the Lord Advocate of Scotland, in a humorous oration, spoke a word for the Scotsmen as pioneers of the Empire.

Sir W. R. Perk and Lord Fitzmaurice referred to Canada's appearance as a comity of nations as an historic event. A noteworthy feature was the warmth of the reception of the toast to Strathcona's health.

The dinner was one of the most successful Dominion Day functions yet held, as was the reception subsequently given by Lady Strathcona at the Imperial Sports Club.

Bridge Collapsed.

Strathroy, July 2.—By the collapse of a bridge in Lobo Township Tuesday, three men were injured, one seriously, and damage to the extent of $700 was done to a threshing engine belonging to Barnes Bros. of Fernhill. The engine was being taken to Fernhill in charge of Garfield Smith, Wm. Barnes and Albert Brooks. As the engine entered upon the bridge there was a sudden crackling noise and the front of the engine plunged downward. The bridge is about 15 feet above the stream, and, in falling, the engine turned a compete somersault. The three men were carried down with it.

Smith and Barnes received bad bruises about the shoulders, head and arms, but it was found that Brooks had suffered most severely, as in addition to bruises and a bad shaking-up his spine was injured in the fall.

$35,000 Jewelry Robbery.

Chicago, July 2.—S. C. Powell, a buyer employed by Stearn Bros. & Co., wholesale jewelers in the Columbus Memorial building, reported to the police that he either lost or was robbed of a sack containing $35,000 worth of unset diamonds.

Powell said he had purchased the diamonds a short time previously, and had entered the Columbus Memorial building with the intention of turning them over to his employers. He said he entered the elevator, but instead of getting off at the floor on which the firm is located, he rode to the fourth floor and entered a barber-shop. When he went to the offices of his employers, about 15 minutes later, he discovered the diamonds had disappeared.

Parisians Fight Duel.

Paris, July 2.—A duel with swords was fought in this city yesterday between M. Jouvenal, a brother of the present editor of Matin, and a lawyer named Baudelot. M. Baudelot was wounded in the right arm. A libel case involving The Matin was being heard, when M. Baudelot slapped M. Jouvenal in the face. The latter retaliated by smashing his cane over M. Baudelot's head, and a challenge followed.

Honored at Oxford.

Oxford, Eng., July 2.—Oxford University yesterday conferred a number of degrees upon prominent ecclesiastics. The Archbishop of Toronto was given the degree of honorary doctor of divinity. Two Americans, Frederic Rogers Graves (Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Shanghai) and John McKim (Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Tokio) were also given this degree.

Philadelphia Doctor Meets Death in Poisoned Liquor.

TO AVENGE DEAD PATIENT?

Police Promise Startling Denouement —Alleged That Murder Was Done as Result of Death of Woman on Operating Table—All Office Records Were Destroyed— Dead Doctor a Man of Mystery.

Philadelphia, July 2.—Hunted down by a man who wished to avenge himself for the death of his wife, upon whom the doctor had operated, Dr. William H. Wilson of this city was murdered on Friday evening last. His death was encompassed by means of a bottle of poisoned ale, purporting to be a sample sent by a brewing company.

The police are on the trail of the murderer, and refuse to divulge any names, but startling revelations are promised as a result of the case.

The bottle of ale came by express to Dr. Wilson, and on the same day there arrived a typewritten letter from a brewery inviting him to try the beverage. He drank it and was immediately seized with convulsions and fell to the floor in the agonies of poisoning. He immediately recognized that he was the victim of a plot, it is said, for in the agonies of his convulsions he asked his wife to put the remainder of the ale by to be tested. This was the last he said. He died on the way to the hospital.

The murderer, it is believed, is the husband of a woman who died on the operating table under Dr. Wilson's hand some time ago. The man has gone cunningly and carefully to work to cover up every trace of his identity, and those of the woman and family involved.

Dr. Wilson had practiced in Philadelphia for years, and was a specialist on women's cases. It now develops that he was practicing without a license, and his clientele lay among some of the wealthiest families in Philadelphia and New York. He operated in the winter at his home at 810 North Seventh street, and in the summer at his bungalow on the Delaware river. Splendid equipages with crests, were continually driving up to his office, and exquisitely-dressed women went in and out.

Despite the fact that in his practice he had never registered either a birth or a death he always kept a careful private record of his cases.

Here the murderer showed his cunning, and as soon as possible he entered the bungalow and destroyed the private record. Papers, appliances and furniture were scattered everywhere. None of the fine bric-a-brac was taken, and everything points to the rummaging having been the work of the murderer or his accomplices searching for the doctor's private papers on some case or other.

Frank Paul, the coroner's detective, left for New York Tuesday on what is considered an important clue, and the murderer, it is thought, is either there or has sailed for Europe.

Dr. Wilson has always been a mystery to his neighbors. There was no doctor's shingle on his house. On his doorbell was the inscription "Branch medical," and which always excited comment. At the bungalow a fast launch and an automobile always stood ready for emergency calls. His prescriptions were often turned back by druggists because of their dangerous character.

Suspicion points to a wealthy business man and member of a well-known Philadelphia family, whose wife died some time ago. The plot was to include not only Wilson but also his wife and child.

Fighting In Persia.

London, July 2.—The situation at Tabriz, Persia, continues to be very serious. Private despatches received here yesterday say that the people have erected barricades in the streets and the fighting is going on night and day. Tabriz and the entire province of Azerbaijan are strongholds of the revolutionists, and the arrival there Tuesday of troops to strengthen the forces of the Shah has increased the danger of the situation. The entry of the troops to the city is opposed by the revolutionary forces. All the bazaars have been closed, and there has been some looting of the residences of delegates to the assembly and business houses.

Increasing cause for alarm is found in the fact that Tabriz is surrounded by Rachin Khan and his horsemen. They are supporters of the Shah and utterly without discipline. Should these riders be turned loose on the city the lives of even the foreigners there would be in danger.

BIRD'S MESSAGE OF LIFE.

Starving French Castaways Rescued by Passing British Vessel.

Victoria, B.C., July 2.—While sending a farewell message fastened in a quill to an albatross's neck, one of a series of daily messages recording briefly the story of the wreck on Antipodes Island of the French bark President Felix Faure, twenty-two starving French sailors were rescued by the British warship Pegasus and brought to Sydney shortly before the sailing of the Marama, which arrived yesterday.

The castaways, who lived a Crusoe life, fashioning their utensils in the same resourceful way as the maroon of Juan Fernandez, scrambled ashore on Antipodes Island, south of New Zealand, and near where the survivors of the British bark Dundolar were rescued before, after their vessel drove ashore during March last, and at last had given up the hope of rescue when the British warship was sighted.

The men were ravenous when rescued, having been on short rations for some time. They had needles made of blades of pocket knives, dinner knives made from an iron hoop torn from a cask which had been washed from the wreck, fish-hooks from bent nails, spoons from shells, hair combs from bush thorns, etc.

ESCAPED ITS CAPTORS.

American Fishing Tug Decamps After Detention by Canadian Officials.

Alpena, Mich., July 2.—The fishing tug R. T. Roy of this city, which was seized last Thursday by Canadian Fisheries Officer E. S. Duncan of Filton, Ont., while alleged to be fishing in Canadian waters, arrived here yesterday after a thrilling escape from the Canadian officials.

The tug, after the seizure, was first taken to South Bay, Manitoulin Island, and the crew there placed under arrest. Monday, Officer Duncan started for Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., with the tug Endress towing the Roy. Late that night the Roy went aground on Fox Island reef. The Canadians could not release her with the Endress, and left for Filton to secure a larger tug.

Capt. George Whitten and the American crew of the Roy immediately went to work shifting the ballast, succeeded in working the tug off the reef and started for American waters, arriving here yesterday, after a stop at Detour for coal and supplies.

Capt. Whitten denies that he was fishing in Canadian waters. Officer Duncan left all of his papers and effects on the Roy and they are now in charge of the customs officers here.

TALL CLOVER GROWING

Over Four Feet in Length on Mr. Harrison's Farm at Hall's Bridge—A Phenomenal Growth

CAN ANYONE BEAT THIS?

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Being a subscriber and a reader to your very valuable paper, and having read with much interest the items contained therein from week to week, especially regarding the state and marvellous growth of clover and other grain, in other parts of the country, I thought, that perhaps the farmers and others living to the south, would be especially interested in knowing something regarding the state of the crops in the northern part of Smith.

I write you to say that to-day I was cutting common red clover on the farm on which I live, and I cut some that measured four feet, four inches and still gowing. Now, sir, if any one living in the country can beat this I would like to learn of it.

I I am, respectfully yours,

STEPHEN HARRISON,

Hall's Bridge, June 29, 1908.

MANY WATCHED RIVER-DRIVERS BREAK THE JAMS

The Hunter street bridge railing was lined yesterday afternoon with persons watching the sturdy river-men driving the logs of the Peterborough Lumber Company's first drive past the shoals below the dam. Breaking up the jams and rolling the logs off the shoals was a revelation to many of the onlookers.

630 LB. SOW WAS SOLD ON MARKET BY SMITH FARMER

Mr. Thomas Milburn, of Smith, sold one of the largest and finest sows that has passed over the local market in some time. It was a Tamworth and weighed 630 lbs. He brought it in this morning and was the centre of attraction for a time at the market. Mr. Milburn says it was only three years old and about 200 pounds more of fat could have been put on it, so well was it built. It was sold to to the Matthews Company, through Mr. John Thornton.

Williamson, Peterborough, all of whom have passed the primary examinations.

REV. G.W. HENDERSON ARRIVES IN CITY TO BEGIN DUTIES

Rev. G. W. Henderson, until recently pastor of the Methodist church in Port Hope, arrived in the city today to take his new charge, the Charlotte Street Methodist Church. He came down from Sturgeon Point where he has been spending a few holidays. Mr. Henderson will commence his church duties next Sunday.

Groom Who Failed To Appear At West Toronto Wedding Is Now Visiting In Peterborough

Wedding Postponed in Consequence of His Non-Appearance at the Altar—Mr. Roland N. Boswell, of Elora, the Absentee

"WAITING AT THE CHURCH"

An absentee groom, who failed to put in an appearance at the crucial hour in West Toronto on Tuesday afternoon, is now in Peterborough visiting relatives. He is Mr. Roland M. Boswell, of Elora, who had promised to marry Miss Wilhelmina Cummings, 25 Union street, West Toronto, but a wedding party waiting for the groom was the unhappy condition of things on which should have been an auspicious occasion. Mr. Beswell, the groom that was to have been, called at the Cummings' home about 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning, when he appeared to be in good spirits. He stated that he was going to Toronto to make some little purchases necessary for the wedding tour, which was to be an extensive one. That was the last seen of him by any member of the Cummings family up to a late hour on the same night.

The wedding was to have been a quiet family affair at the residence of Miss Cummings' parents at three o'clock. The minister who was to have conducted the ceremony, Rev. Dr. J. H. Hazlewood, pastor of the Annette Street Methodist Church, West Toronto, was on hand and he and the family waited until the embarrassment of the non-arrival of the expected groom became painfully prolonged. Still they waited, thinking that Mr. Boswell had been enexpectedly detained and would yet come. However, as he had not put in an appearance at a late hour the matter was communicated to the police of West Toronto and this city. It was feared that he had met with an accident or foul play.

The distress of the young lady and her relatives, naturally, was very great. She is about 21 years of age, and is highly thought of in West Toronto. The courtship has not been of long duration. Mr. Boswell is about 22 or 23 years of age, and is engaged in the grocery business in Elora, where he is well known, popular and highly respected. His father is dead and he lives with his mother, who is a most estimable lady. He left Elora on Monday, and said he was going to take a trip to Europe.

In connection with the projected wedding a tour was planned. The young couple were to take a Niagara Navigation Company boat for Lewiston, then go on to New York City, and from there sail for Europe.

LOCAL PEDESTRIAN WILL AGAIN ATTEMPT THE LONG JOURNEY

David Hartley, who will attempt to walk from Toronto to Port Hope and back in 32 hours.

David Hartley Announces Another Toronto--Port Hope Trip

David Hartley is to once more make the Port Hope-Toronto trip some time during the coming autumn. He has been tempted by a fine offer, which is so appealing that he announces his intention to walk over the same route. Mr. W. H. Henderson, "Davey" says, has offered him $500 to walk from Toronto to Port Hope and return, providing he does it in thirty-two hours. Hartley's time in his record performance last Thanksgiving Day was thirty-four hours and eight minutes, and he will have to move some to do it in the shorter time. This time he must start and finish in Toronto. Speaking to the Examiner he said that he had not decided when he would attempt the walk, but it would be some time this autumn.

At present he is still lame as the result of injuries received in a recent fall, but he does not expect any lasting hurt.

BOY BREAKS ARM FOR THIRD TIME IN FALL ON SCOW

ELEVEN DEAD CATTLE FOUND FOUR DAYS AFTER THE STORM

Struck by Lightning While Standing Beneath a Tree—Thrown in a Promiscuous Heap

THERE WAS NO INSURANCE

Examiner Special

Warsaw, July 2.—Not until Thursday did Mr. R G Moore, who lives about four miles south-east of here, learn that he was a loser of eleven head of young cattle, killed by lightning during Monday night's electric storm. The cattle were pasturing in a field some distance from the house and a neighbour, Mr. Bert Hendren, who happened along that way discovered the cattle under an elm tree. The tree was badly disfigured and the cattle were sprawling in every direction, some piled on top of others. There was no insurance on the herd.

ABOUT 7,000 TRAVEL ON THE STREET CARS

On inquiry at the Radial Railway Company's office to-day it was learned that the street cars carried about 7,000 passengers yesterday, or at least, that that number of fares were paid. This number is not so large as a year ago, as there were not so many at Jackson Park as on Dominion Day of last year.

BOY FELL INTO THE OTONABEE NEAR INVERLEA

Little Georgie Ross of Dennistoun avenue had a rather narrow escape from drowning yesterday in the Otonabee near Inverlea Park. He accidentally fell in but managed to escape with his life.

SHRINERS AT TORONTO

A Number From Peterborough Attend the 21st Anniversary—Several Distinguished Visitors

ABOUT 200 NEW MEMBERS

Among those who attended the meeting of the Shriners in Toronto yesterday from Peterborough were Messrs. R J Munro, W R G Higgins W H Walkey, H R H Kenner and W H Bradburn. Referring to the meeting, a Toronto despatch says:—Rameses Temple of the Ancient Order of the Mystic Shrine held its 21st anniversary in Massey Hall last night, which turned out to be one of the most successful gatherings in the history of the organization. About 700 were present. Several distinguished visitors from Ismalia Temple, Buffalo; Damascus Temple, Rochester; Mecca, New York; Moslem, Detroit; India Temple, Oklahoma; Karnac Temple, Montreal; Mocha, London, participated in the festivities.

Two hundred and nineteen candidates were announced by the oriental guide and initiated into the mysteries of this ancient order. Potentate Glanville presided.

The Arab patrol, with their new uniforms, under the command of Noble Ed. Sandel (captain), Nobles Col. J. J. Thompson, and Dr. G. M. Harmison, created very favourable comment.

FRANCISCAN FATHER LEFT FOR MONTREAL AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Rev. Father Ethelbert, of Montreal who has been confined to St. Joseph's Hospital during the past three weeks, left on the noon C.P.R. train to-day for Montreal. He is a priest of the Franciscan Order and conducted a mission at St. Joseph's church, Douro, before taking ill. When it was completed he had to go to the Hospital and was just able to leave to-day. His Franciscan Garb was prominent at the station this morning.

WERE INJURED IN A RUNAWAY NEAR PONTYPOOL

On Tuesday night Mr. W H Lytle and his son William, of Charlotte street, while driving near Pontypool, were injured in a runaway. The driver lost control of the horses and all three were thrown out. Mr. W H Lytle injured his leg and his son, his ankle, but the injuries are not serious.

THE JULY NUMBER OF ROD AND GUN RECEIVED

The eyes, not only of Canada, but of the world will be fixed during the present month upon Quebec and the Tercentenary of its establishment. The life story of Samuel de Champlain, the founder is told in the opening article of the July number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada" published by W J Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., and the narrative of the great explorer's life will be found entrancing reading. Of equal interest to sportsmen, if of less importance to the country, is the life story of "The Trail of the Kawazingmas" by Harry Anton Auer, author of "The North Country." Mr. Auer describes in beautiful language, the trip he took into the north country with his father and mother and tells of the joys experienced in camping and fishing far away from civilization. This story is finely illustrated from photographs taken by Mr. Auer. A paper by Dr. E Staley on "The Fresh Water Trout of Canada" will interest all fishermen and may prove the source of as much controversy as Our Vanishing Deer, the doctor giving both eastern and western fishermen something to think about. There are many other papers of interest to sportsmen and the whole number is one worthy of the high position the magazine has attained as the foremost publication of its kind in the Dominion.

AN EXCURSION TO RICE LAKE

Large Number Go With Adult Bible Class of George Street Church

The largest excursion that the "Otonabee" has carried this year was that which was conducted under the auspices of the social adult Bible Class of the George street Methodist church to Idyl Wyld, yesterday. About 400 persons enjoyed the trip down the river and across the lake and a delightful day was spent. In the afternoon the sporting events resulted as follows:

100 yds. dash—R Little.

Putting the shot—Rev. E A Pearson.

Three-legged race—Sales and McArle.

Nail-driving contest—Mrs. Grubb.

Standing hop, step and jump — Briggs, McLarle.

Twenty-minute walk — G Freeland, Grubb.

The baseball match between the Social Adult Bible Class and the Friendly Bible Class resulted in a win for the latter by the score of 14to 9. It was a five innings game, the feature being the pitching of Rev. E A Pearson for the losers. His work should have won the game. His arm is as strong as ever and his science and cunning showed old time form. Rev. Mr. Pearson yesterday proved himself a splendid all round athlete.

The committee that had the excursion in charge was composed of Mr. R. J Soden, Ald Johnston, Mr. S A Orke, Mr. W B Warne and Mr. R McGill.

They left nothing undone to provide a pleasureable outing and their efforts were fully realized. The officers of the Otonabee and Mr. Henderson were very thoughtful in their treatment of the excursionists a feature which goes a long way to making a picnic a success.

The outing was a credit to the Social Adult Bible Class of the George street Methodist church. It has 180 men on its roll and is very flourishing. The Friendly Bible Class is composed of 40 younger men. The return trip was particularly fine and the searchlight provided considerable amusement.

About 6,000 Went Out of Peterborough—A Rather Quiet Day Here But Street Cars Were Busy

WHERE THEY ALL WENT

Providence smiled benevolently on Peterborough yesterday on the occasion of the 41st anniversary of Dominion Day. The sun shone brightly and the meteorological conditions were all that could be desired for an outing of for sport and both were much in evidence so far as Peterborough was concerned. The beautiful holiday was, it is safe to say, enjoyed by all whether they remained in the city or whether they went for an outing or visited friends in other places.

In the early morning baskets were conspicuous. Many went to Stony Lake via Lakefield on the steamers Stoney Lake, Empress and Majestic. The first two carried the Auburn and St. Luke's excursions and the latter took the regular trip.

The T. A. S. excursion and picnic down the river was the mecca for several hundred. The steamers were kept busy plying to and fro from the street Railway wharf to the beautiful park on the banks of the winding Otonabee, and the day there was enjoyed immensely. The Rice Lake resorts also harboured many pleasure-seekers.

A large number went to Port Hope with the Peterborough ball team and some took in the athletic meets at Hastings, where the Strathconas played baseball, and at Havelock.

The Men's Adult Bible Class of the George Street Methodist Church, held an excursion to Rice Lake and this was also well attended.

At Home, in the City.

With so many outside attractions and so few important events in the city there were not many people left and the day passed off very quietly.

In the morning Dunlop Oval attracted many to watch the athletic games for the Eastwood Trophy and the City League ball game between the Y.M.C.A. and West Ends. At Riverside Park in the afternoon the Quakers met the All Saints' of Toronto in a soccer game and afterwards the Athletics met Cobourg in baseball.

Other local places of attraction were Jackson Park, the Brookside Bowling Green, the Crystal, the Peterborough Bowling Club Alleys, the Golf Links and the lake and river. The street cars had a very busy day, carrying hundreds of passengers along all their lines. The following is a rough estimate of the number of persons out of the city:

T.A.S. Picnic	4,000
At Port Hope	300
Auburn S. S. Excursion	325
St. Luke's Excursion	250
Regular Stony Lake Trip	125
Hastings	150
George Street Excursion	400
Cobourg-Athletics Ball Game	300

CHILD FALLS AGAINST PAIL OF WATER AND IS SCALDED

Was Following Its Mother When Accident Occurred—A Child of Mr. Leeson, Douro

IT MAY NOT BE SERIOUS

By falling against a pail of scalding water the three and one-half year old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Leeson of Douro was badly injured on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Leeson was carrying a pail of boiling water to clean some milk cans. The child who was following her, tripped, and, falling against the pail, upset the water over itself. Its face and shoulders were rather severely scalded, but the result is not expected to be very serious.

Mr. Leeson lives on the Warsaw road, about five miles from the city.

NO OPPORTUNITY FOR RACE SUICIDE IN PETERBOROUGH

The vital statistics for June as indicated by the City Clerk's books, show there were 45 births, 15 deaths and 19 marriages. During May there were only 36 births, 24 deaths and 16 marriages. There seems to be no chance at all for race suicide in Peterborough.

SECRETARY OF PUBLIC WORKS DEPT. IS DEAD

Ottawa, July 2.—(Special)—Fred Gelinas, aged 38, secretary of the Public Works Department, dropped dead in his room at two o'clock this morning. Heart disease was the trouble. He went to bed as usual at ten thirty and got up at two to have a smoke. He leaves a wife, a mother, Mrs. De Bonald, Ottawa, and a brother in the city Clerk's office at Montreal. The deceased was secretary to the late Israel Tarte in the 1896 campaign and six years ago was made secretary of the Department.

THE RAILWAY TOWN

About 1,000 Attend The Game There—Havelock Wins in Football and Baseball As Well

ONLY ONE SMALL ACCIDENT

Examiner Special

Havelock, July 2.—About 1,000 people assembled on the park grounds here yesterday to participate in or to watch the many games. Havelock defeated Campbellford in baseball by 11 runs to 7, and the local football team won from Norwood by 2 to 0. The Havelock band supplied music and a pleasant time was the result. Little Miss Olive Rose was hit with a baseball during the game, but she has recovered from the effects. No other accidents happened.

OLD BRIGADE VACATES RIVE FIRE HALL WITH PROPER CEREMONIES

The old fire brigade has passed out of commission and the new brigade is now in charge of the firehall. The volunteers marched out with colours flying at midnight on Tuesday with a big crowd of citizens on hand to wish them "Auld Lang Syne." Shortly before 12 o'clock the 57th Band gathered at the firehall and played "The Boys of the Old Brigade," "Auld Lang Syne" and other airs while the crowd cheered. Then the brigade walked out together, and, led by the band, marched to the band hill, amid the blaze of fireworks and the cheers of the crowd.

Chief Howard and his men arrive as the old members were leaving and the new head of the fire forces made a short speech to the crowd in which he expressed the hope that everything would be satisfactory and harmonious with the new brigade. He was given a good reception by the crowd.

The brigade will consist, in addition to the chief, of H. Taylor, T. Wainwright, A. Brumwell, F. J. Burke, Frank Reynolds, Geo. Rowe, J. Weir, W. J. Nelson, J. W. Mulhall and "Dick" Parnell.

The men have been divided into two shifts and are hard at work at the hall. Every night at 8 o'clock the horses will be run out under harness as is done in the cities, and the public is invited to witness this drill. Chief Howard has instructed his men to cordially welcome all visitors, who will be gladly shown around the hall at any time.

The large room formerly used as an assembly hall has been turned into a dormitory, and all the men with the exception of the chief will sleep there in iron cots.

BROUGHT DOWN 150 CORDS FROM THE UPPER LAKE

The steam tug Ajax, captained by Chas. Gray, pulled into port yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock with two heavily loaded scows of hardwood, 150 cords in all. The wood came from South Bay at the head of Stony Lake, and was for Mr. J K A Fitzgerald.

A PLEASANT TIME WITH ST. LUKE'S BIBLE CLASS

Went to Stony Lake Yesterday—Rev. J. Anderson Entertains

The fifth annual excursion of St. Lukes' Bible Class was held yesterday and was a great success, socially as well as financially. A large number of friends to the full limit of the capacity of the boat was present. The party left by the G. T. R. to Lakefield, where the Empress was boarded. The day was delightfully spent in social intercourse and singing. At Bridgenorth a stop of two and a half hours was made, while dinner was taken. On the return trip a cruise on the lake was much enjoyed. Rev. Dr. Langford and Rev. J. B. Anderson were present as guests of the Bible Class. Mr. J. Turner, Jr., the esteemed leader of the class, made everyone feel at home and his kindness added much to the pleasure to the day. Rev. Mr. Anderson was a host in himself, taking the lead in singing and captivating all by his genial manner and interest while he took in the excursion. Many compliments were paid the captain and crew of the "Empress" for their courtesy.

THE IMPORTANT QUESTION.

One can hardly understand the Farmer's Sun, published in the interests of the farming industry, opposing the extension of transportation facilities. True, the enlargement of the Welland Canal and the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway represent, especially the former, a large financial outlay. Canada has already made large expenditures for the purpose of providing transportation, more, perhaps, in proportion to her population, than any other country; but it has been money well expended, and has been the chief instrument in the development of our resources and the growth of the country. But for the Canadian Pacific Railway, we should have no Northwest, as we now have it; and, but for the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific in addition, we should not have the prospective development which the immediate future promises. Our railways and canals are investments; large investments, it is true, but paying large returns. We can't reap the crop unless we sow the seed.

A DAIRY PIONEER.

The passing of Hon. Thomas Ballantyne represents the removal of a pioneer worker in the interests of Canadian dairying. Though he was a member of the Ontario Legislature, and Speaker for one term, he gained his chief distinction and performed his chief service in the domain of active promotion of the interests of dairying, especially cheese-making. He is pronounced the father of the cheese industry, being largely instrumental in bringing into general adoption the co-operative principle of dairying. When one reflects upon the advantages this has provided the farmers of this Province, not only in furnishing a profitable employment, but in restoring farms brought to the verge of barrenness by over-cropping, this work can be appreciated. At his home city, Stratford, he was identified actively with every movement in the public interest. He lived a life of usefulness, and left behind him an honourable name and a record of useful work.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Farmers' Sun, in speaking of the retirement of Hon. Mr. Monteigh, Minister of Agriculture, pays him the compliment of having extended and carried out the good work begun by his predecessor, Hon. John Dryden.

Last year the people of England sent ninety-four millions of telegrams, twenty-five millions more than those sent in the United States with twice the population. British telegraphing is cheap. This explains its extensive use.

Mr. Goldwin Smith still maintains that political assimilation of Canada and the United States is manifest destiny. Mr. Smith is an octogenarian, and if he lives to see manifest destiny accomplished promises to be in the age class of Methuselah.

The editor of the Review refers lightly to the article in the Examiner with regard to the cutting of noxious weeds on the streets and vacant lots. Is says that "the weeds might be made into soup," and our printer's devil suggests that if the editor of the Review would keep himself filled with the soup from those weeds he might eventually develop his brain power. As it is, the readers of the Review have our deepest sympathy.

AFFORESTING THE WEST.

London Advertiser.

The fact that there still remains 800,000,000 acres of forest in Canada, the greatest acreage of the kind in the world, does not cause the Government of the Dominion to in any way relax its efforts to protect and add to the country's timber wealth. Canada is profiting by the experience of the United States, whose standing timber is estimated at 2,000,000,000,000 feet, with an annual cut of 40,000,000,000 feet, which if present methods are continued, will practically exhaust the supply in thirty years.

It was in 1901 that the present forestry policy inaugurated by the Hon. Clifford Sifton, as minister of the interior, was put in operation in Western Canada. Since that time tree-planting has increased to enormous proportions. In that year the applications to the forestry branch of the interior department for trees numbered forty-four, and the total number of trees distributed and planted was 58,000. The demand has grown until the number of applications for trees sent in last year for this year's planting reached 3,200, which means the distribution and planting in one season of 1,900,000 trees. In the eight years the present system has been in operation the department has distributed 11,181,825 trees, and according to the report of the superintendent of forestry just issued eighty per cent. of these are now living.

The scheme is one of co-operation between the Government and the farmer. An important feature is a system of inspection before and after planting. Many of the trees first planted have reached a height of from sixteen to eighteen feet, and serve as an object lesson to the neighbourhood as well as proving a most valuable asset to the farmer on whose property they are growing. The necessary supply of trees is grown at the nursery station established by the Government at Indian Head, Alberta. Every summer woodlots, plantations, shelter belts and windbreaks set out on farms are carefully inspected, and the farmers find the advice and information given by the half-dozen, well-qualified inspectors of much value.

Among the variety of trees sent out by the department are the native green ash, the Dakota cottonwood and the golden willow. Experiments are now being made with spruce, tamarac, jack pine and other conifers, but it will take time for them to reach the planting-out size.

Although the policy of afforesting the west has been but a few years in operation the results already accomplished have been most encouraging. The settlers find that by following proper methods of tree-planting they can at little cost provide needed windbreaks, shelters and shade, and at the same time raise fencing material, and to some extent fuel. These and other advantages, such as the influence of trees upon the rainfall, mean much for the future of the west.

A YEAR OF PROMSE.

Farmer's Sun.

It is estimated that the Western Provinces have five and a half million acres in wheat this year, upwards of half a million more than in 1907. With an average of twenty bushels to the acre, this acreage will ensure a crop of over 100,000,000 bushels. Present prospects, however, point to rather better than this yield, and it is not improbable that the Western wheat crop of 1908 will be little, if any, short of 120,000,000 bushels.

In Ontario prospects are equally encouraging. A vast amount of hay has already been put in the barns in excellent condition; with another week of fine weather the Province will have the best lot of feed of this kind in store in its history. Grain crops are coming on well, and corn is making magnificent growth. The weak points are in dairying and hogs; it now seems likely that the output of cheese and butter may actually be less than last year, and it is quite certain that the hog output will be very light. Cost of production in both these lines promises, however, to be much less than in 1907. In fruit a good crop is promised, and trees, speaking generally, never looked healthier.

Taking it all in all, including crop prospects as well as market outlook, it is safe to say that the agricultural situation in all Canada was never more promising than it is at the present time.

"When she will she will, you may depend upon it," is an apt expression by the old doggerel of women's persistence in having her way. It applies with especial force to the movement in England to place politics in petticoats by giving the ballot to women. A crowd of five thousand, composed of women and their sympathizers, following the refusal of Mr. Asquith to receive a deputation, besieged the House of Commons as a tangible answer to Mr. Asquith's assertion that "women have not shown any intense desire for the suffrage." It required 5,000 police to handle the mob. The British are accused of being slow, but the ladies are several laps ahead of those of any other country in their race for the ballot.

ANOTHER DISAPPEARANCE.

Beamsville Puzzled by Mysterious Happenings In That Locality.

Beamsville, July 2.—Mystery surrounds the sudden disappearance of Fritz Matge, who was employed by Rev. W. J. Andrews on a fruit farm just west of here, and who has not been seen or heard of since Wednesday evening last.

In view of the fact that no word has yet been received as to the whereabouts of Harry Lewis, the Bank of Hamilton teller, who disappeared prior to Good Friday, under similar circumstances, the community is considerably agitated.

People are now associating the two incidents with a rumor that has floated in from Grimsby, to the effect that Jim and Ed. Hand, local fishermen, discovered a deserted bicycle on the end of the Grimsby pier early in the morning of May 26, which has been held by the authorities ever since in the hope of a claimant putting in an appearance.

Though not naturally superstitious, the residents of the two villages are beginning to fear that some shadow of evil has fallen upon the community. This theory has been strengthened by a report that some Jordan fishermen very lately came across a floating body in Lake Ontario, which they endeavored to recover, but owing to the violent surges of the waves the body was wrested from their grasp, leaving nothing but a cap in their possession. The cap is said to correspond with that which Harry Lewis was supposed to have worn when last seen.

There is no apparent motive for young Lewis' running away, as his accounts with the bank were square. Nor can anyone conjecture as to why young Matge should fail to return to his home.

Both lads were about 18 years of age.

LEAPS FROM NIAGARA BRIDGE.

Daring Parachute Jump for $150 by Robert Leech of Chippewa.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., July 2.—Robert Leech of Chippewa, Ont., jumped off the north railing of the upper steel arch bridge at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon into the Niagara river, 200 feet below. The descent took 25 seconds, and Leech was picked up in the stream by waiting rowboats without injury.

The daring feat was performed in the presence of 3,000 people, who lined the banks of the river in the vicinity of the bridge, about 1,000 feet below the American Falls. Leech had constructed a parachute for the jump, and the apparatus worked perfectly. A high wind was blowing from the east when Leech walked on the bridge from the Canadian side, accompanied by Harry Williams, proprietor of the Lafayette Hotel.

Some of the old boatmen along the river said that about twenty years ago a man jumped off the bridge without either a parachute or a life-preserver and was able to swim out. That was before the outlet of the Power Co. discharged its mighty flow at this point. Leech said afterward that the parachute worked just as he expected it would, and that the jump was easy.

The jump netted Leech $150.

Forty Men Killed In Battle.

St. Petersburg, July 2.—The fighting which took place at Tabriz, Persia, Tuesday, according to reports that have just come to hand via Baku, approached the dimensions of a real battle. Forty men are reported killed and many more wounded. The exact casualties, however, are not given.

Horsemen under Rachin Khan took part in the fighting. They entered the town to support the Shah. A detachment of 350 revolutionary volunteers, which started for Teheran to dethrone the Shah, returned to Tabriz after going forty miles. The United States consul at Tabriz, W. F. Doty, has demanded protection for the Persian personal of the consulate from the Russian consul-general.

The inhabitants of Tabriz are panic-stricken. Only few men venture abroad on the streets.

Dyking the Canal.

Cornwall, July 2.—The huge dyke around the break in the Cornwall Canal is growing every hour. It is 480 feet long, 20 feet thick and about 30 feet from its bed in the canal bottom to the top. It is built of huge timbers, securely bolted together and filled in with stone. The face of it will be finished with matched lumber. This dyke will be finished ere the end of the week, and the moment it is the water will be turned in and the waiting dredges set to work to finish the excavation of the channel, on which several scores of teams with scrapers are now at work.

On the whole it looks as if the canal could be opened on July 10, unless bad weather intervenes.

Pastor Liable For $7.50.

London, Ont., July 2.—Rev. James Livingstone, retiring pastor of Wellington Street Methodist Church, by way of winding up his pastorate in London, appeared at the city clerk's office with 52 marriage licenses which he had neglected to turn in. He appeared unconscious of the fact that the law imposes a penalty of $50 for every case of a marriage not reported within the month. Two of the 52 were within the law, but the aggregate penalties on the others amount to $2,500 for which even Rev. Mr. Livingstone is liable. It is not known whether any action will be taken.

Stacey Has Big Lead At Lindsay; Stevens Is In Second Position

Examiner Special [illegible]

Lindsay, July 2.—At the end of the first three hours of the twelve-hour walking race in the oiler rink, which commenced here last night, Jim Stacey, formerly of the I.C.A.C., Toronto, was a mile ahead of Charlie Stevens, the Peterborough boy. The latter is having a great race with W. Spencely, also of Peterborough. A good crowd was on hand and the walkers gave them a great exhibition. Stacey is a veritable machine, averaging 6 2-3 miles an hour for the three hours. The following was the score at 11 o'clock:

Stacey, Toronto, 20 miles.
Stevens, Peterborough, 18 miles, 3 laps.
W. Spencely, Peterborough, 18 miles 1 lap.
Curtis, Lindsay, 16 miles 12 laps.
J. Spencely, Peterborough, 15 miles 14 laps.
Riley, Lindsay, 15 miles 11 laps.
Green, Lindsay, 15 miles 13 laps.
Hartley, Peterborough, 15 miles 11 laps.

STRATHS WIN FROM WELLINGTONS

Rather Loose Game on Tuesday Night But Was Fairly Fast

ARE AGAIN IN THE LEAD

In a game that was decidedly one-sided, the Strathconas doubled the score on the Wellingtons by 8 to 4. The leaders had no trouble in winning, and scored in each of their five innings at bat. The Wellingtons played rather loosely in the field, and but for this they might have won as they out-hit the Straths. Both teams used two pitchers, although none of them were hit hard. The Midland League players, Heaslip of the Athletics and Craig of the Peterboroughs, got three of the four hits credited to the winners. Heaslip getting two. The score:

Strathconas	A	B	R	H	P	O	A	E
Weatherstone, 2b	3	0	0	3	1	0

LAKEVIEWS DEFEAT THE Y.M.C.A.

Are Now Up Among the Head Liners of the League

On Saturday last the Lakeviews trimmed the Y.M.C.A. on the Oval by the score of 13—5. The teams lined up as follows:

Lakeviews—Simmons, cf; Adamson, 2b; Menzies, c; Pentland, 3b; Campbell, ss; Milloy, lf; Davidson, rf; King, 1b; Mahoney, p.

Y.M.C.A.—McDonald, c; Porter, ss; Waram, cf; Dormer, 3b; Sanderson, 2b; Legs, rf; Daly, 1b; Patterson, c.

Davidson for the Lakeviews is the extra man which the league allows and was perfectly eligible.

THE STRATHCONAS BEAT HASTINGS

Demonstration There Was Success—Big Crowd

The Strathconas of the City League journeyed to Hastings yesterday and shared in the big celebration of Dominion Day, there, by defeating Hastings by 12 runs to 2, in easy fashion. The Hastings team could do nothing with Belleghem, who pitched fine ball for the winners while Leo Downs of Cobourg who occupied the box for Hastings, was hit hard all through. The Straths lined up as follows:—Wilson c, Belleghem p, Graham 1b, Weatherstone 2b, Kendry ss, Ray 3b, Allison, Parnell and Shaw, out field. About 150 people went down from Peterborough for the demonstration which was a decided success. The programme included horse racing and other sports. Bill Shaw, of the Straths, won the 100 yd. races. Keene won the football match from Hastings and John Brownlee of Peterborough won a $20 gold piece in the five mile road race, doing the trip in 29 minutes.

LAWN BOWLING

The town bowlers had a great holiday yesterday and a number of close and exciting games was the result of a very fast green. Probably one of the greatest games of the day was a game of Scotch doubles between

PETERBORO ARTISTS AT WARKWORTH

Rendered a Choice Programme at Concert There Last Night

A number of Peterborough artists visited Warkworth last night and rendered a delightful programme at a largely attended concert. The party consisted of Miss Hallihan, Messrs. Frank Clarke, Geo Lynch, Ed Crowe and Fred Bannister, local agent of the Gerhard Heintzman Company, who acted as pianist. Their numbers were greatly appreciated by the audience and they were given an enthusiastic welcome.

A field day of sport was held at Warkworth during the afternoon with a big crowd in attendance.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto is visiting this city, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted, protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at the Oriental Hotel on Saturday, July 4. 1908. 3dlw145

ABOUT 300 WENT WITH THE AUBURN UNION EXCURSION

The steamer Stoney Lake carried more than 300 passengers yesterday up the lakes on the occasion of the annual excursion of the Auburn Union Sunday School. The day was most pleasantly spent among the islands of Stony Lake and the event as usual was one thoroughly enjoyed.

Bank Clerk Drowned.

Ottawa, July 2.—Wm. A. Green of Dartmouth, N.S., aged 21, teller in the Union Bank here, was drowned in Lake Deschene yesterday.

Green was one of a party of six who had sailed across the lake, and were returning to Aylmer. In the boat were the owner, Mr. Laidlaw, Mrs. Laidlaw, their two sons and Miss Brewder, all of Ottawa. The wind was blowing freshly from the southwest, and a choppy sea was on. The boat was running fine and Green, who was at the tiller, was standing on the poop when the mainsail jibed. The main boom knocked him overboard, and his feet being entangled in the sheets, he was doubless half suffocated before disengaging himself.

Ballantyne Buried.

Stratford, July 2.—The remains of the late Hon. Thomas Ballantyne were laid to rest at Avondale cemetery yesterday afternoon. The cortege, which left the home of Thomas Ballantyne, Jr., was one of the largest ever seen in Stratford, many people from out of the city being present to pay the last tribute of respect to an honored gentleman.

The funeral service was conducted by the three Presbyterian ministers of the city, Revs. Martin, Thompson and Hamilton. The pall-bearers were the seven sons of the deceased.

Paper Pays Damages.

Edmonton, July 2.—Justice Stuart gave judgment for $75 and costs to plaintiffs in a $5,000 action for libel brought by ex-Chief of Police Patterson of Strathcona against The Edmonton Bulletin. The Bulletin reported an interview with Constable Harris in which the latter alleged that Patterson was drunk on duty and took money from people wishing to avoid prosecution.

Fines Amounted to $44,000.

New York, July 2.—Twenty-two members of the Manila and Fibre Paper Manufacturers' Association, who were fined $2,000 each recently for operating a combine in restraint of trade, paid their fines to the United States Circuit Court yesterday. The other two companies are expected to pay theirs in a few days.

Three Years For Bartlett.

San Francisco, July 2.—Walter J. Bartlett, formerly vice-president and general counsel of the Western Pacific Railway, and vice-president and general counsel of the California Safe Deposit & Trust Co., which failed in this city last November for about $9,000,000, was yesterday sentenced to the San Quentin penitentiary for ten years.

Monarchs May Meet.

St. Petersburg, July 2.—A meeting between Emperor Nicholas of Russia and the Emperor of Germany on the Baltic, an intimation of which appears in The Reich, is considered here as quite possible.

Stoned the Police.

Stockholm, July 2.—At the meeting of dock laborers who are on strike, held in the Union House Tuesday evening to demonstrate against the imposition by the Wilson line of 400 English blacklegs, the crowd in the streets stopped tramways and stoned police who endeavored to maintain order, finally setting fire to a warehouse and causing damage to the extent of two million kronen.

The dock strikes are general in all Swedish ports and foreign blacklegs are being imported.

Owing to the trouble in the building trades, Stockholm employers in the central unions have resolved upon a general lockout which will affect thousands in these and allied trades. Riots are feared in consequence.

Await Canadian Prospectuses.

London, July 2.—(C.A.P.)—Among the early prospectuses anticipated in London are those of Calgary's £1,300,000 debentures, the Western Canada Flour Mills and the Central Railway bonds. The last named have long been expected.

Tried to Wreck Lehigh.

Buffalo, July 2.—Two heavy charges of dynamite, exploded by a time fuse, under the Lehigh viaduct at Selkirk and Perry streets early yesterday, blew two heavy iron girders out of place, twisted the rails above and shattered the ties for many feet.

The viaduct was but recently completed by McClintock and Marshall, a firm which maintains the open shop principle, and who have had several bridges wrecked by dynamite during the past year.

Two Hundred Men Poisoned.

Saigon, Cochin China, July 2.—Two hundred soldiers belonging to the French colonial infantry were seized with a sudden nausea in the barracks here yesterday.

The unexpected illness cannot be accounted for, and it is believed the men are the victims of an attempt at wholesale poisoning.

Orchard Will Live.

Boise, Idaho, July 2.—The state board of pardons yesterday commuted the sentence of Harry Orchard, who was under sentence to hang next Friday, for the murder of former Governor Frank Steunenburg to imprisonment for life.

Separate Schools For Japs.

Seattle, Wn., July 2.—Seattle Japanese have decided to withdraw their children from the public schools, because, as was alleged at a meeting of the Japanese Association of the State of Washington, held Tuesday night, the education given is not satisfactory to them. Japanese schools and Japanese instructors will be substituted for American schools and American instructors, and the Japanese interested say diplomatically that this is due to a desire to avoid a possible repetition of the San Francisco trouble. This action was taken, it is said, at the suggestion of Japanese Consul Tanaka.

Money For Turkish Troops.

Frankfort on the Main, July 2.—A despatch from Constantinople to The Frankfurter Zeitung, announces that the Ottoman Bank has made an advance of £25,500 to the Imperial Government for the payment of the troops in the Monaster district. The troops, which have been disbanded, revolted because their pay was in arrears.

'Phone Plant For $1,000.

Edmonton, July 2.—The City Council has decided to sell the Strathcona telephone plant, owned and operated by Edmonton, to the Provincial Government for $1,000. The Government is installing the Strowger automatic telephone system in Strathcona and will have it in operation by September.

Deaf Mute Injured.

Hamilton, July 2.—James O'Neill, 106 North Ferguson avenue, a deaf mute, was struck by a radial car yesterday afternoon and was seriously injured. He was standing on the platform at Elsinore when the car struck and he was shoved along the track for a considerable distance. Fortunately the fender prevented him from rolling under the car and he escaped with a torn arm, a scalp wound and many cuts and bruises.

A Mouse and a Candle.

At the end of the bathing season, a few years ago, a candle was left on the mantelpiece of a family in Pouliguen, France. When they returned the next spring they found, according to La Nature, that a mouse had done these things:

Climbed somehow a marble chimney piece, there being no piece of furniture near enough to leap from and no way of descending from above.

Climbed the candlestick itself, which was of highly polished silver, over ten inches high, with a broad flare at the cup.

Climbed the candle, began eating at the top, eating evenly all round down to the base, leaving the bare wick standing up perfectly straight.

If the mouse had begun at the base of the candle, its weight would have caused it to topple over. It must have taken the mouse a good many days to eat the candle down to the bottom.

A Persistent Friend.

Mr. George Weir, an English actor, in his early days, appeared one night in the role of Hamlet in an improvised theater at Stroud, in Gloucestershire, and suffered much embarrassment from the demonstrative attentions of an enthusiastic former schoolfellow, who sat in the front of the tent and kept up a running comment on the performance. "That be Gargy Weir," exclaimed the admirer. "I knows Gargy! I used to go to school along wi' he." After many expostulations the interrupter was turned out, and all went well until the audience was hushed to deadly silence while Hamlet was going through his soliloquy. Then suddenly a still, small voice came cheeringly from the back row of seats, "Garge, I be in again!"—Bellman.

Kaffirs' Courtship.

The Kaffirs are a very light hearted people and do not worry about the future. As soon as the girls have finished their work they may take up the igubu, which is an elementary musical instrument, consisting of a taut bow fixed to a gourd, and march across country twanging the string with a little piece of reed. The instrument, as a rule, gives but one note, but to the girl's sweetheart such music is "the food of love."—World's Work.

What's the Use?

"Does wealth bring real enjoyment?"

"Naw. They won't let you eat the grub you like or wear the clothes you consider classy or listen to the music you understand or even put a cast iron dog on the lawn."—Kansas City Journal.

Envious of the Immune.

Little Henry (at the table, to the visitor)—I wish I were like you. Visitor (flattered)—Why, little man? Little Henry—Because no one boxes your ears when you eat with your fingers.—London Opinion.

Fearful Tortures.

Some years ago I was a teacher in Afghanistan, and during my stay in that country I was often an unwilling witness of some horrible exhibitions of torture. Here is one they use in the case of women to extract testimony. It consists in prying off the finger nails by means of a small chisel or brad awl, which is shoved in slowly, but firmly, from the finger tip downward under the quick of the nail, which is then lifted up and out.

This is another that I once saw used in the case of a small child who would not own up to some petty theft: Sticks were thrust between its fingers and the fingers then squeezed together, so that the sticks crushed into the bones. So much for women and children. Here is a method of eliciting information from an unwilling man: The culprit is stripped to the waist, and then boiling oil is flicked on to his back. This seldom fails to find the man's tongue.

The above are the chief forms of "fahana," or torture, for the purpose of eliciting information, but it must be stated that such inflictions as nipping of noses, tearing out tongues or splitting eyeballs do not come under the heading of "fahana," they being punishments rather than tortures.—London Standard.

Duchesse and Anarchist.

Upon one occasion the Duchesse d'Uzes and Louise Michel met at the bedside of a poor sick woman whom they were mutually aiding. They met here frequently for a brief period. The woman died. Louise Michel, who was present at the death, wrote to the duchesse: "Madame—Our poor friend is dead. I have looked among her few belongings for a souvenir for you. Here is a small piece of passementerie done by her hands. Accept it." A few days afterward Mme. la Duchesse d'Uzes, nee Mortemart, went to the home of Louise Michel, the anarchist—a bizarre abode at Levallois where the poor found always both a good word and a piece of bread—to thank the "red virgin" for her letter and her gift. A friendship so was cemented between the oddly assorted pair that was later not without result in the operation of the most gigantic charity of the Duchesse d'Uzes—Boulangerism.—Harper's Bazar.

He Left at Once.

He had been worshiping her for months, but had never told her, and she didn't want him to. He had come often and stayed late—very late—and she could only sigh and hope. He was going away the next day on a holiday, and he thought the last night was the time to spring the momentous question. He kept it to himself, however, until the last thing. It was 11:30 by the clock, and it was not a very rapid clock.

"Miss Mollie," he said tremulously, "I am going away tomorrow."

"Are you?" she said with the thoughtlessness of girlhood.

"Yes," he replied. "Are you sorry?"

"Yes, very sorry," she murmured. "I thought you might go away this evening."

Then he gazed at the clock wistfully, and said good night.—London Scraps.

The Power of the Whale.

If the whale knew its own power, it could easily destroy all the machinery which the art of man could devise for catching him. It would only be necessary for him to swim on the surface in a straight line in order to break the thickest rope, but instead, on being struck by the harpoon, he obeys a natural instinct, which, in this instance, betrays him to his death. Not having an air bladder, he can sink to the lowest depths of the ocean, and, mistaking the harpoon for the teeth of a swordfish or a shark, he instantly descends, this being his manner of freeing himself from these enemies, who cannot bear the pressure of a deep ocean, and from descending and ascending in small space he thus puts himself in the power of the whaler.

The Popinjay.

The origin of the application of the term "popinjay" to a dude was as follows: The popinjay was a figure of a bird shot at for practice. The jay was decked with particolored feathers so as to resemble a parrot and, being suspended on a pole, served as a target. He whose ball or arrow brought down the bird by cutting the string by which it was hung received the proud title of Captain Popinjay for the rest of the day and was escorted home in triumph.

He Had Not Forgotten.

Artist William M. Chase told a story of the eccentric Jimmy Whistler. It was at a dinner party after all the guests had been seated, when Chase gently drew Whistler's attention to the fact that he had forgotten his tie. "Forgotten?" shrieked Whistler. "Nothing of the kind. Why should I spoil the effect of a good linen collar, with excellent lines, by sticking on a foolish little piece of flimsy lawn?"

And the dinner proceeded.

Unfeeling.

"Bilger eloped with his cook, the unfeeling wretch!"

"Well, I don't know. Why shouldn't he if he wanted to?"

"But his wife was just going to give a dinner party."—Life.

"Do you know what I do when a man offers me advice?" said the curbstone philosopher.

"No."

"Ask him if he's tried it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not Suspicious.

The Constable—Yes, your worship, the prisoner is a most suspicious character. The Accused (indignantly)—It's him that's suspeecious. Aw'm no suspeecious o' onybody!—Punch.

The good man prolongs his life. To be able to enjoy one's past life is to live twice.—Martial.

HAND PAINTED CHINA

Two Days' Exhibit at Alex. Gibson's Jewelry Store

The citizens of Peterborough who can find time to drop into Alex. Gibson's jewellery store to-day or to-morrow will see effects in hand-painted china different from anything ever before shown in Canada. These pieces are painted by artists who have made a life study of painting china by hand. There are over one hundred artists in the Pickard studios, located in Ravenswood, one of Chicago's most beautiful residential suburbs, working under the intelligent direction of Mr. Pickard (who is conceded to be one of the best art critics on the continent). The entire Pickard studio line will be on exhibit to-day and to-morrow only. This will be an excellent opportunity to secure something out of the ordinary for that October wedding or Christmas gift. Through Mr. Gibson you can place an order for any piece you wish to have painted to order, and delivered at any time in the future. Every piece shown in this exhibit will be packed up and taken to Montreal on Saturday night, July 4.

PERSPIRATION AND FAT—A WAY OUT

This year fat folks who want to move about a bit is comfort and dry undergarments are going to reduce. This does not mean, however, lots of exercise and rivers of prespiration. Nowadays the well-informed fat person gets rid of his or her fat with an almost mathematical certainty — not through muscular exertion or punishing fasts—but by means of a teaspoonful only, after meals and at bedtime, of a harmless inexpensive mixture, to wit, 1-2 ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 4 3-4 ounces Sirup Simplex, which any druggist can and will put up for a small sum.

This pleasant home receipt takes the fat off at the rate of 12 to 16 ounces a day without causing wrinkles or interfering with one's pleasure or even one's meals, and it has proved a nugget of knowledge of incalculable comfort value to thousands.

THE GIRL AND THE BEE

A Story of the Ignorance of a City Girl

The city girl coming down to breakfast at the farmhouse and observing a plate of honey on the table, said, "Oh, I see you keep bees."

That's about the way some people talk about the blight of baldness—just as if a bald head was something one got all at once, instead of being the result of long depletion by an insidious germ which thrives upon the roots of the hair and succumbs to only one known remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Newbro's Herpicide is not a tonic any more than electricity is a fluid. It is an exterminator, pure and simple.

Farmer Wanted Help but Applications Were Not In

On Saturday last there was the usual large number of demands for men to help on farms, but there were few who applied. None of the crowd who composed the delegation that in a body made application for work last week were on hand, they either having secured work elsewhere or did not need it. There is still quite a demand for farm help for those who will take the offers the farmers make.

SOUTH BEACH SUMMER RESORT

Early Inrush of Tourists—Fishing and Other Attractions

This delightful summer resort on Clear Lake has had quite an early inrush of tourists this season. At present there are thirty-seven regular guests in the house, chiefly Americans. The fishing this week has not been so good as last, although both bass and lunge are being caught every day. The dining room features are as attractive as ever. The charm and attractiveness of South Beach has been considerably enhanced this season by the addition of four large, artistically designed flower beds located in front of the piazza. These pretty contrasting beds contain a variety of blooming and foliage plants and make bright spots in the beautiful green sward, now showing up in its best verdure.

The following is a list of the registrations so far this season:

Mrs. James H West, Vermillion, Alberta; Mrs. G Stewart Cameron & son, Peterborough; E L LeClair, Brockville; Jos Watson, Lakefield; Alf. Simpson, Peterborough; L Davidson, Peterborough; Col. FUNERAL OF MRS. HOPKINS WAS HELD THIS MORNING

Many Beautiful Floral Tributes—The Pall Bearers

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Hopkins was held this morning from the family residence, 795 George treet, to St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Peter's Cemetery. Many friends of the deceased were present to pay a last tribute to the memory of the deceased, and there were also many floral tributes, showing the respect in which she had been held. The pall bearers were Messrs. Wm. Merrill, Geo. Ball, John J. Lynch, C. Rutherford, Thomas McQuillen and Fred McFadden.

Notices of Births, Marriages and Deaths, 25 cents each insertion in either the Daily or Weekly Examiner.

DAY OF GENUINE PLEASURE WITH ST. PETER'S T.A.S. AT PARK ON OTONABEE'S BANK

About 4,000 People Spent Dominion Day at the Park—Beautiful Weather Smiled on the Event—Sports Well Conducted

SUCCESS OF COMMITTEE

Another T.A.S. success! Midas like, the society seems to make everything they undertake turn out an unqualified success. At least this is particularly true of their annual picnic, for it is always looked forward to with pleasure by a large number of persons. Especially is this true of the past three years which on each occasion has been a great success and is in fact one of the largest picnic gatherings that is held anywhere in this district.

Thanks to the ideal weather yesterday this year's excursion was, if anything, larger than in the past and an immense throng spent the day or the afternoon at T.A.S. park. It was estimated that nearly 4,000 persons were on the grounds. They came down on the boat, in canoes and skiffs and many, including farmers, drove from their homes. It was a jolly good natured gathering, everyone being out to enjoy the day and it is a matter of congratulation to the committee that this large crowd was handled without any accidents and in a thoroughly efficient manner.

The committee was disappointed in that they had only one boat to accommodate the crowd. This was Mr. Burnett's boat the "Rainbow." The Beaver, it has since been learned, was unable to fill its engagement, as it already had one contract incomplete and it had to work yesterday to finish up the contract. This was the only disappointment of the day everything else seeming to combine for an enjoyable outing. The Rainbow accepted its double task in a splendid manner and made many trips during the day.

The Boat Service

On the Grounds

A noticeable feature of the gathering was the large number of Dominion Day visitors at the park. The trip was very suitable to those arriving in the city during the day. The arrangements on the grounds were most satisfactory. The dancing pavilion was patronized to its utmost throughout the day and the men who had charge of this department of pleasure did their work well. The refreshment and meal booths did a fine business. The ladies deserve the warmest praise for the appetizing meals they provided, the fare being excellent.

The Sporting Events

During the afternoon a splendid programme of sports were run off as follows:—

Running Races

100 yards, open—1, Geo. Gauthier, 2, John Jones.
100 yds—T.A.S. only—1, G. Gauthier; 2, L. LeBar.

Clog dance—1, D Quinlan; 2, J. Jordan.
Irish jig—1, J Quinlan and J. Jordan; 2, J McCliggott and D Quinlan.

The yacht race was won by Mr. Claude Rogers in the "Winona." Mr. Hollingshead's "Whitecap" was 20 yards in the lead when it struck a log, putting the propeller shaft temporarily out of service. The race ended as follows: 1, "Winona," Claude Rogers, 18 mins. 45 secs. 2, "Fiat II," Charlie Ackerman, 20 mins., 8 secs. The course was five miles.

Mr. G L Stevens' boat was the fourth entry and finished third. The race was an exciting one throughout.

The tug of war between the farmers and the T.A.S. was won by the latter. The prize was a box of Shamrock tobacco, donated by the Empire Tobacco Company through their local agent, Mr. W J O'Brien.

The morning ball game between the T.A.S. and Wellingtons resulted in a win for the former by the score of 8-6. The return trips at night were completed at an early hour.

Notes

Everyone liked the water races.

To Mr. R M Roy is due the great success of the yacht race.

Mr. Roy secured a number of excellent photos during the day.

BRICKLAYERS AND MASONS TO GO TO IDYL WYLD

—The Bricklayers' and Masons' Union No. 19 hold their first annual excursion to Idyl Wild on Saturday afternoon, July 4. This promises to be one of the best outings of the season. Tree Your Shoes

Are you ever bothered with your shoes falling in and getting out of shape when not in use? A shoe is harmed greatly when left standing just as you take it off—the leather is warm and pliable and falls in when left a day or so —yes, even over night; by morning it has cooled off and has become stiff, not so pliable, it does not so readily take the shape of the foot, thus causing it to crack, perhaps not the first time, but it will before long and shortens materially the usefulness of it. No matter how little or how much you pay for your shoes, a pair of Iredale Shoe Trees will prolong their life almost a half and give comfort to the feet. The Shoe Trees are made of hard wood, shaped just the same as the Shoes, in all sizes and widths. They are hinged in the centre and are easily placed in the shoe and pressed down tight— an operation that means only one minute of your time but means a great saving in your Footwear Bill. We have a large shipment of

HARRY REID KNOWS

Wm. Madill the druggist, does not guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair on every bald head, but if there is any life left in the roots of your hair, Parisian Sage will stimulate the hair bulbs and cause your hair to grow again. Here is one case: "I am now using the second bottle of your Parisian Sage, and can notice a new crop of hair appearing. I am glad to say it is a darker colour than my hair was before I became bald." Harry Reid, 10 Manhattan street, Rochester, N.Y.

Don't wait till you're bald before using Parisian Sage, use it now. Kill the dandruff germ and prevent baldness. Wm. Madill, the druggist, sells Parisian Sage at 50 cents a large bottle, and he guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, and cure all diseases of the scalp, or money back. Parisian Sage is a delightful, invigorating hair dressing; it makes the hair soft, fluffy and beautiful.

Y.M.C.A. QUAKERS HELD THEIR 'GROUND; SAINTS COULDN'T SCORE

Fast Football Game Ended in Draw —Locals Had Not Their Regular Line-up

ONLY A FEW SUPPORTERS

Although handicapped by the loss of four of their regular team, the Quakers yesterday afternoon played in their old-time form, holding the fast All Saints team down to a no-score game. The match was played on Riverside Park, and to illustrate the support association football gets in Peterborough, it might be mentioned that thirty-two paid admission. The Quakers, one would suppose, deserve something better since they have twice won the senior championship of the Midland League, besides three silver mugs during the past two years.

The game yesterday was exhibition, but some good, fast and clean football was presented. The All Saints are a gentlemanly bunch of sports and a friendly game was the result. They play good combination and it was only on a couple of occasions that their defence missed a kick. They have some shining lights too, but the Quaker defence was better than they anticipated, and there was no scoring on their part, although on some occasions it was mighty close.

The work of Jack Crough, on the Quaker forward line, was very commendable, especially as there was not a man on the visitors' defence who could stop him. He came within a hairbreadth of scoring too. Wally Parnell was on the line-up for the first time this season at centre half, proved a puzzler to the Saints' forwards. Best and Archibald, left and right halves, had it all over their cheeks and it was only combination that could pass them, while Dick Evans and Jim Doris played faultless ball. Millburn showed up well as outside right forward centring the wind-bag well. Roe was injured in the first half and was replaced by Yeates, one of the Quakers' fast forwards of last year. Canniff also put up a good game, as did also McFadden in goal, who stopped some hot ones. Heaslip, the genial manager of the Saints' team, handled the whistle and dealt out his decisions impartially.

The teams lined up as follows:

All Saints—
Goal—Galbraith.
Backs—Small, Roberts.
Half backs—Main, Hopkins, Johnston.
Forwards—Raven, Marr, Gillespie, Cowan, Starkie.

Quakers—
Goal—McFadden.
Backs—Evans, Doris.
Half Backs — Archibald, Parnell, Best.
Forwards—Millburn, Canniff, Huston, Crough, Roe, Yeates.
Referee—Heaslip.

THE PETERBOROS LOST AGAIN; WERE DEFEATED AT PORT HOPE

Before an enormous crowd that overflowed into the outfield, the Peterboroughs were defeated in a Midland League game at Port Hope yesterday afternoon by 9 runs to 8, after an exciting and loosely played exhibition. Sixteen of the seventeen runs were scored in the first five innings, and up to then the game was a weird exhibition, in which both teams played ragged ball, and runs, hits and errors were bunched in a heap, while the scorers wore out their lead pencils in an effort to keep track of everything.

Hawkins was sent in to pitch for the Petes and the Port Hopers got to him for seven hits and nine runs in the first five innings, three being tallied in the first inning with only one hit. Clements finished the game and Port Hope failed to score off his delivery, while the support tightened up behind him and the game was a much better exhibition from the fifth on. Surphlis was on the slab for the home team, and although he is generally a light lunch for the Petes, they could do nothing with him yesterday when hits meant runs, and he fanned ten men. The team behind him was a strong one, with Hickey of the Park Nine at first, Denny McGuire of the St. Mary's at second, Dunn at short and O'Toole at third.

Maddock was back in the game for the Petes and fielded his position beautifully, accepting 10 out of 11 chances in clever fashion. Murphy took care of two nice flies in left, and Edmunds' throwing to bases was a feature. O'Toole shone in the field and at the bat for Port Hope.

Port Hope scored three in their half of the first. McGuire was safe when Maddock collided with McDermott and dropped his fly. Rowden was walked and O'Toole was hit by pitcher. Hickey lifted one to right and Burns and O'Brien collided, the ball dropping, while McGuire and Rowden scored. Walters fouled to Edmunds and W. Wilson fanned, but Jack Wilson hit to centre, scoring O'Toole. Surphlis grounded to McDermott.

The Petes got four in the second. O'Brien was safe when Wilson dropped his third strike. McDermott singled and Thorne was walked, filling the bases. Edmunds flew out to left and O'Brien scored. Lawson bunted and McDermott scored. Thorne and Lawson both counted on passed balls.

The Petes got two more in the third. Maddock was safe on Surphlis' error. O'Brien was hit by pitcher and out a moment afterwards when a grounder from McDermott hit him as he was going to second. The batter was safe and both runners scored on Thorne's timely single.

Another came in the fourth on Hawkins' single, and Murphy's bunt, upon which O'Toole threw wild to first.

Port Hope got two in their half. Rowden was safe on Thorne's slip-up and scored on O'Toole's smash to the crowd in left, which went for three bases. O'Toole scored on Dunn's two-bagger to left.

The Port Hopers won out in the fifth. O'Brien dropped Surphlis' fly after a long run and McDermott let McGuire's grounder get away from him. Edmunds threw to second to get McGuire and Surphlis scored. Rowden singled and O'Toole lined one to left which Murphy would have gotten easily had the field been clear, but someone got a parasol in the way just as the ball came along and the Spaulding went into the crowd for a three-bagger. McGuire and Rowden scoring. Hickey singled, bringing O'Toole home.

The Petes got the last run in the seventh. Murphy was walked, went to second on a passed ball and scored on O'Brien's single to left.

W. A. Hoagland the champion walker, who is an umpire in the Empire State League, umpired the game very satisfactorily, there being no dispute against his decisions.

The field was in terrible shape which accounts for the bad fielding of the Petes.

ATHLETICS BEAT COBOURG IN BEST PLAYED GAME OF SEASON

In one of the best played games of the season at Riverside Park yesterday afternoon, the Athletics took Cobourg into camp by a score of 4 2. Manager Lynch's team played the brand of ball that wins games. They fielded perfectly, not an error being made, while some pretty plays were pulled off. Quinlan was touched up for twelve hits but was decidedly effective when hits meant runs, and tightened up when the sacks were filled up with foreign population and the score shows that Cobourg had ten men left on bases. Several times they had men on with but one out, but Quinlan was always master of the situation, and struck out the next batters.

Turner, formerly of Guelph, who had been released by Cobourg and afterwards taken back into the fold, threw for the visitors and pitched good ball, but the Athletics got their hits together when they counted and that won for them. Seven hits were made off Turner, and the two errors made by Cobourg helped in the run getting.

Cobourg looked for a victory. They had a greatly strengthened line-up for the occasion, including "Curly" Ross and Benson of the Park Nine of Toronto, and figured on a win from the locals. Benson was there with the stick, getting three nice singles, while Bulger also wooled nicely, piling off three safeties. Dobbie Shea alone at bat for the Athletics, driving out a three-bagger and two singles. One of the features was Dick Turpin's home run smash to the brewery creek, which might have affected the record had it come in one of the innings in which there were men on bases. However there was no one on at the time and the mighty drive only counted for one run.

Davie Kerr, formerly of Cobourg, and now of Lindsay, umpired the game and did not give the best of satisfaction, making several mistakes. Mr. Kerr did not want the job at all.

The Athletics were first to score, getting one across in the fourth. Shea drove a vicious one to right for three bases and scored on Rattray's two-bagger.

They added two more in the sixth. After Connors had flew out to Turpin, Graham and Shea both singled. Graham scored when Wineberg missed Floyd's throw to third, and Rattray's single brought Shea home.

In the eighth Connors was safe when Turpin dropped a throw, and stole second. Graham went out, Floyd to Turpin, but Shea was there once more with a timely single and Connors was given a lap.

Cobourg scored their first in the sixth inning. Floyd singled. Turpin flew out to Rattray but Benson and King were both there with timely hits, bringing Floyd across. Their last run came in the eighth when Turpin made his drive for a round-the-belt-line ticket.

It was a splendid game of ball and the fairly large crowd thoroughly enjoyed the exhibition. The score:

Harrison Only One Lap Behind Hoagland In Port Hope Walk

Hoagland, 29 miles, 2 laps.
Harrison, 29 miles, 1 lap.
Slater, 29 miles, 6 laps.
GGerin, 29 miles, 4 laps.

The above is the standing at the end of the first day's walk in the four-day walking match at Port Hope, and it will be seen that Harrison and Guerin, the two Peterborough pedestrians, are holding their own wwith the two cracks from across the line. The men were on the track for two hours and fifteen minutes yesterday morning, and a rapid pace was set up, Harrison sticking to Hoagland like glue. When time was called the two had gone thirteen miles, and Slater was four laps away.

The crow wdas only fair in the morning, but when the walk was resumed at eight o'clock last night there was a large and enthusiastic attendance. At the start Hoagland went out and gained a lap on Harrison, but after that the Peterborough man followed him and the two remained together for the night, letting out in several sensational spurts that kept the crowd on its feet all the time. Slater dropped behind steadily during the night, having troubles of his own in keeping ahead of Guerin, the young Peterborough lad, who is a pretty and speedy walker. Jimmy Reynolds, of Port Hope is referee and the walk will be continued today. The two Port Hope men who entered, Woodcock and Gillman, were never in the race and have dropped out.

Harry Munro Easily Wins The Eastwood Silver Trophy

Takes Two Firsts, Two Seconds And Two Thirds—Halpany and Campbell Tied for Second Place

SOME GOOD WORK DONE

The Boys' Championship Competition in connection with the Y. M. C. A. and for the Vincent Eastwood Trophy, was held yesterday morning at the Nicholls Oval and was the feature of the morning events. The trophy was captured by Harry Munro, who demonstrated his capacity as an athlete at the recent games in Toronto. Munro is a coming athlete who is bound to make good in the near future. He is a fast 100-yards man, as well as for longer distances, and a good jumper.

Yesterday he scored two firsts, two seconds and two thirds, making a total of twelve points. F. Halpany and Peter Campbell were tied for second. Halpany had one first, one second and one third, making a total of six points, and Campbell carried off two firsts, J. Hughes was third with five points.

The Summary

TOOK FALL OUT OF WEST ENDS

Y.M.C.A. With Their Best Men Trim the Cupholders

WAS A FINE EXHIBITION

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team nosed outa victory from the West End cup holders at the Oval yesterday and thereby made things look darker for Ernie Hoad's bunch to win out again this year. The Y.'s had a line-up of their best men and with that aggregation out all the time they would pretty nearly run away with the silverware. However the West Ends had not their best bunch out, which may account for their defeat. At any rate, it was a good game of ball, and is the kind the league is looking for. The team lined up as follows:

PROFESSOR MACKAY SAYS 3 PER CENT.

As Minimum Standard for the Quality of Milk

Prof. G. L. McKay, of Iowa Agricultural College, speaking of a proposal to fix the minimum standard for milk at 3.25 per cent. fat, said:—If this were to become a law hundreds of dairymen could be constantly prosecuted for adulteration of milk, over which they have no control. This is quite evident to every creamery man in the country. Many of our fine Holstein cows that have made wonderful records as butter producers would come under the ban of the law, and some of our other grades and breeds that are not Holstein would at time be condemned. Three per cent. at the most should be high enough for a standard of this kind.

SUDDEN DEATH OF CHARLOTTE STREET WOMAN; WAS FOUND RECLINING IN HER ARMCHAIR

The angel of death stole quietly into a Charlotte street home some time during last night, and this morning the lifeless form of Mrs. Mary Northcott was found in an arm chair in her room, as if she had fallen into a peaceful sleep. Death came suddenly and unexpectedly, and it is supposed by the inmates of the residence that she passed peacefully away about midnight from heart failure.

Mr. Wm. Ford, a grandson of the deceased, told the Examiner to-day the story of the finding of the dead body.

"When I came home to tea at 6 o'clock," he said, "she was apparently in excellent health and in good spirits. She prepared the supper as usual, and when I left to go with the Salvation Army Band to Gilmour Memorial Church she was quite well. I returned about midnight. I saw a light in her room and I expected she would speak to me as I passed the door, as she usually does. But last night no sound came from her room and I went to bed. I now believe she was dead then. This morning her step-son Charles found her reclining in the arm chair with her arms over the side, and he called me. We then discovered she had died."

Mrs Northcott was 73 years of age. She came from England, where her husband died some twenty years ago and where two daughters are living.

A peculiar coincidence in the family is that just five years ago to-day her daughter passed away in the same house on Charlotte street.

Besides Mrs. Northcott's step-son, Charles, and her grandson, Wm. Ford, who is deputy bandmaster of the Salvation Army Band, she is survived by two sons, Arthur and Walter, living in Peterborough, and a step-son, Robert, on Rubidge street. Walter was spending a few holidays at Campbellford and has been called home.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence, 190 Charlotte street, to Little Lake Cemetery. The Salvation Army band will be in attendance.

Parisian Banker Inspected Machine Telephone System

M. Robert Israel Who is Interested in the Automatic Phone on Business Trip to Peterborough—Is Pleased With System

HE VISITED THE LIFT LOCK

The machine telephone is about to be put into operation in France and an exchange will be soon opened in the city of Lyons. In the beginning it will have about the same number of subscribers as Peterborough, but the outlook is exceedingly bright for the new 'phone and already a large number of orders have been received. Mr. Robert Israel, a prominent banker of Paris, France, inspected the automatic system in Peterborough a few days ago and was highly pleased with its action, with the privacy of conversation over its wires, and its general telephonic facilities. He was accompanied by Mr. Gagne, engineer of the Toronto Power Company. While in the city they visited the lift lock.

Mr. Israel states that there is a great future for the automatic 'phone in France, and a manufacturing house will be established there to meet the demand which has been promised. The 'phone system at present in use is said to be rather antiquated and Mr. Israel states that the future of the new machine telephone is assured.

BUOYING OUT THE CHANNEL IN THE OTONABEE RIVER

The "Bessie Butler" came up from Rice Lake last night where she has been engaged in the work of taking the soundings, which was looked after by engineers on board. She brought a scow up with her. To-day she is assisting in placing buoys in the Otonabee River, marking the steamboat channel. On the completion of this work she will take a large scow-load of cement from Lakefield to Buckhorn.

The dredge "Emmerson" which has been working at Dam No. 6, above Nassau for a couple of weeks, concluded that work to-day and has gone to Dam No. 2 to do some dredging. The "Empire" is assisting the dredge.

The "Bob Hall" is now between Balsam Lake and Gamebridge towing material for new lock houses.

ANIMALS ATE VEGETABLES AND THEN WENT AFTER ROPE FENCE

Campers near Chemong Park who arrived home yesterday have some interesting stories to tell of the leading of the simple life in that vicinity. They were tented near the lake shore and outside the park limits. They report animal thieving so prevalent that some person had to watch the camp, lest when all were absent the horses or cattle might swallow their bed clothes.

On one occasion when they returned they discovered that all their vegetables had been eaten up. A rope fence was built around the tent but coming back from a fishing cruise they discovered a horse tugging away "at the braids of brioty." It was not because they had no food to eat that the animals went after the Manilla—for their pasture was a luxuriant one—but apparently they wanted a change.

Sixty-Four Candidates For Departmental Examinations

The Departmental Examinations are in progress at the old Collegiate Institute buildings. They are in charge of Mr. Inspector Mowat, Mr. Dunlop, Principal of the King Edward School, and Mr. Kelly, of the East Ward School. The rather cool weather is a great boon to the twenty-five candidates taking the junior Matriculation examinations, the twenty-three taking the junior Teachers', and the sixteen taking the senior Teachers' and Honour Matriculation examinations.

MODESTY.

Peterborough is an important city, but it has a new title to distinction. It has become the centre of political influence, the Review newspaper being the pivotal point. In an article in our evening contemporary, "Clean Elections" are dealt with and the great ego speaks—"WE are not cognizant of any wrong-doing and WE invite the closest scrutiny of Conservative methods and performance." And again the modest man at the Review quill speaks—"WE invited investigation some three weeks ago, and WE repeat OUR invitation," "WE ran a clean election." Modesty has its merits, but it is something that can be easily overdone. Some are born with swelled heads; some achieve swelled heads and some have swelled heads thrust upon them."

PETERBOROUGH PATRONAGE.

An interesting little struggle is going on over the janitorship of the new Normal School. Of course there will be many applicants. It is safe to say that the place will go to some supporter of the Government, which is to be expected. There is a feeling amongst some of the faithful, however, that Mr. Bradburn, in gratitude for the support alleged to have been given him at the late election, will give the place to some new-comer to the city. This is strongly objected to on the ground that the place should go to some citizen who has long been identified with the city's progress, and has helped bear its burdens, and has been faithful to the party. Other things being equal the longer resident should have the preference, but in the public interest the best man for the position should be selected. Mr. Bradburn might go to Lindsay for a caretaker. In so doing he would be following the precedent he established when he advised the dismissal of a local man from a lucrative position and did not insist on his being replaced by a local man. Before he is through with this matter of the janitorship Mr. Bradburn will find that the privilege of dispensing patronage is something of a white elephant. His experience should make him inclined to urge the Whitney Government to make a departure like that the Dominion Government is making—to pass a civil service reform bill. But he will have a herculean task. The Whitney Government has firmly established the United States "spoils system" in Ontario, and its hungry following will be loth to surrender party access to the loaves and fishes. If Mr. Whitney can't muster courage to alienate in the interests of the masses of the people, the support of the legal profession, which might be the result of an efficient measure of law reform, how can we expect him to have the courage to pass a civil service reform act, which would alienate the affections of the great army of the expectant faithful?

SCHOOL MANUAL TRAINING.

(Brantford Expositor.)

The exhibit of work now being made by the pupils of the Brantford Manual Training School is another demonstration of the efficiency which our boys have attained in the handling of tools, and also of the great fascination which the school has for them. That "love lightens labour" is amply shown in the fact that the pupils have done much of their work on Saturdays or after school hours, and many of them would be glad to spend their vacation days in the same manner. There is no attempt made to teach the boys particular trades, but they are made facile in the use of tools, and just training is given the eye and the hand. It is fortunate for Brantford that her manual training school is in the hands of such an enthusiast as Mr. Errett, because he never fails to interest his pupils and to impart to them much of his own enthusiasm.

No wonder the Dominion election law proposes to not accept the Provincial lists in Manitoba for Dominion Electio purposes. The Morden, Man., Chronilce says that at the recent registration in that district Mr. Sharp, the Conservative candidate, was in actual charge of the preparation of the lists, and the registration clerk at Kaleida, a Conservative heeler, brought back from the west, where he is doing homestead work, to serve the party purpose, took his instructions from him. It alleges that this partizan official actually refused point blank to so much as receive from the Liberal agent applications to strike off the names of seven Conservatives handed in to him, and although his course is clearly contrary to law, the act provides no way by which he can be reached.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Society will be revolutionized when all of us come to value a man for what he is and for not what he has.

The threat of the British women suffragettes to blow up the Parliament Buildings is probably mere bomb-ast.

Canada, in the West, has developed an opium trade. Mr. Mackenzie King advises that a sedative in the form of a legislative astringent be administered.

Sixty-five new members were added to the Woodstock Board of Trade at its last meeting. This is more than half the total membership of the Peterborough Board.

A presidential term in the United States is only four years, yet there is not an ex-president living. This condition has only happened twice in the history of the country. At the beginning of Lincoln's first term there were five ex-presidents living.

It is probable that most of the women suffragettes who propose to demolish the British Parliament Buildings are unmarried. Married women experienced in blowing up their husbands would find no new pleasure in so comparatively tame process like blowing up the Houses of Parliament.

In the discussion of the Civil Service Bill the other day, Mr. Foster complained as to civil servants taking an active part in political campaigns. Hon. Mr. Fisher promptly expressed his willingness to include an amendment forbidding the interference of civil servants in politics. The public is learning that this is to be the real civil service reform.

The Ottawa Free Press celebrated Dominion Day by occupying its new home on Sparks street. The Free Press is almost coeval with Confederation, having been established in 1869. The Examiner extends its congratulations. The Free Press is growing in excellence as a newspaper and very creditably represents Liberal interests at the Capital. It is well written and newsy and well deserves the handsome new quarters which will, it is hoped, be its habitation for many years of increasing usefulness and prosperity.

From Cranbrook, Ont., says the Hamilton Times, comes a circular, issued by the Methodist and Presbyterian ministers of the place, pleading for action by the authorities toward enforcing the liquor law. It is said that the Attorney-General's Department entirely neglects its duty, and that the barrooms of the place are wide open on Sundays. The Mayor also refuses to take action, the excuse being offered that the hotels in neighbouring towns are likewise open on Sunday. Wonder how many of the temperance men of those towns "rooted" for hWitney in the recent election campaign, and praised him for keeping his promises to rigorously enforce the license law?

IMPORTANT TO SETTLERS.

(Hamilton Times.)

The late Government offered grants of immense areas of land to encourage the building of railways in western Canada. The present Government, when it took office, was not in accord with such a policy, and discontinued the practice of making land grants to railway companies. But, of course, it had to observe the obligations entered into by its predecessors, and those that were outstanding when it took office it has had to carry out. Practically all the lands capable of being earned, under the terms on which they were granted, have been earned; and the lands have been transferred. A land grant of 12,800 acres per mile was originally offered for the building of a line of railway from the Saskatchewan River to Hudson Bay, but, although the Canadian Northern Railway Company obtained a charter for the purpose, it has not built this section of the line. The Government is now proposing to finance such an undertaking by creating an additional source of revenue out of the sale of pre-emptions to homesteaders in the central prairie area, which lies in the heart of the territory, formed by the two new provinces, and is apparently an extension of a similar, but vaster, area across the international boundary. The stretch of country, outlined in the bill containing this proposal, comprises districts that have regular and sufficient rainfall, and districts where the conditions are intermediate between the dry and the moist.

From the area, outlined in the bill, the railway companies have selected some 6,000,000 acres in satisfaction of their land grants, but there remain 28,000,000 acres available for homesteaders and pre-emptions. A man who takes up a homestead of 160 acres will be able to have reserved the adjoining 160 acres for his future use. This reservation is what is called pre-emption. In order to pre-empt he will have to pay a fee of $10, and then, at the end of three years, he will have to commence paying for the property. His first payment will be one-third of the price of the pre-empted land, which is to be sold at a rate of $3 an acre. The railway to be built from the Pass on the Saskatchewan River to Hudson Bay will be 500 miles, and this, at the liberal estimate of $30,000 a mile, would work out at $15,000,000. The additional revenue thus provided is more than enough to meet the cost of of the Hudson Bay Railway, and no matter under what arrangement it is built it will, therefore, not cost eastern Canada a cent. The scheme will confer two benefits on Canada: First, it will open to settlement on advantageous terms a large tract of land which would not be attractive to settlers unless on such terms. Second, it will provide the funds to give the whole farming community of the west a cheaper route to the British market. Both are essential to the full development of the country. The bill while providing for pre-emption by new homesteaders, gives old homesteaders, settled outside the area, the privilege of purchasing a homestead within it. The area would also have the same right.

The "purchased homesteads" are to be sold on the same terms as the pre-emptions. Last year's land bill, which was withdrawn, contained a similar proposal, which was only different from the present proposal in the extent of its application. The Minister of the Interior then wished to open the privilege of a purchased homestead to all settlers who had not already acquired pre-emption. It was thought by many that this would have a disturbing effect on land values by inducing farmers to leave the older settled parts, and was strongly opposed by the Conservative party and by several of the Government's supporters. By a resort to their usual tactics of obstruction the Opposition were successful in preventing the bill of last year from becoming law, as the Premier's absence in England made it desirable that the session should be closed without undue delay.

The principle of settlement, with cultivation, implied in homesteading, is applied to both pre-empted farms and "purchased homesteads." So that the present proposal does not vary from the end which the Government has always had in view, namely, cultivation and settlement by resident owners, who will support and promote the social development of the particular neighbourhood in which their interests lie.

PECULIAR DEMAND FOR OLD HATS

"Oh, yes, I am always in the market for second-hats. They sell better than anything else."

The old clothes dealer pointed to a room filled with shocking hats.

"There's not half enough there to meet my demand," he said. "If you was to bring me a carload of old hats this morning I'd take 'em all," there's such a demand, eh?"

"You bet there's a demand. Especially among old maids and widows that live alone. They buy these hats and hang a couple on the hall rack. Then when a beggar or tramp gets too rambunctious at the door they turn and say...

"George is home. There's his hat. George! Oh, George! Will you come down here and turn this rascal away?"

"Then the tramp sneaks, thinking there's a man in the house.

"Restaurants, when they open up new stands, generally lay in 25 or 30 hats. They have them in the lobby to make people think business is brisk."

TRICKY BIRDS

"Hear the song of the little jail-birds," said the jailer, as a burst of ribald melody came down the grey corridor. "The dear little jail-birds." He shook his head and sighed.

"They are all playing sick in that ward," he resumed. "There's nobody can malinger like a jail- bird. His tricks are amazing."

"To fake a fever he will whiten his tongue with chalk, flush his cheeks with a red flannel shirt, and disorder his stomach by swallowing a quid of tobacco."

"To fake consumption he will [illegible] as to spit blood, and go through a terrific kind of Swedish movement so as to produce night sweats."

"Some jail-birds have brought on nettle-rash by temporarily poisoning themselves with smuggled crab or lobster. Some cheap soap so as to froth at the mouth in fake fits. Some, by painting their armpits with a solution of snuff and water, bring on a state of coma wherein they are to weak to do anything but read, smoke eat and sleep."

CHARGED WITH BUYING COPPER FROM BOYS UNDER EIGHTEEN

D. Florence, the local junk dealer, appeared before Police Magistrate Dumble at the police court this morning on a charge of purchasing copper wire from boys, apparently under the age of eighteen, contrary to a city by-law. It was the first case that has been heard under the by-law, which was framed to prevent junk dealers from purchasing articles from irresponsible parties.

Percy Holland, who swore that he was sixteen years of age, stated that Dick Graham, Geo. Aherne and himself had taken a quantity of wire, which they had found near the Cereal Works, to Florence's place. He and Graham had taken the copper in and the latter had sold it for 45 cents.

P. C. Newhall testified that he had been notified that a number of boys were selling wire to Florence, and that he and P. C. McGinty had gone down to investigate. At first Florence said that there had been no boys there, but afterwards he said that there was. No entry had been made in the book, as required by law, until that night.

Florence admitted that he had purchased the wire from Graham, but said that the boy looked to be at least eighteen.

The magistrate dismissed the case with a warning, taking the ground that there was a reasonable doubt as to whether or not Graham looked to be eighteen years of age. He warned Florence that if a conviction was made against him henceforth, he would inflict a severe penalty on him.

CITY SOLICITOR INSTRUCTED TO TAKE ACTION IF NECESSARY

A meeting of the Board of Works Committee was held last night at which there were present Ald. Plaskett (chairman), Mayor Rush, Ald. Morgan, Buller, Tovey and McIntyre.

It was moved by Ald. Tovey, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that in case the Peterborough Light and Power Company opens any street for the purpose of laying gas mains without the consent of the council the city solicitor take action at once to stop the work.—Carried.

A letter was read from W. G. Morrow, Secretary of the Board of Education, asking that a bridge be built across the railway cut from the Normal School to Conger street.

Several petitions for and against sidewalks and sewers were read, and on motion of Ald. McIntyre and Morgan, the city solicitor was instructed to prepare a by-law to authorize the construction of sewers of which notice had been given.—Carried.

It was moved by Ald. Buller and Ald. Tovey, that the chairman, Ald. Morgan and Ald. McIntyre interview the managers of the Otonabee Power Company and the Peterborough Light and Power Company, with a view to having the two companies use the same set of poles.

Hastings Was Highly Pleased With 57th Regimental Band

The Hastings Star, referring to the big athletic meet there on the holiday gives out some bouquets to the Strathcona baseball team and also to the 57th Regimental Band. What it says is this:

The ball game was called in the grounds about 2 p.m., Stratheonas of Peterborough vs. Hastings, and the Strathconas won by 12-2. They play good snappy ball, and from the game they put up yesterday there is not a team in the district that can touch them, and they are a very gentlemanly lot of young fellows.

The 100 yards dash was won by T. Shaw of Peterborough, with Kennedy of Lakefield second.

In the five-mile road race, Brownlee of Peterborough carried off the gold watch, with Harry Brown, of town, second.

During the sports and games the booths were doing a grand business in charge of the boys, and the 57th Band gave a programme such as we have never had here. Too much cannot be said of the 57th Band. They came to play, and play they did, early and often. From Mr. Gliddon down to the man who carried the music they could do too much in both quality and quantity, from the time they alighted from the train until they left in the evening. We will have them next Dominion Day if we can get them, and they appeared willing to come. The crowd were always willing to hear them and whenever they were playing you could hardly get near the band. Their soloists are the best ever heard here. Messrs. Cronk and Hughes particularly took the fancy of the crowd, with their baritone and cornet solos.

Work Of Roofing Armouries Will Be Commenced At Once

The work on the new Armouries is making splendid headway and everything is now practically ready to commence the work of putting on the roof. Mr. Jas. A. McGill, representing the Hamilton Bridge Company, is in the city for this purpose, and will be here about a month, while the work is being advanced. It will be carried out with the same despatch as has marked the rest of the building already completed, and the building will be nearly finished by the end of autumn.

Peterboro Men Second, Third And Fourth In The Walk At Lindsay

Examiner Special.

Lindsay, July 3.—Stacey, the Toronto walker, and Stevens and the two Spenceleys, of Peterborough, have the Lindsay walk all to themselves, the Lindsay men having dropped considerably during the three hours' grind last night. Stacey is over three miles ahead of Charlie Stevens, and is travelling at a wonderful clip. The closest race is for second place between Stevens and Spenceley. A big crowd was present last night and the race is catching on wonderfully with the people. Stacey is a marvel. The standing at the close last night was as follows:

Stacey, Toronto, 38 miles, 1 lap.
Stevens, Peterborough, 35 miles, 11 laps.
W. Spencely, Peterborough, 35 miles 6 laps.
J. Spencely, Peterborough, 32 miles, 11 laps.
Curtis, Lindsay, 32 miles.
Green, Lindsay, 31 miles, 13 laps.
Hartley, Peterborough, 30 miles, 9 laps.
Reilly, Lindsay, 25 iles, 7 laps.

HAVE GONE A-FISHING UP THE CANAL

Local Anglers to Follow in Walton's Footsteps

There is a danger in store for the "monsters of the deep" in the Otonabee River. This statement will be easily recognized as a fact when it is known that the following anglers have gone up the river this afternoon in search of the elusive finny tribe: Messrs. C G Graham, J N Barber, R Gibbs, and J J Marvin. The limit is 32 bass and 15 lunge and no doubt the water will drop considerably in the canal when these leave their native element.

REV. MR. STEURNAGEL GIVES ADDRESS

Speaks at Christian Alliance Meeting in Toronto

A helpful address was given to an audience of young people last evening at the meeting of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in Zion Church by Rev. A E Steurnagel, of Peterborough. His theme was "Forgetting the things which are behind, and pressing on to the things which are before." So many people, he said, live in the past. Some never get farther than their conversion. Some live in their past experiences, some in their past failures, which they never forget, some in their past successes. (We should reach on to the things ahead; we are running in a race, and must so run that we may receive the prize.—Toronto Globe.

Two Friends Meet After Twenty-Five Years' Separation

Mr. Charles Cox, of Madoc, is in the city on a visit to his old friend, Mr. Chas. Noyes. They have not seen each other for twenty-five years since Mr. Noyes came to Peterborough, and it was with mutual pleasure that they renewed the warm friendship of a quarter of a century ago.

BAND CONCERT TO-NIGHT IN PARK

57th Have a Splendid Programme Including "Merry Widow" Waltz

The band concert in Victoria Park to-night has a number of excellent selections on its programme. The waltz from the Merry Widow will be played as an extra number and will be played after the Reminiscenses of Scotland. The programme is as follows:

March—Semper Fidelis.
Overture—Nabuca.
Euphonium Solo — Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep—With variations by Bandsman Cronk.
Medley—Popular Songs, No. 1.
Sextette—From Lucia.
Reminiscences of Scotland.
Hymn—Selected.
Grand Nautical Fantasy—Voyage on a Troopship.
March—The Boys of the Old Brigade.
God Save the King.

CHARMING RECOGNITION OF LOCAL COMPOSER

In Peterborough we have a good deal of musical talent existent, known and latent, and we should promptly recognize its presence and be glad of ourside recognition. We have not many musical composers, though we have so many clever exponents of music. It is a pleasure to note what is not generally known, that a Peterborough lady, Mrs. Collins-Roger (Miss Alice Roger) is a clever and successful composer, having at least two beautiful songs to her credit. These are "Indian Cradle Song," a dainty musical setting of anonymous verses, and "Du Bist Wie Eine Blume," music from the words of the song of Heine. "Thou Art Like a Flower." Miss Wallis, the artiste now residing in Paris, France, was the means of evoking a recognition of the quality of Mrs. Collins-Roger's songs by a great musical authority, Mocking Mlle Chaminade, the great composer, whose songs appear on almost every concert programme. Miss Wallis loaned her copies of Mrs. Collins' songs to study. A few days after they were returned to Miss Wallis with the inscription; "Mlle Chaminade envoi tous compliments, a Miss Alice Roger," equivalent to saying "Mlle Chaminade extends all kinds of compliments to Miss Roger." It is a great pleasure to Mrs. Collins-Roger's many friends in Peterborough to know that so high an authority has spoken so highly of her musical compositions, and hearty congratulations are due.

CAUSE FOR ALARM

Epidemic Influenza, Grippe, Catarrhal Troubles, Pneumonia Increasing.

A marked increase in troubles of the breathing organs is noted in many localities. If you will only have Hyomei at hand to use with the first attack of Cold in the head, Pneumonia, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Croup, in fact any respiratory affection, the trouble will be quickly overcome.

If the attack is neglected and becomes severe, speedy relief will come in most cases, and a persistent use of Hyomei will cure.

The directions for using it vary, but the principle is always the same, that of destroying all the germs in the air you breathe, and having it reach the air passages with dry medication from the Pine and Eucalyptus forests.

Remember that liquids or moisture are barred from the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs. It's the dry air of Hyomei that reaches the spot. Wm. Madill guarantees it.

Complete outfit, $1.

PROTEST WAS EFFECTIVE.

Persia Has Yielded to Great Britain —Cossacks Are Withdrawn.

London, July 3.—The protest uttered by the British Government has resulted in the withdrawal of the Persian Cossacks, who have been guarding the approaches to the British legation at Teheran because of the presence in the legation of Persian refugees. The refugees are still in the legation building, and the Shah's Government has been informed that written guarantees for their lives, persons and property will be required before they are given up.

Advices received at the Foreign Office here show that the lives of Englishmen and English interests in Persia are not in danger.

King's Son Loses Suit.

Madrid, July 3.—The Supreme Court gave judgment against the son of Elena Sanz, a Bohemian opera singer, in a suit brought to recover a share of the estate of King Alfonso XII., from the Dowager Queen and other legatees, which he claimed as the natural son of the King.

King Alfonso XII. was enamored of Elena Sanz, who bore him two sons. The singer was banished from Spain after the death of the King, and died homeless and friendless in Paris in 1899. The provisions of the King's will, by which he provided an ample annuity for her, appears not to have been carried out, and the elder son sought to have his claim against the late King's estates legally established.

The case was taken first before the civil courts in Madrid and eventually referred to the Supreme Court.

Pickpockets In Plenty.

Guelph, July 3.—Detective Murray of the C.P.R. was in the city yesterday. He stated that he had seen the report that Jefferson, the pickpocket, who was arrested here recently, had been let go with a fine and had come straight to Guelph to get a photo of the man. He stated that pickpockets were becoming plentiful in this part of the Dominion and that the C.P.R. had been troubled by them a great deal, particularly during June. The line between North Bay and Winnipeg had been worked systematically. Speaking of Jefferson, he said, he knew of him as one of the best in his line of business and knew he was wanted on the other side of the line on several charges.

UNITED STATES WILL TAKE PART

Government Has Appropriated $400,000 for Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition

IT WILL BE HELD IN 1909

Examiner Special

Seattle, July 3.—Now that the United States Government has made a $600,000 appropriation for participation in the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, the work erecting the 1909 fair has been given an impetus. While there has never been any doubt in the minds of the management as to the success of the Exposition, and as to its being ready on time, the Government's action has stimulated more interest in the fair throughout the country.

During the past week applications for concessions and exhibit space have been pouring into the offices in the administration building. The construction work has gone ahead without any cessation, and there are finished or under construction nine buildings.

The Government architects are working on the plans for Uncle Sam's buildings, and just as soon as the designs are finished construction will be commenced. Of the total appropriation, $250,000 will be spent on the buildings. Besides the main Government building there will be structures for Hawaii, Alaska, the Philippines, and the fisheries industry. The remaining $350,000 will be expended for exhibits, as follows: Government, $200,000; Alaska, $100,000; Hawaii, $25,000; Philippines, $25,000.

ABUSIVE BECAUSE SALE WAS NOT MADE

Experience of Housewife With Agent of Stereopticon Views

A seller of stereopticon lenses and views in the city is not making very rapid progress in his work. He attempted to make a sale on Charlotte street yesterday, and because the mistress of the house didn't care to make a purchase, she, as well as Charlotte, street, Peterborough, and Canada as a whole, received her "calls." He was highly indignant at her refusing to buy, and insinuated that one of the worst troubles in the world to-day was due to the fact that people purchased pianos and other expensive articles of furniture and wouldn't help a poor man. To this the housewife remarked that if she had bought from every person who called at the door she would not have been able to get the piano.

At any rate, the somewhat abusive manner of the man with the stereopticon views did not make a sale, and he left in a wrathy manner.

TURNER LUMBER COMPANY LOSE HEAVILY IN A FIRE

At Victoria Harbour—Have Limits in This County

The Turner Lumber Company mentioned in connection with the following despatch from Victoria Harbour, has timber limits in Peterborough county:

A disastrous fire broke out here yesterday in Turner's lumber yard, and in spite of every effort to check the flames, all the contents of the yard, including between five and six million feet of lumber, were consumed. For a time it looked as if the mill would be burned also, but this was saved.

Part of the lumber burned was owned by the Turner Lumber Company, but as Mr. Turner is out of town the amount cannot be ascertained.

The cut was valued at between $125,000 and $130,000 at the mill, and is fully covered by insurance.

The origin of the fire is not clearly known.

Everything Was Ready For Wedding At The Cummings' Residence; No Groom Came

The Minister Was There on Time —Mr. Roland Boswell Joins the Cuthbert Party Here For Enrope

HIS PECULIAR CONDUCT

Referring to the absence of Mr. Roland M. Boswell from the wedding in West Toronto, in which he was to have been an important figure, and his presence in Peterborough yesterday, the Toronto News of last evening has the following:

At 9 o'clock this morning the "Cuthbert" house party that left by C.P.R. for Montreal should have included "Mr. and Mrs. Roland M Boswell, Elora."

It did not.

Instead, Mr. Roland M. Boswell, aged 26, a grocer of that town, is missing, and there is no Mrs. Roland Boswell.

Miss Wilhelmina Cummings, of 25 Union street, West Toronto, expected to have taken that name on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, or as soon after as Rev. Dr. Hazlewood could arrange it.

To-day she is still unmarried, doing her household work as before, and wondering "Why?"

She thinks it is "very queer," and the bridegroom-to-be must make a very convincing explanation when he finds himself again, or a West Toronto girl will cast him over for ever—or enter suit against him for breach of promise. Perhaps both

To-morrow it had been planned to set sail from Montreal for England, and for nearly three months the two were to have toured Europe, Africa, the Holy Land, anywhere almost that a fond bridegroom could wish to take his bride on the honeymoon.

Bridegroom Came Not

And for hours she waited, and the bridegroom came not.

The party was gathered at Miss Cummings' home in West Toronto, a neat brick building on Union street, near Dundas. A few friends only were there, for it was to be very quiet—few except her parents and two young sisters and a brother. Her pastor, Rev. Dr. J. H. Hazlewood of the High Park Avenue Methodist Church, was there, ready to perform the ceremony. But he came not, and in unhappy suspense, for fear some accident had befallen him, they waited, the girl in her wedding gown, and those who had looked forward to a happy wedding.

On her finger was her engagement ring—given her by Boswell only that morning.

The time passed slowly, painfully. Dr. Hazlewood told a funny story, and Mrs. Cummings sent out for some refreshments for the guests. The father, suspecting that there had been a backing-out at the last moment, called up Mrs. Boswell, the mother, by long-distance telephone. She knew nothing, except that her son had left on Monday for Toronto, to go on the house party for Europe. Whether with or without a bride she knew not.

The Guests Departed

At 5 o'clock the tension had become too great, the guests said good bye. The girl took off the wedding garment and sat down to await the groom, or an explanation of his absence.

But neither came. Her father notified the police of West Toronto and Toronto and called up the hospitals, thinking there had been an accident. But no clue was at hand.

Yesterday he tried for information about the house party, but could find none of the principals. This morning he left the city on work for his firm.

The courtship of Miss Cummings by the well-to-do Elora young man was rapid, occupying scarcely more than one month. He was brought to her home two months ago by her father and stayed to tea. Letters were exchanged and an engagement followed. A couple of weeks ago she visited his mother in Elora.

Miss Cummings Doesn't Know

Miss Cummings opened the door when the News called this morning. She is an attractive girl, fair, and small, and scarcely more than twenty years of age. The ring was missing from her finger. She is keeping up bravely in the position in which she has been placed, and the feeling uppermost in her mind this morning appeared to be resentment of the conduct of the man whose bride she was to be.

"It is all very queer — we hardly know what to think," she quietly remarked.

"If anything had happened to him, we would have heard of it, I think. No, I don't feel that there has been any accident; he has just been——"

She did not say "faithless," but appeared to mean it.

"And if he comes back?"

"He'll have to give a very good excuse for his conduct before I'll accept it. I was all ready for our trip and went to a great deal of expense and trouble because we were to be away so long, so that makes it all the harder."

"Do you think he has left for Europe without you?"

"I don't know. We tried to find out if he was going, but they weren't in," she replied. "We were to have left for the Falls on Tuesday afternoon and then gone to Montreal this morning, sailing in the Empress of Ireland to-morrow."

"You may take the next trip?" suggested the News.

She raised her brows, remarking, "I don't think so."

No Reason to Suspect

"Did you have any reason to suspect that he was going to back out?"

"No, it seemed all right. He came up on Tuesday morning but stayed only a short time. He said he was going down to Church street to get dressed. I remember now he didn't say he would come back in the afternoon, but I took that for granted. He was always gentlemanly to me."

"What are you going to do now about it?" the News inquired. "Will you enter an action against him?"

"That will depend on what he says when he returns."

Miss Cummings said that the police told her father they could do nothing as no charge could be laid against a groom for failing to turn up. All they could do was to try to find him.

Not only had Boswell given no sign of a change in his profession of love, but on Tuesday morning he had brought her back the engagement ring which had been too large when he gave it to her in Elora.

"What did his mother think of your engagement? Did she know of it?"

Miss Cummings was rather reticent on this point.

"She must have as she saw the ring when I was visiting her. I don't know whether she knew we intended to be married so soon or not."

Miss Cummings explained that the reason for the somewhat hasty arrangement was in order that they might be able to take the Cuthbert trip.

Boswell Expected to Go

This tour is arranged mostly by Mrs. E. N. Cuthbert, who lives on Maitland street, and would have cost Boswell $520 going alone, or over $1,000 if he had taken a bride.

Mrs. Cuthbert left with a party a week ago while her husband left by the C. P. R. this morning with another of sixty-one persons, mostly from the United States. These sail early to-morrow morning on the Virginian of the Allan Line.

On inquiry at the Cuthbert office to-day a lady made the following statement to the News "Mr. Cuthbert told me some days ago about Mr. Boswell going, but whether he took a ticket for his wife or not I do not know. We heard he was to be married soon."

Not the Minister's First

Boswell had told the Cummings that he was a cousin of Mr. A. R. Boswell, K.C., of this city. The latter, however, to-day denied the connection.

"I never heard of him before; I know nothing about him," he told News.

"Then you have no relatives in Elora?"

"None that I am aware of," replied the lawyer.

Strange to say, it is not the first experience Dr. Hazlewood has had of the groom that failed.

"Eight years ago, when I was stationed in Dundas, a wedding was arranged, but the man did not turn up."

"And what did the bride do?"

"Oh, they came to me and were married two months afterwards, but the affair did not turn out happily."

"The man said he had been told he would be shot if he married the girl," remarked Mrs. Hazlewood. "We are almost getting used to this now."

"If there had been an accident we would surely have heard of it," went on Dr. Hazlewood. "It looks as if he was afraid to face the music, or perhaps it was cussedness. I should tthink they would take out an action against him."

Miss Cummings is of a quiet disposition, but is well liked and highly thought of by her associates. It is said that Boswell came up every week to see her.

TORTURED WITH SKIN RASH

Zam-Buk Brought Relief

At this time of the year children are liable to all kinds of torturing rashes and eruptions, and the advice of Mrs. F. Rowe, of 1 Oxford street, London, Ont., is timely. She says:—"A horrid rash broke out on my little boy's body. The child suffered acutely with the burning and itching and grew quite restless. A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk. I did so and was surprised to see how quickly it cleared away the rash. The very first application seemed to cool and ease the burning and itching, making the child rest easier. In several days he was completely cured, not a mark remaining on the skin to show where the trouble had been. Zam-Buk is the best healing balm yet used."

WEDDING BELLS.

O'NEIL—GOSELIN

On Tuesday, June 30, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at 8 o'clock in St. Peter's Cathedral, the principals being Miss Mary Louise Goselin, daughter of Mr. Joseph Goselin, Crescent street, city, and Mr. James P. O'Neill, son of Mr. Thos. O'Neill, of Hastings. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Galvin in the presence of a number of friends of the contracting parties. As the bridal party entered the cathedral the wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss M. Doherty. The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of cream lustre with silk and lace trimmings and wore a picture hat to match. She was given away by her father. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Goselin, who was also becomingly attired in a suit of white lustre and wore a picture hat to match. The groom was ably supported by his brother, Mr. Thos. O'Neill. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the residence of the bride's parents, where a dainty wedding breakfast was partaken of. The day was spent in games and sports, and music was furnished by Miss M. Smith and Miss Annie Goselin. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents, showing the esteem in which they are held. Their many friends join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill will reside in the city.

Local Cadet Will Be With Model Camp From the College

THEY HAVE SPECIAL DUTY

Cadet Cecil Arnott of the Royal Military College, Kingston, has returned home after successfully completing his second year's studies. Cadet Arnott is an ex-P.C.I. boy and is continuing in the work begun under Principal Fessenden.

Sixty of the cadets from the college will take part in the Tercentenary celebration at Quebec and Mr Arnott will be one of the number. They will constitute a model camp and will likely be stationed on the Esplanade with the staff corps. The methods used at the R.M.C. are considered about the most perfect, especially in discipline and drill, and the visiting corps will profit from them. Twenty of the cadets will be on duty each day as guard to the Prince of Wales, and they will also be on duty during the state balls.

PICKARD CHINA

Entire Studio Line to be Exhibited for the First Time in Peterboro

Do you know that America now excels Europe in the art of painting china by hand? If you will drop into the store of Alex Gibson, jeweller, on Friday or Saturday of this week, you can verify this statement with your own eyes.

The major portion of this store will be completely filled up with an exhibit from the Pickard Studios of Chicago.

The beautiful shapes, pleasing decorations, brilliant colouring and diversified style of handling, together with the rich gold work, all combine to give Pickard's hand-painted china that exclusive merit so much appreciated by people of taste and refinement. Nothing tells the story so well as the china itself. It must be seen to be appreciated.

If you wish a piece painted to order for that fall wedding, or Christmas present, Mr. Gibson will pay the duty and freight. A small deposit required when you place your order. The entire studio line of this beautiful ware will be on exhibit for two days only, Friday and Saturday, July 3rd and 4th.

A SPECIAL TRAIN FROM NORWOOD ON TWELFTH

The C.P.R. will run a special train from Norwood to Peterborough on Monday, July 13, for the convenience of the Orangemen and those desiring to attend the celebration of the Battle of the Borne here that day. A special train leaves Norwood at 8.35 a.m.

Arrangements have also been made for the local from Tweed to stop at Asphodel siding on the same day to bring South Dummer L.O.L. to Peterborough for the celebration.

Sergt. Major Brittain Will Be The Instructor Of Queen's Own Rifles

The members of the 57th Regiment in particular, and the citizens of Peterborough in general will learn with regret that Sergt.-Major Brittain has severed his connection with the Peterborough Rangers and will leave on Wednesday next for Toronto to take the position of instructor of the Queen's Own Rifles, the crack Queen City Corps. The popular Sergt.-Major will be greatly missed, but his many friends in this city will wish him every success in his new position which is of course a step in advance upon which he is to be congratulated. The Q.O.R. is one of the finest corps in Canada and to be be selected as drill instructor for such a splendid body, is something that the Sergt.-Major must feel gratified over.

Sergt.-Major Brittain has been instructor of the local regiment for nine years, and while he has proved himself a strict disciplinarian, he has always been most popular with officers and men. He has worked unceasingly for the regiment while here and to his energetic efforts and successful methods of imparting instruction the efficiency of the local corps is due. His services will be greatly missed and his departure leaves a vacancy that will be hard to fill.

Sergt.-Major Brittain has been a soldier for eighteen years, enlisting in the Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, in 1890 and was for some time a member of that Volunteer corps. Then he joined the regulars, enlisting with the Royal Canadian Regiment at Stanley Barracks. He served three years with that regiment, buying himself out nine years ago with the rank of Drill Sergeant, to take the position of instructor with the 57th Regiment. He has served under four commands here; under Lt.-Col. Bell, Lt.-Col. Edwards, Lt.-Col. Miller, and Lt.-Col. Stevenson.

Sergt.-Major Brittain had the honour of being Drill Sergeant of the Infantry Company with the Canadian Coronation Contingent to England, and in every year except one, when he could not get away, he acted as Brigadier Sergeant-Major for Military District No. 3 at the annual brigade camp.

He will be missed in other ways in Peterborough as he is a versatile athlete. He is an expert fencer and has for years been instructor of a fencing class at the Y.M.C.A., and is clever with the bayonet and sabre. He is an expert swimmer and thinks nothing of swimming across Chemong Lake and back, a distance of tow miles and has a creditable record as a pedestrian of walking from Chemong to Peterborough, 6 1-2 miles in one hour. Sergt.-Major Brittain is also a cricketer of no mean ability, and is a member of the Peterborough Cricket Club, which organization will miss his services.

Mrs. Brittain has also been very popular here, and her many friends will be sorry to learn of her departure.

ELECTION BILL BEFORE THE HOUSE

Judges to Allocate Voters in Manitoba Province.

MR. AYLESWORTH'S SPEECH

Offers Substitute For First Clause In Measure—The Liberal Party Always Ready to Redeem Promises—Registration Board in New Ontario—Conservative Inconsistencies on Marked Ballots.

Ottawa, July 3.—The result of the negotiations which have been going on during the past few weeks between the Prime Minister and the leader of the Opposition, with reference to the Dominion elections bill, was seen yesterday when the Minister of Justice, in an able speech, outlined the steps the Government were prepared to take to get rid of the deadlock which had arisen over the preparation and revision of the Manitoba voters' lists.

He said Mr. Sifton neither drafted nor inspired the Manitoba feature; and entered into a long argument to prove that the bill is really a remarkable example of just legislation, and that the need of provision for the making of new lists in Manitoba had been abundantly proven.

The provisions regarding British Columbia and the unorganized districts of Quebec are dropped altogether, but New Ontario is to have new lists prepared.

Mr. Aylesworth said he was prepared when the bill reached the committee stage, to move the adoption of the substitute clause for clause one. With regard to Manitoba he proposed to provide that in certain months of the year there shall be constituted a committee of one or three of the county court judges of the province for the purpose of allocating voters. There were seven judges who would meet and assign to each Dominion electoral division a committee of their own number.

That committee would establish local polling sub-divisions for the next Federal election, and would assign to each the voters who ought to vote there.

In the allocating of voters every one would have right to be heard. The judges would take the existing provincial lists and simply distribute the names among the polling sub-divisions.

"In proposing that substitute for the Province of Manitoba," said Mr. Aylesworth, "I am not losing sight of the fact that the work of preparing lists shall be done by men appointed by this Government by men who would be the friends of this Government.

"That feature is entirely eliminated simply because I adhere to the proposition made by my honored leader, who said he was prepared to put the preparation of voters' lists out of the hands of his party friends and place it in the hands of judges, above the reach of political influence, and if he is prepared to take that course, and if I am following him in that course, I think we are setting an example that each province will do well to follow.

"I am influenced largely in yielding to the views of my honored leader, by the steps taken by the Manitoba Government to remove to a degree the objections to the manner in which the clause has been administered.

"I am influenced very much by the fact that steps have been taken to make the list less objectionable, and even if these steps do not entirely remove the objections, we can afford to wait and see."

Mr. Aylesworth went on to say that this Parliament retained the right to dictate its own franchise and if experience showed no betterment of conditions in Manitoba the Parliament had the power to redress the grievance.

"I am content," he said, "to abide by what the leader of the House said and the limit in the Province of Manitoba amendment to the establishment of voting places and the allocation of voters, adopting for the present at least, the provincial lists."

Speaking of the acceptance of Mr. Borden's proposal to ask the judges to allocate the names, Mr. Aylesworth said:

"The leader of the House closed with that proposition he did so, as he said, after consideration, after consultation, and he did so, so far as I am concerned, with my full consent, whether that consent proceeded from conviction or upon the persuasion of my honored leader does not signify."

When the bill was called Hr. H. Miller was put up and when he concluded a long speech, which was a defence of the feature which has been attacked so vigorously by the Opposition, and it was expected that Mr. Aylesworth himself would announce the terms of the settlement.

Mr. Aylesworth said he had been subjected to a great deal of abuse since this bill was introduced. Much of the criticism of the bill had been due to misapprehension. The last section had been criticized on the ground that it encouraged the incorporation of companies for corrupt political purposes. The intention was to forbid any campaign contributions by any company or association other than one incorporated for political purposes alone. He had in mind the Ontario Liberal Association, and it never occurred to him that any objection would be made to that.

The Minister of Justice denied that he had attempted to delude the public when he glossed over the first clause on the introduction of the bill. The leaders of the Opposition were entirely wrong in saying that the bill of this year was identical with the one prepared in 1904, and vetoed by the then Minister of Justice. As a matter of fact the 1904 bill provided for the preparation of lists de novo, while this bill was based on provincial lists.

Mr. Aylesworth took full responsibility for the bill, which he drew with his own hand and which he was prepared to defend, and he had never even seen the bill said to have been rejected by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick. Mr. Sifton had no part or lot either in preparation of the bill or the inspiration of it.

The Minister next turned his attention to clause 17. He went back to 1878, when a close relative of his own was counted out of a seat in Parliament, because the deputy returning officer unintentionally put numbers on ballots. The intention of the clause was that ballots which might be intentionally numbered by a dishonest deputy for purposes of disenfranchising electors, might be counted as legal. The Election Act provided severe penalties on a man who tampers with a ballot.

Mr. Lancaster pointed out that the new clause did not cover the Went-worth case, but Mr. Aylesworth replied that he was proposing to prevent honest votes being disallowed because of the mistake of a deputy.

The second reading was passed and the House went into committee.

PRESIDENT ROY'S NOTES.

Startling Discovery in St. Johns Bank Affairs.

Montreal, July 3.—More sensational revelations have come to light in connection with the ill-fated Bank of St. Johns.

It will be remembered that in the famous "black list" which was published as being reported to the Finance Department as good values, there was a large amount, representing notes of C. S. Roy, the president's brother.

It now transpires that the discovery has just been made that a great many of these notes were the president's, and that others bearing the name of C. S. Roy had been substituted.

This makes Hon. Mr. Roy's position even worse than was at first supposed. There does not appear to be any hope that the project to revive the bank will succeed. These gentlemen in St. Johns, Gabriel Marchand being of the number, have made an offer to the depositors of 15 cents on the dollar, but there is a tip from the inside that the prospects of liquidation if continued may give them 40 cents, so it is highly probable that an official warning will soon be forthcoming, asking the depositors not to sacrifice their holdings.

Woman's Suffrage.

London, July 3.—Mrs. Humphrey Ward, the novelist, in a letter to The Times recently, described the position of the women's suffrage movement in the United States, where, she said, despite the keen agitation, woman's position was less advanced than in England.

Mrs. Millicent Carrett Fawcett replies in a letter to The Times, admitting this fact, but contending that this was not due to the anti-suffragette movement, but to the corruption of American municipal and state politics and difficulties with the negro and alien problems which impel Americans to do their utmost to keep their women out of politics.

To Spy Out the Land.

Vancouver, July 3.—Representing the Manufacturers' Association of Great Britain, Ben. H. Morgan of London, England, has just completed an important mission to Australia and New Zealand.

He was entrusted with the task of investigating the trade outlook and opportunities for investing British capital in manufacturng enterprises in both countries in view of their recent adoption of high protective tariffs. He will undertake similar work in the Dominion.

Chinese Smugglers Freed.

Windsor, July 3.—Chas. Denean and William Carley of Windsor pleaded guilty of Chinese smuggling and were let go on suspended sentence. Both made affidavits that they had arrangements with Immigration Inspector Hoffman to notify him when they brought Chinamen over, and it is supposed that this resulted in their discharge.

Terrible Boat Disaster in Batavia Harbor During Storm.

VICTIMS EATEN BY SHARKS

Vessels Were Overloaded — Capsized When Struck by Wind—Shrieking Passengers Struggled In the Water With No Chance of Rescue—Pulled Under and Mutilated by Dreaded Man-Eaters.

Victoria, July 3.—News of a boat disaster involving the loss of over 600 lives, at Batavia, was brought by the Empress of China. Many large overloaded boats were overturned in the harbor during a storm, and the shrieking passengers struggling in the water with no chance of rescue, as more fortunate boats in the neighborhood were already too crowded to permit of any others aboard. Others were snapped at by sharks. About 30 were rescued by fishermen, but over 600 were drowned. During the week following 350 corpses were found mutilated by sharks.

Twenty fishermen, marooned for months on Victor Island, rescued by two Brazilian training ships, Benj. Constant, were landed at Yokohama.

INVOLVED IN REGICIDE.

Men Were Well Paid to Assassinate King of Portugal.

Lisbon, July 3.—Dr. Jose Maria De Alpiom, chief of the progressive dissidents, smarting under the insinuations that he was implicated in the assassinations in Lisbon last February of King Carlos and Crown Prince Louise, created a sensation in the House of Lords yesterday by revealing what he declared to be the true story of this regicide plot.

He said that the assassinations had been decided upon at a meeting of the leaders of the Progressive and Regeneration party, a few days before they were carried out. A number of Republicans also were present at this meeting. Dr. Alpiom charged further that the Republicans proposed to obliterate the entire royal family, with the exception of Maria Pia, the mother of King Carlos, but that the Monarchists insisted that such a general slaughter would be useless.

Finally Manuel Silva Buissa and Alfredo Costa were given $20,000 and $10,000 respectively to kill King Carlos and Premier Franco. Arrangements were made by other men to cover the flight of the assassins, but when Buissa and Costa fired their friends lost their heads and opened fire also.

These shots resulted in the death of Prince Louise.

Woman in Glass Case.

Salisbury, N.C., July 3.—Inclosed in a nearly air-tight wooden case with a glass front, Mrs. William Tryon arrived here in a baggage car yesterday from her home in Fitchburg, Mass. Mrs. Tryon has suffered from nervous troubles and bronchitis, and, believing exposure to cool air aggravates her ills, has come south to a warmer climate.

She arrived wrapped in blankets and comforters, with perspiration pouring from her, but she stood the trip well and seemed quite cheerful.

Her traveling case, which was built after her own designs, somewhat resembles a roomy burial casket. It is comfortably upholstered, and contains a clock and books to beguile the time.

The case containing Mrs. Tryon was carried from the baggage car by several husky porters and placed in the waiting room. She will rent a cottage here.

Toronto Woman Slain.

Chicago, July 3.—The police have practically abandoned the theory that robbery was the motive for the murder of Mrs. Frances Gilmore Thompson, the woman found bound and dead at 1,742 Michigan avenue on Wednesday. Detectives are searching for a man and woman who left at the time of the murder and also for the dead woman's husband, but have no actual evidence incriminating anyone.

Mrs. Thompson was a native of Toronto where her father, named Gilmore, is said to be prominent. She married Thompson in New York, but left him recently after living in various western cities.

She has a brother living in Chicago. Of late she has worked as a servant in various homes.

Hundred Miners Killed.

Yusovo, European Russia, July 3.—A terrible explosion of gas occurred in the Rokovsky mine Wednesday evening in which a large number of miners were at work. One hundred and fifty-seven bodies have been recovered, all of which are badly burned, but it is believed that the death roll will reach at least two hundred. Seventy-three of the men were rescued alive yesterday. There is great excitement here, and troops have been called out to prevent disorder.

Admires Canadian Church.

London, July 3.—A copy has been issued in Parliament of the convention signed between Britain and the United States respecting food fishes in waters contiguous to the United States and Canada; also a treaty respecting the demarkation of the Canadian boundary.

At the Lord Mayor's dinner to colonial bishops, the Bishop of London said he had the utmost admiration for the church in Canada.

A Black Hand Outrage.

Pittsburg, July 3.—Four persons were seriously injured and two dwelling houses partially wrecked early yesterday when a charge of dynamite was exploded at the home of George Deavotoria, a wealthy Italian, living at McKeesport, adjoining this city.

Several threatening letters signed by an alleged Black Hand organization have been received by Deavotoria recently in which $2,000 were demanded.

A BIG LOSS OF LUMBER BY FIRE

Millions of Feet Burned at Victoria Harbor.

SCENE OF FIERCE BLAZE

Fire Occurred In Turner's Yard—Over Seven Million Feet of Wood Destroyed — Two Million Lathe, Grand Trunk Cars and Railway Ties Burned — Heavy Loss at Killarney, Man., Stores Gutted.

Waubaushene, July 3.—Fire in the lumber yard of A. C. Chew, Tannersville, about a mile and a half from this village, destroyed approximately 7,000,000 feet of lumber, 2,000,000 lath, 3,000 railway ties, 50,000 broom handles, 13 Grand Trunk cars, 11 tram cars, 2,100 feet tramway.

The flames leaped up in the air hundreds of feet and made a most spectacular, yet awe-inspiring sight. The roaring of the fire could be distinctly heard two miles distant, and sounded like a freight train rushing over a long bridge.

It was fortunate that the wind was southwest, as had it been in any other direction the mill would also have been destroyed in the conflagration.

Fire at Killarney.

Killarney, Man., July 3.—The Lawrence Bros'. hardware store and adjoining buildings were burned out Monday night at a loss of $25,000. W. Liddle of Grimsby, Ont., owned the building.

Five Die In Wreck.

Knobnoster, Mo., July 3.—Five persons were killed and at least 30 injured two miles east of here yesterday, when the fast California special from St. Louis on the Missouri Pacific collided with the St. Louis special from Kansas City.

The dead: Fred Story, son of Mrs. Jennie Story, Franklin, Ky.; John Hood, Hurley, Mo., son of A. L. Hood; W. H. Harding, St. Louis, mail clerk; Train Porter J. W. Fishback. One unidentified man.

Brantford Boy Hurt.

Brantford, July 3.—Harry McMurchy, the 14-year-old son of John McMurchy, proprietor of the woollen mills here was driving the mill delivery wagon yesterday when the horse ran away, throwing the boy to the ground.

A heavy box fell on him, injuring him about the back and thighs. No bones were broken.

BRICK WALL FELL.

Three Chatham Workmen Receive Serious Injuries; One Fatally.

Chatham, July 3.—The walls of the boiler room of the Wm. Brader box factory on Grand avenue collapsed yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, mortally wounding one man and seriously injuring two others.

Wm. Wallace of Selkirk street, aged 60 years, had his left leg broken in two places, skull crushed and face badly mangled, and is not expected to live.

Geo. Nethercliffe jr., Harvey street, aged 67 years, had his side badly injured and his spine hurt. He was rendered speechless and unable to move.

Julius Primeau of Wood street, aged 70 years, had his left arm mangled from the tops of his fingers to the shoulder, face badly cut and side injured.

The three men were at work when the walls came down upon them without any warning. The loud crash soon attracted other workmen to the spot, who hurriedly extracted their comrades from beneath the ruin. Four local doctors were called, and after they had received medical attention, the injured men were removed to the hospital.

The collapse of the building is said to have been caused by defective masonry in the walls.

RECIPROCAL TRADE.

Preferential Tariff With Australia May Be Arranged.

Vancouver, July 3.—There is a very good prospect of reciprocal trade arrangement being negotiated between the Dominion and the Australian commonwealth, according to D. H. Ross, Canadian Trade Commissioner to the states of New South Wales, West Australia, Victoria and Tasmania. Mr. Ross arrived yesterday after seven years in the antipodes.

It is understood that on his approaching visit to Ottawa he will be in a position to advise the Dominion Government respecting the extent to which the Commonwealth Government will be able to go in regard to preferential trade arrangements. For various reasons the Australian Cabinet was not in a position to accept the offer made last August by Mr. Ross on behalf of the Ottawa Government. Although the Commonwealth recently adopted a high protective tariff, preferential treatment is accorded to the British manufacturer.

Mr. Ross said: "There has been a wonderful development in trade between Canada and Australia during recent years and the possibilities for the future is even greater."

Windsor, July 3.—Dr. Chalmers Prentice of Windsor has started suit in New York against the North German Lloyd Steamship Co. for a quarter of a million dollars damages for burying his wife at sea, instead of embalming the body and bringing it to New York.

Starving by Roadside.

Owen Sound, July 3.—After lying for days in a starving condition near the roadside at Rockford, James Brennan, was discovered and taken to the General and Marine Hospital here. He is from Dornoch and his mind is unbalanced.

STACEY MADE WONDERFUL TIME THE FIRST NIGHT AT LINDSAY

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder has the following to say of the walking match there:

"Couldn't imagine how a thing like that could be so interesting." This is the comment of the sparse few who attended the opening of the great walking contest last night at the Lindsay street rink.

The rink was by no means taxed to its full capacity, but those who did take in the unique event were more than pleased. The walkers were all out to win, and were straining every muscle, as the distance of 20 miles made in three hours by the winner, Jas. Stacey, shows. To increase the interest, two of Lindsay's well known athletes, Bert Green and Geo. Rielly, were entered, and the way they strode around the rink wasn't lazy. Throughout the whole walk, the interest of the spectators was intense, and frequent was the applause when one or other of the contestants took a spurt and made some exceptionally fast laps. For instance, Stacey, who was traveling for some time at the rate of a lap in 41 seconds, suddenly began to travel and made the distance in 37 seconds. But this was not even fast enough for his taste, so just to show what he could do, the next lap was made in 28 seconds.

"Say," said a gentleman who called on the Warder this morning, "I never in my life saw anything like that Stacey. I bet he took a stride of eight feet.

Eight men started in the race and all finished. The walkers were: Stacey, Toronto; Stevens, Peterborough; J. Spencely, Peterborough; Curtis, Reilly, Lindsay; and Dave Hartley, Peterborough, holder of the record for the Toronto-Port Hope record walk.

Stacey led off right from the start. His pace was startling. He covered seven miles in the first hour. The next hour he slackened his pace somewhat, and only went six miles. In the last hour, however, he came right back again, and made it seven again, thus getting twenty miles flat in three hours. This is considered an exceptionally good walk.

It was Stacey's all the way, but the fight for second place was keen, both W. Spencely and Stevens putting up a game struggle. For a long time there was nothing to choose between them. Then Stevens gradually forged ahead, and in time lapped his opponent. But he could not get away from him again until the night was well advanced, when finally he took a spurt and gained another lap. Stevens in the three hours went 18 miles and three laps, while W. Spencely made 18 miles and one lap.

Curtis was a good fourth with 16 miles and 12 laps to his credit.

For fifth honours, Green and Reilly of Lindsay, and J. Spencely, of Peterborough, put up a game battle. It was a nip and tuck all the way way through, and when time was up Rielly and Spencely were tied with 15 miles and 14 laps to the credit of each, while Green stood just one lap in the rear.

The Lindsay men, who are doing their fast walking stunts, are to be congratulated on their showing.

David Hartley, the walking idol of Peterborough, was in poor shape last night. He is suffering from a very bad foot. Nevertheless the little man likes the game, and wee fellow that he is, went at his task limping. He had no show at the clip that was set, only making 11 miles and 11 laps in the time. But "Davey" expects to come around all right before it is over, and give the leaders a chase yet.

Mr. George Stevens, promoter of the contest, was starter. The timekeepers were the representatives of the press, while Mr. W. F. McCarthy officiated as scorer. Each two men had a marker to keep track of his laps.

JIM HARRISON IS NOW THREE LAPS BEHIND W. A. HOAGLAND

Port Hope, July 3.—Jim Harrison, of Peterborough, still hangs on in second place in the walking match at the rink here. At the end of the three-hour grind last night, he was 3 laps behind W. A. Hoagland, having dropped two laps behind the champion from the previous night. Tom Slater stayed with the leader and gained 3 laps on Harrison, who is now just 5 laps ahead of him. Guerin is doing well.

The crowd last night was fairly large and much enthusiasm was manifest. The scores at the end of last night were:

	Miles.	Laps.
Hoagland	45
Harrison	44	10
Slater	44	5
Guerin	43	4
Erklens	34	9

CITY LEAGUE TEAMS HELD MEETING

A Few Changes Were Made and Several Protests Dealt With—Game to be Replayed

GAMES TO START EARLY

A meeting of the Intermediate City League was held in the Y. M. C. A. last night with Vice-President McRae in the chair, in the absence of President Jas. T. C. Lang. The following teams were represented: T. A. S., Leo Derocher; Wellingtons, Clitheroe; Strathconas, O. Wilson; West Ends, Ernie Reid; Y. M. C. A., Arcobie Frowde. There was considerable discussion on some points which were not clearly understood, but an amicable settlement was finally arrived at. Regarding the T. A. S. protest of the certificate for Earn, of the West Ends, it was decided on motion of Mr. Reid and Mr. Clitheroe that no action be taken.

The last four innings of the Wellington-Y. M. C. A. game of the 20th was ordered to be played over again. On motion of Mr. Reid, seconded by Mr. Wilson, a game must consist of seven innings. This is intended for night games particularly. Nothing under seven innings will be allowed. They may be all played on one night or four and three on two nights, or five and four to make a nine innings game, but nothing under seven innings will be counted as an entire game.

On motion of Messrs. Derocher and Reid the Karnot games were thrown out.

Games called for 2 p. m. on Saturday must be started before 2.30 o'clock.

TWO BALL GAMES HERE NEXT WEEK

Whitby and Port Hope Will Play the Petes Tuesday and Wednesday

Local fans will see two good games of ball during next week. On Tuesday next a monster excursion under the auspices of the A. O. U. W. and the Sons of England, will be run from Whitby, and it is stated that 1,200 people will come to Peterborough on that day. The Peterborough ball club has arranged a game with the Whitby club, champions of the Central Ontario League, for the afternoon, and a great match should be seen.

On Wednesday there will be another big excursion from Port Hope run by the Ideal Factory, and the Petes and Port Hope Midland League teams will meet during the afternoon.

The Peterboroughs journey to Cobourg to-morrow, when the first game in the second round of the Midland League will be played. The Cobourg team will be strengthened for the occasion by the presence of Fred Hickey said to be the best pitcher in Canada, who will be on the firing line for Silk Mulhall's bunch, and with Benson and Ross, of the Park Nine, on the line-up they will take a lot of Peterborough. The Petes will line-up as follows: Burns, rf; Murphy, lf; Maddock, ss; O'Brien, cf; Thorne, 2b; Edmunds, c; Lawson, 1b; Hawkins, 3b; Clements, p. The team will go down to Gore's Landing in a gasoline launch and drive from there over to Cobourg.

KEENE TRIMS HASTINGS BY TWO GOALS

Score Was 2-0—The Referee Was Satisfactory

Examiner Special

Keene, July 3.—The Keene football team were successful in Hastings on Dominion Day, defeating Campbellford by a score of 2-0. The local team showed their superiority from the start, and the issue of the match was never in doubt. Goal-keeper D. Moore was called upon to stop very few balls. The half-time score was 1 to 0.

The line-up follows:

Goal—D H Moore.

Backs—Fife, Goodfellow.

Half-backs—McIntyre, A. B Fee, Quinn.

Right Wings—Weir, Comrie.

Left Wings—Dickson, Weir.

Mr. Cuthbert of Hastings refereed the game to the satisfaction of all concerned.

A number of members of the football team contested the various sporting events, but were unsuccessful in landing any of the prizes.

Mr. Jas. Wedlock's yacht carried the team and their supporters to Hastings.

FRED SIMPSON IS DOING SPLENDIDLY

Dick Baker Writes To a Member of the Examiner Staff

Writing to a member of the Examiner staff, "Dick" Baker, trainer of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers who accompanied Fred Simpson to England, says the party arrived in the Old Country safely. They had a splendid trip and no one was sick. The Lusitania was delayed for many hours owing to fog. Speaking of Simpson," he says, "Fred is doing fine. We are keeping him down to business, and they are using him white."

A PROTEST AGAINST THE DRIVER'S ACTION

"Clementia" Comments on Cruel Action to Dumb Animal

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I never so wished that I were a man and a strong man at that, as I did last evening about five o'clock on Charlotte street. I was passing west near George street. There was a team of grey horses standing in the street opposite the Fuel and Cartage Company's office, parallel with the pavement, and the inner horse was alongside a telephone pole. This animal began rubbing his neck against the pole, when the driver, I suppose, coming out, without a word of warning and unseen by the horse, whose view was obstructed by the pole, dealt the poor beast a vicious and resounding kick in the ribs with his heavy boot, instead of speaking kindly to the animal and rubbing his itching neck, irritated by the heat and the chafing of the collar. If I had been a strong man some other brute besides the horse would have been kicked across the street. If I married a man like that I would expect to be beaten by him before the honey moon was over. You wouldn't catch a man like that striking anybody that could strike back. (Have we a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals? If not we should have.

Yours truly,
CLEMENTIA.

Peterborough, July 3, 1908.

THE POULTRYMEN TALK ABOOT A SHOW

Dates Will Likely be Decided on at Next Meeting

The July meeting of the Peterborough Poultry Association was held last night in their hall on Simcoe street, when some important matters were discussed. Arrangements were made to have as many of the members as possible attend the next meeting to select dates for the first annual show next January and to deal as well with another question of importance. The problem of obtaining coops was discussed and more of this will be heard at the next meeting.

After the routine business was concluded, Pekin ducks and barred rocks, young and old were exhibited and a profitable meeting was the result.

THREE BOATS FROM RICE LAKE

Will Bring Orangemen of That District to the Celebration

Among the lodges of the Orange Order that will celebrate the glorious 12th with the Peterborough brethren on Monday, July 13th, quite a few are from Rice Lake points. They will come to the city on the Otonabee Navigation Company's steamers, all three of which have been chartered. The Otonabee will bring a large number from Bewdley and promise about 500 on their trip. The Water Lily will call at Curtis' Point, Harwood, Hiawatha and eastern points and the Monarch will sail from Gore's Landing.

It the morning of the 13th promises a fine day all three boats will be taxed to their fullest capacity.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column.

Dear Sir,—A new sidewalk is being made on the west side of George street, running south from Rink street. Possibly the crossing so long promised at 58 George street will be made. There is one cement pipe lacking to complete the bridge leading to the driveway at the above address and that pipe also has been promised for some time. There is no time like the present for doing things.

A FRUITLESS WALK TO FRANKFORD

Four of City's Unemployed Walked There and Back

The four Peterborough men who walked to Frankford to secure work have returned home again empty-handed. They walked there and back and were decidedly footsore when they arrived back in the city. One of them states that they were not wanted by the employers and further asserted that it was only Italians that were being engaged to do the labouring.

BOTH SCALES WEIGHED ALIKE

Police Have Authority to Stop Load of Coal at Any Time

The police are apparently on the lookout for light coal, and occasionally stop a load in the middle of a journey and have it weighed on the market scales. Yesterday one of the Ontario Coal Company's waggons was hailed and taken back to the market. When weighed it was found that the Company's and City's weights were exactly the same, there being not the slightest variation. The police have the authority to weigh 50 loads of any company's coal in this manner.

A HARSH REFLECTION

"No," she said, "I cannot marry a rake."

The passion died out of his eyes, to be succeeded by a cool glitter as of steel.

"And yet," he re orted harshly, "now, if ever, you should be making hay."

So saying, she flipped h sily into her father's arctics, and was swallowed up in the driving snow storm.

ACCIDENT TO LAUNDRY EMPLOYEE

Hand Was Burned — Injury Not Considered Serious

An accident occurred this afternoon about 2.30 o'clock to Miss Phelan, Aylmer street, who is engaged in one of the local laundries. Her hand was burnt by coming between a hot roller and a steam receptacle. Dr. Leach dressed the injury, which is not considered very serious.

Smith Couple Appeared in Court To-day Charged With Creating Disturbance

A Dominion Day episode was the means of bringing a married couple, living in the south end of the city, into police court this morning on a charge of creating a disturbance by screaming and using abusive language. The evidence tended to show that the trouble was caused by a row between the two and their neighbours and that the police have been called on several times, P. O Meharry having to visit the neighbourhood three times in two days. The Magistrate dismissed the case, advising the neighbours to live in harmony if possible.

FUNERAL OF LATE MRS. HENRY BACON

Buried With the Honours of the Salvation Army

The funeral of the late Mrs. Henry Bacon was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, Wescott street. The funeral service at the home was conducted by Lt.-Col. Howell, of the Toronto corps of the Salvation Army, the deceased having been a consistent member of the local corps. The band was in attendance and the Salvation Army funeral service was carried out. Bandmaster Greene is a son-in-law of the deceased. The pall bearers were Messrs. Thomas and Roy Bacon, J. M Greene, W Butcher Geo. Rawlings and W Pethick. Many beautiful floral remembrances were received from friends as tributes to the esteem in which the late Mrs. Bacon was held. The funeral was largely attended.

Mrs. McCartney, of Buffalo, is a sister of Mr. Geo. Rawlings, of Peterborough, a brother of the deceased. These names were inadvertently omitted in yesterday's obituary notice.

HAND WAS CRUSHED IN CLAY PRESS

Geo. Browne Injured in the Porcelain Dept. of C.G.E.

George Browne, 527 George street, an employee of the porcelain department of the Canadian General Electric Company, was the victim of a very painful accident while at work this morning. In some manner he got his right hand caught in a clay press and the third finger was badly crushed, so much so that Dr. Young had to attend to the injury. Mr. Browne will not be able to work for the next few days, at least.

ROAD ROLLER ROLLS AT 5 A.M.

And Awakens a Few Citizens Near Centre of City

At five o'clock this morning the road roller rumbled its way from the market square to George street, and at that early hour commenced the crush which it is daily causing on George street. It worked away unnoticed by either man or beast. There were few, if any, timid horses to scare, but it has been whispered that a few citizens who live near the main street were rudely awakened from their fairyesque life in slumberland.

It is learned that the purpose of getting the roller to work early is to hurry the work on the main street in order to interfere as little as possibble with business.

The Difference Between A Man's Jealousy And A Woman's

To the man who is really and truly jealous, every little incident is a source of hurt, unrest and anguish. He imagines he is the victim of a woman's deceit simply because she lives, because she breathes. He suspects every indication going to show that her body and her soul are in independent action: that she is a creature distinct from himself. He suffers from the very fact that she lives and that she flourishes like some beautiful plant, and that no power of love can take and hold all the perfume that she exhales in that most emotional of moments which is made up of youth and life. At heart the jealous man reproaches a woman with nothing but the fact that she exists, and that is what he cannot bear in anything like peacefulness of mind. She exists: she is lovely, she dreams—what a subject for human anguish! He would have her all, all, and more, ye, and better than Nature and all else meant he should.

But woman does not possess this power of imagination. What we call jealousy in a woman is far, oftener rivalry. As for that exquisite torture of the senses, the hateful apparitions that haunt the mind, the silly and yet pathetic raging of the soul, the physical anguish and upset, she does not know it, or only knows it in a limited degree. Her feeling in this case is less precise than that of man. Imagination is not very highly developed in her, even in love or in matters appertaining to the sensual domain. She lacks the plastic imagination, the power of calling up figures and ideas. All her impressions are vaguely clouded, and her energies are disposed for the struggle. In her mood of jealousy she fights with an obstinacy, mixed with violence and cunning, of which man is incapable. The same spur that tears out a man's entrails only excites her to the test of battle. Dispossessed, she fights for her empire and her sense of power.

And so it is that jealousy, which in a man is a weakness, becomes in a woman a force that impels her to the boldest measures. Far from being a source of weakness to her, it is a running fountain of audacity.

Consider, for instance, Hermione in Racine. Her jealousy is not exhibited in black fumings: she displays little imagination: of her torments she makes no tragedy filled with cruel images. She does not even dream and what is jealousy without dreaming? What is it without the obsession, or without its own kind of raging monomania? Hermione is not jealous. Her first preoccupation is to prevent a marriage. She seeks to stop this marriage at all costs and to win back the man—nothing more. And when this man is killed for her and by her, she is astonished. Above all, she sees she is caught, for she has missed a husband. But look how a man would have acted in her place. He would have exclaimed: "So much the better! I loved that woman, and it is certain now that no other man can ever have her."—Anatole France.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situated.

Homestead Duties—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

1—At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2— If the father, (or mother, if the father is deceased,) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such persons as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3—If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent, or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans—

1—At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

2—If the father, (or mother, if the father is deceased,) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3—If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior

Department of Railways and Canals Canada
TRENT CANAL
HOLLAND RIVER BRANCH
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed tenders addresses to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Trent Canal," will be received at this office until 12 o'clock on Wednesday, the 15th day of July, 1908, for deepening and improving of a channel way from a point in Cook's Bay—Lake Simcoe, Ontario, to the mouth of and up the Holland River, and the East branch thereof to the Bradford Road at Holland Landing.

Plans, specifications and the form of the contract to be entered into, can be seen on and after the 22nd June, 1908, at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, at the office of the Superintending Engineer, Trent Canal, Peterborough, Ont., and at the office of the Division Engineer, Newmarket, Ont., at which places forms of tender may be obtained.

Parties tendering will be required to accept the fair wages Schedule prepared or to be prepared by the Department of Labour, which Schedule will form part of the contract.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tender will not be considered, unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and in the case of firms, unless there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm.

An accepted bank cheque for the sum of $2,000 must accompany each tender which sum will be forfeited, if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque thus sent will be returned to the respective parties whose tender are not accepted.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary
Department of Railways and Canals,
Ottawa, 17th June, 1908.

one noted two other darkies at work below and was vaguely surprised, not so much at their presence, as at the manner in which they moved, for they seemed under stress of some great haste, running hither and yon. She saw horses standing in the trail and sensed something indefinably odd and alarming in the air. Turning to the man she opened her mouth to speak, when from the rank grass under her feet came a noise which set her a-tingle and at which her suspicions leaped full to the solution. It was the groan of a man. Again he gave voice to his pain, and she knew that she stood face to face with something sinister. Tales of sluice robbers had come to her and rumors of the daring raids into which men were lured by the yellow sheen, and yet this was incredible. A hundred men lay within sound of her voice. She could hear their laughter. One was whistling a popular refrain. A quarter mile away on every hand were other camps. A scream from her would bring them all. Nonsense, this was no sluice robbery, and then the man in the bushes below moaned, for the third time.

"What is that?" she said.

Without reply the negro lowered the muzzle of his rifle till it covered her breast, and at the same time she heard the double click of the hammer.

"Keep still and don't move," he warned. "We're desperate, and we can't take any chances, miss."

"Oh, you are stealing the gold"—

She was wildly frightened, yet stood still while the lookout anxiously divided his attention between her and the tents above until his companions signaled him that they were through and the horses were loaded. Then he spoke:

"I don't know what to do with you, but I guess I'll tie you up."

"What?" she said.

"I'm going to tie and gag you so you can't holler."

"Oh, don't you dare!" she cried fiercely. "I'll stand right here till you've gone, and I won't scream. I promise." She looked up at him appealingly, at which he dipped his head, so that she caught only a glimpse of his face, and then backed away.

"All right! Don't try it because I'll be hidden in those bushes yonder at the bend, and I'll keep you covered till the others are gone." He leaped down the bank, ran to the cavalcade, mounted quickly, and the three lashed their horses into a run, disappearing up the trail around the sharp curve. She heard the blows of their quirts as they whipped the pack horses.

They were long out of sight before the girl moved or made sound, although she knew that none of the three had paused at the bend. She only stood and gazed, for as they galloped off she had heard the scrap of a broken sentence. It was but one excited word sounding through the rattle of hoofs—her own name—"Helen!" and yet because of it she did not voice the alarm, but rather began to piece together bit by bit the strange points of this adventure. She recalled the outlines of her captor with a wrinkle of perplexity. Her fright disappeared entirely, giving place to intense excitement. "No, no; it can't be! And yet I wonder if it is!" she cried. "Oh, I wonder if it could be!"

She opened her lips to cry aloud, then hesitated. She started toward the tents, then paused, and for many moments after the hoof beats had died out she stayed undecided. Surely she wished to give the signal, to force the fierce pursuit. What meant this robbery, this defiance of the law, of her uncle's edicts and of McNamara? They were common thieves, criminals, outlaws, these men, deserving punishment, and yet she recalled a darker night, when she herself had sobbed and quivered with the terrors of pursuit, but as the moments passed and none came the tension eased somewhat, and they conversed guardedly. As the morning light spread they crossed the moss capped summit of the range, but paused again, and, removing two saddles, hid them among the rocks. Slapjack left the others here and rode southward down the Dry Creek trail toward town, while the partners shifted part of the weight from the overloaded pack mules to the remaining saddle animals and continued eastward along the barren comb of hills on foot, leading the five horses.

"It don't seem like we'll get away this easy," said Dextry, scanning the back trail. "If we do, I'll be tempted to foller the business reg'lar. This grease paint on my face makes me smell like a minstrel man. I bet we'll get some bully press notices tomorrow."

"I wonder what Helen was doing there," Glenister answered irrelevantly, for he had been more shaken by his encounter with her than at his part in the rest of the enterprise, and his mind, which should have been busied with the flight, held nothing but pictures of her as she stood in the half darkness under the fear of his Winchester. "What if she ever learned who that black ruffian was!" He quailed at the thought.

"Say, Dex, I am going to marry that girl."

"I dunno if you be or not," said Dextry. "Better watch McNamara."

"What?" The younger man stopped and stared. "What do you mean?"

"Go on. Don't stop the horses. I ain't blind. I kin put two an' two together."

"You'll never put those two together. Nonsense! Why, the man's a rascal. I wouldn't let him have her. Besides, it couldn't be. She'll find him out. I love her so much that—oh, my feelings are too big to talk about." He moved his hands eloquently. "You can't understand."

"Um-m! I s'pose not," grunted Dextry, but his eyes were level and held the light of the past.

"He may be a rascal," the old man continued, after a little. "I'll put in with you on that, but he's a handsome devil, and as for manners he makes you look like a logger. He's a brave man too. Them three qualities are trump cards and warranted to take most any queen in the human deck—red, white or yellow."

"If he dares," growled Glenister, while his thick brows came forward, and ugly lines hardened in his face.

In the gray of the early morning they descended the foothills into the wide valley of the Nome river and filed out across the rolling country to the river bluffs where, cleverly concealed among the willows, was a rocker. This they set up, then proceeded to wash the dirt from the sacks carefully, yet with the utmost speed, for there was serious danger of discovery. It was wonderful, this treasure of the richest ground since the days of '49, and the men worked with shining eyes and hands a-tremble. The gold was coarse, and many rugged, yellow lumps, too large to pass through the screen, rolled in the hopper, while the aprons bellied with its weight. In the pans which they had provided there grew a gleaming heap of wet, raw gold.

Shortly, by divergent routes, the partners rode unnoticed into town and into the excitement of the holdup news, while the tardy still lingered over their breakfasts. Far out in the roadstead lay the Roanoke, black smoke pouring from her stack. A tug was returning from its last trip to her.

Glenister forced his lathered horse down to the beach and questioned the longshoremen who hung about.

"No. It's too late to get aboard—the last tender is on its way back," they informed him. "If you want to go to the 'outside,' you'll have to wait for the fleet. That only means another week, and—there she blows now."

A ribbon of white mingled with the velvet from the steamer's funnel, and there came a slow, throbbing, farewell blast.

Glenister's jaw clicked and squared. "Quick, you men!" he cried to the sailors. "I want the lightest dory on the beach and the strongest oarsmen in the crowd. I'll be back in five minutes. There's a hundred dollars in it for you if we catch that ship."

He whirled and spurred up through the mud of the streets. Bill Wheaton was snoring luxuriously when wrenched from his bed by a disheveled man who shook him into wakefulness and into a portion of his clothes, with a storm of excited instructions. The lawyer had neither time nor opportunity for expostulation, for Glenister snatched a valise and swept into it a litter of documents from the table.

"Hurry up, man!" he yelled, as the lawyer dived frantically about his office in a rabbit-like hunt for items. "My heavens, are you dead? Wake up! The ship's leaving." With sleep still in his eyes, Wheaton was dragged down the street to the beach, where a knot had assembled to witness the race. As they tumbled into the skiff, willing hands ran it out into the surf on the crest of a roller. A few lifting heaves and they were over the bar with the men at the oars bending the white ash at every swing.

"I guess I didn't forget anything," gasped Wheaton as he put on his coat. "I got ready yesterday, but I couldn't find you last night, so I thought the deal was off."

Glenister stripped off his coat and, facing the bow, pushed upon the oars at every stroke, thus adding his strength to that of the oarsmen. They crept rapidly out from the beach, eating up the two miles that lay toward the ship. He urged the men with all his power till the sweat soaked through their clothes and, under their clinging shirts, the muscles stood out like iron. They had covered half the distance when Wheaton uttered a cry and Glenister desisted from his work with a curse. The Roanoke was moving slowly.

The rowers rested, but the young man shouted at them to begin again and, seizing a boat hook, stuck it into the arm of his coat. He waved this on high while the men redoubled their efforts. For many moments they hung in suspense, watching the black hull as it gathered speed, and then, as they were about to cease their effort, a puff of steam burst from its whistle and the next moment a short toot of recognition reached them. Glenister wiped the moisture from his brow and grinned at Wheaton.

A quarter of an hour later as they lay heaving below the ship's steel sides he thrust a heavy buckskin sack into the lawyer's hand.

"There's money to win the fight, Bill. I don't know how much, but it's enough. God bless you. Hurry back!"

A sailor cast them a whirling rope, up which Wheaton clambered; then, tying the gripsack to its end, they sent it after.

"Important!" the young man yelled at the officer on the bridge. "Government business." He heard a muffled clang in the engine room, the thrash of the propellers followed, and the big ship glided past.

As Glenister dragged himself up the beach upon landing Helen Chester called to him and made room for him beside her. It had never been necessary to call him to her side before, and equally unfamiliar was the abashment or perhaps physical weariness that led the young man to sink back in the warm sand with a sigh of relief. She noted that for the first time the audacity was gone from his eyes.

"I watched your race," she began. "It was very exciting, and I cheered for you."

He smiled quietly.

"What made you keep on after the ship started? I should have given up—and cried."

"I never give up anything that I want," he said.

"Have you never been forced to? Then it is because you are a man. Women have to sacrifice a great deal."

Helen expected him to continue to the effect that he would never give her up—it was in accordance with his earlier presumption—but he was silent, and she was not sure that she liked him as well thus as when he overwhelmed her with the boldness of his suit. For Glenister it was delightful, after the perils of the night, to rest in the calm of her presence and to feel dumbly that she was near. She saw him secretly caress a fold of her dress.

If only she had not the memory of that one night on the ship. "Still, he is trying to make amends in the best way he can," she thought. "Though of course no woman could care for a man who would do such a thing." Yet she thrilled at the thought of how he had thrust his body between her and danger; how, but for his quick, insistent action, she would have failed in escaping from the pest ship, failed in her mission and met death on the night of her landing. She owed him much.

"Did you hear what happened to the good ship Ohio?" she asked.

"No. I've been too busy to inquire. I was told the health officers quarantined her when she arrived, that's all."

"She was sent to Egg island with every one aboard. She has been there more than a month now and may not get away this summer."

"What a disappointment for the poor devils on her!"

"Yes, and only for what you did, I should be one of them." Helen remarked.

"I didn't do much," he said. "The fighting part is easy. It's not half so hard as to give up your property and lie still while"—

"Did you do that because I asked you to—because I asked you to put aside the old ways?" A wave of compassion swept over her.

"Certainly," he answered. "It didn't come easy, but"—

"Oh, I thank you," said she. "I know it is all for the best. Uncle Arthur wouldn't do anything wrong, and Mr. McNamara is an honorable man."

He turned toward her to speak, but refrained. He could not tell her what he felt certain of. She believed in her own blood and in her uncle's friends—and it was not for him to speak of McNamara. The rules of the game sealed his lips.

She was thinking again, "If only you had not acted as you did." She longed to help him now in his trouble as he had helped her, but what could she do? The law was such a confusing, intricate, perplexing thing.

"I spent last night at the Midas," she told him, "and rode back early this morning. That was a daring holdup, wasn't it?"

"What holdup?"

"Why, haven't you heard the news?"

"No," he answered steadily. "I just got up."

"Your claim was robbed. Three men overcame the watchman at midnight and cleaned the boxes."

His simulation of excited astonishment was perfect, and he rained a shower of questions upon her. She noted with approval that he did not look her in the eye, however. He was not an accomplished liar. Now, McNamara had a countenance of iron. Unconsciously she made comparison, and the young man at her side did not lose thereby.

"Yes, I saw it all," she concluded, after recounting the details. "The negro wanted to bind me so that I could not give the alarm, but his chivalry prevented. He was a most gallant darky."

"What did you do when they left?"

"Why, I kept my word and waited until they were out of sight; then I roused the camp and set Mr. McNamara and his men right after them down the gulch."

"Down the gulch!" spoke Glenister, off his guard.

"Yes, of course. Did you think they went upstream?" She was looking squarely at him now, and he dropped his eyes. "No; the posse started in that direction, but I put them right." There was an odd light in her glance, and he felt the blood drumming in his ears.

She sent them downstream! So that was why there had been no pursuit! Then she must suspect—she must know everything! Glenister was stunned. Again his love for the girl surged tumultuously within him and demanded expression. But Miss Chester, no longer feeling sure that she had the situation in hand, had already started to return to the hotel. "I saw the men distinctly," she told him before they separated, "and I could identify them all."

At his own house Glenister found Dextry removing the stains of the night's adventure.

"Miss Chester recognized us last night," he announced.

"How do you know?"

"She told me so just now, and what's more she sent McNamara and his crowd down the creek instead of up. That's why we got away so easily."

"Well, well—ain't she a brick? She's even with us now. By the way, I wonder how much we cleaned up, anyhow—let's weigh it." Going to the bed, Dextry turned back the blankets, exposing four mooseskin sacks, wet and heavy, where he had thrown them.

"There must have been $20,000 with what I gave Wheaton," said Glenister.

At that moment, without warning, the door was flung open, and as the young man jerked the blankets into place he whirled, snatched the six shooter that Dextry had discarded and covered the entrance.

"Don't shoot, boy!" cried the newcomer, breathlessly. "My, but you're nervous!"

Glenister dropped his gun. It was Cherry Malotte, and from her heaving breast and the flying colors in her cheeks the men saw she had been running. She did not give them time to question, but closed and locked the door while the words came tumbling from her:

"They're on to you, boys—you'd better duck out quick. They're on their way up here now."

"What?"

"Who?"

"Quick! I heard McNamara and Voorhees, the marshal, talking. Somebody has spotted you for the holdups. They're on their way now, I tell you. I sneaked out by the back way and came here through the mud. Say, but I'm a sight!" She stamped her trimly booted feet and flirted her skirt.

To be continued next Saturday.

"Sunshine" Furnace

Why You Should Specify It

1.—Burns coal or wood.
2.—Large, sectional, heavy, straight fire-pot, with fins for heat radiation.
3.—Four heavy "three-lives," easily-placed grates with no bolts. Any section can readily be removed through ash-pit door.
4.—Large and heavy rolled steel plate dome and radiator.
5.—Double feed doors for use when burning large chunks of wood.
6.—All joints made with deep cups for cement.
7.—Sure-catching, right-fitting ash-pan, with plenty of room above same for air circulation below grates.
8.—Large dust-pipe connecting ash-pit to dome, preventing circulation of dust in cellar or rooms.
9.—Correctly placed, easy-to-fill water-pan.
10.—Quick-cleaning flues and durable brush.
11.—Automatic Gas Damper,—saves heat-energy, rejects gaseous fumes.
12.—Nickel-plated chain shield with easy-working, non-rusting chain pulleys.
13.—Bottom casing ring solid to ash-pit, making furnace easy to set.
14.—Height regulation adapted to all cellars. Pipes given due elevation.
15.—All parts interchangeable.
16.—Economical and safe.
17.—Easy to operate.
18.—Twenty to twenty-five per cent. more weight than any other furnace made in Canada.
19.—Made from Canadian patterns as well as made in Canada.
20.—Manufactured by the largest and most experienced Furnace Builders in the British Empire.

If the Tree is Making Too Much Wood Growth

From the Canadian Dairyman

If a tree is making too much wood growth, and is not bearing what might be considered a fair crop, it should be deprived of a few of its roots. In order to illustrate the value of this, I will give one of my experiences along that line. A few years ago, I received, as a premium with The Canadian Horticulturist, a Wealthy apple tree and, if my memory serves me right, it was of one year's growth and about 12 or 15 inches high, branched out as a dwarf and so I let it remain. It grew to be eight feet high and six feet in width and with no sign of fruit. I said to it one day, "You have got to stop this. I don't want so much wood; I want fruit." I dug a hole about 30 inches from the trunk and then tunnelled in under it and there I found four large roots. I cut these off and put the soil back again. The next year, I had to prop up every branch but one on the opposite side to where I dug the hole and in the fall, I had about three bushels of splendid apples.

My boys found they were good to eat and as a consequence the branch nearest the wall was stripped of its load quite a while before the rest. The next year, the branch which did not require to be propped and the one which the boys stripped, had to be propped. Altogether, the tree bore about one and one-half bushels and the third year it bore about two bushels. They were as good a sample as one could wish to pick up. This instance is not a solitary one but one of scores, and always with about the same results. To my knowledge, it has been practised through three generations, I myself having been taught it over 40 years ago by my grandfather, who was a nurseryman

SOUR MILK SHOULD BE SENT BACK

Should Not be Allowed to Taint all the Rest of the Milk in Factory

From the Canadian Dairyman

Suppose a can of sour, tainted or gassy milk arrives at the factory what should the maker do with it? When the maker is hired by the patrons, it is supposed that he will turn out first class cheese that will bring the highest price and that he will protect the individual interests of his patrons. A can of gassy, tainted or over-ripe milk mixed with five or six thousand pounds of good milk in a vat will impart to the whole vat its deteriorated quality.

If the can of milk is gassy it will impart a gassy taint to the whole vat or if over-ripe it will cause the whole vat to become sour in a short time. The whole of the milk then carries the bad qualities of this can into the finished cheese and which will spoil the flavor or texture as the case may be. As the quality made will be inferior, a lower price may have to be taken, and in a great many cases more milk will be required to make a pound of cheese. Should the patrons who produce the good milk suffer for the neglect of the patron who produced the can of poor milk? Would the maker be protecting the individual interests of his patrons by accepting such a can of milk when he knows and the patron should know the result?

Sometimes when a can of milk is returned by the maker as unfit for cheese making, the patron may not really understand the situation. In the patron's judgment the milk was all right, but in the maker's judgment it was all wrong. Now to my mind the maker must be the judge of the milk, and if he is not a judge of milk then he should not be in the business. I am quite sure that no cheese maker who knows his business will return milk that can be made into finest cheese.

If the patron will stop to consider that when the can of tainted or over-ripe milk was sent home it merely meant the loss of this one can which loss fell on the right person, the patron who produced it; and what if it had been taken in and mixed with all the other milk which was first class in quality, the loss would fall on all the patrons instead of on the one who produced the poor can. This I am sure any fair minded man will at once admit is an injustice to the patron who produced the good milk. Some patrons apparently do not realize that with our present factory system, where all the milk is mixed that improperly cared for milk brings a loss on all the patrons who produce it. Until this fact is well understood by those who produce good as well as those who produce poor milk misunderstandings will occur between the maker and the producer when poor milk has to be sent home.

I am sure that if the patrons of our cheese factories who always produce and send to the factory clean sweet milk could fully realize the loss to them through the patrons who will not take proper care of the milk, they would insist more strongly than they do that the maker should not take in milk, which in his judgment will not make the finest cheese. The maker must also protect himself and he should know that in taking in tainted or over-ripe milk he is likely to suffer from loss on poor quality as well as the patrons. This is another reason why he is obliged to return poor milk. Therefore let me say to patrons: prepare a place for properly cooling milk, take proper care of it, handle it in clean cans and send it to the factory sweet and clean and there will never be any necessity for milk being returned. Insist that the whey, if returned, shall be clean and sent from clean tanks.—Franl Herns, Chief Dairy Instructor, Western Ontario.

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE CROPS IN SMITH TOWNSHIP IS EXCELLENT

From the Canadian Dairyman

The following reports from crop correspondents indicate the present condition of fruit trees and bushes, and the prospects:

Long River—All varieties promise well. Plum trees have been damaged in some places. There is quite a lot of dead wood to be noticed. All wild fruits promise an abundant crop.—John Johnston.

Paradise.—Prospects for apples are good; the bloom was abundant. Gravensteins particularly promise well. Spys and Baldwins are a little off in some localities. Foliage is healthy. The trees wintered well.—B. Starratt.

Oromocto.—Apple trees blossomed abundantly, and seem free from insect pests. Small fruits promise well.—Henry Wilmot.

Massawippi.—All small fruits give promise of an abundant harvest. Plums and cherries are above the average. About two-thirds of the apple trees were killed by the blight of two winters ago. Those trees that are uninjured, are loaded.—G. P. Hitchcock.

Chateauguay Basin.—On the whole indications point to a good crop. Apples, plums and cherries have set well; also all small fruits, but if we do not have rain soon it will go hard with some of them, particularly strawberries. Plum curculio is doing considerable damage in this locality. Outside of this pest, prospects could not be better.—N. E. Jack.

Grimsby.—Strawberry plants show the effects of the drought. Raspberries are looking well. Cherries are light. Late varieties of peaches are good, but Crawfords are light. Curl leaf is bad in places. Lombard plums are light. Curculio is doing a lot of harm. Pears promise well; also grapes. In apples, Baldwins are very shy in blossoms.—H. L. Roberts.

Niagara Falls South.—Small fruits are good, but beginning to show signs of dry weather. Apple prospects are splendid, excepting Spys. Grapes are looking good. Pears will be a very heavy crop. Peaches, with the exception of several varieties, are a good crop. Plums are good; also quinces.—Thos. Stokes.

Kamloops.—The cold spring and early summer have retarded the growth of all crops, but present indications point to heavy yields of fruits of all kinds.—A. E. Meighen.

Peachland.—In this dry climate the fruit generally sets heavily. We are now thinning our peach crop, which is likely to be a good one. Late varieties, however, are not so good. Apples, pears, plums, grapes and all small fruits, will be a good crop.—C. Aitkens.

To Get Clean Seed It is Necessary To Sow Clean Seed

From the Canadian Dairyman

"If you would have clean seed, it is necessary to sow clean seed," said T. G. Raynor, B. S. A., of the seed department, Ottawa, as he addressed the East Peterboro Farmers' Institute meeting recently. "The department at Ottawa is of great service to growers of seed in that they will analyze samples of seed free of cost, and in this way a farmer may be sure as to what he is sowing. One should always buy the best seed, even if the price is a little higher. The extra price per bushel does not figure out much added expense per acre, not more than 50 cents at the most. It will invariably figure out that a person is considerably in pocket by buying the best seeds, for then the seed will likely be pure, as well as of high vitality.

"Having procured the seed, it should be given a clean chance, such as a field that has been well cultivated the year previous. When sown on root or corn ground, that has not been plowed since the crop was taken off, it should have the best of a chance. By plowing such ground, fresh weed seeds would be brought to the surface. When left unplowed it will likely be clean, for the weed seeds at the surface were germinated and killed during a previous summer. Such ground should give a comparatively clean crop, and any weeds that might come up would be so few as to permit of hand pulling. It is always advisable to practice hand weeding in the clover field. A large area can be gone over in a short time, and it will pay handsomely in the increased value of the seed obtained from such a field.

"If clover has five seeds to the head it will pay to thresh it. To get a good crop of red clover seed we must have bumble bees. These bees have been getting scarcer as the years have gone by, and it might be well at the present time to encourage them by placing some refuse wool in boxes nailed up on fences around the clover field, in which the bees could nest.

Wherever possible, all clover fields should be pressed for the production of seed this year, as good prices are again more than likely to prevail. If your neighbors have a field which could be saved for seed, you will be doing them a kindness by encouraging them to devote it to the production of seed.

FARMERS' WIVES NEED HOLIDAYS

Nothing but a Complete Change Will Save Them From Becoming Nervous Wrecks

From the Canadian Dairyman

Who ever heard of a farmer's wife taking a holiday? It is a fact in life that the most obvious needs are often the least taken into account. Everyone needs a period of relaxation from the routine of life. All nature thrives because of the variety of elements, and men and women do their best work after a change of scene and environment. Those of us who spend our days amid the rapidly succeeding scenes in the city or town, realize very keenly the necessity of resting and relieving the nervous tension and worn out body. But who thinks of including the farmer's wife under his heading?

Some years ago an incident was narrated in one of our magazines of a farmer's wife who through years of routine duties about the farm, had hoped against hope for a visit to the city, but the fulfillment of her wish was deferred so long that her mind weakened and failed. Surrounded by the beauties of nature, the bugbear of monotony proved too much for her. This may or may not be a true story, but who of us has not felt a well-nigh irresistible desire to get free of the routine for a time, and see new faces and places? There are no doubt thousands of brave, cheerful women on our Canadian farms, who plod on year in, and year out, at the ever-increasing demands made upon their strength and time, and at an age comparatively early, are worn out and nervous wrecks.

Who is to blame? The average farmer means well, but he does not realize the need of a holiday for his wife. His one aim is to make a home for his family, and he, too, works hard to accomplish this. An intelligent farmer knows it is wisdom to rest his fields every few years, if he is to maintain a high average of results. He knows that his horses require a fair proportion of time to rest, and every farmer prides himself on his stock. But for the poor tired wife and mother, he seldom, if ever, gives a thought. This is not due to studied indifference at all, but it has never come into his notice.

Listen to the average day of the woman on the farm, where good help is not obtainable for any money. She is mistress, cook, laundress, chambermaid, nurse, and performs the hundred kindred duties in the house, and often outside it. She is up at four o'clock in the morning. There is the milking, breakfast to prepare, eggs to hunt, vegetables to prepare, bread to bake, dishes to wash, children to bathe, chickens to feed, and, between times give her undivided attention to the immediate wants of the baby. Churning has its day, and the subsequent preparations for market all demand her best efforts. At first these duties are entered into with zest, but physical strength often fails, even when the spirit is willing. Then washing and ironing days come around with fateful persistency. Never any spare time to think or rest, because there is the mending, or the garden to weed. At the end of the day, the men come in for tea, and, after the chores are done, they are through for the day. Not so with the woman of the house. The preparations for the morrow are all important then. If by any chance, an hour is free, she is in no condition to enjoy reading or recreation. Her eyes are tired already; her back and shoulders ache; she is happy, perhaps, but, oh, so tired.

Does such a woman need a holiday? This is an average woman's work on a farm. I visited just such a home not long ago, and every reader will know many such cases. Nothing but a complete change will save that woman from being a nervous wreck.

If the butterflies, who spend their days worrying with dressmakers, going to theatres, afternoon teas and bridge parties, need a rest, surely the woman who is putting her best into life, needs now and again a holiday.

The "Hecla" Furnace

Each one of these four grates can be shaken separately

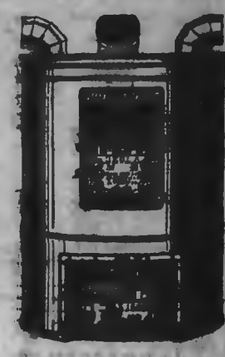
The outer edge of a furnace fire burns up quicker than the center.

This raises a wall of ashes between the firepot and the coals, just where the hottest part of the fire should be.

To heat the house properly and economically, these ashes must be removed whenever the furnace is attended to.

In most furnaces, all the grates are geared together. They must all be shaken together. As the coal burns unevenly, either good coal must be shaken down with the ashes, or the fire slightly shaken and the ashes and clinkers raked down with a poker.

In the "Hecla" Furnace, each of the four grate bars can be shaken separately. When ashes accumulate on the sides of the firepot, shake only the side bars. This means getting rid of all the ashes—saving coal—keeping the fire clean—and doing away with sifting ashes.



When the furnace is almost out, you can shake down the ashes farthest from the fire without disturbing the live coals, and quickly have a blazing fire.

Clinkers cause no trouble, as they do with grates that are fastened together and must all be shaken together.

It is certainly easier to shake one grate than four.

An Automatic Lock holds each bar in position. This Lock opens as the shaker is put on and locks when released.

"Hecla" Triangular Bar Grates may be removed in an instant and each bar replaced separately.

Our new catalogue describes the "Hecla" Bar Grates, Steel Ribbed Firepot, Fused Joints and other exclusive features. If you are going to put in a new furnace this year, write for a free copy. 56

BROUGHT UP AS A GIRL.

Amazing Story—Man Thought He Was a Woman.

An amazing case of a young man who has lived twenty-four years as a girl has just come to light in Essex. The case is not one of a masquerade. It is a most extraordinary one of a man who all his life has, under peculiar circumstances, honestly and perfectly believed himself to be a girl, and has acted in every way as such. He was registered at birth as a girl; dressed as a girl; allowed to wear his hair as a girl; and in every other respect treated as a girl. His name is Beatrice Alger. He was born 24 years ago of poor parents at Walthamstow, and attended the girl's department of the local board school. After leaving school he assisted his parents by earning money as a female coster, and with his long hair, feminine features, and dress, was a familiar figure. No one, least of all himself, suspected his real sex. The discovery that he was not a girl came about in an extraordinary manner. Whilst working as a flower-girl in Chingford he got to know a laboring man. Early in March they were pushing a bassinette together along the main street of Chingford when a police-constable named Illman, who knew the man, stopped both and began to make inquiries concerning the bassinette. There were pieces of lead in the vehicle, and as a result both were taken to the Chingford police station. To the officers at Chingford police station Alger had been known as a flower girl for years. The police had not the slightest suspicion. They had no cause for it. Accordingly he was entered in the charge-book in his real name of Beatrice Alger, and after the police court hearing was committed for trial at the Essex Quarter Sessions at Chelmsford. That was the fact that led to the discovery of the real sex of the girl-man. The prison doctors found it out. They found that whilst for some years after birth Alger might well be considered to be a girl, there were now certain reasons why he should be considered a man. Under these circumstances all his long hair was cut off before the Quarter Sessions opened, and before he was placed in the dock he was dressed in full masculine garb. The plain, but extraordinary facts that he had actually and always regarded himself as a girl and acted as such were made clear. Details of the case were laid before the justices together with the pronounced physical change that was always likely, and had in this case taken place, and the extraordinary man-woman was liberated at the rising of the court on the offer of a relative by marriage to take him under control and obtain for him a suitable situation away from possible evil influences.

CRIMINAL APPEAL CASE.

New Act of Parliament In Force In England.

The new Criminal Appeal Act has just come into force, and with it a great deal of complicated legal machinery. The court will consist of the Lord Chief Justice and eight judges of the King's Bench Division. Not less than three judges may form a quorum, and the act ordains that the court shall sit in London, "except in cases where the Lord Chief Justice gives special directions that it shall sit at some other place." Into this act will be merged the old Court of Crown Cases Reserved. There is no doubt that the new act will add tremendously to our legal business, for a person convicted on indictment may appeal

(a) Against his conviction on any ground of appeal which involves a question of law alone;

(b) On any ground which involves a question of fact alone, or a question of mixed law and fact, or any other ground which appears to the court to be a sufficient ground of appeal; and

(c) On the leave of the Court of Criminal Appeal against the sentence passed on his conviction, unless the sentence is one fixed by law.

In furtherance of the sections of the act it will be necessary for the attendance of an expert shorthand writer in every court in London and the country before which indictments are tried, to take down the evidence at length.

The Seven Prophets.

"The late Duke of Devonshire," said a diplomat at a Washington dinner, "kept a stud and took a calm and ducal interest in the races.

"There was a certain sporting paper that kept a large staff of prophets and always prophesied the outcome of important races. The duke, for some reason, put great reliance in these prophets and their prophecies. He always read the paper, and he continually recommended it to his friends. But once at Goodwood, at the day's end, a man came up to the duke and said:

"'What of your paper now? Did you see it this morning? Six prophets prophesied that six different horses would win, and here only seven ran, and the winner was the seventh, which no prophet had selected. Well, what have you to say now?'

"'All I have to say,' the duke answered calmly, 'is that there's room for another prophet on that paper.'"

SUMMER COMPLAINTS KILL LITTLE ONES

At the first signs of illness during the hot weather months give the little ones Baby's Own Tablets, or in a few hours the child may be beyond cure. These Tablets will prevent summer complaints if given occasionally to well children and will promptly cure these troubles if they come unexpectedly Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in every home where there are young children. There is no other medicine so effective and the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that the Tablets are absolutely safe. Mrs. E. LeBrun, Carillon, Que., says:—"Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for regulating the stomach and bowels. I think no mother should be without this medicine." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The French "Mrs. Malaprop."

Calino, the French "Mrs. Malaprop," does not amuse so much by the confusion of his words as by the quaintness and unintended plainness of his remarks. He entered the service of a well known doctor, who, after Calino had been buying hay for his horses for awhile, made up his mind that the hay was worthless.

"That is very poor hay that you've been buying," the doctor complained.

"But the horses eat it, sir," said Calino.

"No matter. It's bad hay."

"Yes, sir," said Calino respectfully. "I'll change it. I know you are a much better judge of hay than the horses are!"

One day the bell rang, and Calino came in.

"A patient has arrived, sir," he reported.

"An old patient or a new one?" asked the doctor.

"New one, of course, sir," said Calino. "The old ones never come back!"

Calino admired very much the beautiful teeth of a lady among his master's patients.

"Ah!" he exclaimed. "Her teeth are as fresh and sound and white as a newborn baby's!"

Idiomatic English.

Mrs. Fremont, in a sketch of her father, Senator Benton, tells the following story of the French bishop at St. Louis at the time of the purchase of Louisiana. She says:

It was a point of honor among the older French not to learn English, but the bishop decided that it would be better to acquire it, especially for use from the pulpit. To force himself into the familiar practice of the language he secluded himself for awhile with the family of an American farmer, where he would hear no French. The experiment proved very successful. Soon he had gained a sufficient fluency to deliver a sermon in English. Senator Benton was present when it was to be given, and his feelings may be imagined as the bishop, a refined and polished gentleman, announced:

"My friends, I'm right down glad to see such a smart chance of folks here today."

Lincoln's History of Himself.

When Abraham Lincoln was elected to congress Charles Lanman, then editor of the Congressional Record, according to the regular custom, forwarded to Mr. Lincoln as well as to all other members elect a blank to be filled out with facts and dates which might be made the basis for a biographical sketch in the directory. Mr. Lincoln's blank was returned promptly, filled up in his own handwriting with the following information:

"Born Feb. 12, 1809, in Hardin county, Ky.

"Education, defective.

"Profession, lawyer.

"Military service, captain of volunteers in the Black Hawk war.

"Offices held: Postmaster at a very small office, four times a member of the Illinois legislature and elected to the lower house of the next congress."

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

Pulls so Hard on the Stomach it Must Have Help.

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country makes stomach troubles. Five people suffer to-day where one did ten years ago with sick headache, dizziness, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means at least two out of three in Peterborough and other towns, should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na.

So reliable is Mi-o-na that Wm Madill, with every 50-cent box he sells, gives a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy cures.

Bribes For Clergymen.

"Three or four attempts have been made to bribe me," said a clergyman. "My friends of the cloth tell me that they, too, have been occasionally tempted with bribes.

"Once it was the advertising manager of a health food. He offered a subscription of $100 to our mission school if I would tell from the pulpit how much good the health food had done me. I made him give me the money for the mission under threats of exposure, but, of course, I did not mention his food in the church. The church is no place for health food talks.

"The widow of a drunkard and general good for nothing offered me $50 if I would lie in praise of her husband in his funeral sermon. I praised the man heartily in the sermon—no matter how bad a man may be, if you examine his character you will find in it many traits worthy of praise—and to the widow I wrote a note of gentle rebuke.

"Often we are asked to date back marriage certificates, to say a couple were married in six months or a year before they really were. A man once offered me $1,500 to perpetrate a wrong of this sort. I thrust a tract in his hand and turned him out of doors."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Dining in Paris.

"Paris is perhaps cheaper than New York," said General Horace Porter, "but good things come high there as well as here. It is true that you can get cheap food delicately prepared in Paris, but it won't satisfy you as more expensive meals will.

"Now, a friend of mine dined with a young artist at a famous table d'hote in the Latin quarter. 'Pretty good dinner for 2 francs, eh?' said the host at the conclusion of the feast. 'First rate!' answered my friend. 'Let's have another.'"—Woman's Home Companion.

QUEER AUSTRALIAN GAME.

Native Pheasants and Quails—Soup of Kangaroo Tail.

It is on the billabongs and creeks of the back country that the best sport is to be obtained. In wet seasons ducks and teal are to be shot, and in the ranges between the Murray and the Murrumbidgee rivers the "native pheasant," or mallee hen, is to be found. This is a fine table bird, quite equal, in my opinion, to any English pheasant. It is very shy and not easy to obtain. I knew a man who kept a few bloodhounds for hunting dingoes. He used to go into the scrub where there were mallee hens, put the dogs on their tracks and canter after them. The birds would sometimes rise in an open space in the scrub, and I have known him to bring down a brace of them when shooting from the saddle.

Good duck shooting might be had at the large water holes if it were possible to get near without being seen, and in the summer evenings excellent sport is obtainable by waiting for the bronzewinged pigeons, which at sunset fly to water. There is also a small quail, like the Egyptian, to be shot in New South Wales after harvest. There they strip the wheat, i.e., take merely the heads off with a stripping machine, leaving the straw. I have known half a dozen guns make a capital bag without dogs.

The Australian game bird, however, is the native bustard, or "wild turkey," as it is there called, although it is now very scarce excepting in the extreme back country. At one time it was common enough in Victoria, though now rare in that state, but on the back blocks of New South Wales it was plentiful a few years ago.

They were, nevertheless, difficult to stalk on foot, but, curiously enough, will allow one to drive quite within range, and I have seen many shot from a buggy toward the Darling river. They are capital table birds, often larger than the biggest turkey one could buy at an English Christmas market. The flesh of the breast is brown and tastes like wild duck. Properly cooked the Australian bustard has hardly its equal. It prefers arid plains, and I have shot them on the goldfields of Western Australia, where there is little or no water. They must be able to fly great distances, for one never sees them about the desert country of West Australia in the hot weather.

Imported hares are very numerous in certain parts, and the rabbit is ubiquitous. I remember an Australian squatter, who was ruined by rabbits, saying that he had not much left, but he would be glad to subscribe a pound toward a monument to the idiot who introduced rabbits and foxes into Australia! Rabbit shooting is to be had almost anywhere, and as they are trapped and poisoned by the hundred thousand perhaps they too may become extinct in time. No one who has not seen the rabbit warrens in the sandy back country of the Darling would credit the enormous number which exist there. I have passed miles of sandhills at dusk which seemed absolutely alive with the vermin, as Australians call them. This reminds me of an Englishman engaged to cook for the shearers on a back station, who by way of a treat made a rabbit pie for the men. He was nearly murdered for his pains. Australian shearers had not come, they said, to eat vermin!

Twenty or thirty years ago the back country squatters, in order to destroy kangaroos, used to dig huge pits at the corners of their paddocks, running yards of calico along their wire fences and then drive the kangaroo into the pits, clubbing and shooting them. In those days kangaroo skins were of no value; now that they are almost extinct there is a great demand for them. The flesh of a young kangaroo is by no means to be despised, and kangaroo tail soup is a delicacy now hardly to be obtained.

Ancient Waterworks.

Hezekiah, king of Judah, who reigned in the years 717 to 688 B. C., was a pioneer in constructing a system of waterworks, bringing water into the city of Jerusalem. In the holy book we read: "He made the pool and conduit and brought the water into the city, stopping the upper part of Gihon, and brought it straight down to the west side of the city of David. And Hezekiah prospered in all his works." From the "pools of Solomon," near Bethlehem, water was conveyed to Jerusalem, a distance of six or seven miles, through a conduit of earthen pipe about ten inches in diameter. The pipe was incased within two stones, hewn out to fit it, then covered over with rough stones cemented together. Even in those days "boil the water" was a well known injunction.

Another "O'K" Ale

Our latest—and, some say—our finest, brew. We perfected an uncommonly fine blend of hops and malt—and then brought all our years of experience to bear in brewing, ageing and bottling it.

It's pure and old, and rich and creamy—a delight to the palate—and the most nourishing and healthful of malt beverages.

"The Beer that is always O.K."

A. Rountree, Agent, 416 Water Street

Londoners and No. 13.

Londoners are a superstitious people, as shown by the huge directory of the city. From this ponderous book some one curiously inclined has figured out that something like 21.8 per cent. of London street have no No. 13. The Strand, Holborn, St. James' street, Holborn Viaduct, Bloomsbury street, Ludgate Hill, New Cut, Newington Butts, Cadogan street, Eaton place, for instance, have no thirteen. The superstitious belong to no particular district or class. Charles street, Berkeley square, is without a "13," and so is Hounds ditch. Clanricade gardens, Kensington, Frith street, Soho, all make the same concession. You would think that Bayswater was the home of common sense, but Westbourne Park road, villas, and crescent, and Westbourne square haven't a "13" among them.

A Fatal Disease.

A celebrated general once inquired of one of his soldiers the cause of his brother's death.

"My brother died, sir," replied the soldier, "because he had nothing to do."

"Well, my man," said the general, "that is reason enough to kill the greatest general of us all."—Exchange.

Dear Sir,---We beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque for $2,500.00 in settlement of fire loss, Policy 8,645,879, Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.

We note in connection with this settlement a most unusual feature. They are legally entitled to 1% of stated sum for payment prior to due date. No business man would for one moment question their right to this amount. But they do not take it. Instead they have purposely waived their priveleges and presented us with this additional amount.

We are gratified to note this remarkable action. To adjust and settle a loss within twelve days is noteworthy, but to add to this magnanimity in refusing to take advantage of their discount privileges places this company in a most favorable position.

We congratulate you upon representing a company of such superior standing.

Yours very truly,

THE DAIRY BUSINESS IN CANADA

Some Interesting Information by Dairy Commissioner Ruddick

From the Canadian Dairyman

Last February, Mr. J. A. Ruddick, dairy commissioner, delivered an address on the dairying industry before the May Court Club, Ottawa. That address has recently been issued in pamphlet form and contains a lot of valuable information relating to Canadian dairying.

Mr. Ruddick places the number of cheese factories and creameries in Canada at 4,355, distributed as follows: Ontario, 1,284; Quebec, 2,806, and in the remaining provinces 265. The first cheese was exported from Canada in 1864, and the maximum in exports of cheese and butter was reached in 1903, when the value was $31,667,561. He ascribes the shrinkage in exports since that date more to an increase in home consumption rather than to any decline in the industry. There are nearly 100 instructors employed in the different provinces. Canada supplies Great Britain with 72 per cent. of the cheese she imports, or 84 per cent. of the kind we make. The quality of Canadian butter stands high in the British market. Canadian laws relating to its manufacture are so strict as to be a standing guarantee of its absolute purity. This fact carries great weight with the English consumer. Nowithstanding this, Canada's butter exports are very small, and form a very small portion of the $100,000,000 at which Great Britain's annual imports of butter are valued. Denmark supplies nearly one-half of this amount, Siberia over $15,000,000 worth, with Australia a close third. France, New Zealand, Sweden, the Netherlands, Canada, the United States and Argentina follow in the order named. Canada is about down to the foot of the list. There is ample room for expansion in our export butter trade.

There are 45 creameries and eight cheese factories in Alberta, and there is every indication that that province will become one of the best dairy sections in Canada.

The first cheese factory was established by Harvey Farrington in Oxford County, Ont., in 1864. Another factory was started in Hastings County in 1866. The first cheese factory was established in Quebec about the same time as the first ones in Ontario.

BICYCLING

THE BICYCLE REVIVAL

John Westren Tells Why We Are Coming Back to the Wheel

This has been an historic year in the bicycle trade, and those interested have been exchanging communications through the newspapers, in which they seek to explain the cause of the decline of a few years ago, the stagnation which followed and the revival which got under way three years ago, to attain its greatest vigour this present season.

Without accounting for the past decline in the popularity of the bicycle, Mr. Westren, who is general manager of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company, makes a shrewd guess at the wherefore of the revival. He writes:—

"Although there has been a decline from the once extreme popularity of the bicycle the activities of the manufacturer have not been curtailed by the depression and the enthusiasts of ten years ago, who have again taken up wheeling, have been surprised to find that the bicycle of to-day is infinitely superior to the wheel they used to ride."

Mr. Westren invites old-time bicycle enthusiasts to try a ride on a modern bicycle. Referring further to the "activities of the manufacturers" Mr. Westren mentions the Doughty Process Bicycle Tire, made by his company, as a decided improvement on the old style tire. The Doughty is a patent process of making bicycle tires, brought to Canada by the Dunlop Company.

There is an appeal, also, in Mr. Westren's references to the bicycle. Evidently he has a kindly feeling for the wheel, a remembrance which the possession of an automobile cannot eradicate from his memory.

"In its time the bicycle has done much to create close friendships and to weld the members of families together," says Mr. Westren. "Let those who appreciate the bicycle in its true sphere maintain it in its returning general popularity to contend for a place with the automobile for the fresh air and the pleasure of the country side."

SHIPPING THEIR CHEESE TO MONTREAL

Cornwall Cheese Board Has Decided to Adopt That Method

From the Canadian Dairyman

The action of the Cornwall Cheese Board in shipping their cheese, or most of it, to Gould's cold storage in Montreal, and sending representatives there to sell the product, will likely meet with the hearty aproval of the buyers. For some time the Montreal Produce Association has been urging the Cornwall Board to change its day of meeting from Saturday to Thursday. On May 30th this question was to have been decided. The exporters tried to force matters by keeping their buyers away from the board, with the following result: Most of the factory men agreed to ship to Montreal, and J. W. McLeod of Cornwall, and S. J. McDonell of Strathmore, were appointed to represent the factorymen, and sell the cheese on the Wednesday following at Montreal.

What effect this action will have generally on the buying and selling of cheese, remains to be seen. It looks like the thin edge of the wedge, in a movement that might revolutionize the marketing of cheese adjacent to Montreal. Were the majority of the factories in that section to adopt the same plan, and send representatives to Montreal to sell their output, it would greatly simplify the selling of cheese subject to Montreal inspection. The cheese could be inspected in the warehouse before offering for sale, and if the quality was right there should be plenty of competition. One competent salesman could represent a number of factories, and there is no reason why the producers should not get all that is coming to them. The cheese would be on the spot for the buyer to examine. He would have no expense in seading buyers to the country boards, and should be willing to pay the factories enough over the market price to cover freight charges, and the salesman's expenses.

It will be interesting to note how this experiment on the part of the Cornwall board will work out.

NATURE OF THE CORN PLANT

From the Canadian Dairyman

The corn plant develops in a comparatively short season. In order that it may do this successfully it has been provided with a very vigorous root system so that it can gather large supplies of food from the soil in a short space of time. But the root system is of no avail unless the plant food is there in soluble form, so it can readily be taken up by the rootlets of the plants and built into its tissues. Think of a corn plant from 10 to 18 feet in height making its growth from 90 to 110 days, and when we recognize the fact that this growth is based largely on the plentiful supply of four or five elements in the soil, it impresses us with the necessity of feeding the soil with those elements that are essential to the rapid development of the plant.

What are these necessary elements? First, there is nitrogen, which is responsible in a large measure for the size obtained by the plant. When nitrogen is abundant the growth is rapid and uniform, the leaves are of a rich, dark, green color and the general appearance of the plant is healthy. But, strange as it may seem, there are many types of soils, though the corn to-day makes a strong stalk, and has all the attributes of a healthy plant. It is apparent, therefore, that the land is not in need of nitrogen. When the stalk develops and an ear fails to form, it shows that some very essential element of plant food that has to do with the development of the grain and seed is deficient in the soil. What can this element be? It is likely to be phosphoric acid. What leads us to this conclusion? Simply the fact that the chief function of acid phosphate, as found out by careful and accurate experimental investigation, is to assist in the development of the grain, no matter what its form and character may be.

There is another essential element of plant food that is sometimes deficient in the soil, though it is less likely to be lacking than any of the others, and that is potash. If the stem and leaf of the plant is not sufficiently vigorous, and if there is a plentiful supply of nitrogen and phosphoric acid in the soil and still the ear does not develop well, it is probably due to the need of potash in the soil. This may be applied in the form of muriate of potash, which is one of the cheapest and most effective forms the farmer can employ.—Year Book.

SPELLBOUND BY HYPNOTIC EYE OF A STRANGER

FOURTEEN YEAR OLD GIRL COULD SCARCELY BE FORCED FROM FOLLOWING DARK FACED UNKNOWN

Etta Kennedy, the Victim, Now Lies Seriously Ill in Nicholls Hospital—She Climbed Wire Fence After the Nervy Intruder

IS A SENSATIONAL STORY

An Unknown Man Appeared From Behind Bushes as Girls Were Bathing in Creek Near Bonacord Street—Residents in Neighbourhood Frightened

Almost beyond belief is the sensational story concerning the mesmerism of a little fourteen year old city girl who undoubtedly would have been enticed away by a suspicious-looking stranger near Jackson Park on Wednesday, Dominion Day had it not been for the timely arrival of a number of neighbours. Spellbound, unconscious of her environments, Etta Kennedy, the little girl, stood knee deep in the creek just below Bonacord street and watched with staring eyes the dark stranger who without the slightest warning suddenly appeared from among the bushes on the bank and stopped the merriment of the several girls bathing in the water. Passing his hands before his face in the weird fashion of the professional hypnotist, he fixed his gaze on the Kennedy girl. She immediately appeared to come under his influence. When rescued from the sight of the unknown personage she became unconscious and about midnight on Wednesday had to be taken to Nicholls Hospital where she almost died from the shock.

Strange, indeed, is the tale told by eyewitnesses of the uncouth experience of the little girl. An Examiner representative visited the scene of the occurrence yesterday evening and talked to one of the girls who was bathing with the rest at the time.

"We were all having a jolly time" she said to the reporter. "It was about two o'clock and besides Etta Kennedy, the Cresswell girls and the White girls were there. All of a sudden that awful man looked out from behind the bushes. I can see him yet in my sleep."

She went on to tell that the intruder was dressed in rather fine toggery. He wore a dark brown suit of clothes, and a black, stiff felt hat. His features were sharp and he had black eyes dark hair and a black moustache.

"Did you see him make any motion with his hands?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, he seemed to move his hands in front of his eyes and Etta just stared him straight in the face. We called on her to come, because we were afraid, but she paid no heed to us."

Followed the Unknown Man

What subsequently happened, before the arrival of assistance, seems to be as great a mystery as the appearance of the strange specimen of manhood. At any rate some of the girls donned part of their clothes and ran to Bonacord street for help. Among those who were quickly on the scene were Mrs. Dawson, who lives near the creek and Mrs. Harry Butcher, who also resides on Bonacord street.

"Yes, I was there," replied Mrs. Butcher to the Examiner's query. "Some of the girls ran to tell us and we hurried down to the creek to see what was the trouble. I'll never forget the look in that little girl's eyes. Why, we couldn't get her to come away from the man. She even climbed, unaided, over a wire fence to follow him."

Mrs. Butcher was certain that the stranger had exerted some superhuman influence over the little Kennedy girl. She followed him up the hill towards Jackson Park and no amount of persuasion could induce her to come back.

"Her eyes were wild and set and she never took them off him for a moment. She didn't seem to realize there was anybody present but the dark-faced man she was following," Mrs. Butcher went on to tell.

Threatened to Get Police

The women were almost despairing of getting the girl away. They told her if she did not go with them they would get the police. By this means she was frightened into obedience and almost forcibly was taken to Mrs. Dawson's residence near by.

There she was placed in the hammock and medical aid was summoned. She cried in a most pitiful manner but was partially unconscious. The only words she would utter were "I want to go home," and these she wailed incessantly. Dr. Scott soon arrived and she was taken to the Cresswell home in the north end.

About midnight she went into convulsions and was taken to Nicholls Hospital where all night long she suffered from convulsions and was not expected to recover. Dr. Amys also attended her. The physicians stated that a terrible fright was sufficient to cause such an illness.

A Nervy Unknown

CLOUDBURST AT HOT SPRINGS, SOUTH DAKOTA CARRIED AWAY 17 BRIDGES AND A DAM: WITNESSED BY LOCAL PARTY

Mr. John W. Brightman and His Daughter Return From Trip to Famous Resort at Foot of the Black Hills

FOUR HOUR'S DOWNPOUR

Wind Cave Visited—A Vast Subterranean Space Explored Inward One Hundred Miles

Mr. John W. Brightman, 267 Stewart street, who has returned from Hot Springs, South Dakota, tells of two cloudbursts which occurred while he was there, and which carried away seventeen bridges, nearly all railway bridges, leaving the town without communication by train for three weeks. Mr. Brightman left Peterborough on the 6th of May and joined his wife and daughter, Miss Bessie Brightman, who had preceded him on the 7th of April. On his return he was accompanied by his daughter. Mrs. Brightman will remain for some time. Her friends will be pleased to learn that she has greatly recovered in health under the treatment at Hot Springs.

The washout Mr. Brightman referred to happened during the night of Sunday, May 30. Hot Springs is situated at the foot of the Black Hills, S. D., and a little creek runs through the town. It is fed from the mountains, and while under ordinary conditions it is very small, yet after a heavy rain the water from the mountains is flooded into it, and hurls itself along in immense volume.

The Damage Done

The first cloudburst on the Sunday evening lasted four hours. It is not a sudden opening of a rain cloud, as is generally supposed, but it is almost as bad. None of our storms can compare with it. Mr. Brightman said, as the rain falls as if it were poured down upon the town and country, and this continued for four hours. The creek was transformed into a veritable torrent, and as stated above, seventeen bridges along its course were washed away. A striking illustration of its force may be had from the fact that it literally carried a huge cement wall a distance of sixty-five feet. A mile or more below Hot Springs the water is conserved for power, and a concrete dam seventy-five feet long by fifteen feet high, and about four feet eight inches at the bottom tapering to twenty inches at the top, was built to hold the water back to the desired extent. The result of the cloudburst on this cement wall was to carry away, as stated above, a central portion thirty feet in length, and the remaining part on each side was pushed back like gates in a lock. Miss Brightman secured a number of pictures of the effect of the cloudburst on the dam and on some of the bridges. This creek, which runs through Hot Springs, empties into the Cheyenne river.

Sub Terra

Nine miles from Hot Springs there is what is called the Wind Cave, which has been explored in its subterranean vastness, a distance of 100 miles. The ventilation is perfect, the air flowing in and out naturally. It is one of the visiting places at the Springs.

The springs which gave the town its name, bubble at 90 degrees from the rocks. The water possesses special curative properties, which have made them famous, and at all times of the year there is a large number of visitors at the hotels. The buoyancy of the water is greater than with the ordinary aqua pura and it is an easy matter to float, whereas it is difficult to dive. It is as clear as crystal, and a bright coin on the bottom can be seen from any side of the plunges. Mr. Brightman, who had visited the Springs before, mentioned also the Indians, who are, he states, the genuine sons of the old forest, and as different from ours as could be possible. The cow-punchers are numerous, and a noticeable fact is that everyone rides on horseback, and among the women there are none who use the side saddle.

THE ELORA GROCER AND ABSENTEE BRIDEGROOM DID NOT SAIL ON THE STEAMER VIRGINIAN FOR EUROPE

Montreal, July 4—(Special).—If, as was stated in a Peterborough despatch, Rowland Boswell, the Elora man, who disappeared on the eve of his wedding to Miss Cummings of West Toronto, has come to Montreal, he is still in the city. He was to have taken either the Empress of Britain or the Virginian for Liverpool with his bride. The passengers on board the two steamers which sailed this morning, did not include Boswell, though the Cuthbert party, with whom the young couple were to have sailed, are on the passenger list of the Virginian, second cabin.

An Industry For Manufacturing Show Cases And Store Fixtures To Be Opened In Two Weeks

In about two weeks' time a new industry will open up on Water street under the proprietorship of Mr. W. Theobald, representative of the Peterborough Show Case Company. He purposes manufacturing show cases, and also doing store fixtures, cabinet work, upholstering, furniture repairing and picture framing. He will deal in British plate and mirror glass.

Mr. Theobald has had more than six years' experience in the work, having had the contracts for supplying show cases at Cressman's and Grafton's.

The Children's Aid Society Receive A Gift Of Six Dollars From Old Camp

The officers of the Children's Aid Society wish to extend their thanks to Messrs. Percy Mills and Roy McFadden for the gift of $6 to the society's funds. This grant is a little out of the ordinary and has an interesting connection. The boys had a camp at Sandy Point last year and they are the only two of the party left in the city. There was a surplus of $6 in the fund and it was decided to do something with it. Hence the gift.

SECOND PLACE IN PORT HOPE WALK IS CENTRE OF INTEREST

Examiner Special

Port Hope, July 4.—Hoagland, 62 miles, 7 laps; Harrison, 61 miles, 7 laps; Slater, 61 miles 2 laps; Guerin, 60 miles; Erkelens, 51 miles 2 laps.

The above was the standing of the walkers in the race at the end of yesterday. The fight is for second place between Harrison and Slater, in whom the interest centres. Harrison is yet going strong and is now five laps in the lead of the Yankee pedestrian.

Hoagland demonstrated his ability last night by increasing his lead considerably on Harrison. Guerin is making great progress. The walk starts again at 8 to-night and finishes at 11. There is a fair crowd in attendance.

CAR AND FUEL AND CARTAGE CO. WAGON MET

One of the Fuel & Cartage Company's vehicles going west on Charlotte street yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock was slightly damaged by coming in contact with car No. 7. The step was bent, but otherwise the damage was not great.

THE BAND GAVE FINE CONCERT AT VICTORIA PARK

The biggest crowd of the season was in attendance at the weekly band concert of the 57th Regiment Band at Victoria Park last night, when a choice programme was presented. The band was in excellent form and their work won them many encores. The famous "Merry Widow" waltz was a new number that won favour and Bandsman Cronk's cphonium solo "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," with variations, made a big hit. Godfrey's "Reminiscences of Scotland," and the descriptive selection "A Voyage in a Troop Ship," were two grandly played and popular numbers.

THE NEXT SECRETARY TO TAKE CHARGE OF WORK AT LOCAL Y.M.C.A.

MR. F. G. HASSARD,
Of Orillia, Who Will Succeed Mr. H. C. Wright

ANOTHER NEW INDUSTRY COMING SOON

Peterborough is to have a new industry in the shape of a factory that will manufacture grease cups, used for lubricating purposes, and all indications point to a most successful concern being in operation in the course of a short time. A company has been formed, to be known as the Peterborough Lubricator and Manufacturing Company, and a charter has been applied for and granted. The officers and directors are well known local capitalists and business men, and there is every reason in the world to expect a bright future for the latest addition to the Electric City's manufactures.

The new company was organized on Monday night last and the following officers were elected:

President—Wm. Harstone.
Vice-President—John F. Lewis.
Secretary-Treasurer — R. A. Elliott.
Managing Director—M. W. Boerema.
Directors—W. H. Denham, J. H. Larmonth and A. A. Hollingshead.

Mr. Boerema, who will be the managing director of the new company, comes from Youngstown, Ohio, and has been in the city several months looking over the field with a view to getting the company under way. He is an energetic young man of considerable experience in the line in which the company is embarking, and will therefore be in a position to look after the welfare of the concern in an effective manner.

The Peterborough Lubricator and Manufacturing Company will manufacture a grease cup, the patent for which in Canada has been purchased by the company from the inventor, John Francis Lewis, of Philadelphia. The device is a simple one, and yet it solves the problem of how to secure safe and sure lubrication at the minimum cost. The grease cup to be manufactured here will insure perfect lubrication of the journals without using one half as much grease as the spring compression and force feed cups, the economy in many cases reaching as high as 75 per cent. The cup is the outcome of many years practical experience in the field of lubrication. It satisfies the engineer because it saves him time, attention and labour, and enables a better showing of expense account, and it also pleases the grease consumer because of the large economy effected both in the first cost of the cup and in the cost of operation.

In the grease cup nature supplies the feeding force in the form of compressed air and does her work so perfectly that the difficulties invariably encountered with other methods are entirely eliminated. The pressure exerted on the grease is natural instead of mechanical, and there is an entire absence of friction, as there is no piston or spring, but just a thin metal disk so suspended that it moves freely without friction and keeps the grease level in the cup without exerting any pressure thereon, other than its own weight, which is insignificant. Under such conditions there is no waste of grease and the last drop fed out of the cup is as good as the first.

In the United States the grease cup, the patent of which has been purchased from Mr. Lewis, of Philadelphia, has come into general favour and many large concerns are using it extensively for lubricating purposes, while the United States navy are to use it on their war vessels.

From the way in which orders have been received already there is a bright outlook for the local company. Orders amounting to 4,000 cups have been sent in from Peterborough manufacturers, and the demand at present is enough to keep the plant running for five months.

Arrangements have been made with the Philadelphia Lubricator Company for the supply of the pressed steel cups and the other parts will be made in Peterborough. It is the intention of the company, however, to manufacture the whole device here in the near future.

The company will, in all probability, secure the premises occupied by Mr. Oke's furniture factory in East City, in which case Mr. Oke intends to erect a building three times as large as his present plant as he finds that he can't keep up with his orders.

The Lubricator Company expect to have their plant in working order within five weeks, and it is expected that from twelve to sixteen hands will be employed at the beginning, although nothing definite as to this point has eben settled yet.

NEW DRAIN BEGUN ON ARGYLE ST.; CONNECTS G.T.R.

Engineer Hay announces that the construction of the new drain proposed for Argyle street, has been begun and the men are digging at the extreme east end of the street, near the river. It will be continued up Argyle street to the G. T. R. track to connect with the G. T. R. drain.

This has been discussed on many occasions by the council and it is now being carried out.

A PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS TO S.-MAJ. BRITTAIN

At the non-commissioned officers' mess rooms last night a presentation, accompanied by an address, was made to Sergt.-Major Brittain, of a handsome suit case and club bag. There was a large attendance to say farewell to the sergt.-major, who leaves next week for Toronto. The address was read by Col.-Sergt. Roberts, and the presentation made by Col.-Sergt. Waterman.

Sergt.-Major Brittain made a suitable reply, thanking the N. C. O.'s for their kindness. Speeches were also given by Quarter Master Sergeant Edwards and Staff-Sergeant Cotterel, of the Stretcher Bearer section. Refreshments and songs were other features of the function.

IS ERECTING A LARGE CEMENT BLOCK HOUSE

Mr. John Boothert is erecting a large cement blockhouse on his farm at the end of the George street car line, just opposite the city pump house. The house will be built of cement throughout. The gravel and sand was taken from the cellar, which is a rare occurrence. The contractors are G. J. Elphick, of Norwood, and his son, of Peterborough.

OFFER OF FISHING TACKLE IS STILL AWAITING 'LUNGE

The offer of the Banks Sporting Goods store of $3 worth of fishing tackle for the person who first catches a 16-lb. lunge has not yet been claimed. There have been reports of big catches but none are official. A gentleman from Chemong Park caught a 17-pounder, but understood the prize had been claimed. Mr. Banks says the first 16-lb. fish weighed in his store will mean the $3 worth of tackle for the lucky person who catches it.

THE HOLIDAY HABIT.

July ushers in the holiday season, and then the flight to the lakes, the seaside and the camping grounds sets in. In gentine earnest, and the people go in crowds in search of pleasure, primarily, and recreation, incidentally. The question arises, whether or not the almost universally prevailing practice of taking holidays is a fad or a habit, and, if it is a habit, whether it is a good or bad habit. It all depends. A few years ago, the taking of holidays at a convenient season of the year was, as a general practice, unknown. But times change and we change with them. A few years ago, life was not such a matter of rush and hurry, and heated, unresting scramble for money or position, as it is to-day. Now it is feverish and rushing; then the need of a holiday was not felt; brain and body were not fagged and fatigued. Men and women took the duties of life sanely, worked temperately, lived temperately, kept good hours and had sweet sleep; insomnia and nervous prostration were words almost unknown outside the dictionary. Then there was not the mischievous social rivalry that is so ruinously in evidence to-day. Then people's wants were simple and easily satisfied; people were content to live within their means and ambitions; poverty did not have to cheat the butcher and the baker to maintain a travesty of competition with those whose means justified the appearance and the movements they made, the social habits and entertainments they practised and gave. Now neighbour Smith, with an income of $3,000 a year, has a cottage at some summerr esort, and neighbour Jones—or rather Mrs. Jones—with an income of $300 a year, must make an attempt to do the same thing in a pitiably shoddy way. The consequence is debt, neglect of discharge of money obligations, neglect of home duties, and of summer preparation for winter needs, harrassment of all kinds, and mental anxiety, which destroy all the good effects from a holiday or rest period, taken under reasonable conditions and in conformity with the means available for such a purpose. Holidays are pleasant things to take, if they are not bought at too high a price—in money sorely needed for every day purposes, in anxiety over debts and neglected duties, and the inevitable remorse that follows neglect of duty. Holidays are pleasant things to have; so is an auto car or a steam launch or a carriage; but these things are denied to most of us, and it would be regarded as folly, and would be folly, if, in order to obtain them, we made far greater sacrifice of more modest enjoyments, such as peace of mind, a clear conscience, and freedom from debt. If we all took holidays in keeping with our means in a way that left no aftermath of regrets, which come from attempting to do what we can't do, reasonably, they would be a real pleasure and a benefit — a rest to both body and mind. While the holiday habit is so extensively indulged, it is unfortunate that those who most need holidays—who are bound to the monotonously revolving wheel of duty, done for conscience sake, or from force of circumstances — are those who cannot take them. While holidays are things to be desired, the question suggests itself, whether many who do not take them, but keep plodding along in the straight but dull path of homely duty, do not, in the outcome, when accounts are adjusted and a balance struck, have to their credit as large a stock of enjoyment as those who make many sacrifices to compass the enjoyment of a holiday which circumstances make a matter of display, rather than pleasure and profit. Pleasure from holidaying or travel or sight-seeing is a relative term. A trip to Europe and the grand tour may easily mean less, in the way of enjoyment, to the sated son of wealth, on whose senses pleasure palls, than would a cheap Saturday afternoon steamer trip down the river or an "hour's ride for five cents" on a street car to many poor mothers and children, whose days of pleasure are in the same class as angels' visits—few and far between.

PETERBORO' FURNISHING CO.
163 CHARLOTTE STREET

APPROVED BY ENEMIES.

Liberals are pioneers in the matter of real reforms. All the important reforms that give contentment and equal rights, that make for political and social peace and harmony in Canada, are due to Liberal initiative and enactment. All the legislation that exists in the interest of labour is due to the Liberal party. And now it leads the way in the matter of civil service reform, and the bill which is the measure of its bona fides is good enough to meet the commendation of some of the staunchest Conservative journals. The Ottawa Citizen says respecting it:

"The Civil Service bill deals drastically with the civil service appointment methods and is a measure leading the way to most important reforms that would place the civil service on a satisfactory basis." It adds that "so far as it goes, the act is good, that it will not make the service absolutely independent but will go a long way toward that end."

The Hamilton Spectator even goes further and to its commendation adds implied reproof. It agrees that it would be well for the Ontario Government to follow the example set at Ottawa. "Certain it is that if a change is desirable for the Dominion service, it should be equally desirable in the Provinces, and no Provincial Government stands in better position than that of Ontario to take the lead in reform."

This is a rather broad hint to Mr. Whitney. Will he take it? Or will he still cling to his spoils system—Yankee patent?

AN OBLIQUE VIEW.

Montreal Herald.

The Opposition at Ottawa profess to be the originators of civil service reform, and act as if they had copyrighted it when, a year ago, it was put into the Halifax programme. When the elections come on they will probably take the credit for the bill which is now before Parliament, notwithstanding that it was introduced by a Liberal administration.

There is an incident now on record, however, which shows what half-hearted believers they are in the principle of "a fair field and no favour," and how tenaciously they cling to the exercise of patronage, when there is an opportunity for themselves to take part in exercising it. Patronage is monstrous when exercised by the Government. When exercised or participated in by themselves it becomes the height of expediency.

The Government, having adopted the principle of entry by competitive examination and promotion by merit, sought to apply it not only to the executive departments of the public service, but to the appointments about the House of Commons itself. This the rank and file of the Opposition, together with two Liberal members, would not have. Mr. Geo. W. Fowler, one of the chief spokesmen of the revolt, declared that things were all right as they were; that there was no need for any change; that the House was served by a very good class of officials and there would be no advantage in bringing such appointments under the examining authority of the commission. Mr. Geo. Taylor, the Opposition whip, seemed actually to fear that the interference of the commission would result in the appointment of men who would not do the work as well as it is done at present. And, yet, he and his party have been advocating the reform, which is embodied in the civil service bill, because they profess to believe that it would improve the service and make it more efficient.

The appointments about the Parliament building are made under circumstances which permit of the grossest kind of favouritism; and there is no Government department where patronage enters so largely into appointments. Yet, because it can be exercised by themselves and not a Minister of the Crown, they wish this special preserve of patronage to be conserved. Why should not the man of merit and capacity have a chance to serve in and around the Parliament buildings as well as in the offices of a government department? The work in the offices at the Parliament buildings is mostly routine and there is no branch of the public service where fitness and ability to do the work can be better tested by an examination. Applicants for such posts in the British House of Commons have to undergo an examination, and the men with the highest marks get the positions; why should not such be the case here? It is only a piece of snobbery that would try to shut out from the son of a humble Canadian the chance to fill an office in the great hall of the national assembly; and there is no valid reason why he should not have as much chance to obtain such an office as the son, relative or friend of a member of Parliament. When the privilege of patronage of a Conservative member is touched he is up in arms in defence of his rights; but, when the Government exercises patronage, it is another thing altogether. Patronage exercised by the Government, the public have been frequently informed, is a species of corruption, yet there is no corruption in a member avancing the career of a particular crony of his.

The Government is willing to surrender what advantage there may be in having the power of appointment, in the interests of fair play to all. The Opposition, in their advocacy of civil service reform seem actuated by a desire to shear the Government of any support it may gain through the exercise of patronage and to render their own chances of success, at the polls, greater. This is mere selfishness, with no thought for the public interests. The Government is yielding up somewhat of the power it legitimately exercised, in order to give greater satisfaction and to show the people that the public service is open to any of them, provided they will qualify for it. This bespeaks much sincerity, and there is behind it the spirit of true democracy, which is that every child of every parent, no matter whether he be of high or low degree, shall have the opportunity to serve his country in whatever position he is capable of filling.

AS TAKEN SICK FROM CATCHING COLD PE-RU-NA RELIEVED.

MISS ERNESTINE BOUVARD, Duck Lake, Saskatchewan, Can., writes:

"At the close of 1906 I took sick as the result of catching cold. I became very weak and could not do anything.

"I consulted a doctor who had me take various kinds of medicine, but I did not find any relief from my suffering. At the advice of a friend, I wrote to you and you advised me.

"After I had taken two bottles of Peruna there was noticeable improvement. I combined the use of Peruna, Manalin and Lacupia and after taking several bottles of each I find myself entirely cured.

"I can certify that it was through your medicines that I recovered my health. I advise every one who is similarly afflicted to obtain Dr. Hartman's advice and be benefited."

Mrs. Wilda Moores, R. F. D. No. 1, Kents, Oregon, writes:

"For the past four years I was a wretched woman, suffering with severe backaches and other pains, leaving me weak and weary that it was only with difficulty that I was able to attend to my household duties.

"I used different remedies, but found no relief until I had tried Peruna.

"Within two weeks there was a change for the better, and in less than three months I was a well and happy woman.

"All the praise is due to Peruna."

Peruna is not a local remedy, but an internal systemic remedy. It will relieve catarrh in its most obstinate form.

CANADA'S PALACE AT THE GREAT FRANCO-BRITISH EXPOSITION

Huge Panorama That Presents an Imposing Spectacle — London Never Saw Such Sights Before

CROWDS GAZE IN WONDER

Special Correspondence

London, July 4.—The Canadian palace, at the Franco-British exhibition, has opened on Thursday. The delay was not the fault of the Canadian authorities, who, considering the obstacles they had to contend with have accomplished wonders. The L.C.C. hindered them and other unforeseen troubles for which nobody on the Canadian side could be blamed. That they were remarkably active and clever in their performance is proved by the spectacle the Canadian palace presents now, built of steel, and made to pass the most exacting officious surveyor, but to last a century of London's climate, if needed. The exterior is strikingly massive. It might be a parliament house or city hall, it is so important and imposing. Its interior is no less suggestive of careful and elaborate design and long laborious work, and yet only three months ago its site was waste land, and its foundations not begun. Now, all round this enormous palace the waste is a verdant lawn with shrubs and flowers. The crowds are warming up the white steps into the three public entrances of the palace. All day—and in the night till 10 o'clock they are rushing in to see the marvels of Canada, where last month the interior and its contents seemed without form and void, and workmen in hundreds were hammering all over the place. Col. Hutchison, the Canadian commissioner of exhibitions, who has been responsible for the Dominion shows at the exhibitions in Japan, Italy, Belgium and Ireland, has achieved a marvel of rapid and workmanlike arrangement here in his, the finest exhibition that Canada has yet attempted anywhere. An idea of its impressive size may be realized when we know that the palace has a floor space of 60,000 quare feet, its lofty roof surmounted by a dome which is seen from the most distant part of the exhibition grounds.

Entering what seems the principal doorway, which faces the scenic railway, we observe in the centre of the floor rising to the dome, the agricultural trophy, which is an exhibition in itself. Looking up into this dome we see 4 cornucopias emptying their wealth of golden grain over the globe; to all the four corners the cornucopias descend and below them to the foot of the hopper, and in the rich the surround it are sheaves of cereals, and specimens of agricultural produce and fruits. This golden hopper is an inspiration, and in designing it, Col. Hutchison has given to Canada the finest advertising idea to be seen in the entire exhibition. Within the four archways, facing the four sides, are full length portraits of the King and Queen and the Prince and Princess of Wales, standing in the doorway which almost faces the golden hopper, and looking to our left, is

A Huge Panorama

As we approach this end of the palace we notice it is railed off—being still unfinished. We are permitted to notice that the panorama is intended to represent a view of the western prairie with herds of cattle and a settler's homestead. In the foreground of this fine scene is the "congress of animals" and specimens of all the big game for which Canada is famous, including the moose and the bear, are grouped around. When complete next week this will be one of the great attractions of the exhibition. High above this panorama on the walls are immense portraits of Lord Grey and Lord Strathcona. At this end of the palace between the congress of animals and the golden hopper the floor in the middle is covered with a grand scene of mahogany and glass, on all sides of which are imposing displays of Canada's mineral wealth. Along the sides are ranged about 50 small mounted stands containing varieties of specimens for the closer inspection of visitors interested in Canada's illimitable mineral resources. Here Col Hutchison has repeated the design he so admirably carried out at the Imperial Institute. On the opposite side of the floor at this unfinished end there will in a few days be a splendid variety of Canadian manufactures. There are now visible hardware, ranges and stoves, corsetage, safes, and examples of mineral and chemical industries, also huge saws used in the Canadian forests and wood mills. Turning back towards the opposite end of the hall of the palace we pass on our right a wide, alcove round which a vast crowd is gathered admiring a panoramic scene in the Canadian apple country, and English visitors exclaim how like our own orchards of Kent and Worcester! In front of this great picture are scores of tables bearing samples of Nova Scotian and other apples while ranged on shelves on either side of the picture are exhibits of fruit in bottles, and outside this alcove are handsome stands, showing wines, liquors, etc. Passing down this side we come to a long range of exhibits of pianos and organs, which show how far Canada has progressed in competition with the Old Country in industrial arts. Reaching the far end of the hall a corner is handsomely furnished with very artistic specimens of silk and lace and crochet. On the wall near the entrance No. 2 is a third panorama which illustrates the yachting and fishing sports of the lakes and rivers of Canada. Above these realistic scenes the visitor stands to admire the colossal portraits of the Empire builders, Sir John A. Macdonald on one side and Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the other. The most striking exhibit at this end—corresponding in its get up and the great mineral display at the other end—is that devoted to dairy produce. An artistic genius has designed life-size tableaux—one representing Jacques Cartier landing at Montreal; the other is the meeting of King Edward and the French President Fallieres. The scenes are

Irresistibly Natural

The crowds gaze in wild-eyed wonder when they notice the inscription, "Canadian Butter Exhibit."

The noise of the refrigerator gives a hint and at last it dawns upon the crowd that these tableaux are done in butter, and all over the hall we hear in all accents, "It is pure Canadian butter." Besides this exhibition of the Butter artist there is one side of the stand devoted to the butter of commerce, and there, by the way, an admirable bust of the Hon. Sydney Fisher done in butter—who will not be in the melting mood all the summer, for an enthusiastic Dublin youth is in charge of the refrigerator. Pursuing our way round the other side of the hall, we note fine exhibits of Canadian tobacco, raw and manufactured, cigars, etc., also large stands showing manufactures, such as rubber goods, leather boots and shoes, dress goods and furs. Further along are fine stands of school and office furniture, wood goods, wood carving and examples of Canadian wood in the rough logs and polished panels.

Land of the Beaver

Well we now get half way along and approaching the mineral section again. We have the fourth great panorama in the above round which crowds of all nations in great delight are standing six deep. The scene is a great Canadian river and in the foreground is real water and logs of timber. It is in fact a beaver dam with lively beavers sporting as at home. Truly this palace is crowded with wonders. First, the golden grain hopper, next the congress of animals, then the realistic orchard scene and the fishing scene, but most fascinating of all, the sight of Canada's beaver, which London crowds never saw before. It would take a long letter to catalogue the varied exhibits of the Canadian palace. But even the most cursory glance at the most striking objects shows that to examine this hall carefully is a liberal education. It is designed in its minutest detail to bring Canadian scenery, Canadian resources and manufacture, and above all Canadian agriculture, to the mental vision of the least imaginitive visitor. How it is appreciated is seen by the slow and careful inspection of everything by the passing crowd. At night when the electric light is on, the panoramic views are real glimpses of Canada. Above the pillars and round the walls are ingeniously arranged devices which look like golden grain in giant growth covering the walls and branching everywhere. At intervals are scenes typical of every aspect of Canadian life and activity. These being on transperencies—there are about 100 of them—are illuminated with the electric light. On the thirty odd pillars with their four sides covered with panels and shields are facts about Canada in bold gold lettering in French and English. There everybody stops to read, the young people being interested in spelling them out in French in conspicuous positions are great maps, and here there are statements and opinions quoted from eminent public men respecting Canada's rise and progress and her great destiny. I observed for example crowds standing under the portrait of Earl Grey and reading about the words of his speech, "Remember the Canadians are building up a great nation. They are convinced that the United States had the 19th century, but now it is Canada's turn in the 20th." I might say that all I have seen from the Atlantic to the Pacific convinces me it is a land of infinite possibilities."

Credit to Canada

Altogether it may be said this palace of Canada brings home to the people of the old country the same impression and the same convictions as actual experience of the country have brought to the mind of her governor-general. It is a sight worth crossing the ocean to see, for it will fill the Canadian's heart with pride in his own land and in the enterprise of her government and the people. It makes clear that the Dominion government in this Franco-British exhibitions aims at the imigration of the agriculturist, also the introduction of Canada's raw materials and manufactures into the markets of the world. It is a national exhibition and no exhibitor is here on his own speculation. Eminent Canadian firms are represented by their manufactures. But lest there should be invidious comparisons or jealousy, these exhibits are here to illustrate that all the provinces of the Dominion can do, and not to advance the interests exclusively of any one whose goods may be chosen as illustrations. But the government representatives here are very ready to give the list of names of Canadian firms and so help Canadian overseas trade.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

FREE TO YOU AND EVERY SISTER SUFFERING FROM WOMEN'S AILMENTS.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.

I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from women's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—yes, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is a safe and sure cure for Leucorrhœa or Whitish discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors or Growths, also pains in the head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weakness, kidney and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete 10 days' treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you should wish to continue, it will cost you only about 10 cents a week, or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy, it cures all, old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhœa, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in Young Ladies. Plumpness and health always result from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all woman's diseases and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten days' treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address:

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON QUESTIONS

The questions for the Sunday School Lesson for July 5th, are as follows:—Israel asks for a King.—1 Sam. 8 1-22.

Golden Text—By Me kings reign, and princes degree justice. Prov. viii. 15.

Verses 1-4—Was Samuel to blame because his sons were bad men?

Are parents always to be blamed for ignorance, if not for sin, when their children turn out bad?

Why is it that money is such a powerful temptation to lead men astray?

Verse 5—Could you blame these Israelites for being dissatisfied with their corrupt judges?

What can you say for or against their asking for a king? was the remedy they proposed as bad as their troubles?

What was the real reason why they wanted a king?

What was God's plan for Israel concerning their government?

Verse 6—Why did their request displease Samuel?

What is the best thing to do when we have trouble and perplexity?

Is God a sure surcease for every trouble? and will He supply us at all times with the wisdom we need?

Verse 7—Does God sometimes give people what they ask for even if He known it is bad for them?

Can you conceive of any greater punishment than God giving a man or nation up to their own wicked plans?

How did they reject God in asking for a king?

Are these Israelites exceptional in not wanting to trust in the Unseen?

Granted that God is a real Almighty person, so to speak right at the elbow of every man, to protect him, and to supply all his needs, then what is the great defect in modern preaching, and in average Christian experience? (this question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 8-9—In what respects had Israel been unfaithful to God?

Are these people exceptional among the nations in rebelling against God?

How do you account for it, that people will persist in doing what they know is so injurious to them?

Verses 10-18—What is the evidence that Samuel's predictions as to the consequences of their demanding a king turned out to be true?

What for the most part, was the character of the Kings of Israel?

Verses 19-20—When a man or a nation is excited, or stirred by passion, is there any possibility of correct reasoning?

What are the evils of following the fashions of others?

Can any person be truly happy who is guided in his conduct by what others may do or say?

Have kings upon the whole been a blessing or a curse to the world?

Verses 21-22—What is the advantage of stating our problems in detail unto the Lord?

Why was it better under the circumstances for God to grant their request?

Lesson for Sunday, July 12th, 1908.—Saul Chosen King 1, Sam. 9, 10.

ALL RUN DOWN

Weak---Nervous---Unstrung.

Thousands get run down and become invalids before they realize anything is wrong. By permitting low vitality to develop, the way is paved for fevers, pneumonia and diphtheria. To put off makes it all the harder to get well. The time to repair the system is right now, before the damage gets any worse. The remedy is Ferrozone; it revitalizes, renews, builds up vitality that outlasts old age.

FERROZONE is a genuine invigorator that banishes weakness, and instils surplus force and vigor into every organ of the body. Ferrozone sharpens the appetite, produces rich nutritious blood, and thereby contributes that sense of buoyancy that adds so enormously to one's pleasure and usefulness in life.

For all forms of debility, weakness, lack of blood or nerve tone, sleeplessness, tiredness and exhaustion, there is no medicine so vitalizing and potent as Ferrozone. Even one trial demonstrates its rapidly and certainty of action.

To restore the energy of youth, to get back your vital stamina and reserve force, there is positively no treatment so certain as Ferrozone. You have only to try Ferrozone to know the enormous benefit it invariably brings to all in poor health.

FERROZONE

Miss Dorothy E. Ledue of Chester gives the following convincing evidence of Ferrozone's power:—"My work compels me to rise early in the morning and work ten hours daily as a saleslady. Last Spring I was run down, lost my color, and fell off in weight. I seemed to lack ambition and the life was out of me. A friend recommended Ferrozone, and I took one tablet after meals with wonderful results. Ferrozone brought back my complexion, and has given me new strength and abundance of energy and spirits. I would advise all young ladies to use Ferrozone."

Mrs. H. G. Wilder of Dexter says:—"My daughter was not very well last Winter, and lost her strength completely when the Spring came. I gave her Ferrozone, and am glad to say it did wonders. After six boxes were used my daughter was strong, and looked the picture of health."

Gave New Strength

It makes the weak strong, the sick well, and assures lasting good health.

WARNING—Beware of any substitute for Ferrozone; it alone can cure you. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine, only in 50c boxes containing 50 chocolate-coated tablets. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Closing Exercises At The Institution For The Deaf

The Official Examiner Highly Praises Work of the Pupils at the Belleville School

WHAT INTELLIGENCER SAYS

The spectacle of wagon-load after wagon-load of trunks passing down Front street on the way to the station yesterday and to-day gave evidence that another session of the Institution for the deaf had come to a close. One car-load of pupils left this morning for Toronto and three more contingents will leave during the night for Windsor, Sarnia and Ottawa respectively, and we hope that by to-morrow evening all will have arrived safe at home. The session that has just closed has been a very pleasant and successful one in every respect. The written examinations began on the 4th inst., under the supervision of H. J. Clarke, B. A., who was selected by the government as official examiner, and continued until the 9th inst., with very satisfactory results. At the close of the examination on Tuesday afternoon the pupils and staff assembled in the chapel where Mr. Clarke made a brief address. He said that he had found his duties at the Institution to be very pleasant, for they had all been so kind to him in every way. He had gone into the work of the Institution as thoroughly as he could and he found that it compared very favorably with that of the public schools. He had inspected some ninety of these schools in the last six months, and the work he had seen was as a rule, not nearly so thorough and careful as that done here. He was, in fact, greatly surprised at the degree of efficiency attained, and how they attained such good results, in view of the special difficulties met with. He did not know—he simply knew that in some way it had been done. The curriculum here was practically the same as that of the public schools with some necessary modifications, and the work seemed to be much more thoroughly done. He hoped that in a few years that he might have the schools of south Hastings doing work on a par with that of the Institution. In calisthenics he had never seen better work done, in fact he could not see how could be surpassed. He also appreciated very much the flag raising ceremony and he wished to congratulate all concerned with its success. He was greatly pleased with what he had seen of the work of domestic science and nursing classes; also with the manual training and shop work. The instruction received there would be invaluable to the pupils in after life. He hoped the pupils would take full advantage of their opportunities here and so prepare themselves for the greatest possible success in life.

Dr. Coughlin, on his own behalf and on that of the staff, thanked Mr. Clarke for his kind remarks which they all greatly appreciated, as they also did the great interest he had taken in the work of the Institution in all its departments. He wished also to add his own testimony to the earnest, faithful work done during the session, and wished to thank the teachers for their loyal co-operation and their sincere efforts to promote in every way the welfare of the pupils.

Some of the teachers also made brief addresses expressive of their gratitude to Mr. Clarke for the kindly and sympathetic manner in which he had discharged his duties, and of their warm appreciation of the many courtesies and acts of kindness for which they were indebted to Dr. Coughlin.

The Intelligencer joins with all its readers in wishing everyone connected with the Institution a pleasant holiday and hopes all will return in the fall with renewed vigour.

Last evening we expressed our hearty appreciation of the exhibition of physical drill given on Saturday afternoon at "Zephra" by the pupils of the Institution. All present greatly admired the grace and precision of the club-swinging movements, some of which were very difficult. This thorough and systematic physical culture is a new feature of the work at the Institution and has worked wonders in improving the health, physique and bearing in the pupils. Those participating in the opera house certainly presented a handsome appearance and well deserved the warm encomiums passed upon them.—Belleville Intelligencer.

Stony Lake Floated Large Population On The Holiday; Another True Fish Story

Mr. Guillet Gets An Eighteen and a Half Pounder—Many Cottages Opening for Season

VISITORS AT THE LAKE

Special Staff Correspondence.

Stony Lake, July 4.—Putting it in round numbers there were one thousand pleasure seekers on Stony and Clear Lakes on what may be called the opening day, July 1st. There were two excursions, the St. Luke's Bible Class on the "Stoney Lake" and the Auburn Sunday School on the "Empress"; each of which were well patronized, having about more than two hundred on board. The steamer "Majestic" taking the regular round trip, had a large number of regular and holiday passengers and these in addition to those who, during the past two weeks have been daily arriving, made the population an extensive one.

Mr. George Guillet, of Cobourg, who is at his cottage "Westaway Lodge" for the season, the other afternoon showed his preference for the "big 'uns" when he picked on an eighteen and one-half pound lunge and branded it with the Guillet trade mark, viz,—a gash in the back immediately behind the ears. There may be larger ones than this in the lake but they haven't made their debut this season. Now this may be a Guillet "hair-razor" but it isn't "Guillet's Lye."

Mr. D W Dumble came up to "Ballyragit" Tuesday evening.

Capt. Hunter, of Millbrook and Miss Maude Hunter, Boston, Mass. arrived at "Pepacton" on Wednesday.

Mr. O A Myers, Peterborough, spent the holiday at Rockport.

Mr. G M Roger, Peterborough, was a guest at Victoria House, on Wednesday.

Mrs. R J Colville and Master Nelson Colville, Toronto, are at Beverley Cottage.

Miss Evelyn Carey, Peterborough, came up to the cottage on Monday.

Mr. W Cochrane, Peterborough, was among those who spent the holiday at the lake.

Mr. L Young and Miss Mollie Young took the round trip on the Majestic yesterday.

Mrs. (Dr.) Henry Barnes, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Alma Barnes, arrived from Cleveland, Tuesday morning and opened "Buckeye" cottage at Cleveland Point for the season. Dr. Barnes is expected in about a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs H C Loomis and Miss Florence E Loomis, of Cleveland, are occupying their new summer home "The Rafters" situated at Cleveland Point.

Mr. Jas Goulnlock went down to Toronto yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Percy Crane, Peterborough, was a visitor here on the holiday.

Mr. Wilfrid Stretton, Peterborough, is visiting Mr. Ken Crane at "Glad-Hee-Ken."

Mr. and Mrs S Dickson Hall and Miss Lillian E Rush are at "Liberty Hall."

Mr. E O Finnie and Mr. A E Mulhern, Peterborough, were guests at Victoria House on the holiday.

Misses Helen and Frances Routley are at Rockport cottage for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. C B Routley went down to the city this morning.

Miss Bertha Waram and party of Peterborough, took the round trip via Chemong and Burleigh on the holiday.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, Peterborough, and Rev. J B Anderson, of Brooklyn, Ont., were with St. Luke's Bible Class excursion yesterday.

Chicopee Cottage, Clear Lake, was opened this week when Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Miss Hilda and Mr. Clifford Rogers arrived from Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs John Dodds, Toronto, came up Wednesday morning and are guests of Miss Goulnlock at Edithena.

Mr. R Russell, of Fairview, B.C., is a visitor at Raybourne.

Miss Ellen Good, of Loose, Eng., is a guest at Emerald Isle.

Mr. Carey, Peterborough, spent the holiday at this cottage here.

Messrs. J A Zachu and T R Zachu, of Syracuse, N. Y., are among the guests at Victoria House.

Miss F G King, and Miss F D Burgitt, of Peterborough, spent the holiday here.

The following are of the party who are guests of Hon. L Grahame and Mrs. Grahame of San Juan, Porto Rico, at "Kilinna" Cottage:—Naomi Gouinlock, Marjorie Schreiber, Laurie Whittimore, "Bob" Allan, Percy Beatty, "Mac" Mowat, Jack Langmuir, Toronto; Attilie Morson, Beatrice Morson, Lindsay; A H O'Brien, Ottawa, and Misses Elsie and Marjorie Grahame.

Mr. Chas. Bell came up to the cottage from Lakefield on the holiday.

Some people look upon tea as a mere drink. It all depends upon the tea. "Salada" Tea is a delicious and refreshing beverage. Sold only in sealed lead packets. 55

ARMOURIES ADVANCING TOWARDS COMPLETION

Ready for Roofing and Tenders for Heating System Called for

The Peterborough Armouries are getting on rapidly and will soon be ready for the Rangers and other arms of the service for whose use they are intended. The building is ready for the roof and in to-day's issue appears an advertisement calling for tenders for the heating system for the Armouries. This is very like business, and will aid in the fulfilment of Sir Frederick Borden's assurance, at the time of the laying of the corner stone, of their prompt completion.

HAVE THE EXAMINER AT SUMMER RESORTS

Special arrangements have been made, as in former years, for the prompt delivery of the Examiner at the popular Summer Resorts adjacent to Peterborough. A POPULAR TEACHER REMEMBERED

Miss M. L. McConnell Presented With Address and Gold Bracelet by Her Pupils

WAS A TEACHER IN SMITH

On Friday afternoon, June 26, a large number of the friends of S. S. No. 1, Smith, assembled at the school to bid farewell to Miss M. L. McConnell, who has served them as teacher for the past three and a half years, and who will be greatly missed among the host of friends whom she has won for herself during that time.

A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all present, and before concluding, the chairman, Mr. F. Cann, requested Miss McConnell to come forward, when she was presented with a gold bracelet set with our Rhine stones, by Miss Mildred Maihood, accompanied by the following address, read by Miss Vera Cann:

Miss M. L. McConnell:

Dear Teacher—We, the pupils of S. S. No. 1, Smith, take this opportunity on the eve of your departure from us, to tender you our thanks and appreciation for the services rendered our school during the past three and a half years. You must have been discouraged many times at the lack of interest taken by us, yet we desire to assure you that the seed sown in our hearts from time to time will, by the Grace of God, we trust, bring forth an abundant harvest.

And now, in conclusion, we ask you to accept this bracelet from us as a very slight token of our esteem and good will for you, not only for your success in this life, but also for your spiritual and eternal welfare. Hoping it may serve as a pleasant reminder to you of the many kind friends you have made for yourself in Smith.

Signed on behalf of the school,
VERA CANN,
MILDRED MAHOOD.

Miss McConnell was taken completely by surprise, and was deeply affected by the kindness of the pupils, yet she found suitable words to thank them for the kind words expressed in the address and for the beautiful present, assuring them of her deep interest in their welfare, and trusting that they ever would be found pressing onward and upward.

DEPUTATION ABOUT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

Request Government to Assist in Widening Benson Street and to Bay Clay

Mr. T E Bradburn, M.P.P., Mr. Jas. Thompson, M.P.P. Mr. Jas Kendry and the Mayor were in Toronto yesterday and waited on the Provincial Government in connection with the widening of Benson street, leading up to the new Normal School building. The Minister of Public Works promised to visit Peterborough and inspect the situation for himself. The Department, it is understood, declined to purchase the land necessary to widen the street. It was suggested that the city buy the strip from Mr. J W Fitzgerald and that the Department purchase the clay from the city necessary to level the street, all of which will be required for levelling purposes to the school grounds. If this were done it would give the Normal School the necessary soil at a convenient distance and would make the street of sufficient width.

stranger, they ordered him to vacate the place. This he refused to do in a most determined manner and the mention of the police didn't scare him either.

He was watched by some boys after the excitement had subsided and was seen to walk to the corner of McDonel and Park streets. He went up Park street to the corner of Bonacord street as if he again wanted to get a view of his victim, possibly, as Mrs. Butcher stated, to undo what he had done. He disappeared from there and was seen no more.

A Bright Girl

Etta Kennedy is only 14 years of age and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kennedy. She is a bright young girl and during the day was employed by various persons as a child's nurse. At night she usually stayed at the Creaswell home in the north end of the city. On inquiry at the hospital last night it was learned she is still rather seriously ill and at times unconscious. She can scarcely bear the voice or face of a man when conscious and it is feared, what was a pleasant pastime for the strange man, may terminate in something of a serious nature.

OLD FOLK AT HOME OF REFUGE TO HAVE SOCIAL

On Thursday Evening Next — Lakefield Band to be Present

A garden social will be held at the House of Refuge grounds next Thursday evening, July 9. Light refreshments and ice cream will be served and a good programme will be given. The Lakefield band will be in attendance, and a good time is anticipated with the old folks at home here.

TIMELY TIPS

By Suburban Reporter

Dominion Day, 1908 is past and gone. Who knows what it meant? It was a real holiday and a few flags were hoisted; demonstrations of real loyalty were present in about the same quantity as real snow and to note the different ways in which the several classes observe this day is worth while. Those who are so blessed as to have a cottage at a resort, naturally spend this, the first day of the long vacation, at the summer residence. To the factory hand or the store and office clerk it means a jaunt into the country, a fishing trip or an excursion. There is almost no alternative except they live in the suburbs and have a garden to weed. It is natural and proper that this class should seek the outside world instead of loafing around the city streets. But the reverse of this rule does not apply—that the open-air worker should spend the holiday in jail. Then again there is a class that has the option of working or not on a holiday and in case the day is fine it is considered an advantage to labour as every day's work counts. This class consists of those who work in the open-air during the entire year and has many and various occupations. Loyalty to one's job increases with the thought of little or no work and big expenses of living next winter. Oh well, Dominion Day was a fine one and a pleasant one for pleasure seekers and workers alike. The good old Dominion goes on just the same anyway, so what's the use getting excited?

On the occasion of the next visit to the city by a distinguished personage whom the aldermen deem worthy of a free trip around the town to see the sights, it would be well to have Water street, north, on the route. Is your curiosity aroused? Well, because in that locality there is a collection of weeds on the street, that easily take the prize ticket at the International Exhibition of Noxious Weeds. All interested in botany are warned that these specimens will be shopped down when the seed is ripe and hence if they wish to search for new species the time is at hand. According to the manner in which the burdock plants are flourishing, that medicine known as B.B.B. could be reduced in price to ten cents per gallon.

However, the city street is not the only place where weeds abound; the country roadside is also noted for this evil. Is there no one appointed to keep down these pests, or are those appointed negligent of their duties? Something must be done and that at once. Some excuse may be made about public property, but what about private property, around dwellings, gardens and large farms? This is the season for spying out the weeds and eradicating them. It was considered a few years ago by farmers that mustard was the worst curse that ever visited them, but in recent years weeds have appeared which put the mustard plant out of the running altogether. For instance, there are white cockle, bladder campion and sow thistle, any of which is five times as hard to kill as the common mustard, which has only a small, shallow root which can be pulled up. These others have strong, deep roots supporting a stem which breaks off at the surface of the ground, when an attempt is made to pull them up. New shoots spring up and the plant is increased. The weed problem is an old one, and the agriculture colleges have endeavoured to warn the farmers, while the speakers at the Farmers' Institute meetings have harped loudly on that string, and the farm papers, as well as the newspapers, have been devoting space to that live subject. Does the farmer not realize the danger, or is he too busy to continue the fight? Each farmer should have about a dozen mottoes in conspicuous places about the house and buildings.

"Drive out the weeds or the weeds will drive you out."

A weed seed is a very small thing to have so much said about it, but let us not forget that it has the power to increase in one year even unto a thousand fold.

SPECIAL MEETINGS AT THE GOSPEL HALL

At eight o'clock to-night the Christians of Gospel Hall will hold an open air meeting at the corner of George and Brock streets, when several of the popular hymns will be sung. At eight o'clock on Sunday night a special evangelistic meeting will be conducted at Central Park. There will be four short addresses of seven minutes each, with plenty of singing. All are invited to come after the regular church service and assist in the service of song. These meetings will be continued till further notice.—Com.

THE EXCURSIONS ON THE BOOKS

A Rather Busy Week for the "Otonabee" On the River and the Lake

The following is a list of excursions on the books of the Otonabee Navigation Company for the near future:

Saturday, July 4th (to-day)—Bricklayers and Masons to Idyl Wyld, Steamer "Otonabee."

Tuesday, July 7th—George Street Methodist Sunday School picnic to Idyl Wyld, "Otonabee."

Wednesday, July 8th—St. John's Sunday School to Idyl Wyld, Steamer "Otonabee."

Thursday, July 9th—Afternoon regular trip to Idyl Wyld.

The "Monarch's" week end trip is beginning to be a favourite. The return is made to Peterborough at 9 a. m. on Monday.

REPAIRS BEING MADE TO THE DAM

The Pier Rebuilt on West Side of the River

Repairs are being made to the Auburn dam and the pier just north of the power house and on the west side of the river is being rebuilt. The men who are doing the work are picking stones from the river bed in a shallow part, and they are being used in filling in the wooden framework.

SUCCESSFUL FESTIVAL AT GILMOUR MEMORIAL

About 400 Attended—An Excellent Programme Rendered

About 400 attended the Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church festival and concert on Thursday evening, July 2nd. The function was held under the auspices of the young men of the church under the leadership of Mr. Alex Campbell and it was a complete success. The greater portion of the programme was presented by the Salvation Army Band and the Misses Titterson, of Peterborough. The band played splendidly and was very much appreciated as were as the Misses Titterson.

Refreshments including strawberries were served. The tickets alone amounted to $70 and the proceeds after expenses were paid went towards the expense of painting the new horse barn erected last autumn.

GANS AND NELSON ARE AT IT AGAIN

Meet This Afternoon in a 45 Round Contest

Joe Gans and Battling Nelson are once more at each other to-day as a fourth of July event and a despatch from San Francisco states that both men are in good condition. The contest is to go forty-five rounds practically to the finish, and is for the lightweight championship. The weight agreement calls for 133 pounds stripped at the ring side. Gans is favourite at 2 to 1. Their last meeting was at Goldfield, when Gans got the decision.

The result will be received at the Oriental Hotel to-night by special wire.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed, "Tenders for heating apparatus, Peterborough, Ont., Drill Hall," will be received at this office until 4.30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 22nd, 1908, for the construction of a hot water heating system for the Peterborough, Ont., Drill Hall.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department, and on application to Mr. A. J. Grant, Trent Canal Office, Post Office, Peterborough, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank made payable to the order of the Honourable, the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

THE SPECIAL OFFICERS ARRIVED IN THE CITY THIS MORNING

Adjutant and Mrs. White of the Salvation Army, arrived in the city this morning to spend the week-end here. They are attached to the Financial Department at Toronto and were in Peterborough last November. An open air service will be held to-night at the corner of George and Simcoe streets at 7.30 o'clock and the Adjt. and Mrs. White will take charge of the public meeting following.

To-morrow morning a special early prayer meeting will be held at 10.15 at the corner of Water and London streets and as many as possible are requested to be present. At 11 o'clock and also at 3 o'clock in the afternoon holiness meetings will be held. This is something special as it is only usual to hold one holiness meeting. At 7.30 a memorial service for the late Mrs. H C Bacon will be held and as Mrs. Bacon had a great many friends in the city this will likely be well attended. It will be conducted by Staff-Capt. Goodwin, assisted by Adjutant and Mrs. White and Capt. Maisey.

On Thursday next the barracks will have a visit from Capt. Mannion, the new officer succeeding Capt. Hurd, and on that evening a lantern service entitled "For the Master's Sake" will be held.

AN ENJOYABLE TIME WAS SPENT AT OTONABEE SCHOOL

A very enjoyable time was spent Tuesday evening, June 30, when the pupils of S. S. No. 14, Otonabee, with their teacher, Miss Lida Taylor, were entertained at the home of Mr. John Webster.

During the evening the pupils presented their teacher with a beautiful opal ring, accompanied by the following address:

Dear Teacher—We, your pupils, of S. S. No. 14, Otonabee, desire to express our appreciation of your services, and to offer you our love and best wishes, hoping you will enjoy your holidays fully, much.

Signed on behalf of the school,
Charlie Webster.
Reta Brealey.
Annie Kelly.
Vincent Fitzgerald.

Supper was served on the lawn and the remainder of the evening spent in games and amusements.

WHOLE COUNCIL WILL TAKE IT UP

Public Abattoir Question Will Not Be Dealt With by Property Committee

A meeting of the Property Committee of the City Council was held yesterday afternoon, at which there were present Ald. Bradburn (chairman), Ald. Gillespie and Morgan.

A letter was read from W. A. McIlmoyle regarding his request for a rebate of the amount he paid for the market tolls last year. No action was taken.

It was moved by Ald. Gillespie and Morgan that the question of the establishment of a public abattoir be referred to a Committee of the Whole Council.—Carried.

The Legal Committee met in the evening, when a letter was read from Mr. R. F. McWilliams, in regard to an accident to Lillian Reid. The matter was referred to the city solicitor.

A Sentimental Legacy.

By Martha Cobb Sanford.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

It was impossible to convince Marion Earle—she was only nineteen and very pretty—that the course of true love never does run smooth. Indeed, she believed that there was danger of its running too smoothly.

Had she not been engaged one whole month to Gregory Holbrook without the suggestion of even of a cloud on the horizon of their happiness?

"You don't find it monotonous, do you, Gregory, just loving me this way?" she asked him unexpectedly one evening.

"Monotonous!" he echoed, caressing the brown head on his shoulder. "I should say not! I hope we'll go on loving each other this way forever."

"But I don't," piped up Marion, suddenly sitting bolt upright.

Gregory could not believe his ears.

"You don't want me to go on loving you this way, sweetheart?" he gasped.

"Oh, yes, of course, with interims, dear," sighed Marion. "But couldn't you manage to misunderstand me sometimes?"

"Well, I certainly do not understand you now," replied Gregory.

"Oh, that's an entirely different thing," Marion explained.

Gregory shook his head in perplexity.

"It's one thing not to understand a person at all," explained Marion patiently, "and another thing to misunderstand him—to disagree with him and to quarrel."

"You don't want me to quarrel with you, dearest?" Gregory asked in amazement.

Marion nodded her head.

"Um—hum," she admitted. "It's such fun to make up."

As Gregory burst out laughing a spark of something very like real anger kindled in Marion's brown eyes.

"You're making fun of me," she challenged.

"Of course I am, you foolish little girl," chuckled Gregory, gathering her into his arms in a mighty hug and smothering all her protests.

"Well, that was a failure," emphasized Marion as soon as she could get her breath.

"The hug?" asked Gregory seriously.

"No, of course not," asserted Marion before she could catch back the words. "I meant the quarrel. Just the same, Gregory, I shall think up some way to make our courtship exciting yet."

In spite of this warning Holbrook was completely surprised when he received within forty-eight hours the following note from Marion:

"Dear Gregory,—I've thought of a scheme, hasn't it? Aren't you glad? The inspiration came to me while reading the letters of the Brownings. Just imagine our being engaged a whole month without any chance of writing each other love letters! Why, we might have gone on and been married without having a single billet-doux to tie up in ribbon and put away in an old trunk for our grandchildren. So I'm going away. You'll find my address below. No, you can't see me off, but be sure to have a long letter to meet me. Oh, isn't it going to be fun? Goodby, dearest. Your devoted MARION.

"P. S.—This will be the first letter in your collection, so be sure to save it."

Holbrook shoved aside a pile of unopened mail and proceeded to write Marion exactly what he thought of her—a strange medley of mild reproach and extravagant endearment. This he sent off "special" and then turned listlessly to his business correspondence.

But as his mind wandered every now and then to the thought of getting a big, bulging envelope from Marion the next morning he became more reconciled to the situation—in fact, quite feverish with anticipation. Marion was right, after all. It was exciting, and absence certainly did make the heart grow fonder.

The next morning Holbrook found his mail, as usual, assorted in classified piles on his desk. Taking up the batch marked "Personal," he began to run it over eagerly. He stopped suddenly as a colored postal card popped unexpectedly into sight. He held it up closer in order to decipher the almost illegibly fine writing.

"Dearest boy," he made out, "it is lovely here, although you may not think so from this P. C. You were a perfect dear to have that long letter waiting here for me. Isn't the scheme working out beautifully? No time for more now. Write as soon as you get this. M."

For a few wrathful moments Holbrook sat chewing viciously on the end of his penholder. Suddenly, with the manner of one who has made up his mind, he threw it down and called his stenographer.

"My dear Miss Earle," he dictated, "thinking you may find it more convenient in our future correspondence to have on hand some of my self addressed business envelopes, I am having a dozen of them sent to you under separate cover. More will be forwarded as soon as the supply is exhausted.

"You failed to state in your recent communication how long you think it will take for your scheme to materialize. Please do not fail to notify me on this point at your earliest convenience. Respectfully yours," etc.

Sooner than Gregory had deemed it possible the post brought back to him one of his "half addressed" envelopes. He opened it with mingled emotion of curiosity and apprehension.

"My dear Mr. Holbrook," he read, and looked very sober as he did so, "you see I have taken your hint, or, rather, am obeying your orders. I regret that the postal card offended you it was at the time my only means of communication.

"May I request, however, that in your future correspondence you favor me with written rather than dictated letters? Undoubtedly you were driven to this expedient by the press of business.

"As to the length of time it will probably take for the fruition of my scheme, I am sorry to say that from the way things are progressing at present it is impossible to predict any definite date.

"Sincerely yours (by which I mean I'm not joking),

MARION EARLE."

"Well, bless her fiery little heart!" exclaimed Holbrook mentally. "This will never do at all. She shall have all the love letters she wants to tie up in ribbons." And he started to suit the action to the words.

He had proceeded no further than "Dear in my heart," however, when a telegram was handed him.

"Coming home," he read, with amazement. "Need not write. Meet me, 4:30 train. MARION."

Holbrook signed for the message with an exuberant flourish and tore his affectionate salutation into undecipherable fragments.

When, later in the afternoon, Gregory was seated before a hearth fire with Marion's curly brown head on his shoulder, as of old, he asked with mock solemnity:

"You don't find it monotonous, do you, Marion, loving me this way?"

For answer Marion drew from some mysterious hiding place two very crumbled letters and, holding them up, looked at her fiance sternly.

"Isn't it a shame to destroy collection in hand down to one's grandchildren?" she asked him accusingly. "Just two letters, and one a typewritten call down!"

"As romantic as mine, anyway," retaliated Gregory, displaying a picture postal card, a self addressed envelope and a telegram.

"The postal card made you mad, didn't it, dearest boy?" teased Marion.

Gregory refused to commit himself.

"I knew it would," continued Marion, laughing at him. "That's why I sent it."

Gregory tore the card in two and threw it with all the rest of their correspondence into the fire.

"Oh, Gregory!" exclaimed Marion tearfully as she darted toward the rescue of her "love letters."

But Gregory restrained her forcibly, and together they watched their sentimental legacy blaze up, flicker and disappear.

When Gregory looked down into Marion's face, wonderfully beautiful in the firelight, he was surprised to see her smiling—indeed, almost laughing.

"Isn't it all lovely?" she asked him roguishly.

"What's lovely?" asked her big, puzzled lover. "I'm afraid I don't understand."

"Why," Marion made clear to him, "we've really quarrelled, and now comes the fun of making up, you old stupid."

Scientific Fun With a Spider.

It occurred to a scientist in Washington to try what effect the sound of a tuning fork would have on a spider. He had a strong suspicion that the spider would take it for the buzzing of a fly. Selecting a large, fat spider that had long been feasting on flies, the man of science sounded the fork and touched a thread of the spider's web.

The owner was at one edge of its web, and the thread selected was on the other side. Over its wonderful telephone wires the buzzing sound was conveyed to the watchful spider, but from its position it could not tell along which particular line the sound was traveling. It ran to the center of the web in hot haste and felt all round till it touched the thread against the other end of which the fork was sounding. Then, taking another thread along as a precautionary measure, it ran out to the fork and sprang upon it.

At this point it found out its mistake. It retreated for a short distance and stopped to survey this new buzzing creature that should have been a fly, but was strangely unlike any insect it had ever seen. At length, apparently convinced that the object at the outer edge of the web was more suitable for amusement than for an article of diet, it got on it and danced with pleasure. It was evident that the sound of the fork was music to it.—Washington Star.

Right Foot Foremost.

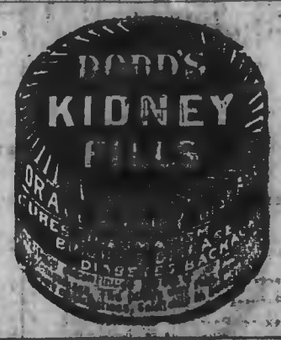
In ancient Rome boys were stationed at the doors of houses to caution visitors against crossing the threshold of the home with the left foot in advance, it being considered an ill omen to do such a thing; hence the expression "right foot foremost."

Croup

When a child wakes up in the middle of the night with a severe attack of croup as frequently happens, no time should be lost in experimenting with remedies of a doubtful value. Prompt action is often necessary to save life.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

has never been known to fail in any case and it has been in use for over one-third of a century. There is none better. It can be depended upon. Why experiment? Is pleasant to take and contains no harmful drug. Price, 25 cents; large size, 50 cents.



IMPROVING ON INSTRUCTIONS

By Taylor White.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Ben Runyon regarded with amusement, if not approbation, the diminutive applicant for the vacant post of office boy. The lad's fluent talk, heavily dashed with the slang of the moment, was diverting even while it exposed his unfitness for the place.

"I'm afraid it's no deal, Lippy," he said, his tone tinged with kindly regret. "You don't quite fill the bill."

He turned back to his desk, but a grimy hand grasped his coat sleeve.

"Forget it, boss!" pleaded Lippy, who had confessed that to be the only name he knew. "I'm in wrack. Get me? I don't live wid me fader and maudder, but it's 'cause I ain't got none, see? What of I do live in a lodgin' house and ain't got me pants pressed? I'll be Johnny on de spot and work a dozen dude kids. Len' me t'ree iron men and I'll be back here wid de glad rags in a half hour. Is it a go? Give a feller a chance, will ye?"

Lippy tried hard to keep a stiff upper lip, but the nervous twitching betrayed his anxiety, and there was a pleading look in the sharp greenish eyes. Runyon drew a five dollar bill from his pocket and handed it to the boy.

"It's a go," he agreed. "Now, for heaven's sake, get a decent looking suit! Don't come back here looking like a prize fighter's sparring partner, and hurry up."

With a muttered "Thanks" that was meant to be brusque, but which spoke whole volumes of the boy's delight, Lippy sped from the office. He was back within the prescribed half hour. A clean shirt and a paper collar had replaced the tattered garment that once had been his body covering. A suit well worn, but clean, and a pair of shoes described by Lippy as "new secondhand" completed the outfit. Lippy was installed.

For a few weeks things went well in the Runyon office. Lippy learned the rudiments of a more conventional speech, and his alertness brought many a smile of approval from Runyon. Lippy was keeping his promise to be "Johnny on the spot."

Then came a blue Monday, when all went wrong. Runyon came to the office with the temper of a bear. He passed Lippy with a curt nod and shut himself in the private office, whence presently came a demand for the typewriter. Lippy reported that she had not yet arrived, and pointed out that she still had fifteen minutes grace. But the fifteen minutes stretched to half an hour, and still the girl had not come, while Runyon's temper grew more savage.

"DON'T MENSHUN IT," MUTTERED LIPPY, BACKING AWAY.

Then came a telephone message. Miss Blake had been married the day before and had gone on her honeymoon. Her mother hoped that it would not inconvenience her employer, but her fiance had been ordered west and the girl had accompanied him.

"What am I going to do without Miss Blake?" stormed Runyon. "There are important papers to be got out. I can't trust them to a public typewriter."

"Get another girl," advised Lippy sagely. "The man what makes the machines keeps girls in cold storage. Phone him and he'll push one down here special delivery."

"No go," dissented Runyon. "I must have one in whose discretion I can trust. The only recommendation those girls require is that they use the machine."

"Ain't you th' bep gimcosh to some dame wit' th' hurry fingers?" suggested Lippy. "Your fren or your fren's fren?"

Runyon started.

"It may do some good," he told himself. "It will show that I am not disposed to hold anger. Take this card and ask the lady if she can come down at once," he added to Lippy, handing the boy a card which he drew from his vest pocket.

Lippy was out of the office like a whirlwind, and presently he was standing in front of a handsome home in the residential district debating with himself if this could be the address. His debate was short. To Lippy orders were orders. He climbed the steps and soon was standing in the hallway, while the butler went off to find the girl.

"You have a letter from Mr. Runyon?" she asked as Lippy was ushered into a room all sweet smells and soft colors. Lippy shook his head in a negative.

"He didn't have no time to write," he explained. "He couldn't wait f'r that. He told me to hot foot it up here and tell you he couldn't wait a'leven seconds wit'out you. You're to come down wit' me."

"What's the matter?" she asked in astonishment. "Mr. Runyon is in some trouble?"

"Up to his neck," declared Lippy. "Say, if you don't get down in a hurry he'll go dead nutty. He was mos' bughouse when I went away from there wit' somethin' t' tell you."

"Wait in the hall. I'll be right down," she promised, while her trembling hands toyed nervously with a ribbon. "I—I did not know it was so serious—that he would take it this way."

"Serious!" echoed Lippy. "I'll bet we find two cops and the ambulance doc in th' place if we don't get there pretty quick."

The girl rang the bell for her maid and Lippy went down to the front hall to spend a pleasant ten minutes in impertinent conversation addressed to the butler with the delightful knowledge that the staid functionary did not dare hit back.

Then the girl came down the stairs looking even more attractive in her heavy furs, and Lippy wonderingly followed her into the automobile that stood at the curb. This sort of typewriter was new to him.

The ride was all too short, and the girl pressed after him as Lippy raced down the hall and proudly threw open the door with a shrill "I got her, boss."

Runyon came out of his private office and halted as he looked at the girl.

"You have come, Aline? You forgive?" he asked hoarsely.

"The boy said you were nearly distracted," she explained. "I should not have come if he had not led me to believe that you were on the point of committing some rash action."

"I sent him for that typewriter you recommended," explained Runyon. "My girl got married yesterday and left town. I had the address of this girl of whom you had spoken. Lippy, let me see that card."

Lippy produced the now battered pasteboard. It was one of Aline Breval's own cards with a pencilled address on the back, but the pencil marks were almost obliterated through friction with other papers.

"I did not notice that the pencil address was blurred out," explained Runyon. "I suppose that Lippy did not even notice the marks. He is responsible for the trouble to which you have been put. But, dear, can't you see the hand of fate in the development? Won't you believe in the sincerity of my penitence and forgive my ill humor?"

Lippy, catching the drift of the remark, searched the girl's face. His quick perception saw in her clear eyes the dawn of forgiveness long before his employer read his answer, and he plucked at Runyon's coat.

"Say, boss," he shrilled, "I'll go out and get me lunch." And as he departed he innocently slipped the spring latch that these two, who were oblivious to all else than themselves, should not be disturbed by the intrusion of book agents or peddlers.

It was an hour before he showed up again, and Runyon was working feverishly at his desk, while Miss Breval sat by the window enjoying the panorama of the city spread before her gaze.

Runyon handed him a letter.

"Take that to this address," he said smilingly. "It is the address of the new typewriter. When she comes, give her these specifications to copy. I shall not be here when you get back. I shall not be back until tomorrow."

"I'm sorry I didn't get her th' first time," said Lippy hypocritically.

"It's all right," assured Runyon as he added a five dollar bill to the envelope he still held out. "You improved upon instructions, and we, Miss Breval and myself, are very much obliged."

"Don't menshun it," muttered Lippy, backing away, for Miss Breval was smiling upon him, and the radiance of that smile abashed the boy's assurance for the first time in his eventful young life.

Charles Reade's Lunatics.

The author of "Leaves from a Life," a woman, referring to Charles Reade's notion that half the people shut up in lunatic asylums had no business to be there, says: "One day he told papa he had picked out twelve quite sane men from among the supposed lunatics, and one of the doctors had promised to ask them all to dinner and give them another chance. Would papa come too? As papa knew the doctor and knew also that ample precautions would be taken, he agreed, and the dinner duly came off. All went well, the twelve lunatics behaved admirably, and Charles Reade became more and more sure that he had rescued twelve unfortunates from worse than prison until the dessert was placed on the table. Then the doctor, turning to the man on his left, said: 'Have you been introduced to your next door neighbor? He is the Virgin Mary.' The lunatic leaped to his feet. 'You lie!' he screamed. 'I am the Virgin Mary.' And in a moment all the twelve lunatics began to show themselves in their real colors."

Too Dangerous.

Mr. Church—Whew, how it's raining! Lend me your umbrella, dear. I've got to run over to the vestry meeting.

Mrs. Church—But why not use that umbrella you've been carrying all week?

Mr. Church—What, to the vestry meeting? Why, that's where I got it. —Philadelphia Press.

Not So Bad.

Mr. Subbs (after engaging cook)—There's one other thing I suppose you should know, Miss Flannigan—my wife is a chronic invalid, confined to her room.

Miss Flannigan—That's fine. I was afeerd she might be wan iv thim chronic kickers that ar-re confined t' th' kitchen, begobs!—Puck.

A RUSSIAN MINE IS ON FIRE

Terrible Plight of Men Imprisoned by Explosion.

SCORES STILL IN THE PIT

Flames in Galleries of Yusovo Render Attempts at Rescue Useless — Two Hundred and Fourteen Bodies Recovered—Shock Causes Death of Three Women—Others Driven Mad With Horror.

Yusovo, Russia, July 4.—The bodies of 214 persons recovered from the Rikovsky mine, which was the scene of an explosion of gas on Thursday, were buried yesterday.

The horror of the situation was added to the fire, which, penetrated the inner galleries where there are 150 men imprisoned, made the efforts of the rescue parties almost useless.

Behind heaps of fallen debris could be heard all day cries for help. Fifty-three bodies were taken out yesterday, all terribly mutilated, some of the men having been burned to death, while the heads and limbs of others had been torn off by the force of the explosion. Seventy-five wounded also were taken out and removed to hospitals. Of these ten succumbed during the day, and many others are in a precarious condition.

Three women who stood at the month of the pit and recognized the bodies of their husbands are reported dead from shock. A number of others have gone mad.

The explosion occurred just after the night shift entered the mine. The last twenty men of the shift were still in the cage at the bottom of the shaft, and they were drawn to the surface uninjured. Rescue parties were at once organized and commenced to go down. Six of the rescuers were suffocated. The others bravely continued at work.

In the meanwhile the five thousand miners who had gathered at the hold of the shaft became so excited that troops had to be summoned. They cleared the ground, and to-day allowed only member of the families of the victims to come within their cordon.

To Open Model Schools.

Toronto, July 4.—The Department of Education has decided upon its model school policy for the coming autumn.

It has been decided to propose to the boards of trustees of the following model schools to have them retained for this year: Kingston, Cornwall, Lindsay, Renfrew, Durham, Minden, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, Kenora, Bracebridge and Parry Sound. These schools are intended for the preparation of candidates for the new third-class certificates (the former district certificates).

In order that there may be no fees charged to pupils in these schools, the Department will pay the board a sum of money in lieu of the legislative and county grants.

The diminution in the number of model schools required for this year is due to the fact that three of the new normal schools, making six in all, will be opened for work in September next.

Caught In Whirlpool.

Niagara Falls, July 4.—Fred Preston, proprietor of the Fancy Goods Bazaar, had a narrow escape from death in the whirlpool yesterday, while endeavoring to recover a body believed to be that of Henry McBain, who was drowned in the boat accident last week at Chippewa. Having located the body, Preston attached a rope to the bank and tied the other end around his waist. While swimming out to secure the body the rope broke and Preston was left in the turbulent waters. Only a sudden swirl of the eddy and the fact that he is a powerful swimmer saved him.

Preston, owing to his position near the whirlpool, sees nearly all the bodies as they float in the pool, and has recovered nearly all the drowned for the past few years.

Fire In Niagara Hotel.

Niagara Falls, July 4.—At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, fire broke out in the basement of the lower hotel—the large four-storey building—the Riverway, at Niagara Falls, N.Y. From the position of the building it was feared a general conflagration would result. The entire fire department was called out, and near by cities asked to be in readiness to aid. The fire was, however, confined to the basement.

Hurt at Barn Raising.

Teeswater, July 4.—At a barn-raising at John Ireland's on the concession 2 of Culross, one of the timbers slipped, throwing three young men to the ground, injuring all three. John Inglis fell across a timber, breaking an arm and leg, also injuring him internally. He will probably die. The other two men, named Kelley and McDonald, were not seriously hurt.

Oxford Endowment Grows.

London, July 4.—The Oxford University endowment fund which was inaugurated by Lord Curzon on his election to the chancellorship has reached $500,000, and W. W. Astor has given his second donation of $50,000, which he promised on March 12 last. Mr. Astor's total donation amounts to $100,000.

Don't Like the Poll Tax.

London, July 4.—(C.A.P.)—Several tourist correspondents to The Daily Telegraph call attention to their experiences while crossing from Canada to the United States, especially regarding the demand of poll-tax and inquisition by officials.

They demand the removal of the indignities.

No Breach of Promise.

Montreal, July 4.—About nine days ago Charles H. Shaw of Zanesville, O., was arrested on a capais at the instance of Miss Charlotte B. Webster of this city, who alleges breach of promise. The case was dismissed.

FIREWORKS FACTORY BLOWN UP

Six Lives Lost Already by Explosions of Fireworks.

"FOURTH" FATALITIES BEGIN

Disaster in Store at Cleveland—Clerk Was Showing Customer How to Let Off Rocket—Spark Ignited Stock of Fireworks—Panic Ensued in Which Girls Were Suffocated —Store Burned at Brockport.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 4.—A building on Steeplechase Island, used as a factory for making fireworks, was blown to pieces last night by the explosion of the materials used in their manufacture. There was no one in the building at the time of the explosion.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 4.—Five girls and a five-year-old boy are dead, while possibly a score of others were more or less seriously injured as the result of an explosion of fireworks in the S. Kresge five and ten cent store on Ontario street yesterday.

A panic among the hundreds of clerks and customers followed the explosion. It was not known until nearly two hours after the fire was out, when the firemen began searching the building, that any lives were lost.

The fire was started when one of the clerks was demonstrating one of the pieces of fireworks, a spark from which ignited the others.

Henry Miller, an employe of the store, as soon as he discovered the fire, ran hastily to the top floor and then went down the fire escape in the rear. At each floor Miller stopped and opened the windows, calling on the girl clerks to come out. He pulled many of them through the windows to the fire escapes.

At least seventy-five, he says, got out.

The young boy who lost his life in the fire was identified as James Parker. He was in the store with his mother when the explosion occurred. The mother escaped uninjured. None of the bodies of the dead girls have thus far been identified. They were evidently smothered, as the bodies were not badly burned.

Cleveland, July 4.—Late last night it was declared that seven lives had been lost, and that two other persons would die as the result of yesterday's explosion.

New York, July 4.—Walter White, aged 14; Eugene Heym, 14, and Harry Gill, 16, all of Port Richmond, S.I., were carrying a bag containing twenty-five pounds of gunpowder when a spark from a cigarette which one of the lads was smoking burned a hole in the bag and ignited the powder. There were explosions in quick succession, and the boys were enveloped in flames. It is believed the Heym and Gill boys will die White may recover.

Rochester, N.Y., July 4.—A special from Brockport, N.Y., says: With an explosion that could be heard for blocks, the large assortment of fireworks which Frank G. Curvin had on hand in his news store on Main street went up in smoke shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In a minute the interior of the store was in flames, and before the fire was extinguished damage estimated at $4,000 had been done.

New York, July 4.—Ample provision is being made by the Health Department to care for those who are injured to-day in the name of patriotism. The department has distributed 1,500 phials of tetanus anti-toxin to its borough offices and to the hospitals for use in caring for the victims.

Not counting in the holiday murders and suicides, the number of deaths from the abuse of fireworks and the toy pistol in the last few years shows that this provision is most necessary. It was estimated three days after the Fourth of July celebration last year that thirty-seven deaths had resulted from the celebration and 2,158 persons had been maimed. This number was considerably increased the following week. The extention of the use of the tetanus anti-toxin undoubtedly kept these figures from being even more appalling, for in 1906 the number of maimed throughout the country amounted to 2,789. In this city alone last year 205 persons were wounded by the deadly toy pistol. 99 less than on the preceding Independence Day.

Stormont Stays Liberal.

Stormont, July 4.—Mr. Justice Osler has dismissed the appeal of J. C. Milligan, the Conservative candidate of Stormont, from the judgment of Judge O'Reilly in the recount of the votes cast at the election of June 8 last, in which Judge O'Reilly refused to throw out votes to which the counterfoil was accidentally left attached.

Death for Bomb-Throwing.

New York, July 4.—A despatch to The Tribune from New Orleans says: A bill making bomb-throwing punishable by death passed the House yesterday. It will have little opposition in the Senate. The building, vehicle or vessel at which the explosive is directed must hold a human being to constitute a violation. It is expected that Black Hand outrages in New Orleans will largely cease.

Prohibition of Opium.

Ottawa, July 4.—The Government, acting on the report of Mackenzie King in respect to the growing evils of the opium trade in Canada will introduce a bill this session to prohibit the manufacture and importation of opium in Canada, except as required solely for medicinal purposes.

Sneeze Dislodges Eyeball.

Guelph, July 4.—While sneezing, Corpl. Hart of London, who is in camp here, dislodged his eyeball, which came out on his cheek. The eye was replaced by a physician.

Wife Beater Arrested.

Kingston, July 4.—On a charge of cruelly assaulting his wife, Harvey Campbell, a shipbuilder, was arrested here yesterday. He pleaded guilty and was remanded for a week.

IMPULSE TO RUN AWAY.

Cashier Took $1,600 But Conscience Troubled Him.

Detroit, Mich., July 4.—Heilman, the defaulting cashier for Neilson & Co., Toronto, arrested here, denies having played the races.

While on his way to the bank with the $1,600 he was seized with a sudden impulse to run away and have a good time.

"In Buffalo I met a woman, and we 'killed it,'" he says. "When we started for Detroit four days ago, nothing was too good for us. We had the most expensive parlor on the boat, and bought all the champagne in sight. I never took any change from the bellhops, so they must have had a profitable trip.

"After being in Detroit a couple of days my conscience began troubling me. I expected every minute that an officer would say 'I want you.' Finally I decided to give myself up and arranged the arrest with my Buffalo woman friend, who had acquaintances on the Detroit force."

Heilman is a native of Philadelphia, where his 84-year-old mother lives. He wept when he referred to the effect of his disgrace upon her.

Fearing that interested parties might attempt Heilman's release, Capt. of Detectives McDonnell yesterday afternoon removed Heilman to Windsor to await the arrival of the Toronto officer.

NEW POSTAGE STAMPS.

Special Centenary Issue Will Be Out Next Week.

Ottawa, July 4.—The special postage stamps to be issued in commemoration of the tercentenary celebration at Quebec are now ready, and will be placed on sale next week. The stamps are of most artistic design, and are larger than the ordinary size, to allow of adequate representation of historic scenes, portraits, etc. The description of each denomination is as follows: Half-cent, grey, picture of the Prince and Princess of Wales; one-cent, green, portraits of Champlain and Cartier; two-cent, red, King Edward and Queen Alexandra; five-cent, blue, representation of L'Habitation de Quebec; seven-cent, yellow, pictures of Montcalm and Wolfe; ten-cent, mauve, picture of Quebec in 1700; fifteen-cent, picture of the Parliament of the west of the old regime; twenty-cent, green, picture of a courier du bois with Indians.

Stole His Gold Teeth.

New York, July 4.—A despatch to The Tribune from Omaha says: Tramps with forceps and a knack for dentistry captured T. C. Roberts, a brakeman of a freight train entering the Omaha yards last night, despite his struggle, extracted eight of his teeth.

Roberts, who had a striking display of gold fillings in his mouth, had attempted to put the tramps, who were several in number, from his train. After their dental work they carefully place the teeth in their pockets and leaped from the train, disappearing in the darkness.

The case was reported to the Omaha police yesterday by Roberts, and all the tramps in the city are being rounded up in an effort to capture the guilty men.

The police coincide in the view of Roberts that depredations by "hoboes" are going altogether too far.

Life Saved by Dog.

Tillsonburg, July 4.—Fire broke out about 1 o'clock yesterday morning in the home of Jas. Smith, and as the building was frame and in a part of the town not projected by the waterworks system, it was completely destroyed. Part of the furniture was carried out and the surrounding dwellings saved from fire by hard work on the part of a bucket brigade.

Mrs. Smith had a rather narrow escape, getting out of the burning building with only such clothes as she could grab hurriedly. She was alone in the house, and sound asleep until she was awakened by her dog which, alarmed by the flames, jumped on her bed.

Regulations Are Trying.

London, July 4.—(C.A.P.)—At a meeting of the central unemployed body yesterday Prebendary Russel Wakefield said the new Canadian immigration regulations were extremely trying, but appeared to be justified.

The chairman of the emigration committee stated that the fact that a million acres in New Zealand were awaiting development was receiving the attention of the committee.

Royalty Rides With Zeppelin.

Friedrichshafen, July 4.—For the first time in history a reigning king and queen yesterday made an ascension in a steerable balloon. The royal personages were King Wilhelm of Wurtemberg and Queen Charlotte, who are staying in their castle on the shores of Lake Constance and who accepted Count Zeppelin's offer to make a trip in his airship.

Injuries Prove Fatal.

Belleville, Ont., July 4.—Herbert Sills of this city is dead as the result of a fall from a scaffold at the Gas Works some time ago, when he was injured internally. He was 51 years old, and leaves a wife and family.

Bank Man Held Up.

Vancouver, July 4.—C. A. Crosbie, superintendent of the Royal Bank of Canada, was held up Thursday evening by masked men. When Mr. Crosbie struck up the hand that held the revolver the man ran and got away.

Praise For Mr. Wilkie.

London, July 4.—(C.A.P.)—The Financial News regards D. R. Wilkie's address at the meeting of the Imperial Bank as "an excellent reply to the critics of Canadian finance on both sides of the Atlantic."

Potter Slightly Stronger.

Cooperstown, N.Y., July 4.—Bishop Potter seems to have held his own fairly well during the day and at six o'clock last night he appeared somewhat stronger than at the same hour Thursday.

Mounted Police For Body Guard.

Ottawa, July 4.—At the personal request of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, 25 or 30 of the R.N.W.M.P. will be sent to Quebec to constitute a body guard to his person while in Canada.

PURITY OF ELECTION BALLOT

The Elections Bill Discussed by House in Committee.

AMENDMENT IS ACCEPTED

Civil Servants and Elections—Premier Objects to Make Criminals of Them —Refuses to Allow Penalty For Taking Part—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Statement as to Program of Session—End in Sight.

Ottawa, July 4.—Practically the whole time of the House of Commons yesterday was occupied in a discussion in committee of the Election Bill. Considerable progress was made by the time the House adjourned, though some contentious clauses still remain to be disposed of.

Replying to Mr. Borden, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he would make a definite announcement on Monday as to the Government bills which would be introduced this session. As he had already stated, the situation with regard to the Manitoba boundaries bill had undergone a change; the Provincial Legislature had asked for money instead of lands, and it was a question what should be done.

He would announce on Monday whether the bill should be brought down or not, and also what other legislation would be taken up; the Prime Minister added that he hoped prorogation would take place before the visit of the Prince of Wales.

A. H. Clarke moved an amendment providing that an elector shall not lose his vote by moving from one part of a village to another, though the moving may have transferred him to another riding. This was carried.

The committee voted down the proposal of Mr. Alcorn to require candidates to publish minute details of election expenses.

Mr. Lake proposed an amendment forbidding deputy returning officers and Government officials taking an active part in elections.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth pointed out that the law already made it an indictable offence for deputy returning officers and polling officials to act as agents. With regard to the proposal that civil servants should be prohibited from taking part in elections there were so many considerations involved that he was not prepared to accept the amendment.

Mr. Borden said the House had already passed resolutions condemning participation by civil servants in elections.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the resolutions had had the effect of rendering the Government officials who acted reprehensibly in elections liable to disciplinary measures, but while deprecating such participation he was not prepared to go the length of making it a criminal offence for a civil servant to take part in an election.

The House rose at midnight, three clauses of the election bill being allowed to stand till Monday. It is expected two hours will suffice to pass the bill.

Saturday the land bill and public works supply will be taken up.

Civic Workmen Strike.

Prince Albert, July 4.—The city employes and employes of Contractor McVean putting in the waterworks extensions are striking for $2 instead of $1.75 per day. Mayor Cook at a meeting of the strikers pointed out that only $1.50 was being paid for this work at Regina and other western cities, and said that Prince Albert had sold debentures at a six thousand dollar loss in order to give work to the unemployed.

C. R. Moulton, spokesman for the strikers, retorted that the work was dangerous, and it was impossible to live on $1.75 per day, and that none of the civic officials had had their salaries reduced by reason of the hard times.

A resolution was passed asking the council to have a fair wage clause inserted in all civic contracts. The contractors claim that they can get all the men required at $1.50.

Child's Evidence Convicts.

Dutton, July 4.—On the evidence of the five-year-old daughter of Landlord Hood of the Queen's Hotel yesterday, George Cook, an Englishman, was sentenced to eight months in Central prison for the theft of a watch. There was scarcely a shred of evidence against Cook until the little girl swore that he had shown her the timepiece and had allowed her to listen to the tick.

Revolution In Paraguay.

Buenos Ayres, July 4.—The latest advices received from private sources at Formosa, in the northwestern part of Argentina, say there has been sanguinary fighting in the streets of Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay, where a revolution is said to have broken out recently, and that hundreds of persons have been killed or wounded.

Won't Allow Leach to Jump.

Niagara Falls, July 4.—Robert Leach purposed making another parachute jump from the upper steel arch bridge this afternoon, but the International Railway Co. have refused to grant him permission. No reason is assigned for the refusal, but the interruption to traffic may have caused them to deny a second permit.

Work on Cornwall Canal.

Cornwall, July 4.—Remarkable progress has been made on the work of repairing the break in the Cornwall Canal, and it is now expected that navigation may be resumed in about a week.

Beck Still Has a Majority.

London, July 4.—The recount was finished yesterday afternoon in the Beck-McEvoy election, and leaves Mr. Beck's majority 1,403. Three rejected ballots were allowed, two for Beck and one for McEvoy. One ballot wrongfully counted for Beck was added to the McEvoy column.

THE EXAMINER'S SPORTING PAGE

STEVENS AND SPENCELY STICK TOGETHER LIKE TWO BROTHERS

A good deal of interest has been aroused locally in the big walk now in progress each night at the roller rink. This in spite of a certain prejudice which people generally seemed to entertain against any such venture.

Last night's crowd was large enough to be most satisfactory to the management, while it widened the increase in interest of the walk. While Stacey, of the I.C.A.S., Toronto, made another remarkably good showing, perhaps the best of all and the gamest walk of the lot was that of Curtis. Curtis is not young, like Spencely, but he has an extraordinary amount of grit and stick-at-itiveness. Though labouring under obvious difficulty, he stayed with the game and at the last seemed to have more go in him than at 8 o'clock.

What arouses a good deal of interest, if not actual amusement, is the most determined way in which Charlie Stevens sticks to W. Spencely. Spencely is a big long thin chap, who in a suit of blue with dark trunks wends his way around the rink at a gait that is not slow by any means. Stevens' idea seems to be to let Spencely do the leading—making the pace, so to speak. This he has done for 35 miles. Each night he has followed him steadily for two hours and a half, then when Spencely is not prepared, goes by him to gain a lap in a short time. Twice did he work this on Wednesday night and three times last night. Stevens, therefore, stands five laps ahead of W. Spencely. J. Spencely, fourth man will be inside the money if present indications count for anything. The only man who might keep him out is Dave Hartley, who, should his lame foot get better, will sure enough surprise the crowd Saturday night. Hartley did something like 16 miles last night, and is in much better shape than at the start. George Reilly's feet, in no shape for such a grind at any stage of the game, went back on him, forcing him to quit. He started off very well last night, but his case is hopeless now. Green, the other local man, is dangerous, and if his present form holds good will make some of them hump along at a faster clip than they went last night to beat him out. In view of all the circumstances, he is making a first-class showing.—Lindsay Post.

BLAKE, COLOURED WALKER IS AFTER JIMMY REYNOLDS' SCALP

J. E. Blake, the coloured pedestrian who was second to Hoagland in the big walk here in April, is after Jimmy Reynolds' scalp and writes to the sporting editor of the Examiner from Long Branch, N.J.:

Dear Sir,—I wish you would state for me through your paper that I will walk any pedestrian in the world from 100 to 200 miles for a side bet of from $200 to $1,000, the race to take place next autumn. I would like to take on Jimmy Reynolds first because he thinks he has a chance. I hope he will fall on this soft spot.

Yours, etc.,
J. E. Blake.

A New Jersey paper has the following to say of Blake:

J. E. Blake, champion walker, was in town yesterday. He is in training nearby and frequently will visit this city during the summer. Runson road is his favourite place for exercise, and daily he can be seen there speeding up for short stretches in order to improve his stride. Last winter, after Blake had been in training on the famous drive, he entered a number of contests throughout the country and in Canada and took a number of honours. This year he will go to England and later will return and appear in Canada in competition with the best American pedestrians.

"Uncle Remus" Is Dead.

Atlanta, Ga., July 4.—Joel Chandler Harris, the author, better known by his pseudonym "Uncle Remus," died at his home here last night. He had been in poor health for the last month, but had not been regarded as seriously ill for more than ten days. Mr. Harris was a Georgian by birth and a printer by trade. He served as an editorial writer on a number of southern papers and was for twenty-five years editor of The Atlanta Constitution. It was in this paper that he first published the negro dialect stories which made him famous, the humorous, whimsical tales of Brer Fox and Brer Rabbit and Brer Terrapin and the rest of the animal folk, so well known in every nursery. There are several series of Uncle Remus' tales in the list of his books, and in addition sketches of Georgia, a history of Georgia, "On the Wings of the Occasion," "Wally Wanderdom" and numerous other works.

Mysterious Drowning.

Hamilton, July 4.—Coroner Watson opened an inquest at Burlington yesterday on the body of James L. Henderson, which was found on the lake shore, near the Brant House Thursday. No water was found in the lungs, and the doctors were inclined to think that life was extinct before the body reached the water. This is also strengthened by the fact that there are several scalp wounds, but these are not considered sufficient to cause death. The jury decided to order a post-mortem examination. As far as known now, there is no motive for murder. The enquiry was adjourned until July 8.

HE DID IT THOROUGHLY

Amazing Story of Freak Suicide—Loved Three Women.

Chicago, June 4.—A despatch to The Record-Herald from Hazelhurst, Miss., says:

Unable to decide which of three women he really wanted to marry, Eli Hood, 17 years old, a boarder at the farmhouse of Eli Graves, eight miles from Hazelhurst, decided that the best way out of the difficulty was to commit suicide in such a way that each of the women would know that he had killed himself for her.

For Miss Carrie Nelson, 18 years old, he swallowed 60 grains of morphine; for Miss Eva Spillman, aged 25, he drank four ounces of laudanum, and for Miss Henrietta McDonald, aged 16, he put the muzzle of a shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his toe.

Beside his body was found on a table a paper wrapper that contained the morphine. On it was scrawled "For Carrie." The empty laudanum bottle stood on a slip of paper on which was written "For Eva." An empty envelope on which a picture of a shotgun had been drawn was inscribed "Henrietta."

Except that he had been acting queerly and that he had become despondent, Graves said he saw nothing in Hood's behavior that indicated that he contemplated self-destruction.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Frank Snook was drowned at Belly river, Alberta.

W. Poole was fatally injured by an explosion of dynamite at Westbourne, Man.

W. Robbins, an Englishman, committed suicide at Fort William by taking laudanum.

St. John, N.B., milltiamen, who have been selected for the trip to the tercentenary at Quebec, and have been drilling for several days, now refuse to go unless pay is granted.

Two burglars at Foxboro, near Belleville, were chased by villagers and a shot was fired. They got away. Denyest & Son's general store and A. E. Gardner's jewelry store were entered.

A total of eleven deaths is the heat record in Greater New York for 24 hours. The hospitals are overcrowded with sufferers. The mortality among infants is very high. Showers to-day are expected to bring relief.

Artilleryman Is Hurt.

Guelph, July 4.—Driver Percy Kitching of the Field Battery, encamped here, who hails from near Corwhin, was crossing the sidewalk on horseback when his horse slipped. The unfortunate rider was unable to extricate his foot from the stirrup in time and the heavy horse fell on top of it, breaking it in two places, at the ankle and in the foot.

The Coyote.

The wily coyote abounds in southern California and, if not courageous, is always troublesome. At night he leaves the foothills and sallies forth to visit neighboring towns, passing through the outskirts, and lurking around back door yards—a veritable scavenger. When alarmed, he is alert, and easily outdistances the fleetest common dog.

Occasionally he is seen by the light of the moon dashing away, with a yelping laugh or cry, followed by a half-score of dogs; and it is said that the coyote will at times allure the dogs on until one is in the fore, then turn and lead the victim to an ambush where several coyotes are lying in wait. Seemingly at a signal they will pitch upon him and send him home, torn and bleeding, if not seriously injured.

Almost every canyon in the range is the vantage ground of one or more coyotes. As the sun rises they leave the plains and make their way to the hills, where they sleep on the soft grass, or lie on the ledges of rock that overlook the ravines.

The coyote is about the size of a setter dog, often smaller, with a bushy, wolf-like tail, big, prominent ears and an exceedingly odd expression. A glance at the animal would not convince one that it was adapted by nature to remarkable bursts of speed, yet such is one of the attributes of this singular creature.

The swiftest dogs are required to capture it, and then Master Coyote succumbs only after a one or two-mile run at race horse speed—not the run of a fox before the hounds, but a chase where the game is ever in sight, and the horses are put to the utmost speed, as upon the track. No wonder, then, that the coyote has attracted the attention of the cross-country rider, and is considered game well worthy the best mettle of horse and rider.

PRESERVE THE BIRDS.

Old Twilight Talks Sensibly on the Subject.

"Every spring," quoth Old Twilight, "there is a convention of fellers who meet to devise ways an' means of preserving the moose, an' the deer, an' the beaver. They sometimes include the musk-rat and the bullfrog. They send deppytations to Parliament an' they get purty near all they ast fer. Why, away up north a half-starved settler, who has been living on dried codfish an' potatoes all winter, dasen't shoot a deer out uv season, even if a mouthful of fresh meat would save the hull fambly from havin' the bush fever, which is the same as the prairie fever an' the Red River fever an' the mountain fever, and the coast fever—all the same thing. I don't find fault with these fellers; but there are things that need pertection a dang sight more'n the wild beastses up north. I'm alludin' to the birds. I don't see ner hear as many of um this spring as I used to. They are gittin' scarcer every year, just becuz they are not purtected and the laws fer their purtection ain't enforced, if thur is any. That's the reason we've got to spray our stuff. We've got to spray our fruit trees; we've got to spray our berry bushes; we've got to spray our 'taters an' turmots; purty soon we'll hev to spray our grain crops an' our grass, an', by ginger! the day'll come when we will hev to spray ourselves, especially the old folks an' the kids.

"We wouldn't need no sprayin' machines if we had lots of birds.

"If the women would make as much fuss about the air gun evil in connection with boys an' youths as they do 'bout the cigarette evil, they would be doin' somethin' fer the country. An air gun ain't unhealthy fer a boy, but it's mighty unhealthy for a robin or a warbler or a woodpecker—an' don't you forgit it. What good is an air gun, anyway? No good 'tall! If the women would up'n ast the Gov'ment to forbid their manufacture an' sale, the hull country would be with them. An' then the cats! They's millions uv cats strollin' round the country who spend every summer huntin' birds. What good are them cats? No good 'tall! It wouldn't do, mebbe, to kill all the cats, but if a body was stuck on a cat, why, let him git out a license fer it, same's a dog, an' make him put a tag on it, an' then clean up all the felines that nobody owns. That would give the birds a chance. People don't encourage the birds to come around; they'd sooner depend on paris green an' copperas. The trees are gettin' scarce, and in the long drouths the water holes an' springs dry up. What's the matter with nailin' up bird boxes an' have a bird bath in every orchard? You can't believe how the birds would appreciate that.

"But I'm down on air guns. The pothunter with his two-dollar shot gun goin' about killin' everything he sees is bad enough, but you can hear that feller an' smell his smoke; but the feller with the air gun kin shoot the swallers in yer barn and you, milkin' in the yard, won't know nothin' 'bout it. Dang! A generation from now folks will wonder what a crow looked like, and you'll hev to go to a picter book to see a robin!"

East Indian Immigration.

Even more satisfactory than the settlement of the Hindu immigration difficulty is the method by which it has been accomplished. In this as in other matters where Imperial and state affairs come into real or apparent conflict, Canada has set valuable precedents, which will be of lasting influence. Mr. Mackenzie King's mission has sufficed to show that British statesmen are fully cognizant of the determination of the self-governing states of the Empire to remain characteristically Anglo-Saxon communities and give it their sympathetic support. A question which at one time assumed a somewhat serious aspect and led to rather hasty censure of Canada by a section of the British press has thus been got rid of in a way which strengthens the Imperial bond and strikingly illustrates the advantage attending consultation and co-operation on a basis of mutual confidence. Mr. Mackenzie King has discharged his delicate duties with a skill and tact that cannot but enhance his already considerable reputation as a Canadian public servant.

Rain and Animals.

"Lions, tigers and all the cat tribe dread rain," said a zoo keeper. "On a rainy day they tear nervously up and down their cages, growling and trembling. We usually give them an extra ration of hot milk. That puts them to sleep. Wolves love a gray day of rain. They are then very cheery. Treacherous as the wolf is, no keeper need fear him on a rainy day. He is too happy to harm a fly. Snakes, too, like rain. They perk up wonderfully as the barometer falls and the damp makes itself felt in their warm cases of glass.

"Rain makes monkeys glum. They are apt from instinct, when they see it through the window, to clasp their hands above their heads and sit so for hours. That attitude, you know, makes a kind of shelter. It is the primitive umbrella. So, when it rained, the naked primitive man and woman sat gloomily in the primeval swamps of giant ferns."

Newspapers Are Cursed.

Boston, July 4.—The Sun Worshippers, in convention here, have laid a sweeping curse upon the newspapers of the land. They have also begun a unique Fourth of July celebration in all sorts of freak costumes.

Robbers Get $18,000.

Samare, Russia, July 4.—A train running between Ufa and Zlatoust was robbed yesterday. The robbers got $18,000, escaping amid a salvo of revolver shots.

Against Cattle Embargo.

London, July 4.—(C.A.P.)—The demand for the removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle continues. Thursday's meeting of the meat traders was the starting point of what promises to be a vigorous campaign. The members of Parliament of all schools are uniting — Conservatives such as Lord Robert Cecil, Liberals like Strauss, Laborites of the calibre of Bowerman. The trust danger is emphasized and also the ruin of the side industries depending on by-products of cattle. It is stated that more important trades have been hard hit.

In spite of the reform worked very largely through Charles Dickens' picture in the debtors' prison in "Pickwick Papers," it is said that imprisonment for debt is largely on the increase in England. A Parliamentary return just issued shows that last year 11,986 debtors were imprisoned in England and Wales. In 1905 the number was 11,405, so that there was an increase of over 500 last year, although the number of complaints was less than in 1905. The House of Commons during the recent session passed a resolution that the power of committing to prison for nonpayment of debt ought to be restricted, and the House of Lords upon the second reading of the Lord Chancellor's county court bill expressed a strong opinion in favor of restriction of this sort of power.

Danger in a Cold

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Not only pneumonia, but also the infectious diseases such as diphtheria and scarlet fever start with a cold. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of these diseases. Take our advice—cure your cold while you can.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

by its remarkable cures of colds has become a staple article of trade and commerce. It is prompt; it is effectual; it is reliable. Try it

The Tooth Brush Question

It is very annoying to pay a good price for a Tooth Brush and then have the bristles loosen up and stick in your mouth. We guard you against this very unfortunate occurrence.

Any Brush you pay 25c or over for at our stores, we guarantee to give satisfaction or a new Tooth Brush.

We have them at 10 and 15c, but then your mouth deserves a better Brush.

HORSE FRIGHTENED BY MOTOR CAR RAN AWAY AND BROKE ITS LEG

On Friday evening last a serious accident occurred at the foot of Allen's hill which resulted in the destruction of a valuable horse the property of Mr. W D Leach. The accident was caused by the horse taking fright at a touring car owned and occupied by Mr. W. D. Loomis. Mr. Leach, accompanied by his wife and child, were returning to the village and had reached a small hollow that lies between the foot of Allen's hill and Kell's hill. Mr. Loomis was leaving Millbrook and reached the top of Kell's hill unnoticed by Mr. Leach.

The horse driven by Mr. Leach was a spirited animal and immediately bolted, throwing out the occupants. The horse ran down the hill, completely demolishing the carriage and breaking its own leg, with the result that the animal had to be subsequently shot. The occupants of the carriage were badly shaken up. The horse was valued at $175.

Mr. Loomis immediately stopped his touring car and returned to the scene of the accident. While he does not admit any responsibility on his part, it is understood he is dealing liberally in the matter with Mr. Leach.

MR. HALL WAS PLEASED WITH CITY

Guest of Mr. Boerema—Connected With Toronto Construction Company

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hall, of Cleveland, Ohio, were the guests on Saturday and Sunday of Mr. M. W. Boerema, who is connected with the new company that was formed last week for the manufacturing of the Automatic Grease Cup in this city, known as the Peterborough Lubricator Manufacturing Company. Mr. Hall, who is connected with the Toronto Construction Company, Limited, which has the contract for the building of the new railway for the Grand Trunk Pacific, a part of the Intercolonial, which, when completed, will run across the continent. Mr. Hall's company has the contract for the New Brunswick end of the work. Mr. and Mrs. Hall left last night for their new field, and before departing Mr. Hall expressed his delight with the city of Peterborough and with the way that the gentleman who has charge of the Lift Lock here showed and explained the workings of that grand piece of mechanism.—Com.

AN UNGRATEFUL OPPOSITION.

The Federal Government and the leader of the Opposition have been conferring for some weeks over the election bill, with a view to hastening the end of the session. The results of these negotiations were embodied in amendments to the bill, which were explained yesterday by the Minister of Justice.

The Government has never questioned the Provincial voters' lists in any part of the Dominion where they are based upon the municipal lists. In Manitoba, however, the Provincial lists are practically made by the officials of the Provincial Government, and there is a similar system in British Columbia, and in the unorganized portions of Ontario and Quebec. In Manitoba there is the further difficulty of adapting the lists for 40 Provincial constituencies to 10 Dominion constituencies. The Federal Opposition refused Sir Wilfrid's fair and reasonable offer to intrust the revision of the Federal lists to the county judges of Manitoba. He has now made a further concession by agreeing to leave the preparation of the lists in the hands of the Provincial Government, with the exception that county court judges will adapt the Provincial lists to the Federal ridings. This amendment has been accepted by Mr. Borden, and will cover British Columbia as well.

The Opposition, however, has refused to accept the arrangements for New Ontario, where there is no municipal organization. The Government here proposes that the county judges appoint enumerators to prepare the lists, the judges to hear all appeals. The object is to remove the preparation of the lists from party influences. The refusal of the Opposition to accept this just provision, prompted Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday to question whether he had been wise in attempting to conciliate his opponents in respect to the Manitoba lists. If Mr. Borden and his followers continue their obstruction they cannot have the sympathy and support of fair-minded men. — London Advertiser.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The United States is a hundred and thirty-two years and two days old. Canada is three hundred years and six days.

London the Less is proud now. A man was actually drowned in the River Thames, thus disproving that the river is not deep enough to drown a man.

Premier Asquith of Great Britain takes a whisky and soda before beginning a long speech. As there is no three-fifths clause in force in that country, the Toronto Star suggests that the beverage may sometimes be more than two-fifths soda.

"If Ontario had elected a Liberal administration, would the Federal Government," asks the Toronto News, "be concerned about the voters' lists in Northern Ontario." Certainly it would. Liberals, against the desperate opposition of the Conservatives, gave the people the franchise, and Liberals lead the way in insuring its unfettered exercise.

The Conservatives have no policy to submit to the country, and they cannot find anything seriously wrong to criticise in that of the Liberals. They, therefore, have to resort to misrepresentation and slander of their political opponents. This form of misrepresentation is put into their campaign literature, which is like the campaign literature of the Whitney Government in regard to misrepresentation.

The Montreal Gazette, the other day printed a sensational account of quarrels in the Cabinet over the new Civil Service Act. It had Mr. Fielding turned down by Sir Wilfrid, sidetracked by the Quebec ministers, supplanted by Mr. Fisher, and fighting Mr. Fisher's bill in the House. The Herald's Ottawa correspondent says that Mr. Fielding was too busy to oversee the preparation of the bill, and asked Mr. Fisher to take charge of it; that he has not had any quarrel with the Quebec ministers; that he has actively supported the bill; and that the speech quoted by the Gazette in which he criticized the bill was not made by him but by Mr. Foster. With these few corrections the Gazette's article might stand. That's the way with most of the yarns invented by enterprising Opposition journals.

MAKE MR. CARNEGIE MINISTER.

The Examiner is always anxious that this city and district should have the preference in the matter of Government appointments; if a place is open, other things being equal, the honour should go to a Peterborough boy. The defeat of Hon. Mr. Monteith at the polls has led to his retirement from the post of Minister of Agriculture. While Mr. Whitney may not take the advice of the Examiner, yet the Examiner wishes to nominate an old Peterborough boy for the vacant portfolio, Mr. J Hilliard Carnegie. Apart from considerations of local loyalty, Mr. Carnegie is as well qualified, if not better, than Mr. Monteith; he is a good, practical farmer, and has the advantage of a course at the Ontario Agricultural College and he is a Peterborough boy, born in the city and married to a Peterborough girl. He is qualified to make a good successor to Mr. Monteith, and with the necessary qualifications, justice to the claims of the Central Ontario district which, since Hon. Dr. Willoughby's death, has no Cabinet representative, demands that the opportunity, which comes naturally, so to speak, should be used to remedy the defect of this district's lack of Cabinet representation, by the appointment of the member for North Victoria to the vacant portfolio of Minister of Agriculture for Ontario.

A MAN WHO FOUND HIMSELF.

Many Englishmen come to this country to make their fortune, and fail because they go about the business in a wrong way. A young Englishman, the son of a clergyman, living in Winnipeg, has found himself, found that he did not know it all, and is willing to be taught by, instead of teaching, Canadians. He is the man of the right stamp who will make his way in the world. In the beginning of last winter he wrote the following letter to his father in England, and thousands of newly-arrived Englishmen and other nationalities may read it with profit:

Dear Father,—I wonder what you think of me for not writing. I have positively had no time to think of writing. The only thing I have been able to think about for the last week or so has been securing suitable winter work for myself. I can tell you one must be wide awake in this country. Those who drift must expect to be out of work until the spring. The winter season is rather like a box which is open for a short time in the fall. The inside of the box belongs to those who have secured winter work, or means to live on in warmth and comfort. Those outside must take chances. I have got inside the box for this winter by the skin of my teeth. I have not got a very edifying job, but that doesn't matter. I am packing parcels in one of the big stores here — something like Whiteley's in London. I get 1d. a parcel. Things are different out here from England. I have been learning many lessons in this country during the few months I have been in it. I have learned that it is better never to receive money from home. The way to make a man of yourself is to work hard for your money, keep yourself, and save all you can. One never learns this properly until one has experienced what it means to be penniless. One will never learn how to hustle around after work, unless it means starvation if you can't find any. One will never learn how to save money unless one has experienced what is is to have none saved; and, lastly, one will never learn how to make money if one knows there is plenty to be had from home if one wants it. I am now learning these lessons. I have been penniless; in fact, I am at this moment. I have learned by personal experience what an idiot I was not to save money when I was earning it.

I have thoroughly made up my mind never to receive another penny from home, as I see and feel it is the ruin of many. But I shall be more careful another winter. At present, I don't possess a farthing, and I owe for one and a half week's board. But with this 1d. a parcel I can earn £4 a week. I can now tie 1,000 parcels a day. This will soon put me out of debt and enable me to save money. I am quite happy, and glory to feel I am earning my living and saving money. The fellow who comes out here with money and thinks that is sufficient to enable him to get on, is vastly mistaken. If you have money, you don't trouble to turn over every stone, and so you miss your chances.

Don't put Esquire on my letters. This young man's experience and adopted principle of action should be a lesson for those who ignore the lesson of his experience and fail to profit by it. There is a living for all who come, but they must make it. It won't come to them; must be sought. The new-comer, who, in default of the employment he prefers, takes any honest work he can find, is the one that will succeed. The kicker will continue to be a kicker—kick his heels in idleness, so long as he turns up his nose at honest work.

MOTOR BOAT EXHIBIT AT SEATTLE

Big Display of Power Craft Will be Made at Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition

MOTOR BOAT RACES THERE

Seattle, July 6.—For the first time in the history of world's fairs, the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition which will be held here from June 1st to October 15th, 1908, will have a large exhibit of motor boats. Henry E. Dosch, director of exhibits and privileges, has now completed plans for the display.

Manufacturers are taking up the matter and their letters indicate that they will put forth their best efforts to have big exhibits. They realise that Seattle is a good market for motor boats, and that more than likely they will be able to dispose of all the boats on exhibition and more too, by the time the fair closes.

The exposition being situated as it is, with Lake Washington bordering upon one side of the grounds and Lake Union on the other, affords an unexcelled opportunity for the demonstration of motor boats. Lake Washington, which is the largest fresh water body in the Pacific Northwest, having an area of thirty-eight square miles, is plied by scores of power boats at the present time. Seattle has a motor boat club with a strong membership, and its pleasure cruises and races are held on Lake Washington.

A pavilion for the motor boat display will be built on piles over Lake Washington, in one of the prettiest spots on the exposition's shore line. It will be 100 by 800 feet in size and will be provided with slips varying from 6 by 20 feet to 20 by 80 feet. On the south shore of the pavilion will be exhibited boats, machinery and accessories. The exhibitors will be enabled to have their boats in the water for demonstration to visitors by trial trips on the lake.

Motor boat races will be a feature of the sports at the exhibition, and it is expected that many records will be broken. A motor boat show will be given in Seattle this coming February by the Seattle Motor Boat Club under the auspices of the National Motor Boat Association of the United States.

WEDDING BELLS.

MATHESON—FISHER

Examiner Special.

A very pretty wedding took place on Tuesday afternoon, June 30th, at the home of Mr. W. J. Fisher, of Fraserville, when his daughter, Miss Ada Fisher, was united in marriage to the Rev. Finlay Matheson, B.A., of Chatsworth. The bride was given away by her father, and the wedding march was played by her sister, Miss Mamie Fisher. The bride wore a very pretty dress of cream cepe de Chene trimmed with Irish [illegible] de point. She carried a sheaf of bride roses and [illegible] the valley.

Miss Grace Hunter, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring. Her going away suit was tan rajah silk with hat to match. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. A. McKenzie, B.A., of Centreville, assisted by the groom's brother, Rev. Hugh Matheson, B.A., of Caledon.

After congratulations the guests retired to the dining room, where a dainty dejeuner was served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and valuable gifts. Rev. and Mrs. Matheson took train for Denver, Col., and other places. They will return to their home in Chatsworth in two months.

I-O-NA MEANS STOMACH COMFORT

Its of Special Value to Many Here in Peterborough.

A notable discovery, and one that appeals especially to many people in Peterborough, is the combination of stomach help in the Mi-o-na treatment. This preparations works wonders in case of indigestion or weak stomach.

It acts directly upon the walls of the stomach and bowels, strengthening and stimulating them so that they readily take care of the food that is eaten, without distress or suffering.

So positive are the good effects following the use of Mi-o-na that the remedy is sold by Wm. Madill under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails to cure. A 50-cent box of Mi-o-na will do the good the stomach needs, which is simply to make it do its own work.

Begins His Duties As Pastor Of Charlotte Street Church

Rev. G. W. Henderson Preached Two Splendid Sermons at The Methodist Church Yesterday—Entering Upon His Pastorate

MEN THE WORLD NEEDS

There was a large attendance at both the morning and evening services at Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday when Rev. G W Henderson, late of Port Hope, entered upon his pastorate as successor to Rev. H M Manning. The new pastor proved himself an able speaker in the eloquent sermons delivered at the two services.

Rev. G. W. Henderson began his pastoral term in Charlotte Street Methodist Church yesterday morning. In his opening remarks he asked the members of the church and the congregation to help him accomplish the desired results so that his work might be helpful to his people and redound to the glory of the Master. He gently referred his congregation to what is frequently the case—superfluous information—he would relive them of the work of tale-bearing—he preferred to find out things for himself. If any of them felt like supplying information as to the faults of their brethren, they might take the advice that a physician would give a patient with weak lungs or bronchial trouble, who proposed going into the open air. At Lindsay and Port Hope some had felt it their special mission to inflict upon him their views, and he was prone to admit that his views had been prejudices for a time, until he discovered the real facts. He suggested that it would be better to permit the pastor to find out the perfections and imperfections of the members of his flock without having his mind poisoned in advance. Evil deeds and wrong doing always come to light. He thought it would be better, in any case, for any member who saw a brother doing something which he thought unworthy of his membership in the church to go to him and reason with him, and give him a chance to justify himself. With regard to pastoral visiting he did not wish them to expect too much. They had a right to expect him to perform his duty in this regard. He did not propose to visit the four hundred families of the congregation once a week, and he would visit none on a Monday or Saturday. On the other days of the week he would be busily engaged in connection with his pastoral duties, which included visiting the members of the congregation. He believed that the house-going preacher made a church loving people and he would do his best to contribute to this end to the best of his ability. The sick, the new comers, and what are sometimes called the "shut-ins," would be his first care. He thought the pastor should be acquainted with every member of every family of his flock. A good way to effect this was for the family to invite him in to tea, not because they did not have "tea" at the parsonage, but since an an invitation would furnish an opportunity of meeting all who should be met. He would as readily respond to the claims of the poorest member of his flock as to the millionaire—if there were any. He hoped to have the kind words of his congregation; and, on the homeopathic principle, he preferred to have these kind words administered in small doses and not all lavished at once. He asked their sympathy, co-operation and prayers. He hoped that the mid-week prayer service, which was the thermometer of the church, would be well attended, and he would try to give special attention to these services. He asked them to do their share of the work, remember knew of any member who member knew of any member who needed his ministrations, they should let him know. He could not do the best work without the help of his congregation.

In the evening his text was taken from the 17th chapter of the Book of Exodus, referring particularly to the 9th verse, "And Moses said unto Joshua, choose us out men, and go out fight with Amalek."

Speaking of the passage, Rev. Mr. Henderson said that Moses and Joshua represented two types of men needed in the world to-day. The service characterised by Moses is performed in the closet, it is communion with and prayer to, God. Joshua, on the other hand goes out and engages in actual combat with the enemy while prayers are offered for his success.

God was still fighting for His church, Mr. Henderson said. The enemy of man and of the church still exists. The foe is more particularly spiritual; the conflict is therefore of a spiritual nature, and spiritual weapons must be used to meet this foe.

Some so-called "Christians," he continued, say that it is wasted the fog with indifference, as if he were unwilling of our optics we would succeed as well, but Rev. Mr. Henderson stated the church of God must be the aggressor.

"Why is the church fighting the curling deck, the ball room and the race track?" he asked and explained that it was because of the influences of these things are destructive. They are destroying many of her most precious gems," he said, and for the same reason the church is fighting the devil in all his approaches.

Need More Joshuas

"We need more Joshuas," Mr. Henderson emphasized; "men of good character who are not afraid of reproving sin, who are willing to meet and fight evil tendencies in all their forms until every foe of God is destroyed." Moses represents the man in the closet interceding with Jehovah to give every man a valiant heart a steady arm and clear eye to remain faithful and strong in the combat. It is no easy task, Mr. Henderson said to pray hard. Real earnest prayer is difficult work. Many of us kneel by our bedsides and say words while half asleep that requires no effort. There is no concentration of the mind and it is this that makes earnest prayer difficult. Every man in the congregation of the church should be identified with either of these forces. He should be either engaged on the field or in prayer, otherwise defeat is inevitable.

In conclusion Rev. Mr. Henderson pointed out the dependence of the ministry on the laity. Moses required the assistance of Aaron and Hur, similarly the minister, he said, needed the help of even the weakest in the congregation. He remarked that the people should encourage the minister and should not withhold any words of deserving commendation expressing an appreciation which the people may have in their hearts. If the people knew of the many discouraging happenings and humiliations with which a minister meets they would speak to him more often in an appreciative manner, helping him with kindly words of praise which are of great encouragement.

SHOCK OF 12,000 VOLTS SKINS BACK AND ARM AS BY A KNIFE

The following account of the accident last week to John H. Valley at Welland, whose brother is an employee in the local Warehouse of Perkins, Ince & Company, appears in the Buffalo Times:

Welland, July 4.—Twelve thousand volts passed through the body of John H. Valley, employed by the Ontario Steel and Iron Company here, and he lives to tell the horrible recollection of the ordeal through which he passed.

A fuse having blown out in the transforming room, Valley was sent into the engineer to make the repairs. He had just finished the job when he stepped on the wire. In an instant he was in a sheet of flame, being thrown violently to the ground.

The skin of his left arm was peeled off as with a knife. His back, clean down to the loins, was skinned, beside his moustache and hair being burned off. His clothes were in tatters, and the boot that made the contact almost shrivelled up. Valley suffered intense agony for some time after being put under medical care, but there is a good chance of his recovery in time.

Stacey et al. Were Drenched Near Reaboro In The Storm

Stacey, Stevens, Hartley and others, comprising a 'busload who left Lindsay on Saturday night after the walk was over to come to Peterborough had an experience which was anything but agreeable. There were fifteen in the party, and the 'bus with a team of horses, was engaged to make the trip. They got away from Lindsay all right, but on the road a storm broke upon the party after midnight. It was no pink tea affair, either. Jim Stacey laughs yet when he thinks of the soaking he got, and the experience on that lonely Victoria road, with the wind whistling fortissimo through the trees, and accompanying illustrations in the form of frequent flashes of lightning which lit up the inky depths of the heavens and made one feel a thousand miles from home.

The wind finally caught the top of the 'bus and put it out of commission, leaving the fifteen occupants at the mercy of the driving rain. It fell in torrents, and the party was glad to accept the shelter of the church sheds at Reaboro. They will not soon forget this feature of the trip from Lindsay.

OUTING OF BRICKLAYERS AND MASONS

Went on the Otonabee to Idyl Wyld Saturday Afternoon

The first annual excursion of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union No. 71 was held on Saturday afternoon to Idyl Wild and proved to be a grand success. There was a good crowd on board and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves, and the committee in charge deserves credit for the manner in which everything was carried out. The committee was composed of the following: Messrs. A H Webb, chairman; H H Hillier, secretary-treasurer; Wm. Stevens, H Phillips, H M Frederick. The baseball game resulted in a tie, the score being 8-8. The teams:

Bricklayers and Masons—	Stonecutters

GROUP OF PICTURES OF THE PICNIC

Are Exhibited in Merrel & Meredith's Window

A group of snap-shots of features of the T. A. S. picnic taken on Dominion Day by Mr. Roy are on exhibition in Merrill & Meredith's window and are attracting considerable attention. One of them is the picture of the finish of one of the girls' races and this caught them on the run. A number of trenches and speed bouts were also taken and the entire number have been grouped in a pleasing manner.

FREDDIE WEBB DROWNED ON SATURDAY NIGHT WHILE ALONE IN THE WATER AT GOOSE POND

Was Living With His Foster Father, Mr. Jas. McWilliams—He Went Away to Play With Chums But Did Not Return—Body Found on Sunday Morning

A LONG SEARCH WAS MADE

Without a companion's saving arm extending assistance to him and with not even a person to hear his baby struggles, Freddie Webb, the seven year old son of Mrs. Charles Webb, 970 Water street, was drowned on Saturday night in the Otonabee, in what is known as the Goose Pond. The exact spot is south of the eastern end of Antrim street, and can be seen from Water street. As far as can be learned no one heard his cries, if he uttered any, as he tried in vain to save himself after getting beyond his depth, and it is thought that with little experience if did not occur to him to call for help.

A distressing circumstance is the fact that the little fellow should have gone to the water entirely alone, for none of his companions knew anything of his whereabouts when about eight o'clock on Saturday night he was missed. Had someone been with him the accident would not likely have happened for his body was found on Sunday morning about five o'clock, in five or six feet of water, and only a short distance from the shore.

Went Away to Play

Freddie lived with Mr. James McWilliams, 202 Edinburgh street. Four years ago the latter read an advertisement in a Toronto paper in which the boy was offered for adoption in a good home, and in this way he came to live with Mr. McWilliams. The latter is a teamster and Freddie had been with him during the greater part of the day. Between five and six o'clock he was starting away from the yard when his foster father called to him, telling him not to go away. But like every other boy he wanted to be off playing with his chumb, and he replied that "they were down at the corner." The evening wore on and the lad had not returned. Mr. McWilliams started out to find him, but became uneasy when he learned from the other boys that they did not know where he was.

A Long Search

All through the night the search was continued by Mr. McWilliams and a few friends. He went out to Jackson's Park, where he thought Freddie might have gone to see the pictures and might have fallen asleep. Mr. McWilliams searched with a lantern in places where the boy might have been. It was all to no purpose. He went around through town and over to East City, where he was caught in the heavy downpour of rain.

"I never dreamed of him going to the river," Mr. McWilliams said, but finally in the early morning, he commenced to search along the bank near the pond. By this time he had grave misgivings that something serious had happened.

Found His Clothes

Towards 5 o'clock Sunday morning he found Freddie's clothes, and ten minutes afterwards discovered the body. As a swimming pool, the place is one of the last an experienced boy would bathe in, but the little fellow did not know any better. There were tin cans and bottles thrown around, the spot being used for dumping refuse of that nature.

The clothes were found in a little pile near some bushes, just where the little fellow had undressed, and the body was only a few yards away. Freddie had on a pair of trunks which Mr. McWilliams believes he found, as the latter had never seen them.

Warned of the Water

The boy had been admonished to keep away from the water, and he was known to have been at the river only once before. He had been out to Jackson Park previously, but since his father's warning, the boy had not been known to disobey it.

He was a very bright lad and was in the first book at the Queen Alexandra School, having started last January. Mr. McWilliams looked upon him almost as his own child, and treated him with utmost kindness, almost too kind, if that is possible," Mrs. Webb said.

He was born in England and came with his mother to Canada five years ago. Mr. Webb having died in the Old Country. The other children living at home are two brothers, George nine years, and Charlie, 14 years, and two sisters, Winnie, aged 10, and Maxie, 13 years.

Dr. Grey empannelled a jury yesterday morning, but on investigating the circumstances it was found that an inquest was unnecessary.

The remains were taken to Bellegham's undertaking establishment.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of Mr. McWilliams, 202 Edinburgh street, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

ARE ESTABLISHING A PARK AT JUNIPER ISLAND POINT; SUNDAY VISITORS AT LAKE

Rain Storm on Saturday Night—A Stiff Breeze Makes Sailing Easy —Comings and Goings of the Tourists

A HAT OF MANY COLOURS

Special Staff Correspondence.

Stony Lake, July 6.—"The Island Park." This will immediately sound familiar to Torontonians, but in the near future will, no doubt, be recognized by all Kawarthaites, not as the popular playground at Toronto Island Park but as the Juniper Island Park.

Since the purchase of some three and one-half acres of Juniper Island by the Cottager's Association, that body has been actively employed in planning and arranging for the transformation of that rather rough and thickly wooded section into an attractive place of recreation. Benches will, no doubt, be provided and also tables for picnic parties. It is understood that the park will be open this season, as already men are engaged in cleaning the grounds.

Additional to the making of the park the association have arranged for a manager for the pavilion, whose duties will be to arrange every thing in connection with the building.

The lake was visited by a rather severe but brief rainstorm on Saturday night about midnight. It was accompanied by an electrical disturbance, but luckily it happened when everybody was enjoying sweet summer sleep, and nobody got wet. Yesterday a stiff southwestern breeze blew and made the atmospheric conditions ideal, as well as good sailing. During the afternoon several sailing yachts appeared in the open spots and those who love this pleasure were given a splendid opportunity to appease their desires.

The Empress ran the Saturday night trip and carried a large crowd. Some were cottagers, others were Sunday visitors, and the remainder were tourists from Toronto and across the line.

The celebration of the 4th of July was observed in parts other than Stony Lake. Although there are several Yankee visitors at Kawarthadomi there were few or no demonstrations on Saturday. But for the hotels and boarding houses, it is well that it belongs to the past. Our American cousins will now have an opportunity of getting across for a few holidays and it is expected that within a few days several of them will be here.

"A hat of many colours" was one of the attractions on the steamer Empress on Saturday evening. One observant passenger claimed that he detected no less than eight different wings resplendent in red, blue, green and other tints that are not in the spectrum. "A bird in the bush is worth two on a ladies' bonnet," he remarked as he referred to the great necessity of the preservation of birds.

Mr. Paul Stanley of Toronto came up on Saturday and is the guest of Mr. Goulnlock at "Edithena."

Mrs. J. J. McBain, Peterborough, was among those on the up boat on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. T. W. Robinson came up from Peterborough on Saturday.

Dr. D. H. East, Toronto, who was up for the holiday, returned on Thursday.

Mr. J. A. Zachu and son, Mr. T. R Zachu, Syracuse, N.Y., who have been at the Victoria House for a week, left for home this morning.

Miss Mollie Meldrum of Peterborough came up on the Water Lily on Friday to spend a few days at "Cairndhu."

Mr. Barton Earle, who has been spending a few days at McCracken's Landing, went down to the city this morning.

Sheriff Hall, Peterborough, opened his cottage, "Wenonah," for the season on Thursday. Miss Gwen. Hall joined the family here on Friday.

Mr. Richard Hall came up to his cottage, "Liberty Hall," on Saturday evening. He was accompanied by his son, Hammond.

Mr. Stewart Laing and Miss Mae spent Sunday at Gordon's Island.

Messrs. D. B. MacRae and Percy Crane were at Sandy Point over Sunday.

Mr. Harry Thompson spent the week-end at "Bonnavista" cottage.

Col. A. Stevenson was a guest at "Minnewawa," Mr. Bradburn's cottage.

Miss Marion Elliott is spending a couple of weeks at Mr. Barrie's cottage, "Ishpeming."

Mr. Wm. Stroud was at "Jack's Lake" cottage over Sunday.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., came up on the steamer Empress Saturday evening.

Miss Helen Hall came up to "Wenonah" Saturday evening.

Miss Daisy Mills is a guest at "Wenonah" cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Morris spent Sunday at South Beach.

Mr. Thos. Brightman was a visitor at the lake over the week-end.

Prof. McKenzien, Toronto, has opened his new cottage at the head of Clear Lake.

Miss Ruby Adamson came up on Saturday evening.

Miss Laura Edwards is a guest at Carlyle's cottage, Sandy Point.

Miss Lenora Sanderson joined her mother and sisters at their cottage on Saturday evening.

Mr. Edward Carr was at Gordon's cottage over Sunday.

Mr. Herb Routley came up to "Rockport" on Saturday evening and went down the canal this morning in his gasoline launch.

At the Juniper Island Pavilion on next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Rev. Rural Dean Langfeldt will conduct a religious service.

Mr. Ross Cameron went down on the Majestic this morning.

Miss Higgins spent Sunday a guest at Mr. Burnham's cottage, Gordon's Island.

Mr. Gerald Rackham returned to the city this morning.

Mr. J. D. Craig returned to the city this morning after spending Sunday at the lake.

ORANGEMEN ATTEND IN A BODY

Springville Orders Were Out in Large Numbers Yesterday Morning

The L.O.L. Nos. 41 and 46 attended the Presbyterian church at Springville in a body on Sunday morning. There were also some of the members of the Orange Order from Peterborough present, and on account of the large number of visiting brethren present some of the congregation had to be turned away for want of seating accommodation. The ladies had decorated the church in a beautiful manner and the choir rendered special music. They were assisted by Mr. Staples of Toronto University, who sang two solos most acceptably. Rev. Dr. Marsh delivered a strong sermon to the Order, his text being from Exodus, 14: 30—"Thus the Lord saved Israel that day out of the hands of the Egyptians."

The church contained one of the largest assemblies in its history and the service was enjoyed by all.

MEMORIAL SERVICE WAS HELD

At the Salvation Army Barracks Last Night—Large Attendance

A memorial service of unusual pathos was conducted at the Salvation Army Barracks last night in loving memory of two soldiers who had passed away during the week. They were Mrs. H. Bacon and Mrs. M. Nortncote. Adjutant and Mrs. Waite of Toronto were present and a large assembly was in attendance. Bandsman Gandy, who was a soldier in the Reading corps, England, with the late Mrs. Nortncote, spoke in a tender manner, referring to her good qualities. Another fact was that the pallbearers at her funeral were all Reading men who had grown up from childhood with her and to whom she was almost a mother. Mrs. Northcote came to Peterborough two years ago and the ties of friendship that had existed before were renewed.

Mr. Batten spoke in reference to the late Mrs. Bacon. At a cottage meeting at his home twenty-six years ago she had been converted, and there had always existed friendly relations between the two families. Mrs. Green and Mrs. Laing spoke, and also Staff Capt. Goodwin and Adjt. White, who gave the concluding address.

Three or four conversions were made at the meeting.

Adjt. and Mrs. White leave to-day for Ottawa.

On Thursday and Friday, Captain Mannion of Montreal, who has succeeded Capt. Hurd in the financial department, will be in the city and on Thursday evening will give a lantern service entitled "For the Master's sake."

BOARD OF EDUCATION METHODS

Belleville Board Has Warm Talk Regarding Change of Teachers

Evidently the Belleville Board of Education does not adopt suggestions or proposals of change in the same harmonious manner as the local board. At the regular meeting on Thursday night of last week the School Management Committee recommended the appointment of a new science master, a new teacher in English and the discharge of Mr. Milburn as a teacher at the High School.

After a discussion lasting over three hours the committee of the whole rose, reported progress and asked leave to sit again, without any definite action being taken.

FIREMEN ON EXCURSION TO IDYL WYLD TO-DAY

The excursion under the auspices of the old fire brigade went down to Idyl Wild this morning and it was one of the largest excursions of the year. The 57th Band was on board to provide the music. Two steamers and a barge were needed to accommodate the crowd.

VICTIM OF HYPNOTIC SPELL STILL ALIVE AT THE HOSPITAL

The condition of little Etta Kennedy, the girl who was held spellbound by the eye of a mysterious personage last Wednesday, is, from latest reports, getting along favourably. A report was current in the city this morning that she had died during the night, but on calling up the Nicholls Hospital by 'phone late this afternoon it was learned that she is till alive and conscious, although she spent a troublesome night.

"We have had fifty calls to-day about her from people outside the family," remarked the hospital, "and we have had to decline to answer them."

Several rumours are afloat as to the identity of the person who is alleged to be responsible for the illness of the girl, but nothing definite is known.

ATTENDED GRADUATING EXERCISES

Held at Clifton Springs Sanitarium—Mrs. Carruthers Returns

Mrs. G. C. Carruthers has returned after spending a pleasant week at Clifton Springs and Rochester, N. Y. At Clifton Springs she attended the graduation exercises of the Clifton Springs Sanitarium, her sister, Miss Maude Kindred, being one of the graduating nurses. The occasion is naturally a very interesting one, not only to the graduates but also to their friends.

Miss Kindred was the recipient of many presents from a large number of patients, to whom she has ministered, and from personal friends who congratulate her on completing her course, which included terms in Syracuse and New York hospitals.

She has been very successful in her course of training, and showed herself so thorough and efficient in her chosen work, that she has been appointed head nurse in one of the departments of the institution, which she has accepted for a short term. She is a daughter of Mr. W. A. Kindred, of this city.

FIRE HALL ENGINE IN AN EARLY TEST

Men Out at 4 o'clock—A Public Exhibition Soon

The fire brigade was out this morning at four o'clock, testing the steam engine. Chief Howard reported that the engine was able to maintain 120 lbs. pressure with three streams, and to throw the water 168 feet high. Another test will be made at four o'clock on Friday morning, and as soon as satisfactory the Mayor and Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee will be asked to call for a public exhibition.

OUTBREAK OF SMALLPOX REPORTED

Twenty-Six Cases Said to be Quarantined in Galway

Twenty-six cases of a mild, but genuine form of smallpox are reported to have broken out at Union Creek in the north-western section of Galway township and all are under quarantine. A despatch to the Toronto News from Fenelon Falls says:

Fenelon Falls, July 6.—An outbreak of smallpox has occurred at Union Creek, in Galway Township, and four cases are under quarantine in the neighbouring township of Somerville, Victoria County. The presence of the disease was first suspected early last week. Dr. Bell, Provincial Medical Inspector, was notified and upon visiting the neighbourhood pronounced it genuine smallpox.

Brought in by Teacher

It is supposed the disease, which is of a mild type, was brought in by the teacher of the school at that settlement, who taught for some time after being taken ill before the nature of her ailment was suspected. Latest reports by telephone are to the effect that there has been no change in the situation during the past few days, and that the outbreak is now well under control. The total number of cases under quarantine is about twenty-six.

The locality where the outbreak occurred is about sixteen miles from here and some five miles from Kinmount. Every possible precaution has been taken by vaccination and quarantine to prevent a further outbreak or spread of the disease.

FACTORY EMPLOYEE IN AN ACCIDENT

Clothing Caught in Spinning Wheel at the Cordage

An accident occurred on Saturday morning which might have proved a serious one. A young lady, an employee of the Cordage, in some manner had her clothing caught in a spinning machine and had it not been for the prompt action of some of the employees in stopping the machinery she would have been mangled to death. Her clothing was almost completely torn off her and she is suffering somewhat from the shock. Otherwise she was not seriously injured.

WHITBY CLUB ARE HERE TO-MORROW

Will Play Peterboros an Exhibition Game at Riverside Park

A fast exhibition of baseball will be seen at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon, when the speedy Whitby team, leaders in the Central Ontario League, will hook up with the Peterborough Midland League team. A big excursion will visit Peterborough from Whitby to-morrow, under the auspices of the Sons of England and Ancient Order of United Workmen, and the ball game is the chief centre of attraction. The Whitby team is said to be a clever bunch, and are determined to show that the Central Ontario League is as fast as the Midland.

Douro, July 6.—Mrs. Annie Leahy, a lady of advanced years, was the victim of a very painful accident on Saturday afternoon. In coming out of the house she slipped and fell, breaking her right leg. She is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

A valuable cow was stolen from the premises of Mr. David Leahy on Wednesday last, and no trace can be found of the missing animal.

OBITUARY.

JAMES C. TREMAIN

Last night about 8 o'clock the death occurred of a well known resident of the city in the person of Mr. James C Tremain at the age of 65 years. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Mr. Tremain has been a resident of Peterborough for many years and is favourably known here. He leaves three sons, William, George and Herbert, all of Peterborough, and three daughters, Mrs. Smith, of Sackett's Harbour, N. Y.; Mrs. Davidson, city, and Miss Daisy, who at present is ill in the Nicholls Hospital. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

JOHN SCOTT

Galt, July 6.—Mr. John Scott, one of Galt's oldest inhabitants, died yesterday morning at his residence. He was stricken by heart disease in a down town store Saturday night.

Deceased was probably the best known stockman in Western Ontario. To the farming community of this district his name was a household word. Mr. Scott, who was in his 77th year, was an exceptionally active, vigorous and well preserved man. He was out and about daily, attending to business, in apparently the best of health, up to the very hour of his death. A native of Hawick, Scotland, the late John Scott came to Galt when nine years of age, and had lived here for sixty-eight years. He is survived by a family of eight sons and daughters.

Mrs. W J Scott and Mrs. H Neill, of this city are daughters of the deceased. They left this evening for Galt to attend the funeral.

BALL CLUB'S TRIALS ON ROAD; PLAYERS WALK FROM HIAWATHA

The Peterborough baseball team have had to make some funny trips in order to play their games in the Midland League, but the journey accomplished in connection with Saturday's game at Cobourg has beaten all records. The team left Peterborough on the 11.45 G.T.R. train for Port Hope, drove from there to Cobourg and played an eleven innings game. The intention was to catch the steamer Otonabee at Gore's Landing and return to Peterborough by boat. The game was so long drawn out, however, that there was no chance of carrying out this plan, but it was decided to go on to Rice Lake and take chances of getting home in a launch. Accordingly the team piled into a waggon and drove sixteen miles to Harwood, reaching that village at 11.30 o'clock. No launch was available there, and it was decided to go over to Idyl Wyld for the night. A storm was approaching but the baseballists determined to take a chance and soon the team was afloat on the bosom of Rice Lake in two canoes and the same number of skiffs, and with the double quartette singing "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," with solo by Mr. Murphy, the flotilla made its way in safety across the three miles of water between Harwood and Idyl Wyld reaching that resort shortly after midnight and beating out the storm by a few minutes. The team spent Sunday at Idyl Wyld and the majority of them are there to-day and will return to-night on the Firemen and Band excursion.

Two of the team, the right fielder and the sporting editor of this journal, were determined to get home last night, however, and get home they did after considerable difficulty. The lake was very rough yesterday and it was not until evening that they were able to secure an Indian to take them across to Hiawatha. From there the dauntless pair gave a life-like imitation of Jimmy Reynolds and Davey Hartley in the Port Hope to Toronto walk, and hit the trail for home on foot, walking fourteen miles to reach Peterborough at midnight.

Such is baseball in the Midland League. The two players travelled by four different methods as follows:—

	Miles.
By rail	31
Drove	23
By canoe	6
By Pontoons	14
Total	71

And yet some people say that a ball player's life is a snap.

THEIR EXCURSION GOES TO COBOURG

Quaker Oats Company's Employees Have Holiday on Saturday

The Quaker Oats Company will run their annual excursion to Cobourg, Saturday, June 11th, by a special train leaving the G. T. R. station at 8.45 a. m. and returning will leave Cobourg at 6 p. m. A baseball match and a complete programme of sports will be run off. A large crowd is expected and an enjoyable time is assured.

PRIMARY CLASS WAS ENTERTAINED

Sunday School Pupils Enjoy Outing to Home of Teacher

Mrs. S. D. Carver, North Monaghan, entertained the primary class of Charlotte street Sunday school, of which she is the teacher, to a most pleasant picnic at her home last Friday afternoon. Busses left the Sunday school about 3 o'clock, carrying about sixty children as well as some of their parents and several of the teachers of the school. Rev. G. W. Henderson, the new pastor, was also among the number.

After supper a number of races were run off, the winners receiving appropriate prizes. The results were as follows:

Boys 7 and 8 years—Fred Rutherford, Maxwell Kennedy, Ernest Bushnell.

Boys under 7—Stanley Whitcroft, W Bradshaw, Bruce Collier.

Girl, 7 and 8 years — May Bell, Th Irey Dart, Maud Stanley.

Girls under 7—Si. McKee, L. Freeburn, Lily Brown.

Special race for girls 8 years of age—Alberta Howden, May Bell, Maud Stanley.

Mrs. Carver also presented each of the children with a bag containing candy and fruit. The picnic was concluded by three hearty cheers for Mr and Mrs. Carver.

Altar Provided By T.A.S. Is Now Almost Entirely Paid For

The main altar, which St. Peter's T.A.S. offered to provide for the Church of the Sacred Heart is now almost paid for. The cost of it was placed at $1,500. The funds received are roughly as follows: $400 from last year's picnic, net surplus of $500 from that of this year, and the money from the 17th of March theatrical performance. All told, there is but little left to be paid, and the society can compliment itself on the business-like manner in which they applied themselves to the self-imposed task. They will most likely have the altar paid for before the church is opened.

END OF THE SESSION IS NOW IN SIGHT

Business in the House to Be Finished by 18th.

AGREEMENT WITH PARTIES

Prorogation Will Probably Take Place on Monday, 20th July—Debates to Be Curtailed — Election Bill No Longer Opposed—Estimates Will Be Considerably Cut Down—No Further Delays Expected.

Ottawa, July 6.—Both Opposition and Government members have, by mutual agreement, fixed on Saturday, the 18th instant, as the day on which the business of Parliament for this session shall be finished, and, with this end in view, it has been agreed that the remainder of the sessional agenda shall be put through with as little delay as possible. The House, by working long hours each day, has a total of about 100 hours for the discussion of the remaining legislation of the session and putting through the balance of the estimates. This time has been allotted as fairly as possible to each item still to be considered, and it is expected that with the limitation of debate agreed upon, the last item on the order paper can be reached on Saturday week, with prorogation probably on the following Monday.

The election bill will probably take up but little more time of the House, and it is understood the Opposition have agreed to let it go through in its present form, with a few comparatively unimportant changes in the wording of some of the clauses.

The supplementary estimates will be brought down this week, and, in view of the fact that most of the summer is now gone and but little time remains this year for the beginning of the construction of public works, considerable pruning has been done on the original list of supplementaries drafted in the spring before the Opposition obstruction on the election bill began.

SAT TILL MIDNIGHT,

Estimates Passed For Public Works In New Brunswick.

Ottawa, July 6.—In a sweltering atmosphere the House sat till nearly midnight on Saturday.

At 6 o'clock it was suggested that, as a good day's work had been done, it would be cruelty to human beings to compel the members to do more, but Mr. Foster protested against the adjournment as "wilful waste of time and money," and the Government consented to go on.

In the evening Mr. Foster was not there. Others perspired, while he sought cooler [illegible] chamber.

Mr. Pugsley's estimates were on and a large number of items for public works in New Brunswick were passed.

The newspaper men found time to indulge in a little celebration in "The Ark," the occasion being the joint birthday of Fred Cook, E. W. Grange and the United States. Among the distinguished guests of these popular hosts were Mr. Speaker Sutherland, Sir Frederick Borden, R. L. Borden, Col. Sam Hughes and half a dozen other M.P.'s.

To Lift Coasting Ban.

Ottawa, July 6.—Yielding to the protests of the Dominion Coal Co. and the Mackenzie & Mann interests, Mr. Fielding will move to amend the Canada Shipping Act by giving the Governor-in-Council power to rescind the order-in-council abrogating the coasting privileges of foreign vessels. The order was to go into effect in January next.

Under Mr. Fielding's proposed amendment the Governor-in-Council may rescind the order-in-council altogether or in so far as it applies to foreign countries, which give the same privileges to Canadian vessels.

Kills Sweetheart and Self.

Troy, N.Y., July 6.—Because she would not consent to marry him, John Morrison of New York shot and killed pretty Mary Quigley at her home in this place last night.

He then went to a woods within twenty rods of the scene of the murder and shot himself through the heart. He died instantly. The girl was 24 years of age and Morrison was 26.

KILLED BY FIREWORKS.

Several Victims In New York to the "Fourth" Celebrations.

New York, July 6.—Despite police precautions the Fourth of 1908 brought numerous accidents from fireworks, explosions and gunshot wounds and a number of small fires were reported. One hospital before noon reported seven accidents, three of which were from gunshots, and the others from firecrackers' explosions. In the Harlem Police Court ten men and boys were before the magistrate charged with firing off revolvers in the streets, most of the prisoners being fined.

In Brooklyn, Mrs. Louisa Fischefer was probably fatally hurt by a premature explosion of gunpowder, manufactured by her son for Saturday's celebration.

Rain at noon relieved the excessive heat somewhat.

While throwing firecrackers from the roof of the building where he lived, in West Houston street, Tony Antico, six years old, was shot and killed. Two Italians, alleged to have been on the roof at the time firing into targets, were arrested by the police. Giovanni Rosso, in the Bronx, accidentally shot and killed himself while cleaning an old revolver for use.

Firing at a paper target while celebrating the Fourth, Milton Cunning, 15 years old, shot and killed his sister Jennie. The girl had gone to gather some fresh eggs in the shed on which the target was pinned, and her head appeared at an opening directly above the target the moment her brother pulled the trigger.

BRITISH MEMBER HERE.

Mr. Baker Says Licensing Bill Is Favored by Better Class.

Toronto, July 6. J. Allen Baker, member for East Finsbury in the British House of Commons, arrived in Montreal Friday and is visiting his old homestead near Hoghton, Northumberland County.

According to Mr. Baker, the measures that are demanding the most serious attention of Parliament and creating the deepest interest among the people are the Peers' bill and the old age pension bill. Both measures, he says, are popular with the masses. The licensing bill, he adds, is being actively opposed by the liquor interests, but the better classes throughout the country, headed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, are uniting, whether churchman or non-conformist, in favor of reform. The leaders of religious life and public opinion are all one body in favor of the restriction of the traffic.

ACCIDENT AT BALL GAME.

Bleachers Collapsed Carrying Down Fifteen Hundred Spectators.

New Bedford, Mass., July 6.—Nearly a score of persons were injured, one probably fatally, when the bleachers at the local ball grounds of the New England League collapsed Saturday carrying down 1,500 spectators. Five were taken to an hospital and 14 others were removed to their homes in carriages, while many more sustained slight injuries.

Canal Ready Friday.

Cornwall, July 6.—The water was let into the Cornwall canal Saturday morning and in the afternoon two big dredges were busy eating into the north bank for the new channel which will be used until the broken bank is repaired, [illegible]

One dredge owned by M. A. Cleveland, of Montreal is working from the west, and the material dug out is being deposited in a bay of old canal. The eastern dredge is owned by the Randolph Macdonald Co., Limited. Its dredgings are being towed out into the river. The big dredges are doing the strain splendidly, and there are only one or two trifling leaks which will probably cease as soon as the planking tightens by swelling. A staff of men and teams with ploughs and scrapers are working on the bank between the dredges. The canal will certainly be ready for navigation on Thursday or Friday at the latest.

Smuggled Chinks at Windsor.

Windsor, July 6.—As he was about to board a pleasure steamer in Detroit in company with two ladies Geo. Richards of Windsor was recognized by a detective and arrested on a charge of Chinese smuggling. Richards was on his way to Isle Blanc and when the officer stepped up to him he merely excused himself for being obliged to leave his lady friends and offered no remonstrance.

Some time ago four Chinamen were found, in a [illegible] and it is alleged Richards assisted in their unlawful entry into the United States.

Hotelman Goes Free.

Windsor, July 6.—T. H. Bastla, proprietor of the Iroquois Hotel here, who was charged with assault, with intent to do bodily harm was discharged Saturday in the Police Court. The complainant was W. A. Coots, an attorney at Sault Ste. Marie, who was ejected from the hotel.

The most objectionable thing he said, according to Coots, was that he would show Bastla how to run a hotel, but Bastla claimed that the Soo lawyer created a disturbance and was therefore ejected.

Guelph, July 6.—While at work in his fields, hoeing roots with several of his hands, John Standish, a farmer, living near Ospringe, dropped dead Saturday. Heart failure was the cause of his death. Standish was 57 years old.

TRAMP'S BRUTAL AND COWARDLY ACT

Dastardly Assault on 11-Year-Old Girl at Middlemarch.

STRIPPED OF HER CLOTHING

After Desperate Struggle Girl Managed to Escape Her Assailant—Man Threw Knife After the Child—Also Big Stone, Which Crushed Her Foot—Posse Have Started in Pursuit of the Man.

Middlemarch, July 6.—After a desperate struggle with a tramp who attempted to assault her yesterday, little Mabel Webb, an 11-year-old girl, managed to escape her assailant. Her clothes were almost torn off her and her foot was crushed by a stone the man hurled after her when she escaped his clutches.

The child was walking along the Pere Marquette track in the direction of Fingal and as she was crossing a culvert she thought she saw something move. Suddenly a man rose and seized her.

She struggled desperately to get away from him, screaming all the time. There was, however, no house within earshot. The tramp tore off most of her clothing, when the cloth to which she clung gave way and she tumbled down the embankment. Scrambling to her feet she started to run. The man drew a knife from his belt and threw it, but missed his mark. Then he threw a big stone which hit and crushed her foot. She limped desperately on, however, and at last got away.

The countryside is aroused over the affair and a volunteer posse is searching the entire district.

The man is about 40 years old, has iron grey hair and wears a beard. The citizens of Middlemarch threaten to lynch him if they lay hands on him.

Winnipeg Terror Caught.

Winnipeg, July 6.—The police have made what will probably prove to be a very important arrest in a man supposed to be that perpetrator of a series of attempted outrages, at least, one of which was accomplished, on women in the neighborhood of Wellington crescent, one of the best residential districts in this city.

It is also supposed that he is the man who terrorized several small girls and children some weeks ago and is positively identified as the man who made an indecent exposure in that neighborhood last week.

The police refuse to divulge his name, but he is said to be the brother of a civic official, and the case will probably be heard in camera to-day, when the women he has assaulted will be asked to identify him. If he proves to be the man it is supposed it will relieve the district he has infested from the grave anxiety of the past few weeks, and will solve one of the most difficult problems confronting the Winnipeg police force during recent years.

Alleged Gross Immorality.

Welland, July 6.—One of the most zealous and devoted agents of the Society for the Care of Neglected Children, Rev. H. Miller, Berlin, [illegible]

His good work [illegible] lines has won for him [illegible] admiration of the whole Christian and philanthropic community.

Rev. Mr. Miller was here Saturday en route for Branchton, which is within his jurisdiction, to investigate a case reported to him in which, it is alleged, a girl of tender years is domiciled with a family of colored people and is suspected of being the victim of an Indian of the neighborhood.

The circumstances as detailed are of a most deplorable character and, if found true, will be a severe indictment of the moral apathy of Branchton community to whom the matter cannot but be pretty well known.

Mr. Miller will enter criminal proceedings against the parties implicated in the case.

Cabman Was to Blame.

Ottawa, July 6.—The inquest was opened on Saturday into the death of Charles Clairmont, whose body was found on the street car tracks with both legs cut off. He had been run over by cars but witnesses testified that the man was knocked down by a cab, and lay across the tracks before the cars came along. The cabman hustled off without taking any notice of what he had done. The inquiry will be resumed.

U. S. Battleships Start Again.

San Francisco, July 6.—Fresh from dry docks and looking as spick and span as the day they left Hampton Roads, the 16 battleships of the United States Atlantic fleet were riding at anchor yesterday in the harbor ready to sail next Tuesday for Honolulu on the second half of the long cruise around the world.

Bishop Improves.

Cooperstown, N.Y., July 6.—Yesterday's morning bulletin on the condition of Bishop Potter [illegible]

The improvement in Bishop Potter's condition continues. Respiration 28, pulse 76, temperature 99. Has had a restful, comfortable night and is resting quietly at the present time. Favorable indications point to a [illegible] improvement."

Arrest In Philadelphia Case.

Philadelphia, July 6.—Frederick Geis was taken to the City Hall last night as a suspect in connection with the murder of Dr. William H. Wilson, who died on June 26, after drinking a bottle of poisoned ale, which had been sent to him from a local express office.

Drowned In Canal.

Port Dalhousie, July 6.—Saturday afternoon eight-year-old Calata Allan, daughter of Capt. Allan, was drowned in the old Welland Canal in front of their residence.

The father went in bathing and the little girl waded out into shallow water when she went beyond her depth and was drowned in about five feet of water.

PROPOSALS FOR ALL RED SCHEME

Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Introduce Resolution in House.

WILL URGE SPEEDY ACTION

To Endorse Resolution Passed by the Imperial Conference in London Last Summer—Governments of Australia and New Zealand Will Be Asked to Submit Plan With as Little Delay as Possible.

Ottawa, July 6.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will on Tuesday next introduce a resolution asking Parliament to endorse the resolution passed at the Imperial Conference in London last summer, in connection with the all-red line project. The resolution further recites that it is desirable that steps be taken with all convenient speed to achieve the results aimed at in the London resolution, and that in the opinion of the Canadian Commons it is desirable that the Governments of Australia, Canada and New Zealand should, with as little delay as possible, agree upon a definite plan for carrying the scheme into effect, the plan to be then submitted for the consideration of the Imperial and colonial Parliaments.

Murdered With Cannon.

Leominster, Mass., July 6.—Edward J. McLaughlin, a business man, was summoned to the door of his home at Floral place, this town, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. Before he could open the door there was a loud report. McLaughlin dropped in his tracks and died within a minute.

The police have arrested as suspects Joe Coleman, 22 years old; Louis Nutting, 20, and Amos Lambert Simmons, 18. All refuse to discuss the case.

The police first found a revolver and announced that a bullet had caused McLaughlin's death. But A. H. Pierce, medical examiner, after an autopsy, said that death was caused by the liver and heart being pierced by a 3-8 inch steel ball gearing. The police went to work again and found a 15-inch cannon, which is said to have been loaded with a steel ball bearing.

McLaughlin, as far as can be learned, had no enemies. The police theory is that the assassin or assassins aimed the cannon on the porch steps so that the ball when discharged would enter the door a little to the right of the doorknob, waited to hear McLaughlin's hand on the knob and then pulled the trigger.

Revolution Failed.

Buenos Ayres, July 6.—Advices received here last night state that the revolutionary movement [illegible] Paraguay [illegible] new Government has been established. These advices have been confirmed by a despatch received by the Minister of Foreign Affairs from the Argentine legation at Asuncion, officially notifying the Minister that the revolutionary party had succeeded in overthrowing the Paraguayan Government party, and that several of the Paraguayan Ministers of state had taken refuge in the legation.

The revolutionary party appointed Dr. Emiliano Gonzales Navciro president. He held the office of vice-president in the Government which has just been ousted.

Girl Killed In a Runaway.

St. Catharines, July 6.—Alvina, the 20-year-old daughter of W. W. Roland of Louth Township, was killed in a runaway Saturday. She had been into the city market, and was returning home along the Great Western Hill when she attempted to raise her parasol. This action frightened the horse, which ran away, and both the girl and her father were thrown from the wagon. Mr. Roland was not seriously injured, but the girl was rendered unconscious, and Dr. MacDonald was summoned at once. He saw that she was in a precarious condition and had her removed to the General and Marine Hospital, where death resulted early in the evening.

On City Is Burning.

Tampico, July 6.—The city of Tuxpan, near Tampico, Mexico, is on fire. Lightning struck and set fire to an oil well.

The flames spread to six others, involving the Borysaw reservoir and 700 oil wagons.

Nearly a square mile of the district is covered with flames. Streams of burning petroleum flowed to neighboring villages.

No casualties have been reported.

Found Dead on Track.

Chatham, July 6.—The conductor on a northbound afternoon freight train, while passing through the city at noon yesterday, discovered the body of an unknown man lying on the [illegible] the Maple Leaf cemetery. [illegible] body was removed to [illegible] to await the inquest. It is supposed the man was a farm laborer and was struck by a train while on his way home.

Drowned While Bathing.

Hammondsport, N.Y., July 6.—Sailing thirty-eight miles an hour, and traveling in a complete circle, the Aerial Experiment Association's aerodrome No. 3, known as the June Bug, made a flight of three-quarters of a mile here Saturday evening. G. H. Curtiss was the navigator.

Drowned While Bathing.

Ottawa, July 6.—John B. Leary, aged 27, was drowned while bathing yesterday morning. He was in the Rideau river and got beyond his depth. The body was recovered. He was a C.P.R. telegraph operator, and had not been long out from Ireland.

Have Thibetans Slain Sve Hedin?

Stockholm, July 6.—The Ministry of Foreign Affairs is concerned regarding the fate of Sve Hedin, the well-known traveler, who is now in Thibet. It has requested the Indian Government to make enquiries regarding him.

Good Fielding Won Game For Lakeviews On Saturday

Nosed Out a Win Against the T.A.S. by Narrow Margin of 7 to 6—Teams are Evenly Matched—A Big Crowd Saw Contest

FAIR EXHIBITION OF BALL

A garrison finish gave the Lakeviews a win over the T. A. S. by the close score of 7 to 6 in Saturday's game on the Oval. It was one of the best games in the City League since it was started, and a big crowd was on hand and went away well pleased with the exhibition. Derocher's braves at the end of the sixth led by 5 runs to 3. In the seventh they got another, but the Lakeviews came up two and duplicated the trick in the eighth, while the T. A. S. were blanked in the last two innings. It was fairly good ball all the way, and while there were bad spells still the excitement was always at the top notch. The chief offenders in the error manufacture were Pentland, Campbell and Devlin, each getting a quartette. The last player was really responsible for Lakeviews coming up even. It was in the seventh innings, Mahoney had gone out by way of "Laj." Derocher and Doris on a grounder. (Hayes threw Davidson out at first on an easy drive. Simmons hit safely over third base and stole around to that bag. He made a break for home and was being chased by Giroux and Devlin, when the latter made a bad throw on which he scored, and Pentland, who had got to first on Doris' error, followed him. McFadden did fairly well at short stop. He has already played behind the bat and in right garden.

Teams Were Even

Both teams were noticeably well matched, Mahoney and Hayes were the opposing pitchers, and the figures show them up as follows: same number of strikeouts, same number of passed balls, Mahoney hit two men and Hayes one. Both played a fine fielding game, Mahoney having five assists and Hayes four. Both catchers were steady, although neither tried hard to catch the men on bases, and when a man reached first it was almost as good as third. The Lakeviews had it on the black and red, however, in hits, getting seven; Crowe and Simmons contributing two each. The latter also struck out three times.

Derocher had a crippled outfit, but still they played good ball. He had to lead out his brother Fred to look after the centre lot, and he was right there when called upon. By the way "Lajoie" played a useful game himself, having six assists, no errors and got two of the six runs. The T. A. S. manager is about as good a second bagger as the league can produce. Davidson filled a wide gap when he was brought in from field to short stop. He got two dandy flies, one being with his bare hand. Adamson, King and Crowe make a strong trio. Simmons saved the game for the Lakeviews in the eighth when, with two men on bases, he put the tombstone sign on L. Derocher's long fly.

PETES WON OUT IN ELEVENTH, MURPHY'S TWO BAGGER DOING TRICK; MOST EXCITING IN YEARS

Midland League Game at Cobourg Went Two Extra Innings—Teams Were Tied at End of Ninth—Murphy's Hitting and Clements' Pitching the Feature

SOME SENSATIONAL FIELDING

The Peterboroughs won the most sensational game ever seen in the Midland League on Saturday afternoon when they defeated Cobourg in the Lake shore town by 6 runs to 3 in a brilliantly played contest that took eleven innings to decide the issue. At the end of the ninth the score was 3—3 and neither team scored in the tenth. In the eleventh, however, Hawkins singled with one man out. Craig flew out to short, leaving two men down. Clements and Burns were both there with clean singles and then Connie Murphy posted the sphere to the fence in left field for a corking two bagger, clearing the bases. Cobourg could not score in their half and the Petes had won the most exciting game ever played in Cobourg.

It was baseball from the drop of the hat. Both teams put up the finest kind of a fielding game and the crowd was kept on its feet all the time, cheering as a spectacular field stunt was pulled off, and these stunts came regularly throughout the eleven innings too. Both teams were there with barrels of ginger and the fans pronounced it the most hair-raising contest of the season.

On paper the Petes looked weak. Thorne who was to have played second, missed his train and Pitcher Hawkins was at second, while Outfielder O'Brien was at third base. However, the team put up the game of its career. Everything was snapped up in a manner that made the plays look easy and Clements was given gilt-edged support. In the eleven innings only three errors were chalked up against the Petes and all of them were excusable. Murphy dropped a fly from Weinberg, losing the ball in the sun, and Burns also missed a long drive from Turpin, having away back for it. O'Brien had the third error, coming in very fast on a slow grounder and fumbling the ball. Outside of that the Petes fielded perfectly.

Murphy had a magnificent running catch of a long fly in the second innings that caused the fans to hold their breath. The infield worked perfectly, Lawson playing the prettiest game he has performed in a Peterborough uniform, accepting fifteen chances which included several wicked grounders. Hawkins accepted seven chances in his usual fashion at second, while Maddock and O'Brien handled the left hand side of the diamond in faultless fashion.

Clements was in rare form on Saturday and had the hard hitting Cobourg team pretty well tied in a knot. Not a man reached first base until the fourth and Mathall's bunch were shut out entirely until the seventh. Clements failed to give a single complimentary and struck out ten men. Edmunds held him up in faultless fashion, making several catches of fouls while a man stole second on him during the day.

For Cobourg Burge and Bulger in the outfield pulled off several spectacular fielding stunts, the former going away back into deep centre for a long drive from Edmonds in the eighth that looked as it it would break up the game as there were two on bases. Weinberg at third and King at second played brilliant fielding games. Turner the southpaw twirler was on the slab for Cobourg and was touched up pretty freely by the Petes who collected 12 hits off his delivery.

The Petes scored in the first innings. Burns was walked and stole second. Murphy singled sending him to third, and Maddock scored him on a beautiful bunt.

In the seventh they annexed another. O'Brien was safe on an error and Hawkins walked. A throw to first advanced them a base. Craig singled to left and O'Brien scored. Hawkins tried to score from second on the play and was thrown out at the plate by Bulger.

In the eighth Burns singled to centre, stole second and scored on Murphy's safety.

Cobourg failed to score until the seventh. Murphy dropped Weinberg's fly to left after a long run and Turpin singled to right, sending Weinberg to third and going to second on the throw. McKinnon singled to centre scoring both runners.

The homesters tied up the score in the eighth when Burns dropped Turpin's fly to right and Floyd singled sending the big first baseman home.

Neither team scored in the ninth, although both had a man on the bases and it was a case of an extra innings game. In the tenth Murphy was safe when King dropped his fly, but Maddock flew out to right and O'Brien and Lawson failed to hit. Cobourg got one man to first but he died there.

The game was broken up in the eleventh. Edmunds flew out to Bulger. Hawkins singled past second. Craig flew out to short, but Clements hammered one over second for a single and Burns drove a safety between first and second. Then came Murphy's mighty drive to left, sending the three runners over the pan and the game was won.

Floyd singled in Cobourg's half of eleventh with two out but the next batter struck out.

Boney, of Port Hope umpired the contest satisfactorily.

The score by innings was as follows:

Peterborough... ... ...1 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 3—6
Cobourg... ... ...0 0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0—3

The teams were as follows:

STACEY WON THE WALKING RACE AT LINDSAY MAKING GOOD TIME

The Lindsay walk ended on Saturday night after a three nights' walk totalling eleven hours, according to the statements of the men who have arrived home. As was expected Stacey got away with first money, covering 71 miles and one lap in 11 hours, is willing to meet Hoagland who carried off the palm in Port Hope. The contest between these two would be a battle of giants, and there is considerable interest being taken in the proposal, as each has won handily against their fields, and seem to be in a class by themselves. To the Examiner Stacey said he would like to meet Hoagland, but will not think of it until after the 13th of July. Arrangements are being made for him to meet five men at the rink on that day, and after that Stacey says he will think of meeting Hoagland.

Davey Hartley, although feeling the effects of the injury he received in the fall several weeks ago, walked in a game fashion and hung on till the end. The figures as provided by one of the walkers gives the result as follows:

	Miles.	Laps.
Stacey	71	1
Stevens	68	1
W Spencely	67	4
J Spencely	66
Green	63
Curtis	61
Hartley	59

The attendance during the last two evenings showed a decided increase and the winners got their expenses anyway. Stacey had a sum to the good, but in speaking of his work and the remuneration he said, "Well, I don't think it was worth while," and he would not say definitely the amount of his share.

STACEY AND HOAGLAND MAY BE MATCHED TO WALK AT RINK

Jim Stacey, the winner of the Lindsay walking race, in which he covered 71 miles and one lap in 11 hours, is willing to meet Hoagland who carried off the palm in Port Hope. The contest between these two would be a battle of giants, and there is considerable interest being taken in the proposal, as each has

QUAKERS RECEIVE THEIR TROPHY

Brought From Ida To-day by Member of King's Daughters of Ida Church

The silver cup won by the Quakers at Ida when they played the Bethany eleven there more than a week ago was brought into the Examiner office this morning by a member of the King's Daughters under whose auspices the Garden Party was held. The cup is a handsome one about seven inches in height and stands on an ebony pedestal five inches high.

The Quakers appreciate very much the promptness of the King's Daughters in sending the trophy as well as the generosity shown them on the occasion of their visit to Ida.

Baseball

The standing in the Midland League, as a result of Saturday's game at Cobourg, is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Peterborough	5	2	.715
Athletics	3	3	.500
Port Hope	3	3	.500
Cobourg	2	5	.286

HARRISON SECOND AT PORT HOPE

Not Much Money in Race for the Walkers—$47 for Hoagland

Jim Harrison, the local walker, returned this morning from Port Hope where he was second to Hoagland in the four day walking match in connection with the Old Boys' Reunion. The attendance throughout the match was not large and Hoagland's share as winner amounted to only $47 while Harrison annexed $27. Tom Slater was third and Joe Guerin, of Peterborough, fourth. There was nothing to the race as the walkers were not evenly matched and there was no fight to speak of except a slight brush for second, but Harrison was easily too much for the Yankee walker, who is not in the best of condition. Slater was rolling in fat when the race started an about 14 pounds in the first three days.

NELSON DEFEATED JOE GANS

A Knockout in the 17th Gave Victory to the Dane

In the seventeenth round of one of the most gruelling mills ever seen at Frisco, Battling Nelson won the title of lightweight champion from Joe Gans, with a clean knockout on Saturday afternoon. The Dane took all kinds of punishment in the first five rounds, but was mixing it all the time. After that Gans showed signs of weakening, and after the eighth round it was plain that he was not the Gans of old, while Nelson kept up ceaselessly blows to the body and face. Punishment told on the colour-ed champion, while Nelson seemed to grow stronger on it. In the fourteenth Gans went after him in old time form, but the Battler did not show their effect.

Referee Jack Walsh said that it was a clean cut victory. Gans went down twice in the seventeenth, almost for the count in each case. A left to the pit of the stomach ended the fight. The betting had been 10—4 on Gans, and Nelson had placed all he could get. The receipts approximately amounted to $40,000.

THE OFFICERS WERE INSTALLED

Vote of Thanks to Merchants—Amount From Picnic

At the regular meeting of the St. Peter's T.A.S. yesterday the newly-elected officers were installed, Rev. Dr. O'Brien officiating. The officers are as follows:

Pres.—Mr. W S Merrill.
1st Vice-Pres.—Robt. Bogley.
2nd Vice-Pres.—M. Neary.
Rec.-Sec.—Jos. Picard, jr.
Fin. Sec.—A. Lebine.
Treas.—Jos. Primeau.
Marshall—H. Rourke.
Asst. Marshall—P. Lavery.
Guard—Ed. Flaherty.

These officers were duly received into their positions.

A vote of thanks was passed to the merchants and all those who contributed prizes which were competed for in the sports. Mr. P. O-Donnell was appointed trustee.

The receipts of the meeting amounted to $1,208.80, most of which was received from the picnic. The finances of the society are very strong, and the increasing membership continues, there being a number who took the pledge yesterday.

WERE ORDERED TO STOP WORK

Light and Power Company Digging Gas Mains on Water Street

Recently the council passed a resolution to the effect that the City Solicitor was to take action against the Peterborough Light & Power Company if they proceeded to tear up the streets for the purpose of digging gas mains. This morning the police were notified by the mayor to inform the company, who were at work on Water street, to desist, and this was done, but the men did not stop their work. There will be a meeting of the Board of Works on Wednesday night at which the matter will be talked over with the company.

MRS. LEONIDAS HUBBARD TO WED AGAIN

Will be an Englishman's Bride — Was Born Near Rice Lake

London, July 7.—(Special.) — Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, jr., of New York, widow of the Labrador explorer, has just given her hand to Harold Ellis, the son of the Right Hon. John Edward Ellis, M.P., recently Under Secretary of State for India. The bridegroom-elect owns extensive coal lands and mines in Northamptonshire. Mrs. Hubbard was born in Canada, near Rice Lake, where her relatives still reside.

OBSERVATORY TOWER AT TRENT BRIDGE

One for Astronomical Purposes is Being Erected There

Havelock, July 7. — The Dominion Government is erecting a tower for astronomical and geodetic purposes on a hill on the Mohaney farm, on the road to Trent Bridge. This is the highest point in the district, and from it a view of the country for a considerable distance in every direction may be obtained. It is learned that a similar tower is being erected near Kaladar, and another in Monaghan township.

FIFTY MILLION FOR ONE POUND

Fabulous Sum For One Pound of Radium —That Much Not Obtained in Year

Paris, July 6.—M. and Mme. Curie's precious discovery, radium, has now reached the startling figure of $50,000,000 a pound. Not nearly that quantity is discovered in the course of a year, although hundreds of tons of rare herbs are examined for a trace of it. If so much as would cover a pin's head is extracted from ten tons of raw material by the special processes of crushing, washing and boiling by acid baths and crystallization there is joy in the laboratories of the Sorbonne.

Mme. Curie succeeded to her husband's chair at the French University after he was killed in the most wanton of street accidents a year or so ago. She refused all other honours and benefits that were offered by the State.

THE HEAT OVERCAME BRIDGETENDER

Mr. Mills, Lindsay, Taken Ill and Had to be Conveyed Home

Lindsay, July 7.—(Special.)—While in the discharge of his regular duties yesterday afternoon, Mr. Geo. Mills, bridge-tender, was suddenly taken very ill. He was at once carried to the bridge-tender's shelter, where his head was bathed and everything done to ease his pain. A cab was called and the sufferer was taken home. Mr. Mills had been putting logs through the locks all morning and it is thought the heat was too much for him.

BOY'S ARM BROKEN IN PLAY

Was Shoved Off Sidewalk by His Companion

In a friendly scuffle yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, Willie Willard, Albert street, had his right arm broken. He and another boy were playing on the sidewalk and young Willard was shoved off, with the above result. The injury gave him intense pain and he was attended to by Dr. Marshall, who set the fracture.

BOATING ACCIDENTS AT STURGEON POINT

A Few Get Wet but None Drown—Experience of Adventurous Ones

Sturgeon Point, July 7.—(Special.)—The list of boating upsets in Sturgeon Lake is gradually increasing in number. It is a somewhat surprising fact that some of the accidents have not yet resulted in any serious disaster.

Saturday morning Mr. Bob Spratt was fishing just off Pleasant Point when he perhaps became a little too enthusiastic over a "whale" and — well, Bob swam to shore and went to Lindsay on the early morning boat, with his wearing apparel in no particularly dry condition.

Mr. Reg. Rennie also succeeded in procuring an unintentional dip in the "briny deep" at Pleasant Point. Beyond a few mouthfuls, however, Reg managed to climb to shore.

THE HOTEL NATIONAL A MODERN HOUSE

Mr. Denninson an Experienced Hotelman—Bringing Launch Here

The public are doubtless aware that the Hotel National, an old established house, so favourably known, changed hands in the middle of May, being taken over by Mr. D. B. Denison, who had recently carried on the hotel business at Coldwater for several years. The travelling public of this house say it is one of the best in the country, and if one may judge from the short experience of Mr. Dennison in Peterborough, his reputation will be fully maintained. The house has been thoroughly cleaned throughout and put in the best of order. The office is now managed by Mr. Victor McCarthy, an experienced hotel clerk, and Mr. Dennison has brought from Coldwater other valued employees, thus making his staff fully up to date in every respect. Mr. Dennison is himself a most genial and energetic gentleman, and the attention given to guests is all that can be desired. It will be pleasing to the travelling public to know that Peterborough has another hotel that will compare favourably with the better hostelries of the larger cities.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Dennison had the pleasure of entertaining old friends in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Mr. Hall being one of the construction superintendents of the Toronto Construction Company, having stopped over here with his wife on their way to New Brunswick, where he takes charge of a large section on the Grand Trunk Pacific. Mr. Dennison is bringing his private launch from Coldwater by way of the canal. It will be used by the guests in pleasure outings.

PUREST POSSIBLE SUPPLY OF WATER AT McCRACKEN'S LANDING; A VEIN TAPPED ABOVE THE HILL

Provincial Inspector Pays a Visit There Yesterday—A Reservoir To be Constructed at Outlet of New Spring

THE OLD SPRING IS CLOSED

Examiner Special.

Stony Lake, July 7.—Dr. R W Bell, Provincial Government Sanitary Inspector paid an official visit to the lake yesterday in the interests of public health. Inspections were made and are being continued today of several of the hotels and boarding houses. Inspection was also made of the famous spring at McCracken's Landing which was closed on suspicion last August. It was re-opened by the natives at the conclusion of the tourist season and has since been generally in use, though Dr. Bell found that Mr. Freeman, proprietor of the Victoria House had not permitted the water to be used in that hotel this year, he having tapped the vein back of the hill where contamination from local causes is considered most improbable.

Having examined the spring and surroundings the inspector came to the conclusion that the water in the main spring and that of the open creek, which in rainy seasons flows into the lake some forty yards distant were one, the former branching off and that this was the water which crosses a garden and farmyard, and for some distance is open to surface impurities in addition to contamination from filtration. In Dr. Bell's opinion, the water, though probably free from typhoid is, owing to the conditions above mentioned scarcely the most desirable for drinking purposes. After examining the new outlet which is situated on the eastern side of the hill, above the farmyard, and is the first sign of running water in that direction, Dr. Bell said that this water would be of the purest possible and there would be no risk in using it. The inspector, assisted by those locally interested, made plans for the construction of a reservoir at the outlet of the spring and pipe line to lead to the Victoria House where taps will be connected outside for the convenience of the public. A gang of men commenced drilling this morning and it will be only a few days until an excellent water supply will be brought even more convenient than the old spring.

While Dr. Bell was making the inspection he received a call by telephone from Dr. Munro, of Warsaw, who stated that he had just received a report from the Board of Health department regarding a sample of the water from the condemned spring, sent some two weeks ago. This report showed the presence of colon bacillus, a germ common in drinking water and which may cause intestinal disorders, though there was an absence of typhoid bacillus.

However, the well known drinking place is condemned and this morning the work of filling it in with stones and earth was commenced and in all probability these will never be removed. This action will disperse all doubts as to the origin of the typhoid fever in that locality and visitors may rest assured that the use of the condemned water will be prohibited.

Dr. Bell is to-day finishing his inspection which through lack of time will not be general among the cottages.

ALMOST DROWNED IN THE MUDDY WATER AT FOOT OF CHARLOTTE

A man giving his name as John Sullivan of Lakefield was pulled out of the water at the end of Charlotte street at 3.30 this afternoon by P. C. McGinty and Mr. Fred Newhall. He was lying in the muddy water in the hollow east of the National Hotel, where the stones and earth taken from the river bottom had been dumped. He was in an advanced state of intoxication and had evidently rolled into the water. His body was under the murky water and his head rested on one of many large tin cans. Had he rolled off this he undoubtedly would have been drowned, for he was in a helpless condition. A big crowd was attracted to the spot as it was rumoured that a man had been drowned.

He was walked to the police station, showing signs of approaching sobriness. His appearance was anything but happy looking. He will probably appear in the police court to morrow morning.

MONSTER EXCURSION BRINGS 900 WHITBY PEOPLE HERE TO-DAY

The biggest excursion of the season was that which brought to Peterborough 900 people from Whitby and the surrounding country. The excursion was under the joint auspices of the Sons of England, the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the 34th Regiment Band of Whitby. They reached Peterborough by a special G. T. R. train of eight coaches and a baggage car, pulled by two engines at 11.30 o'clock, and were given a cordial welcome to Peterborough by Mayor Rush and Ald. Elliott and Butler, of the city Reception Committee, and reception committees from the local lodges of the Sons of England and the United Workmen.

The 34th Band, which accompanied and excursionists and which is a most creditable organization, played several selections at the station and then marched to the Peterborough Hotel, where they dispersed. The visitors spent this afternoon in sightseeing, Jackson Park and the Lift Lock being the two favourite spots.

Many of the excursionists took in the ball game between Whitby and the Peterborough Midland League team at Riverside Park. The Whitby team is a strong one and included Rosser, of the Park Nine, who was imported to do the twirling against the Petes.

For the benefit of the visitors Chief Howard arranged an exhibition run out of the fire brigade and many inspected the well equipped hall during their visit.

The visitors were introduced to Mayor Rush at the station by Brother Daddy Taylor, of Lansdowne Lodge, who in a neat speech made them welcome to the city.

WAS THE STORY OF STRANGER'S HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE A MYTH?

Etta Kennedy, the girl who was alleged to have been held spellbound by the unknown man with the evil eye, is still progressing favourably at the Nicholls Hospital. The latest story in the case of the young girl is that the story is all a myth and the outcome of over imaginative brains on the part of the persons first to see the child. Dr. Amys, who is attending the girl, says it is a case of hysteria. The fact of the matter is, he believes, that the girl was bathing in the stream together with several other young girls. The water was very cold and brought on an attack of hysteria, and the stranger probably appeared, attracted by the merriment of the other children. The child is still in the hospital and promises to recover. She tells the doctor nothing of the stranger with the "evil eye."

Cannot Get Enough Men To Meet Demands For Farm Help

Twelve men were placed on good farms on Saturday through the instrumentality of the local immigrant officer. There was one of the biggest rushes for men during the day that Mr. Howson has experienced and the demand is greater perhaps than at any other season. About thirty men were seeking farm assistants and Mr. Howson had to promise to send men whenever they called. One of the young men who received work went to Cavan with a farmer named Bert. His wages are to amount to $80 for the three months. He was formerly a moulder in the city. On Monday no men applied, but this morning three were sent out to farms. On Saturday Mr. Howson went out on the street and informed men who seemed to be out of work that positions were open for those who were willing to go on the farm.

It may be said that there is plenty of work in the country for those who are willing to go on the farm, and if any are idle they cannot say that it is because there is a scarcity of labour.

BECAME ILL WHILE EXCURSION

Willie Merrill Underwent Operation for Appendicitis

While attending the Fireman's picnic to Idyl Wyld yesterday, Willie Merrill, son of Mr. Wm. Merrill of Merrill & Meredith's clothing store, was taken ill with appendicitis. On arriving back to the city he was taken in a cab to his home and at 11 o'clock he was removed to St. Joseph's hospital in the Dan Ambulance. At 2 o'clock this morning the underwent an operation and this afternoon he was reported as favourable as expected by the physicians.

VISITORS FROM WEST THE CITY

Dr. and Mrs. W. Millburn Arrived C.P.R. Midnight

Dr. W. Millburn, his wife and child, arrived in the city on the midnight C. P. R. train from Mount Albion, on a visit with friends here. Mrs. Millburn is a daughter of J. P. Metheral, 146 Murray street, while Dr. Millburn's parents reside at 197 Brock street. He will remain a couple of weeks here and his visit about two months.

The doctor reports the west having splendid prospects. The crops looking fine, he states, and there every possibility of a splendid harvest.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday was the warmest day of the year up to the present time. Eighty-nine degrees in the shade is the official figures. Last night was also very warm, and the thermometer remained around seventy degrees all night. To-day is a little cooler. At noon the figures were 84 degrees.

FOOLISH PATRIOTISM.

The foolish display of so-called patriotism evoked by the annual recurrence of Independence Day in the United States is little short of criminal and suggests a doubt of national sanity. On July 4th, 1908, the death roll from explosives of various forms was seventy-one, and 2,624 injured is the penalty paid for pyrotechnic patriotism. Our American cousins, however, are improving. In 1907, on July 4th, 4,413 persons were killed and injured, 164 murdered outright. In 1903 there were 466 deaths, of which 406 were victims of tetanus, or lock-jaw, a favourite complication of wounds caused by explosives. It is not known whether to attribute the decreasing death roll to increased civilization or to improved methods of treating tetanus. Why will our neighbours persist in the foolishness of fireworks? The law forbids and spunishes attempts at suicide. Why not bring accidental suicide within the operation of the law? With a war on an average of fifty years in the history of the Republic, it is safe to say that in the intervals the death roll from firecracker patriotism would aggregate a far greater number than the death rolls of battle. Why should people need to make a fuss to show that they are loyal? The patriotism that has to be fostered by sanguinary slaughterings may well be regarded as a doubtful wearing quality under real stress of demand. We all would doubt the honest of a man or the virtue of a woman which requires clamourous assertion to convince others of its existence. Our neighbours must have eagle screaming, flag flaunting and fireworks on July 4 to convince themselves that they are patriotic. And Canadians are being infected by environment. The display of flags on schoolhouses is a case in point. If the children of Canada are taught the meaning of the flag, what it stands for, the lessons it teaches, they will have true reverence for it as a symbol, and not a superficial worship of it as a mere bit of bunting. It is far better to be good, to be loyal, than, by hysterical effort, try to make ourselves and others believe that we are good and loyal. The loyalty to a cause that only finds expression, and then in childish display one day in a year, is lacking in quality. The religion and the loyalty that are not lived are not of the best.

THE PEOPLING OF THE WEST.

The Manitoba Free Press contains a valuable resume of what has been accomplished since the advent of the Laurier Government to power, toward the peopling of the West.

Year by year the growth of the inflow of population drawn into Western Canada by the vigorous immigration activity carried on under the policy which has been in operation since 1896 has been as follows:

1897—Calendar year	21,916
1898—Calendar year	31,900
1899—Calendar year	44,543
1900—Six months(f.)	23,895
1900-1901—Fiscal year	49,149
1901-1902—Fiscal year	67,379
1902-1903—Fiscal year	128,364
1903—1904—Fiscal year	130,331
1904-1905—Fiscal year	146,266
1905-1906—Fiscal year	189,064
1906—1907—Nine months	124,667
1907-1908—Fiscal year	262,469

The immigration figures for 1907-1908 are up to March 31st last.

Of the total immigration, year by year, of which the figures are given above, the British immigration was as follows:

1897	11,383
1898	11,173
1899	10,660
1900—Six months	5,140
1900-1901	11,810
1901-1902	17,259
1902-1903	41,792
1903-1904	50,374
1904-1905	65,659
1905-1906	86,096
1906-1907—Nine months	55,791
1907-1908	120,182

In these totals of British immigration it is of interest to note the proportions of English and Welsh, Scotch and Irish respectively. The official figures are as follows, since 1900:

	English and Welsh	Scotch	Irish
1900-1901	9,401	1,476	933
1901-1902	13,095	2,853	1,311
1902-1903	32,510	7,046	2,236
1903-1904	36,694	10,552	3,128
1904-1905	45,932	15,846	5,013
1905-1906	49,617	11,744	3,998
1906-1907	45,933	15,846	5,013
1906-1907 (9 months)	41,658	10,729	3,594
1907-1908	91,612	23,223	6,547

The records show that during the above period more than 18 per cent. of the total arrivals from England and Wales, 20 per cent. of the arrivals from Scotland, and 23 per cent. of the arrivals from Ireland made free homestead entries in Western Canada.

An important part of the stream of newcomers into Western Canada since the vitalizing of the immigrational policy of the Dominion in 1896, is that which comes across the international boundary. The figures of the immigration from the United States are as follows:

1907	2,412
1908	9,179
1899	11,945
1900—Six months	8,542
1900-1901	17,987
1901-1902	26,388
1902-1903	39,473
1903-1904	45,229
1904-1905	43,652
1905-1906	57,919
1906-1907—Nine months	34,659
1907-1908	58,312

During the above period 43 per cent. of arrivals from the United States made homestead entry in the Western Provinces, and brought with them during the fiscal year (1907-08) alone, more than $52,000,000 in cash and settlers' effects. The figures showing the occupations of the immigrants from the United States are of interest. To give them year by year would require more space than is available. (The totals for the period 1903-4 to 1907-8 will suffice: Farmers and farm labourers 155,388

General labourers	11,268
Mechanics	7,515
Clerks, traders, etc.	5,290
Miners	2,246
Domestics	219

The figures of the immigration from continental Europe next claim attention. In this connection it is of interest to note that in the debate in the Dominion House in April last, in which the Opposition, in attacking the immigration policy of the Dominion Government, showed to singularly ill advantage, Dr. McIntyre, the member for Strathcona, went into the official figures at length and showed that the foreign population of Alberta in 1907 was 15 per cent. of the whole; in Saskatchewan, 20.6 per cent., and in Manitoba, 12.3 per cent., or an average of 18.7 per cent of the total population of the three provinces. The totals of the immigration from continental Europe, year by year, are as follows:

1897	7,921
1898	11,608
1899	21,602
199—Six months	10,211
1900-1901	19,352
1901-1902	25,732
1902-1903	37,099
1903-1904	34,725
1904-1905	37,255
1905-1906	44,349
1906-1907—Nine months	34,217
1907-1908	83,975

During the above period 28 per cent. of arrivals from continental Europe made entry for homesteads in Western Canada, while many others engaged with farmers or in domestic service.

The homestead entries by British settlers from the United States and settlers from continental Europe have been as follows:

	British	American	Continental
1897	416	154	673
1898	725	581	1,270
1899	867	1,064	1,796
1900 (6 months)	496	833	1,643
1900-1901	940	2,026	1,868
1901-1902	1,580	4,761	3,653
1902-1903	3,876	10,942	7,330
1903-1904	4,644	7,730	4,909
1904-1905	5,930	8,532	4,999
1905-1906	8,279	13,485	6,935
1906-1907 (9 months)	4,091	6,059	2,951
1907-1908 (9 months)	5,203	6,832	4,507

The contrast between the results achieved under the immigration policy of the Liberal party and those achieved during the Conservative regime is most striking. Not only is the Conservative showing insignificant, but in the last year of Conservative rule a decrease of 310 in arrivals and of 1,964 in those becoming actual residents of Canada had to be reported.

The figures deserve to be carefully studied by the Canadian people, and more especially by those persons who declaim against a vigourous immigration policy being carried out by the Dominion Government. There is no advantage to us in having a great West if we are unable to people it, and we cannot people it unless we make its advantages known. This is what the Dominion Government is doing, and the entire country, and more particularly great manufacturing centres like Peterborough, are benefitting through the enlargement of the western market for manufactured products.

But it must not be forgotten that while Canada has been extensively advertised, care has been taken to invite none but desirable immigrants, such as those who are able to take up land, farm labourers and domestic servants. All others have been given plainly to understand that if they come here they come at their own risk and without bonus of any kind.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

When our evening contemporary is forced to play the ghoul, and disturb the dead in their graves to make a petty political point, it demonstrates the measure of its editorial genius.

The manner in which the bad break in the Cornwall canal has been so rapidly repaired is a credit to the department and an illustration of the energy of its heads, and the completness of system prevailing in the Department of Railways and Canals.

It is a well-known fact that the editorial writers of the Review have for some years been unsatisfactory to the Conservative clique in Peterborough. Hence we see successive occupants of the editorial chair vanish to make room for more pliant material. It is also well known that its present editor was pitchforked into the position. His writings show both his animus and his capacity. No other man could be found who would condescend to unworthy methods and employment of insinuations and statements not possessing any blood relationship to the truth. Hence Mr. Burnham is selected, and his "job," like that of preceding editorial incumbents, will only last a limited period, as even his associates on the staff regard him and his work as a joke—without a point. Any one who takes him seriously will have only the editor himself for company.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Sir,—Your attention last year was drawn to the dangerous condition of the grand stand at the driving park. The roof has fallen and portions of the heavy fencing came down. The whole unsightly structure ought to be removed.

ATTENDED MONTREAL MARKET

Messrs. Morris and Brown Explain the Dullness of Sales.

(Messrs. Morris and Brown returned to the city this morning from Montreal, after attending the stock market. There were 2,300 cattle offered for sale and the market was glutted. The prices consequently were low and a decrease of $1 per cwt. for medium cattle was noticed. The prices ranged between $2.50 and $5.00, the latter being for the best grade. The reason for the market being flooded is because the stall fed cattle and grass fed cattle are being shipped, and at this time of the year there is always a decrease of price for a short time.

ALL COMING DOWN TO PETERBORO'

Orangemen in Lindsay Disirict are Determined to be Here

On Monday next there will be a large number of people in the city, and as an example of the interest which is being manifest in the celebration a little incident occurred at the meeting of the Lindsay Cheese Board. After the meeting the buyers were discussing when the cheese would be delivered, and some one suggested July 13th. This, however, had to be changed as one man, expressing the feeling of some other men, said, "You needn't expect it on July 13th, for we're all going down to Peterborough."

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, July 6.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending July 4 were 3884 cattle, 365 sheep and lambs, 2383 hogs and 599 calves. The offerings for to-day consisted of 1400 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs and 1200 calves. The weaker feeling which developed in the market for cattle a week ago has continued and prices have scored a further decline of ¼c per pound.

Sales of sheep for export were made at 4c to 4¼c, and the culls at 3¾c per lb. A fair trade was done in yearling lambs at 4¾c to 5c per lb. Supplies of spring lambs were small and prices were firm, at from $3.50 to $5 each. Calves were somewhat scarce and in demand, at $3 to $10 for good to choice stock, and at $2 to $5 for common.

The market for hogs has continued good and prices since this day week have scored another advance of 5c to 25c per 100 lbs. This to some extent is due to the smaller supplies coming forward, but more to the continued strength in the foreign markets for Canadian bacon, as cables on Saturday from Liverpool, London and Bristol quoted a further advance of 2s to 7s per cwt. since this day week. The demand from local dealers and packers for hogs this morning was good, and sales of selected lots were made at $6.90 to $7.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, July 6.—Cattle—Receipts, 2900 head; slow and 15c to 25c lower; prime steers, $6.75 to $7.25; shipping, $5.75 to $6.50; butchers', $4.75 to $6.25; heifers, $3.75 to $5.75; cows, $3.75 to $5.25; bulls, $3 to $4.50; stockers and feeders, $3.25 to $4.50; stock heifers, $3 to $3.40; fresh cows and springers, common steady, others $2 to $3 higher, $18 to $52.

Veals—Receipts, 1200 head; active and higher, $5 to $7.50.

THE OLD AGE ANNUITIES BILL

Bill Passes Through the House of Commons Yesterday.

GUARANTEE FOR THE THRIFTY

Measure's Terms Are Simple—Maximum Annuity $600 and Minimum Age 55—Lead Bounties Bill Passed—Votes For Harbors — Hon. Mr. Pugsley Replies to Allegations of Fraud in Contracts.

Ottawa, July 7.—The House of Commons transacted a large amount of business during the three sittings held yesterday. The old-age annuities measure, the act extending the period during which bounties will be paid on lead produced in Canada, and the bill authorizing the sale of a portion of Major's Hill Park, Ottawa, to the G.T.R. as an hotel site were all read a third time and passed. In committee a large number of public works estimates were put through, but not before Mr. Bennett had criticized the dredging contracts. He made a veiled threat against Hon. Mr. Pugsley, who promptly called the bluff, as he has done on previous occasions this session. The Minister, replying to Mr. Bennett, challenged that gentleman to give a single instance of a dredging contract being awarded to any but the lowest tenderer. He also neatly turned the tables on the Opposition by showing that as the result of their loud and insistent demands new tenders for dredging in Ontario and Quebec this year would aggregate in cost between $175,000 and $200,000 more than would have been the case had his original proposition to extend the contracts on last year's prices not been so fiercely combatted by Mr. Bennett and his colleagues.

Answering Mr. Lennox, Hon. Mr. Graham said that Mr. Lumsden, chief engineer of the Transcontinental, and Mr. Woods, assistant chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, had made an inspection of the cuttings in district F, on which it was alleged there had been over-classification, and were now engaged in making an inspection of similar disputed cuttings in section B. Their inspection had not yet been completed, and matters had not yet reached a stage where the appointment of a third arbitrator was necessary.

Hon. Mr. Fielding moved the third reading of the bill authorizing the issue of Government annuities for old age.

Mr. Smith (Nanaimo) moved the bill back into the committee for the consideration of an amendment which he proposed, making it possible for depositors in postoffice savings banks to transfer any amount of their accounts for the purpose of purchasing annuities, providing also that friendly societies and religious organizations may make arrangements for the purchase of annuities for their members, and making it possible for employers of labor and their employes to enter into contracts for the purchase of annuities for workmen.

The amendment was adopted and the bill was reported and passed.

On motion for the third reading of the bill respecting payment of bounties on lead, Mr. Foster reiterated the view that the proper way to develop the lead industry was to protect it by an adequate customs duty. The bill was read a third time and passed.

The Opposition again denounced the proposal to alienate that portion of Major's Hill Park for the purposes of the Grand Trunk hotel. R. L. Borden regarded it as an "outrageous piece of vandalism" to intrude the hotel into the grounds of Parliament. A Government that would do that would lease the new departmental block for a dance hall.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he could not find fault with the "fastidious aestheticism" of the leader of the Opposition. The Grand Trunk had selected this cite, and the people of Ottawa had come to the conclusion that this was the place for it. When the improvements were completed the Prime Minister did not think much fault would be found with it.

Mr. Borden replied that he was considering the question from the standpoint of the people of Canada.

Mr. Lennox insisted that the Government should have ascertained something as to the character of the building. So little did the Minister know about the plans that he did not tell how many outlets to the park there would be. The park was to be the backyard of the hotel.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley replied that the proceeds of the sale were to be devoted to the extension of Major's Hill Park to Nepean Point. This was not expressed in the bill, but the money was to be spent by the Improvement Commission under the direction of the governor-in-council.

In supply, Mr. Monk urged the building of the Georgian Bay Canal at once. The Government, he said, had practically abandoned the recommendations of the transportation commission.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley declared the Government was carrying out the views of the commission as rapidly as was consistent with their sources of the country. He instanced works at Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, St. John, Victoria Harbor and Tiffin, Fort William, Port Arthur and others with the sole aim of improving transportation facilities. It was expected the work at Victoria Harbor and Tiffin, which would enable the largest lake vessels to enter and would be completed by Oct. 1. This would divert, millions of bushels of grain from United States ports.

Mr. Blain spoke of the needs of Port Credit harbor. Sand was continually drifting in there. There was a large amount of traffic between Toronto and Hamilton and the harbor deserved attention. Mr. Pugsley said the difficulty was that the harbor was owned by a private company. If Mr. Blain could get the Ontario Government to buy out the company and contribute one-half the cost he would recommend that this Government contribute the other half. However, Mr. Pugsley promised attention.

Col. Sam Hughes sounded a note of warning in the matter of accidents in the west in the House yesterday. He alluded to the attempt to locate a colony of Japs in the foothills of the Rockies near Calgary, and reminded the House that a few sticks of dynamite exploded in certain tunnels and cuttings would so wreck the railway line that troops could be delayed a month in reaching the Pacific coast.

Mr. Pugsley got through his estimates last night. He got a money vote of $4,200,000 during the day out of a total of $9,500,000.

BURNED WHILE BLASTING.

Two Workmen Narrowly Escaped Being Blown to Pieces.

Dundas, July 7.—Given a choice of putting out the flames that were devouring their clothes, or of running to avoid a terrific dynamite explosion, two men engaged in blasting at the quarries here yesterday fled from the explosion, and, fanning the flames into a blaze, had their garments literally burned off their backs. The men are Bert Green of Greensville and James Sturrock, Jr., of West Flamboro Township. They are now in Hamilton Hospital in a serious condition.

Green and Sturrock were drilling holes for dynamite charges in the Doolittle & Wilcox quarries on the mountain. Some gas at the bottom of the hole became ignited.

Suddenly a spurt of flame burst from the hole, setting fire to their clothes. Although almost blinded, they had presence of mind to turn and run from the explosion.

It was well they did, for in a few minutes there was a terrific explosion that would have blown them to atoms. But in running the flames had steadily devoured their clothing. They staggered up to a party of workmen, who rolled them in the dust until the fire was extinguished.

Both men are in bad shape and have deep burns all over their bodies. It is feared that their lungs are affected.

They are experienced blasters, Sturrock having had charge of this work at the quarries for a long time, Green has been in the same work in Mexico, and is owner of the rights for the high explosive known as "Greenite."

OVER SEVENTY DEAD.

Thousands Injured During Progress of "Fourth" Celebrations.

Chicago, July 7.—Seventy-one dead and 2,024 injured are the figures in The Chicago Tribune's Fourth of July casualty list up to 11 p.m. Sunday night. An analysis of the figures show the following details:

Of the deaths, there were by fireworks and resulting fires, thirty-seven; by cannon, three; by firearms, sixteen; by gunpowder, six; by pistols, two; by runaways, five; by heart failure, due to explosion of cannon-crackers, two.

Those injured were: By fireworks, 1,109; by cannon, 212; by firearms, 196; by gunpowder, 551; by torpedoes, 60; by toy pistols, 211; by bomb canes, 5; by runaways, 35.

The fire loss was $525,935.

This breaks all records for deaths since 1889.

Lincoln Is Cut Off.

Lincoln, Neb., July 7.—Train service has practically been annuled and floods have stopped all traffic in Lincoln.

More than three inches of rain fell Sunday night.

Shot by His Friend.

Buffalo, July 7.—Without the least apparent provocation Djuro Kordic was shot and instantly killed by his supposed friend, Paul Relic, in a saloon in West Seneca last night. Relic escaped.

"Sunshine" Furnace

Where Shaking is Respectable

A Draft aff furnace dome, with no other assistance, is powerless to overcome the dust nuisance in shaking time. Only surplus dust rises of itself above the fire. Great bulk descends into ash-pit, and unless legitimate outlet is therein provided, dust will escape through ash-door slits and into operator's face.

In "Sunshine" Furnace the legitimate dust outlet is provided. It's a great big dust-pipe running straight from ash-pit to dome, thence to chimney. When big pipe damper is opened, all dust in ash-pit ascends to dome; then, when direct drafts are opened, all dust passes up chimney.

Always the clean and quick dust route in "Sunshine" Furnace — via grate, to pan, to dust-pipe, to dome, to chimney, to open air.

Write to us for "Sunshine" testimonials received from your own townspeople.

CENTRAL CANADA EXHIBITION

Many Changes to Make the Great Exhibition More Pleasing This Year Than Ever

THE FINE ARTS BUILDING

As previously announced, the dates for the Central Canada Exhibition at Ottawa this year are September 18th to 26th.

The many patrons of the Fair from this district have been looking forward to the announcement of the special features arranged for the show, and these having been announced a couple of days ago, we hasten to supply the demand for information. The directors, as usual, are endeavouring to make this annual Fair more attracting and pleasing to its patrons, and have made changes calculated to attain this object. In the first place, the prize list has been increased to $16,000, the premiums being greater in almost every department with the view of having a grander display.

The number of gold medals as special sweepstake prizes has also been increased until now they number 45. The grounds are being improved and beautified, and continuing the policy pursued in previous years, another new building is being erected. This building is for the display of Fine Arts and Ladies' Work. The new building is costing $12,000 and will prove a splendid addition to the accommodation of the Association. The Pure Food Exhibit by Canadian Manufacturers promises to be one of the most attractive displays ever made at the Central Canada Fair. This is an innovation which will no doubt be appreciated by visitors. The demand for space in the Manufacturers' Building is also sufficient to show that the exhibits will excel those of former years.

In regard to the special attractions, the directors have decided to return to the policy of former years and will have a splendid vaudeville programme in front of the grand-stand every afternoon. This programme will consist of a number of high class specialties, trotting and running races. The specialties will include the very latest and most costly attractions. Already the directors have contracted for the first appearance in America of De Oro's Wonderful Herd of Performing Cows which have been creating a sensation in Europe for some months. A thrilling Automobile Race in mid air by two intrepid young women chauffeurs is another feature. The ever-popular balloon ascension will this year take place on a grander scale than ever before, as this specialty will take the form of a balloon race with double parachute drops from each balloon by the renowned Prof. Hutchison and his companion.

The night entertainment will consist of the very latest comic opera, written for that comic opera specialist, De Wolff Hopper. It is being staged for the first time this season, and the fact that Hopper is the principal is justification for the statement that it will be pleasing to all. He has made a great reputation for himself in the many operas that he has presented, and those who have seen the rehearsals say that it is second to no performance of the kind yet given on the stage. "What Happened Then" is the name of the opera. Popular prices will prevail for this entertainment, and it will be given only as the night entertainment.

It is expected that in another month the complete programme will have been arranged. As usual, there will be a Bench Show of Dogs in connection with the Fair, and to signalize the opening of the new Fine Arts Building, the Ontario Society of Artists has accepted the task of preparing a magnificent exhibit of pictures, the work of leading Canadian artists. There are more than 70 special prizes, including gold medals, for special horses and cattle, as well as specials in hogs and poultry. A silver cup will be given by T. C. Bate, Esq., President C. C. E. A., for the best exhibit of Flint Corn grown in Ontario, east of Peterborough.

Will Likely Make A Grant Towards Battlefield Fund

A Delegation From Canadian Club Requests City Council To Make a Contribution Towards the Fund

A meeting of the council was called for last night but it had to be adjourned as only the Mayor and five of the Aldermen were present. They were Ald. Neil, Bradburn, Gillespie, Morrow and Johnston. Some of the others were out of the city, several were on the Firemen and Band's outing and the others were unavoidably absent.

However, a deputation from the Canadian Club of Peterborough, consisting of Messrs. D O'Connell, H. R H Kenner and F D Kerr—Dr. Halliday, who had also been delegated, was unable to be present—waited on the Mayor and Aldermen in regard to the Quebec Battlefield Fund. They requested that the Council make a grant toward this fund and suggested that the amount be $100 or $150. They were favourably received and since as was pointed out Peterborough was one of the leading commercial cities of the Dominion it should manifest its sympathy with the National spirit which the movement was strengthening and the Mayor, and Aldermen seemed agreeable to making a contribution to have Peterborough properly represented. Toronto made a grant of $5,000; Ottawa of $1,000, and the leading towns and cities of the country had seen fit to show their appreciation of the idea of acquiring the battlefields as a National memorial. While nothing definite was expressed it is almost assured that an appropriate grant will be made.

The three gentlemen from the Canadian Club presented the question in a splendid manner, bringing out its importance to Canada and dwelling upon the historical event which it will commemorate. The purpose of the fund to reclaim the land on which the battle of the Plains of Abraham was fought, the battle which swayed the destinies of two nations. The land is held in possession by private individuals and $500,000.00 is required to regain it. Of this amount $400,000.00 has already been received. Earl Grey instituted the fund and from private individuals, companies, corporations and on all sides a liberal response has been received. The Canadian Clubs fostering a spirit of National patriotism have done their share and the local Club considered it its duty to assist in the project. They have already made a grant of $150 from the Club's treasury, and their representatives made a strong appeal to the City to show their loyalty in this laudable project.

EXCURSION WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Firemen and Band Journeyed to Idyl Wyld Yesterday

The excursion to Idyl Wild yesterday on the steamers Otonabee and Monarch under the auspices of the old Fire Brigade and the 57th Regimental Band was a gigantic success. The weather conditions were ideal, and about 350 people took advantage of escaping from the city on the hottest day of the year, reaping their reward when Rice Lake with its cooling breeze was reached.

The band discoursed music on the way from the upper deck of the Otonabee, and downstairs there was a splendid orchestra for those who wished to dance, and a large number availed themselves of the opportunity.

On reaching Idyl Wild those who had baskets with them sought the tables placed in the shady groves of the beautiful resort, while the others availed themselves of the resources of the Hotel where Mine Host Parker had a bountiful repast ready for them.

In the afternoon the feature of the occasion was a ball game between the firemen and the bandsmen, and the musicians claim an 8-4 victory, while the fire laddies state that the game was a draw. Both sides drafted players from the Peterborough Midland League team in an effort to win out. Mr. Isaac Eastwood was umpire and had many narrow escapes from being mutilated for life. He had to be escorted off the field by a squad of police. Eight players were fined for making personal remarks to the umpire. The feature of the game was Bob. Mein's double none run on which he ran around the bases twice. He might have been running yet had not someone told him that only the one run counted. The teams—

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD MEETING

1418 Cheese Boarded — Price Was 11 Cents

Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie was present at the meeting of the Lindsay Cheese Board yesterday, and reports that the price of cheese was 11 1-2 cents. Fourteen hundred and eighteen boxes were boarded, and of these Mr. Cook, of Belleville, took 1,000. He got the first choice at 11 1-2, and needed the 1,000 boxes to fill an order.

LETTER RECEPTACLES ARE ADDED TO POST OFFICE

Instead of the usual letter and newspaper openings on the outside of the post office, there are now four. There is a large one for parcels and newspapers and one each of a smaller nature for special delivery letters, city letters and ordinary letters which are intended for outside points.

ON TEACHING THE DEAF

The Different Systems Discussed—Letter on Mastery of Language by Them

THE ORAL PROPOSALS

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—The profession of teaching the deaf is too great to admit of false values—no matter whence they come or under what name they appear—being unwittingly or otherwise spread, nay, enthroned, within its sacred precincts. That the novating spirit is in the air there is no question and it makes the judicious grieve to observe the number of its victims. This is all the more sad when you see men assuming the functions of leaders conspicuously lacking in proper appreciation of the task in hand, and going about undoing the work their elders and betters had taken years to evolve and perfect. Promotions have been made a matter of politics, people being brought in from the outside and appointed over the heads of men who have given their lifetime to the sacred cause, and in proportion as they are inexperienced will they be dogmatic. It matters little to us whether your school be oral or manual, but this we know that the great goal towards which everyone should strain is—complete mastery of language by the deaf, and in order to this, the "Combined system," has, by the transcending men of the profession, long been declared supreme. This is a true that out of 139 schools in the States and Canada, aleght only claim to be purely oral, and in matter of liberal support, equipment and efficiency the American schools are peerless.

A peculiar idea has, of late, been gaining ground, which is that the deaf should be educated very much on the same lines as normal children. If that be so, why maintain at considerable expense to the state, schools specially designed for them? This view, however, is generally taken by those who completely ignore the sign language, which—say what you will—silent children prefer to all others, and will use in spite of all we may ordain and decree. And we might add that more than one extreme oralist, when other means of communication prove ineffectual, had to invoke gestures to redeem a compromised situation.

But hear this view from one eminently qualified, dealing with the tendency of assimilation: "The jaunty optimism so fashionable in certain quarters which says to deaf pupils, you are exactly like hearing people, you can do what they do, is wicked, more than that it is insulting to the intelligence of the deaf." The hearing already possess experience, whereas the deaf have to take this fortress which, to many, has proved an impregnable Malakoff, before they can proceed to the conquest of other fields. That articulation should be encouraged with the semi-mute and semi-deaf, is readily granted, but there has been nothing realized yet justifying congenitally deaf children being tortured by a series of mouth-drills distressing alike to the performer and the beholder, and this at the sacrifice of time, which should be employed in mind expansion. As a proof, we have only to quote the following from M. Henri Gallaudet, one of the leading deaf mutes of Paris, and well known to the deaf of the world as the editor of the "French Deaf Mutes' Journal:" "In France," he writes, "the pure oral method has existed for nearly twenty years already, and has in that time not produced a single pupil able to speak distinctly, and readily, and read the lips, and, above all, able to express himself correctly in writing. Those who are supposed to have succeeded are semi-mutes, who, having lost their hearing when five or ten years old, were obliged to attend a special school. It is with such pupils that the pure oral method reached its highest aims. The greater number profit very little by the pure oral method, especially in their ability to express themselves in written language. I am glad, however, to note a reaction among the teachers in the National Institution at Paris. One notices there a turn towards the combined system, the utilization of all methods according to the aptitude of the pupils."

Thus it can be seen from those most competent to judge that the placing on such high pedestals, of innovations and apostles of reform, is, to say the least, premature. It is cheap fame that lets the world think you are rendering such great service whereas, in reality, you are netting the cause a sore disappointment. A would-be philosopher once modestly asserted he could beat the ten commandments! Will those political pets who are daily springing into office without having won their spurs, and who, in a twelve-month claim to know more than the De L'Epee's, the Sicard's, the Peet's, the Gallaudet's, the Noyes, the Jacobs and Williamson's—take heed before it is too late! Let us fervently hope they will!

A FRIEND OF THE DEAF.

BOYS' SECRETARY TO BE HERE SEPT. 1

Reunion of Intermediate Bible Club on Thursday Evening at Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Geo. T. Evans of Hamilton has accepted the position of boys' secretary of the local Y.M.C.A. and will be in Peterborough on September 1 to commence his duties. The boys' work got a good start last season through the efforts of Mr. J. M. Laing while he was boys' secretary, and the Association has every reason to expect a large work among the boys of our city this season under the able and experienced leadership of Mr. Evans.

A reunion of the Intermediate Bible Club will be held on Thursday evening for a social time. Let all the fellows get together at the Y.M.C.A. at 7.30 p.m. Delicious cool refreshments will be served and a good time spent.

MINISTER STAYS AT THE TAYLOR CHURCH

Rev. W. D. Reid Who Was Here in Winter Declines Ottawa Call

The following despatch from Montreal refers to the minister who preached anniversary sermons at Knox Presbyterian church last winter:

Rev. W D Reid, will not leave Taylor Presbyterian Church to accept the invitation to Erskine church, Ottawa, making this announcement to his congregation yesterday. The invitation to Erskine church was of a most flattering nature but in view of the condition of the work in Taylor Church Rev. Mr. Reid could not see his way clear to accepting the call. To show how the church is progressing it may be stated that 205 new members have joined it since the first of the year. At a meeting of the officials of the church last night a vote of thanks was tendered to Rev. Mr. Reid for deciding to remain in Montreal.

SEVERAL MEN SECURED FARM WORK

By Calling at the Examiner at Proper Time on Saturday

On Saturday the Examiner succeeded in securing positions for six young men on farms. Several farmers called between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock and found labourers waiting. As there are many demands for men, those who were at the Examiner office, and especially those who have had experience, had no difficulty in securing work.

The Examiner makes the same offer to the farmers and prospective labourers for next Saturday.

The Annual Excursion of All Saint's Church will be held on Thursday next, 9th inst. to Stoney Lake, leaving G.T.R. station at 8.30 am. Tickets Adults 65 cents, Children 35 cents.

APPOINTMENTS MADE RE NORMAL SCHOOL

It is said that the Whitney administration have selected the teachers for the Peterborough Normal School. The announcement will be made shortly. The janitorship is still causing considerable annoyance. It is said it is easier selecting the principal than the janitor. The appointment of the janitor has not yet been decided upon. The applicants are said to be very numerous.

SPORTS ARRANGED FOR QUAKER OATS PICNIC

Goes to Cool Cobourg on Saturday—Short and Pleasant Trip

One of the best excursions of the season from Peterborough will be the Quaker Oats excursion to Cobourg next Saturday. A number of energetic men have the arrangements in hand and everything is now complete. The special train will leave Peterborough on Saturday morning at 8.45 and on the return trip will leave Cobourg at 6 o'clock p.m.

A programme of sports has been arranged, not the least interesting of which will be a baseball game and a guessing contest will be one of the features of the excursion. The rates are only 85 cents for adults and 45 cents for children. Those who attend are assured of one of the finest outings of the season as beautiful Cobourg on the lake shore is a most happy selection as a place of pleasure.

MR. OSBORNE'S NEW GASOLINE YACHT "DON"

A speedy little two-horse power gasoline launch in which a select party enjoyed the pleasure of a day's outing on the Otonabee River, is "The Don." It was just such a trip one appreciates these days when he seeks to get away from the sweltering heat of the city the use of himself to the cool refreshing waters. The unusual part of it was to glide through the water without any fuss or annoying vibration at the rate of nine miles an hour. This was certainly going some, and one wonders where all the energy comes from, when you look at the motive power that might easily be packed in a soap box. The owner, Mr. Osborne, designer and builder, is also very proficient in handling this little craft, which seems to do his bidding readily—either to slow down while trawling or to overtake and out-distance competitors. It is fitted out with all the comforts for boating and fishing. Such a pleasant trip elicited the thanks of Mr. Osborne's friends.

THE CARPET WEAVERS HELD SMOKER

Enjoyable Time Spent Last Night—Good Programme

QUEBEC TER-CENTENARY

The Grand Trunk Railway System have issued a neat and attractive booklet in connection with the Ter-Centenary celebration to be held at Quebec this month. The booklet gives concise information regarding the object of the celebration, and gives the complete official programme that will be carried out, order of the historical procession, particulars of the scenes of the historic pageants, information regarding accommodation and particulars of how to reach Quebec. The publication is profusely illustrated with scenes of the modern city together with historic land marks. A copy can be had free from principal agents of the Grand Trunk.

A GARDEN PARTY TO BE HELD IN OTONABEE

To-morrow evening a garden party and strawberry festival will be held on the spacious lawn of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon, Drummond Station, Otonabee, under the auspices of St. Mark's congregation. Quite a number of young people from Peterborough intend to be present.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THAT?

—The bargains that the Peterborough shops put up in muslins just now are hard to beat, but we want to go one better, and offer to make, for one week, any muslin suit, no matter what style, for the sum of $3.00. Don't hesitate, as it's only for one week. Lady fitter. New York Ladies' Tailoring, 658 George street. Phone 624. Phone us and we will call to give you particulars, if desired. Many In Attendance At Chemong Summer School

Addresses Last Night by Professor Doxsee of Belleville—Meetings Open to General Public—Other Addresses

PROGRAMME FOR TO-DAY

Examiner Special

Chemong, July 7.—The Kawartha Lakes Summer School opened its sessions last evening at the Chemong Park. There was a large attendance of delegates and visitors. It is expected that many more will arrive by train and boat to-day. The school is drawn from the workers in Epworth Leagues and Sunday Schools in the Bay of Quinote Conference. Any interested worker is eligible for attendance and is cordially invited. The registration fee is $1. The school continues every day this week. The morning sessions are given over to study and the afternoons alternately to recreations and addresses, and the evenings to popular and timely addresses by prominent laymen and ministers. The scope of the school is threefold—the study of missions, methods of work and the Bible. The closing service will be held next Sunday evening, when Rev. Robt. Emberson, B. A., returning missionary to Japan, will preach. The meetings, and the evening ones in particular, are open to the general public.

Last evening was given over to addresses, outlining the work of the school. Prof. E. R. Doxsee, B.A., B.D., Albert College, Belleville, who takes charge of the department of Mission Study, gave a most interesting outline of the work to be covered in the two text books of study. The one text is entitled "The Why and How of Foreign Missions," and the other is "The Moslem World." The Rev. A. C. Crews, D.D., General Secretary of Young People's Work of the Methodist Church, gave one of his bright and illuminative addresses on "Various Types of Leagues," (as personally observed.) Dr. Crews takes charge of the department of "Methods of Work." The closing address was given by the pastor of Euclid Avenue Methodist Church, Toronto, the Rev. E. N. Baker, M.A., D.D. Dr. Baker, in a brief and impressive address, gave an outline of the Bible studies which he will conduct morning by morning in the Book of Hebrews. The evening programme was enlivened with singing. Two solos were rendered, one by Mr. Kemp, Trenton, and one by Miss May Dobson, Whitby Ladies' College. Collections are taken at all mass meetings.

The following is the programme for this evening's sessions:

Chairman—Rev. C. E. Cragg, B.D.
8.00—Prayer and praise service.
Addresses—Rev. John Garbutt, Rev. S. J. Shorey, D.D.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons have received an order from the Government at Ottawa for three large tents to be used by the Prince of Wales' Body Guard of N. W. M. P., at the Quebec Tercentenary.

On Saturday they shipped a painting—the English Coat of Arms—to Quebec, which was ordered by the City of Quebec. The coat of arms will be erected on an immense grand stand.

LOST THE KEY AND HAD TO BREAK IN THE DOOR

Experience of Representative of Peter Hamilton Co. at Lindsay

In an account of a fire that burned the stable of the Grand Union Hotel, Lindsay, on Sunday morning, the Free Press of that town says:

Mr. Fee, the representative of the Peter Hamilton Company, Limited, Peterborough, had a very exciting time getting his horse out of the shed. It was thought that the structure would also fall a victim to the destroying element. In trying to unlock the door he lost the key and was forced to break the door in with an axe.

PAID A VISIT TO FIRE HALL

The Mayor and Council Made a Call Last Night

The Mayor and five members of the Council paid a visit to the fire hall last night about nine o'clock to see how things had adjusted themselves. As far as can be learned everything was found satisfactory. The brigade made arrangements to turn out this afternoon at five o'clock on George street for the benefit of the visitors from Whitby.

PRESENTATION TO MR. M. W. BROWN

Remembered by Fellow Employees of the C. G. E.

Mr. M. W. Brown, 617 Rubidge street, received a pleasant surprise when he went home last night and found a handsome suit case with an address from the employees of several departments of the C. G. E. On Saturday evening Mr. Brown severed his connection with the C. G. E. after ten years' service, the last four of which were spent as inspector of meters. The departments represented in the remembrance were the S. and R. the Meter Assembly, and the Meter Test. Mr. Brown was very much surprised on receiving this present, and certainly appreciates it. Mr. Brown is leaving Peterborough shortly.

HOTELMAN MAKES AN ASSIGNMENT

Liabilities Amount to $53,000—Assets Not Known

Mr. James A Lawless, formerly proprietor of the National Hotel has made an assignment to Mr. J H Langley of Toronto. It includes the National, which was recently taken over by Mr. Dennison and also the New Liskeard property. The liabilities amount to $53,000. The assets, although not definitely known, will amount to a considerable sum.

NO ACCIDENTS IN NATURE

Every Calamity, no Matter How Great Has a Definite Beginning

There are no accidents in nature.

The avalanche that, without a moment's warning, rushes headlong down the mountain side is not an accident.

For years previous tiny atoms have been crystallizing and adding their minute weight to the mass which left its base when the accumulation reached a certain point.

Neither is baldness an accident. The infinitesimally small germ which is the cause of Dandruff and Baldness, feeds silently and long before the result is seen.

The small germs which thrive on the scalp and which are the cause of Baldness and Dandruff, cannot exist, however, when Newbro's Herpicide is applied.

THE HOT WEATHER KILLS MANY CHILDREN

Over Four Hundred Succumb to Heat in New York.

MANY SUFFER FROM STROKE

Two Brooklyn Men Attempt to Kill Their Wives With Carving Knife—Driven Mad by the Heat—Seven Deaths and Thirteen Prostrations Reported Yesterday—Sleeping In the Parks.

New York, July 7.—Thousands last night slept on fire escapes or in the parks, and the effect of the excessive heat became apparent early in the day, when reports of deaths, prostrations and sudden insanity began to pour in at police headquarters.

Seven deaths and thirteen prostrations from the intense heat were reported in Brooklyn and Manhattan up to 1 p.m.

Two Brooklyn men who are believed to have been crazed by the excessive heat were taken in the King's County Hospital early yesterday, after they had attempted to kill their wives with carving-knives.

Hot weather maladies caused 414 deaths among children in the last week, according to the Board of Health's statement issued yesterday. Fourteen deaths from sunstroke were also recorded, as compared with but three last year at the same period.

Favor Contract With Hydro.

Hamilton, July 7.—A resolution was unanimously passed at the indignation meeting in the Savoy Theatre last night in favor of closing a contract with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, in view of the fact that the ratepayers had twice endorsed that course, and if the aldermen had any doubt about it to submit it to the ratepayers again.

Ald. McLaren, A. J. Wright, Allan Studholme, M.P.P., Geo. Smith, Thos. Mitchell and many others spoke in favor of competition in power. Ald. Farrar tried to deliver a Cataract speech and his sentiments were hooted.

About twenty members of the Board of Trade, including William J. Southam, met yesterday afternoon and passed a resolution asking the aldermen to sign a contract with the Cataract Power Co. The resolution cited the benefits bestowed upon the city by the company. Ald. H. G. Wright and Ald Farrar spoke in favor of that course

Was Nearly a Disaster.

Rainy River, July 7.—A very serious accident to C.N.R. passenger train No. 2 was narrowly averted on Sunday at the village of Emo, about 40 miles east of Rainy River. When passing over the pile bridge emptying into the Rainy River the bridge sank to such an extent that the engine was uncoupled from the train. The engineer saved his engine by going ahead at full speed, leaving his train on the other side of the bridge. Had the heavy sleepers reached the bridge it is thought that it would surely have given way and the cars would have dropped seventy feet to the bed of the stream. The train was delayed five hours while the bridge crew made the necessary repairs.

Thief Rifles Poor Box.

Detroit, July 7.—Rev. F. R. Downey caught a thief in the act of rifling a poor box in the Immaculate Conception Church, and while waiting for the arrival of the police the thief broke away and jumped through a window and escaped, but not before all the money he had secured was recovered.

Fire at Cardinal.

Cardinal, Ont., July 7.—Early yesterday morning fire broke out in the rear of a butcher-shop occupied by B. W. Knight. The building was destroyed, together with the furniture store occupied by R. C. Rankin, and the stables of Dillon's Hotel.

Dead Man Identified.

Chatham, July 7.—The man found beside the Pere Marquette Sunday at noon has been identified as Daniel Adams. A sister lives in Brantford.

Five People Killed.

Los Angeles, Calif., July 7.—Four children and the father of two of them are dead and six persons are injured as the result of a collision between a farm wagon and an electric car.

Evidence Weak Against Gies, Held at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 7.—While the police continue to express the belief that Frederick Gies, Jr., who was arrested Sunday night on suspicion of knowing something about the death of Dr. Wm. H. Wilson, who was killed by drinking poisoned ale on June 26, is the man they want, developments yesterday do not add strength to their belief. Wm. Olmstead, an employe of a type foundry, who sold a letter "S" used in letters printed by the man believed to be the murderer, confronted Gies at the City Hall yesterday and failed to identify him. The letter "S" was used in a printed letter sent to the coroner by the supposed murderer, and also used on a stamp on the bottle containing the ale.

According to the police, the man who caused the death of Dr. Wilson committed the crime because the physician performed an illegal operation on his wife, which resulted in her death. Gies' wife died recently and the police say she had been under treatment by Wilson. Gies claims that his wife died June 15 from Bright's disease, while the police claim she died about June 6. The date of the death of the woman is important, because the letter "S" which was used to stamp the bottle of poisoned ale was purchased on June 15.

CASHIER SAVED DIAMONDS.

Caught Two Crooks Trying to Palm the Gems.

New York, July 7.—What is declared to have been a bold attempt to rob the firm of Cooper & Forman, diamond brokers in Maiden Lane, was frustrated by the watchfulness of the firm's cashier yesterday.

While the two men were examining a tray of gems in the showroom, Mr. Stevenson, the cashier, walked up behind them and covered them with a revolver, directing them to throw up their hands.

Stevenson claimed that he had seen the men skilfully palm several stones and that when they made a break for liberty one of the men dropped several diamonds. Stevenson brought them to a halt and turned them over to the police. The men said they were James D. Shank and Ferderick Kenny, both of New York.

Laborer Smothered In Cave-In.

Brantford, July 7.—In the cave-in of a sewer on Greenwich street last evening, Angus McKinnon, a laborer, was smothered before his body could be recovered. He was working in laying pipe fifteen feet below the surface, when the framework gave way and earth piled in on him. Two other laborers, nearer the surface, got out by a narrow margin, one having his foot caught. The victim was 40 years old, married, and leaves a wife and five children.

Bank Manager Is Acquitted.

Brantford, July 7.—Hugh Hood, the manager of the Crown Bank at Scotland, was discharged yesterday afternoon on the charge of making a false oath, a charge arising out of the last provincial election, where he swore to his right to vote in Scotland, Ont., when, as a matter of fact, he lived with his wife at Townsend. He held, however, that Scotland was his headquarters and that he was going to move his wife. Wilful intent was not shown.

Two Smooth Strangers.

Brockville, July 7.—Several Brockville merchants and others are looking for a couple of strangers who opened up an office here known as the "Kleancoat Co." The pair gave the names of Frank Elliott and Chas. Bourke. They took an apparent interest in theatricals and joined the Oddfellows and A.O.U.W. They left yesterday for the States via Morristown with several hundred dollars' worth of goods.

Not Now a Mission Land.

Rome, July 7.—An important pontifical document referring to the organization and working of the Roman congregations was made public yesterday.

It removes Great Britain, Holland, Canada and the United States from the jurisdiction of the propaganda, these countries thus ceasing to be considered missionary lands.

May Have Been Girl's Assailant.

Strathroy, July 7.—When a man who answered in every detail to the description of the man who attacked little Mabel Webb, near Middlemarch on Sunday entered a barber-shop for a shave yesterday the barber refused to shave him and 'phoned for the police. When arrested he gave his name as Ernest Brigman. He will be held for identification.

Balloonists Adventure.

Montreal, July 7.—Capt. Honeywell and Dr. Fielding of San Antonio, Texas, who ballooned unharmed nearly 1,000 miles from Chicago, came to grief in his airship, the Fearless, near Shefford, yesterday afternoon during a thunderstorm.

The crew were dragged across fields and over fences, and finally landed in a pond.

Cashier Is Missing.

Ottawa, July 7.—Louis W. English, cashier for the Williams' Piano House, 140 Bank street, has disappeared, and a warrant is said to have been issued for his arrest. It is alleged that he is short in the funds of the firm in which he was employed.

A BIG BLAZE IN HAYTI ISLAND

Hundreds of Buildings Burned at Port-Au-Prince.

CITY IN STATE OF PANIC

Arsenal and Stores of Powder and Ammunition Destroyed — Several Terrific Explosions—Roof of National Bank Blown Off — The Court House and Prison Also Burned — Assist Firemen.

Port-au-Prince, July 7.—The disastrous fire which started in the vicinity of the palace and Senate buildings here on Sunday, and was believed to have been controlled after 400 buildings were burned, broke out again during the night and caused further by an explosion in the arsenal which shook the whole town, damaged many buildings and scattered blazing embers over a wide range. The roof of the National Bank was thrown down by the violence of the concussion when the explosion occurred. The second fire was believed to have been checked at midnight, but the flames got a third start yesterday morning, and before they were subdued forty more buildings had been destroyed.

The city was almost in a state of panic. The flames surged along with what appeared to be an irresistible sweep and terrific explosions, which occurred at intervals, added to the frenzy of the populace. It was not until the intensity of the fire had diminished that anything like quiet was restored.

The Chamber of Deputies and the large establishment of the congregation of St. Louis' were menaced for a time by the flames, but they were saved without damage.

Port-au-Prince, July 7.—A serious fire broke out here about 2 o'clock Sunday in the vicinity of the palace and Senate building. The flames spread quickly, there being a high wind, and soon reached alarming proportions. Four hundred buildings were burned, including the court house and the prison. All of the prisoners were taken to other quarters before the building took fire.

Sparks were carried to the arsenal, which also was destroyed, with stores of powder and ammunition. The burning of the arsenal was accompanied by many explosions. The firemen were aided by a large section of the populace in fighting the flames, and a force from French cruiser Chasseloup-Loubat.

Cowardly Stabbing.

Fredericton, N.B., July 7.—A young man named Oscar Case, belonging to Burton, Sunburn County, is lying at the point of death at his home as a result of a knife wound inflicted by another young man named Garnet Ward, in Alexander Burnett's store at Oronocto Sunday night.

Ward has not been apprehended, but Sheriff Holden and a posse are pursuing him. Ward walked up to Case and stabbed him in the back without a moment's warning.

It is quite evident that Ward struck to kill, and the only motive that can be assigned for the deed is that he had quarreled with the elder brother of Case about a week ago, and had received a severe trouncing at his hands. He is said to have threatened at the time that he would even matters up at the first opportunity.

Raided "Blind Pigs."

Cobalt, July 7.—Fifty "blind pigs" were raided by Government officials on Saturday night.

Nearly a dozen men were arrested and taken to the police station, some being afterwards liberated on bail.

Eudo Saunders, chief license officer, is here to prosecute before the magistrate.

Those arrested were brought before Magistrate H. Hartman and remanded. In case of a second offence the culprit will be "sent down" for four months without the option of a fine.

Matricide Must Die.

New York, July 7.—Bernard Carlin was convicted of murder in the first degree yesterday before Judge Dyke of the County Court in Brooklyn, and was sentenced to die in the week beginning Aug. 3.

Carlin, who is 22 years of age, on April 8, within two hours after his release from prison, went to the home of his mother, in Brooklyn, and shot her to death.

Carlin pleaded lack of motherly care as his excuse for the crime.

Peary Starts North Again.

New York, July 7.—The Roosevelt, Commander Peary's Arctic exploring ship, left the pier at the East 24th street yesterday afternoon on a voyage as far into the ice of the north as one can safely be taken hence, whence Peary will make possible despatch for the pole. The ship will go to Oyster Bay, where President Roosevelt will inspect the ship before she starts on her long trip to the frozen north.

Record In Windsor Marriages.

Detroit, Mich., July 7.—Windsor's Gretna Green is more affected by leap-year than trade depressions, according to official returns of City Clerk Lusted, that there were 672 marriages in Windsor in the past six months. This is a new high water mark.

Mother and Babe Burned.

Cupar, Sask., July 7.—Mrs. C. L. Preston of Brandon was badly burned, and her baby was badly injured, in a fire which destroyed the dwelling of her father, Charles Payne, whom she was visiting.

Drowned In Cistern.

Woodstock, July 7.—Lucy Florence, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Edwards of this city, was drowned yesterday at the residence of J. D. McKenzie, where her mother was washing.

The child fell into the open cistern and was dead when the body was found a short time after she was missed.

OVERWORKED ENTERTAINER BREAKS DOWN

NOW WELL

Mr. Harry Bennett, of Toronto, is an entertainer of the first order and it is little wonder, therefore, that the great demand for his services should at times tax his vocal chords to the utmost. He says: "My voice had been taxed to the utmost, and in addition contracted a severe cold which disorganized my vocal chords. The muscles of my throat were next to useless and beyond my control. You can imagine the ordeal I underwent daily in trying to sing or speak, and had I known then the value of Psychine as I do now I would have been spared the pain I [illegible] undergo during my performances as well as the loss of voice for 3 weeks. W. H. HILL, ESQ.,

Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,---We beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque for $2,500.00 in settlement of fire loss, Policy 8,645,879, Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.

We note in connection with this settlement a most unusual feature. They are legally entitled to 1% of stated sum for payment prior to due date. No business man would for one moment question their right to this amount. But they do not take it. Instead they have purposely waived their privileges and presented us with this additional amount.

We are gratified to note this remarkable action. To adjust and settle a loss within twelve days is noteworthy, but to add to this magnanimity in refusing to take advantage of their discount privileges places this company in a most favorable position.

We congratulate you upon representing a company of such superior standing.

Yours very truly,

THE WEST ENDS WERE BADLY TROUNCED BY Y.M.C.A. LAST NIGHT

The Y.M.C.A. gave the West Ends another jolt down the toboggan slide last night when they defeated Jimmy McNiro's bunch by 14 runs to 5 in a City League game, making a runaway of the contest. The West Ends were shut out entirely until the seventh, when the "Y." infield had a temporary ascension and five of the gray shirts made their way around the circuit. Butcher started in to pitch for the West Ends, but the Y.M.C.A. got to him hard in the third, and with the assistance of a large and over-ripe collection of awful misplays, they scored nine runs which broke up the game. Butcher retired in favour of Rose, and the latter held the "Y." to two hits and three runs in the remainder of the game.

The Y.M.C.A. had all the better of the contest, both as regards fielding and batting, and their victory was just as decisive as the score would indicate. Len Patterson pitched fine ball, and his support until the last innings was gilt-edged.

Outside of that awful third innings the West Ends played fair ball. Halpin was the leader with the stick, getting three safeties.

"Bill" Shaw of the Stratheonas umpired satisfactorily. The score—

TWO WALKING MATCHES TO BE PULLED OFF HERE ON JULY 13th

There will be two big walking matches here on July 13th, in the Brock street rink. At four o'clock in the afternoon there will be an hour's walk for the championship of the County of Peterborough, and in the evening Stacey, the Linky Irishman who made such remarkable time at Lindsay and St. Catharines, will walk a relay race against five local walkers, to be selected by the sporting editors of the Peterborough papers Each of the five will walk four miles, while Stacey will do twenty. The two races should attract a large crowd. There are already seven entries for the walk in the afternoon.

SPRINGVILLE LOST GAME TO OMEMEE

But Former Claims the Referee Didn't Carry Out Football Rules

Springville, July 6.—A very interesting game of football took place at the Orange Corners' picnic held at McGee's Grove on June 26th, between Omemee and Springville. The game commenced about 6.30 o'clock and was for a football put up by the Orange Corners' Sporting Club. Omemee kicked the ball off and it was nicely caught by Springville's halt backs. Omemee forwards made a desperate effort to get the ball but O Paw secured it and sent it swirling through space to N Seaton. He shot on goal but the ball, striking the goal stake and the umpire, was still in play. It bounced back to G Reynolds who sent the cowhide swirling through the goal. The referee, it is thought, was posted by Omemee to try and hand Springville a large lemon. Mr. Harry Fowler was the referee and from what Springville could see he either didn't know much about the job or was betting on Omemee. Omemee scored one goal by a good combination and their other was scored on a penalty kick. The score should have been a draw by fair play and Springville will cover anything Omemee wants to put up, but they can do better than the said draw.

Referee—H Fowler.

Timekeeper—W Graham.

PORT HOPE TO PLAY THE PETES

Will Meet Local Midland Leaguers at Riverside To-morrow

There will be a lively game of ball at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon, when the Port Hope and Peterborough Midland League teams will meet. A big excursion is coming up from Port Hope for the day and there will be a large crowd on hand. Port Hope beat Peterborough Dominion Day and the Petes are determined to get back at them. A great game should be the result.

THE AMERICAN RUNNERS PROTESTING LONGBOAT

Threaten to Withdraw From Olympic Contest

London, July 7. — It looks very much as if there is to be trouble between the American athletic contingent and the Olympic Council in the next few days.

The trouble will centre around Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian runner, who is now training in Ireland under the care of Tom Flanagan, the manager of the I.C.A.C., Toronto.

The Americans claim that if they compete against Longboat they will be disqualified from competing with amateurs when they return to the States. Under these conditions they will refuse to run if Longboat is permitted to start in the Marathon race or any other of the events of the Olympic games.

The Olympic Committee reported this morning that they had had as yet no written protest against Longboat's entry to the games, but they were anticipating the arrival of one shortly.

James E. Sullivan, who is in charge of the American Olympic team, has hinted in a pretty straightforward way that there will be trouble if Longboat is allowed to start.

Lord Desborough, this morning, said he anticipated that trouble would arise, but it would not be of the Olympic Committee's making.

So far as Longboat's entry to the games is concerned, it has been received by the Olympic Commissioners and handed over to the secretary of the English A.A.A., Mr. P. Lee Fisher, with the rest of the entries.

The entire bunch of the Canadians are putting in hard practice at the Stadium to-day, with the exception of Bobbie Kerr, who is resting after his efforts at the English championship meet on Saturday.

Orangemen May Run Excursion From Toronto

The local committee of Orangemen who are arranging for the big celebration on July 13 are nearing the conclusion of their work. There is a possibility that an excursion may be run from Toronto, and arrangements are now under way with the C.P.R. to this effect. There are several Orange lodges in the Pontypool and Burketon district who only recently intimated their desire to come to Peterborough, and the special train, if run, will be for the benefit of lodges between Toronto and here.

Mr. W H G Armstrong, County Master for West Peterborough, stated to day that he anticipated between 15,000 and 20,000 Orangemen and their friends in Peterborough next Monday. They will be here from Hastings, Victoria, Durham, Northumberland, as well as from all parts of Peterborough county.

BADE FAREWELL TO THEIR MINISTER AND FRIEND

Presentation to the Rev. Mr. Strike at Deseronto

The Deseronto Tribune in its last issue refers to presentations made to Rev. Mr. Strike, who is well known here, having been a former teacher. The Tribune says:

On Wednesday evening the festival of St. John the Baptist, Craig Lodge, No. 401, A. F. and A. M., met in Special session. Two candidates for initiation were given the first degree, after which the lodge adjourned to the refreshment room, where a pleasant and profitable hour was spent. R. W. Bro. Geddis, a charter member and a past master of the lodge, occupied the chair. During the course of the evening he casually remarked that this would be the last occasion on which they would have Rev. Bro. Strike with them, whereupon R. W. Bro. Whyte arose and read an address to Mr. Strike, who is chaplain of the lodge.

The address was signed on behalf of the lodge by the committee to whom the matter was entrusted. The presentation took the form of a solid gold ring with appropriate Masonic emblem engraved thereon.

Mr. Strike was taken completely by surprise, not an inkling of the intentions of the brethren having been allowed to reach his ears; but nevertheless he replied in a masterly manner, expressing his appreciation of the brotherly kindness which prompted the act.

Several others of the brethren present made short remarks, and the meeting adjourned in harmony shortly before midnight.

A surprise gathering of Epworth Leaguers took place at the parsonage Tuesday evening, when the young people presented Mr. and Mrs. Strike with a handsomely framed picture of the church and parsonage, and also with an address, which was illuminated and framed.

The address was read by Miss Ida Carnahan and the presentation made by Miss Flossie Lake.

Suitable replies were made by Mr. and Mrs. Strike, after which refreshments were served and a social hour spent, at the conclusion of which the pastor and his family were showered with roses as a last mark of love and esteem.

OBITUARY.

MR CHRISTOPHER MOORE

Mr. Christopher Moore, of Orillia, who died on Saturday, at 72 years of age, will be well remembered by many of the older generation, especially by those connected with the lumbering trade. In the early days he was a hotel keeper in Orillia—in the stage coach days—when the coach for the northern country started from and stopped at his hotel. He afterwards entered into mercantile business and became one of Orillia's representative citizens. Both in the council and as a man of high reputation and qualities.

MRS. LEONIDAS HUBBARD TO WED AGAIN

Will be an Englishman's Bride — Was Born Near Rice Lake

London, July 7.—(Special.) — Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, jr., of New York, widow of the Labrador explorer, has just given her hand to Harold Ellis, the son of the Right Hon. John Edward Ellis, M.P., recently Under Secretary of State for India. The bridegroom-elect owns extensive coal lands and mines in Northamptonshire. Mrs. Hubbard was born in Canada, near Rice Lake, where her relatives still reside.

OBSERVATORY TOWER AT TRENT BRIDGE

One for Astronomical Purposes is Being Erected There

Havelock, July 7. — The Dominion Government is erecting a tower for astronomical and geodetic purposes on a hill on the Mohaney farm, on the road to Trent Bridge. This is the highest point in the district, and from it a view of the country for a considerable distance in every direction may be obtained. It is learned that a similar tower is being erected near Kaladar, and another in Monaghan township.

FIFTY MILLION FOR ONE POUND

Fabulous Sum For One Pound of Radium —That Much Not Obtained in Year

Paris, July 6.—M. and Mme. Curie's precious discovery, radium, has now reached the startling figure of $50,000,000 a pound. Not nearly that quantity is discovered in the course of a year, although hundreds of tons of rare herbs are examined for a trace of it. If so much as would cover a pin's head is extracted from ten tons of raw material by the special processes of crushing, washing and boiling by acid baths and crystallization there is joy in the laboratories of the Sorbonne.

Mme. Curie succeeded to her husband's chair at the French University after he was killed in the most wanton of street accidents a year or so ago. She refused all other honours and benefits that were offered by the State.

THE HEAT OVERCAME BRIDGETENDER

Mr. Mills, Lindsay, Taken Ill and Had to be Conveyed Home

Lindsay, July 7.—(Special.)—While in the discharge of his regular duties yesterday afternoon, Mr. Geo. Mills, bridge-tender, was suddenly taken very ill. He was at once carried to the bridge-tender's shelter, where his head was bathed and everything done to ease his pain. A cab was called and the sufferer was taken home. Mr. Mills had been putting logs through the locks all morning and it is thought the heat was too much for him.

BOY'S ARM BROKEN IN PLAY

Was Shoved Off Sidewalk by His Companion

In a friendly scuffle yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, Willie Willard, Albert street, had his right arm broken. He and another boy were playing on the sidewalk and young Willard was shoved off, with the above result. The injury gave him intense pain and he was attended to by Dr. Marshall, who set the fracture.

The most cooling of hot weather beverages is iced "Salada" Tea. It is most delicious. 64

BOATING ACCIDENTS AT STURGEON POINT

A Few Get Wet but None Drown—Experience of Adventurous Ones

Sturgeon Point, July 7.—(Special.)—The list of boating upsets in Sturgeon Lake is gradually increasing in number. It is a somewhat surprising fact that some of the accidents have not yet resulted in any serious disaster.

Saturday morning Mr. Bob Spratt was fishing just off Pleasant Point when he perhaps became a little too enthusiastic over a "whale" and — well, Bob swam to shore and went to Lindsay on the early morning boat, with his wearing apparel in no particularly dry condition.

Mr. Reg. Rennie also succeeded in procuring an unintentional dip in the "briny deep" at Pleasant Point. Beyond a few mouthfuls, however, Reg managed to climb to shore.

THE HOTEL NATIONAL A MODERN HOUSE

Mr. Dennison an Experienced Hotelman—Bringing Launch Here

The public are doubtless aware that the Hotel National, an old established house, so favourably known, changed hands in the middle of May, being taken over by Mr. D. R. Dennison, who had recently carried on the hotel business at Coldwater for several years. The travelling public of this house say it is one of the best in the country, and if one may judge from the short experience of Mr. Dennison in Peterborough, his reputation will be fully maintained. The house has been thoroughly cleaned throughout and put in the best of order. The office is now managed by Mr. Victor McCarthy, an experienced hotel clerk, and Mr. Dennison has brought from Coldwater other valued employees, thus making his staff fully up to date in every respect. Mr. Dennison is himself a most genial and energetic gentleman, and the attention given to guests is all that can be desired. It will be pleasing to the travelling public to know that Peterborough has another hotel that will compare favourably with the better hostelries of the larger cities.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Dennison had the pleasure of entertaining old friends in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Mr. Hall being one of the construction superintendents of the Toronto Construction Company, having stopped over here with his wife on their way to New Brunswick, where he takes charge of a large section on the Grand Trunk Pacific. Mr. Dennison is bringing his private launch from Coldwater by way of the canal. It will be used by the guests in pleasure outings.

PUREST POSSIBLE SUPPLY OF WATER AT McCRACKEN'S LANDING; A VEIN TAPPED ABOVE THE HILL

Provincial Inspector Pays a Visit There Yesterday—A Reservoir To be Constructed at Outlet of New Spring.

THE OLD SPRING IS CLOSED

Examiner Special.

Stony Lake, July 7.—Dr. R W Bell, Provincial Government Sanitary Inspector paid an official visit to the lake yesterday in the interests of public health. Inspections were made and are being continued today of several of the hotels and boarding houses. Inspection was also made of the famous spring at McCracken's Landing which was closed on suspicion last August. It was re-opened by the natives at the conclusion of the tourist season and has since been generally in use, though Dr. Bell found that Mr. Freeman, proprietor of the Victoria House had not permitted the water to be used in that hotel this year, he having tapped the vein back of the hill where contamination from local causes is considered most improbable.

Having examined the spring and surroundings the Inspector came to the conclusion that the water in the main spring and that of the open creek, which in rainy seasons flows into the lake some forty yards distant were one, the former branching off and that this was the water which crosses a garden and farmyard, and for some distance is open to surface impurities in addition to contamination from filtration. In Dr. Bell's opinion, the water, though probably free from typhoid is, owing to the conditions above mentioned scarcely the most desirable for drinking purposes. After examining the new outlet which is situated on the eastern side of the hill, above the farmyard, and is the first sign of running water in that direction, Dr. Bell said that this water would be of the purest possible and there would be no risk in using it. The inspector, assisted by those locally interested, made plans for the construction of a reservoir at the outlet of the spring and pipe line to lead to the Victoria House where taps will be connected outside for the convenience of the public. A gang of men commenced drilling this morning and it will be only a few days until an excellent water supply will be brought even more convenient than the old spring.

While Dr. Bell was making the inspection he received a call by telephone from Dr. Munro, of Warsaw, who stated that he had just received a report from the Board of Health department regarding a sample of the water from the condemned spring, sent some two weeks ago. This report showed the presence of colon bacillus, a germ common in drinking water and which may cause intestinal disorders, though there was an absence of typhoid bacillus.

However, the well known drinking place is condemned and this morning the work of filling it in with stones and earth was commenced and in all probability these will never be removed. This action will disperse all doubts as to the origin of the typhoid fever in that locality and visitors may rest assured that the use of the condemned water will be prohibited.

Dr. Bell is to-day finishing his inspection which through lack of time will not be general among the cottages.

ALMOST DROWNED IN THE MUDDY WATER AT FOOT OF CHARLOTTE

A man giving his name as John Sullivan of Lakefield was pulled out of the water at the end of Charlotte street at 3.30 this afternoon by P. C. McGinty and Mr. Fred Newhall. He was lying in the muddy water in the hollow east of the National Hotel, where the stones and earth taken from the river bottom had been dumped. He was in an advanced state of intoxication and had evidently rolled into the water. His body was under the murky water and his head rested on one of many large tin cans. Had he rolled off this he undoubtedly would have been drowned, for he was in a helpless condition. A big crowd was attracted to the spot as it was rumoured that a man had been drowned.

He was walked to the police station, showing signs of approaching sobriety. His appearance was anything but happy looking. He will probably appear in the police court to-morrow morning.

MONSTER EXCURSION BRINGS 900 WHITBY PEOPLE HERE TO-DAY

The biggest excursion of the season was that which brought to Peterborough 900 people from Whitby and the surrounding country. The excursion was under the joint auspices of the Sons of England, the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the 34th Regiment Band of Whitby. They reached Peterborough by a special G. T. R. train of eight coaches and a baggage car, pulled by two engines at 11.30 o'clock, and were given a cordial welcome to Peterborough by Mayor Rush and Ald. Elliott and Buller, of the city Reception Committee, and reception committees from the local lodges of the Sons of England and the United Workmen.

The 34th Band, which accompanied and excursionists and which is a most creditable organization, played several selections at the station and then marched to the Peterborough Hotel, where they dispersed. The visitors spent this afternoon in sightseeing, Jackson Park and the Lift Lock being the two favourite spots.

Many of the excursionists took in the ball game between Whitby and the Peterborough Midland League team at Riverside Park. The Whitby team is a strong one and included Rosser, of the Park Nine, who was imported to do the twirling against the Petes.

For the benefit of the visitors Chief Howard arranged an exhibition run out of the fire brigade and many inspected the well equipped hall during their visit.

The visitors were introduced to Mayor Rush at the station by Brother Daddy Taylor, of Lansdowne Lodge, who in a neat speech made them welcome to the city.

WAS THE STORY OF STRANGER'S HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE A MYTH?

Etta Kennedy, the girl who was alleged to have been held spellbound by the unknown man with the evil eye, is still progressing favourably at the Nicholls Hospital. The latest story in the case of the young girl is that the story is all a myth and the outcome of over imaginative brains on the part of the persons first to see the child. Dr. Amys, who is attending the girl, says it is a case of hysteria. The fact of the matter is, he believes, that the girl was bathing in the stream together with several other young girls. The water was very cold and brought on an attack of hysteria, and the stranger probably appeared, attracted by the merriment of the other children. The child is still in the hospital and promises to recover. She tells the doctor nothing of the stranger with the "evil eye."

Cannot Get Enough Men To Meet Demands For Farm Help

Twelve men were placed on good farms on Saturday through the instrumentality of the local immigrant officers. There was one of the biggest rushes for men during the day that Mr. Howson has experienced and the demand is greater perhaps than at any other season. About thirty men were seeking farm assistants, and Mr. Howson had to promise to send men whenever they called. One of the young men who received work went to Cavan with a farmer named Berry. His wages are to amount to $80 for the three months. He was formerly a moulder in the city. On Monday no men applied, but this morning three were sent out to farms. On Saturday Mr. Howson went out on the street and informed men who seemed to be out of work that positions were open for those who were willing to go on the farm.

It may be said that there is plenty of work in the country for those who are willing to go on the farm, and if any are idle they cannot say that it is because there is a scarcity of labour.

FOOLISH PATRIOTISM.

The foolish display of so-called patriotism evoked by the annual recurrence of Independence Day in the United States is little short of criminal and suggests a doubt of national sanity. On July 4th, 1908, the death roll from explosives of various forms was seventy-one, and 2,624 injured is the penalty paid for pyrotechnic patriotism. Our American cousins, however, are improving. In 1907, on July 4th, 4,413 persons were killed and injured, 164 murdered outright. In 1903 there were 466 deaths, of which 406 were victims of tetanus, or lock-jaw, a favourite complication of wounds caused by explosives. It is not known whether to attribute the decreasing death roll to increased civilization or to improved methods of treating tetanus. Why will our neighbours persist in the foolishness of fireworks? The law forbids and punishes attempts at suicide. Why not bring accidental suicide within the operation of the law? With a war on an average of fifty years in the history of the Republic, it is safe to say that in the intervals the death roll from firecracker patriotism would aggregate a far greater number than the death rolls of battle. Why should people need to make a fuss to show that they are loyal? The patriotism that has to be fostered by sanguinary slaughterings may well be regarded as a doubtful wearing quality under real stress of demand. We all would doubt the honest of a man or the virtue of a woman which requires clamourous assertion to convince others of its existence. Our neighbours must have eagle screaming, flag flaunting and fireworks on July 4 to convincest themselves that they are patriotic. And Canadians are being infected by environment. The display of flags on schoolhouses is a case in point. If the children of Canada are taught the meaning of the flag, what it stands for, the lessons it teaches, they will have true reverence for it as a symbol, and not a superficial worship of it as a mere bit of bunting. It is far better to be good, to be loyal, than, by hysterical effort, try to make ourselves and others believe that we are good and loyal. The loyalty to a cause that only finds expression, and then in childish display one day in a year, is lacking in quality. The religion and the loyalty that are not lived are not of the best.

THE PEOPLING OF THE WEST.

The Manitoba Free Press contains a valuable resume of what has been accomplished since the advent of the Laurier Government to power, toward the peopling of the West.

Year by year the growth of the inflow of population drawn into Western Canada by the vigorous immigration activity carried on under the policy which has been in operation since 1896 has been as follows:

1897—Calendar year	21,916
1898—Calendar year	31,900
1899—Calendar year	44,543
1900—Six months	23,895
1900-1901—Fiscal year	49,149
1901-1902—Fiscal year	67,379
1902-1903—Fiscal year	128,364
1903—1904—Fiscal year	130,331
1904-1905—Fiscal year	146,266
1905-1906—Fiscal year	189,064
1906—1907—Nine months	124,667
1907-1908—Fiscal year	262,469

The immigration figures for 1907-1908 are up to March 31st last.

Of the total immigration, year by year, of which the figures are given above, the British immigration was as follows:

1897	11,383
1898	11,173
1899	10,660
1900—Six months	5,140
1900-1901	11,810
1901-1902	17,259
1902-1903	41,792
1903-1904	50,374
1904-1905	65,659
1905-1906	86,796
1906-1907—Nine months	55,791
1907-1908	120,182

In these totals of British immigration it is of interest to note the proportions of English and Welsh, Scotch and Irish respectively. The official figures are as follows, since 1900:

	English and Welsh	Scotch	Irish
1900-1901	9,401	1,476	933
1901-1902	13,006	2,853	1,311
1902-1903	32,510	7,046	2,236
1903-1904	36,494	10,552	3,128
1904-1905	45,932	15,846	5,018
1904-1905	49,617	11,744	3,998
1905-1906	65,932	15,846	5,018
1906-1907 (9 months)	41,668	10,729	3,404
1907-1908	91,412	22,223	6,547

The records show that during the above period more than 18 per cent. of the total arrivals from England and Wales, 20 per cent. of the arrivals from Scotland, and 23 per cent. of the arrivals from Ireland made free homestead entries in Western Canada.

An important part of the stream of newcomers into Western Canada since the vitalizing of the immigrational policy of the Dominion in 1896, is that which comes across the international boundary. The figures of the immigration from the United States are as follows:

1907	2,412
1908	9,179
1899	11,945
1900—Six months	8,543
1900-1901	17,987
1901-1902	26,388
1902-1903	39,473
1903-1904	45,229
1904-1905	47,652
1905-1906	57,919
1906-1907—Nine months	34,659
1907-1908	58,312

During the above period 43 per cent. of arrivals from the United States made homestead entry in the Western Provinces, and brought with them during the fiscal year (1907-08) alone, more than $52,000,000 in cash and settlers' effects. The figures showing the occupations of the immigrants from the United States are of interest. To give them year by year would require more space than is available. The totals for the period 1903-4 to 1907-8 will suffice:

Farmers and farm labourers	155,388
General labourers	11,868
Mechanics	7,511
Clerks, traders, etc.	5,260
Miners	2246
Domestics	219

The figures of the immigration from continental Europe next claim attention. In this connection it is of interest to note that in the debate in the Dominion House in April last, in which the Opposition, in attacking the immigration policy of the Dominion Government, showed to singularly ill advantage, Dr. McIntyre, the member for Strathcona, went into the official figures at length and showed that the foreign population of Alberta in 1907 was 15 per cent. of the whole; in Saskatchewan, 20.6 per cent., and in Manitoba, 12.3 per cent., or an average of 18.7 per cent. of the total population of the three provinces. The totals of the immigration from continental Europe, year by year, are as follows:

1897	7,921
1898	11,608
1899	21,603
199—Six months	10,211
1900-1901	19,352
1901-1902	23,732
1902-1903	37,099
1903-1904	34,728
1904-1905	37,256
1905-1906	44,349
1906-1907—Nine months	34,217
1907-1908	83,975

During the above period 28 per cent. of arrivals from continental Europe made entry for homesteads in Western Canada, while many others engaged with farmers or in domestic service.

The homestead entries by British settlers from the United States and settlers from continental Europe have been as follows:

	British	American	Continental
1897	416	164	673
1898	725	581	1,270
1899	967	1,044	1,796
1900 (6 months)	495	333	1,043
1900-1901	940	2,035	1,886
1901-1902	1,589	4,761	2,653
1902-1903	3,376	10,942	7,250
1903-1904	4,664	7,730	4,809
1904-1905	5,930	8,532	4,999
1905-1906	8,279	12,485	5,955
1906-1907 (9 months)	4,091	6,059	2,951
1907-1908 (9 months)	5,208	6,682	4,607

The contrast between the results achieved under the immigration policy of the Liberal party and those achieved during the Conservative regime is most striking. Not only is the Conservative showing insignificant, but in the last year of Conservative rule a decrease of 310 in arrivals and of 1,964 in those becoming actual residents of Canada had to be reported.

The figures deserve to be carefully studied by the Canadian people, and more especially by those persons who declaim against a vigourous immigration policy being carried out by the Dominion Government. There is no advantage to us in having a great West if we are unable to people it, and we cannot people it unless we make its advantages known. This is what the Dominion Government is doing, and the entire country, and more particularly great manufacturing centres like Peterborough, are benefitting through the enlargement of the western market for manufactured products.

But it must not be forgotten that while Canada has been extensively advertised, care has been taken to invite none but desirable immigrants, such as those who are able to take up land, farm labourers and domestic servants. All others have been given plainly to understand that if they come here they come at their own risk and without bonus of any kind.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

When our evening contemporary is forced to play the ghoul, and disturb the dead in their graves to make a petty political point, it demonstrates the measure of its editorial genius.

The manner in which the bad break in the Cornwall canal has been so rapidly repaired is a credit to the department and an illustration of the energy of its heads, and the completness of system prevailing in the Depatment of Railways and Canals.

It is a well-known fact that the editorial writers of the Review have for some years been unsatisfactory to the Conservative clique in Peterborough. Hence we see successive occupants of the editorial chair vanish to make room for more pliant material. It is also well known that its present editor was pitchforked into the position. His writings show both his animus and his capacity. No other man could be found who would condescend to unworthy methods and employment of insinuations and statements not possessing any blood relationship to the truth. Hence Mr. Burnham is selected, and his "job," like that of preceding editorial incumbents, will only last a limited period, as even his associates on the staff regard him and his work as a joke—without a point. Any one who takes him seriously will have only the editor himself for company.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Sir,—Your attention last year was drawn to the dangerous condition of the grand stand at the driving park. The roof has fallen and portions of the heavy fencing came down. The whole unsightly structure ought to be removed.

ATTENDED MONTREAL MARKET

Messrs. Morris and Brown Explain the Dullness of Sales

(Messrs. Morris and Brown returned to the city this morning from Montreal, after attending the stock market. There were 2,300 cattle offered for sale and the market was glutted. The prices consequently were low and a decrease of $1 per cwt. for medium cattle was noticed. The prices ranged between $2.50 and $5.00, the latter being for the best grade. The reason for the market being flooded is because the stall fed cattle and grass fed cattle are being shipped, and at this time of the year there is always a decrease of price for a short time.

ALL COMING DOWN TO PETERBORO'

Orangemen in Lindsay District are Determined to be Here

On Monday next there will be a large number of people in the city, and as an example of the interest which is being manifest in the celebration a little incident occurred at the meeting of the Lindsay Cheese Board. After the meeting the buyers were discussing when the cheese would be delivered, and some one suggested July 13th. This, however, had to be changed as one man, expressing the feeling of some other men, said, "You needn't expect it on July 13th, for we're all going down to Peterborough."

The offerings for to-day consisted of 1400 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs and 1200 calves. The weaker feeling which developed in the market for cattle a week ago has continued and prices have scored a further decline of ¼c per pound.

Sales of sheep for export were made at 4c to 4¼c, and the culls at 3¾c per lb. A fair trade was done in yearling lambs at 4¾c to 5c per lb. Supplies of spring lambs were small and prices were firm at from $3.50 to $5 each. Calves were somewhat scarce and in demand, at $3 to $10 for good to choice stock, and at $2 to $5 for common.

The market for hogs has continued good and prices since this day week have scored another advance of 5c to 25c per 100 lbs. This to some extent is due to the smaller supplies coming forward, but more to the continued strength in the foreign markets for Canadian bacon, as cables on Saturday from Liverpool, London and Bristol quoted a further advance of 2s to 7s per cwt. since this day week. The demand from local dealers and packers for hogs this morning was good, and sales of selected lots were made at $6.90 to $7.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

THE OLD AGE ANNUITIES BILL

Bill Passes Through the House of Commons Yesterday.

GUARANTEE FOR THE THRIFTY

Measure's Terms Are Simple—Maximum Annuity $600 and Minimum Age 65—Lead Bounties Bill Passed—Votes For Harbors — Hon. Mr. Pugsley Replies to Allegations of Fraud in Contracts.

Ottawa, July 7.—The House of Commons transacted a large amount of business during the three sittings held yesterday. The old-age annuities measure, the act extending the period during which bounties will be paid on lead produced in Canada, and the bill authorizing the sale of a portion of Major's Hill Park, Ottawa, to the G.T.R. as an hotel site were all read a third time and passed. In committee a large number of public works estimates were put through, but not before Mr. Bennett had criticized the dredging contracts. He made a veiled threat against Hon. Mr. Pugsley, who promptly called the bluff, as he has done on previous occasions this session. The Minister, replying to Mr. Bennett, challenged that gentleman to give a single instance of a dredging contract being awarded to any but the lowest tenderer. He also neatly turned the tables on the Opposition by showing that as the result of their loud and insistent demands new tenders for dredging in Ontario and Quebec this year would aggregate in cost between $175,000 and $200,000 more than would have been the case had his original proposition to extend the contracts on last year's prices not been so fiercely combatted by Mr. Bennett and his colleagues.

Answering Mr. Lennox, Hon. Mr. Graham said that Mr. Lumsden, chief engineer of the Transcontinental, and Mr. Woods, assistant chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, had made an inspection of the cuttings in district F, on which it was alleged there had been over-classification, and were now engaged in making an inspection of similar disputed cuttings in section B. Their inspection had not yet been completed, and matters had not yet reached a stage where the appointment of a third arbitrator was necessary.

Hon. Mr. Fielding moved the third reading of the bill authorizing the issue of Government annuities for old age.

Mr. Smith (Nanaimo) moved the bill back into the committee for the consideration of an amendment which he proposed, making it possible for depositors in postoffice savings banks to transfer any amount of their accounts for the purpose of purchasing annuities, providing also that friendly societies and religious organizations may make arrangements for the purchase of annuities for their members, and making it possible for employers of labor and their employes to enter into contracts for the purchase of annuities for workmen.

The amendment was adopted and the bill was reported and passed.

On motion for the third reading of the bill respecting payment of bounties on lead, Mr. Foster reiterated the view that the proper way to develop the lead industry was to protect it by an adequate customs duty. The bill was read a third time and passed.

The Opposition again denounced the proposal to alienate that portion of Major's Hill Park for the purposes of the Grand Trunk hotel. R. L. Borden regarded it as an "outrageous piece of vandalism" to intrude the hotel into the grounds of Parliament. A Government that would do that would lease the new departmental block for a dance hall.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he could not find fault with the "fastidious aestheticism" of the leader of the Opposition. The Grand Trunk had selected this cite, and the people of Ottawa had come to the conclusion that this was the place for it. When the improvements were completed the Prime Minister did not think much fault would be found with it.

Mr. Borden replied that he was considering the question from the standpoint of the people of Canada.

Mr. Lennox insisted that the Government should have ascertained something as to the character of the building. So little did the Minister know about the plans that he did not tell how many outlets to the park there would be. The park was to be the backyard of the hotel.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley replied that the proceeds of the sale were to be devoted to the extension of Major's Hill Park to Nepean Point. This was not expressed in the bill, but the money was to be spent by the Improvement Commission under the direction of the governor-in-council.

In supply, Mr. Monk urged the building of the Georgian Bay Canal at once. The Government, he said, had practically abandoned the recommendations of the transportation commission.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley declared the Government was carrying out the views of the commission as rapidly as was consistent with their sources of the country. He instanced works at Montread, Quebec, Halifax, St. John, Victoria Harbor and Tiffin, Fort William, Port Arthur and others with the sole aim of improving transportation facilities. It was expected the work at Victoria Harbor and Tiffin, which would enable the largest lake vessels to enter and would be completed by Oct. 1. This would divert, millions of bushels of grain from United States ports.

Mr. Blain spoke of the needs of Port Credit harbor. Sand was continually drifting in there. There was a large amount of traffic between Toronto and Hamilton and the harbor deserved attention. Mr. Pugsley said the difficulty was that the harbor was owned by a private company. If Mr. Blain could get the Ontario Government to buy out the company and contribute one-half the cost he would recommend that this Government contribute the other half. However, Mr. Pugsley promised attention.

Col. Sam Hughes sounded a note of warning in the matter of alien residents in the west in the House yesterday. He alluded to the attempt to locate a colony of Japs in the foothills of the Rockies near Calgary, and reminded the House that a few sticks of dynamite exploded in certain tunnels and cuttings would so wreck the railway line that troops could be delayed a month in reaching the Pacific coast.

Mr. Pugsley got through his estimates last night. He got a money vote of $4,200,000 during the day out of a total of $9,500,000.

BURNED WHILE BLASTING.

Two Workmen Narrowly Escaped Being Blown to Pieces.

Dundas, July 7.—Given a choice of putting out the flames that were devouring their clothes, or of running to avoid a terrific dynamite explosion, two men engaged in blasting at the quarries here yesterday fled from the explosion, and, fanning the flames into a blaze, had their garments literally burned off their backs. The men are Bert Green of Greensville and James Sturrock, Jr., of West Flamboro Township. They are now in Hamilton Hospital in a serious condition.

Green and Sturrock were drilling holes for dynamite charges in the Doolittle & Wilcox quarries on the mountain. Some gas at the bottom of the hole became ignited.

Suddenly a spurt of flame burst from the hole, setting fire to their clothes. Although almost blinded, they had presence of mind to turn and run from the explosion.

It was well they did, for in a few minutes there was a terrific explosion that would have blown them to atoms. But in running the flames had steadily devoured their clothing. They staggered up to a party of workmen, who rolled them in the dust until the fire was extinguished.

Both men are in bad shape and have deep burns all over their bodies. It is feared that their lungs are affected.

They are experienced blasters, Sturrock having had charge of this work at the quarries for a long time. Green has been in the same work in Mexico, and is owner of the rights for the high explosive known as "Greenite."

OVER SEVENTY DEAD.

Thousands Injured During Progress of "Fourth" Celebrations.

Chicago, July 7.—Seventy-one dead and 2,624 injured are the figures in The Chicago Tribune's Fourth of July casualty list up to 11 p.m. Sunday night. An analysis of the figures show the following details:

Of the deaths, there were by fireworks and resulting fires, thirty-seven; by cannon, three; by firearms, sixteen; by gunpowder, six; by pistols, two; by runaways, five; by heart failure, due to explosion of cannon-crackers, two.

Those injured were: By fireworks, 1,109; by cannon, 212; by firearms, 196; by gunpowder, 551; by torpedoes, 60; by toy pistols, 211; by bomb canes, 5; by runaways, 35.

The fire loss was $525,935.

This breaks all records for deaths since 1889.

Lincoln Is Cut Off.

Lincoln, Neb., July 7.—Train service has practically been annuled and floods have stopped all traffic in Lincoln.

More than three inches of rain fell Sunday night.

Shot by His Friend.

Buffalo, July 7.—Without the least apparent provocation Djuro Kordic was shot and instantly killed by his supposed friend, Paul Relic, in a saloon in West Seneca last night. Relic escaped.

"Sunshine" Furnace

Where Shaking is Respectable

A draft off furnace dome, with no other assistance, is powerless to overcome the dust nuisance in shaking time. Only surplus dust rises of itself above the fire. Great bulk descends into ash-pit, and unless legitimate outlet is therein provided, dust will escape through ash-door slits and into operator's face.

In "Sunshine" Furnace the legitimate dust outlet is provided. It's a great big dust-pipe running straight from ash-pit to dome, thence to chimney. When big pipe damper is opened, all dust in ash-pit ascends to dome; then, when direct drafts are opened, all dust passes up chimney.

Always the clean and quick dust route in "Sunshine" Furnace — via grate, to pan, to dust-pipe, to dome, to chimney, to open air.

Write to us for "Sunshine" testimonials received from your own townspeople.

CENTRAL CANADA EXHIBITION

Many Changes to Make the Great Exhibition More Pleasing This Year Than Ever

THE FINE ARTS BUILDING

As previously announced, the dates for the Central Canada Exhibition at Ottawa this year are September 18th to 26th.

The many patrons of the Fair from this district have been looking forward to the announcement of the special features arranged for the show, and these having been announced a couple of days ago, we listen to supply the demand for information. The directors, as usual, are endeavouring to make this annual Fair more attracting and pleasing to its patrons, and have made changes calculated to attain this object. In the first place, the prize list has been increased to $16,000, the premiums being greater in almost every department with the view of having a grander display.

The number of gold medals as special sweepstake prizes has also been increased until now they number 45. The grounds are being improved and beautified, and continuing the policy pursued in previous years, another new building is being erected. This building is for the display of Fine Arts and Ladies' Work. The new building is costing $12,000 and will prove a splendid addition to the accommodation of the Association. The Pure Food Exhibit by Canadian Manufacturers promises to be one of the most attractive displays ever made at the Central Canada Fair. This is an innovation which will no doubt be appreciated by visitors. The demand for space in the Manufacturers' Building is also sufficient to show that the exhibits will excel those of former years.

In regard to the special attractions, the directors have decided to return to the policy of former years and will have a splendid vaudeville programme in front of the grand-stand every afternoon. This programme will consist of a number of high class specialties, trotting and running races. The specialties will include the very latest and most costly attractions. Already the directors have contracted for the first appearance in America of De Oro's Wonderful Herd of Performing Cows which have been creating a sensation in Europe for some months. A thrilling Automobile Race in mid air by two intrepid young women chauffeurs is another feature. The ever-popular balloon ascension will this year take place on a grander scale than ever before, as this specialty will take the form of a balloon race with double parachute drops from each balloon by the renowned Prof. Hutchison and his companion.

The night entertainment will consist of the very latest comic opera, written for that comic opera specialist, De Wolff Hopper. It is being staged for the first time this season, and the fact that Hopper is the principal is justification for the statement that it will be pleasing to all. He has made a great reputation for himself in the many operas that he has presented, and those who have seen the rehearsals say that it is second to no performance of the kind yet given on the stage. "What Happened Then" is the name of the opera. Popular prices will prevail for this entertainment, and it will be given only on the night entertainment.

It is expected that in another month the complete programme will have been arranged. As usual, there will be a Bench Show of Dogs in connection with the Fair, and to signalize the opening of the new Fine Arts Building, the Ontario Society of Artists has accepted the task of preparing a magnificent exhibit of pictures, the work of leading Canadian artists.

There are more than 70 special prizes, including gold medals, for special horses and cattle, as well as specials in hogs and poultry. A silver cup will be given by T. C. Bate, Esq., President C. C. E. A., for the best exhibit of Flint Corn grown in Ontario, east of Peterborough.

Will Likely Make A Grant Towards Battlefield Fund

A Delegation From Canadian Club Requests City Council To Make a Contribution Towards the Fund

A meeting of the council was called for last night but it had to be adjourned as only the Mayor and five of the Aldermen were present. They were Ald. Neil, Bradburn, Gillespie, Morrow and Johnston. Some of the others were out of the city, several were on the Firemen and Band's outing and the others were unavoidably absent.

However, a deputation from the Canadian Club of Peterborough, consisting of Messrs. D O'Connell, H. R H Kenner and F D Kerr—Dr. Halliday, who had also been delegated, was unable to be present—waited on the Mayor and Aldermen in regard to the Quebec Battlefield Fund. They requested that the Council make a grant toward this fund and suggested that the amount be $100 or $150. They were favourably received and since as was pointed out Peterborough was one of the leading commercial cities of the Dominion it should manifest its sympathy with the National spirit which the movement was strengthening and the Mayor, and Aldermen seemed agreeable to making a contribution to have Peterborough properly represented. Toronto made a grant of $5,000; Ottawa of $1,000, and the leading towns and cities of the country had seen fit to show their appreciation of the idea of acquiring the battlefields as a National memorial. While nothing definite was expressed it is almost assured that an appropriate grant will be made.

The three gentlemen from the Canadian Club presented the question in a splendid manner, bringing out its importance to Canada and dwelling upon the historical event which it will commemorate. The purpose of the fund to reclaim the land on which the battle of the Plains of Abraham was fought, the battle which swayed the destinies of two nations. The land is held in possession by private individuals and $500,000.00 is required to regain it. Of this amount $400,000.00 has already been received. Earl Grey instituted the fund and from private individuals, companies, corporations and on all sides a liberal response has been received. The Canadian Clubs fostering a spirit of National patriotism have done their share and the local Club considered it its duty to assist in the project. They have already made a grant of $150 from the Club's treasury, and their representatives made a strong appeal to the City to show their loyalty in this laudable project.

EXCURSION WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Firemen and Band Journeyed to Idyl Wyld Yesterday

The excursion to Idyl Wild yesterday on the steamers Otonabee and Monarch under the auspices of the old Fire Brigade and the 57th Regimental Band was a gigantic success. The weather conditions were ideal, and about 350 people took advantage of escaping from the city on the hottest day of the year, reaping their reward when Rice Lake with its cooling breeze was reached.

The band discoursed music on the way from the upper deck of the Otonabee, and downstairs there was a splendid orchestra for those who wished to dance, and a large number availed themselves of the opportunity.

On reaching Idyl Wild those who had baskets with them sought the tables placed in the shady groves of the beautiful resort, while the others availed themselves of the resources of the hotel where Mine Host Parker had a bountiful repast ready for them.

In the afternoon the feature of the occasion was a ball game between the firemen and the bandsmen, and the musicians claim an 8-4 victory, while the fire laddies state that the game was a draw. Both sides drafted players from the Peterborough Midland League team in an effort to win out. Mr. Isaac Eastwood was umpire and had many narrow escapes from being mutilated for life. He had to be escorted off the field by a squad of police. Eight players were fined for making personal remarks to the umpire. The feature of the game was Bob. Mein's double home run on which he ran around the bases twice. He might have been running yet had not someone told him that only the one run counted. The teams—

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD MEETING

1418 Cheese Boarded — Price Was 11 Cents

Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie was present at the meeting of the Lindsay Cheese Board yesterday, and reports that the price of cheese was 11 1-2 cents. Fourteen hundred and eighteen boxes were boarded, and of these Mr. Cook, of Belleville, took 1,000. He got the first choice at 11 1-2, and needed the 1,000 boxes to fill an order.

LETTER RECEPTACLES ARE ADDED TO POST OFFICE

Instead of the usual letter and newspaper openings on the outside of the post office, there are now four. There is a large one for parcels and newspapers and one each of a smaller nature for special delivery letters, city letters and ordinary letters which are intended for outside points.

ON TEACHING THE DEAF

The Different Systems Discussed—Letter on Mastery of Language by Them

THE ORAL PROPOSALS

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—The profession of teaching the deaf is too great to admit of false values—no matter whence they come or under what name they appear—being unwittingly or otherwise spread, nay, enthroned, within its sacred precincts. That the novating spirit is in the air there is no question and it makes the judicious grieve to observe the number of its victims. This is all the more sad when you see men assuming the functions of leaders conspicuously lacking in proper appreciation of the task in hand, and going about undoing the work their elders and betters had taken years to evolve and perfect. Promotions have been made a matter of politics, people being brought in from the outside and appointed over the heads of men who have given their lifetime to the sacred cause, and in proportion as they are inexperienced will they be dogmatic. It matters little to us whether your school be oral or manual, but this we know that the great goal towards which everyone should strain is—complete mastery of language by the deaf, and in order to this, the "Combined system," has, by the transcending men of the profession, long been declared supreme. This is so true that out of 139 schools in the States and Canada, eight only claim to be purely oral, and in matter of liberal support, equipment and efficiency the American schools are peerless.

A peculiar idea has, of late, been gaining ground, which is that the deaf should be educated very much on the same lines as normal children. If that be so, why maintain at considerable expense to the state, schools specially designed for them? This view, however, is generally taken by those who completely ignore the sign language, which—say what you will—silent children prefer to all others, and will use in spite of all we may ordain and decree. And we might add that more than one extreme oralist, when other means of communication prove ineffectual, had to invoke gestures to redeem a compromised situation.

But hear this view from one eminently qualified, dealing with the tendency of assimilation: "The jaunty optimism so fashionable in certain quarters which says to deaf pupils, you are exactly like hearing people, you can do what they do, is wicked, more than that it is insulting to the intelligence of the deaf." The hearing already possess experience, whereas the deaf have to take this fortress which, to many, has proved an impregnable Malakoff, before they can proceed to the conquest of other fields. That articulation should be encouraged with the semi-mute and semi-deaf, is readily granted, but there has been nothing realized yet justifying congenitally deaf children being tortured by a series of mouth-drills distressing alike to the performer and the beholder, and this at the sacrifice of time, which should be employed in mind expansion. As a proof, we have only to quote the following from M. Henri Gallaudet, one of the leading deaf mutes of Paris, and well known to the deaf of the world as the editor of the "French Deaf Mutes' Journal." "In France," he writes, "the pure oral method has existed for nearly twenty years already, and has in that time not produced a single pupil able to speak distinctly, and readily, and read the lips, and, above all, able to express himself correctly in writing. Those who are supposed to have succeeded are semi-mutes, who, having lost their hearing when five or ten years old, were obliged to attend a special school. It is with such pupils that the pure oral method reached its highest aims. The greater number profit very little by the pure oral method, especially in their ability to express themselves in written language. I am glad, however, to note a reaction among the teachers in the National Institution at Paris. One notices there a turn towards the combined system, the utilisation of all methods according to the aptitude of the pupils."

Thus it can be seen from those most competent to judge that the placing on such high pedestals, of innovations and apostles of reform, is, to say the least, premature. It is cheap fame that lets the world think you are rendering such great service whereas, in reality, you are netting the cause a sore disappointment. A would-be philosopher once modestly asserted he could beat the ten commandments! Will those political pets who are daily springing into office without having won their spurs, and who, in a twelve-month claim to know more than the De L'Epee's, the Sicard's, the Peet's, the Gallaudet's, the Noyes, the Jacobs and Williamson's—take heed before it is too late! Let us fervently hope they will!

A FRIEND OF THE DEAF.

BOYS' SECRETARY TO BE HERE SEPT. 1

Reunion of Intermediate Bible Club on Thursday Evening at Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Geo. T. Evans of Hamilton has accepted the position of boys' secretary of the local Y.M.C.A. and will be in Peterborough on September 1 to commence his duties. The boys' work got a good start last season through the efforts of Mr. J. M. Laing while he was boys' secretary, and the Association has every reason to expect a large work among the boys of our city this season under the able and experienced leadership of Mr. Evans.

A reunion of the Intermediate Bible Club will be held on Thursday evening for a social time. Let all the fellows get together at the Y.M.C.A. at 7.30 p.m. Delicious cool refreshments will be served and a good time spent.

MINISTER STAYS AT THE TAYLOR CHURCH

Rev. W. D. Reid Who Was Here in Winter Declines Ottawa Call

The following despatch from Montreal refers to the minister who preached anniversary sermons at Knox Presbyterian church last winter:

Rev. W D Reid, will not leave Taylor Presbyterian Church to accept the invitation to Erskine church, Ottawa, making this announcement to his congregation yesterday. The invitation to Erskine church was of a most flattering nature but in view of the condition of the work in Taylor Church Rev. Mr. Reid could not see his way clear to accepting the call. To show how the church is progressing it may be stated that 205 new members have joined it since the first of the year. At a meeting of the officials of the church last night a vote of thanks was tendered to Rev. Mr. Reid for deciding to remain in Montreal.

SEVERAL MEN SECURED FARM WORK

By Calling at the Examiner at Proper Time on Saturday

On Saturday the Examiner succeeded in securing positions for six young men on farms. Several farmers called between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock and found labourers waiting. As there are many demands for men, those who were at the Examiner office, and especially those who have had experience, had no difficulty in securing work.

The Examiner makes the same offer to the farmers and prospective labourers for next Saturday.

The Annual Excursion of All Saint's Church will be held on Thursday next, 9th inst. to Stoney Lake, leaving G.T.R. station at 8.30 am. Tickets Adults 65 cents, Children 35 cents.

APPOINTMENTS MADE RE NORMAL SCHOOL

It is said that the Whitney administration have selected the teachers for the Peterborough Normal School. The announcement will be made shortly. The janitorship is still causing considerable annoyance. It is said it is easier selecting the principal than the janitor. The appointment of the janitor has not yet been decided upon. The applicants are said to be very numerous.

SPORTS ARRANGED FOR QUAKER OATS PICNIC

Goes to Cool Cobourg on Saturday—Short and Pleasant Trip

One of the best excursions of the season from Peterborough will be the Quaker Oats excursion to Cobourg next Saturday. A number of energetic men have the arrangements in hand and everything is now complete. The special train will leave Peterborough on Saturday morning at 8.45 and on the return trip will leave Cobourg at 6 o'clock p.m.

A programme of sports has been arranged, not the least interesting of which will be a baseball game and a guessing contest will be one of the features of the excursion. The rates are only 85 cents for adults and 45 cents for children. Those who attend are assured of one of the finest outings of the season as beautiful Cobourg on the lake shore is a most happy selection as a place of pleasure.

MR. OSBORNE'S NEW GASOLINE YACHT "DON"

A speedy little two-horse power gasoline launch in which a select party enjoyed the pleasure of a day's outing on the Otonabee River, is "The Don." It was just such a trip one appreciates these days when he seeks to get away from the sweltering heat of the city hie himself to the cool refreshing waters. The unusual part of it was to glide through the water without any fuss or annoying vibration at the rate of nine miles an hour. This was certainly going some, and one wonders where all the energy comes from, when you look at the motive power that might easily be packed in a soap box. The owner, Mr. Osborne, designer and builder, is also very proficient in handling this little craft, which seems to do his bidding readily—either to slow down while trawling or to overtake and out-distance competitors. It is fitted out with all the comforts for boating and fishing. Such a pleasant trip elicited the thanks of Mr. Osborne's friends.

THE CARPET WEAVERS HELD SMOKER

Enjoyable Time Spent Last Night—Good Programme

QUEBEC TER-CENTENARY

The Grand Trunk Railway System have issued a neat and attractive booklet in connection with the Ter-Centenary celebration to be held at Quebec this month. The booklet gives concise information regarding the object of the celebration, and gives the complete official programme that will be carried out, order of the historical procession, particulars of the scenes of the historic pageants, information regarding accommodation and particulars of how to reach Quebec. The publication is profusely illustrated with scenes of the modern city together with historic landmarks. A copy can be had free from principal agents of the Grand Trunk.

A GARDEN PARTY TO BE HELD IN OTONABEE

To-morrow evening a garden party and strawberry festival will be held on the spacious lawn of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon, Drummond Station, Otonabee, under the auspices of St. Mark's congregation. Quite a number of young people from Peterborough intend to be present.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THAT?

—The bargains that the Peterborough shops put up in muslins just now are hard to beat, but we want to go one better, and offer to make, for one week, any muslin suit, no matter what style, for the sum of $3.00. Don't hesitate, as it's only for one week. Lady fitter. New York Ladies' Tailoring, 658 George street. Phone 624. Phone us and we will call to give you particulars, if desired. Many In Attendance At Chemong Summer School

Addresses Last Night by Professor Doxsee of Belleville—Meetings Open to General Public—Other Addresses

PROGRAMME FOR TO-DAY

Examiner Special

Chemong, July 7.—The Kawartha Lakes Summer School opened its sessions last evening at the Chemong Park. There was a large attendance of delegates and visitors. It is expected that many more will arrive by train and boat to-day. The school is drawn from the workers in Epworth Leagues and Sunday Schools in the Bay of Quinote Conference. Any interested worker is eligible for attendance and is cordially invited. The registration fee is $1. The school continues every day this week. The morning sessions are given over to study and the afternoons alternately to recreations and addresses, and the evenings to popular and timely addresses by prominent laymen and ministers. The scope of the school is threefold—the study of missions, methods of work and the Bible. The closing service will be held next Sunday evening, when Rev. Robt. Emberson, B. A., returning missionary to Japan, will preach. The meetings, and the evening ones in particular, are open to the general public. Last evening was given over to addresses, outlining the work of the school. Prof. E. R. Doxsee, B.A., B.D., Albert College, Belleville, who takes charge of the department of Mission Study, gave a most interesting outline of the work to be covered in the two text books of study. The one text is entitled "The Why and How of Foreign Missions," and the other is "The Moslem World." The Rev. A. C. Crews, D.D., General Secretary of Young People's Work of the Methodist Church, gave one of his bright and illuminative addresses on "Various Types of Leagues," (as personally observed.) Dr. Crews takes charge of the department of "Methods of Work." The closing address was given by the pastor of Euclid Avenue Methodist Church, Toronto, the Rev. E. N. Baker, M.A., D.D. Dr. Baker, in a brief and impressive address, gave an outline of the Bible studies which he will conduct morning by morning in the Book of Hebrews. The evening programme was enlivened with singing. Two solos were rendered, one by Mr. Kemp, Trenton, and one by Miss May Dobson, Whitby Ladies' College. Collections are taken at all mass meetings.

The following is the programme for this evening's sessions:

Chairman—Rev. C. E. Cragg, B.D.
8.00—Prayer and praise service.
Addresses—Rev. John Garbutt, Rev. S. J. Shorey, D.D.

LARGE ORDERS FOR J. J. TURNER & SONS

Three Large Tents for Prince of Wales' Bodyguard at Quebec

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons have received an order from the Government at Ottawa for three large tents to be used by the Prince of Wales' Body Guard of N. W. M. P., at the Quebec Tercentenary.

On Saturday they shipped a painting—the English Coat of Arms—to Quebec, which was ordered by the City of Quebec. The coat of arms will be erected on an immense grand stand.

LOST TRE KEY AND HAD TO BREAK IN THE DOOR

Experience of Representative of Peter Hamilton Co. at Lindsay

In an account of a fire that burned the stable of the Grand Union Hotel, Lindsay, on Sunday morning the Free Press of that town says:

Mr. Fee, the representative of the Peter Hamilton Company, Limited, Peterborough, had a very exciting time getting his horse out of the shed. It was thought that the structure would also fall a victim to the destroying element. In trying to unlock the door he lost the key and was forced to break the door in with an axe.

PAID A VISIT TO FIRE HALL

The Mayor and Council Made a Call Last Night

The Mayor and five members of the Council paid a visit to the fire hall last night about nine o'clock to see how things had adjusted themselves. As far as can be learned everything was found satisfactory. The brigade made arrangements to turn out this afternoon at five o'clock on George street for the benefit of the visitors from Whitby.

PRESENTATION TO MR. M. W. BROWN

Remembered by Fellow Employees of the C. G. E.

Mr. M. W. Brown, 617 Rubidge street, received a pleasant surprise when he went home last night and found a handsome suit case with an address from the employees of several departments of the C. G. E. On Saturday evening Mr. Brown severed his connection with the C. G. E. after ten years' service, the last four of which were spent as inspector of meters. The departments represented in the remembrance were the S, and R, the Meter Assembly, and the Meter Test. Mr. Brown was very much surprised on receiving this present, and certainly appreciates it. Mr. Brown is leaving Peterborough shortly.

HOTELMAN MAKES AN ASSIGNMENT

Liabilities Amount to $53,000—Assets Not Known

Mr. James A Lawless, formerly proprietor of the National Hotel has made an assignment to Mr. J H Langley of Toronto. It includes the National, which was recently taken over by Mr. Dennison and also the New Liskeard property. The liabilities amount to $53,000. The assets, although not definitely known, will amount to a considerable sum.

NO ACCIDENTS IN NATURE

Every Calamity, no Matter How Great Has a Definite Beginning

There are no accidents in nature.

The avalanche that, without a moment's warning, rushes headlong down the mountain side is not an accident.

For years previous tiny atoms have been crystallizing and adding their minute weight to the mass which left its base when the accumulation reached a certain point.

Neither is baldness an accident. The infinitesimally small germ which is the cause of Dandruff and Baldness, feeds silently and long before the result is seen.

The small germs which thrive on the scalp and which are the cause of Baldness and Dandruff, cannot exist, however, when Newbro's Herpicide is applied.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c and $1. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

SALVATION ARMY BAND CONCERT AT THE PARK

NO HONING - NO GRINDING

Steel is iron free from dirt, air or foreign substance fused with carbon. Carbon gives toughness, strength, keenness and life.

Thirty year's study of the razor situation has shown a way to add the highest per cent of carbon to a Carbo Magnetic razor blade throug a secret process of ELECTRIC TEMPERING giving it a uniform diamond like hardness-something absolutely impossible with fire tempered razors, and they are Hamburg ground.

But Test this UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED razor at home-or have your barber use it on you-for thirty days WITHOUT OBLIGATION TO PURCHASE.

THE HOT WEATHER KILLS MANY CHILDREN

Over Four Hundred Succumb to Heat in New York.

MANY SUFFER FROM STROKE

Two Brooklyn Men Attempt to Kill Their Wives With Carving Knife—Driven Mad by the Heat—Seven Deaths and Thirteen Prostrations Reported Yesterday—Sleeping In the Parks.

New York, July 7.—Thousands last night slept on fire escapes or in the parks, and the effect of the excessive heat became apparent early in the day, when reports of deaths, prostrations and sudden insanity began to pour in at police headquarters.

Seven deaths and thirteen prostrations from the intense heat were reported in Brooklyn and Manhattan up to 1 p.m.

Two Brooklyn men who are believed to have been crazed by the excessive heat were taken in the King's County Hospital early yesterday, after they had attempted to kill their wives with carving-knives.

Hot weather maladies caused 414 deaths among children in the last week, according to the Board of Health's statement issued yesterday. Fourteen deaths from sunstroke were also recorded, as compared with but three last year at the same period.

Favor Contract With Hydro.

Hamilton, July 7.—A resolution was unanimously passed at the indignation meeting in the Savoy Theatre last night in favor of closing a contract with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, in view of the fact that the ratepayers had twice endorsed that course, and if the aldermen had any doubt about it to submit it to the ratepayers again.

Ald. McLaren, A. J. Wright, Allan Studholme, M.P.P., Geo. Smith, Thos. Mitchell and many others spoke in favor of competition in power. Ald. Farrar tried to deliver a Cataract speech and his sentiments were hooted.

About twenty members of the Board of Trade, including William J. Southam, met yesterday afternoon and passed a resolution asking the aldermen to sign a contract with the Cataract Power Co. The resolution cited the benefits bestowed upon the city by the company. Ald. H. G. Wright and Ald Farrar spoke in favor of that course

Was Nearly a Disaster.

Rainy River, July 7.—A very serious accident to C.N.R. passenger train No. 2 was narrowly averted on Sunday at the village of Emo, about 40 miles east of Rainy River. When passing over the pile bridge emptying into the Rainy River the bridge sank to such an extent that the engine was uncoupled from the train. The engineer shut him engine by leaving ahead at full speed, leaving his train on the other side of the bridge. Had the heavy sleepers reached the bridge it is thought that it would surely have given way and the cars would have dropped seventy feet to the bed of the stream. The train was delayed five hours while the bridge crew made the necessary repairs.

Thief Rifles Poor Box.

Detroit, July 7.—Rev. F. R. Downey caught a thief in the act of rifling a poor box in the Immaculate Conception Church, and while waiting for the arrival of the police the thief broke away and jumped through a window and escaped, but not before all the money he had secured was recovered.

Fire at Cardinal.

Cardinal, Ont., July 7.—Early yesterday morning fire broke out in the rear of a butcher-shop occupied by B. W. Knight. The building was destroyed, together with the furniture store occupied by R. C. Rankin, and the stables of Dillon's Hotel.

Dead Man Identified.

Chatham, July 7.—The man found beside the Pere Marquette Sunday at noon has been identified as Daniel Adams. A sister lives in Brantford.

Evidence Weak Against Gies, Held at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 7.—While the police continue to express the belief that Frederick Gies, Jr., who was arrested Sunday night on suspicion of knowing something about the death of Dr. Wm. H. Wilson, who was killed by drinking poisoned ale on June 26, is the man they want, developments yesterday do not add strength to their belief. Wm. Olmstead, an employe of a type foundry, who sold a letter "S" used in letters printed by the man believed to be the murderer, confronted Gies at the City Hall yesterday and failed to identify him. The letter "S" was used in a printed letter sent to the coroner by the supposed murderer, and also used on a stamp on the bottle containing the ale.

According to the police, the man who caused the death of Dr. Wilson committed the crime because the physician performed an illegal operation on his wife, which resulted in her death. Gies' wife died recently and the police say she had been under treatment by Wilson. Gies claims that his wife died June 15 from Bright's disease, while the police claim she died about June 6. The date of the death of the woman is important, because the letter "S" which was used to stamp the bottle of poisoned ale was purchased on June 15.

CASHIER SAVED DIAMONDS.

Caught Two Crooks Trying to Palm the Gems.

New York, July 7.—What is declared to have been a bold attempt to rob the firm of Cooper & Forman, diamond brokers in Maiden Lane, was frustrated by the watchfulness of the firm's cashier yesterday.

While the two men were examining a tray of gems in the showroom, Mr. Stevenson, the cashier, walked up behind them and covered them with a revolver, directing them to throw up their hands.

Stevenson claimed that he had seen the men skilfully palm several stones and that when they made a break for liberty one of the men dropped several diamonds. Stevenson brought them to a halt and turned them over to the police. The men said they were James D. Shank and Ferderick Kenny, both of New York.

Laborer Smothered In Cave-In.

Brantford, July 7.—In the cave-in of a sewer on Greenwich street last evening, Angus McKinnon, a laborer, was smothered before his body could be recovered. He was working in laying pipe fifteen feet below the surface, when the framework gave way and earth piled in on him. Two other laborers, nearer the surface, got out by a narrow margin, one having his foot caught. The victim was 40 years old, married, and leaves a wife and five children.

Bank Manager Is Acquitted.

Brantford, July 7.—Hugh Hood, the manager of the Crown Bank at Scotland, was discharged yesterday afternoon on the charge of making a false oath, a charge arising out of the last provincial election, where he swore to his right to vote in Scotland, Ont., when, as a matter of fact, he lived with his wife at Townsend. He held, however, that Scotland was his headquarters and that he was going to move his wife. Wilful intent was not shown.

Two Smooth Strangers.

Brockville, July 7.—Several Brockville merchants and others are looking for a couple of strangers who opened up an office here known as the "Kleancoat Co." The pair gave the names of Frank Elliott and Chas. Bourke. They took an apparent interest in theatricals and joined the Oddfellows and A.O.U.W. They left yesterday for the States via Morristown with several hundred dollars' worth of goods.

Not New a Mission Land.

Rome, July 7.—An important pontifical document referring to the organization and working of the Roman congregations was made public yesterday.

It removes Great Britain, Holland, Canada and the United States from the jurisdiction of the propaganda, these countries thus ceasing to be considered missionary lands.

May Have Been Girl's Assailant.

Strathroy, July 7.—When a man who answered in every detail to the description of the man who attacked little Mabel Webb, near Middlemarch on Sunday entered a barber-shop for a shave yesterday the barber refused to shave him and 'phoned for the police. When arrested he gave his name as Ernest Brigman. He will be held for identification.

Balloonists Adventure.

Montreal, July 7.—Capt. Honeywell and Dr. Fielding of San Antonio, Texas, who ballooned unharmed nearly 1,000 miles from Chicago, came to grief in his airship, the Fearless, near Shefford, yesterday afternoon during a thunderstorm.

The crew were dragged across fields and over fences, and finally landed in a pond.

Cashier Is Missing.

Ottawa, July 7.—Louis W. English, cashier for the Williams' Piano House, 140 Bank street, has disappeared, and a warrant is said to have been issued for his arrest. It is alleged that he is short in the funds of the firm in which he was employed.

A BIG BLAZE IN HAYTI ISLAND

Hundreds of Buildings Burned at Port-Au-Prince.

CITY IN STATE OF PANIC

Arsenal and Stores of Powder and Ammunition Destroyed — Several Terrific Explosions—Roof of National Bank Blown Off — The Court House and Prison Also Burned — Assist Firemen.

Port-au-Prince, July 7.—The disastrous fire which started in the vicinity of the palace and Senate buildings here on Sunday, and was believed to have been controled after 400 buildings were burned, broke out again during the night and caused further by an explosion in the arsenal which shook the whole town, damaged many buildings and scattered blazing embers over a wide area. The roof of the National Bank was thrown down by the violence of the concussion when the explosion occurred. The second fire was believed to have been checked at midnight, but the flames got a third start yesterday morning, and before they were subdued forty more buildings had been destroyed.

The city was almost in a state of panic. The flames surged along with what appeared to be an irresistible sweep and terrific explosions, which occurred at intervals, added to the frenzy of the populace. It was not until the intensity of the fire had diminished that anything like quiet was restored.

The Chamber of Deputies and the large establishment of the congregation of St. Louis' were menaced for a time by the flames, but they were saved without damage.

Port-au-Prince, July 7.—A serious fire broke out here about 2 o'clock Sunday in the vicinity of the palace and Senate building. The flames spread quickly, there being a high wind, and soon reached alarming proportions. Four hundred buildings were burned, including the court house and the prison. All of the prisoners were taken to other quarters before the building took fire.

Sparks were carried to the arsenal, which also was destroyed, with stores of powder and ammunition. The burning of the arsenal was accompanied by many explosions. The firemen were aided by a large section of the populace in fighting the flames, and a force from French cruiser Chasseloup-Loubat.

Cowardly Stabbing.

Fredericton, N.B., July 7.—A young man named Oscar Case, belonging to Burton, Sunburn County, is lying at the point of death at his home as a result of a knife wound inflicted by another young man named Garnet Ward, in Alexander Burnett's store at Oronocto Sunday night.

Ward has not been apprehended, but Sheriff Holdon and a posse are pursuing him. Ward walked up to Case and stabbed him in the back without a moment's warning.

It is quite evident that Ward struck to kill, and the only motive that can be assigned for the deed is that he had quarreled with the elder brother of Case about a week ago, and had received a severe trouncing at his hands. He is said to have threatened at the time that he would even matters up at the first opportunity.

Raided "Blind Pigs."

Cobalt, July 7.—Fifty "blind pigs" were raided by Government officials on Saturday night.

Nearly a dozen men were arrested and taken to the police station, some being afterwards liberated on bail.

Eudo Saunders, chief license officer, is here to prosecute before the magistrate.

Those arrested were brought before Magistrate H. Hartman and remanded. In case of a second offence the culprit will be "sent down" for four months without the option of a fine.

Matricide Must Die.

New York, July 7.—Bernard Carlin was convicted of murder in the first degree yesterday before Judge Dyke of the County Court in Brooklyn, and was sentenced to die in the week beginning Aug. 3.

Carlin, who is 22 years of age, on April 8, within two hours after his release from prison, went to the home of his mother, in Brooklyn, and shot her to death.

Carlin pleaded lack of motherly care as his excuse for the crime.

Peary Starts North Again.

New York, July 7.—The Roosevelt, Commander Peary's Arctic exploring ship, left the pier at the East 24th street yesterday afternoon on a voyage as far into the ice of the north as one can safely be taken hence, whence Peary will make possible despatch for the pole. The ship will go to Oyster Bay, where President Roosevelt will inspect the ship before she starts on her long trip to the frozen north.

Record In Windsor Marriages.

Detroit, Mich., July 7.—Windsor's Gretna Green is more affected by leap-year than trade depressions, according to official returns of City Clerk Lusted, that there were 672 marriages in Windsor in the past six months. This is a new high water mark.

Mother and Babe Burned.

Outpet, Sask., July 7.—Mrs. C. L. Preston of Brandon was badly burned, and her baby was badly injured, in a fire which destroyed the dwelling of her father, Charles Payne, whom she was visiting.

Drowned In Cistern.

Woodstock, July 7.—Lucy Florence, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Edwards of this city, was drowned yesterday at the residence of J. D. McKenzie, where her mother was washing.

The child fell into the open cistern and was dead when the body was found a short time after she was missed.

OVERWORKED ENTERTAINER BREAKS DOWN

NOW WELL

Mr. Harry Bennett, of Toronto, is an entertainer of the first order and it is little wonder, therefore, that the great demand for his services should at times tax his vocal chords to the utmost. He says: "My voice had been taxed to the utmost, and in addition contracted a severe cold which disorganized my vocal chords. The muscles of my throat were next to useless and beyond my control. You can imagine the ordeal I underwent daily in trying to sing or speak, and had I known then the value of Psychine as I do now I would have been spared the pain I had to undergo during my performances as well as the loss of voice for 3 weeks. I am never without Psychine now, for besides its soothing and healing qualities to the vocal chords it is an excellent tonic for the nerves. I heartily recommend it to all having throat and nerve troubles."

Dear Sir,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque for $2,500.00 in settlement of fire loss, Policy 8,645,879, Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.

We note in connection with this settlement a most unusual feature. They are legally entitled to 1% of stated sum for payment prior to due date. No business man would for one moment question their right to this amount. But they do not take it. Instead they have purposely waived their priveleges and presented us with this additional amount.

We are gratified to note this remarkable action. To adjust and settle a loss within twelve days is noteworthy, but to add to this magnanimity in refusing to take advantage of their discount privileges places this company in a most favorable position.

We congratulate you upon representing a company of such superior standing.

Yours very truly,

THE WEST ENDS WERE BADLY TROUNCED BY Y.M.C.A. LAST NIGHT

The Y.M.C.A. gave the West Ends another jolt down the toboggan slide last night when they defeated Jimmy McNirn's bunch by 14 runs to 5 in a City League game, making a runaway of the contest. The West Ends were shut out entirely until the seventh, when the "Y." infield had a temporary ascension and five of the gray shirts made their way around the circuit. Butcher started in to pitch for the West Ends, but the Y.M.C.A. got to him hard in the third, and with the assistance of a large and over-ripe collection of awful misplays, they scored nine runs which broke up the game. Butcher retired in favour of Rose, and the latter held the "Y." to two hits and three runs in the remainder of the game.

The Y.M.C.A. had all the better of the contest, both as regards fielding and batting, and their victory was just as decisive as the score would indicate. Len Patterson pitched fine ball, and his support until the last innings was gilt-edged.

Outside of that awful third innings the West Ends played fair ball. Halpin was the leader with the stick, getting three safeties.

"Bill" Shaw of the Stratheonas umpired satisfactorily. The score—

TWO WALKING MATCHES TO BE PULLED OFF HERE ON JULY 13th

There will be two big walking matches here on July 13th, in the Brock street rink. At four o'clock in the afternoon there will be an hour's walk for the championship of the County of Peterborough, and in the evening Stacey, the Lucky Irishman who made such remarkable time at Lindsay and St. Catharines, will walk a relay race against five local walkers, to be selected by the sporting editors of the Peterborough papers. Each of the five will walk four miles, while Stacey will do twenty. The two races should attract a large crowd. There are already seven entries for the walk in the afternoon.

SPRINGVILLE LOST GAME TO OMEMEE

But Former Claims the Referee Didn't Carry Out Football Rules

Springville, July 6.—A very interesting game of football took place at the Orange Corners' picnic held at McGee's Grove on June 26th, between Omemee and Springville. The game commenced about 6.30 o'clock and was for a football put up by the Orange Corners' Sporting Club. Omemee kicked the ball off and it was nicely caught by Springville's half backs. Omemee forwards made a desperate effort to get the ball but O Pew secured it and sent it swirling through space to N Seaton. He shot on goal but the ball, striking the goal stake and the umpire, was still in play. It bounced back to G Reynolds who sent the cowhide swirling through the goal. The referee, it is thought, was posted by Omemee to try and hand Springville a large lemon. Mr. Harry Fowler was the referee and from what Springville could see he either didn't know much about the job or was betting on Omemee. Omemee scored one goal by a good combination and their other was scored on a penalty kick. The score should have been a draw by fair play and Springville will cover anything Omemee wants to put up, that they can do better than the said draw.

Referee—H Fowler.
Timekeeper—W Graham.

THE AMERICAN RUNNERS PROTESTING LONGBOAT

Threaten to Withdraw From Olympic Contest

London, July 7. — It looks very much as if there is to be trouble between the American athletic contingent and the Olympic Council in the next few days.

The trouble will centre around Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian runner, who is now training in Ireland under the care of Tom Flanagan, the manager of the I.C.A.C., Toronto.

The Americans claim that if they compete against Longboat they will be disqualified from competing with amateurs when they return to the States. Under these conditions they will refuse to run if Longboat is permitted to start in the Marathon race or any other of the events of the Olympic games.

The Olympic Committee reported this morning that they had had as yet no written protest against Longboat's entry to the games, but they were anticipating the arrival of one shortly.

James E. Sullivan, who is in charge of the American Olympic team, has hinted in a pretty straightforward way that there will be trouble if Longboat is allowed to start.

Lord Desborough, this morning said he anticipated that trouble would arise, but it would not be of the Olympic Committee's making.

So far as Longboat's entry to the games is concerned, it has been received by the Olympic Commissioners and handed over to the secretary of the English A.A.A., Mr. P. Le. Fisher, with the rest of the entries.

The entire bunch of the Canadians are putting in hard practice at the Stadium to-day, with the exception of Bobbie Kerr, who is resting after his efforts at the English championship meet on Saturday.

Orangemen May Run Excursion From Toronto

The local committee of Orangemen who are arranging for the big celebration on July 13 are nearing the conclusion of their work. There is a possibility that an excursion may be run from Toronto, and arrangements are now under way with the C.P.R. to this effect. There are several Orange lodges in the Pontypool and Burketon district who only recently intimated their desire to come to Peterborough, and the special train, if run, will be for the benefit of lodges between Toronto and here.

Mr. W H G Armstrong, County Master for West Peterborough, stated to day that he anticipated between 15,000 and 20,000 Orangemen and their friends in Peterborough next Monday. They will be here from Hastings, Victoria, Durham, Northumberland, as well as from all parts of Peterborough county.

BADE FAREWELL TO THEIR MINISTER AND FRIEND

Presentation to the Rev. Mr. Strike at Deseronto

The Deseronto Tribune in its last issue refers to presentations made to Rev. Mr. Strike, who is well known here, having been a former teacher. The Tribune says:

On Wednesday evening the festival of St. John the Baptist, Craig Lodge, No. 401, A. F. and A. M., met in special session. Two candidates for initiation were given the first degree, after which the lodge adjourned to the refreshment room, where a pleasant and profitable hour was spent. R. W. Bro. Geddis, a charter member and a past master of the lodge, occupied the chair. During the course of the evening he casually remarked that this would be the last occasion on which they would have Rev. Bro. Strike with them, whereupon R. W. Bro. Whyte arose and read an address to Mr. Strike, who is chaplain of the lodge.

The address was signed on behalf of the lodge by the committee to whom the matter was entrusted. The presentation took the form of a solid gold ring with appropriate Masonic emblem engraved thereon.

Mr. Strike was taken completely by surprise, not an inkling of the intentions of the brethren having been allowed to reach his ears; but nevertheless he replied in a masterly manner, expressing his appreciation of the brotherly kindness which prompted the act.

Several others of the brethren present made short remarks, and the meeting adjourned in harmony shortly before midnight.

A surprise gathering of Epworth Leaguers took place at the parsonage Tuesday evening, when the young people presented Mr. and Mrs. Strike with a handsomely framed picture of the church and parsonage, and also with an address, which was illuminated and framed.

The address was read by Miss Ida Carnahan and the presentation made by Miss Flossie Lake.

Suitable replies were made by Mr. and Mrs. Strike, after which refreshments were served and a social hour spent, at the conclusion of which the pastor and his family were showered with roses as a last mark of love and esteem.

OBITUARY.

MR CHRISTOPHER MOORE

Mr. Christopher Moore, of Orillia, who died on Saturday, at 72 years of age, will be well remembered by many of the older generation, especially by those connected with the lumbering trade. In the early days he was a hotel keeper in Orillia—in the stage coach days—when the coach for the northern country started from and stopped at his hotel. He afterwards entered into mercantile business and became one of Orillia's representative citizens, both in the council and as a man of high reputation and qualities.

IN MEMORIAM

To the memory of Mrs. Duncan Fife, who died on June 27th, 1908.

She has gone to dwell with angels bright,
She has crossed o'er Jordan's river,
And into Canaan's happy land.
She has gone to dwell forever.

How sad it was to say "farewell"
To one so kind and true.
Who always had a kindly word
For everyone she knew.

Each Sabbath day she always went
To church and Sunday school;
And in her daily walk in life
Tried hard to keep each rule.

But she has gone to rest and peace,
Her toils and cares are o'er,
And she has joined Emanuel's band
On that bright and golden shore.

And now she's free from earthly care,
Past doubt and fear and sorrow.
If we can live as she has done,
We'll meet her on the morrow.

She has passed beyond the goal of death.
Her days on earth are run,
And Christ has called her to Himself,
We say, "His will be done."

If we trust Him as she has done,
We'll meet her o'er the river.
To be welcomed by that happy throng
And live with Christ forever.

She has passed the ocean's swelling room,
To a land that knows no weather,
To join her loved ones gone before,
Assembled there together.

But yesterday she dwelt on earth,
To-day beyond the sky.
Still in our hearts her remembrance dwells,
And brings the dear one nigh.

Be still, sad hearts, why should you weep?
For mother, sister, loved one.
Her battle's over, the crown is won.
She hath heard her Master say,
"Well done."

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC IS ALL OVER

Latest Galway News—Roman Catholic Picnic Largely Attended

Examiner Special

Galway, July 7.—The smallpox epidemic which has been on in Galway for the past two months is gradually disappearing.

The Roman Catholic annual picnic which was held in the C. M. B. A. Grove on Wednesday last was largely attended.

Miss Nora Allan who has been the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Will Young, of Douro, has returned home.

Mr. Robt. Allan, who spent Dominion Day in Galway, has returned to his work in Peterborough.

Miss Fanny O'Leary of Peterborough, visited with friends here last week.

Mrs. Albert Doris, Peterborough, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Burns, in Somerville.

Miss Laura Doherty of Peterborough spent a few days in Kinmount last week.

The Misses Frechill of Lindsay attended the picnic in Galway last week.

OMEMEE ORANGEMEN COMING

Making Big Preparations—The Geodetic Tower Erected

Examiner Special.

Omemee, July 7—The weather seems to be favourable to the farmers, judging from the progress of the crops.

The preparations for the 13th of July demonstration are progressing. The flute bands and drum coorps are practising regularly and persistently. Our brass band will be on deck this year as in other years. The residents from here will be glad to meet and rejoice in Peterborough with their brethren from the south, including Bethany and Millbrook.

Mr. T. Cavanagh, the veteran horse dealer, has been here this week.

Mr. St. John, of Sunderland, produce buyer, was here yesterday.

There are a large number of unemployed passing through on the lookout for employment. The farmers are offering about $26 per month.

The tower on Mr. Ed. Sheridan's farm has been completed. It is about 95 feet high. Several parties are visiting it. By means of a strong glass Toronto and other points at similar distances can be seen. Some will try to view the 12th of July parade from there in Peterborough.

THE OLD AND NEW WAY

Some Important Facts Which May Prove Helpful

Thirty years ago old fashioned cod liver oil had to be forced down a patient's throat. Invalids couldn't take it, and children wouldn't. But the doctors prescribed it, and it had to be taken by force. Yet it cured people where enough could be taken on to the system, for it has ever been the greatest of all tissue builders and general reconstructors known to medicine.

We are now anxious to have every one know that Vinol is a new form of this very old and valuable remedy, containing in a concentrated form all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but by an extractive and concentrating process it is made without oil or grease, and it is as delicious to the taste as a fresh orange.

Vinol does not upset the stomach like old fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions; its strengthening and healing properties are remarkable, and both doctors and patients are delighted with its action.

Many wonderful cures right here in Peterborough have been effected by its use, and we ask all of our customers to try Vinol on our guarantee to refund money every time it fails to make rich, red blood, increase the appetite, cure stomach troubles, give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, run down, tired and debilitated, or cure chronic colds hacking coughs or bronchitis. A SCHOOLBOY'S LAMENT

The singular and plural always cause me lots of woe,
Whenever teacher asks me things I really ought to know,
He says it is quite easy, but he cannot seem to hammer
Into my head the principles of high-class English grammer.

At nouns I'm not a bit of good—I'm even worse at verbs,
Conjunctons always puzzle me—a pronoun quite disturbs;
It doesn't seem to be much use to sit in school and work,
But still I'd get a licking if I ever tried to shirk.

The plurals are the worst of all—I'm sure they'll drive me mad,
I've learn't them now a dozen times and yet they're just as bad.
If I go out and see an ox they tell me two are exen.
If this is so I don't see why two boxes are not boxen.

And will you kindly tell me why you say you caught three mice,
Whereas if you bought some houses you would never call them hice.
Upon the sea I saw some ships—my father said it was shipping—
We looked into a harness shop and saw some whips—not whipsing.

When mother makes a little tart she says it is a tartlet,
Yet if father buys a smaller cart they don't call that a cartlet;
My father, hunting, shot two moose, but why aren't they called meece?
'Cause mother told me once a flock of goose is always geese.

Then when a very little cat is called a kitten
Why is it that a little bat is never called a bitten?
My teachers often tell that a young bull's not a bullly,
Oh, how I wish they would explain these strange things still more fully!

WORK OF CONSTRUCTING NEW DAM AT LITTLE BOB RIVER

Much Cement Being Utilized—A Work of Magnitude Near Bobcaygeon

MANY TEAMS ARE ENGAGED

Bobcaygeon, July 8.—(Special).—Messrs. McCoy & Wilford are making good progress with their contract of building the dam and sidewalls which are to replace the old mill dam across the Little Bob river, about a mile east of the village. The contract is from the Dominion Government, and the dam is to be completed by November next. Forty-five men and eight teams are at present employed at the work. The cement side-wall on the south side of the river is finished. It is two feet thick, and ranges in height from six to seven feet to twelve to fourteen feet, according to the depth it was found necessary to go in order to find solid rock bottom and to get below the crevices in the limestone, through which there has been for years a considerable leak. The wall extends from the river in a south-westerly direction a distance of over one thousand feet to high ground near the foot of Oliver's hill. A number of teams are engaged at hauling gravel which is being banked up to the top of the wall on both sides as a reinforcement. A great quantity of gravel will be required for the purpose. On the north side of the excavation eight or ten feet deep has been dug in the sawdust, but nothing has as yet been done at putting in the side-wall there. This latter wall will be much shorter than the one on the south side of the river, as there is high ground within a hundred or a hundred and fifty feet of the water's edge.

How the Work is Done

Work on the dam proper is just commencing. A gang of men are putting up the necessary framework and tracks for running the cement cars on are being laid. A large cement mixer, with a capacity of one hundred and eighty yards per day, has been installed. When a load of cement is mixed it is dumped out of the machine into small cars, which are run out over the section being worked upon and there unloaded. About 150 bags of cement are used daily, and six car loads have been put into the side-wall. The wall across the river will take a much larger quantity, and it is estimated that thirty car loads more will be used before the contract is completed. The dam is to be twelve feet thick at the bottom, tapering to five feet at the top. There are to be six piers, each seventeen fet long and six feet wide. Where the greatest strain will come on the structure the piers are to be placed ten feet apart; where less support is necessary a greater space will be left between them. The dam is being built in sections: at each division a rough cofferdam is put in and a water-tight box built. Then the water is pumped out of the chamber thus formed so as to leave the bottom dry for putting in the cement. A large pump driven by a 6 h.p. engine does the pumping. When a section is free from water, mixed cement is run out in cars on an overhead track and dumped into the chamber below, where it is packed into place. In this way a great mass of cement can be handled. A concrete walk is to be built across the top of the dam.

Other Details

A blacksmith and carpenter shop has been erected near the scene of labour, and the old mill stables are being utilized for stabling the horses and mules employed in connection with the operations.

A boarding house under the management of the contractors is maintained close at hand for the convenience of employees, and about thirty men take advantage of the opportunity to live close to their work.

Foreman Brownell, who is in charge, has superintended all the excavating and the building of the side-wall. He has recently moved his family to Bobcaygeon, and is now comfortably settled at Little Bob in one of the houses formerly occupied by Monsom Boyd Company's mill employees.
